potential questions:

are there advantages to selling your milk through your own store as opposed to disposing of it as does Geo. Fellows.

how real is the new paint disease with today's farmer you began farming in mid 1940's. How close was that to the Todd Goodell scene. How are you doing things differently today. How do you foresee you may be doing them in 10 years? In 20 years?

are any of your sons going to take over from you. How easy/difficult is it to interest today's youngster in farm work as a way of life.

how has the roll of farm wife changed, since you began farming.
