The first four articles in this edition of rural libraries contains texts of speeches presented at the September, 1991 conference Information and Rural Economic Development: Issues and Strategies, held in Portland, Maine. This conference was jointly sponsored by the Center for the Study of Rural Librarianship, the National Agricultural Library, and the Northeast Regional Center for Rural Development in cooperation with the Department of Library Science, Clarion University of Pennsylvania and the State Library of Maine.

The final speech was presented at the November, 1991 conference The Future of Rural and Small Public Libraries held in Birmingham, Alabama. The conference was jointly sponsored by the Alabama Public Library Service and the Center for the Study of Rural Librarianship, Clarion University of Pennsylvania.

Citations and reference listings in rural libraries are based on the format described in Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, Third Edition. Revisions are made in the original texts received to bring footnotes, endnotes and bibliographies into conformation with this standard. However, not all formats received are completely convertible. While research is done to obtain missing information, some omissions are inevitable. We apologize for any inconvenience such omissions may cause.
