Finance Committee Allocates Funds

By MEG RONEY

The Finance Committee clearly passed two motions made by the Athletics Department on behalf of the BSC field hockey team at its weekly meeting last Thursday afternoon.

The first request was made for $1,260 in order to allow the team to participate in the PSAC championships at Lock Haven State College. These funds will be taken out of the post-season athletic reserve.

The second request made for the team was also passed, although with one stipulation. The Committee decided to allocate $40,780 so that the team can attend Nationals, on the condition that the balance of the post-season athletic reserve be used toward that sum. In this way, the total amount coming from the CGA reserve would be $31,040. Since the NCAA will reimburse the team for its traveling expenses, the full sum of $31,040 will eventually be returned to the reserve, with $4,420 also being returned to the post-season athletic reserve.

Ms. McComb, associate director of athletics, announced at the meeting that the BSC field hockey team is currently ranked third in the nation.

BSC Field Hockey team is third in nation

Also submitting a petition at Thursday's session was Dr. Charles Brennan, coordinator, computer and information science, who sought funds needed to send a four student team to the Fifth Annual Allegheny Region Programming Contest at West Chester.

State College on November 13, 1982. Aside from the fact that the competition will be a tremendous experience for the four BSC students, explained Dr. Brennan, "It is quite a pat on the back for us to have been accepted to compete."

Dr. Brennan's request for $130 was reduced and passed as a sum of $86, after the committee defeated the motion to include meals. This $86 allocated to the team will sufficiently cover lodging expenses.

Computer students compete in regional programming contest

A motion by the Concert Choir was also passed by the Finance Committee, which will allow $300 to be taken out of the Choir's budget for the purchase of two tuxedos for two freshman singers.

The Campus Child Care Center was also represented at Thursday's meeting in order to seek funds necessary to supplement its expenses for the period from August 30, 1982 to June 30, 1983. Mr. Robert Norton, dean of student life, and Mrs. Judy C. Brinich, director of the Campus Child Care Center, explained that the Center has been operating very frugally on funds from as far back as three years ago.

The $4,641 passed by the committee will allow Mrs. Brinich to hire some well-needed extra students for the Center. Presently, the center services 50 children. Aside from this, the center also provides an excellent place for social welfare students, education students, and even business students to volunteer and get experience in areas such as accounting, office management and, most importantly, child care and education.

Campus Child Care Center seeks funding

Located in the basement of Elwell Hall, the center is an excellent facility and provides a wonderful atmosphere for the children of BSC students, faculty, and staff.

Finally, Mr. John Abell, assistant dean of extended programs, had his motion passed by the committee on Thursday, allowing two new lines to be added to the present one-line weather and campus announcements system. The committee allocated $1,979.77 to cover the installation of the extra lines.

Organizations are again reminded that fifteen copies of their requisitions are to be presented to Sally Marrazzo, treasurer of CGA, or to the CGA office no later than the Monday before the Finance Committee meets, which is every Thursday at 3:30 p.m.

In addition, organizations should be aware that for requests exceeding $300, three separate bids must be acquired for such purchases. Copies of these three bids must be submitted along with the organization's requisitions.

Hazard and the Heros to perform at BSC

In November 1981 Rolling Stone proclaimed Robert Hazard and the Heroes "a rock-and-roll event waiting to happen."

It seems that event has begun to happen, and BSC is going to be part of it.

Having recently signed a major national record deal with RCA records, Hazard and the Heroes will be performing on Friday, Nov. 19 at 8 p.m. in Haas Auditorium.

With an enormously successful, self-produced, five song EP to their credit, the band will be featuring that material with songs such as "Escalator of Life" and "Change Reaction," as well as songs from their upcoming album.

This past summer Hazard became the first artist without a nationally released record to play at Philadelphia's 100,000 seat JFK Stadium, appearing on a bill with Genesis, Elvis Costello, Blondie, and Flock of Seagulls.

The concert is co-sponsored by the Kehr Union Program Board and the Association of Resident Students. Tickets are $2.00 in advance and $3.50 on the day of the show and will go on sale Wednesday, Nov. 3 in the Kehr Union.

Opening the concert will be Bill Miller, a member of Scarpati Comedy Productions.

Glee Club Joins Husky Singers

The Villanova University Womens Glee Club, directed by Barry Prager, will sing a joint concert with the BSC Husky Singers directed by William Decker. It will be an informal concert held in the Kehr Union Multi-Purpose Room Friday evening November 12 at 8:30. The public is invited without charge.

The Villanova group will sing both light and classical music

Drinking Survey Conducted

The Center for Counseling and Human Development is currently conducting a questionnaire survey on drinking behavior of BSC students. The questionnaires will be in student mail boxes by next week. We urge all students to take the time to complete this questionnaire and return it by Nov. 24.

There will be drop boxes located in dormitories, the library, and the union. The primary purpose of the study is to determine the student need for services and education regarding alcohol and to provide programs to meet those needs.

This is an opportunity for students to provide accurate information from their points of view. The greater the number of students who complete the survey, the more validity the survey will have.

So please watch for the questionnaire, then complete it and return it by Nov. 24. The results will appear in the Campus Voice sometime during the Spring semester.

Letters to the Editor

Faculty for Ertel

Dear Editor:

On Oct. 15, the Campus Voice reported that APSCUF had endorsed the reelection of Gov. Richard Thornburgh. As faculty members, we want to express our strong disagreement with this endorsement, for the following reasons:

- 1- Under the present Governor, tuition is at an all-time high. It is, in fact, second highest in the country for 4-year state colleges. To get a better idea what this means, consider that while Pennsylvania residents must pay $1480 at their state colleges, New Yorkers must pay only $1075.
- 2 - Although appropriations for the state colleges have increased under the present governor, we find that once we take inflation into account, the amount of real money for our institutions has in fact declined. This is the basic cause of large sections, cancelled courses, inadequate and obsolete equipment, etc.

3 - The governor and his legislative allies killed a measure which would have provided money to pay a debt owed the faculty from five years ago, a debt ordered paid by the State Supreme Court. Instead, they raised tuition for students presently in school - and then blamed the increase on the faculty!!

4 - The governor has been a staunch supporter of the policies of the Reagan Administration, including we must presume, its cuts in financial aid for students. Thus the governor has done nothing to make up for the losses in federal aid by increasing state aid. By contrast, Gov. Thomas Kean, has been working with the New Jersey legislature to make up for some of the losses.

We agree instead with The CAS endorsement of Allen Ertel for governor. Mr. Ertel has provided his support for education when, as a congressman, he consistently voted against cutting student financial aid. And there is every reason to believe that as governor, Mr. Ertel will give education the attention it deserves. We think Allen Ertel is the better choice.

Sincerely yours,

No bomb will stop mail, tax

Campus Digest News Service

Even if a nuclear holocaust reaps wide-range destruction, the U.S. Postal Service is determined to deliver mail to whoever is left and the Internal Revenue Service has plans to insure that the government gets 20 per cent of everything that does survive.

Since the threat of nuclear war has become eminent in everyone's mind, many federal departments have formulated post-nuclear blowup strategies to keep the nation running after the bombs drop. One House representative said the absurdity of such plans accent the absurdity of nuclear madness. Despite such ridicule, the Federal Emergency Management Agency continues to prepare for the aftermath of a nuclear war.

Postal representatives have already delivered their idea to a House Post Office subcommittee which turned the presentation into a condemnation of the administration's civil defense policies.

Under the proposed plan, postal operations would be moved to remote areas where fallout protection could be provided for top postal officials and workers. Duties would include passing out emergency change-of-address cards, censoring international mail and registering federal workers and enemy aliens.

But since nuclear fallout would make even the basic delivery of mail through snow, rain, heat and gloom of night even more difficult, postal representatives said the handling of food stamps, passports, and migratory stamps would have to be abandoned.

The Internal Revenue Service's post-disaster solution is an increased sales tax. The proposal states the current income tax system would have to be abolished since it depends on accurate reports and most of these would be destroyed. Tax analyst Gary Robbins suggested the easiest practice would be a national sales tax of 20 per cent. Another report circulating the U.S. Department of Treasury states salt should become the standard currency.

Maybe the reason the government is so interested in getting the mail through after a nuclear blowup is so you can get your tax check mailed to hem on time...

Sales weak

Campus Digest News Service

Retail sales have been weak with this year's back-to-school season. Consumers are spending less and demanding more for their money.

Wary shoppers are looking for sales to stretch their money further. Some retail stores report that consumers are buying more of higher-quality items, expecting them to last longer and give them more value for their dollars.

The prospect of slow sales at Christmas has some retailers worried, also. But most analysts think that Christmas sales will be good.

Your Vote Is Your Voice

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a guest Editorial. The opinions expressed do not necessarily represent those of the CAMPUS VOICE staff.

We would like to encourage all students to vote tomorrow. The only way to make public officials accountable to your needs is to use your right to vote. We cannot expect our elected representatives to be sympathetic to our wishes if they do not think we vote. Let's show them that we do on Tuesday.

The Commonwealth Association of Students (CAS) Political Action Committee has endorsed Congressman ALLEN ERTEL for Governor and Senator JAMES LLOYD for Lieutenant governor. Their past records in the state of Pennsylvania and nationally have shown their commitment to higher education. In fact, Senator Lloyd was one of the first to speak out against the $75 tuition increase last spring.

The reason we cannot support Governor Thornburgh for reelection is simple - his record with public higher education in PA is disgraceful. Tuition costs at the state college have risen to $530, over 50 percent, since Thornburgh took office. Tuition has gone up faster during his administration than in any previous gubernatorial term. Though some increases in tuition and fees can be expected and even tolerated, the increase of the Thornburgh years were not reasonable.

According to the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, the PA state college and university (PSCU) system has the highest tuition in the nation. It's time to change this devastating trend before we are all priced out of an education.

We also encourage you to vote for a person who has been an advocate of Bloomsburg State College, Rep. Ted Stuban. Since his election to the PA state House of Representatives in 1976, Stuban has opposed tuition increases, has supported the bill which will make BSC a university and has worked to get a new Human Services Building for the BSC campus.

Once again, we urge you to vote for the ERTEL-LLOYD ticket and for Ted Stuban.

Remember YOUR VOTE IS YOUR VOICE ++ LET'S SAY SOMETHING!

Hockey Team Preps For States With 5-0 Romp

By MARY HASSENPLUG
The BSC field hockey team raised its record to 14-3-1 with an overwhelming 5-0 victory over Messiah in the last regular season game.

See Wednesday's issue of the VOICE for PSAC Championship Results

The Huskies dominated play with sharp, short passes and an aggressive defense. The teams battled through much of the first half without any scoring until BSC launched a successful attack after 27 minutes. Deb Minsky started the scoring by knocking a short drive into the corner of the cage. Three minutes later, Jeanne Fetch drove in a penalty corner for the second goal. Less than two minutes later, Deb Long cornered a pass to Karen Hertzler who drive it in for the score.

After ending their regular season with a five victory, the team hopes to continue its success at the PSAC State Tournament this weekend. The Huskies face Kutztown at 3:00 on Friday, Oct. 29 at Lock Haven. The Championship game will take place on Saturday afternoon.

After building up a 3-0 lead, the Huskies would not let up on their attack. Fetch came up with her second goal midway through the half, again on a corner, with an assist by Long. The final score started with a pass from Long to Hertzler. She crossed it to Minsky who pushed the ball in for the score.

Riccardo Lopes: Booter Extraordinare

By ERIC PETTIS

He really doesn't stand out in a crowd of soccer players; his thighs are not massive, nor does he possess blazing speed that most college strikers have. But when Riccardo Lopes steps onto the soccer pitch he becomes extraordinary.

"My sophomore year at State College High School I scored 24 goals in 18 games," he says. He was selected to the first team Tri-Valley Conference.

He spent his junior year in his native country of Brazil, where he diligently practiced soccer.

Riccardo spent his junior year in his native country of Brazil. "My father went back to San Paulo to work on his degree, so the family went too," he notes. During this year Rico diligently practiced his soccer. He was good on his San Paulo team, but not the best. "The competition is much better in Brazil," he says, "I could probably never play at the universities; hundreds of players try out and they're all very good."

His family returned to State College in the fall and Rico prepared for his senior year as a soccer player.

The Lopes family returned to State College in the fall of 1982. It was just in time for Rico to get prepared for his senior year as the premier soccer player in the Tri-Valley Conference. Although he didn't score as many goals as in his sophomore season, Rico was playing his best soccer and was also contending with the pressure of being a "foreigner".

"One game I scored three goals, and my coach was mad because he thought I was showing off. He told me that this is America not Brazil," he notes. The main concern of Rico, however, was learning to deal with the harassment to which opposing teams subjected him. Many of the teams he faced would have a designated player that followed him everywhere he went on the field and often physically tried to intimidate him.

Despite the hassles of the '81 season, he was selected as the Most Valuable Player in the Tri-Valley Conference.

After a successful season Rico has to begin contemplating about what college to attend. BSC mentor, Dr. Louis Mingrone, had heard of the outstanding play of Rico and invited him to visit the campus. He notes, "I liked Bloomsburg, and Coach Mingrone took a real interest in my educational needs."

He made his final decision to attend Bloomsburg after he met Paulo Lara-Netto while visiting Penn State University. "Paulo is from the same area of Brazil as I am so we have a lot in common," he says. "We began playing soccer together and just hanging around together, so I suggested that we both attend Bloomsburg and play for Coach Mingrone," he says.

Since joining the BSC soccer team he has established himself as one of the standouts. Rico leads the team in goals with 11, while he is second in assists with 6. He notes, "My first goal against Lehigh was the biggest for me because it was my debut in college."

He wants to pursue his major in Elementary Ed., and maybe coach someday.

When asked about the future, he smiles and confides that he really doesn't have plans yet, but he does want to pursue his major of Elementary Education. Maybe I will coach someday, but at the moment my future is at Bloomsburg.

"He just turned 18 so he can only improve in soccer," says Paulo. If this is true, then Rico's dream of "playing professional soccer" could be a reality.

TED STUBAN WORKS FOR BSC

Since his election to the General Assembly in 1976, TED STUBAN has worked unstintingly on behalf of the students, faculty, and staff at Bloomsburg State College.

TED STUBAN has opposed the Thornburgh Administration's record tuition increases and the Reagan Administration's financial aid cuts. As a member of the Appropriations Committee, he has consistently fought for adequate funding for BSC.

TED STUBAN worked to get BSC a new Human Services Building, which will be under construction shortly.

TED STUBAN voted for the State System of Higher Education Bill, making BSC a university, independent of the Department of Education.
