

Morning Press to Print M&G

The 'Maroon & Gold News' changed publishers over the summer. Beginning with this issue, the M&G staff will use the facilities at the Morning Press, Bloomsburg to publish a weekly paper (rather than the Danville News).

The change was authorized three weeks ago, after major problems in the conversion process were solved.

Now students involved will be responsible for the actual typesetting and layout of the

M&G. Formerly, all equipment was operated by the Danville News staff. Much of the production work will be accomplished in the new Press-Enterprise building located on Route 11 between Bloomsburg and Berwick.

The major advantage in the move will be the experience gained in producing a student paper in a professional journalistic atmosphere.

Until the expertise needed in running the machines is obtained, the M&G will be printed only once a week. After the break-in period and a routine has been established by the staff, then the paper will go back to a twice-weekly publication.

The Press facilities are ultramodern for a small-town newspaper. Completely computerized typesetting machines provide a minimum of work. Proper spellings and correct hyphenation of over 500,000 words are listed in a memory bank.

The typesetter need not worry about 'throwing the carriage' because all typing is punched into a tape. After the typing is completed, the tape is fed into another machine hooked directly to the computer which provides the finished story ready for layout.

In order for this change to be a smooth and orderly one the present M&G staff must be willing to accept more responsibility and to work harder. However, if the M&G is to carry on the responsibilities of a good newspaper it must have a large enough staff.

Any one interested in learning about the newspaper business or with prior experience is welcomed to attend an organization meeting to be held in the M&G office, third floor, Kehr Union, Tuesday, September 10 at 7:00 p.m.

McCormick Stresses Involvement

By Frank Lorah

In an hour-long interview Tuesday, August 27, President James McCormick indicated his pleasure in the past year's accomplishments and presented a picture of increased growth and forward movement for BSC in the coming year.

Although pleased with both his administrative and faculty and non-instructional staffs, Dr. McCormick stated, 'Some adjustments in the administrative structure are being made, not because of dissatisfaction with the overall performance of administrators, but in order to make the structure even more effective and responsive to the changing needs of our College. A proposal will be submitted to the Board of Trustees this month that suggests some reassignments and consolidation of responsibilities that would reduce the number of Vice Presidents to three.' Information regarding the new proposals will be available after the Board meeting next week.

Changes in the administrative structure aren't the only progressive moves anticipated. Concerned with the quality education and its refinements, it was learned 'that the most visible change in the academic area will be in the implementation of a new streamlined system of registration and scheduling for classes at the beginning of the second semester.' Social areas will 'represent a strengthening of existing programs, the noon coffeehouse performances...and the scheduling of more plays and more art exhibits in the Union.'

'More of a direct concern to students, however, was the President's comment on economic issues, 'I do not anticipate any increase in the $750 basic fee. The number of dollars allocated to student employment has been increased from last year.' It was also noted that a food contract with ARA Slater for the present year was completed but negotiations can be reopened. This, of course, is due to the rising food prices. However, it is hoped that no increased costs will have to be passed on to the student body.

'We are in much better shape today than we were a year ago on our budget; however, all the problems have not been eliminated. We have an approved budget of $14,974,188 which will enable us to maintain orderly operations and to finance and implement the first-year programs of our Two-Year Action Plan,' McCormick said. He then presented budget figures and showed this year's budget represents an increase of $1.1 million. The present budget 'will not absorb any increased expenditures resulting from negotiated collective bargaining contracts which might become effective during the '74-75 year. It will be necessary to seek a supplemental appropriation to meet any such mandated increases.' In order that the funds are used most efficiently, 'significant efforts are being made to shift funds internally.'

Connected with the budget is anticipated growth, both enrollment and campus development. Overall, no large increases are expected. Information received from the Associate Director of Admissions, Mr. E. Gum, indicates BSC will have approximately 150 more students than the 1300 set as a goal, and the incoming freshman class will be the largest in the history of the College. Commenting on this subject, Dr. McCormick stated, 'many institutions of higher education are less fortunate,' and further indicating 'Bloomsburg is eighth in enrollment among the State Colleges and University.'

'Faculty growth too, will be modest...with an increase in the institutional staff of the School of Business, Nursing program, Special Education, Communication Disorders, and the Psychology and Sociology departments,' to mention a few.

The question of 'Old Waller Hall' should be resolved at the September 10th G.S.A. (General State Authority) meeting. A request for funds to demolish Waller and begin construction on a new 250 bed dormitory will be proposed. Inflation is one of the major causes attributed to the extended delay.

And although 'there are no present plans for new construction on the upper campus,' President McCormick stated, 'We are requesting approval for construction of a Human Services Center to be located on the lower campus in the area between the Andrus Library and the (new) Waller

Administration Building.' The administration hopes this new building will be completed within the next five years.

Other areas touched upon were the academic advisement system which will 'continue to be an important responsibility of the individual faculty member', and means by which the Concept Document and the Two-Year Action Plan will be carried out. Dr. McCormick indicated that three checks and balances would be utilized: (1) Task Force leaders appointed last year will be involved in carrying out the plans developed by the Task Forces, (2) College community leaders will continue to plan for the future of the College and monitor implementation of plans already made, and (3) The budget and program planning by College personnel and the Board of Trustees with review by the Pennsylvania Department of Education.

A final question on how the College Community was responding in expanding the educational environment, resulted in this comment: 'The Two-Year Action Plan...was accomplished by people working with people for people. As we look forward to the new academic year and to the years beyond, we pledge our effort to quality educational programs and the fulfillment of the ideal of service to the area. We want this campus to be not only an academic center, but a focal point for cultural, athletic, continuing education and other programs as well.'

Radio Station to Operate this Semester ?

The CGA Radio Station Committee with the cooperation of Dr. Jerrold Griffis, Vice President for Student Life, worked over the summer in an effort to have a campus radio station in operation in the near future. Members from all quarters of the college community provided input to a project already in its eighth year.

Asking and answering questions as to available space, cost of equipment and remodeling of rooms, commercial or educational services, and managerial requirements were the major points of the meetings.

A subcommittee was appointed to digest this information and prepare a proposal of operation and management policies to be submitted to CGA and the Administration.

Also discussed was the type of station to be set up. A choice between FM and Carrier Wave is available. In order that affirmative action would result, a decision to begin with Carrier

BSC Profs Receive Doctorates

Five BSC faculty members have recently been awarded doctoral degrees from various Pennsylvanian institutions. Dr. June Trudnak and Dr. Harold Bailey, members of the Math Department; Dr. James Creasey and Dr. Norman Hilgar, both from the School of Business; and Dr. Frank Davis from Computer Services will continue in their present positions.

Dr. Trudnak received her doctorate from Pennsylvania State University in addition to her being selected as a special graduate student in mathematics at Bucknell in 1968-69. Dr. Trudnak was also elected to Pi Lambda Theta while at the Pennsylvania State University.

Dr. Trudnak wrote her Doctoral Thesis on a study of the relative effectiveness of four canonical teaching procedures with respect to concept attainment and generalization in mathematics. These procedures were used to present five concepts from elementary probability theory to students enrolled in College Algebra I.

Presently the Sophomore Class advisor, Dr. Harold Bailey received his doctoral degree from the Pennsylvania State University. Using data collected from BSC students in the Spring 1974 Finite Math classes, Dr. Bailey's dissertation is entitled 'Towards a Theory of Sequencing: Study 4-1: An examination of the Effects of a Particular Canonical Teaching Procedure on Concept Attainment and Generalization in Mathematics.'

During the coming year, Dr. Bailey will be teaching the Metric System to local school districts. He also is involved in developing a student self-study program that would make it possible for BSC students to have available and utilize the teletype computer terminals in Ben Franklin without first enrolling in a related course for credit.

Included in his experiences at BSC, Dr. Creasey has been Assistant to former President Harvey Andrus, Director of Summer Sessions, and Continuing Education Director. He also taught at Williamsport

Security Changes Office

Moving day for Security Headquarters, formerly located in Old Waller Hall, was August 26. New quarters are now beneath the College Bookstore.

Location changes aren't the only new innovations to the Division of Law Enforcement at BSC. New parking regulations have been instituted for the fall semester 1974.

Chief Keith Wagner, speaking from the Security Office in the new location, urges all students to 'contact us about any questions concerning parking or security affairs. We should be more than happy to assist you in understanding the regulations.'

He states that many students and faculty members are unaware of certain rules until they find a ticket on their windshield. 'Most times it's cheaper to ask us for advice than to listen to someone who could give you the wrong impression or even the wrong information about on-campus parking,' Wagner warns.

Therefore it would be worth your while to read thoroughly the parking regulation booklets available for everyone at registration, and to stop in the Security Office to clear up any ambiguities that may arise.

More Drivers - More Decals

One of the most important changes in the regulations allow on-campus juniors (64 or more credit hours earned) to register a car on campus.

Due to the expected increase in numbers of registered vehicles, four differently lettered student decals will be issued this semester. The additional letters are: P (first

BVR News

Students sponsored by the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation (BVR) are required to see the supervising counselor, Mr. Sunday, once each month. Mr. Sunday's office is located in the counseling section, second floor of Ben Franklin.

Students with last names beginning with A thru L report the first Monday of the month; M thru Z the third Monday of the month, between 9:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. On the second and fourth Mondays the counselor will be available for a limited time in the morning only.

Off campus students, including those student teaching, are urged to verify that their authorization for room and/or board is correct. Voucher forms are available in the office and must be completed and submitted promptly each month. Please bring the carbon copy (yellow sheet) of your authorization which was mailed to your home address.

All BVR students are reminded that you must apply for PHEAA, and BEOG if appropriate, every year. Notify the BVR supervising counselor when you have received a grant or denial from PHEAA. PHEAA grant checks should be signed and will remain at financial aid until appropriate disposition is made.

two bottom levels of the tri-level garage) and T (tennis court lot).

C and H decals will continue to park in their designated areas. A map in the parking regulations booklet will assist drivers in locating the correct area for their decal.

Other Revisions

Formerly transferring a decal from one car to another, although owned by the same person, was subject to a $25 fine. Now only a $5 fee is charged.

If a decal is transferred from one registrant's car to another person's car, the fine remains at $25.

After collecting three $1 parking fees, a student is now fined $10; after three $5 fees, there is a $25 charge. Formerly a registrant's decal was revoked for these reasons.

All moving violations on campus are subject to the same fees as stated in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Vehicle Code. Persons receiving such citations as a speeding, stop sign or reckless vehicle violation must submit payment to a local Bloomsburg magistrate, as directed by the Security Office.

Chief Wagner stresses the need for all students to be aware of campus security regulations. 'We are not here primarily to write you up but to keep order so that the normal functions of campus life can flow smoothly,' he commented.

Wave and progress to FM was decided as most practical.

Carrier Wave requires no FCC supervision or licensing. It, however, is limited to the immediate college campus; which will restrict the listening audience.

The mechanics of carrier wave uses the electrical system in each building as the conductor necessary for transmission. Transmitters would be installed in all buildings to aid in the progress.

Radio stations are not new to state-owned colleges. Of the thirteen colleges, nine are operating either carrier wave or FM stations.

In 1972 negotiations with the FCC, Bloomsburg, and Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove lead to relinquishing all rights to an FM frequency Bloomsburg was trying to obtain.

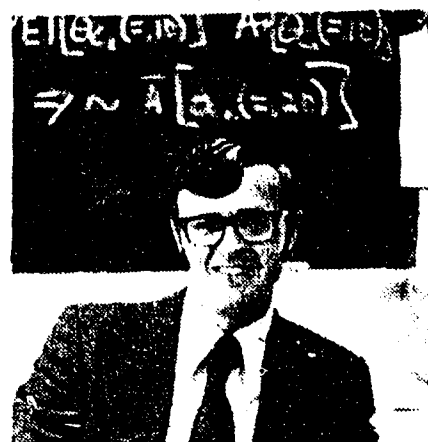

Nonetheless, there is one FM frequency available to Bloomsburg. While the carrier wave station is in operation, plans are to apply for a license to set up an FM station...

Any person interested in working on the committee or at the station (when operating) should contact one of the following students: Pat Farnack, Dan Spadoni, Charlie Bender, Vince Carter or Jim Campbell; or faculty-administrative members: Bill Acerno, Dr. Jerrold Griffis or Ted Piotrowski.

A Welcome, A Challenge and A Favor

Academic Year 1974-75. What will the forth coming year hold? For the Juniors just another year; for the Seniors a time to slide; for the Sophomores a second chance, and a new adventure for the Freshmen? Whatever your reasons for being a Bloom welcome back and good luck.

But for some there will be a challenge. Officers and representatives to CGA will be striving for the ultimate in student governments. Interested individuals will be working hard to establish a radio station for BSC. The athletic teams are looking for that undefeated season. The journalistic staffs will burn the midnight oil in search of that errorless publication. And other organizations will attempt to achieve their primary objectives.

It's a time for new beginnings and changes. Hopefully, the changes will be combined with progress. And so, the Maroon and Gold News is changing - changing publishers, that is. This first issue is one of many to be totally prepared by the M&G staff with the facilities of the Morning Press.

Until the staff is trained to operate the Press equipment, the M&G will only be published once a week. Please bear with us for we are trying to uphold the standards of professional journalism.

In our search for an errorless publication we will be guided by certain editorial policies and the staff will strive to be "the watchdog" of BSC. Not a mad or revengeful watchdog, but a watchdog with keen eyesight and a good sense of smell to alert the college community to possible dangers ahead. However, we will demand change, if necessary, in areas affecting the entire community. We will no longer sit idly by when problems are facing the college, but consider those problems as our "babies to look after and watch grow into sound, constructive solutions. We will ask 'Why' or 'Why not' if anyone tries to push those problems aside.

We have found several "babies" already in need of feeding and care. A revision of the student academic advisement system and the speedy establishment of a radio station on campus will keep us busy for a few weeks.

At the same time it would be our desire to see the students, faculty, and administration use the M&G as their own sounding board for new ideas and opinions. If it is necessary, an Action Line will be established to provide answers to seemingly unanswerable questions.

But, all this sounds great on paper or in theory. What about in actual practice? Here is where the M&G staff needs the college community. You must do your part. You must allow us to help you. Allow us to be your means of mass communication and hopefully we will all go forward together.

Editorial Policy

M&G Editorial Policy Each year the Maroon & Gold News finds itself with a new editor. This year is no exception. And each year certain rules are established by the editor in an attempt to provide efficiency and reduce friction in the production of the M&G. So that tradition not be broken, herewith are some of those policies affecting outside organizations considered essential for a smooth operation. Letters to the editor will be graciously accepted. All letters will be published provided the contents are not libelous and meet journalism standards. A limit of 400 words will be maintained, and material will be subject to editorial approval. Letters must be signed and provide an address, and phone number; however, names will be withheld upon request. In order that all material be published in a timely fashion it will be necessary to establish deadlines. All news releases must reach the newsroom prior to 1 p.m. Tuesday afternoons.

Exceptions to this policy will be made provided the editor is informed of delays in submitting the release. It is also requested that all news releases submitted to the M&G be double or triple-spaced on a sixty-space typewritten line. Any material not received in the above format will be returned. Anyone desiring help or who may have questions should call 389-3101.

Dr. Mayer Shows

A Petite Woman's Worth

By Valery O'Connell

When you first meet her, you think 'How can such a petite woman fill such a vast post?' But you quickly come to realize that along with her small physical frame comes a large amount of intelligence and an even larger heart.

For Dr. Evelyn A. Mayer, newly appointed Executive Assistant to the President of BSC, comes across as a sincere person, one who is definitely interested in you as an individual and in your college as a whole. And she also gives the impression of complete dedication to her superior, President James H. McCormick, as she describes her new position as an "extension of his duties and his office."

The scope and nature of Dr. Mayer's position, which is new this year at BSC, presents her as serving in a management position. But in the words of the petite lady whose office is strategically located near her boss on the bottom floor of Carver Hall, she plays basically two key roles: that of a "member of the President's Advisory Council and Vice Chairperson of the Planning Commission."

"I also act as a liaison person for Dr. McCormick," the native of Mifflin, Pa. stated. "I will assist him in working with administrators, faculty and students, and also with state and local officials, as he directs."

The Executive Assistant will serve her boss in many other ways during the coming year. She might represent him on a committee, attend a function in his behalf, draft answers to his correspondence, meet with certain appointments, or review documents.

As the last statement of her job description declares, Dr. Mayer will "perform those additional functions and responsibilities as directed by the President." She commented, "That statement leaves me with a great deal of responsibility."

"But Dr. McCormick seems to have a way of taking positive advantage of his staff by delegating large amounts of responsibility hand in hand with large amounts of faith in the person that he or she will

Dr. Evelyn Mayer, Executive Assistant to the President. excell in their job."

She praised the trusting nature of the President of BSC, saying that a person will do his best when made to feel that he or she is able to be his or her own person. And Dr. Mayer is certainly her own woman.

Six finalists were chosen from among 329 applicants by a Screening Committee. Robert G. Norton, Dean of Student Life and former Acting Assistant to the President, chaired the committee which selected Dr. Mayer.

A former member of the student life staff at BSC, Dr. Mayer returns after a year's absence from BSC. She served as Associate Dean of Students at Longwood College, Virginia, where her responsibilities for student affairs administration included counseling and advising students.

Dr. Mayer also held an administrative post at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville as Assistant Dean of Students, and was previously Assistant Dean of Women at Shippensburg State. "Having been associated with her at another institution", stated Dr. McCormick, who also hails from SSC, "I am fully aware of her many capabilities and feel her performance will be outstanding."

Open Door Policy

One of her many capabilities lies in the areas of counseling and advising students. When asked how closely she will work with the individual student, Dr. Mayer replied "I am looking forward to meeting many students through the Task Forces of the Planning Commission and through the CGA."

"I'd like to keep an open door in my office for all students," she remarked. "But I'd encourage them to take their problems through the normal channels to be solved and then, if the problem is not satisfactorily answered, Dr. McCormick and myself will be more than happy to help."

BSC has "very excellent people" in different departments to offer help to students who should not be bypassed. "After all, that is why we operate in such a highly complex organizational structure, with each person performing his job to the best of his ability."

The Student

"I feel very strongly about the individual student", said Dr. Mayer. "And anyone in the field of education must be genuinely concerned with just that in order to be a true educator."

When asked for a byword or slogan that might sum up the plans for BSC this year, Dr. Mayer cited the pledge of Dr. McCormick to "provide quality educational programs and to fulfill the ideal of service to the area."

"These pledges are all wrapped up in the two year Planning Document, with its emphasis on the excitement of the new and the improvement of the old," said Dr. Mayer. "We must meet the needs of the area. We cannot just turn out teachers, teachers, and more teachers."

Gridders Ready for Season

The BSC gridders have been in practice sessions since August 21 in preparation for the gridiron season. Head Coach Bill Sproule expected 22 lettermen at the start of practice.

After a promising spring session which revealed a number of replacements for the graduating seniors, the Huskies are hoping that this could be a banner year.

Captains were named last spring. They are Gerald Hoban, a wide receiver on offense, Charlie Bender and Gene Regent, defensive back and line.

The plans are to embark on their schedule against Shippensburg at the Red Raiders field on September 14. After that the Huskies return to BSC to open their home stand against Lock Haven on September 21. This game will also mark the dedication ceremonies of the Redman Memorial Stadium. The balance of the schedule sees BSC host Mansfield, Kutztown and for homecoming, Millersville. The Homecoming game will be on October 26. The Huskies also travel to Westminster, West Chester and Cheyney.

The Huskies are hoping for a big year this time and could improve on last years 4-5 record.

Cager's Schedule

The cagers of BSC will embark on a 23 game slate this year starting on November 30 against Lock Haven. The Huskies will be trying to improve on their 22-6 record that got them into post season play at the NCAA College Division playoffs.

In addition to their conference opponents of Lock Haven, East Stroudsburg, West Chester, Kutztown, Cheyney, Mansfield, Shippensburg and Millersville, the Cagers will face Roanok Old Dominion, Bucknell and York. The team will also take part in tournaments at Oswego, New York and Montclair, New Jersey.

The Oswego Tourney will include Oswego State, Trenton State and Waterloo in Canada.

Participating in the Montclair tournament will be Montclair, Monmouth and American International.

The J.V.'s, who posted a 15-1 record for Coach Burt Reese, will take on a 16 game slate, including the freshmen teams of Villanova and the University of Pennsylvania.

Borrowed Space

By Bill Sipler

Several surprises greeted the average football fan at the start of this years season. One of these new wrinkles is the World Football League. The new league is expected to add a competitive element to football with their wide open style of play. The WFL has better backing than the old AFL did and will improve its quality of play as the influx of the players that are currently obligated to the NFL begin to arrive.

Following the WFL's lead, the NFL introduced some new rule changes to hype up the game. These include the changes in the fieldgoal posts to the back of the end lines and the reduction of the penalty for holding by the offensive line hopefully, this will put the emphasis on touchdowns instead of field goals.

The NFL's start was delayed by the strike of the veteran players but this has been cleared up a little with the cooling off period that has taken the inputs out of the strike.

NFC East

Washington - George Allen

has strengthened his team through trades again this year. Additions to his defense in the person of Deacon Jones and the offense with Joe Theisman, Allen has put together another team strong enough to take the east.

Dallas - The Cowboys could have problems with morale this year as numerous defections to the WFL are pretty much destroying team unity. Dallas could drop out of the playoff picture as the Eagles could clip in.

Eagles - Mike McCormick revamped the offense last year, now he has to do the same to the defense. Line backer Bill Bergy and Cornerback Charlie Ford could help push the Eagles into the playoffs.

St. Louis - The Cardinals need more help on defense and more speed on offense to move up in the standings.

New York - New head coach Bill Aspringer needs a miracle to pull the Giants out of the cellar.

NFC West

L.A. Rams - This year could be the year of the Ram for L.A. Cornerbacks will have their hands full trying to contain Harold Jackson without the bump and run.

Atlanta - The Falcons need to overcome the coach to catch L.A.

49ers - San Francisco could have problems staying out of the cellar this year.

New Orleans - The Saints could move up to third as they continue to improve but they still won't catch L.A. and Atlanta.

NFC Central

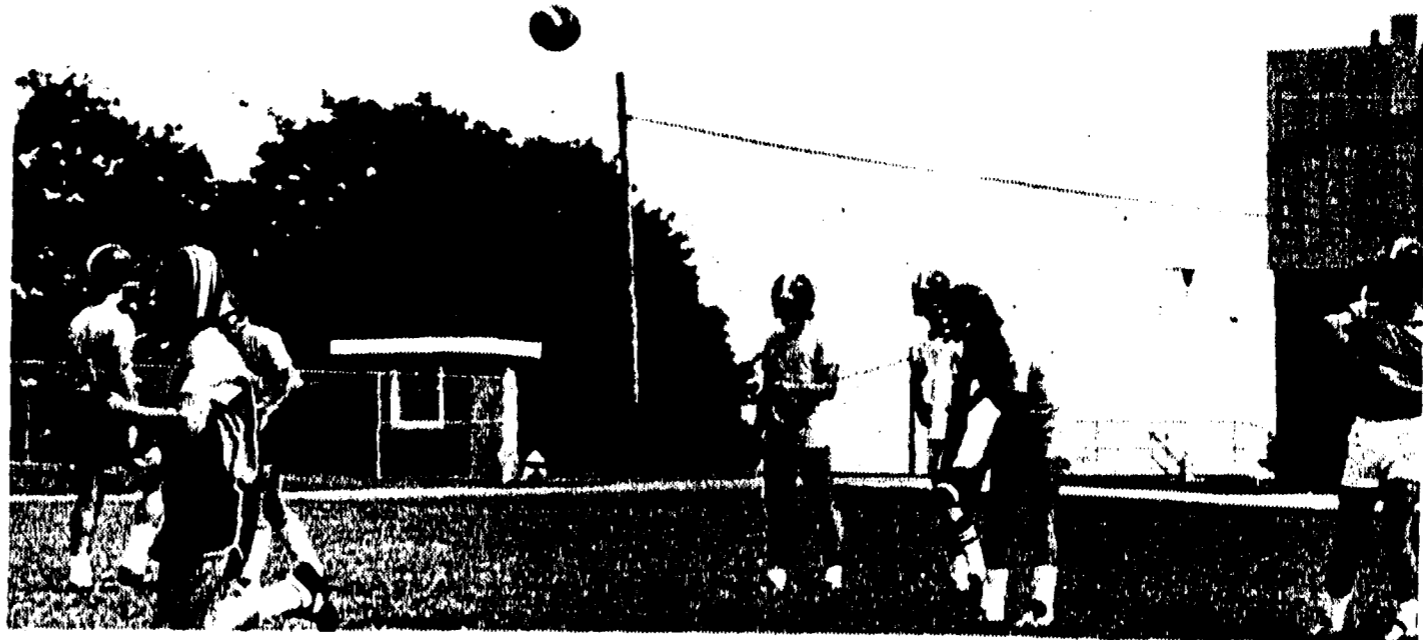

Minnesota - The Vikings should be as strong as they were a year ago. Minnesota has lost two Super Bowls, this could be their year.

Green Bay - The Pack needs an experienced quarterback to catch the Vikings.

Detroit - The Lions should improve this year but it won't be enough to catch the Vikings. Don McCaferty will have to wait until next year.

Chicago - Abe Gidron has the best reason in Chicago to go see the WFL Fire. The Bears will finish last again this year unless Gary Huff can beat out Bobby Douglass and then they still need improvement.

AFC East

Miami - What else is new.
Buffalo - If defections to the WFL hurt Miami's unity the Bills could slip into first.
N.Y. Jets - The Jets need help on offense and defense before they can come into contention. Joe Willie just isn't enough.
New England - Surprise, this could be the year Coach Fairbanks leads the Patriots out of the cellar.
Baltimore - The Colts have along rebuilding haul ahead of them.

AFC Central

Cincinnati - Paul Brown should keep his team in con-

Vets

The Second Annual Penn State Veterans Softball Tournament was held last semester on the weekend of May 3, 4, and 5. With the BSC team, twenty-two Veterans Clubs from throughout the state attended the tourney.
The first five winning teams in the double elimination were as follows: (1) Penn State, (2) University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown, (3) California State, (4) Kutztown State and (5) Bloomsburg.

Along with the softball games and social functions, the attending clubs were informed of the pending legislation in the U.S. Senate pertaining to the G.I. Bill.

The only disconcerting note was overheard by one of the BSC team members, whose team had games scheduled at 8 a.m. both Saturday and Sunday. "I don't make two 8 o'clocks for class let alone a softball game." All who went had a great time and there were whispers "we'll get them next year."

The BSC Veterans Club is looking forward to an outstanding productive year. All new Vets on campus are invited to attend forthcoming meetings.

There will be an Organization Meeting of the Maroon and Gold Staff and all interested students, whether freshmen, transfers or part-time, on September 10, 1974 at 7:00 p.m. in the M&G office, third floor, Kehr Union. All are invited to attend.

attention. The loss of Bill Bergy could hurt the defense.

Pittsburgh - John Gilliam could be the first successful black quarterback in the NFL. The Steelers should challenge the Bengals for first.

Cleveland - The Browns just have the bad luck to be stuck in the same division with the Steelers and the Bengals.

Houston - The Oilers should double their wins this year all the way to two.
AFC West

Oakland - This could be the Raiders last strong year as both their quarterbacks are heading for the WFL.

Denver - The Broncos came close last year. If they come close again will depend on Charlie Johnson's knees.

Kansas City - K.C. is just too old.

San Diego - The team was ripped apart by the recent drug scandal. It could be a long year for the Chargers.

This year could be a strong year in football if the new rules work out. Miami should repeat but barring any unforeseen difficulties they should face L.A. on Super Sunday.

Dr. Mayer, the Woman

Usually one of the major concerns of a woman, newly appointed to a top management post, is that of acceptance by her male co-workers. Dr. Mayer feels "a general feeling of readiness at BSC to have a female in a high administrative position" and that all members of the college administration are "very willing to assist and cooperate with me."

"I would also like to see more of an emphasis placed on the development of a Women's Studies Program. Surely courses such as the Psychology of Women and Great Women in History would be a definite advantage to the entire college, community, both male and female."

When queried about the changes Dr. Mayer has noticed since her year's absence from campus, she commented, "Without a doubt, the Planning Commission has changed a great deal at BSC this past year." She noted less economic hassles with the state Department of Education concerning the 1974-75 budget, the academic plans to develop a nursing program, and the aesthetic changes on campus in landscaping and construction.

There are even more changes in store during the forthcoming year at Bloomsburg State College. Dr. Mayer, as small in stature as she is, will be there, alongside President McCormick, to help implement these changes. She is sure to prove to us all that a woman's size is never the measure of her worth.

schedule against Lock Haven's J.V.'s at Lock Haven on October 14. The team will also face three other opponents in October. These teams include Kutztown, and Spring Garden. Soccer fans will get their first glimpse of this year's team on October 19 when the Boots host Lycoming.

The team's coaches are Louis

Bloomsburg State College
Mingrone, Jim Laffer, John Serff and Paul Krause.

Team captains and the squad will be selected in about a week after the practice session gets into full swing.
