

CGA allocates $33,000 for new gym track surface

by Ellen Doyle

College Council approved the allocation of $33,000 from the reserve fund to install an indoor track in the new gym. This was one of the many motions acted on by the Council at a five-hour marathon session held Monday night in the Union.

Mr. Boyd Buckingham, Associate Vice-President for Campus Development who is involved in the planning of the new gym, explained that the money might be needed if the GSA, which suggested a Robbins Sport Tread track, refuses to pay for a Tartan Turf track, which Mr. Buckingham feels is a more acceptable surface. The money is pending the outcome of legal hassles with GSA.

CGA passed a motion requesting Dr. Nossen, Mr. Buckingham and other involved administrators to notify Council and get approval before okaying allocations from the reserve fund. A committee will be formed to work with Mr. Buckingham on future campus development to keep CGA informed on these matters.

INCREASE STUDENT SENATORS

Steve Wagner introduced a motion to increase the number of student Senators to 42, with an equal number to be elected from the faculty and administration. A committee was formed, chaired by Steve Wagner, to consult with the Executive Committee of the Senate and present a report at the next meeting.

CALENDAR CHANGE

After hearing a report from Dr. Cole on the alternatives for BSC's 73-74 calendar, Council passed a motion recommending their choice. Under this calendar, classes would begin after Labor Day, with the first semester ending before Christmas and the spring semester ending in May.

Council heard a motion to confirm the allocation of $250 approved by the executive committee for painting new lines on the basketball court in the new gymnasium. These lines would conform with official guidelines recently set. The motion was defeated by Council.

John Andris, Mike DeMarco, Bob Hoagland, Ron Sheehan and Rosie Yudiscus were nominated to fill two vacant seats on Council. Because a majority vote couldn't be reached by secret ballot, Michael Siptroth will make appointments and submit them to Council for approval at the next meeting.

ATHLETIC SCHOLARSHIPS

Dan Burkholder presented a report from the Ad Hoc Committee on Athletic Scholarships to Council. Mr. Neiswender explained that athletic grant funds do exist under the Bloomsburg Foundation. The Committee investigated various forms for aid to athletes employed by other colleges and are considering a free meal ticket system for BSC.

However, this Committee plans to set up guidelines for these scholarships before requesting money from the reserve fund.

CONSTITUTION REVISION

The Constitutional Revision Committee, headed by Rich Scott and Bill Hanford, presented to Council a revised Constitution for its governance. Their proposed plan calls for an election of all representatives on a ratio basis and the membership expanded to no more than 50. The officers would be elected from Council except the parliamentarian and historian, who will be appointed by the President according to ability. Under the new Constitution a two-thirds vote would be required for a quorum, rather than the present 3/4 vote and meetings would be conducted under Sturgis Rules of Orders rather than Rodgers. These changes will be written as a constitution and submitted to Council at a future meeting.

ENVIRONMENTAL COMMITTEE

Dr. Vaughn, representing Michael Spellman, presented the report of the Environmental Committee, which is currently surveying the campus for sources of pollution and possible methods of control. The Committee is divided into six Tasks Forces: Energy Utilization, Air Pollution, Over-All Environmental Planning, Noise Pollution and Waste

AAUP report cites numerous violations

An AAUP committee report dealing with violations of the BSC Joint Statement on Rights Freedoms and Responsibilities of students was released to the M&G Tuesday. The report, which was presented to and accepted by the local AAUP chapter last April, was brought to the attention of the BSC community by an article published in the Tuesday issue of the Gadfly.

The report was the result of hearings conducted in May of 1970 by a committee set up to investigate alleged violations of the Joint Statement. The report was first presented to the AAUP in May of 1970. It was sent back to committee for updating and revision and was finally accepted last year.

For reasons that remain unclear, the accepted report was not distributed. The report, however, was made available to Mr. Walker of the Student Life staff who requested it last October. Mr. Walker distributed the report to the Student Life staff as well as the Senate Student Affairs Committee.

According to Dr. Griffis, the Student Life staff discussed the report, much of which pertains to matters which relate to the staff's responsibilities.

Members of the committee were Mr. Lauffer, Mr. Percey and committee chairman, Mr. Micherl. The revision committee, chaired by Mr. Lauffer, included Mr. Alter, Mr. McClure, Mr. Percey and Mr. Calvin Walker.

HARASSMENT

The report documents an incident involving a student representative to the Board of Trustees who was harassed by President Nossen and then — Chairman of the Board William Lank for wearing an anti-

Cambodia armband to a Trustees' meeting.

The report also documents "an attack by the President on the integrity and honesty of a student with no substantiating evidence publicly presented nor opportunity for rebuttal." The incident referred to involves a letter sent by Nossen to Associate Vice-President Hunsinger requesting that Ms. Glo Wilson not be appointed to the election board because of alleged irregularities involving elections. Nossen also alleged that Ms. Wilson had failed to meet her academic obligations.

"These alleged events," states the report, "are violative of the letter and spirit of the Joint Statement and are all the more shocking by virtue of the official position of those involved. Further, we believe that attacking the character of students without good reason and ample evidence is detrimental to both the educational process and healthy student relations."

PUBLIC FACILITIES

The growing number of Black students and their denial of housing facilities and barber services is also mentioned in the report, which calls for the college to "use its influence to secure equal access for all students to public facilities". There have been no recent incidents recorded according to Mr. John Zarski, Housing Director, who stated that Black students are finding success in locating housing.

RALLY ATTENDANCE

The attempt by certain faculty members to dissuade students from attending the rallies held in protest of the United States incursion into Cambodia and the Kent State tragedy held in the spring of 1970 is cited in the report. These actions, the report holds, are not only in violation of

The Governor's Office announced Wednesday the appointment of Michael Torbert as student member of the Bloomsburg State College Board of Trustees.

Mr. Torbert, who lives in Allentown, is majoring in Business.

Social studies institute on Indians starts today

The B.S.C. Institute for Social Studies Teachers Conference on the American Indian for today will provide an opportunity for over eight hundred social studies teachers in the public school districts affiliated with the Institute to gain a better perspective of this important minority in American society. George A. Turner, Director of the Institute, indicated the nature of several programs scheduled for the Conference.

Dr. Wilcomb Washburn, a distinguished historian of the American Indian who recently published Red Man's Land, White Man's Law: A Study of the Past and Present Status of the American Indian, will be one of the speakers. He will give a talk entitled: "Are Indian Treaties Relevant Today?" in which he will explain the historical aspects of treaties and then demonstrate how their interpretation in the Indian Claims Commission and Court of Claims makes them relevant today. Dr. Washburn is the Director of the American Studies Program at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. He is a prolific writer, author of five books and numerous articles found in a variety of scholarly publications.

Oren Lyons, Assistant Professor of American Studies at Buffalo University, is Chief of the Turtle Clan of the Onondaga Nation. He will speak on the interaction and involvement of the Iroquois with the French, Dutch, and English when they made contact. He will review the legacy of that encounter. Raymond Moses, a Seneca Indian graduate of the former United States Indian Industrial School at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, who now teaches Indian history at Arkon, New York, will also discuss the impact of the contact of the American Indian with Europeans.

Paul Feldsher and Meribeth Durst, doctoral students in the Department of Anthropology at Syracuse University, will present a program entitled: "The Inclusion of Value and Belief Systems in a Curriculum on American Indians." Feldsher and Durst assert that traditional approaches to the teaching of Indian culture serve to perpetuate the view that Indians are still inferior to the dominant white culture. Indian thought on religion and man's position in the universe is still viable and satisfying and is as structured and complex as the universe is still viable and satisfying and is as structured and complex as the the Joint Statement but also call into serious question the objectivity of the faculty members involved.

STUDENT AFFAIRS

Student records filed by the Student Life Staff namely the Social Economic and Educational Inventory of students entering BSC and written evaluations of students by resident advisors were taken to task by the report. The Social Economic Inventory and the R. A. evaluations have both been dropped as procedure by the Student Life Staff, according to Dr. Griffis. The entire area of student records, their use and applicability, are presently under study by a Sub-Committee of the Student Affairs Committee of the Senate.

HEARINGS

The report quotes eight sections of the Joint Statement dealing with the judicial process. The report cites four instances in

Letters

Dear Editor,

I am a second semester junior. Each semester since I have been at Bloomsburg I have paid a $10.00 Special Education fee. This means I have paid $60.00 since my freshman year. This fact didn't particularly bother me until I realized that the money does not go to the Special Education Department as I had assumed. The money doesn't even go to this college.

Each year about $13,000 is collected from the students of this campus without any services or equipment given in return. This figure doesn't include fees collected from summer students.

I am being ripped-off by the state of Pennsylvania! The state has no right to take unfair advantage of students training to teach exceptional children.

I would like to know how to change this inequity. Please send suggestions to Box 508 Waller or talk to me about it—talk to me anyway—I get discouraged when I think about things like this.

Steven B. Hartman

children and the public to believe that I am more of a cheapskate than I really am. (Each of my children over the past year have, frequently shouted at me: "You're not my father; you don't support me".)

The Feb. 15th Morning Press carried Mr. Cronover's statement, made at the Feb. 14 hearing, that as of Nov. 1, 1971 I was $320 in "arrears" on my support payments.

Mr. Cronover's figure (he is the County Probation Officer) of $320 included $160 owed in advance for the month of November, (that's how they keep accounts in that office). Furthermore, it turns out, on examination of my payment record, (of which I have a copy) that Mr. Cronover failed to credit me with a $40 payment made in March, 1971, and a $30 payment made on Nov. 1 Mr. Cronover's assistant agrees that these mistakes in the record were made. Even on Mr. Cronover's incomplete record, then, I was actually in arrears $90 on Nov. 1, not $320.

During the month of November, Mrs. Porter managed to have delivered to her, $187.50 owed to me for work. She and Mr. Cronover still refuse to credit me on the record with this $187.50, even though I have given to Mr. Cronover a signed statement by my former employer that she gave this money to Mrs. Porter. If Mrs. Porter had recorded the $187.50 in Cronover's office, as she did at the Welfare office, then my record at Cronover's office would have shown me behind, as of Dec. 1, by $62.50 or by a week and a half.

Adding to the $62.50, $200 for Dec., $160 for Jan. and $40 for one week in Feb., would have shown me as being $462.50 in "arrears" as of Feb. 10, 1972, the day Cronover's office made out an affidavit stating that I was "$730 in arrears".

In addition, I have cancelled checks and other evidence that shows that I have given Mrs. Porter and the children from $500 to $600 in other money for their support since last March 1. Although they don't deny the existence of these other payments, neither Mrs. Porter nor Mr. Cronover has been willing to credit me with even 1¢, despite repeated requests from me to do so.

If I ever do get credit for this additional money, then the record as of Feb. 10, 1972 will show me as being either $37.50 or $137.50 ahead on support payments on that date, instead of, as claimed, $730 in arrears.

So you see children, I really have been supporting you (though not at the rate of $150-wk which you and your mother received for your own use when I was working at the College) and I really am your father, despite what your mother and the newspapers say.

And let me tell you something else: If this County were really as concerned about your getting adequate support, as they pretended to be by throwing me in jail, they would have given me one of those 12 Emergency Employment Act jobs they had at their disposal, for which I was the most highly qualified applicant, instead of passing them out as patronage plums to people without dependants.

Then you could have kept the $500 to $600 I gave you on the side and in addition have received $462.50 through Cronover, plus the Christmas presents I wasn't able to give you this year.

Now you must realize kids, that the people in this County are such good Christians, they never could have intended, consciously, to tear a father apart from his children in this way; particularly, a father who was supporting you for a year and a half before he married your mother, and who adopted you because he loved you and wanted to be near you until you grew up. True Christians are incapable of consciously planning to do such a malicious and immoral thing.

The fact that they have torn a family apart and are threatening me with further jailing, if I try to stay near you in the same County, is so much like what they do in the Soviet Union, to fathers who get themselves in trouble with the government, that it can only mean that the good Christians of Columbia County are being somehow, unconsciously, controlled by atheists.

Please don't let this experience shake your confidence in the existence of Christ, nor in the existence of my affection for you, and desire to support you. After all, if I had only had myself to worry about, I would have left this place two years ago.

McGovern

ORANGEVILLE, PA. — Delegates pledged to Senator George McGovern's candidacy for the Democratic party's presidential nomination charged today that the "same old faces" were named as delegates for Senator Muskie in the 27th Senatorial District. "The Democratic voters in Columbia, Montour, Northumberland, Snyder, and Union Counties are once again being ignored by local bosses and are being asked to follow the party line of the Shapp organization," was the opinion of one McGovern supporter. Concern was also expressed over the absence of any representation for young Democrats, contrary to the new rules adopted by the Democratic National Committee. Jim Percey of Orangeville stated that supporters of Senator McGovern would go all out in their campaign, which will be directed towards Democrats throughout the 27th district. Percey, the local director of McGovern's campaign, emphasized that "delegates for McGovern are committed to an open campaign, one that will talk directly to the issues facing America today in a meaningful and timely manner. We will field two candidates for delegate and one for alternate, thus offering Pennsylvanians a choice in the April primary."

The McGovern slate of delegates is composed of Anne Vaughan of Bloomsburg, Charles Longley and Nanette Falkenberg, both of Lewisburg.

Anne Vaughan, mother of four, is an active participant in Columbia county community affairs. Her husband is a member of the BSC faculty. Mrs. Vaughan said she decided to run in order to demonstrate that women can play an active role in local party politics and to raise issues of special interest to women voters.

Longley is a member of the political science faculty at Bucknell University and has taken part in local activities.

Mrs. Falkenberg, formerly of Scranton, and now a student at Bucknell University, is concerned that the Democratic Party recognize the younger voters in the community. She stated that her candidacy will demonstrate to this group that they can work effectively within the system and that McGovern is a candidate who recognizes the interests of both younger and older citizens.

McGovern's delegates in the 27th Senatorial District plan to hold a series of meetings throughout the area before the primary election on April 25th. Details as to the locations, dates, and times of the meetings will be forthcoming. The public is urged to attend these meetings, since, as Longley commented, "We intend to discuss the relative merits of all candidates for the Democratic nomination, believing that such consideration is necessary to familiarize voters with Senator McGovern's outstanding record."

For further information contact Jim Percey, 717-683-5921.

TO THE EDITOR:

In this county, it appears that, if an unemployed father, who is under a support order, applies for twenty jobs, in the county, over a two month period, it isn't enough to prove that he has made a good faith attempt to meet his responsibilities to his children.

It turns out that he must make a large number of applications for jobs located outside of the county as well; otherwise, he deserves to be jailed for maliciously intending to place the burden of supporting his children on public welfare.

Since this is the only conclusion I can draw from the hearing in the Columbia County Court Room, which I attended on Feb. 14, I wish to inform my children (one of whom I have not seen for 5 months) and all of my good friends up at the College that I am in the process of making a large number of applications for jobs in Harrisburg.

If potential employers there are willing to overlook the four arrests placed on my record in the past year and a half (the first non traffic arrests of my life), and, if they will ignore a dismissal in the middle of a semester which, according to the rules of Bloomsburg State College, can only occur for treason or gross immorality, and, if they are willing to take a chance on a jailbird like me, then I will remove myself there as quickly as possible. That, apparently, is the only way to avoid future arrests in this county. (You know, really, it's starting to get pretty boring. I mean, the same thing, over, and over, and over, and over again.)

Before I am driven out of the county, though, I would like to correct some mistatements of fact appearing in the two County newspapers, which have led my

A Goose Liver Pie In The Face For Bon...

Dear Mr. Etiquette

Ah, sweet love, sometimes. You see my Amour, sweet Cherry, would not accept my advances last night. Even after being wined and dined with much ado at the Corner Lunch. At the end of this glamorous evening, she extended her hand coldly and said, "I don't kiss on the first date."

Oh, tragedy! What am I to do? My life has been crushed. I fear I shall never love another ever again. Help.

Bon Vivant

Dear Bon,

Some of those fortunates born into Catawissa society, as I understand your sweet Cherry is, consider it "infra dignitatem" to engage in premarital sex (such as kissing and holding hands) on the first date. In fact, scandalous reports, whispered at society gatherings at Catawissa Fire Co. No. 1, holds the record of Sister Mary Kong, who submitted to carnal acts (a peck on the cheek stolen at Carrols late one Friday night over a club burger and a large coke) on the third date. The closest anyone comes to this risqué record is Cecelia Mae Washburn, who held hands with her steady on the seventh encounter.

In short, Bon, I suggest you give your Cherry more time and not be so disappointed with last night's bust. After all, one can't expect the pate de fois gras until the goose is thoroughly dead.

Bon soir,

Huskies skim by Lock Haven, named No. 1 Seed in District A playoffs

by Bob Oliver

Playing nearly half the game without center John Willis, who was in early foul trouble, the BSC Cagers squeaked by the Lock Haven five, 70-68.

Football News

For the first time in its history, BSC will have a ten-game football schedule during the 1972 season.

In addition to the regular eastern division Pennsylvania Conference opponents, the Huskies will be welcoming Shippensburg State of the western division back to its schedule, and will face another western opponent, California State, a series that began in 1971. Bloomsburg will also be completing its two-year contract with the University of Scranton team.

The BSC schedule will open at Shippensburg on September 9, which will be the dedication date of the new Red Raider Stadium. The final game will be as usual with East Stroudsburg on November 11. Millersville State College will be the Homecoming opponent on October 21. Three games will be played under the lights.

The Huskies will be looking forward to improving last year's record. The 1972 schedule is as follows: Sept. 9, Shippensburg, A, 2:00; Sept. 16, Scranton, A, 2:00; Sept. 22, Lock Haven, H, 8:00; Sept. 29, Mansfield, H, 8:00; Oct. 7, California, A, 1:30; Oct. 14, West Chester, A, 7:30; Oct. 21, Millersville, H, 2:00; Oct. 28, Cheyney, A, 1:30; Nov. 4, Kutztown, H, 1:30; Nov. 11, East Stroudsburg, A, 1:30.

The game was nip-and-tuck in it's entirety, with neither team being able to build a substantial lead. The contest wasn't decided until the final minute, when Paul Kuhn hit a pair of foul shots, right after Howard Johnson had hit a pair, to ice the game.

Sub Gary Choyka, playing more and more due to Art Luptowski's injured ankle, played his best game to date with a fine 17-point performance. Teaming with Kuhn and Tony DaRe, Gary hit 7 baskets and 3 points from the charity stripe.

Track schedule

The tentative schedule for 1972 as announced by track coach Ron Puhl is as follows:

March 2, Bloomsburg, Ursinus, ESSC.

March 11, ESSC Invitationals
March 29, Towson State, Springfield College, University of Maryland Eastern Shore, Montgomery College, Catonsville, Bloomsburg State College.

Easter Vacation March 28 - April

Open Date April 8 - to be scheduled

April 11, Millersville and Shippensburg

April 13 - Susquehanna University

April 17, Kutztown and ESSC

April 21 & 22, Penn Relays

April 25, Lock Haven State

April 27, Mansfield State

April 29, Cedar Cliff Relays

May 2, Kutztown State

May 5 - 6, STATE MEET at Clarion

May 10, Sports Banquet, Quanco Relays or Equivalent, NAIA District 19 Meet

USTFF Meet at Penn State

Kuhn led all scorers with 19 points, 8 from the field and 3 from the free throw line.

Luptowski tried to play on his injured ankle during the second half, but Coach Chronister took him out after a few minutes as it was evident that Art couldn't go 100 percent.

The Husky victory was their 10th in a row, dating back to Christmas vacation. The Huskies are still a half game back of the Cheyney Wolves, who are now 11-1 in league play. The Huskies are 10-1 going into last nite game with East Stroudsburg. Bloom's last loss was at the hands of Stroudsburg, and the Huskies bounced back from that one a week later when they won the return game at Centennial. The Huskies are now 16-3, with 4 regular season games left on their schedule.

Tomorrow nite the Huskies play host to Mansfield and Monday nite Kutztown will be at Centennial.

Tankmen upend Trenton

by Dan Maresh

The Husky tankmen have bounced back by upsetting Trenton State College 75-37. Coach McLaughlin be maneuvered various swimmers into and out to events to rest regular performers and to allow their teammates to perform in competition. The BSC record is now 10 wins and 3 losses.

There were a number of athletes that could not participate in the Trenton State meet. Jim Koehler was laid out by a raging sore throat. Ken Narsewicz and Steve Coleman both were tripped up by the slippery weather.

Dave Gibas set new Trenton State College pool records. The first was in the 50 yard freestyle. Dave covered the distance in 22.3 seconds. Dave then swam the 100 yard freestyle with a time of 49.5 seconds.

Another fine performance was given by Joe Hilger. Joe swam the 200 yard butterfly in 2:50.6. This is the best time Joe was made in that event.

Tomorrow the Husky Tankmen will play host to the defending state champion Golden Eagles of Clarion at 2 p.m. This will be the last home meet of the season. Recently the Huskies went down before the West Chester team in a close meet. The West Chester team has crossed lances with Clarion and was defeated 78-38.

The Clarion team is strong, and capable of setting eight pool records with the possibility of several more. Still the BSC team will be trying to better their best times in preparation for the state championships to be held at Clarion March 10 & 11.

After the state championships will come the NAIA meet, held at South West College Minnesota in Marshal Minnesota on March 23, 24, and 25. Several team members have qualified to represent BSC. Dave Gibas is defending Champion in the 50 yard freestyle. He also has placed fourth in the 100 yard freestyle. He will enter both events this year and may be in the 400 yard freestyle relay. Other BSC team members tentatively chosen include Bob Herb, Doug Yocum, Jon Stoner who have performed below the qualifying time in the four hundred yard freestyle relay. However final commitment will be dependent upon their performance in the meet with Clarion and the state championships.

Wrapup of BSC vs. Trenton St. meet:
400 yard medley relay Bob Jones, Dennis Scholl, Dale Alexander, and Bob Herb, first place. 1000 yard freestyle Tom Foss seized first place. 200 freestyle saw Doug Yocum in second place and Jon Stoner in 3rd. In the 50 yard free Dave Gibas was 1st with Bob Jones 2nd. 200 yd., individual medley had Dale Alexander 1st and Bob Herb 2nd. In the one meter required diving Eric Cureton seized 2nd place. Jon Hilger was 1st in the 200 yd. butterfly. Dave Gibas got 1st place in the 100 yard freestyle. Bob Jones placed second in the 200 yard backstroke. The 500 yard freestyle put Tom Foss in second place. In the 200 yard breaststroke Dennis

The Huskies were notified Wednesday that they would be the number one seed in the District 19 playoffs, to be held March 6th and 7th at an undetermined (at press time) site. The winner of this playoff earns the right to compete in the NAIA Championships in Kansas City around the middle of March.

 belief systems of the Judeo-Christian tradition. Indian cognitive systems have persisted through time as a primary factor in distinguishing American Indians from other American minorities. Indeed, it is the existence of this equally viable and valid way of ordering man's experience that lives at the root of many Native Americans' desire to resist the forces propelling them into the "mainstream" of American life. These are four of eleven scheduled programs that begin at 8:30 a.m. and conclude at 4:00 p.m. One of the highlights of the Conference, as reported earlier, will be Mr. Louis R. Bruce, United States Commission of Indian Affairs who will speak on: "Redirection for the Bureau of Indian Affairs."

Dr. Stephen Bresett, Acting Chairman, Department of Health, Physical Education, and Athletics, announced that the Bloomsburg-Kutztown basketball game, postponed from last Saturday, will definitely be played this coming Monday, February 28, 7:30 p.m. in Centennial Gym. The doors will open at 6:45 p.m.; there will be no freshman contest that evening.

 which the Judicial process was violated. These instances mention violations ranging from administrators bringing charges to also sitting in judgement of the same students. The committee stated that "members of the student personal office not sit in judgement of student conduct on ANY hearing committee. The committee also recommended that orientation sessions for members of judicial boards would be useful.

CONCLUSIONS
 In the introduction to the report, the committee states that many of the violations they found "were caused by a lack of familiarity with the principles of the Joint Statement." For these the committee recommended that the AAUP ask all faculty and administrators to familiarize themselves with the Joint Statement.

In cases where the Joint Statement was violated by individuals in positions of authority and intimate involvement with students who should have been familiar with the Statement, the committee recommended that "ALL administrative and instructional members of the College community call attention to future violations and be as active in the protection of students' rights as they would be of their own."
 In its conclusion, the report states "Being a state supported institution requires that the College maintain an impeccable

Fellowship Institute created

The Department of Communication Disorders at BSC has created the Behavioral Sciences Institute Fellowship to be awarded to one graduate student each semester, announced by Dr. James D. Bryden, department chairman. "As far as we know, this is the first fellowship program of its type in the United States," Bryden said.

The fellowship, which is supported by a training grant from the Children's House Demonstration Program of the Behavioral Sciences Institute, is pioneering in the modern application of behavior theory and principles to human problems.

The first award of the fellowship has been made to Miss Margaret M. Turner of Muncy, daughter of Mrs. Wilbur E. Turner. Miss Turner graduated Magna Cum Laude from BSC and is beginning her graduate program in the department. She traveled to California January 28 and will return to the campus on May 22. In addition to transportation, the fellowship will also provide tuition for six graduate credits to be earned while on the internship assignment in Children's House.

Speech and Hearing Conference in Pittsburgh. In addition, they voted $400 to pay their ASCO dues and $389.70 to the Athletic Department of Shippensburg State College to replace equipment stolen from Centennial Gymnasium during an athletic event.

The next College Council meeting will be held March 6, the location will be announced.

Primary elections for all CGA officers, Class officers, and Senate seats will be held on March 6 & 7 at polling booths in all the residence halls and the SUB.

On Feb. 29 in Carver Aud. at 8 P.M. there will be a meeting with all presidents of student organizations. The College community is invited to give their views on improvement of student organizations.

The petitioning period for Senate has been extended until 4:00 p.m. Wednesday March 1.

There will be a special CGA meeting Monday night February 28. The location will be announced.
