Artist to open unusual exhibit

A "Polyurethane Foam Phenomenon" conducted by the Department of Art's young artist-in-residence, Robert Michael Jones from the University of Delaware, will be the next exhibition in Haas Gallery starting March 12. Mr. Jones will be assisted by members of Mr. Gary Clark's sculpture classes.

Over 600 cubic feet of foam will be employed in this ambitious project along with several smaller pieces representative of Jones's experimental work over the past four years, including the highly controversial Multi-Mammery Construction which consists of 64 realistically molded fiberglass breasts imbedded into a sea of black polyurethane foam.

Robert Jones is perhaps the nation's foremost pioneer in exploring the expressive potential inherent in polyurethane and experimenting with various types of coloring agents. He finds the polychromatic plastic a stimulating material and well suited to the organic forms he is currently creating with it. Its life-like quality and responsiveness to human manipulation permit the medium to be used in unique new "environmental" installations on a scale never before realized.

Mr. Jones' work has received considerable critical acclaim. He has had one-man shows at the University of Delaware and his work has been shown in numerous regional and national exhibitions in Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland and Pennsylvania including the Storelli Gallery in Philadelphia. Also during this period he has advanced his technical knowledge of the material by working with chemists and foam researchers from the DuPont Co., Berton Plastics, Witco Chemical, Hercules and Owens Corning and has had access to the laboratory facilities at DuPont and the Hercules Elastomer Division. One of the comments pertaining to his one-man show at the University of Delaware was that it could have been given as a master's thesis in chemistry.

At the university, Robert Jones worked with Joe Moss, a nationally known sculptor who is best known for his environmental and tonal sculpture. The exhibition in Haas Gallery will be on view through March 31. An opening and artist's reception will be held on Monday evening, March 12, 1973, from 7 until 10 p.m.

College Council discusses tuition, allocates $$$$

The possible tuition increase and the extending of the deadline for College Council, Class and Senate petitions were the main subjects of discussion at Monday night's College meeting. Allocations were made to the ECAC Basketball Tournament, to the Forensics Club, and for a swimmer to compete in the NAIA Nationals at Pittsburgh University in Kansas.

A report of the resolutions made in the last PSASG meeting in Carlisle was given by Dan Burkholder. The PSASG proposed various measures that could be taken against the state legislature to protest the probable tuition increase. The resolutions included a petition, which will be put in the Student Union to be signed by students protesting the increase. Also a proposal to have the local state senator and four House Representatives visit BSC campus was made.

A request by Rod Morgans of the Election Committee to extend the deadline of the CGA, Class and Senate officer petitions was passed by College Council. Due to the lack of returned petitions, the Council decided to extend the deadline until Friday and to hold the final CGA, Class and Senate elections next Wednesday.

For the ECAC Basketball Tournament to be held at Muhlenberg College in Allentown, $600 was allocated to cover team expenses. BSC will underwrite any loss with the other colleges that will participate in the tournament.

An allocation of $700 to share the costs of sponsoring seven BSC students to participate in the National Model of the United Nations was also passed. The Model U.N. will be held in New York City on April 24-29. The funds will cover the cost of food, transportation and lodging for the students.

A request for $700 to send a BSC swimmer and a coach to the NAIA Nationals was passed. The swimmer will compete in several meets in the Nationals at Pittsburgh University in Kansas.

Other allocations made included $400 to Phi Delta Kappa for the National Convention Tournament in forensics. The money will cover the food, transportation and lodging of the students. Also, $162 was given to North Hall for the purchase of a sewing machine.

New calendar starts 1973-74

The Academic Calendar proposed by Dr. Pickett at a recent APSCUF meeting was approved by President Carlson last week and will go into effect next year. The principal features are: two 14-week symmetrical semesters employing 60 minute class periods on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and 90 minute periods on Tuesdays and Thursdays; no Winterim activities due to the short interval between semesters; the same maximum credit hour loads; and semesters beginning before Labor Day, continuing through the portion of May which encompasses final athletic conference championship competitions.

The calendar as approved for 1973-74 is presented below:

Semester I
Wed. Aug. 29, 1973 - Registration
Thurs. Aug. 30 - Classes start 8 am.
Mon. Sept. 3 - Labor Day Holiday
Tues. Sept. 25 - Classes dismissed at 12 noon for

Bloomsburg Fair

Wed. Sept. 26 - Classes resume
Wed. Nov. 21 - Thanksgiving recess begins 12 noon

Tues. Nov. 27 - Classes resume 8 a.m.

Tues. Dec. 11 - Final day of classes

Thurs. Dec. 13 - Final exams begin (including Sat. Dec. 15)

Wed. Dec. 19 - Exams end Semester II

Wed. Jan. 16, 1974 - Registration

Thurs. Jan. 17 - Classes begin at 8 a.m.

Sat. Mar. 2 - Spring recess

Mon. Mar. 11 - Classes resume

Sat. Apr. 6 - Easter recess

Tues. Apr. 16 - Classes resume

Thurs. May 9 - Last day of classes

Mon. May 13 - Finals begin

Sat. May 18 - Finals end.

Sun. May 19 - Commencement

This calendar as it stands was still being discussed at the last meeting of APSCUF, and the general reaction was negative. It is possible that the organization may file a grievance against it.

"The Roar of the Greasepaint, the Smell of the Crowd" is being presented tonight and tomorrow night — if you didn't see it already, see it now!

Students to fast for War Relief

In an effort to express their concern, a group of students from the college community have organized a fast which will serve as a reminder of the war past and present, a statement on the direction we wish the future to go, and as an attempt to alleviate some of the present pain in both North and South Vietnam.

They have chosen fasting as a means to express this concern because they feel it is a minor way of sharing the sense of inequality in a world in which 3/4 of its people starve. In our own society it is a privilege to fast, while in other societies less fortunate than ours fasting is a necessary part of existence.

The fast as planned will take place on Wednesday from now until Spring Break. They are asking anyone who wishes to

When we return from Midwinter Break a Committee of College Council will conduct a series of Teacher Evaluations in every class on campus. Students will be given computer forms on which they will rank their teachers on a "good - bad - indifferent" basis.

In a letter in Wednesday's M&G a BSC teacher wrote that the method of evaluation and the evaluation itself were an insult to both the teachers and the students. Whereas I disagree with the teacher's unwillingness to sign his name to such a statement, I feel called upon to echo his sentiments to a certain extent. The form has many flaws which could easily allow a good teacher to be ranked poorly simply because he doesn't have a pleasing personality. This, however, does not make him a poor teacher. The questions asked and the manner in which they are to be answered also allow for the venging of petty student gripes, or a total indifference on the part of the student, which certainly won't improve the quality of education to be received at BSC.

Although the evaluation form has flaws, it is, nonetheless, a necessary evil. Not only must we think of the good teachers but of those who are truly in need of suggestions to improve their methods of forcing indigestible material down our throats with the expectation of us regurgitating in some definable form.

Perhaps the style of the evaluation will improve in future years. And with improvement of the style will come greater importance of the form itself. In the meantime we, meaning students and teachers alike, must accept the evaluation and use it to its greatest advantage. For teachers it may offer some insight into improvement of their teaching methods — if they are willing to accept criticism as being constructive. For students it offers an opportunity to help teachers improve — if their criticisms are just.

Dear Sir:

I believe that the proposed State College Act deserves a careful study by all interested parties. The unattributed news release published in the M&G on February 28 under the scary heading of "State College Act Poses Threat to System," however, fails to deal with the Act in an objective way.

It is not true that the proposed Act would "create a body known as the Board of State College Directors." This body already exists as the Board of State and University Directors under the present Act 13. Nor would the new Act change the terms or method of appointment of the Board's members in any material sense. Therefore, there is not going to be any New "creature" on the loose at all!

The news release sought to create the impression that the concern of the Directors with overall policies in regard to admissions, employment, educational policies, programs, and "all" student fees is also going to be something new under the proposals. This is not so. Act 13 already provides for "academic standards and standards for admissions in accordance with the regulations of the Board of State College and University Directors." (Section 2004.1-10). The Directors under that Act also have the power to "establish broad policies regarding employment rights, promotions, dismissals, and tenure of faculty and to develop general rules for faculty appointments, salary schedules and benefits." (Section 2003.2-7).

On the question of student fees, the law presently confers on the Directors the power to establish policies to "fix student activity and related fees." (Section 2004.1-12 of Act 13). It is true that the new proposals for the first time authorize the statewide Board "to formulate procedures for the discipline and expulsion of students by the Colleges." (Section 3.2-5 of the Third Draft). But it is possible to view this as ensuring that the students' position would be safeguarded better if policies and procedures are formulated after the most careful weighing of the students' rights in accordance with constitutional norms and national and state standards. That this would stand a better chance of being done at the state level — where the officials' involvement would not be personal in a case — than at the individual campuses is something which students should seriously consider before they condemn the new proposals out of hand.

The news release also contends that members of APSCUF/PAHE see the "plan" as seriously threatening the concept of self-government. Does it really do that? First of all, the news

Using the LRC

by Joe Miklos

BSC has various facilities at both the students' and the faculty's disposal. One of these is the Learning Resources Center in the basement of the library.

The LRC in itself presents a problem. Most students don't know how to use it, and as a result much equipment lies fallow. Sometimes much hair gets yanked by the aforementioned students' heads in frustration. Well, quit yanking, lest you go bald. Here are some answers to the problem.

The LRC has close to two thousand films and three thousand filmstrips. It's directed by Mr. Thaddeus Viotrowski, and employs two secretaries, a technician, and about fifteen release fails to point out any specifics in which the proposed Act differs from the existing situation. Secondly, again it is possible to argue that faculty would be better served if policies and decisions which precipitate crisis in their individual and collective lives are made with the benefit of administrative and legal training which is more likely to be available at the state-wide level.

In light of the above, such statements as (1) that the governor is going to get "control" (the news release), (2) that "all available power" is going to pass on to the Secretary of Education (as alleged in the report of Professor MacMurray's remarks), (3) that the new proposals mean "loss of community activities fees" to the Directors, a cut in the budget of campus organizations or, worse still, the very "demise of CGA" (as editorialized by Sue Sprague), need to be reconsidered objectively to see if these proposals really attempt to do any or all of these things.

There is no evidence to support the claim that the members of APSCUF/PAHE have "gone on record" against the proposals. On the contrary, there appears to be some resentment among the membership over this claim made in the news release. If student projectionists on State and Federal programs. Available, aside from the films, are assorted slides, filmstrip kits, cassettes, tape recordings and records. Also, there are sign printing facilities.

How do you get to this stuff? Simple. Materials are available to student teachers, college organizations, students (for classroom purposes) and faculty. To get hold of films, one should obtain a request form from audio-visual materials and have it signed by the professor in charge of the class or, if the equipment is for an organization, by the faculty adviser.

If the material is a film, the LRC will have it set-up in the classroom. If not, the user must be responsible for it himself. Students cannot withdraw equipment or films for personal use.

To preview a film, or any A-V material, the same request form is necessary. The form is available through the faculty or in the Center. Previews can be done on a first come, first serve basis, or can be scheduled in advance. Since there is only one preview room, it is advisable to schedule the preview in advance.

Available to all students are catalogues of all A-V sources in the country. Now the Center doesn't have all of these facilities; the catalogues are a service provided students to be used to prepare resource units for education classes. There also is available a catalogue of all material available in the LRC, with supplements.

Student teachers, as we all know, are special people. They can get anything they want from the LRC. All they need is the ever-present form with their co-op's signature. The equipment is borrowed with the understanding that the student teacher will use it for a lesson.

The final problem is signs. The LRC has a press that can produce block-lettered signs, but not larger than fourteen by twenty-two inches. The number of signs is limited to ten, that rule having been determined by Mr. Mulka and the officers of CGA. Because there is always a backlog, requests for signs should be brought to the Center two weeks before they are needed.

So that explains it, to some extent. If you run into any problems at the LRC, ask one of the secretaries. They can provide invaluable aid.

APSCUF/PAHE leadership intends to speak on behalf of the rank and file members, a less hazardous and more honorable procedure would be to call a meeting and give them an opportunity to express themselves.

Truly,

To the editor:

Sect. of Ed. John Pittenger and Gov. Shapp for the past two years, and the General State Authority, for the past five years, have taken actions which have imposed enormous cost increases on the State Colleges; thereby causing enormous tuition increases to be imposed on the students. (In 1969 tuition was $350. It is $800, now.) They are now telling the Colleges that unless they "economize" there are going to be further large increases in tuition, this year and next.

Huskies in ECAC Tourney

The Husky Basketball team closes its finest season tonight when they play Widner College in the opening game of the ECAC tournament held at Muhlenburg College in Allentown.

The Huskies, who go into the game with a 19-4 mark, are coming off three consecutive losses from the hands of three Pa. Conference opponents, Mansfield, East Stroudsburg and Cheyney. Bloom also lost earlier this season to Cheyney.

The Huskies were led in scoring this year by 6'8" John Willis, with a 21.5PPG average, which also led the Pa. Eastern Division. Willis hit 53.3% of his shots, as well as averaging 15.8 rebounds per game.

The Huskies had four other players in double figures, including Tony DaRe (11.7), Senior-captain Art Luptowski (10.7), Joe Kempski (10.4), and super-sub Gary Choyka (10.3).

Luptowski will be ending his outstanding collegiate career this weekend, one that has seen him break many BSC assist and steal marks. Luptowski, one of the best ballhandlers in BSC history, leads the Huskies in assists this year with 167.

Kempski has been the Huskies leading scorer as of late, upping his average from 7.5 to 10.4. In the regular season finale with Cheyney, Joe was switched to guard, with Dick Grace moving to the forward slot to give the Huskies some height to combat the Wolves big men.

Bloom as a team averaged 78.5 points per game to the oppositions 63.1, resulting in a 15.4 winning margin. The Huskies shot 46.3% from the field compared to their opponents 38.8.

Gary Tyler has played steadily throughout the year, ending up second on the team in rebounds with 180 (8.2 per game). Gary also hit 49% of his shots.

Widner has a strong inside team, featuring a pair of 6'7" men underneath. They finished second in the MAC's Southern Division. In other tournament pairings, East Stroudsburg will play Albright College at 9 PM. The Huskies will play at 7 PM.

Women edge Marywood

The Women's Basketball team edged Marywood College in a defensive battle by the score of 37-33.

Using a tenacious defense and capitalizing on their opponents mistakes the Huskiettes proved to be too much for their opponents to handle.

Coach McComb said that the team came alive in the second half. The coach went on to say that she was pleased with the performance that the Huskiettes turned in and also that the team defeated a very tough opponent in Marywood who was recently invited to a post season Eastern Basketball tournament.

In the second half the Huskiettes dominated the jumps 7-4, and also controlled the rebounds in the game 35-30.

The Huskiettes were led by freshman center Barb Donchez who had 18 points and Judy Kovacs, who had 8 points. Also scoring for the Huskiettes Artz: 4, Barna: 5, Sheppard: 1, and Holgate: 1.

The women finish their season on the road. They will meet teams that should prove to be tough opponents, March 10 against Misericordia and March 13 against Bucknell.

The Husky Trackmen will participate this weekend in the East Stroudsburg invitational tournament.

ESSC Tourney

Saturday, the Track team returns to the Warriors of East Stroudsburg's track, the scene of last week's 78-35 defeat, to compete in the ESSC Invitational Indoor Track Meet. Last year the Huskies placed second, behind

West Chester State College.

The meet will include teams from fifteen colleges and seven junior colleges. Last year the competing teams included Temple University, St. Joseph's College, Lycoming, West Chester and East Stroudsburg.

The team hopes to fare well here again this year. The possibility of them finishing in the top spots are dependent on the effects that last weeks defeat had on them. This promises to be an interesting meet, and fan support is essential. The meet is being held at the East Stroudsburg field house and will start with the trials at 1:45 Saturday afternoon.

Fortunately for students and taxpayers a large part of the cost increases, which have been imposed for political reasons, are for unnecessary personnel and buildings. This means that "economizing" could be quite easy, if not blocked by the politicians like Shapp and his Republican friends on the College Board of Trustees, who caused the increases in the first place.

True economizing at a college; that is, reducing cost without reducing the number of students or the quality of instruction, means cutting out the least important nonteaching personnel and cutting rental expenses for unneeded buildings.

It so happens that at Bloomsburg State College there are at least 21 administrative people, costing the students about $20,000 each, or around $400,000-yr., who do practically nothing and whose work could and should be taken over by faculty members and students at a fraction of the $400,000 cost.

Fortunately, many of these 21 are already receiving retirement pay (from the Army, Navy, other colleges, or business), or are very close to retirement, so that being laid off, or forced into early retirement, would only mean losing the extra pay they get from BSC.

Figuring rental payments to the GSA and upkeep on some of our new buildings (e.g. the $1.3 mil. Administration Bldg.) at $100,000, or more, a year, there are at least 3 buildings on campus which could be rented out to Federal, State, and local governments, and to local schools, at a saving, not only to BSC, but also to the bodies taking them off our hands.

The Federal and State offices located along the Susquehanna were flooded out by Agnes and their records were destroyed. They would have moved away from this dangerous location a long time ago if only their landlord weren't one of the biggest contractors in the area and a generous contributor to both the Republican and Democratic parties. All of these offices could be taken care of on the second floor of our new Admin. Bldg.

The Town of Bloomsburg is talking about spending $1 mil. for a new Town Hall, when, there stands empty, BSC's Carver Hall with an auditorium just the right size for Town Meetings, and with a convenient parking garage.

The Bloomsburg School District is talking about a $4.5 mil. "Middle School" when our old Gym and Ben Franklin Hall (and the use of Haas Auditorium) would give them more space for less than $1 mil. in capitalized rentals.

In addition to the above $700,000 or so of cost reductions, there are at least 18 faculty members who were hired without the necessary qualifications according to the Public School Code which means that they can be legally fired. Since 10 of them only teach parttime or are known incompetents, they can be laid off, without hurting the instructional program, for a saving of at least $200,000 a year.

There are many other areas where costs could be cut but, if only half of the cost cutting set forth above were carried out, BSC could not only avoid the tuition increase set for next year but would also have money left over to hire more Special Education professors, and Special Ed. is the one area in which there are jobs for BSC graduates.

Carlson on Tuition

Dr. Charles Carlson, Acting President at Bloomsburg State College, stated today that he supports in principle the statement released on February 18, 1973 by the Board of State College and University Directors regarding Governor Shapp's proposed budget for the 1973-74 fiscal year.

The resolution stated:

"That the Board of State College and University Directors considers that the proposed Budget for the 14 State Colleges will require a severe cutback in program as well as requiring our students to pay increased tuition. We, therefore, oppose the concept of the requested Budget and urge the Legislature to appropriate funds to preserve the present quality of education with no increase in tuition."

The amount indicated in the budget for B.S.C. is approximately $1,700,000 less than the college requested for 1973-74.

This semesters pledges are: Denny Derr, Dave Droppa, Gene Felty, Norm Hipple, Gary Kulp, Sherman Lord, Harry Lumadue, Joe McCullough, Pete

Mecca, Sal Mecca, Bob Memory, Jim Mitchell, Archie Parker, Terry Stellfox and Bob Tucker.

Acting-president of BSC, Dr. Carlson, will be taken in as an honorary member in a ceremony to be conducted by Mr. Richard Donald, the fraternity's advisor, later this semester.

Phi Sigma Pi donated blood yesterday in a group to show that unity is required to make a good cause like the Bloodmobile succeed.
