

Twenty year old John Q. Public registers to vote at the Columbia County Courthouse. Before and after photos demonstrate the obvious satisfaction of being able to voice your opinion in local elections. Mr. Public urges all BSC students to register before September 20.

Sept. 20 deadline for registration

Your last chance to register to vote in Bloomsburg is Monday, Sept. 20, at four p.m. at the court house downtown.

case to determine the constitutionality of various sections of Pennsylvania's election code under which registration and residence regulations are promulgated.

Students from BSC were lined up to register in town last Monday, before it was known an extension of the voter registration period would be granted. At that time the voter registration office, under the order of Columbia County Commissioner Richard Walton, stayed open until eight p.m. Walton said the office would have remained open until midnight had it been necessary.

The registration will end at 4:00 p.m. Sept. 20, unless unexpected masses show up at the last minute. In this case, it will be extended until midnight when registration will be officially over.

Anyone eligible to register is encouraged by registration officials to do so. However you are reminded that there is a sixty day residence requirement on all Pennsylvania State residents and a ninety day requirement on all out of state residents.

Cremer Ruling

Following a ruling by Attorney General J. Shane Cremer and a Philadelphia Federal Judge, Pennsylvania's 67 counties will be extending voter registration for college students for at least until Monday. Atty. Cremer was also the authority which ruled that college students could register and vote in towns where they went to school, despite their temporary residence in that county.

S.S. amends deferment law

The amendments to the Military Selective Service Act of 1967, now before Congress, include a major policy change on undergraduate deferments. The President has asked Congress for authority to phaseout undergraduate deferments and should the bill pass in its present form, as expected, the incoming freshman class will no longer be eligible for deferments. The House has completed action on the bill and final Senate action is expected this month.

Dr. Curtis Tarr, Selective Service Director said that college students will not be drafted in the middle of the semester or term. "If called while enrolled, they will be allowed to postpone their induction until the end of the semester, or term."

Upperclassmen in good standing will continue to be eligible for deferments until they graduate, reach age 24 or cease to make satisfactory progress.

New faculty-administrators

B.S.C. has appointed three new faculty members who will also fill administrative positions. Professor Ly Cong Can will work under the Foreign Administrative Intern Program. Dr. Walter A. Simon has been appointed Professor of Art and Director of the Education Opportunity Program. William G. Williams will serve as Coordinator of Legal Affairs and Professor of Business.

Saigon Administrator

B.S.C. has been selected as one of two Pennsylvania institutions of higher learning to host a foreign university administrator during the 1971-72 college year under the federally-supported Administrative Intern Program.

Professor Ly Cong Can, the University of Saigon, will be assigned directly under the guidance of Dr. Nossen.

In the six-year period since the inception of the program, seventy-five participants from Asia, Latin America, and Africa have studied at sixty American colleges and universities. The program recognizes that administrative and management leadership are essential to developing nations, and provides an opportunity to assist those who will assume major positions in their home countries.

At Bloomsburg, Professor Can will engage in a series of structured activities, including reading, discussion, participation in administrative affairs, and some visiting of other institutions. He will be assigned for brief periods to a number of offices throughout the College during the three-month period of his stay. He will also be available for public lectures before various service, civic, and student groups.

Professor Can currently heads the Electronics Laboratory and coordinates the Sciences Program at the University of Saigon. He holds advanced degrees in Physics from French universities, and is fluent in French and English, in addition to his native tongue.

In Vietnam education has grown remarkably: from one-half million students enrolled in the first five grades in 1955, there are currently over six and one-half million. Higher education has also increased at a rapid pace and currently includes five institutions in South Vietnam. The University of Saigon enrolls about 27,000 students. Prior to about 1955, higher education facilities were limited to Hanoi.

Professor Can is expected to arrive on campus during the latter part of September.

Simon Named

Dr. Walter A. Simon, former assistant to the President, California Institute of the Arts, Los Angeles, California, has been named Director of the Education Opportunity Program and Professor of Art at B.S.C.

The paintings of Professor Simon have been exhibited in the famed Wittenborn Gallery, in New York City, the Brooklyn Museum, and at other exhibitions and art museums throughout the eastern United States and foreign countries in which he served with the U.S. Foreign Service.

He has been mentioned in the publications of The Negro Vanguard, and American Negro Art, and was featured in an article in Ebony Magazine in November, 1964 entitled "Diplomat With an Artistic Touch."

Legal Affairs

William G. Williams, Deputy

Attorney General, was recently appointed Professor of Business and Coordinator of Legal Affairs at B.S.C.

He was awarded his Bachelor of Arts degree from Gettysburg College in 1942 and received his Doctor of Jurisprudence from Dickinson School of Law in 1946. Williams has been in general law practice in Harrisburg for the past eighteen years.

Upon his graduation from Dickinson School of Law, Professor Williams taught for seven years at that institution and has written several articles which have appeared in the Dickinson Law Review.

His professional affiliations include the Pennsylvania Bar Association and the Dauphin County Bar Association.

Dr. Mayer new Assoc. V. P.

Dr. Evelyn Mayer has been appointed Associate Vice President for Student Life at BSC. She was named to the position when a vacancy was created by the last minute resignation of Miss Mary Tolan, former assistant dean. Miss Tolan left the college to assume a position as Director of Student Activities at the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Mayer is originally from Milin. She received her BA at Lock Haven SC, and her MA in counseling at Shippensburg. She spent three years as a counselor in the Susquehanna Township School System in Harrisburg.

Was Assistant

Dr. Mayer also spent two years as Assistant Dean of Women at Shippensburg SC and one year as Acting Dean of Women. She spent a year and half as a full-time resident at the University of Virginia working toward her Doctorate in counseling of higher education students.

Dr. Mayer was acquainted with BSC through Miss Tolan and the recently retired Ellamae Jackson, former Dean of Students. She met the BSC Deans at various conferences.

Dr. Mayer is the only member of new Vice-President For Student Life Jerold Griffis's staff to hold the title of Associate Vice-President. She is also the only member of the staff other than Griffis who holds a Doctorate.

Pleased With BSC

Dr. Mayer, with the college a little over a week at this writing, said she is pleased with what she's seen at BSC so far.

"I'm very excited about working with the student life staff and Dr. Griffis in trying to move forward," she said

Communication: the Maroon and Gold — this year we'd like to make the two synonymous. If you've got a problem, a complaint, a word of praise or just something that you'd like to share with the rest of the community, write; we need your thoughts and ideas. Send your letters to M&G Letter to the Editor, Box 301 Waller. If you've got a plan, idea or something you'd like to see discussed in print, send it to the M&G Forum. All communications must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request. The M&G is your paper; it is your means of communication at BSC. Use it.

The Presidential Hotline

Editor's Note: In an effort to open lines of communication within the college community, the Maroon and Gold is reopening the Presidential Hotline. Dr. Nossen has agreed to answer questions from the college community in an effort to bridge the gap which has opened between students and administration.

The M&G invites both questions for the Hotline as well as responses and comments on it. Send all communications to Box 301 Waller. In accordance with M&G Editorial Policy, all responses must be signed, although names will be withheld upon request; questions need not be signed although it is preferred.

At the moment, there are many rumors and allegations traveling both within and outside of the college community concerning Associate Vice-President Hunsinger's new position and the situation in the Athletics Department. More specifically, these rumors charge that the Associate Vice-President's new position is in fact a demotion, and that this "demotion" is due to his support of the four coaches who resigned their positions last spring. From your position as President and a central figure in the continuing controversy over this situation, could you elucidate?

I am indeed pleased to see the "Hotline" reestablished this year. The column provides not only an opportunity for members of the college community to check out matters of concern, but gives me some indication and understanding of those matters under discussion on campus.

Mr. Elton Hunsinger has been given a new assignment in keeping with the growth and complexity of the college. He has, of course, retained his title as Associate Vice President, and the academic rank to which he was promoted less than a year ago. The factors leading to this change are totally unrelated to the request of four coaches for reassignment of duties last spring. A basic check of dates will clearly show that the announcement of Mr. Hunsinger's new duties preceded the "events of May 19" by several weeks.

Many officers of the college are changed in assignment from time to time, and the record will clearly demonstrate this. Mr. Walker moved from Director of Admissions to Associate Dean of Students; Mr. Scimeouf from Director of Financial Aids to Student Counselor; Mr. Davies from Assistant Director of Admissions to Director of Placement, and so on through a long list of college officials. Individuals in the academic world as in the business and industrial world are assigned to areas where their talents may be most effectively utilized.

There is, actually, no "continuing controversy" over this or any other related matter. Four coaches last spring asked for a change of assignment, and this was granted to them. Three asked during the summer to again be given coaching assignments, and this was done. One coach at the opening of the semester, once again requested reassignment, and although the timing adds some complexity to the issue, he has been granted his request. On the other hand, the department has a good staff, good leadership, and a high degree of unity. It is indeed a disservice to those who are carrying out their responsibilities to the students of this college to refer to "continuing controversy" in their operation.

I am, therefore, confident that Mr. Hunsinger will carry out his newly assigned duties effectively and in the best interests of the college. I am certain that athletes in our several intercollegiate programs have skilled coaching leadership. I am fully satisfied that students throughout this college will be able to benefit from and enjoy the basic courses in Health and Physical Education, and the several recreational and intramural programs.

ROBERT NOSSEN

STIMULUS GENERALIZATION:

...Come is a verb

(Response to a play)

Six years ago, Lenny Bruce pricked a bulging blue vein of his needle-marked arm, and the heroin, poisonous scag, slipped into his body. A few seconds after that moment six years ago, Lenny Bruce fell off a toilet seat, naked, dead.

Cops were waiting outside Bruce's apartment. They knew he had the scag, but instead of warning him they waited for him to shoot up. Then they broke into the apartment and put Bruce's body, flabby from a junkie's diet of candy bars and cokes, back on the toilet seat so photographers summoned by the police could get good pictures.

"Obscene Comic Dies," one caption under a photo of Bruce's body read in the next day's morning papers. Obscene. Six years ago Lenny Bruce was Obscene. A "sick comic." Dirty. Only six years ago. 1966. Now there's a play about Lenny Bruce, compiled from his life and words. It's Called LENNY and it's playing at the Brooks Atkinson Theatre, Broadway, New York City.

LENNY is a good play. With Bruce's words, direction by Tom O'Horgan (who directed HAIR) and a gut-crunching performance by Cliff Gorman as Lenny, it becomes what N.Y. Times reviewer Clive Barnes calls "a dynamite schtick of theatre."

The show covers Bruce's life from 1951 until his death in 1966. Brief scenes depict his early rise as a night club comic, his marriage to stripper Honey Harlow, and his subsequent divorce. His development as a comic, from the typical between-the-acts emcee to a satiric wordmaster digging mordant barbs into society's sensitive skin, is the focal point of the production.

The Bruce of the play is a victim of society, cut down by its conventions, conveniences, and constipations. Bruce's life, and death are tragic — in the play. He was just ahead of his time, that's all. And that's what people walk out of the theatre saying: "Jeez, he was so damn far ahead of his time."

Yeah, that's what they said all right. What a bag of fermented bird dung. Hip, Hip, Horay for the play but Lenny's still dead, friends, and he wouldn't dig being a dead hero to the same people who boiled his ass in oil six years ago.

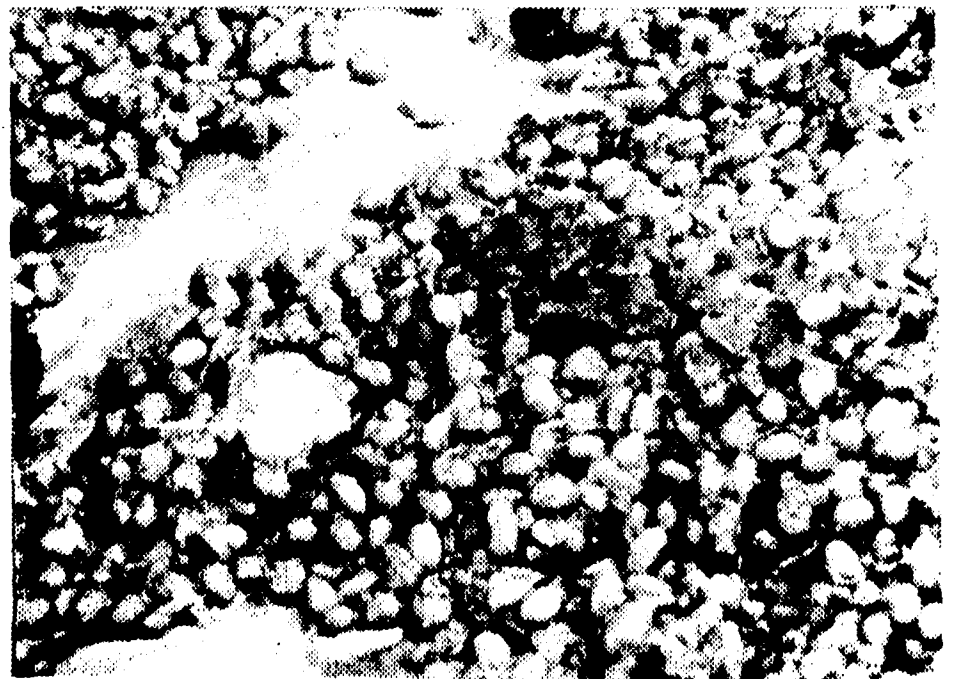

The same overdressed businessmen, WASPish young couples, Jewish matrons, Catholic big little girls, and assorted other straight freaks who walked out on Bruce's night club acts, who wrote letters to newspapers calling Bruce a "sick comic," who created the hypocrisy Bruce loathed, were sitting in the air-conditioned Brooks Atkinson Theatre laughing at Lenny's bits, clapping at the four letter words, and booing the policemen doing their duty on stage.

There's the heart of the matter. The same people who hung Bruce's ass from the church tower six years ago are kissing it now. Lenny's corpse is probably doing coffin cartwheels. Can you imagine? They called him obscene. The whole fabric of the

WHAT IS IT?

Well, it looks pretty retched, that's for sure. But as for what it is...it could be a babbling brook and surrounding stones. Then again it could be a close-up of Mr. Goodbar. Yet, we are proposing a contest: the person who sends in the funniest suggestion as to what this is will receive his (her) choice of the following prizes: 1) a FREE copy of the brand new Obiter (if it gets here), 2) an expense-paid trip to Butte,

 AGE 22 YEARS
 POSITION TAILBACK
 HIGH SCHOOL
 STROUDSBURG — '67

Bob Warner is one of the best running backs we have had in years at the school. Last year, his first as a starting running back, Bob ran for 801 yards in 8 games in 159 carries. He averaged 5.1 yards a carry, an average which is pretty good at any school. Although noted as a running back, he didn't do too badly as a pass catcher either; catching 16 passes for 256 yards for an average of 16.1 yards per catch.

Numerous pro teams have contacted Bob over the summer and early fall. Things are looking pretty good for Bob. When asked about his attitude for this year, he replied that his attitude was just like everyone else's on the team. They are all enthusiastic about the coming season and are building pride in themselves daily. Morale is very high.

Bob believes we have a tougher schedule than last year with the key games with California, West Chester, and Millersville. "These are our tougher teams and they're all in a row in our schedule. We have 9 games instead of 8 this year which will make it a longer season than usual.....longer if we lose."

GRID SEASON OPENS

Approximately 60 varsity football candidates are expected to report to practice at BSC on August 29 to begin preparation for the opening game with the University of Scranton on Saturday, September 18. New Head Coach Bill Sproule, indicates he expects 22 lettermen to be in uniform.

Sproule stated that the first couple of days will be devoted to physical examinations, issuing of uniforms, and college and press photographs, all of which will be followed by light workouts. A number of key positions will have to be filled on both the offensive and the defensive units which were vacated by graduating seniors. As a result of Spring practice, there appears to be some outstanding candidates for

Hockey begins

Thirty-one ambitious hockey players arrived at the Centennial Gym on Monday, September 13, despite adverse weather conditions and soggy turf, to officially begin the 1971 women's varsity hockey season. But this was just the beginning; and, according to Coach Tesreau, now is the time for anyone else interested in fun and real teamwork to come out and join the hockey team. Freshmen are especially urged to come and will be most welcome. Hockey practice will be every afternoon. Monday thru Friday, from 4:00 to 5:30.

Thursday, September 30, the team will meet its first opponent at Wilkes College. The following week, on October 6, the girls will take on Misericordia on that college's home field. But the big date to remember is October 12 when the team will battle Susquehanna here at BSC at 4:00. So let's get out and support the girls! Come to the game and let them know that BSC is backing them all the way. Good luck, hockey players!

Equality

Women may no longer be regarded second class citizens in the male-dominated field of college athletics if nearly 134 state college presidents have their way.

Sweeping changes were recommended for college athletic programs by college presidents polled by The American Association of State Colleges and Universities this summer. BSC is a member of AASCU.

The college presidents were nearly unanimous in agreeing women should be permitted to take a greater part in the overall college athletic programs.

They concurred that student fees used to support men's athletics be extended to programs for women as well. This could lead to more promotion of intercollegiate women's golf and tennis as well

by the Duke

Earlier this week, in an interview with Dr. Clyde Noble, BSC Cross Country coach, I found that we have reason to expect that this season's team will again be a credit to the college.

The only loss to this year's squad was that of Dan Kelter, who graduated last year.

"But," said Bob "I have confidence that we'll have a good season, a winning season." He attributes a lot of the player's enthusiasm to the Huskie's new head coach, Bill Sproule.

Bob's major is Business Administration, but his biggest ambition now is to play pro football. We wish him luck and success this season and the same when he plays the pros.

Coach interviewed

Bloombsburg's football team goes into action for the first time this season on Saturday afternoon with a Parent's Weekend game against U. of Scranton. Coach Bill Sproule, head coach for the Huskies, expects a tough game "their boys are big and they hit hard."

After last Saturday's scrimmage at Wilkes, Coach Sproule foresees a fighting team. "They are a young team and get very emotional. With a young team anything can happen." As for his outlook for the 1971 season, Sproule is non-committal - "it's hard to say. Everything depends on our first 3 ball games. After that, we'll be OK."

Starting QB for Saturday's game is Bob Biter, whom Coach Sproule sees as young, but capable. "He mixes his plays well and has been able to move the ball club. We're going to give him the reins and see what happens."

Sproule expects the toughest Eastern Conference Competition from West Chester and East Stroudsburg State, both of whom beat BSC decisively last season. Most of their lettermen are back for a return season.

Bob Warner, completely recovered from a small injury, looks good, feels Sproule. He has discovered quite a few surprises from some of our younger guys. Hopefully, he feels they will make up for our lack of experience.

The team will go with a Multiple pro type set employing society that created a need for him and destroyed him and proceeded to resurrect him is obscene, if obscenity is what is vulgar, disgusting and otherwise "dirty."

It is obscene that a society kills a man and then worships his corpse. That's really perverse, baby, really perverse.

Bruce's legacy to America is his words. His words aren't sacred or obscene. They're just words and words, all by themselves, are just sounds or shapes, and they're quite harmless. That's what Lenny tried so hard and so often to say. "Obscenity is in the mouth of the listener." Words, bodies, and sex aren't dirty things in this world. Hatred, war, racism, and the like are the evils we should fear. This is Bruce's message.

But instead of heeding Bruce's words we've simply created another poster-sized pop-cult hero out of Bruce, the kind he used to satirize with deadly effectiveness.

We don't need more cult heroes. We need more Bruces. Bruces are hard to find. Like all men, however, Lenny Bruce is in his grave to stay. If we listen to his words, and bring the kids up right, well, maybe someday we won't need Bruces at all.

Executive Council meets

Scanning the board for the new year, the new CGA council met on September 13, 1971 and began discussing homecoming weekend, one of many important events happening on campus this year.

A committee was reestablished and is to be chaired by Director of Student Activities, John Mulka. The committee will take care of fund raising events and approval of newly drawn constitutions.

Another matter brought to their attention was the possibility that students working in student government may be able to be included under the Work Study Program. However, final eligibility will be decided by Mr. Duncan, Director of Financial Aid.

Mike Siproth, president of this body, then gave a detailed report as women's basketball and touch football.

The presidents also urged AASCU to find means to abolish athletic grants and return college athletics to a purely amateur basis. The Association could do this by establishing a sounding-board committee to aid in the drafting of proposals.

Other opinions expressed by the presidents included: that favoritism extended solely to athletics be stopped; that students take part in the active decision making regarding the format and scheduling of intercollegiate programs; and that athletic programs be adjusted to the realities of institutional financing in view of the current budget crunch.

Legal studies

A Pre-Legal Studies Advisement Service is again being offered B.S.C. students this year.

Students interested in pursuing a legal career are urged to contact Dr. Philip Siegal, Room 226, Waller Hall, who is again in charge of the program.

Siproth said there was reported a marked increase in security personnel at many state colleges, and that at Slippery Rock the guards carry magnums, and at Cheyney State College they carried rifles. It was also reported that five state colleges have coed dorms but this was explained as being due to overcrowded conditions.

In the past few years the General State Authority, which controls construction on campus, has come under careful scrutiny. Slippery Rock State College was built on an abandoned mine; one of its buildings, now two stories underground, is predicted to disappear in a few years. At California State College the administration building has cracked in half.

As for the fan spirit, all BSC students are expected to be down at Town Park Field at 2 p.m. Saturday. Be there!!!! are the financial priorities of state legislators? Why not autonomy for state colleges? Why not abolition of the Board of Trustees when the president has now been given complete power? Why has the amount of administrators on campus nearly tripled? Why not a better form of government with equality for all faculty, students and administration?

Finally, the following elections will be coming soon; ARM, AWS, Judicial Boards, Appeals Committee, downtown Judicial Boards and CGA representatives. Election Timetable: September 14-17, CGA petitions for committees open; September 20-24, CGA petitions for representatives open; September 25, campaigning begins; October 4-5, elections.

The first meeting of the Community Government Association will be held on October 11, 1971.

will be Bucknell, Lock Haven and Millersville. However, the schedule seems to be in our favor, as Millersville and Bucknell will not be played until late in the season.

Although still not set on a home course due to work expansion of the college, this year's squad should "have as good of a season as last year."

He went on to say that all are welcome to our opening home meet, versus Cheyney and Wilkes.

these positions. However, Sproule indicates that team depth may be a problem.

The Huskies will be embarking on an ambitious nine-game schedule. The University of Scranton along with California State College return to the Husky Schedule after a number of years of absence. The regular eastern division Pennsylvania State College teams, led by powerful West Chester, leave little room for any "breathers" on the BSC schedule.

Assistant coaches are: Clark Boler, defensive coordinator, and Cecil Turberville, head trainer. One or two additional assistants are expected to be named in the near future.

Bloom will again play its home contests at Athletic Park, home field of Bloomsburg High School. It is not known at the present time whether the new field of BSC, to be constructed on the upper campus, will be ready for use during the 1972 season.

The BSC schedule is as follows: 9-18 — U. of Scranton — H; 9-25 — Lock Haven — A; 10-2 — Mansfield — A; 10-9 — California — Homecoming; 10-16 — West Chester — H; 10-30 — Cheyney — H; 11-6 — Kutztown — A; 11-13 — E. Stroudsburg — H.
