Rec Room Featured At Council Meeting

The first regular meeting of the Student - Faculty Co-operative Government for 1949-50 was held on October 13. The business of the meeting included approval of the financial statement for the academic year 1948-49. An estimated budget for this year was presented and tentatively approved, subject to unforeseen changes.

The freshman initiation program was discussed, and a committee of sophomores was appointed to have charge of the program. Fifteen dollars was allocated for new records for the Rec Room, and a record player is also in the progress of being ordered. The Choir, represented by Phyllis Hendricks, was given permission to sell pop and candy at the basketball games.

Marilyn Wetzel was elected social chairman of the Student Council. It will be her duty to be in charge of all Council-sponsored dances and social activities. Other members of her committee appointed by their respective class officers are John Biser and Jane Venman, senior class; Jane English and Alex Perkins, junior class; Mildred Price and Norman Perry, sophomore class; and Mark Kenner and Eralm Knopp, freshman class.

Kappa Deltas Slated For National Confab

Kappa Delta Phi fraternity held a formal initiation on Monday evening, October 17, for its seventeen pledges. Mr. Wozniak, the principal speaker, welcomed the initiates to the organization and explained its purpose.

The club's officers and Mr. Doucette, the national president of the fraternity, will attend a national conference of the Kappa Delta Phi in Boston on November 5. The highlight of the conference will be a school for the officers of all the chapters across the country.

According to Mr. Doucette, the local group will be the guests of the Gamma Chapter at their house in Keene, New Hampshire, the fraternity's national headquarters, on the night of the fifth.

- Stag Or Drag - Masquerade Friday

Next Friday evening the annual masquerade ball will be held in Crawford Gymnasium from 8 to 11. This is a Student Council sponsored affair, and is either stag or couples. Refreshments will be served.

Three prizes will be awarded as follows: one prize for the best dressed couple, one prize for the nicest looking costume, and one prize for the cleverest costume.

The gym will be appropriately decorated for the occasion and music will be provided for dancing.

Admission to this gala affair is free. Remember you don't have to have a date, so how about all you fellows and girls working up some really clever costumes and coming out to the masquerade ball this Friday evening!

Thespians Sponsor Drama Tournament

The Dramatics Club will present four one-act plays on November 17, to climax a tournament which has been in effect since Monday. The group now has 73 members, who are separated into four different production groups: Alphi, Psi, Omega, and Gamma Kappa. Miss Ludgate and Mr. Dume are helping the students with their productions.

Each of the four groups will be permitted only eight rehearsals on stage, and must limit its expenses to twenty dollars. The titles of the plays to be produced are "Quiet, Please," "A Night in the Country," "No, Not the Russians," and "Perchance to Dream."

According to Miss Ludgate, advisor of the club, the purpose of the competition is to give the amateur Thespians added experience and the coaches an opportunity to observe a greater number of student actors than would otherwise be possible. Stating that the tournament idea is not an innovation on the campus, Miss Ludgate said that the one-act plays will be followed later in the year by a major three-act production.

Fellowship, Wisdom, Knowledge

You'd Be Surprised Where They Live

Have you ever realized that for every woman attending E. S. T. C. there are more than two men? This should keep you men stepping to keep your girl.

From the office of the Dean of Women we have the information that there are 224 women attending E. S. T. C. Of these, 147 are living in Haven Hall, 10 are living in White Hall, 21 are commuting, and 46 are living off campus in Edinboro.

The office of the Dean of Men discloses that there are 525 male students, of whom 135 are living in the Old Gym and Reeder Hall, 47 are residing in Cambridge Springs, 50 are commuting from surrounding areas, and 293 are living off campus in Edinboro.

Mr. Reed states that there are a lot of persons driving on the campus without the campus license-sticker on their cars. If you are one of the culprits, please get a license, which may be obtained in Mr. Reed's office.

News Briefs

In a letter to the faculty on October 7, Mrs. Miller, Dean of Women, who has been on an extended leave of absence because of illness, stated that she is doing nicely and that she hopes to be back on the job "by November first."

Last Saturday afternoon Mr. Neel spoke here before a group from the Erie County Historical Society. The members of the Society were on a tour of Erie County, visiting monuments and points of historical interest in connection with the observance of Pennsylvania Week.

Mr. Neel's topic was "The History of Edinboro State Teachers College."

Dom DeMarko and Jenny Tassone, of Warren, were married on August 20. Since school started, Dom has been living in town here while his bride has made her home in Warren, because of the lack of housing facilities in Edinboro. Anyone knowing of a suitable apartment is asked to contact Dom.

Next Saturday Dr. Koenig and Dr. Hendricks will participate in a Crawford County workshop at Forum Club To Elect Tomorrow Night

An organization meeting of the Forum Club was held October 13. Aims and objectives of the Club were discussed. The next meeting will be held in Music Hall tomorrow evening at 6:45, at which time there will be an election of officers.

The officers' nominating committee is composed of chairman John Allegretti, Bob Murray, Lou Aquilino, and Nancy Shay. The constituent committee is headed by chairman Helene O'Day, and the members are William Douds, Keith Nicolls, Reginald Lawrence, and Richard Spierling.

Chairman of the publicity committee is Betty Wimer, with Jerry Stephens, Phyllis Ledwick, Evelyn Smith, and Edward Sheasby as members. The membership committee's chairman is Rudy Bilich, and his assistants are Dick Conrad, Marlyn Wolfe, John Egloss, and Peter Plumpis.

Chairman of the program committee is Fred Brennan, with members Blair Logan, Dick Leech, Richard Hamilton, and Wayne Yeager. The speaker training committee is led by chairman Don Edwards, while his two committee members are Nick LaSlavic and Jack Rodgers.

Cochran. On November 11 they will take part in a similar meeting sponsored by the Oil City public schools.

Dick Moffatt and Lou Stamos were lucky enough to attend the Pennsylvania-Navy football game last Saturday.

Loudest sox honors at Friday's "Sox and Sweater" dance were awarded to Lois Heffner and Bob Pfister.

Throughout next week a number of E. S. T. C. faculty members will take part in curriculum meetings at Lewistown and Harrisburg.

Rosfeld Dunks Dinkel In Frosh Election

When the results of the freshman election were made known, the candidate who has spent the most time and money, as has often happened in the past, ran second. Art Rosfeld was elected president, Larry Dinkel vice president, Mickey Hill secretary, and Natalie Humeniuk treasurer.

If you happened to go past the

Classes and Clubs Choose Leaders

The majority of the classes and clubs have elected their officers, so The Spectator is taking this opportunity to present them.

In the Senior Class the officers are Paul Haley, president; John Wright, vice-president; Lois Byers, treasurer; and Virginia Rice, secretary.

Junior officers are Georgia Imig, president; Nick Muto, vice-president; Harry Montgomery, treasurer; and Audregene Nicely, secretary.

Officers of the Newman Club are Angeline Vitale and John Wright, co-presidents; Gene Latini, vice-president; Marian Robertson, secretary; and Charles Bedogne, treasurer.

Heading The Spectator staff this year are Donald Turchan, editor; Joseph Rodgers, sports editor; Jay Zahniser, art editor; and Thomas Come, business manager. Mr. Lowder is faculty advisor.

The chosen leaders for the Alpha Delta sorority are Virginia Rice, president; Marian Eades, vice-president; Norma Lalley, secretary; and Stella Mukina, treasurer. The corresponding secretary is Helen Haggerty, while Marjorie Alder acts as historian. Marian Robertson, Nancy Shay, and Lucia Downing are the marshals, while the critic is Jeanne Simoni.

Delta Phi Delta is headed by president Marian Eades; vice-president, Pat Hamilton; corresponding secretary, Virginia Hall; recording secretary, Marjorie Boney; treasurer, Evelyn White; and historian, Chrystene Dice.

Jay Zahniser is president of the Photography Club; vice-president, George McBride; secretary-treasurer, Marianna Martucci. Gordon Myers is the purchasing agent.

Phi Sigma Pi fraternity is headed by president Bob Visloski; vice-president, Tom Snaman; secretary, Joe Rodgers; assistant secretary, Alex Perkins; and treasurer, Emil Krzan.

Auditorium as the balloting was taking place, you could not help but notice how realistically it was run. There were signs all over the campus proclaiming the worth of each candidate, and at the polls one of the candidates, Larry Dinkel, was even handing out cigarettes and lollipops to prospective supporters.

Our Faculty

No college is better than its faculty. We at Edinboro feel that we have a faculty equal to any in a similar institution which offers only undergraduate work. It is a common fallacy that the larger the college or university, the better are the teachers and professors. One of the requisites for a good faculty is a wide representation of institutions, where the faculty members took their undergraduate work and graduate work.

A survey of our faculty shows that undergraduate work was obtained in thirty-seven colleges and universities in fourteen states. Ten state teachers colleges or normal schools are represented, four of which are in Pennsylvania; seven universities are represented in Pennsylvania and outside the state.

The graduate work for the master's and doctor's degrees was done in twenty-seven universities located in sixteen different states. Doctor's degrees were granted by twelve different universities from ten states. This great variety in training is a distinct asset to the College. It brings the people of various types of education and various viewpoints to the staff.

All these statistics help to validate the claim that our faculty is not only equal to those of other colleges the same size, but also comparable to those of many universities much larger. The students of E. S. T. C. are indeed fortunate to be able to study at a college which can boast a faculty of such outstanding merit in regard to the breadth and quality of its training.

That's The Spirit

It is gratifying to see the vivid student response at the past few pep rally assemblies. School spirit is the abstract sought by all halls of learning. This spirit, which cannot be bought, is of the utmost value to a successful college. Students must develop a love for their collegiate mother, for then they not only work for themselves, but also have an unselfish desire to raise their college higher in the eyes of others. This lifting of ideals and standards will in turn help to enrich each student's personal education.

Sports are educational. They are of value not only to the cooperative players on each team, but also to every member of the student body. Life is a struggle, and this struggle can be best exemplified, studied, and learned on the fields of friendly, but earnest, hard-driving competition. To enter combat, whether it is mental or physical, suffer defeat, and still be able to snap back fighting, wiser but more determined, is the essence of life.

Remember — when you root for the fellows on the team, cheer hard! You are not only cheering for them; you are also cheering for Edinboro and yourself.

Short Short

On examining the suggestion box of The Spectator we have found a sum total of two thumb tacks, one Blossom Kiss wrapper, and one cigar butt. This is all very gratifying, but we'd like to remind you, the admirers of this newspaper, that the box was placed in the vestibule of Normal Hall solely for the purpose of giving you an easy means of telling us about our shortcomings, of handing in choice items of gossip, or of telling the world what you think of this or that. However, if you find yourself unable to express your desired opinions on paper, then please contact the editor to deliver your message in person.

P. S. The Spectator is starting a fund for homeless editors; so please feel free to drop your old pennies and dimes into the above-mentioned receptacle. The names of contributors will be published.

ARTIFACTS

by Ross Nelson

Three cheers for the ScaRab Club! With the installation of the new "Big Wheels", a very capable advisory staff, and what seems to be a "new look" so far as activities are concerned, the Club seems to be really solid this year.

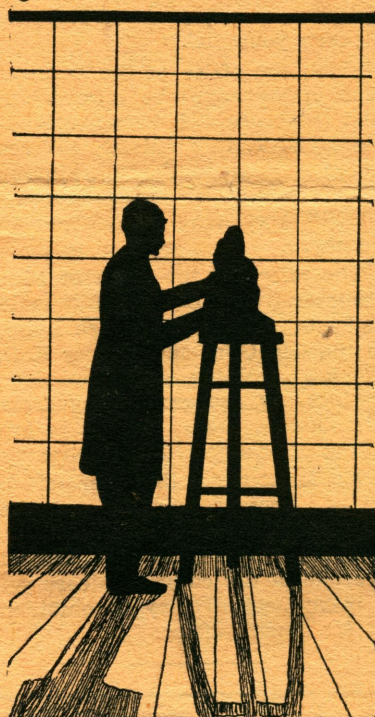

Incidentally, if you haven't heard who our new officers are, I will put you wise. First, there are Alvin Saul, president, and his right hand man, Joseph Koshute, vice-president; Jean Portz, a cute little lassie, by the way, is entrusted with the Club's dues and debts as treasurer; and Dick Moffatt is secretary. Mr. Bruce and Mr. Yost are the guiding hands.

There have been two very well attended hall dances at Loveland, and the proverbially good time was had by all. Even Mr. Bruce's children were present; and at one point during the first dance, they were highly impressed by a caricature of their "pop," drawn by one of our budding artists.

"Pop" Bates, who has already been adopted by the upperclassmen, now has an even larger family since the freshmen have taken to him as ducks take to water.

Apropos, the freshmen are now nearing the end of their first quarter and their first college grades, and take it from one of them, there are some "future Rembrandts" in this class. However, we freshmen are very modest, for as we go from class to class and as we see the accomplishments of the advanced classes, we are felled by awe, and wonder if we will ever do much the same.

Much to Mr. Baker's grief, no doubt, there have been the usual accidents in the art classes. That is, upset ink bottles, jars of poster paint, and even gobs of oil paint smeared here and there. You'd be surprised at the results, though. Ask "Pop" Bates to clarify this and you will see what I mean. I don't believe, however, that a certain country would appreciate the interpretations.

As one walks to classes and looks at the campus from a distance, one might think there were crap games or such going on, on the lawns. But at a closer distance, one sees it is only the art students capturing nature in the raw on the canvas. One might be amazed to see so many contortionists in one spot, but we art students take the various positions necessary to acquire, to capture, that once-in-a-lifetime scene, with little knowledge of how we must look to a bystander.

Has anyone heard that terrific noise in Loveland? Don't worry, it's not a secret weapon in the making, but the elementary art class clanging away like the "village blacksmith."

You know, fellow students, it's no hardship to wear a "little red feather" and you won't be mistaken as an Indian and have a local cowboy shoot you, so let's put a red feather in our caps. With this worthy thought, I bid you adieu.

?? INQUIRING REPORTER ??

by Dick Swick

This week's question for the Inquiring Reporter is "What is your opinion of requiring the freshmen to wear 'dinks'?"

Harold Bechtold: I think they absolutely should be worn!

Ron Gamble: I have but one word to say, "Phooey!"

Roger Mauchline: They are a leftover of the Middle Ages.

Marilyn Hyde: I personally think they enhance one's appearance.

John Merges: I don't think we should wear them.

George McDermott: I think they are O. K.

Jane Whittaker: They look cute.

Mary Prodehl: Mine refuses to stay on my head.

Barbara Giddings: Very definitely, they should be worn.

Ronny Ralg: They are only good to keep your head warm.

Frank Pinto: I must admit, they are good for bald-headed people.

Carol Davis: Why drag it out! Jim Guckert: They are an asset to school spirit.

Keith Wooddell: Dinks make it easier to catch a ride.

Gordon Myer: They keep my hair down.

Helen Fehlman: They are hard to match colors every day.

Mark Hartong: A waste of time and money.

Marjorie Boyd: They're good to blot lipstick.

Bill Jacob: Dinks are something to forget every morning.

Connie Pierson: They were fun at first, but now are a nuisance.

Marilyn Beaver: Mine is nothing but a dust collector.

Pinkey Nicely: I think they're cute; I wish we would have had them.

Richard Carlson: Now that I'm a senior, I think all freshmen should wear them.

Marianna Martucci: I love any kind of hat.

At the State Teachers College at West Chester, Pa., the Art Clubs are sponsoring a "Clothes Line Exhibition" on October 30. All entries are pinned on clothes lines, and prizes are given for the best two entries in each media.

From West Chester College also comes the news of All-Star programs held in their Philips Memorial Auditorium. Their first attraction, on October 4, was well-known James Melton, leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Association.

She: Darling, sometimes you're so masculine and at other times so effeminate. How is that?

He: I suppose it's hereditary. Half my ancestors were males and he other half were females.

She: If he's anything like me, he certainly would.

SCUTTLEBUTT

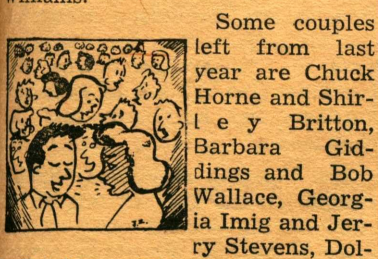

by Margaret Lay

It's highly improbable that Cupid is out shooting arrows this time of year; he's probably already looking for a cozy place to hibernate. Nevertheless, something or somebody must be responsible for all the happy couples. Jack Frost? Hallowe'en goblins? Scuttlebutt bug? Take your choice.

Marilyn Wetzel has had a week-end visitor quite repeatedly lately. And a cute couple they make, too!

Our transfer student from Pitt, Betty Stokes, seems to have taken over Sam Nan's interest quite thoroughly.

A new twosome which delights everyone is Marj Alder and Bill Williams.

Some couples left from last year are Chuck Horne and Shirley Britton, Barbara Giddings and Bob Wallace, Georgia Imig and Jerry Stevens, Dolly Patrick and Hank Montgomery.

Joan Dimling is one of those people who is a headache to any gossip column. She's pretty hard to keep track of, but one thing's for sure — she's a very popular girl.

Sally Hollingshead is making a beautiful pair of argyles. That's the kind of girl to have, fellows.

Bill Johnson's blond locks have an attraction for Betty Twombly, so the grapevine relates.

Speaking of blonde locks, Julie Ann Rowe's have brought favorable comments from the fellows.

To tell the truth, the upperclassmen have found many striking things to comment on in this year's freshman class. These are only a few of the comments that have been overheard:

"Mary Benner sure puts her whole heart into playing hockey." "Bill Skelly has the prettiest hair. It's too bad we see him only in assembly." (From female sex).

And the moral of the story is that even though this may be a mean world, people do notice and comment sometimes.

It seems to be unanimous in the girls' dorm gab sessions that Dick Jensen is the friendliest boy on campus. Some of the freshmen have paired off already this year. Priscilla Holt and Tony Ovesney certainly make a cute couple.

Visitors here have been noted to be high in number recently. Marianna Martucci's Zambroski was out not too long ago. A nice looking fellow from Slippery Rock S. T. C. has been observed visiting Mickey Hill on week-ends quite regularly. And then — who was the girl that was here to see George Smittle the week-end of the Clarion game? It is nice to see last year's graduates, such as Al Babcock, around even though we know the attraction is Barbie Carlson rather than the Alma Mater.

The freshman class this year seems to be full of tales of interesting experiences. One of the most entertaining is Carolyn Weser's account of the six weeks she spent this summer in the women's auxiliary of the U. S. Marine Corps.

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES

by John Rodgers

On Friday, October 7, Mr. Ellenberger, supervising principal of the Training School, together with Miss Whitney, Dr. Van Laningham, and the critic teachers, sponsored a social hour for the eighteen seniors who are carrying out their student teaching activities at the Edinboro High School.

Over coffee and cake, the student teachers had their first real opportunity to become acquainted with their respective critic teachers and to talk shop about the problems with which they will be confronted during the year.

Dale Webster, who recently celebrated his senior year by marrying a former Edinboro graduate, Dona Flower, of Franklin, Pennsylvania, found himself confronted by an unusual situation recently at Erie Academy High School. Without benefit of preparation or lesson plan, Dale faced a world history class in the absence of his critic teacher. Thursday found him better prepared, but he decided he was glad Teacher Institute was scheduled for Friday, closing the school and relieving him of another such ordeal.

Geore Otto is looking forward to teaching Shakespeare's Julius Caesar to his tenth-grade English class. Lucky for him he spent a semester in Mr. Zahniser's Shakespeare class studying the Bard.

Through his observations at the Training School, Ted Davenport has become enthusiastic about the P. O. D. class he is preparing to teach. It seems that in it there are several exceptional seniors who

Prexy Warren Tells Of "E" Club Plans

"E" Club president Art Warren recently announced the purpose and results of the Club's promotional interest in salesmanship. The Club has been averaging thirty to thirty-five dollars profit from their refreshment stand at each home game. Added to this total is the net gain of one hundred dollars from the "E" Club Ball. All this money will be used to purchase jackets for the lettermen. In event there is any money left over, it will be used to buy equipment for intra-mural athletics.

Planned for later in the year is an "E" Club banquet, which president Warren hopes will be continued each year. Also on the agenda for the forthcoming year is a proposed varsity-alumni basketball game which the Club's fifty-one members hope to sponsor.

Last week was the big day for Joanne Scofield, who took over one of the primary grades under Miss Burchfield's supervision. Being an elementary teacher, Jo faces a situation which differs greatly from secondary education. She teaches not just two subjects, but all those selected for that particular grade level to which she has been assigned. Good luck, Jo.

Rozelle and Lee To Give 'Y' Reports

This evening at 7:30 in the Blue Room, Mary Jane Rozelle and Elsie Lee will give reports on their recent experiences at Y. W. conferences.

Mary Jane attended Camp Michaux, summer Y. W. camp in the Blue Ridge Mountains, for a week during the past summer, where she represented the Edinboro College Y.

Elsie recently attended a planning conference at Corranawanda Camp, near Zelienople, for student Christian leaders. Titled "Operation Understanding," the conference was designed to give the girls an understanding of Communism and to find a solution to the problem concerning the relationship between Christianity and Communism.

All college women are cordially invited to attend this evening's affair.

Tough Breaks Defeat Red Raiders, 21-13

Booters Jinxed But Gun For Final Foes

by Gene Hardy

The streak of bad luck continues to plague the Edinboro Soccer team, but all is not lost, since the booters have two games remaining to play, one here Friday against Grove City and another against Buffalo the following day, Saturday at Buffalo.

In the past two weeks the Harrisonians have lost by close margins to Allegheny, 3-1, Thiel, 4-2, Slippery Rock, 4-0. The goals in these games were scored by Art Warren, "Red" Zeiler, and Jack Greenawalt.

Last Friday, the Raiders played host to Indiana. Determined to break their losing streak, the locals started off in great form. Two minutes after the second half had started, Edinboro tallied its second goal to make the score read 2-0, but an inspired Indiana team was not to be denied because they came right back and scored three goals. After the smoke had finally lifted, Indiana was still on top, 3-2.

Lenosky, Sagon, and Calpo tallied for Indiana. "Red" Zeiler and Art Warren scored the two points for Edinboro.

Hard-working Coach Harrison feels a little discouraged, but believes that the team will emerge with wins in the final two games.

Football Captain

"Moe" Klein

A serious blow to the Red Raiders was the injury of Morris "Moe" Klein. While playing in the Clarion game he pulled a shoulder muscle that will probably handicap him for the rest of the season, but will not keep him from seeing quite a bit of action.

Moe is an invaluable asset to the team because of his thorough knowledge of the gridiron sport and his indomitable spirit. He is thoroughly at home at the tackle slot because that has been his spot since and during his high school days at Aliquippa. In college he has won a football monogram each season he has been on the squad.

Uncle Sam provided his clothes for three years during which time he was with the engineers in the South Pacific.

A history major and a social studies minor, Moe is currently doing his secondary education practice teaching in the local high school.

Although the winter months find him playing intra-mural basketball, his first love is football. In the gridiron sport his competitive spirit and his physical prowess will combine to make him long remembered at Edinboro.

On the Spot With the WAA

by Georgia Imig

On the Field

The siren wailed dismally on the ambulance which ground to a halt on the hockey field. The white-coated attendants bounced out to claim the fourteen bodies lying prostrate on the field. In the far corner of the field was seen the victorious varsity cheering the fallen alumnae.

Yes, to everyone's great amazement and delight (even their own) the varsity defeated the much-favored Alumnae, 4-0.

With Sundean's interference, Simoni's side-line drives, Mag Lucas' beautiful "set-ups," and Wetzel's hard smacks into the goal, the varsity waltzed off with the first 3 points, soon to be supplemented by Barb Wetherhold's additional point.

It was a g-l-o-r-i-o-u-s game!

On the Courts

"Thar's blood on them thar courts . . ." 'cause — The tournaments have begun for each class. The freshmen, the sophs, the juniors-seniors, are playing in the three tournaments now being run by the W. A. A.

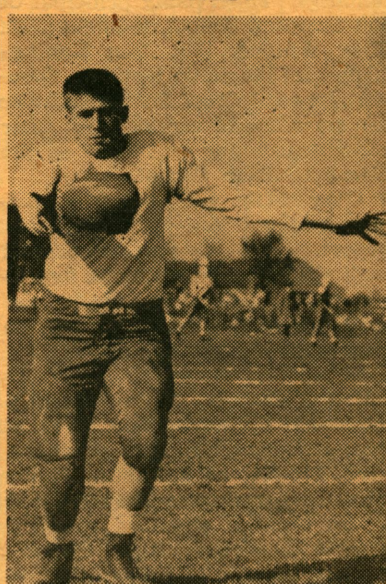

Mickey Hill and Nat Humeniuk are the favorites for the freshmen rooters; Carol Johnson, Fae O'Hare and Pat McClimans are the "strongarms" for the sophs; and Ange Vitale, Jane Whittaker, and Marty Evans are the "Marble-ites" most bet on in the junior-senior tournament. Me? I'll take golf.

On the Road

Jean Simoni and Carol Sundean were elected to go to Chambersburg to represent our W. A. A. at the State Conference.

Oberlin College was greatly honored to have, as their guests at a play-day, our hockey team, consisting of Hammermeister, Simoni, Wetzel, Wetherhold, Welms, Sundean, Alder, Wygant, Patrick, O'Day, Groce, and the Lucas Sisters, Helen and Margaret. They represented our college most ably among eight other colleges represented.

Punter

Chuck Oldach

Chuck Oldach, fullback for the Red Raiders, is a sophomore and hails from Erie East High School. Besides playing fullback he also does the punting for the team and is doing a fine job. He has been a great help in getting Edinboro out of a great number of tough spots this season.

While in High School at Erie East, Chuck was a letterman for three years, and in his last year he had the best punting average in the Erie district. Not only in sports did he receive recognition but also scholastically when he made honorable mention in his senior year at high school. His major here at Edinboro is science; his minor is math.

Chuck hopes someday to break into the coaching field; and if he has the determination that he has had on the gridiron, he can't miss.

Harried Raiders Bow To Indians

On Saturday, October 15, before a large Homecoming Day crowd, the Red Raiders dropped a hard fought decision to the Indiana Indians, 20-6. The game was marked by nine pass interceptions, three of them occurring on consecutive plays near the end of the first half.

Indiana struck pay dirt early in the first quarter, but for the rest of the half Edinboro held firm. The Indians scored twice in the second half before the Raider's Don Lepley went around end from the Indiana three for a score. Twice more in the fourth quarter the Raiders threatened to score, but each time they were denied.

Don Edmonds Romps For Two Tallies

Last Saturday Thiel College topped its homecoming celebration with a 21-13 victory over the Edinboro teachers. It was a hard-fought game, with the breaks paving the way for the final decision.

In the first quarter Edinboro got into scoring position when the Raiders' line broke through and blocked Henderson's punt. The ball rolled back to the 32-yard line, where Henderson recovered for Thiel. However, the ball went over to Edinboro on downs. The big Thiel line refused to yield any yardage, and Edinboro lost its chance.

The Tomcats recovered Dixon's fumble on the 27-yard line at the start of the second quarter, and after being held for three downs, Henderson passed to Himmelman for the first touchdown. Borcicky booted the point from placement, and Thiel led 7-0.

Edinboro tied the game up on a spectacular 45-yard run by Don Edmonds on a shovel pass from Dixon. Lepley raced around left end for the extra-point.

Thiel started driving again, but they were stopped when DeRubies intercepted a Thiel pass. Edinboro was forced to punt, and Thiel worked the ball down to the 24-yard line on a pass from Scava to Desport who lateralled to Borcicky. The Red Raiders held them for three downs, but on the fourth down Scava passed again. DeRubies leaped into the air and blocked the ball, but Glenn of Thiel made a diving catch on the one-yard line. Bob Henderson, who played a terrific game for Thiel, plowed over for the score.

On the next kickoff Oldach fumbled and Thiel recovered on the 32. The Tomcats fought to the two-yard line, where on fourth down Jack Desport passed to Henderson for the last Thiel touchdown.

Edinboro came back with a desperation passing attack. Dixon passed to Andriko for a first down. Dixon passed again to Edmonds, who raced down the center of the field for his second touchdown of the day. That was Edinboro's last scoring opportunity, and the game ended 21-13 in favor of the Thiel Tomcats.
