John Willis scored 26 points while leading the Huskies to a decisive win over Cheyney. (Foucart Photo)

By Bob Oliver

The BSC Huskies rose to the occasion Saturday nite and scored a decisive victory over number four ranked, and arch-rival, Cheyney State, 89-82. The victory knotted the Pa. Conference all up as both teams hold 7-1 records in the league. Overall, Cheyney is 16-2 and Bloom is 11-3.

John Willis, playing the best game of his career, could only help the Huskies by scoring 26 points and jumping well with Cheyney's tough forwards. Time and time again when the Huskies needed a clutch basket, it was John who came through.

Bob Consorti, the 6'3" forward was on the bench when the game started, but came into action a few minutes later and really made his presence felt, hitting 4-of-6 shots from the field and canning two free throws for 10 points, as well as many tough rebounds, giving up much height in the process.

Bloom started quickly, jumping to an 8-2 lead, but Cheyney caught fire a few minutes later and got their first lead at 9:44 left, 25-24. Howard Johnson was instrumental in many of the Husky early baskets.

Cheyney started getting three and four taps and shots on the offensive boards and the Huskies went down by 7 with two minutes left in the half. The score was narrowed to 44-39 at the buzzer.

Art Luptowski was running the offense and playing an all around fine game. He was keeping Eddie Swain in check, which isn't an easy thing to do.

Cheyney started the second half fast, getting a nine point lead. Teams began trading baskets until a Huskies streak from 16:15 to 14:10 left to play when they tied the score at 58 apiece on a Paul Kuhn foul shot.

The Huskies took several leads, one 5 points, but Cheyney kept coming back, until Howard hit at 5:30 left. The Huskies never trailed again. Willis hit another timely bucket, and Consorti followed with a free throw to put BSC up by 5.

The Huskies led 84-78 with 1:23 left, when over the next minute, Luptowski hit 5 straight points to ice the game.

All of the Huskies played extremely well, including the bench. They played a constant game, which had in some previous games been lacking.

Tonight the Huskies play at Shippensburg, and return home Saturday against West Chester. These are the games the Huskies must watch out for, as everyone will be gunning for them.

The scoring was led by Willis with 26, followed by Johnson with 22, Kuhn 18, Luptowski 13, and Consorti 10.

In the frosh game, the Huskies remained undefeated by whipping Cheyney frosh 91-69 behind the scoring of Dick Grace (21), Joe Woods (20), and Mike Ognosky (20).

It was a good nite for both Husky teams, as well as for the over-capacity crowd watching.

Presidential Candidate Shirley Chisholm to address college community Feb. 14

The Honorable Shirley Chisholm, first Black Congresswoman in the United States, who has firmly established herself as the "Fighting Shirley Chisholm", will address the college community at 2 p.m. on Feb. 14 in Haas Auditorium as part of The Black Experience.

Elected to the 91st Congress, her Constituency is the Twelfth Congressional District, whose center, Bedford Stuyvesant, an area of urban decay, is New York's and perhaps the nation's largest ghetto. Her District also includes parts of Bushwick, Greenpoint, Williamsburg, and the more prosperous Crown Heights. Blacks and Puerto Ricans compose more than 70 percent of the population. The rest are Jewish, Polish, Ikranian and Italian. No other congressional district in Brooklyn is so diversified in its constituents.

Mrs. Chisholm is a specialist in early childhood education and child welfare who entered politics more or less by public demand in 1964, when she ran successfully for the New York State Assembly on the Democratic ticket. An articulate, straight-forward champion of the rights of the downtrodden, she derives her power from "the people" as she has often pointed out, rather than from the regular party organization. Her close identity with her community enabled her to outdistance two candidates in the Democratic primaries in 1968, and to gain an upset victory over the Republican liberal candidate by nearly a three-to-one margin. She campaigned under the slogan, UNBOUGHT AND UNBOSSSED, the title of her recently published autobiography. Now, several years later she is known by that slogan across the land. Her determination and courage, along with intelligent reason, declare her a leader as evidenced by her meteoric rise from clubhouse workers to a Representative in the United States Congress.

A native of her Congressional District, Shirley Anita St. Hill Chisholm, the oldest of four girls, was born on November 30, 1924. After graduation from Girls High School in Brooklyn, she went on to obtain a B.A., cum laude, from Brooklyn College. She earned both an M.A. in education and a diploma in Administration and Supervision from Columbia University. She writes and speaks Spanish fluently, which has been a tremendous asset in developing the wonderful rapport she enjoys with her spanish-speaking constituents.

As a school teacher and director of a day nursery, Mrs. Chisholm became deeply involved in all aspects of day care and education for children. In time her responsibilities included planning for community facilities programs and inservice training. It was during her early years in this environment and working in the background on the political circuit that she met her husband, Conrad Q. Chisholm, whom she married in 1949, and has given her much encouragement and practical help in her campaigns and Congressional duties.

Mrs. Chisholm's entrance as a freshman to the 91st Congress made her known as a woman with "true grit" and a mind of her own. She was assigned to the House Agriculture Subcommittee on Forestry and Rural Villages, which she felt had no relation to the needs and problems of her Congressional District in New York City. The Speaker of the House admonished her "to accept and be a good soldier". Right then she decided, "That's why the country is the way it is." She made the unprecedented move of placing an amendment to remove her name from this Committee. She was then assigned to the Veteran Affairs Committee, which had some relevancy to her constituency. When the 92nd Congress convened, Mrs. Chisholm was assigned to the House Education and Labor Committee, which is her main field of concentration and interest. She serves on the Select Education, General Education, and Agricultural Labor Subcommittees. The Congresswoman is also Chairman of the Military Affairs Committee of the Congressional Black Caucus.

A few of Mrs. Chisholm's numerous affiliations are: the Brooklyn College Alumni; League of Women Voters; Democratic Women's Workshop; Brooklyn Branch NAACP; Board of Directors of the Brooklyn Home for the Aged; National Association of College Women; Key Women, Inc.; Delta Sigma Theta Sorority; Central Brooklyn Coordinating Council; National Advisory Council for the Institute

Letters

TO THE EDITOR:

Professor Sylvester and his gang have been overheard recently putting out the canard that: (A.) if Nossen is removed by the Trustees, then Hunsinger is going to be made acting president; (B.) Nossen is the "lesser of two evils" compared to Hunsinger; (Conclusion): therefore, we have to support Nossen.

I would like to challenge the premise that Nossen is a lesser evil than Hunsinger and to offer evidence that even if the ridiculous should occur, and Hunsinger were made acting president, things would be better at BSC than they are at present.

Professor Sylvester and his "liberal" student friends have conveniently forgotten that Dr. Nossen has been a much stronger and more persistent enemy of the anti-war movement on campus than Hunsinger ever was, even back in the days when 90 percent of the students were pro-war.

Nossen told Primack at their first meeting in October 1969, that if Primack went to Washington for the November Moratorium, he would be fired. Primack went and he was fired.

On the other hand Tony, Anita Donovan, and I had been publicly opposing the war from 1965 through 1969 without a hint of being fired by Andruss, at Hunsinger's, or anyone else's urging. Instead, Hunsinger in those days was preoccupied to the point of hysteria with the problem of how to "get" the most outspoken local "hawk," Jim Percy.

The reason Tony and I weren't fired is that Andruss, unlike Nossen, was no "hawk." In fact, he told me in the fall of 1965 that he had grave doubts about the war, but that he couldn't publicize his opinions for, among other reasons, fear of getting into a fight with his wife.

(At that meeting in October 1969, Nossen also told Primack that he had no more right to wear a peace button to class than he had to wear a "Star of David"; which has to be one of the wildest no sequiturs of all time.)

In May of 1970, Frank Heffner and Claire Smith approached Nossen about having a moratorium on classes in memory of Kent State. Nossen's response was to tell them "to get out" of the office after first suggesting that Krauss, Miller, et al. had only gotten what they deserved, since they had been engaged in a demonstration.

Mr. Walker and Mr. Turner cooled Nossen down then, so we had the moratorium. However, a couple of days later Nossen had Hoch change the rules on "in-completes" so that students who went to Washington to lobby against Cambodia, instead of taking final exams in Kiddy Literature, would flunk out.

The main reason life at BSC would be so much better under Hunsinger than under Nossen is that Hunsinger is much stupider than Nossen. Life under a stupid and lazy tyrant is much to be preferred to life under an energetic and clever one; compare George III to Phillip II, or Mussolini to Hitler.

Nossen-NAIA-Houk

Ed. Note: The following article was submitted by Tom Beveridge and Dan Burkholder. It first appeared in a personal opinion column by Tom Huntington, sports editor of the Berwick Enterprise---

Dr. Robert Nossen, president of Bloomsburg State College, must be bubbling over with pride today. He turned his own school into the National Association of Intercollegiate (NAIA) for alleged violations concerning the "3-C Boosters Club" of BSC!

Nossen must be sitting back in his chair bragging, "Look what I did to Russ Houk now."

But while Nossen's bragging, anybody in this region who has any knowledge of sports is looking on him with distaste.

It is beyond this writer's comprehension how a college president could turn in his own school to a national body, whose main function is to oversee small college sports. It's like a mother taking her son to the police station because he drove 36 in a 35 mph zone.

What it really is, is downright stupid!

And, it also points out once again that Dr. Nossen has no appreciation for the inner workings of a college athletic program or for the athletes themselves. The action gives further indication that Nossen is also attempting to choke the life blood out of the sports program, despite his repeated denials.

When Nossen reported the workings of the "3-Cs" to the NAIA, who was hurting? Certainly not Houk. He's not even a coach or athletic director any longer, although he deserves to be. Nossen in effect is hurting the athletes of Bloomsburg State College, for it is they who would suffer from any drastic penalty that NAIA certainly has the right to impose.

Obviously Nossen didn't consider this aspect. His only apparent motive was to discredit Houk and the outstanding athletic-community relations he developed in this area during his tenure as athletic director and wrestling coach at BSC.

The "3-Cs" in essence are a group of businessmen who in the past contributed to the BSC athletic program and generally lent public support to sports. It is similar to any booster organization you can find in any small town across the nation. These organizations are nothing more than a body of sports-minded individuals, whose only aim is to offer some assistance to high school, or in this case, college sports.

The issue at hand stems from a report filed by Nossen with the NAIA and a reply from A. O. Duer, executive secretary of the NAIA, in which he held the club's policies were in violation of NAIA rules.

Duer's report was printed in the Maroon and Gold, the college paper.

In this article Houk states that "No great sums of money" were involved in the Operation of the "3-Cs."

And, through our prior associations with Russ Houk, we have no reason not to believe him.

However, we can sit back with disgust and ask once again, what's Nossen trying to prove?

One of the nation's leading professional football players, Bob Tucker, the No. 1 receiver in the National Conference of this NFL this year while playing with the Giants, has lent his concern to the athletic situation at BSC.

Tucker right now is probably BSC's most famous alumnus.

Tucker was in the area on Monday of this week, and he too, questioned the direction BSC sports have taken.

"You A Student Kid?"

By Donald G. Enz

Student. What a remarkable word. Especially when it's referred to college and that great door opener "the diploma". Bud, did you ever realize how many doors the mentioning of being a student closes? It's remarkable. And it's this door slamming process that I just can't stand. What hurts more is that when I lived here two years ago these same doors were opened wide and willingly by the owners so they could gather in my money. Now, since my return to Bloomsburg as a student, my old haunts are closed (not really closed, but my freedom to shop and browse is much inhibited by that member of society "the watch the rip-off watcher").

How many stores are there in town where a student can walk around in and look for something without the nagging assistance of a "spy" clerk? The only one I can think of is the refrigerator store down the street but even they make sure you're not ripping-off one of their posters.

And what about that apartment you went to look at? After being first to call, first to show up, and first to look, you are refused because, "There is someone else looking at it, too. I'll call you if they don't take it." Bull, the only time you'll hear from them is if they misplaced something and feel you might have picked it up by accident. Bull, again, they think you stole it and everyone knows it.

And telephones. My God!! Did you ever try to have a phone installed? Well, I thought about it, that is before I found out how much it would cost. They wanted a $50 retainer and $10 more to turn it on. Where am I going to get $60? But the hell of it is that I know some girls that paid from zero to only $20 or $25 to get theirs installed. They, the company, said I hadn't made established credit with them. Who can afford it? And another point, the policy isn't the same across the state; at Penn State's branch they ask how many you want, not whether you have credit.

More experiences of this type are abundant. Take cashing a check, what a hassle. It so happens my checking account is in the home office in Wilkes-Barre and trying to cash a check in the town extension here is a real joke. They look me over real good in silence, then, as if lowering their social position, they ask, "You a Student?" So, I say, "Yes, I am." And they say, "Oh, put your box number here." Then, they call the main office to make sure it doesn't bounce. Having this happen once or twice by a different teller wouldn't be bad, but by the same one? Wow!

There are many, many experiences like these and others that if I weren't part of the plague called "student", I would be absent of, and I'm sure you would be, too. But chin up ol' friends and fellow students, one day we'll stop shopping in Bloomsburg and then they'll see how much they need our money to survive...

Broncos pick Warner

(Morning Press story) Bob Warner, BSC's outstanding runningback, gave up a professional baseball career upon graduation from high school in the hope that he would someday play professional football — last Wednesday he received his chance.

The All-Penn Conference back for the past two years was selected by the Denver Broncos in the thirteenth round of the National Football League college draft and is the first Husky ever to be touched in the draft.

The selection of Warner by the Broncos, an American Conference team came late, a few picks before the Pittsburgh Steelers took Villanova's tackle Ernie Messler and marks the second time a Husky has entered pro football. Bob Tucker, a tight end for the New York Giants who captured the NFL pass receiving title this past season, is a graduate of BSC.

The six-foot-two senior from Stroudsburg won his first varsity letter from the local college in his sophomore year. During that period he was third in conference scoring and fifth in the receiving department.

In his junior year Bob was named to the first-team All Conference and was the highest vote getter with 23. He was also on the All-ECAC Division Three team and was named to the ECAC "Team of the Week" three times.

He also made the All-Pennsylvania College team and led the Penn Conference in rushing and placed second in league among the circuit's scorers.

This past season, his senior year, Bob was again chosen first team All Conference and was on the ECAC weekly team twice.

In addition, he was the Most Valuable Player in the Huskies homecoming game and was again runnerup in the conference rushing race. His teammates named him Co-captain to start his final year at the Husky school.

BSC head coach Bill Sproule stated, "We felt going into the season that Bobby, because of his size and quickness, had a very good chance to play pro ball. Bob was so respected as a ball carrier in our league this year that everytime he moved, all opponents keyed on him and collapsed their defense in his direction. So part of the time we had to use him as a decoy back.

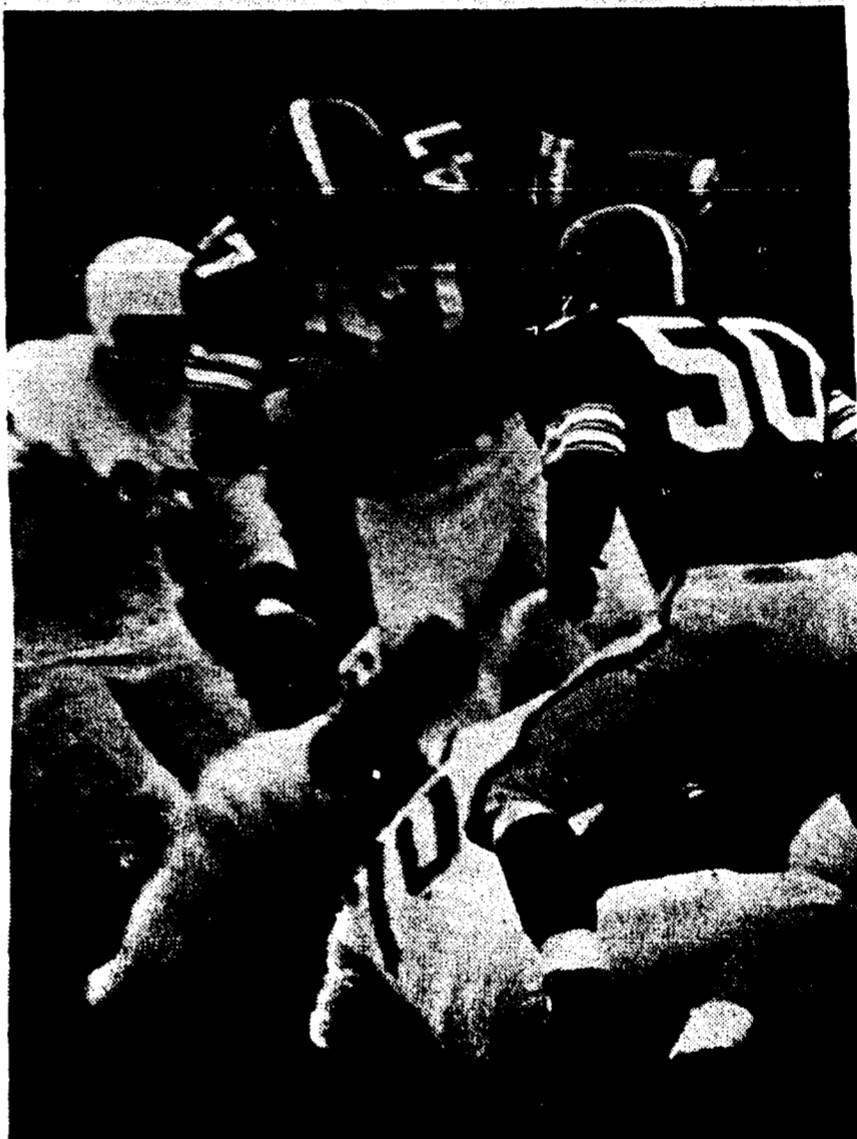

"But his very strong running and ball carrying, together with his tremendous sense of balance, has made him our bread and butter carrier over the past few seasons," Sproule added.

"One of the things pro scouts liked best," said Sproule, "was that he has the capability of being not only a runningback, but is capable of playing many other positions. With his strength, hands and blocking ability he would make an excellent tight end; his quickness, size, upper-body strength and football instincts also give him the quality of a great outside linebacker.

"Denver, however, seems to be most interested in him as a runningback. I feel that he does have an excellent chance at Denver because most of the present Bronco backs are the small, scatback type and they are apparently looking for someone bigger and Bob, at 6-3, 232 pounds is well above the average size for runningbacks in the NFL," Sproule stated.

Sproule also said, "A 4.7 time in the 40-yard run is considered outstanding speed for a back in the NFL and we have timed Bobby at 4.5, 4.6, and 4.6 in three tries.

"Bob has been working out every single day since our season ended in anticipation of his future football career. He is a young man who is extremely dedicated to the game of football and he apparently has the desire that it takes to make good in the pro ranks," Sproule concluded.

Bob Warner (47) making the kind of yardage that impressed the Denver Broncos in their selection of a runningback.

Swimmers win again

The Husky Tankmen ventured to Indiana State College last Saturday in search of victory. They scalped the Big Indians 71-42. The record now stands at six straight wins and two losses.

Speedster Dave Gibas broke two Indiana pool records. The first was the 50 yard free style. Dave's time was 22.0. The second record breaking time was 49.3 seconds for the 100 yard free style. This is the third meet in a row in which Dave has either set or tied pool records.

The meet was closer than the score would suggest. Up to the 50 yard free style the team performance was disappointing. Coach McLaughlin called the Husky pack together. After the 200 yard individual medley the score was 23 to 20 in favor of the Huskies. But the Huskies were on the upswing. They kept increasing the scoring gap until they won.

The next swimming meet will be at Lock Haven on Wednesday. The next home meet will be next Saturday February 12. Coach McLaughlin hopes the two meets will add to the team's momentum. This will be needed for the powerful West Chester Wolves.

Student Board candidates interviewed

David Kirkpatrick, communications director for the governor's office, visited the BSC campus last week to interview four students, one of whom will be appointed by Governor Shapp to serve on the Board of Trustees of the college. The four candidates selected by the Executive Council of the CGA are: Michael Torbert, a senior from Allentown; Robert Parry, a senior from Dallas; Joseph Romano, a sophomore from Norristown; and Douglas McClintock, a junior from Doylestown.

Kirkpatrick was recently named communications director by Governor Shapp and has a wide background in news media work and in the field of education. He was formerly associated with two radio stations in the Allentown-Easton area and was executive producer for a series of educational programs on WLVT-TV, the Lehigh Valley's public television station.

The knowledgeable communications director also previously taught at Lehigh University, Northampton Area Community College, the Allentown Campus of Penn State University, and Easton High School. He is a former president of the Easton Area Education Association and the Pennsylvania State Education Association. Prior to his present position, he served as a technical assistant to the governor's former legislative secretary.

Documentary

KING, A Filmed Record...from Montgomery to Memphis

"Silence hung like a heavy fog during the entire performance. Only occasional applause, laughter or expression of shock broke the slow but inevitable growth of the sense of imminent doom. It was not only a visual and intellectual statement, it was an emotional experience." The Elmira Star-Gazette said about KING, A Filmed Record... Montgomery to Memphis, to be shown tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the SUB.

He had a dream. But he was no dreamer. He turned dreams into realities, and this took him from the pulpit into the streets and often to jail.

He said that he had been to the mountain top. But he lived in no ivory tower. His feet were on the ground, marching with his people for freedom.

He asked to be remembered only as a drum major. But history marks him as the prime minister of a social movement that shook the conscience of the world.

A historian said of him. "Martin Luther King Jr. showed us what man can be, what man should be, and what man must be." Now an epic documentary film shows us what Dr. King was and what he did.

KING: A Filmed Record... Montgomery to Memphis is not a sentimental tribute to a fallen leader. It is the biography of a

Philosophy Club

The Philosophy Club and the Department of Philosophy of Bloomsburg State College wish to announce that Dr. Robert Ginsberg, Assistant Professor of Philosophy, Pennsylvania State University (Delaware Campus) will read two papers on Friday, February 11, 1972 in the Faculty Lounge of Bakeless Center. The reading of the first will begin at 4 p.m., and the second at 7:30.

The first is entitled, AN IMMODEST PROPOSAL FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF OUR PRISONS. And the second, HOME AND THE SOCIAL CONTRACT. You are invited to have dinner with Dr. Ginsberg between readings.

Dr. Ginsberg is the editor of a recent book on the philosophy of war entitled The Critique of War.

We are also pleased to announce that Dr. Bernard Gert, Professor of Philosophy, Dartmouth College has tentatively agreed to be on our campus in the latter part of March to discuss the nature of Hobbes' egoism and his recent book, The Moral Rules. More details about this event will be released as they become clear.

movement, from the Montgomery bus boycott to the assassin's bullet. Nothing is contrived and no narrator imposes his comments. Newsreel and television footage recall the civil rights campaigns as they actually happened.

Dr. King's memorable sermons are heard again, including, "I Have a Dream," and "I Have Been to the Mountain Top" as well as his lectures against war, violence and prejudice.

The film is history; it is also art. Critics across the country have made it one of the most acclaimed documentaries ever made. They nominated it for an Academy Award. This is a film that will touch those who lived through the civil rights struggles, but it is especially for the young, who need to know.

Policy committee on environment meets

The committee for Environmental Policy on campus held its first meeting February 1.

Discussed at the meeting was a handout from Connecticut College proposing an environmental improvement model be created at that college.

Some members of this twenty member committee include Mike Spellman-chairman, Dr. Vaughn, Mr. Sagar, and Peggy Christian. Spellman felt that BSC could also become a model — an example of how people are working together to improve their ecological situation. This committee could also attempt to cause other people to focus on the situation and stimulate them to help.

Members offered suggestions but no definite plans were drawn up. Spellman felt that as the committee progresses, more concrete action will be taken.

Mike said "BSC is trying to improve their campus. We are looking at our present situation but are more interested in the future."

Film series listed

February 3, 7:30, "My Childhood" — The film is in two parts, each illuminated by the other; the first, the life of Hubert Humphrey; the second the life of James Baldwin. February 10, 4:00 "The Novel, 1914-1942", "Hemingway" — The first film discusses themes of major works of Hemingway, Dos Passos, Anderson, Steinbeck, Wolfe, Fitzgerald, Farrell, Faulkner, and West. The second is an overview of Hemingway's life and works — narrated, in part by Chet Huntley. February 24, 7:30 — Broader Concepts of Method, Several films intended to provoke a re-examination of the ways in which and the reasons for which we teach — or will teach. March 2, 4:00, "Carl Sandburg", "Robert Frost" — Both films are interviews with the poets and offer biographical perspectives on their work.

March 9, 7:30, "Horseman, Pass By", "George Bernard Shaw". The first, narrated in part by Frank O'Connor, is an account of the life and work of W. B. Yeats. The second discusses the work and philosophy of Shaw.

All films to be shown in Bakeless Lounge. No Admission. Refreshments at 4:00 showing.

Student Affairs committees to be formed

During the next several weeks, the Senate Committee on Student Affairs will be making appointments to the Student-Faculty Judiciary and the Student Grievance Committee. The Student Grievance Committee will be formed sometime in the near future. Although the final committee structure has not been approved by the Senate Rules Committee, it is likely that both student and faculty positions will be available on both committees.

If you are interested in volunteering to serve on either the Student-Faculty Judiciary or Student Grievance Committee, or would like to nominate a student or faculty member, please submit your name and/or nominations in writing, to John Walker, Chairman of the Committee on Student Affairs, P. O. Box 53 Waller Hall.

ORIENTATION COMMITTEE

Any student who is interested in serving on the Orientation Committee for the Summer Orientation Program should contact John Walker, P. O. Box 53 Waller Hall. If you have already submitted your name to CGA for the Orientation Committee for Summer 1972, it will not be necessary for you to resubmit your name.

Preliminary planning is under way to provide Orientation Committee members with an opportunity to participate in a leadership training program. The proposed program will not only improve the quality of the Orientation Program for freshmen but will also provide a very worthwhile personal experience for those who participate.
