

Trustees Approve: Community Program

By Dave Kile

A proposal to make some BSC classes available to the public was unanimously approved at a Board of Trustees meeting, Thursday.

Dr. James McCormick, BSC president, outlined two areas of the educational program. The first part of the program would permit area residents to attend partially empty classes for a $25 fee per course. The purpose of the attendance of these classes would be for interest and self-improvement only.

The second part would provide for short-term self-improvement "mini-courses" on various subjects of public interest. Also on a non-credit basis students would be charged, $2.25 per class hour. (This fee is pro-rated from the $31 credit hour fee for a full course.)

The new program is an effort

on the part of the college to increase its service to the citizens of the area.

Also discussed was the financial standing of the college. Dr. McCormick reviewed the financial status and stated that if pending Senate Bill 1058 is passed, Bloomsburg's share of the proposed $7.4 million would be enough to see BSC through the current year. Unless the funds are provided, the college's finances will be an estimated $377,000 "short."

At a later meeting of the Board of Trustees, the proposed college calendar will be voted on for approval. The calendar has been approved the CGA and APSCUF, and unofficially by the Student-Faculty Senate, earlier this month.

Kury Speaks to ODE

By Sue Williams

"Pennsylvania needs a master for energy," State Senator Franklin L. Kury said in his speech at the annual banquet of Omicron Delta Epsilon, the BSC chapter of the international society in economics. The banquet was held at 6:00 p.m. at the Light-street Hotel.

In his speech entitled "The Energy Crisis and the Environment," Kury said that one of the most disturbing factors in the present energy crisis is the lack of precise information about energy supplies, as well as the lack of a sense of direction in dealing with the problem.

"We need to take a very hard look at Pennsylvania's energy demands and supplies for the next two decades and then take appropriate action so that we can reconcile the two, while at the same time doing minimum damage to the environment," said Sen. Kury.

The Senator suggested that the enactment of Senate Bill 408, now pending on the Senate

Calendar, would be a significant step toward meeting this need. The bill, of which Kury is the chief sponsor, would require the State Planning Board to conduct a series of hearings throughout the state and then decide on an energy master plan to be submitted to the legislature.

Following his speech, Sen. Kury discussed in an interview the energy crisis and other current issues.

He cited the reasons he feels are responsible for the energy crisis. The main cause, he explained, is the myth of super abundance. He feels economic education of the public is necessary as a first step in solving the problem and that a crisis was needed to make the public realize the gravity of the situation.

When asked about President Nixon's ability to handle the energy crisis, Sen. Kury said, "President Nixon should resign. His ability to lead has been severely crippled by his actions in the Watergate incident. He no longer had the trust of the American people."

The senator also discussed the subject of aid to state colleges. He believed, "The additional 12 million dollars to be allocated to state schools should be substantial." He did not feel that a permanent student office in Harrisburg, to represent students in the state legislature is necessary.

Commenting on the student rally in Harrisburg, he said, "They had their point and they did it well." He admitted that state senators could use more information about the financial situation in Pennsylvania schools.

Sen. Kury commented on the truckers' strike. "They have legitimate grips, but they're going about it in the wrong way. I am very disturbed about the way they're protesting."

When asked about his feeling about lowering the drinking age to 19 in Pennsylvania, he said that the would not support the bill. He said, however, that he would support the bill allowing 19-year-olds to drink malt beverages.

December Commencement

By Marty Wenhold

Commencement for December and August graduates will be held Thursday, December 20 at 7:30 p.m. in Haas Center for the Arts. Both undergraduate and masters degrees will be conferred at this time.

Graduate packets with information on the upcoming ceremony have been sent to each graduate's home. If you have not received yours, information and a sample packet may be obtained at thekehr Union Information Desk.

All graduating seniors must have any outstanding fees (library fines, parking tickets, class dues, etc.) paid prior to graduation, or a temporary hold will be placed on the diploma. Failing and incomplete grades will also result in a temporary hold on diplomas.

Guest speaker at the commencement exercises will be Dr. Martha E. Church, Associate Executive Secretary of the Commission on Higher Education, the Middle State Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The invocation and benediction will be led by the Rev. Jay C. Rochelle, Protestant campus minister. The platform group will consist of Dr. James H. McCormick, college president; Dr. Edson J. Drake, School of Arts and Sciences; Dr. C. Stuart Edwards, School of Professional Studies; and Dr. Emory Rarig, School of Business. Also on stage will be Dr. Hobart F. Heller, School of Graduate Studies.

The alama mater will be conducted by Nelson Miller and organ accompaniment by William K. Decker.

Approximately 275 December graduates will receive their degrees. August graduates have also received information and have been invited to attend, since no formal convocation was held during the summer.

Tickets are not required for entry, and interested friends and relatives are urged to attend.

MIDNIGHT MASS TO BE HELD
The Catholic Campus Ministry cordially invites you to celebrate a Christmas Midnight Mass in Haas Auditorium on the night of December 15. Caroling begins at 11:30 p.m.

Editors' Note

We were going to write an editorial on the apathy of the students but we were too apathetic. Then we were going to write a nasty editorial but we didn't care about that either. We just want you, the reader, to know that this issue was slaved over by the Introduction to Journalism class under the instruction of Mr. Ken Hoffman. Therefore, all the derogatory comments you wish to submit should be directed to the members of the class rather than the regular staff of the MAROON AND GOLD. We would like to thank all those who helped us through the trials and tribulations of putting out a paper.

Tony Creams Another One

By Dennis Erdman
Tony Basatis, better known as Tony the Baker, gave an interesting and informative baking demonstration in the Kehr Union Multipurpose room on Wednesday at 11:00 and 12:00 a.m. The demonstration was sponsored by the Commuters Association in cooperation with Mr. Frank O'Brien, food director. Tony, who lives in Hazleton and commutes to work at the Scranton Commons, is an honorary member of the Commuters Association.

stressed that one can save quite a bit of money by baking his own cakes and giving homemade cakes and cookies as gifts. For example, one could give a candy dish filled with cookies to one's mother or a beer mug full of cookies to a boyfriend or girlfriend.

Tony also gave some baking tips. For example, to get a cake with a flat instead of a round top, don't grease the sides of the pan. Also, when putting sugar on cookies, sprinkle all the dough, roll in the sugar and then cut out.

A cake and box of cookies was given away at each demonstration.

...which goes to prove you can bake your cake and ice it too.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
Question No. 1: Who invented the veal cutlet?
Question No. 2: What has the Student-Faculty Senate done this year?
If you can't answer either or both of the above, don't worry. Your ignorance, like Richard Nixon's, lies in the silent majority.
When you ask someone about the Student-Faculty Senate, you usually receive an abrupt reply, emphasized by a change in objective or two. What I mean to say is that one rarely speaks well of the Senate.

Actually, the Senate has done a lot while seeming to do little. On the surface the results are a bare minimum: three committees formed, a lot of meaningless votes taken, and rhetoric spoken. The three

Dear Santa

By Ellen McDonnell
Dear Santa,

This Christmas, you may not find all the lights and glitter of previous years to greet you, but the warm hearts of all devoted BSC students will certainly prove to make your trip most enjoyable. Our campus eagerly awaits your visit each year (it's the only contact we have with the outside world), hoping your presence will bring something BSC lacks — excitement. After all, the sight of a jolly old man (let alone any man) with eight tiny reindeer is much more stimulating than an Elwell panty raid.

Included in our list of necessities this year are larger mailboxes to handle the cumbersome load of our mail each day, swords to fight our way through the Wednesday night keg parties, and datebooks to keep track of the large assortment of engagements our BSC social life has imposed upon us.

To this basic list can be added such luxuries as meat (without the usual variation of bread crumbs) and butter, instead of the basic flavored lard. Last, but not least, can you possibly bring us a new coffee percolator? It seems here at BSC the coffee could be substituted for glue, both in its flavor and adherence to the linings of the stomach.

Well, Santa, we at BSC certainly do appreciate your coming each year. It is nice to know that someone is thinking of the needs of the state college students.

We hope that you have a very safe trip this year but unless you're planning to bring your own, don't expect to land your sled on a white, crisp layer of snow. With the Bloomsburg weather as it is, I would find it most advantageous for you to arrive by boat. However, if you decide to arrive on sled, please remind Randolph to turn off his nose. There is an energy crisis, you know.

Sincerely,
BSC Students

Concert Review Hodie

By Patty Murray
"Hodie Christus natus est: hodie salvator apparuit." These overwhelming words echoed through Haas Center Thursday night in the opening of Ralph Vaughan William's Christmas cantata, "Hodie," directed by Richard Stanislaw. Harriet Couch, whose strident soprano voice was at times incomprehensible, nonetheless gave a skillful demonstration of her vocal ability. Mrs. Couch, a voice teacher, has studied extensively, and holds a master's degree in music. She also appeared with the Concert Choir in the Bach "Magnificat."

Jeremy Slavin, a music professor at Muhlenberg College, gave an engrossing and clear performance as a tenor soloist. Slavin holds a bachelor's degree in music and has done graduate study in opera.

Donald Ellsworth, Chairman of the Church Music Department at Baptist Music College, Clark's Summit, added a fine presentation as a baritone soloist.

The excellent organist abilities of Lois Sturgeon were well shown in her musical accompaniment. The Brass Ensemble provided varied musical background especially by the dreadful trumpet player.

Despite the superb voices of the Concert Choir and the Women's Ensemble, the concert was performed, conducted, and organized rather poorly. BSC has seen better concerts in the past, and hopes to see better ones in the future.

One Nun-Exhibition

By Debbie McKeown
Haas Gallery was the scene of an exhibit of extraordinary talent by Sister Mary Amandine on Wednesday, Dec. 5. The "One-Nun Exhibition" as it was entitled by Sister Amandine was completed in the past five years.

The expressions of the paintings were staggering. They not only represented the blending of the paints but also depicted the interplay of Sister Amandine's feelings.

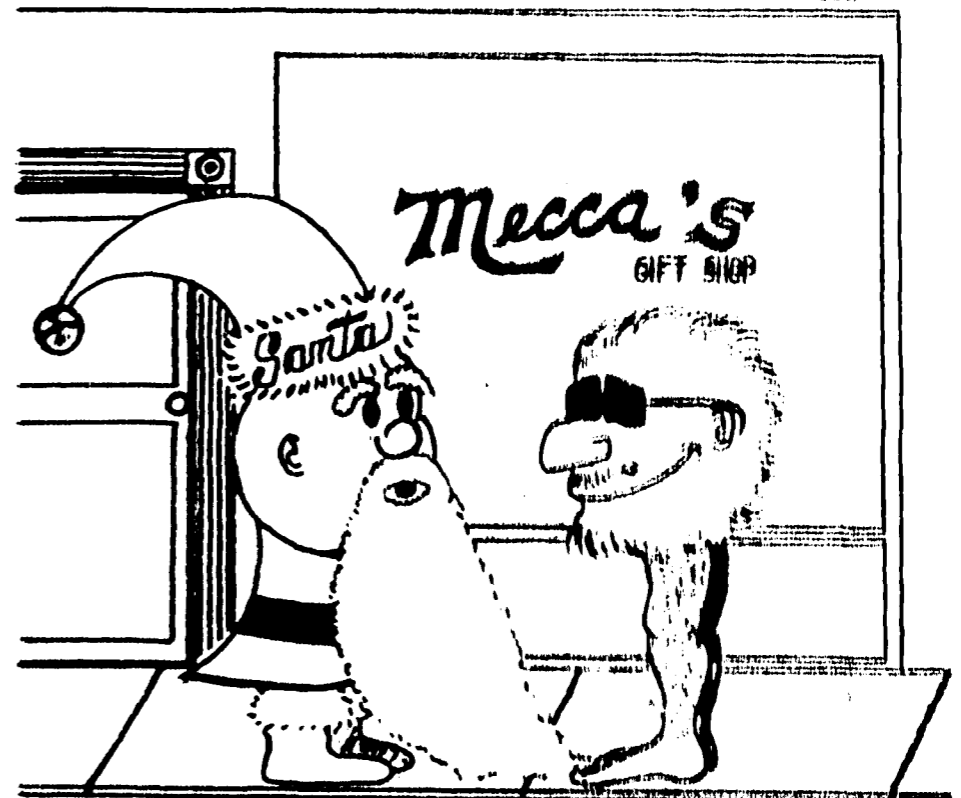

Sister Amandine favored non-objective concepts using a stain technique on unbleached canvas. She tried to create texture without a build-up of paint that was prominent in the 1960's.

She also tried to express positive-negative space concepts. In this way she made the negative space come alive and push outward, while the positive space of surrounding color pushed inward, giving the paintings a quality of vibrant realism.

The exhibit was held in conjunction with a reception for Sister Amandine by the BSC Art Department. Refreshments were served and one could discuss the works with Sister Amandine.

Sister Amandine is a Felician Sister of Mount Carmel, who has studied at the Carnegie-Mellon Institute in Pittsburgh. She received her Bachelor of Arts Degree with a major in art at Catholic University in Washington, D.C. and received her Masters and MPA (doc-

Winning Weekend At B.S.C. Swimmers and Cagers Cop First Wins

Swimming

By Debbie McKeown
Nelson Fieldhouse Pool was the scene of the Husky defeat of Towsen State University 69-44 on Saturday afternoon. The team tested their versatility when the favored tankmen easily copped ten wins in the thirteen-event meet.

Eric Cureton claimed a second in the three-meter diving event setting a new team record of 225.05. The record was previously held by Steve Coleman with 222.05 points. Eric also took a third in the one-meter diving.

Ed Ortals was a dual winner in the 1000 and 500 free style events. Coach McLaughlin feels Ortals shows promise as a future distance swimmer especially since he edged Rich Kozicki in the 500 where Kozicki took the State Championship last year.

Doug Thran was also a dual winner in individual events. He took the 200 yard breast stroke and the 200 I.M. Stu Marvin, a freestyler who landed the 50 free style event, surprised everyone when he not only swam the 200 yard backstroke, but also managed to win the event. Team captain Bill Ewell traveled throughout most of the 200 yard butterfly but still managed to take the first place. Rich Kozicki played it easy by taking a second to in the 500 free but came back with a first in the 200 free.

The 400 Medley Relay Team of Jim Campbell, Doug Thran, Bill Ewell and Paul Richards received the laurels with a winning time of 3:55.32. Coming from behind, the 400 Free Style Relay of Dave Slade, Steve Packer, Tim Sopko and Ed Ortals brought in the first with a 3:31.47.

In the 50 free, Dave Slade took a second while Tim Sopko was ebbed for third. However, Sopko captured a third in the 100 free.

Coach McLaughlin feels that the meet tested the team's flexibility. It gave each of the swimmers a chance to test their strengths in the other events.

Tonight the team meets Kings College away at 7:30.

Tough defense and a quick-striking offense powered BSC's Iota Chapter of Phi Sigma Pi to two consecutive victories and enabled them to capture the Phi Sigma Pi State Flag Football Championship. The games were played on Saturday, December 1 at the practice field located behind the new tennis courts.

BloomSBurg defeated Mansfield State (Theta Chapter) in the opening contest, 32-0, scoring four touchdowns in six plays during one stretch. Most of the BSC's scoring opportunities were set up by their aggressive defense, led by Jack Sherwood, "Bad Bob" Memory, Kurt Mallock, and Sherman

Huskies Lose

By John Provost
The Bloomsburg basketball team opened its season with a disappointing loss last Wednesday at Millersville.

The Huskies started off well, paced by the outside shooting of Joe Kempfski and the inside shooting of center John Willis. At the half Bloomsburg led, 39-31.

But Millersville came out strong in the second half, and came back to win, 83-78 behind freshman guard Phillip Walker's 29 points. Husky coach Charles Chronister said, "The second half they played their game and did what they had to to win."

On the bright side, Bloomsburg's two freshmen played well: Rich Evans scored 14 points and Jerry Rodocha scored 11. John Willis led B.S.C. scorers with 19 points and also had 12 rebounds.

Coach Eli McLaughlin's Husky tankmen traveled to Monmouth College in New Jersey last Wednesday and were saddled with a 76-37 defeat.

Stu Marvin and Rich Kozicki did manage to cop first place finishes for BSC. Kozicki won the 200-yard freestyle event, and Marvin was a double winner, placing first in both the 50-yard and 100-yard freestyle.

The Huskies quartet of Jim Campbell, Doug Thran, Bill

Ewell and Paul Richards also came through with a big upset victory in the 400-yard medley relay. The winning time was 3:51.6.

Other pointgetters for BSC were Richards (second in the 100-yard freestyle), Thran (second in the 200-yard butterfly), Campbell (third in the 200-yard backstroke), and Steve Packer (third in the 1000-yard freestyle). Eric Cureton continued to lead the Husky divers, taking third places in both the one and three-meter diving events.

Basketball

By John Provost

The Huskies bounced back from an opening game loss to trounce the Kutztown Golden Bears, 88-44 at Nelson Fieldhouse Saturday night.

The game started off slow with neither team scoring much, but the Huskies started to pull away after a Kempfski assist to John Willis for a short jumper. Bloomsburg continued to pull away while playing excellent defense, and led 28-10 midway through the first half. Their success was a result of a complete team effort which had eight Huskies scoring between 6 and 12 points. They ended the half having allowed Kutztown only 19 points and scored 44 themselves.

In the second half, Coach Chronister substituted freely and Bloomsburg started running away with the game. With the score 58-26, freshman Rich Evans intercepted a pass at mid-court and raced down court for an easy score. Another freshman, Jerry Rodocha, had six assists as did senior Joe Kempfski. John Willis contributed 16 rebounds, and Mike Ognosky led all scorers with 14 points. "We out-peopled them," said Charles Chronister, "We kept substituting and kept running, and they couldn't take the pressure."

Tonight, the Huskies play Mansfield away. It should be a very physical game, and it is a very important one, since Mansfield beat Cheyney last week.

committees formed are nothing new — a special committee on student publications, a student faculty judicial committee, and a committee on student grievances.

The publications committee will serve as an advisory board for all student publications. The judicial committee will share equal responsibility with the C.G.A. and Student Life in the operation of the judicial process and the recommending of changes in it. The grievance committee will investigate and make recommendations regarding alleged administrative, instructional or student organization injustices as perceived by students. All three committees will be separate from the Senate itself although they will be made up of Senate members.

This college needs more committees like Nixon needs another missing tape. But the formation of these committees is a step in the right direction. One must realize that the Senate has no real power; it is only a recommending body. It does, however, provide the only forum where students, administrators and faculty members can meet. Its potential for influencing and shaping policies is immense. Once the potential is realized, the Senate will command the attention and respect it deserves.

Sincerely,
Charles Knight
