

NORMAL SCHOOL HERALD.

PUBLISHED OCTOBER, JANUARY, APRIL AND JULY.
SHIPPENSBURG, PA.

VOL. XIII

JULY, 1909

No. 4

What a Board of Trade Should Accomplish.

BY DR. GALEN HAIN.

A city is judged by a certain class of its men, who, because of their efforts and abilities, have done things in the professions and in business. By their friends they are known as successful men. By the city they are called "Prominent citizens." The world at large calls them representative men. So the first thing to accomplish is to incorporate such men as part and parcel of the Board of Trade, for these men will not only exert their own influence on their fellow citizens, but their personality lends color to the Board of Trade as an "institute" when viewed by other citizens.

A Board of Trade is an institute. A hundred years ago if a city chanced to have a good many citizens who were progressive and aesthetically inclined, that city would be progressive and a thing of beauty. The purpose of the Board of Trade to-day is to accomplish the same result in a systematic and businesslike way. If a good many of the citizens of a city are not inclined to make their town so that they can be proud of it, the Board of Trade intends to show them the error of their ways, and suggest a remedy. So, after the good men of the town have been listed with the Board of Trade the next thing is to formulate a definite line of work which will bring results.

What are the results to be, you ask, for it is somewhat indefinite to say simply, to make the city more beautiful, or to make it better. Let me be concrete. Here is a street with ugly gutters on either side, with mudholes in the middle, with refuse matter and vegetable waste rotting everywhere; with malignant germs and loathsome vermin swarming about it all. It is not only an eyesore, but a menace to good health. Now, it is the purpose of the Board of Trade to show the people of that street of that city that has that street, that cleanliness is next to godliness, and to teach them that flowers will grow where there used to be weeds.

Again, we have masses of working people huddled together in tenements and little houses. They work all day long in the stifling air of the steel works or factory, and know not the beauty of green grass and sunlight. It is the purpose of the Board of Trade to try to secure for them a park system, wherein they can get away from the irksome hum and buzz of toil, and bathe in the warm sun, or rest in the cool shade, or look up at the stars.

If the air we breathe is filled with smoke which takes away the force and puts vim into the veins and spring into the step, should not somebody call the attention of a city to such a condition? If the water supply is impure, should not some institute see to it that the defect is remedied? If sanitation is not looked after, if public adornments are defaced by nuisance-committing vagabonds, if vices are rampant contrary to good morals, should not some civic organization assume the leadership and try to provide a cure? And if all this is so, is any organization better fitted for the purpose than the Board of Trade?

The result will logically and necessarily be, not only a benefit to a few, but it will rebound in benefits to every resident of the city. It will rebound to the interest of the business men, because it will ultimately increase the efficiency of their employees and beautify their homes. For the man who diverts his mind from irksome labor can always do more than the perpetual grind, and a little civic and aesthetic pride, like a little leaven, leavens the whole lump, and it will bring an ample reward to the man of a profession and to him who lives in retirement. In fact, the chances for a Board of Trade to do good are only limited by the advance of civilization, and as long as there are evils to be corrected in a municipal government, so long is the Board of Trade an active force.

Now, the members of your Board of Trade cannot help but observe that a great deal of good work has been accomplished in your city. Those who are as yet unidentified with that organization must see the same result. To the pessimist your accomplishments may seem meager, but Rome was not built in a day. The coral is an insect. It works silently and slowly week in and week out. But it works in large aggregations, and at length they build an island which is habitable by man. Every great and good work is slow at its beginning. The Christian religion once consisted of but seven faithful men, but it worked along undaunted, and to-day it is the comfort of the nations of the world. And so, if the Board of Trade can relieve a little suffering, if it can make our lives a little cleaner, and if it can dispel a little ignorance, which is at the bottom of all misery and unhappiness, it is worth the effort, and must surely be what that exponent of civic righteousness said, that it "suffereth long and is kind."

A Worthy Desire.

An ambitious young Chicagoan recently called upon a publisher of novels in that city, to whom he imparted confidentially the information that he had decided to "write a book," and that he would be pleased to afford the publisher the chance to bring it out.

"May I venture to inquire as to the nature of the book you propose to write?" asked the publisher very politely.

"Oh," came in an offhand way from the aspirant for fame, "I think of doing something on the line of 'Les Misérables,' only livelier, you know!"—Lippincott's.

Matrimonial Catechism.

What is marriage?

Marriage is an institution for the blind.

Why do some people never marry?

Because they do not believe in divorce.

When a man thinks seriously of marriage, what happens?

He remains single.

Should a man marry a girl for her money?

No. But he should not let her be an old maid just because she's rich.

When a girl refers to a "sad courtship," what does she mean?

She means that the man got away.

Is an engagement as good as a marriage?

It's better.

...THE...
NORMAL SCHOOL HERALD.

PUBLISHED OCTOBER, JANUARY, APRIL AND JULY.
SHIPPENSBURG, PA.

CHARLES H. GORDINIER, Editor.
ALICE C. HARTLEY, B. E., Exchange Editor.
ADA V. HORTON, '88, Personal Editor.
J. S. HEIGES, '91, Business Manager.

Subscription price, 25 cents per year strictly in advance. Single copies, ten cents each.

Address all communications to THE NORMAL SCHOOL HERALD, Shippensburg, Pa. Alumni and former members of the school will favor us by sending any items that they may think would be interesting for publication.

Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Shippensburg, Pa.

VOL. XIII

JULY, 1909

No. 4

Editorial.

We bespeak of our readers a careful reading of the leading article. It is out of the ordinary in a journal of this kind, but nonetheless interesting and instructive.

That Normal graduates are in demand is evidenced by the fact that so many students are placed before Commencement. This is true of this Normal, and we suppose of the others. And we predict every member of the class will have a school before Sept. 1st.

The upward trend in salaries is one of the best signs of the times. We know of many positions paying from fifty to one hundred per cent more than they did ten years ago. In this respect the public schools are outstripping normals and colleges. As a result, many men from the latter institutions are entering or re-entering public school work.

The alumni of Shippensburg are doing no better work than in that of creating a students' loan fund. An individual contribution of one dollar from the alumni would mean many-fold returns in helping some young man or woman with such equipment as would render efficient service possible. We trust a systematic effort will be made to increase this fund to an amount in keeping with the dignity of the school, and worthy of the great body of alumni. In many institutions such a fund reaches into the thousands and with our confidence in the loyalty and generosity of our own alumni, we are confident it will not be long till we have a fund of which every alumnus will speak with pride and from a standpoint of personal interest.

At the close of any school year the young man or woman that has spent time and money in attending an educational institution may well ask, "What have I to show for time and money spent?" This question is not confined to the student, but is asked by parent, friend, educator, economist.

As the question is legitimate, we will briefly answer. While education may be looked at from many view-points, we like this one:—That education has three values. First, economic—its value in dollars and cents—what it will bring in the markets of the world. It is not necessary to enter into any trite arguments or produce any well-worn statistics to prove that the educated man earns more money than the ignorant. But this value is of least worth. Superior to the first value is the second—the cultural. To unstop the deaf ears, to open the blind eyes, to make skilful the rude touch, to strengthen the memory, to enrich the imagination, to broaden the sympathies, to put one in close touch and consequent harmony with nature, to make one's heart beat more nearly in unison with the great heart-throb of humanity.

But the third is the highest—the ethical value, and summed up in the short phrase—education for service. Man's value to the world is determined, not by what he gets out of life, but by what he puts into it, and as he serves his fellow-man, so will his value be. We know of no better basis for determining man's value to society, than by answering the question, "What service is he rendering?"

Faculty.

Dr. Martin gave the Commencement address at Millersburg, Harrisburg and Scotland Orphan School. The Philadelphia papers contained flattering accounts of his Harrisburg address.

Profs. Newman and Stewart will again represent the Normal this summer, covering the same territory as last year.

Dean Heiges will spend most of the summer at the Normal, being in the field part of the time. He attended the State meeting at Bethlehem.

Prof. Goas, who has so acceptably filled the chair of history, has resigned to take a similar position in the schools of Orange, N. J. He leaves the school with a well-earned reputation as a scholar and effective public speaker.

Prof. Cure, who has been with us again for spring term work, has accepted a position with The Frontier Publishing Co., and will spend the summer in the eastern part of the state. Prof. Cure has done excellent work as teacher, base ball manager, and his host of friends wish him success.

At the time of going to press we are not in a position to state anything concerning Prof. Sweitzer's future plans. He has been approached with some excellent propositions and we trust he will land where his genuine worth and unquestioned scholarship will be appreciated. His unassuming manner and kindly nature have made him very popular.

Lafayette College has done the proper thing in electing Dr. W. A. Eckles as assistant professor of Greek. The genial Doctor has made for himself a reputation as a scholar and a gentleman and our loss is Lafayette's gain. Our best wishes go with him.

During Commencement season Dr. Gordinier wandered around a little, speaking wherever he could get a hearing. He was in attendance at the state meeting, and after a few days with parents and sister in Troy, Pa., returned to the Normal for literary work during the summer.

In the resignation of Miss Noble, Normal loses one of its very best teachers. Her excellent class room work, equable temper, general culture and charming personality have won for her many friends. She has accepted a position as teacher of German in the Norristown, Pa., High School, and has our very best wishes.

Following the announcement last winter, the resignation of Miss Baldwin comes as no surprise. For the past four years she has held the position of teacher of physical culture, and in addition has done class room work. Her work has been of the highest grade, thoroughness being a special feature. While we regret to lose her as Miss Baldwin, it is some compensation to know she will be with us under a different title.

Miss Alice Huber, who will take Miss Noble's work in the fall, is now in Germany perfecting herself in the language. She has demonstrated rare power as a teacher, and the students that take her work will find themselves under a thoroughly proficient teacher.

On her way home from Normal, Miss Harris, principal of Model, stopped to examine the Hazleton and Wilkes-Barre School exhibits. Miss Harris yields to no one in keeping up with educational ideas.

Our efforts to get information from the rest of the faculty relative to their summer plans met with dismal failure, so we absolve ourselves from an apparent discourtesy in terminating this biographical account.

Abnormals.

Now another year has ended,
Gone and numbered with the past.
Class of nineteen-nine departed,
All other classes far out-classed.
Pretty soon will come September,
Come the class of nineteen-ten.
Let them come; we'll all be ready—
Ready to saw wood again.

And now it is all over.

And next year it will be the same thing over again.

Weather not so good for tennis as in former years, but finest in the world for study.

Several old students in to see us during spring term. And best of all, Prof. Rife was with us several days, looking hale and hearty. He is making good at Reynoldsville, and unanimously re-elected.

The woods and fields near the Normal were well scoured during the spring by botanical, geological and zoological expeditions.

The health of students and of faculty was uniformly excellent. Several years ago it was the correct thing for tonsillitis to attack spring term people, but we have now gotten beyond that.

Two new tennis courts were added this year and much appreciated. There was talk of a tournament, but owing to wet weather it was called off. A larger number joined the tennis association than in any previous spring term.

The State Board of Examiners proved themselves a royal set of men; we liked them and they liked us. The following is the line-up:

C. D. Koch, Department of Public Instruction.
John F. Bigler, Principal, Edinboro.
Daniel Fleisher, Superintendent, Columbia.
Frank S. Jackson, Superintendent, Punxsutawney.
Thomas S. March, Superintendent, Greensburg.
C. F. Hoban, Superintendent, Dunmore.
J. J. Koehler, Superintendent, Wayne County.
T. A. Stetler, Superintendent, Snyder County.

In accordance with the usual custom, the class of 1906 presented the school with a token of their appreciation of what Normal meant for them. The gift was in the form of a marble bust of Horace Mann, the great educator, life size. It has been placed in the library upon the pedestal accompanying the bust, and is not only an ornament, but an inspiration to all. The class of 1906 showed excellent judgment in their selection, and the gift is highly appreciated.

A high grade entertainment was given in chapel, Thursday evening, June 3rd, and from a local paper we take the following notice:

The Labadie Entertainment.

Mrs. Harriett Labadie's reading of "The Servant in the House" in the Normal Chapel, Thursday evening, was a rare treat for our people, and thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Labadie has a fascinating personality, dignified manner and graceful poise; her interpretation of the subject was very forceful, and she gave her audience great pleasure.

Those having the affair in charge are to be warmly commended for bringing to town such a high class evening's entertainment. The attendance was fair, not what it should have been by any means. In this case the object was a most worthy one, that of providing a fund for sending five Normal students to the Northfield conference this season.

Commencement.

June is the month of roses, brides and commencements. From the little red school-house in the valley to the pretentious university, every school has some sort of closing exercises. Every boarding school is a sort of little world, and while the big world outside does big things, these little worlds do a good many little things, which to their inhabitants really seem quite big and important. And the Shippensburg Normal, which has been doing a good many little things for many years, and which in a humble way reflects all the hopes and fears, all the pleasures and pains of the big outside world, held its 36th annual Commencement in the month of June, 1909, and neither sun nor moon stood still to witness the event, nor did either one even slacken its course.

Saturday.

As a sort of curtain raiser to what was to follow, the usual Senior Banquet was given Saturday evening, June 19th. At eight o'clock the Trustees of the School and their wives, with the members of the Faculty, with and without wives, preceded the Seniors into the dining hall. The room was handsomely decorated with the class colors, orange and blue, and the tables tastefully dressed with cut-flowers and the finest silver and china that Normal possesses. Mr. Kirkpatrick, the genial and popular steward, had prepared an elegant seven-course spread, and as the guests spread their napkins a pleasing smile spread over each face. That it was a swell affair could easily have been proven by noting the girth measure of the men before and after taking.

At the usual time, when the regular expectant hush, very polite and somewhat funereal, fell upon the room and its occupants, Dr. Martin arose and introduced the first "toaster," Mr. Midouer, class president. What he said was excellent and contained some choice humor, especially the puns upon the names of his classmates. He won great applause from the entire peanut gallery (the salted peanuts were still upon the table). Mr. Keener, class orator, was then introduced, and keener thrusts have not often been heard than those he launched at the male members of the Faculty. With graphic word-painting he sketched the individual personality of the various men, and each picture was full-length and very life-like. He sat down amid tumultuous applause, also amid his classmates. Miss Baldwin then responded to her name with a very pleasing and effective toast, speaking on past, present and future, and weaving in some excellent humor with more serious thoughts. In the midst of well-merited applause, she resumed her seat beside her new man.

As last, least and worst, the editor of this dignified journal was then called upon to show the real meaning of anti-climax. As he struggled to his feet with his usual bovine grace, every one having a watch drew it, and two of the Faculty hastily "beat it" to the door. Others looked anxiously in the same direction, but with looks of grim determination resigned themselves to the inevitable. The heights of Olympus must have shaken with sardonic glee had Jupiter and his court beheld the scene that followed.

The speaker attempted some antedeluvian jokes, each of which was parried with a smile, obviously forced and genuinely commiserating. He attempted to soar and fell like a punctured balloon; then he was sore—ditto his hearers. After a vain attempt to get on his feet, metaphorically speaking, and with the success of a decapitated chicken, he floundered into his chair, amid groans, sighs of relief and a general clicking of watches. We will bet a mule to a horsechestnut that his hearers will hereafter recognize the real thing when it comes to anti-climax. Feeling that all had been sufficiently punished for any past misconduct, Dr. Martin then adjourned the meeting, when all repaired to the gymnasium and mingled in social gayeties until "Home, Sweet Home!" was wailed forth.

Sunday.

Commencement week opened with a promise of perfect weather. At the usual hour for Sunday School all met in the chapel for general exercises, Dean Heiges taking charge.

Short talks were given by Dr. Eckels, Profs. Heiges and Goss, each one replete with suggestive thought and inspiration. As special musical numbers, solos were rendered by Miss Shutt and Prof. Stewart. Their excellent work along this line has afforded much pleasure during the school year and materially added to many a program.

This service closed the Sunday School work of the year. We are confident that the lessons as presented week by week have been inspiring, and have strengthened the moral fibre of both students and teachers.

Sunday evening was the time set for the Baccalaureate Sermon, and long before the appointed hour of eight the commodious chapel was filled with student body and townspeople.

At eight o'clock, preceded by the ushers from the Middler class, Dr. Martin passed down the center aisle, followed by the Seniors in caps and gowns, and singing as a processional, "We March, We March to Victory." After taking their places on the platform, the Doxology was sung by the congregation, all standing. After the invocation by Rev. Wylie, there followed a solo and chorus, "Alma Virgo," by Hummel. The solo part by Miss Gray proved the wide range of her voice and the chorus work was well sustained.

The reading of the 55th chapter of Isaiah by Rev. Brady was followed by prayer by Rev. Thompson. After congregational singing, Dr. Martin delivered the Baccalaureate sermon, taking his text from Isaiah LII-i, "Awake, awake, put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the Holy City." Institutions may be judged by their intentions. What are you? What do you intend to do, are important questions, but what you have done is more conclusive. Judged by either of these tests, the church of Jesus Christ is the greatest institution in the world. Its purpose is the noblest, its membership the best, its record the most worthy. The threefold promise that God gave to Moses is the Magna Charta of the church, "I will bless thee, I will make of thee a great nation. In thee and in thy seed shall all nations of the land be blessed." Such is the grand prospectus of the church. From Sinai to Christ the hope of Israel remained steadfast, that the Messiah would come. From the days of the Son of man the record of the church has been the fairest page of human history, and illustrious with the names of heroes, martyrs, saints. But the great task of the church is not yet complete, for we see around us a world unsaved, a world where sin and misery abound. Why is it that after two thousand years of Christian enterprise the church has made so little progress? Not error in teaching, but lack of zeal and earnestness. This is due largely to the fact that we are living now in an age of great industrial activity, of colossal individual fortunes. How shall we best obey the call of God, and how shall Zion put on her strength? The elements of strength are chiefly three. 1. Knowledge of the truth. 2. The material wealth of the world. 3. The social customs and ideals formed by many generations of Christian antecedents. The ten commandments are the bed rock of society. The ethics of Jesus Christ is the acknowledged standard of right living.

Class of 1909.

You have been accumulating strength. You have made your powers more efficient. You have resources which the world needs to have you use.

To acquire education needs diligence and patient persevering toil. To use it needs much more. To use it you must have wisdom to choose the right ideals and to direct your energies in proper lines. Have you chosen these?

Up yonder in the laboratory is a storage battery charged with electric force. As it stands there it is inert and useless. It has no beauty. It serves no purpose. It accomplishes no task, but properly directed it is capable of making light or heat or power. It has latent possibilities of usefulness and beauty. So have you.

Four score souls trained for the service of the world. How many things you may accomplish. You will not lack opportunity. A great world full of misery and ignorance and sin lies all about, crying aloud for the very things that you can give, truth and sympathy and eternal life. I charge you this solemn hour in the presence of God and these witnesses. Put on your strength and your strength shall be your beautiful garments."

After the sermon, Reinecke's beautiful "Evening Hymn" was rendered by the chorus, after which came prayer by Rev. Bosserman, singing by the congregation and benediction by Dr. Martin.

Thus ended the first day of the week.

Monday.

Apparently realizing that on this day he would look down on us from a view-point as nearly vertical as any he would ever reach, Old Sol opened up with a warm smile which could not be ignored. And the smile stayed right there all day. At ten o'clock the senior class filed into the chapel and took front seats. After singing from the Chapel Hymnal, reading of Scripture and prayer by Dr. Martin, Miss Gray sang in excellent voice, "My King." Dr. Martin then introduced, as speaker of the day, Prof. J. K. Stewart, Dean of the class of 1909.

As introductory to his address, Prof. Stewart referred to the pleasant relations that had existed for three years between the class and himself as teacher and dean. He then took for his subject, "Some Characteristics of an Ideal Teacher." He stated he would borrow from John Adams, the well known New England educator, three qualities of the ideal teacher, and supplement these with some characteristics which he felt also to be essential.

1st. Love of the work and enthusiasm for it. He deplored the harm done the cause by those who take up teaching only temporarily.

2d. Quick and accurate discrimination of human nature. Importance of studying the Bible, Shakespeare and other great authors in order to gain a more accurate conception of the various types of mankind.

3rd. A deep and abiding sense of the teacher's responsibilities, the importance of feeding and training the minds of his pupils and making them intellectual athletes.

The value of moral teaching. No religion should be taught in the public schools, but emphasis should be placed upon the ethical value of school virtues as preparation for future citizenship.

4th. The ideal teacher must have good mental qualities; not necessarily brilliant, but with common sense.

5th. Must be a good scholar. Scholarship is power; must know more than he teaches.

6th. He must have the power to teach.

7th. The ideal teacher must have self-control.

Each point was carefully elaborated, and the whole very helpful. At the close Prof. Stewart took formal leave of the class as their Dean, and closed with the well-known lines:

“Be good, sweet maid, and let who will be clever,
Do noble deeds, not dream them all day long;
And so make life, death and that vast forever
One grand, sweet song.”

Art Exhibit.

Monday afternoon was the time for the annual art exhibit, and it is safe to say this exhibit gets better every year. The studio was an artist's dream with its perfect arrangement of work in crayon, oil, statuary, etc. Too much praise cannot be given to Miss Irene Huber, whose artistic touch was everywhere in evidence. During her four years with the school, Miss Huber has been in constant demand whenever and wherever artistic designing has been needed; and she has always proved herself equal to the occasion. Every guest expressed delight with this year's exhibit, and it was a credit to the school.

Refreshments were served to all, and no one seemed in a hurry to depart from a scene so delightful and from hospitality so charming.

In the evening the following musical and literary recital was held in the Chapel:

PART I.

Overture.....	Paganini Orchestra
Joy of the Morning.....	Harriet Ware
	Miss Hicks.
Invitation a la Valse.....	Von Weber
	Miss Himes, Miss McClelland, Miss G. Wolff, Miss D. Wolff.
Queen Argamand's Dagger.....	Sir Edwin Arnold
	Miss Strohm.
Rondo Brillante.....	Mohr
	Miss Gates, Miss Nickles.
Shoogy Shoo.....	Ambrose
	Orpheum Quartette.
The Slow Race.....	Anon
	Miss Fulton.

(a) Berceuse	Chopin
(b) Soiree de Vienne	Liszt
	Miss Wise.

PART II.

Spring Song.....	Lynes
	Miss Oyler.
Orchestral Accompaniment.....	Paganini Orchestra
	(Arranged by Miss Gray.)
How the Church Was Built at Kehoe's Bar.....	Bennett
	Miss Harrison.
Barcarolle	Schytte
	Miss Squires, Miss Segner.
Fruhlings-lied	Kretschmer
	Miss Long.
The Tragic Story of Binns.....	Harriet P. Spottsford
	Miss Barner.
Valse Caprice.....	Mowskowski
	Miss Segner.
Pauline Pavlovna	Thomos Bailey Aldrich
Count Sergius Pavlovich (unmasked).....	Miss Strohm
Nastasia (masked).....	Miss Hartley
(a) Marche Triumphale.....	Kowalski
(b) If I Were a Bird.....	Henselt
	Miss Elicker, Miss Christopher.

Long before the hour the Chapel was filled with a well-dressed and good-looking crowd. Fans were in demand, for both temperature and humidity were high. An overflow meeting was held on the front porches, where the physical discomfort was not so great.

The selections by the Normal or Paganini Orchestra were well-rendered and reflected credit on the faithful training given the members by Miss Gray. Miss Hicks made her final appearance as a soloist and showed what good training will do for a voice. We predict for her a popular musical career. The third number was beyond the range of criticism and met well-merited applause.

Miss Strohm has already established a reputation as a talented reader, and her excellent renditions on this occasion merely added to laurels already won. The duo by Misses Nickles and Gates showed faultless technique and was well received. One of the most popular numbers was "Shoogy Shoe," by the young ladies' quartet. The perfect blending of their voices and the artistic finish thruout made the number most decidedly pleasing. Miss Fulton did excellent work in "The Slow Race," and the audience showed much appreciation. Miss Wise in her selections sustained her reputation as a brilliant pianist and one of whom Normal may well be proud. A charming number was the solo by Miss Oyler with orchestral accompaniment. As Miss Oyler appears on Commencement program, we postpone further comment. Miss Harrison has always been a popular reader with Normal and Shippensburg audiences, especially happy in the humorous, and to-night her work was of the usual high grade. Schytte's Barcarolle was well received and showed the result of careful training. Miss Long possesses a sweet and sympathetic voice and interprets well the German school. Miss Barner showed a pleasing personality in her recital of Jack Binn and elicited much favorable comment. Miss Segner, in Valse Caprice, showed her command of technique and expression.

Miss Strohm and Miss Hartley held the close attention of the audience in "Pauline Pavlovna," and showed the artistic finish of the professional.

The program closed with a very pleasing duet by Misses Elicker and Christopher, whose mastery of piano difficulties was long ago well demonstrated.

The entire program reflects great credit upon the untiring, skilful and successful training of Misses Matthews and Wise in piano, Miss Gray in voice and orchestra, and Miss Hartley in reading.

Thus ended the second day of the week. No, not quite, for we almost forgot something. The following appeared in a local paper:

Engagement Announced.

A very pleasant feature of Commencement week which was not on the published programme, occurred on Tuesday evening after the song recital, the members of the faculty having been invited to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Martin. The occasion proved to be one of much interest to all present, but particularly so to two of the party, as the engagement of Miss Ethel Leila Gray and Mr. Chas. Thrush was announced. Dr. Gordinier presented the matter in a most pleasing and original manner, and refreshments having been served the company separated, after extending their very best wishes to Miss Gray and Mr. Thrush.

Miss Gray has been the efficient teacher of vocal music for several years and is well known to our people. Mr. Thrush is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Thrush, who is connected with the well-known firm of Thrush & Stough, manufacturers of carriages.

Cupid's darts have been unusually fatal this year, as the engagement of Miss Baldwin and Prof. Newman was announced earlier in this year.

Tuesday.

The weather today was all that could be desired, if we overlook the trifling fact that the mercury stood in the 90's.

At ten o'clock the class took places on the stand under the trees, while several hundred chairs held the audience. After an overture by the orchestra, Emory Middour, Class President, delivered his address, taking as his subject the class motto "Ich Dien." After referring to Crecy and the Black Prince, he entered upon an excellent discussion of a life of service. He showed the loss sustained by poor service and mentioned several men of history that have served mankind. His voice was in good form and easily carried to all those present.

John F. Keener, Class Orator, in "Benedict Arnold," made excellent use of historical data, and drew valuable lessons from this picturesque character. His delivery was excellent and he held the close attention of all.

The Class History by Mary Bellows was an excellent resume of the various incidents prominent in the career of the class of 1909. She had made careful preparation and received well-deserved applause.

After a selection by the orchestra, Oliver F. Deardorff delivered the mantle oration. Mr. Deardorff took up the subject of "Monuments," and showed their various relations to man. In some cases monuments are erected after man's death. Other men erect their own monuments as they go thru life. He then charged the class of 1910 to erect a living monument, and at the conclusion of his address placed the mantle upon the shoulders of Mr. Brenniman, '10, who responded briefly in behalf of his class.

The Ladies' Class Roll by Miss Carrie Benner contained the usual number of "quips and cranks and wanton wiles" and was delivered in a most impressive manner. Mr. Jno. Cutshall followed with the Gentlemen's Roll, and also evoked many a smile as he dealt with individual characteristics and personalities.

Miss Esther Long deserves credit for the class song, both words and music being her own production. It was well sung by the class. An orchestra selection closed the program, which was one of the best ever given at Normal.

Class Officers.

Emory J. Middour.....	President
Jacob Hollinger.....	Vice-President
Anna Brandt	Secretary
Charles R. Jobe	Treasurer

Class Colors.

Orange and Blue.

Class Flower.

Mountain Laurel.

Class Motto.

"Ich Dien' "

Class Yell.

Killi, Kilic, Rah, Rah, Zit, Zit
 Ha, Ha, Yah, Hoo, Baum, Zoo
 Ich Dien, ' Ich Dien'
 Gold and Blue.

Class Song.

O Normal dear, our Alma Mater,
 Thy praise we sing with heart and voice,
 And as the red and blue floats o'er
 We ever in thy fame rejoice.
 As stand thy brave old trees about thee,
 Strong as the forest's mighty storm,
 So stand thy children to defend thee
 While every heart with love beats warm.

We all will strive for honor greater,
 But, oh, the half can ne'er be told.
 Of all the joy we'll find in working
 For the dear old blue and gold.
 Her emblem is the mountain laurel,
 "Ich dien" we'll sing around her shrine,
 And may thy name cast forth thy greatness
 Oh, class of nineteen hundred nine.

We now go out where duty calls us,
 Most worthy we will try to be
 And then as now we will pay homage
 To our loyal Faculty,
 In coming years mid other scenes,
 Where'er our lot may chance to fall,
 By friendship's cords, thou noble school,
 Our hearts shall ever cherish all.

Reunions.

The class of 1907 held their reunion in the chapel at 2 P. M. About forty were present and marched in to music. Levi Wire, president, made some pleasing remarks as introductory and befitting the occasion. He then took up the value of Education in a general way and said some very meaty things. Miss Brinkerhof followed with a vocal solo, "Fleeting Days," well sung and well received. Miss Zora Gettel in "The Death Disk," sustained the reputation she had while at Normal as a most excellent reader. An instrumental solo, "Faust," by Miss Edna Mehring, was well rendered. Mr. James E. Cook in his oration dealt with "The Neglected Minority" and handled it in a masterful manner. He applied the general law to the poor neglected child in the school room.

Miss Grace Johnson held the close attention of the audience in a most pleasing rendition of "Polonaise Militaire," and was followed by S. S. Shearer in the presentation speech. He took "Barriers" as his theme, developed it well, and then as the gift of the class of 1907, presented the school a beautiful safe. This gift is one of the best the school has received, and something of which we have long been in need. Valuable documents have heretofore been more or less exposed to danger, but now are safely stowed away. We wish to compliment the class of 1907 upon their choice of so useful and ornate a gift. Dr. Martin responded in behalf of the school, and the exercises closed with music.

Class of 1899.

Great credit is due the ten year class, not only for their good showing in numbers—over fifty being present, but for their good looks, good program and other good qualities. At 3.30 they held their reunion in the chapel, the program consisting of an excellent address by the president, Frank L. Sweigert. Piano solo by Mrs. Nellie Nickles Eames, recitation by Miss Cordie Gray, vocal duet by Mrs. Bessie Lerch Etter and Mrs. Ella Shearer Roth, and an original poem appropriate to the occasion by Miss Gertrude Krall. Each number met hearty applause, for each was well given. The program closed with a roll-call, each one briefly responded to his name as to life since graduation, and those present answering for the absent where possible. Then the class song of ten years ago and class yell.

The class dance and banquet were held on Tuesday evening in the Reddig Studio. Prof. Roth responded to a toast for the faculty of '99, and Prof. Stewart for the faculty of the present. Miss Stouffer gave a reading. Informal toasts were offered by U. L. Allen, Nellie Welker, Lenus Carl, Calvin Neil.

Alumni Meeting.

The Alumni business meeting was held in Philo Hall at 4 o'clock, and from the Secretary we have the following report:

The members of the Normal School Alumni Association met Tuesday at 4 P. M., with the President, J. S. Omwake, Esq., in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, Miss Ida Quigley. The report of the Treasurer, Prof. William Rife, was read by Prof. J. S. Heiges and accepted. The principal item of business before the meeting was the increasing of Alumni Loan Fund, which amounts to about $200.00. A policy of cooperation was outlined and approved, and a committee for granting loans was formed, consisting of Dr. S. A. Martin, Prof. J. S. Heiges and J. S. Omwake, Esq. The following officers were elected for the year: President, Chas. Albright; Vice President, D. N. Benedict; Secretary, Miss Ida Quigley; Treasurer, Q. T. Mickey, Esq.

Thruout the afternoon iced tea, wafers and cake were served in the Art room by the Juniors, and the courtesy was much appreciated. For the day was, "honestly and truly," just a trifle warm.

After a delightful outdoor concert by the orchestra, from 6.30 to 7.20, a general movement was made toward Chapel, to hear the song recital given by Miss Helen Waldo.

PROGRAMME.

Ah! S'estinto, ancor mi ruoi*Mercadante*

SHAKESPEARE SONGS.

It Was a Lover and His Lass.....Parker
 She Neyer Told Her Love.....Haydn
 Heigh-ho! for a Husband.....Traditional

Lieder
Die Lotus Blume (Heine)	Schumann
Gretel (Busse)	Plitzner
Der Erlkönig (Goethe)	Schubert

MODERN SONGS.

Requiem (Stevenson)	Homer
Flower Rain (Loveman)	Schneider
The Ballad of the Trees and the Master (Lanier)	Chadwick
Johnnie (Maira O' Neill)	Villiers-Stanford
A Little Winding Road (Simpson)	Ronald
The Year's at the Spring (Browning)	Beach
L'esclave (Gautier)	Lalo
La Belle du Roi	Holmes

SCOTCH BALLADS.

Come Under My Plaidie	Hector McNeil
Ye Banks and Braes	Miller
Caller Herrin'	Neil Gow
The Laird O' Cockpen	Old Scotch

From the Shippensburg "Chronicle" we excerpt the following:

THE WALDO RECITAL.

The recital Tuesday evening in the Normal Chapel by Miss Helen Waldo was a rare treat for all who had the good fortune to be present.

The attraction was one of the best the people of Shippensburg have had the opportunity of patronizing, and opened to them avenues in the art of music which has heretofore been closed to the greater number of our people.

Miss Waldo is the possessor of a contralto voice which is round and lovely, especially so in the lower register, which is deep and melodious.

Before singing each song, Miss Waldo explained the quotation or tradition upon which the song was written, in a most delightful manner. This feature added great interest to the evening's entertainment, and made the selections more enjoyable.

Her rendition of the Scottish folk songs, the music of the fatherland, or the airs of the French and Spanish people delighted the audience.

Miss Waldo is a Wisconsin woman, a graduate of Laurence University, and a student in vocal music in Pittsburg, New York and Paris, and has a delightful personality, singing with an ease and grace that are charming.

The entertainment was held under auspices of the Alumni Association, the proceeds for the benefit of the Alumni Fund.

Miss Gray, teacher of vocal, has kindly furnished the HERALD the following critique: Miss Waldo in her presentation of Shakespearean songs portrayed vividly the æsthetic side. Her clear enunciation and facial expression added much to the interpretation of the songs. "Der Erbkönig" was a masterpiece of vocal technique which showed the singer's skill in tone production and coloratura; but her best work was in the rendition of the more somber, sustained tones, as given in the "Requiem" by Homer. Miss Waldo has a voice rich in quality, pure in tone and well developed in true legato.

Wednesday.

"What is so rare as a day in June?" After careful consideration of this famous question we have evolved an answer—"Another day in June just like it." And on such a day as this the class of 1909 concluded their commencement exercises. At an early hour all was stir and animation around the Normal. Incoming trains stopped at the Normal station to let off visitors, while others came by foot, carriage and auto. The exercises began at nine-thirty and continued until noon. To the rhythm of orchestral music, Dr. Martin, and speaker, the senior class and class of 1907 entered the chapel. After invocation by Rev. Brady and music, P. M. Heiges delivered an oration on "Horace Mann." He spoke well and traced the life and work of the first great American educator.

Miss Marion Seabrook, honor student, followed with a thought-provoking and well prepared essay on "Ideals of Men." She portrayed various types of women, the literary, the domestic, the philanthropic and led up to the question, "Which one is Man's Ideal?" After a delightful selection by the chorus, Mark Wenger, honor student, spoke on "Graft" and handled his subject very well. He showed how graft has crept into public and private life, and the part it plays in individual, state and national affairs. His manner of address before the public is very effective. The next number was a solo "Sunlight," by Miss Bertha Oyler. Miss Oyler has demonstrated on many an occasion her rare gift of song, having delighted many an audience during her school career. She possesses a voice of great sweetness, purity and range, and we predict for her a successful musical career.

C. Hayes Markley, in behalf of the class, gave the farewell address. His remarks were well suited to the occasion and were well delivered. The orator of the day was Robert Bridges, associate editor of "Scribner's," poet, journalist, critic. Did space permit, we should be glad to give the address in full of this man, born in Shippensburg and prepared at Normal for Princeton, but we shall have to abridge. The speaker began his address with some humorous remarks and reminiscences of Normal, and then attacked his subject as to the relations of books and living. The right use of books will give color, emotion, vividness to your life. It is a great thing to be living NOW when the world has been made small by means of invention. The speaker then referred to inventions, especially those of the Wright brothers. The great value of idealism in a world of very real things and of very pressing everyday necessities. The best avenue to a larger outlook comes thru the judicious use of books and reading. Knowledge alone is not power any more than a wagon-load of coal is power. The business of living is a very real thing, and in the rush of daily events one is apt to have his sight impaired. Books are to come in right there and give one a view of the blue sky overhead, the great sun and the stars in the vault of heaven. The speaker's resentment, when a boy at school, at the men that always addressed the students as tho they were to be leaders of men in high places. "Why did they not tell us of the joy of work intelligently directed? That education is the regulation of the machine for its greatest efficiency; that no two machines are alike, and that for each, the joy of living is in finding out what he can best do, and doing it!" There are two kinds of men—those that march in the procession of the living—and those that sit in the grandstand or stand along the curb—and cheer, or hiss, or shoot putty at the performers. Most of us are in the ranks. The literary man most worthy of credence is the one that spends most of his time marching in the ranks. There are two kinds of books—those made for wise people, and those made for fools—and there are many successful examples of each. The best book is the one produced by the man living the most intense life. These then are the rewards of the right perusal of the right books: A better use of language in our daily occupations—a wider view of life, and therefore a more tolerant spirit.

It is a good thing to know at the outset of life that there are pleasures wealth cannot buy. We are but atoms of dust upon the dust of stars, but in the best books we are heirs of all the ages. Mr. Bridges closed with some well chosen words to the class, and the long continued applause showed how well his address had been received.

After music by orchestra, Dr. Martin presented Diplomas of Graduation to the following:

Senior Class Roll.

Ausherman, Naomi	Jackson, Margaret	Smith, Hettie R.
Bellows, Mary A.	Johnston, Helen J.	Snively, Mary L.
Bender, HulDAH	Jordan, Florence R.	Snyder, Erma J.
Benner, Carrie V.	Kendall, Martha	Stutenroth, Emily K.
Benner, L. Blanche	Kendall, Hattie B.	Troxell, Mary L.
Bitner, Ethel B.	Kniley, Florence	Wilson, Grace A.
Brady, Maude	Kreider, Emma M.	Bowman, Edgar E.
Brandt, Anna G.	Lehman, Bessie J.	Cutshall, John L.
Burke, Grace M.	Lerew, Beatrice E.	Deardorff, Oliver F.
Charlton, Marion J.	Lichtenwalner, Edith M.	Eichelberger, C. H.
Crissey, Flora V.	Lichtenwalner, Viola M.	Floyd, Rodney J.
Detwiler, Bertha E.	Long, Esther M.	Gingrich, Clayton C.
Eby, Lena	McMeen, Edith J.	Heiges, Peter M.
Elicker, Bertha A.	Means, Mary C.	Hoch, Clarence E.
Etter, Ethel C.	Mehring, Mary	Hollinger, Jacob
Etter, Esma	Mellotte, Maye	Igartua, Juan Santos
Fogelsanger, Eva	Morrow, Ruth	Jobe, Charles R.
Frantz, Mary	Noftsker, Claire T.	Keener, John F.
Freed, Bertha	Orndorff, Anna G.	Markley, G. Hayes
Green, Jennie K.	Oyler, Bertha M.	Matter, Ralph P.
Hargleroad, Lillian	Peightel, Lucy L.	Messinger, George M.
Harrison, Elsie V.	Reeder, Helen F.	Middour, Emory J.
Herring, Elizabeth C.	Rindollar, Maude	Miller, Evers S.
Hicks, Jennie M.	*Seabrook, Marion E.	Naugle, G. Harold
Hollar, Rhea	Shupp, Edna B.	Shive, Clyde S.
Huston, Mary M.	Shutt, Beula I.	*Wenger, T. Mark
	*First Honor.	Second Honor.

Certificates in Music.

Esther M. Long, Bertha M. Oyler, Beula I. Shutt, Helen P. Wise.

State Certificate.

Albert C. Shuck.

The following, having taught two years in the state, were granted Teachers' Diplomas:

Asper, Elda Mae	Fisher, Nora O.	Lay, Ella C.
Byers, Olive M.	Fickes, Mary Gertrude	Meixell, Estella
Brinkerhoff, Lulu	Grubb, Orpha I.	Martin, Kathryn
Benner, Grace E.	Hamil, Nelle G.	Mehring, Edna
Brown, Bess B.	Harbison, Harriet	Orris, M. Belle
Bar, Mary D.	Hartman, Anna	Rhodes, Besse M.
Bittinger, Laura M.	Ickes, Mary	Rauch, Caroline T.

Brown, Marge M.	Johnson, Grace L.	Shriner, Clara
Cover, Linnie E.	Jones, Desse	Senft, Edna K.
Craig, Emma	Kidwell, Imogene	Stambaugh, Elda G.
Coover, Iva	Kadel, Ruth E.	Sipes, Minerva
Dohner, Emma	Kauffman, Winifred I.	Troxell, Helen
Dohner, Ruth	Kreiner, Edna L.	Witherspoon, Edith O.
Dohner, Benorah	Longenecker, Bertha	Walter Alma B.
	Young, Effa S.
Berry, Bruce	Jones, J. Blaine	Shank, Raymond W.
Diehl, Luther	Johnson, Chas. H.	Shaeffer, Irwin D.
Early, Snively	Neagley, Samuel H.	Smith, Portis A.
Geiss, E. E.	Richwine, Geo. H.	Shearer, Simon S.
Goodhart, Oren	Reese, Earl B.	Wiebe, P. J.
Grubb, Norman H.	Rumbaugh, Ulrich D.	Zeigler, Paul B.

The exercises closed with benediction by Rev. S. S. Wylie.

The afternoon was spent in various ways too numerous to mention. The Alumni Reception, in the evening from eight to eleven, was a success in every particular and closed a busy day.

All over for another year! "Good-bye; Good-bye; write soon!" A hot wave is better than rain. The campus never looked better. "Soft eyes looked love to eyes that spoke again." The Harrisburg orchestra added much to the doins.

Many proud papas and mammas, and they had reason so to be. Never before were so many colors in evidence. Gowns, gowns! Wanted! The name of any one that wasn't done to a frazzle by Thursday morning.

We Thank You.

The Shippensburg "Chronicle" did itself proud in its issue of June 24th—Commencement number. Two full pages of printed matter appeared with numerous cuts of buildings and grounds. We copy in full the following from their editorial column:

"The occasion of the thirty-sixth annual Commencement exercises of the Shippensburg Normal School serves to remind us of the noble purpose for which the State Normal schools were founded, and of the great and splendid work they are doing. The influence of the associations and courses of study provided by our Normal schools is far-reaching, directly affecting hundreds of the homes, and thousands of the lives of the people of our great State. The indirect influence from this same source is also very broad. Pennsylvania has been well to the front in educational matters for many years, leading in all advancements along these lines. Her normal school, as well as her public school system, has drawn from other states those features that experience has proved to be the best, and so complete is our present system that many States now use it as a model.

"The Shippensburg Normal has made it possible for hundreds of young men and women to obtain an education which would otherwise have been beyond their own best efforts, and has lifted the intellectual and moral standards to a level which otherwise would not have been obtained, brightening the lives and homes of countless numbers of our own people.

"Each year's class carries a large percentage of our own young people, which fully attests the value and worth of this institution to us as a community.

"Our citizens may well afford to heed the call of our Shippensburg Normal School for aid along lines which cannot be met by an already most generous State.

"It is well at this time also to recall the 'day of small things,' the keen competition among the different communities for the location of these institutions, the struggles and sacrifices of the men who interested themselves in securing a Normal School for our town and providing for its maintenance.

"The Shippensburg Normal is a splendid monument to the enterprise and well-directed efforts of many of our citizens of forty years ago, and the town and present generation owes a lasting debt of gratitude to the men who so nobly stood by our Normal during its trying days. All honor to them!"

Model School Commencement.

Somewhat of an innovation was made this year in the closing exercises of the Model School. Instead of a general exhibition by the school, regular graduating exercises were held for the class which had completed the course. The graduates were four in number and the parts taken by them were as follows, the second-named being a recitation and the others original productions:

"Cumberland Valley".....	Clinton Martin
"The Boat Race".....	Scott Bingham
"Character Sketch".....	Sylvia Rudolph
"Lady of the Lake".....	Viola McElhare, Valedictorian

The performances undertaken were not too ambitious for the age and advancement of the young graduates and were successfully handled.

The "Character Sketch" included several of the features of Class Day exercises and was quite cleverly done. The training evinced by these young people reflected much credit on the Prinprincipal and Assistant in the Model School, Miss Harris and Miss Wylie. Some of these young people had been for nine years pupils of the School, while others had attended only two or three years. The course of study has been enlarged and now includes Algebra and a year of Latin. All the graduates expect to enter the Junior year of the Normal next fall.

The exercises closed with a stimulating and practical address by Dr. Martin, accompanying the presentation of diplomas.

Trip to Washington.

From the Shippensburg "News" of May 7th we take the following article, contributed by one of the Seniors:

The Senior Class of Shippensburg Normal School, together with their friends left the Normal Station on Thursday, April 29, on the 7.49 train, for Washington, by way of York and Baltimore. Arriving at Washington at 12.45 P. M., they proceeded to the Capitol, where a tour of the building was made under escort of special guides, and where many things of interest were seen. They then visited the Navy Yards, where the construction of war vessels and guns was carefully explained by the guide. After an auto tour of the city, in which places of public interest were pointed out, the party repaired to the Oxford Hotel for dinner before visiting the Congressional Library, which is one of the richest and most beautiful building in the city.

Friday morning was spent in visiting the National Cemetery and Lee Mansion at Arlington, the Treasury and the White House. After viewing the grounds and public rooms of the White House, all assembled in the magnificent East Room, and after admiring the grandeur of this room, they were met by a guide, who, by a special permission, conducted them through the private rooms.

In the afternoon a trip was made to Mt. Vernon by boat, and, despite the rain, a great many people remained on deck. Besides the beauty of the scenery, the presence of a thousand cadets going from Washington to Alexandria made this trip most enjoyable. The grounds and rooms of Washington's home were of special interest to the party and all were sorry when it was time to leave. Everything was in very good order and the scene presented an appearance so homelike that one almost expected the owner to appear. The party left the wharf for Washington at 4.00 P. M., and the return was more beautiful, if possible, on account of the bright sunshine which was a welcome change.

After taking dinner at the hotel, some of the party visited the theatre, where they saw "The Golden Butterfly."

Saturday morning was spent in visiting the United States Fisheries, the Smithsonian Institute, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and the National Museum. The Washington Monument was next visited, from the top of which a fine view is generally to be had, but was somewhat marred by the rain. After visiting the Art Gallery, where many fine pictures and statues were seen, the party returned to the hotel for lunch, after which they visited the post office. The party then went to the depot and at 3.40 P. M. boarded the train that was to take them away from the beautiful sights. At 8.46 the party arrived at Normal Station, tired and hungry, but feeling that the trip had been most pleasant and enjoyable as well as profitable.

Y. M. C. A.

The school year of 1908-09 in the Y. M. C. A. closed very satisfactorily, with a Union meeting led by Miss Horton. We feel that the work of the association has been a success during the past year. The Bible classes were continued up to within two weeks of Commencement, and every one seemed to do his part to help keep up the interest.

But we realize that in order to secure the best results in our association work, we must have a definite aim. The secret of success in every live society is that it has definite plans for definite work. Our great aim should be the winning of souls to Christ, and the extension of his kingdom here on earth.

During the coming year the President wishes to urge the hearty co-operation of every fellow in the association, and especially that of the leaders. Let us stop to realize the great responsibility that is placed upon our shoulders. The very fact that we are chosen leaders in the work shows that God has a work for us to do.

Will we shirk that duty? Will we shift the responsibility upon someone else, or will we say, "With God's help, I'll do my best."

Bible classes will be organized, with competent leaders, in the early part of the coming fall term. Also, there will be a Mission study class organized, which will take up the study of some of our great missionaries.

We also aim to have a series of "life work meetings," in which the professions, such as the ministry, law, medicine, teaching, etc., will be talked about by competent men in each profession. We hope the boys will derive much good from these meetings.

The members of the cabinet will attend the Northfield student conference and hope to bring back much valuable information concerning the work. We extend a hearty welcome to all who shall spend the coming year at Normal and sincerely hope that their associations with the Y. M. C. A. may be of great benefit to them.

Let us then be up and about our work for the Master, and take for our motto the words found in James I, 22: "Be ye doers of the word and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves."

J. CLYDE ZIEGLER (President).

Y. M. C. A.

As this reaches you in the midst of your vacation while musing beside the babbling brook, or quietly resting in some cool and shady nook, may your thoughts drift on in anticipation of another year's work. Let it never be said of any of our Y. M. C. A. girls as the little boy said when the minister asked, "Is your father a Christian?" "Yes sir," the lad replied, "but he isn't working at it now." May our girls be Christians always. To be a successful association worker, one must ever be working, ever on the lookout for new ways and means by which the interests of the society can be advanced, ever gathering new material on which to work and new ideas to arouse interest and keep the girls earnest, consecrated workers in the Master's service.

Let your presence be felt in your Christian Endeavor or Epworth League; go to work with a will; your help is needed and God demands your best efforts in his service.

After your happy vacation may we again assemble in the dear old Normal Halls, there to take up our work with a determination to overcome all difficulties and surmount every obstacle, to live near the perfect pattern that by our earnest, united and consecrated efforts our association in God's hand may be the means for the accomplishment of much good in leading many souls to Christ.

KATHRYN B. DEWALT, Pres.

Philo.

Philo Literary Society closed the year with an excellent report.

It has increased both in numbers and interest during the past year, and at the last meeting a large number of new people were taken into the society who will be ready to do their part next fall toward making the work a success.

The Society possesses some excellent talent at present, which is displayed in both the instrumental and vocal music, also in elocutionary work.

The members during the past year showed much interest. Each one seemed to be inspired with enthusiasm and responded promptly to whatever work was assigned.

It can be said truthfully that Philo is progressing rapidly.

In conclusion, let it be hoped that the society will continue its good work in the future, and at a time not far distant, stand triumphantly on the summit of that hill called "excellence."

RUTH SNOKE, Sec'y.

Normal Society.

A successful year has again come to close. It gives us great pleasure to say that we have had some very earnest workers among us this year, and to these we owe the prosperity which our society has enjoyed. The work of the faithful few who always performed their duty is especially to be commended.

Although many of our most zealous members have left us, we have favorable prospects for another good year. With the aid of the new members who were welcomed into our midst at the close of last term, we hope to raise the standard even higher, and to accomplish this end the hearty co-operation of all the members will be necessary. Let each one do his work, remembering the unlying principle of every successful organization—"United we stand, divided we fall."

KATHRYN E. GARVER, '10, Sec'y.

Elocutionary Recital.

Miss Hartley's students in elocution gave the following program Monday evening, April 12th. Lack of space prevents comment.

PART I

"Marche Triumphale"—Two pianos.....	Rathburn
Liberty McClelland, Effie Hetrick, Cecelia Himes, Miss Matthews
The Owl Critic.....	Fields
Mr. Hess
Budges's Version of the Flood.....	Halberton
Miss Dougherty
Bobby Shaftoe.....	Greene
Miss Fulton
Tarantella de Rossini—Pour Two Pianos.....	Liszt
Miss Matthews, Miss Wise
(a) How Jenny Eased Her Mind.....	Page
(b) Mammy's Pickaninny.....	Jenkins
Miss Harrison
The Swan Song.....	Ritter
Miss Good

PART II

Krakowiak—Piano Duet.....	Moszkowski
Miss Wise, Miss Matthews
The Lost Word.....	Van Dyke
Miss Johnston
The Second Trial.....	Kellog
Miss Barner
Vocal Solo—Dreaming.....	Dailey
Mr. Stewart
(a) King Arthur—Act IV, Scene I.....	Shakespeare
(b) Aunt Hitty Talbox.....	Kate Douglas Wiggin
Miss Strohm
Mother and Poet.....	Elizabeth B. Browning
Miss Hartley
Scarf Fantastics.....	Miss Elicker at the piano
Miss Bellows, Miss Frantz, Miss Benner, Miss Kendall, Miss Ausherman, Miss Smith, Miss Hicks, Miss Brandt, Miss Charleton.

Normal Anniversary.

The annual program was given Saturday, April 17th.

The stage was handsomely decorated and the following numbers each successfully rendered:

Program.

PART I

Selections.....	Orchestra
Grand Galop Chromatique—Two Pianos.....	Liszt
	Miss Noftsker, Miss Garver
President's Address.....	Paul F. Myers
Vocal Solo—Damon.....	Goethe
	Miss Hicks
Vocal Solo—The Night Hath a Thousand Eyes.....	Metcalf
	Mr. White
Reading—The Encyclopedy.....	Eugene Fields
	Mr. Deardorff
Chorus—Garden Lily and Meadow Flowers.....	H. A. Clarke

PART II

Polka—es dur—Two Pianos
	Miss Elicker, Miss Christopher
Reading—The Bear Story.....	James Whitcomb Riley
	Mr. Middour
Vocal Solo—He Was a Prince.....	Frank Lynes
	Miss Long
Selections	Orchestra
Dramatic Presentation,
	Jean Ingelow's "Seven Times Seven"
Seven Times One—Childhood.....	Miss Myers
Seven Times Two—Romance	Miss Deardorff
Seven Times Three—Love.....	Miss Irwin
Seven Times Four—Motherhood.....	Miss Cook
Seven Times Five—Widowhood.....	Miss Houston
Seven Times Six—Giving in Marriage.....	Miss Seabrook
Seven Times Seven—Longing for Home.....	Miss Frantz

Philo Reunion.

Friday evening, May 14th, occurred the annual Philo Reunion, and did space permit we should be glad to analyze the following program. It is enough to say it was a success, and the beauty of the stage added much to the program.

Program.

Music—Selections.....	Chas. K. Harris
March—The Military Hero.....	Kenneth
	Paganini Orchestra.
President's address—Prof. Geo. E. Kapp.
Piano Solo—Polonaise.....	Moszkowski, Op. 11
	Miss Wise.
Vocal Solo—Days of Spring.....	A. Noring
	Miss Shutt.

Oration—Education for Life.....	M. Judson Savage
Mr. Wenger.
Vocal Solo—Alone in the Deep.....	J. C. Schmid
Mr. Matter.
Reading—Grandma Keeler; from "Cape Cod Folks".....	Sally P. McLean
Miss Good
Music—Lady Dainty.....	H. F. Odell
Paganini Orchestra.
Ladies' Quartette—Sleep Little Baby of Mine.....	F. J. Smith
Miss Oyler, Miss Bellows, Miss Shutt, Miss Barner.
Two Pianos, eight hands—Hungary	Carl Koelling
1st Piano—Miss Wise, Miss Hetrick,
2nd Piano—Miss Herman, Miss Harman.
Reading—Cut off from the People; from "The Deemster".....	Hall Caine
Mr. Jones.
Vocal Solo—The Approach of Spring	W. Berwald
Miss Oyler.
Music—Selections.....	Walter Jacobs
Paganini Orchestra.

The Sleeping Beauty.

A PLAY IN THREE ACTS

ACT I. A room in the Palace.

ACT II. Scene 1—Room in Castle Tower. Scene 2—Hall of the Castle.

ACT III. Scene 1—On the outskirts of a Thick Forest. Scene 2—Hall of the Castle.

NOTE:—Owing to the limited time, there will be but slight change made in scenery.

CAST

Princess Beauty	Miss Robinson
King, father of Princess.	Mr. Matter
Queen, mother of Princess	Miss Smith
Prince, deliverer of Princess.....	Mr. Zeigler
Fairies {	Carmina	Miss Dewalt
	Blanchetta	Miss Barner
	Chroma	Miss Myer
	Azuro.....	Miss Snoke
	Verda.....	Miss Dimm
Old Woman.....	Miss Shupp
Doris, a peasant girl.....	Miss McNeal
Azar, a page.....	Mr. Coffee
Floretta, a lady in waiting.....	Miss McCullough
Ardetta, a lady in waiting.....	Miss Jackson
Gavel, a courtier	Mr. Grove
Tresan, a courtier.....	Mr. Messinger

Alumni Personals.

'74. Prof. S. C. Beitzel, Supervising Principal of Mechanicsburg schools, was present at the State Board examination and added several subjects to those already on his diploma under the old two-year course.

'75. Miss Frances Toms, after teaching for many years, is now living quietly in Shippensburg, Pa.'

'76. Rev. J. W. Hill is preaching at Gandy, Nebraska.

'76. Miss Ella M. Duncan, who taught for a number of years in Altoona, Pa., has returned to Shippensburg, her former home, and resides at 13 Orange St.

'77. We are fortunate in having with us another year Miss Ida B. Quigley, our efficient Librarian, whose reputation as an instructor was long since established and whose ability as Preceptress of the lady day-students has been thoroughly demonstrated.

'78. Mr. M. L. Bechtel, Millstone, Md., writes: "I am one of the boys of '78. Have taught every year but two since I began in '72. Am now farming and merchandising. My regards to any of my old classmates, and success to the Old Normal."

We are always glad to have the good wishes of our old friends.

'78. Mr. J. G. App writes from Liverpool, Pa.: "I have been in the school room for 29 years and still enjoy the work, but too nerve-racking to spend balance of life at work. I have a son who graduated from Bucknell in 1908."

'79. Prof. John P. Garber is Assistant Superintendent of the city schools of Philadelphia, and his address is 696 City Hall, Philadelphia, Pa. He has not forgotten Old Normal. We are glad to send him a copy of the HERALD.

'80. Mr. A. M. Firestine is teaching in Mechanicsburg, Pa., where he has been for a number of years.

'81. Mr. J. L. Potteiger is manager of the Wilkes-Barre Agency of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. His address is 22-24 Welles Building, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

'82. Mr. Edward McGeehin is practicing medicine in Hazleton, Pa.

'82. Mrs. Abbie Allen Lamond is now teaching in the High School at Harrisburg. Her address is 335 Walnut St.

'83. Mr. Thomas M. Herbert is practicing law in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

'83. The well-known executive ability of Hon. Q. T. Mickey is sufficient guarantee that the efforts to increase the Alumni Loan Fund will meet with success. Mr. Mickey was elected Treasurer of the Association at its last meeting and also a member of the committee to have charge of this fund.

'84. We learn that Hon. F. B. Wickersham was recently elected Supreme Orator of the Royal Arcanum. Mr. Wickersham is a prominent lawyer in Harrisburg. His address is 409 and 410 Bergner Building.

'85. Mrs. May Shank Geist was a Normal visitor at Commencement time.

'85. Mr. J. Frank Epler writes from Allentown: "I hold the position of Agency Inspector for the Lehigh Valley R. R. Co. Am enjoying good health and still on the single list." The HERALD offers condolences.

'86. Mrs. Tressa Pressel Loveland expects to teach next year again in Bloomfield, Nebraska. She enjoys her work there.

'87. Mr. W. A. Bream writes from Gettysburg: "I quit the schoolroom in 1900. Am discount clerk in the First National Bank of Gettysburg, where I have been for six years."

'88. Mr. J. Hayes Morrow is teaching at Waynesboro.

'88. We are distressed to learn that Mrs. Emily Allen Clever lost her husband a short time ago. His death was due to complications setting in after an operation for appendicitis. The HERALD offers its sympathy to Mrs. Clever.

'89. Mrs. Grace Spangler Yeiser is living at East Lansdowne, Pa. Her address is 509 Pembroke Avenue.

'89. Supt. H. Milton Roth and wife were visitors at the Normal during Commencement week. Prof. Roth is serving his third term as Superintendent of Adams County, and his administration has been very successful.

'89. Mrs. Margaret Line Krall was a visitor at Normal during Commencement.

'89. We were pleased to have Mr. J. A. Underwood, of Harrisburg, among the old friends during Commencement.

'90. A letter from Mrs. Isabel Metz McCann says she expected to visit Shippensburg a short time ago, but was disappointed. She sends best wishes for old Normal. Her address is Stephenson, Va.

'90. Mr. S. H. Hetrick is living at Max, North Dakota.

'91. We learn from a Chambersburg paper that a Christmas box is now being prepared at the home of Miss Mary Speer, 328 East Queen street, Chambersburg, Pa., for Rev. J. M. Hoover, of Penang, on the Malay Peninsula. The article says "dolls, books, toys and games and printed cotton materials will be especially good to send." The HERALD takes the responsibility of saying that any one wishing to help in this work should ask for particulars at the above mentioned address.

'91. Mr. J. L. Hain, who was granted a state certificate from this Normal in '91, is living at Marysville, Pa. His daughter, Miss Helen Hain, was a student with us this spring term and passed the junior examination. We hope to have her with us next year.

'92. Mr. O. C. Bishop is teaching at Oberlin, Pa.

'93. Dr. James Kennedy writes from Ganado, Arizona, enclosing his HERALD subscription and sending kind wishes to Normal.

'94. Prof. H. H. Shenk has just completed his second year as Dean of Lebanon Valley College and his ninth year as head of the Department of History and Political Science. He was married June, 1900, to Miss Bertha Strickler, of Hummelstown, and they have two daughters, Lucile, born Nov. 1902, and Esther, born June, 1905.

'94. Mr. C. A. Trostle has recently been elected secretary and treasurer of the Fire Proof Furniture and Construction Co., of Hamilton, Ohio. Mr. Trostle has resided at Hamilton for a number of years and is with the Herring-Hall Safe Co.

'95. Mr. Oscar Cunningham is a mail carrier in the Baltimore City Post Office and sends his best wishes to Normal. His address is 1207 W. Fayette street, Baltimore, Md.

'95. Mrs. Carrie Baker Lauman writes from Buffalo that they moved there last June and are enjoying the beauties of the Queen City of the lakes. Her address is 106 Elmwood Ave.

'96. Mrs. Pearl R. Ruth Keenard writes from Bainbridge, Pa., that she taught for seven years in the public schools and is still employed in the same profession, but with only one pupil, a little daughter three years old. She says her little girl is already interested in old Normal and can point out the various pictures in the catalogue. We hope to have her for a Normal student some time.

'96. Mr. George W. Gulden writes from Tamaqua, Pa., "I moved here last July. Am principal of the high school, salary $1250." Mr. Gulden was called upon to mourn the loss of his little girl of seven years old in June. The HERALD extends its sympathy.

'96. Mrs. Sallie Hoy Williams, of Utica, N. Y. writes, "My husband died a year ago and I am again teaching in our city schools in advanced grades. My address is 219 Grove Place, Utica, N. Y. It is always with pride I speak of dear old Normal and often wish I could live again the happy days of '96. My best wishes for Normal and prosperity to the HERALD." The HERALD extends sympathy to Mrs. Williams in her loss and thanks her for her good wishes.

'96. Mrs. Sara U. Spangler Bollen is living at 5446 Irving St., Philadelphia, Pa.

'96. We learn that Mrs. Sarah Brehm Steinmets is living at Newmanstown, Pa.

'96. Rev. J. Shearer Wolff is preaching at Ellicottville, N. Y.

'96. Mrs. Ida Blair Metz writes that she enjoys looking over the HERALD and noting the many changes since '96. We are glad to send her a copy. Her address is Chambersburg, R. F. D. 12.

'97. Mr. H. E. Freid is living in East Lansdowne and teaching in the grades in Philadelphia schools. He is also taking a college course, preparatory to Supervisor's examination in Philadelphia to obtain a Supervisor's Certificate. He also teaches in the John Wanamaker Commercial School two evenings a week.

'97. Mr. C. H. Risser graduated from the Medical Department of the St. Louis University in May, and is now an Interne in St. Johns Hospital, St. Louis, Mo.

'98. Mr. H. W. Fitting is a student at Mt. Airy Seminary.

'98. Mr. C. E. Yost is with his brother, Mr. A. W. Yost, in the manufacture of Fine Felt Shoes, York, Pa. His address is 1408-1412 North George St., York, Pa.

'99. Among the familiar faces of the ten-year-ago class who attended the banquet were Dr. Lenus Carl, of Newport, Dr. S. W.

Swigart, of Lewistown, and Dr. Guy Zimmerman, of Lehmaster. They all looked very well and prosperous. Dr. Zimmerman is the only married one of the three.

'99. Miss Minnie Jones has been teaching in St. Louis for several years and goes back again the coming year. She has a brother in Normal, Mr. Russel Jones, who will graduate next year.

'99. Mr. S. A. Rice was unable to attend the reunion and banquet, as his school did not close in time. He is Principal of the Township High School at Burnham, Pa.

'99. Miss Margaret Elliot and Miss Sara Miller have both been teaching in Leechburg the past year.

'99. Miss Mabel Smith is a stenographer at Milroy, Pa. She and her sister, of 1904, both attended the reunion and banquet.

'99. Miss Gertrude Krall has been teaching at Lakewood, N. J. Gertrude was present at the reunion and was looking up old friends.

'99. Mrs. Eleanor McKim Burk and her husband attended the reunion and banquet. Eleanor has but recently left the teaching profession to go into the matrimonial one.

'99. Mr. J. E. Klepper is Supervising Principal of the schools of Montoursville, Pa. He has been very successful in his work there.

'99. Mr. John R. Fogelsanger is in the hardware and tin business at Forest Park, Ill. He regrets that he cannot be present at the reunion, but business prevents his attending.

'99. Mr. J. Irvin Ruff and wife were at Normal over Commencement. Mr. Ruff is owner and proprietor of a drug store in Hummelstown, Pa., and is getting along very nicely.

'99. Mrs. Ella Shearer Roth, of Gettysburg, Pa., spent the Commencement season with us, and both she and Prof. Roth attended the reunion and banquet.

'99. Mr. J. Walter Singmaster is Secretary of the Macungie Brass and Manufacturing Co., of Macungie, Pa.

'99. Miss Nellie J. Stouffer has been teaching for the past three years at Monessen, Pa. Her present address is Dillsburg.

'99. Miss Hester Downs has been teaching in Catasauqua, her home for the past few years.

'99. Miss Jean McCreary, who has taught for two years at Radnor, Pa., resigned in March, to accept a position in Bethlehem, Pa., a ten months' term. Her address is 9 North High St., Bethlehem, Pa.

'99. Mrs. Ellen Deardorff Rife lives at Orrtanna, Pa.

'99. Mr. J. E. French is with the Westinghouse Co. His address is 403 Pitt St., Wilksburg, Pa.

'99. Mrs. Ella Smyser Lighty lives at Lincoln Place, Pa.

'99. Miss Edna Haverstick is located at Sunbury, Pa.

'99. Miss Iva Houston, of Glenn Campbell, spent Commencement week among old friends in Shippensburg.

'99. Mrs. Jennie Alexander Parsons is living at 46 Glasgow St., Cambridge, Md.

'99. Mr. U. L. Allen is doing reportorial work and is Staff photographer on the Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph and Gazette Times. Mr. Allen was present at the reunion and was pleased to see so many old friends.

'99. Miss Phoebe Risser is a nurse in Philadelphia, Pa. Her address is 1854 North 13th St.

'99. Mr. A. D. Hoke is located in Tacoma, Washington, in the employ of the Northwestern Improvement Co. After leaving Normal he took a business course and has been for four years with the above company. Likes the work and the country.

'99. Mrs. Little Evans Hake is living at Manchester, Pa. She was sorry not to be able to attend the reunion and banquet.

'99. Mrs. Sarada McLaughlin Burkholder and husband were present at the reunion and banquet. Mr. Burkholder is a minister at McVeytown.

'99. Mr. J. H. Chubb is a mail clerk in New York. His address is 236 N. 14th St., Harrisburg.

'99. Mr. E. C. Detwiler is in Portland, Oregon, in the employ of the Hazelwood Cream Co. He was sorry not to be able to be present at his class reunion. His address is 674 Johnson St., Portland, Oregon.

'99. Miss Nellie Welker who has been for a number of years in Y. W. C. A. work in Omaha, is at her home in Willow Hill and expects to teach there the coming winter. She was secretary of the class and was present at the reunion.

'99. Mr. J. G. Markey lives at Dover, Pa., R. F. D. 1.

'99. Mr. F. E. Drawbaugh is bookkeeper and receiver for a large transporting company in Philadelphia. After leaving Normal, ten years ago, he took a commercial course, after which he secured his present position, where he has been ever since. Has not been to Normal since '99. His address is 108 North Salford St., Phila., Pa.

'99. Mr. George Hershahn is a mail carrier in Mechanicsburg, Pa. He was present at the reunion and banquet.

'99. Mr. D. J. Brown is a student at the University of Texas, Austin. His address is Box 27, Austin, Texas.

'99. Mr. N. W. Ausherman is in business in San Antonio, Texas.

'99. Mr. C. E. Yost writes from San Diego, California, where he is employed as Inspector in the U. S. Naval Coal Depot. Says it is a beautiful country in the winter when the rain falls, but in summer it is brown and bare.

'99. Mr. G. Herman Smith is living at 421 E. King St., Shippensburg. He taught last winter in Lancaster county. During the summer he is traveling.

'99. Miss Cordella Gray is teaching in the High School at Emporium, and enjoys her work.

'99. Mr. Frank Harman is in the employ of the Westinghouse Company, and his address is Wilmerding, Pa.

'00. Mr. Edward Sheetz is teaching his home school at Carsonville.

'00. Mr. H. B. Raffensberger this year received his degree of Bachelor of Pedagogy from Shippensburg Normal, having completed the work necessary for this degree. We extend congratulations to Mr. Raffensberger. His address is 7035 Bishop St., Chicago, Ill.

'01. Miss Junia Hays taught this year at Penn Valley, Pa.

'02. Mrs. Annie Lukens Shearn writes from Canonsburg that they will shortly move to Harrisburg, Pa., where her husband will be in the employ of the Penna. Steel Co.

'02. Miss Orpha Grubb writes that she has been elected teacher of the Liverpool Grammar School for the fourth term. We are glad to learn she is being so successful with her work.

'02. Miss Elsie Eisenhart is teaching in Ebensburg, Pa.

'02. Miss Mabel K. Shryock is teaching in Los Angeles, California.

'02. Mrs. Ella Holtzinger Edgar is Assistant Principal in Altoona.

'02. We are pleased to learn that Mr. Frank C. Myers, of Bermudian, won the $100 Lynde Prize in the recent debate at Princeton. This prize is an annual one. The question was, "Resolved, That intercollegiate athletics at Princeton should be restricted to the four major sports, namely: football, baseball, track and rowing." President Woodrow Wilson presided. Mr. Myers was the second speaker on the negative side. The HERALD extends congratulations to Mr. Myers.

'03. Mr. G. E. Wineman, who is located in Pittsburg, was home over Commencement time at Newport, Pa.

'04. Miss Mary Foltz writes from Mays Landing, N. J., that she has enjoyed her work at that place very much and has been reelected for the coming year. She renews her HERALD subscription, for which we say "Thank you."

'04. Miss Maude Mason taught the past year in Atlantic City, N. J.

'05. Miss Nellie Foreman has been elected teacher of the Grammar School at Boiling Springs, Pa. Her address is Carlisle, Pa., R. F. D. 6.

'05. We note that Mr. Garry C. Myers is Business Manager of the "Ursinus Weekly."

'05. Mrs. Mary Dinsmore Hoke is living in Chambersburg, Pa.

'06. Mr. R. G. Mowrey writes from Lurgan, Pa.: "I have been elected teacher of my home school for the coming year. This is the third successive term. I shall never regret the time and money spent while attending Normal. It was the best investment I ever made." Normal is always pleased to hear words of praise from her old graduates.

'06. Miss Maude Smith has been elected to the Grammar School at Wellesville for the coming year.

'06. Misses Mary McClellan and Carrie McNaughton are teaching in Altoona, Pa. Their address is 804 6th Ave.

'06. Miss Lillian Bentz writes from Mt. Holly Springs, Pa., that she has just finished her third term there and likes her work. She enclosed her HERALD subscription.

'07. Miss Laura M. Bittinger has been teaching at Table Rock, Pa., for two years. She expects to send one of her students to a Normal School this fall. We hope our school will be his choice. She also sends her HERALD subscription.

'07. Miss Alice J. Walker has been very successful in her teaching at Bridgewater, Pa., and has been re-elected for the coming year.

'07. Miss Pearl Speese goes next year to Somerville, N. J. at an increase in salary. She has third grade work and enjoys it.

'07. Miss Florence Clippinger expects to enter Dickinson College this fall.

'07. Mr. Harry S. Bowman is taking a course at Eastman Business College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. and is enjoying the work very much.

'08. Mr. C. F. Helt was re-elected principal of the grammar school of Conemaugh at a raise of salary for the coming year.

Cupid's Column.

GOSSARD—MARTIN. At Greencastle, June, 1909, Mr. Robert V. Gossard to Miss Kathryn Martin, '07.

WHETSTONE—VINK. At Mt. Holly Springs, Pa., June 2, by Rev. W. W. Sholl, Mr. George H. Whetstone, '05, to Miss Nellie Vink. They will reside in Mt. Holly Springs, where Mr. Whetstone has been principal of the high school for three years and has been re-elected for the coming year.

DIX—SAUBLE. At Hanover, Pa., June 3, by Rev. D. B. Lau, Mr. Charles N. Dix to Miss Carrie Sauble, '08. They will reside in Hampton, Pa., where Mr. Dix is in business.

SANDERS—BAKER. At Fairfield, Pa., by Rev. C. L. Ritter, Mr. Oliver G. Sanders to Miss Cora E. Baker. Miss Baker was a former Normal student. Mr. and Mrs. Sanders reside at Fairfield, Pa.

COOVER—WISE. At Norwood, Pa., March 29, by Rev. A. B. Van Ormer, Mr. Charles Coover to Miss Nancy Wise, '05.

HOFFMAN—GROUP. At State Line, Pa., by Rev. W. R. Burkholder, Mr. Norman K. Hoffman to Miss Jennie M. Group, '01, of Idaville.

BREAM—BREAM. At Harrisburg, May 5, Mr. Guy E. Bream to Miss Carrie E. Bream, '07, of Biglerville.

BURKE—MCKIM. At Dryrun, Pa., by Rev. Camp, Mr. John A. Burke to Miss Eleanor McKim, '99. They will reside at Concord, Pa.

BLAIR—CLINE. At Middle Spring, Pa., June 23, Mr. Jay T. Blair to Miss Mabel Cline. Mr. and Mrs. Blair were both students of Normal a few years ago. They will reside in Orrstown, Pa.

CROLL—DENGLER. At Steelton, Pa., June 23, Mr. Edward Everett Croll to Miss Margie Dengler, '04. They reside at Steelton, Pa.

LEE—MARSHALL. At Fairfield, Pa., June 16, Mr. William Owen Lee to Miss Sabina Marshall, '03. Mr. and Mrs. Lee will be at home in South Fork, Pa., where Mr. Lee is in business.

RICHARDS—MCFARLAND. At Saltsburg, Pa., June 9, Mr. John Irwin Richards to Miss Mabel McFarland, '02. They will be at home after July 15, Saltsburg, Pa.

TAUGHENBAUGH—LINTON. At Gettysburg, Pa., June 23, Rev. Josiah Marshall Linton to Miss Abigail V. Taughenbaugh, '06.

WHITE—STEVENS. At Wilmington, Del., April 12, Mr. Harry Warren White to Miss Isa Felicia Stevens, '02. They reside at No. 26 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

DELP—FANUS. At Idaville, Pa., April 7, Mr. Luther A. Delp to Miss Dora M. Fanus. Miss Fanus was a former Normal student.

MORAN—BINGHAM. At Pleasantville, N. J., Mr. James H. Moran, of Hagerstown, Md., to Miss Clara N. Bingham, '04. They will reside at Hagerstown, Md.

RIDDLESBERGER—MILLS. At Waynesboro, Pa., April 22, Mr. H. H. Riddlesberger, '02, to Miss Ethel Mills. Mr. and Mrs.

Riddlesberger will reside at Waynesboro, Pa., where Mr. R. is employed by the Geysers Mfg. Co.

APPLER—BENNER. At Harrisburg, May 16, by Rev. A. A. Kelley, Mr. I. Willis Appler to Miss Grace Benner, '07.

MARK—NICKLES. At Shippensburg, June 10, by Dr. W. H. Stahler, of Lebanon, Mr. George E. Mark to Miss Mary Nickles, '04.

NACE—KRABER. At Hampton, Pa., July 3, by Rev. Elmer Deitrick, Mr. William H. Nace to Miss Laura V. Kraber, '07. Mr. and Mrs. Nace will reside at Hanover, Pa.

SHOOP—MILLER. At Hummelstown, Pa., June 29, by Rev. D. Burt Smith, Mr. Walter Shoop, of Felton, Cuba, to Miss May Miller, '01. Mr. and Mrs. Shoop will sail for Cuba July 10. Their address will be Felton, Cuba. Mr. Shoop is a civil engineer in the employ of the Spanish American Iron Co.

STOCK—BAKER. At Abbottstown, Pa., June 27, Mr. Claude Stock to Miss Susan Baker. Mr. Stock was a student at Normal last Spring term.

Stork Column.

WALTERS. At Shippensburg, June 9, to Mr. and Mrs. Brady R. Walters, a daughter. Mrs. Walters was Miss Anna Yohe, '00.

SMITH. At Shippensburg, Pa., June 9, to Mr. and Mrs. Brady Smith, a daughter. Mr. Smith was a member of the class of '99.

GANTT. At Newport, Pa., December 2, to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gantt, a son. Mr. Gantt was a member of the class of '95.

WOLFF. At Ellicottville, N. Y., to Rev. and Mrs. J. Shearer Wolff, May 20, 1908, a son. Rev. Wolff was a member of the class of '96. We are late in publishing this note, but have only recently learned of it.

MOWREY. At Lurgan, Pa., June 2, to Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Mowrey, a son. Mr. Mowrey was a member of the class of '06.

LEE. At Bedford, Pa., October, 1908, to Mr. and Mrs. Lee, a son. Mrs. Lee was Miss Blanche Souser, '99. We are also late in publishing this notice, as we have only received it recently.

BASE BALL TEAM, 1909

METZ. At Chambersburg, Pa., March, 1909, to Mr. and Mrs. John L. Metz, a son. Mrs. Metz was Miss Ida Blair, '96.

RICE. At Carlisle, Pa., June 4, to Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Rice, a daughter. Mr. Rice was a member of the class of '02.

MCCANN. At Stephenson, Va., October, 1908, to Mr. and Mrs. McCann, a daughter. Mrs. McCann was Miss Isabel Metz, of '90.

Obituary.

SAMUEL HAAK, '80, died May, 1909.

We have not learned any particulars of Mr. Haak's death. The HERALD extends sympathy to the friends.

BLANCHE PLASTERER, '05, died April 18, 1909.

Miss Plasterer removed several years ago to North Dakota, where she was teaching until compelled to give up her work on account of ill health. She was brought to Shippensburg, her former home, and services held in Grace Reformed Church, of which she was a member.

The HERALD extends its sympathy to the friends.

Baseball.

Our baseball season opened this year with very uncertain prospects. Last year's team was completely broken up, only two of the old players returning this term. The new material that came in proved exceptionally good, however, and we were able to develop a nine capable of playing creditable ball under satisfactory conditions.

Our erratic record for the season is rather puzzling, but may be accounted for largely on the basis of inexperience. The players are all young and have not had the advantage of playing together before the opening of this spring term. Some of our victories were won by playing very smooth, steady baseball, which revealed the presence of first-class material in the team. This fact would not carry much significance were not the personnel of the team composed entirely of Junior and Middle-Year students.

With this same squad returning for the next two or three years, the handicap of inexperience and lack of team work should be, to some extent, overcome, and we expect to see the standard of baseball at the C. V. S. N. S. appreciably raised during succeeding seasons.

In closing our accounts for the season, we wish to thank most sincerely Mr. George Stewart for his assistance in coaching. His work was energetic and vigorous, and of inestimable value in putting spirit and system into our teamwork. We feel certain that all who are interested in the athletics of our school join us in this expression of our appreciation of his assistance. A vote of thanks, too, is in order to those gentlemen from town who were kind enough to umpire the home games for us. The season's scores were as follows:

		Normal.	Opponents.
April 10.	Conway Hall..... At Shippensburg.....	2	7
17.	Mercersburg, 2d..... " Mercersburg.....	0	3
24.	Kutztown " Shippensburg.....	5	10
May 1.	Indian, 2d.....No game.
8.	York Col. Inst.....At Shippensburg.....	10	0
15.	Mercersburg, 2d..... " Shippensburg.....	3	1
29.	Indian, 2d..... " Shippensburg.....	3	9
31.	Chambersburg, Eng..... " Shippensburg.....	3	8
June 12.	Scotland Orphan Sch..... " Shippensburg.....	18	0

MANAGER.

A Valuable Gift.

Mr. F. B. N. Hoffer, class of '85, Mt. Joy, Pa., of whose attainments in botany Normal is so proud, recently presented the Normal School with a collection of two hundred specimens of seeds from plants scattered over a great range of country and comprising sixty-three families. They are stored in small vials, fifty of which fill the walnut cases in which they are kept. The collection is of much value for its uniqueness and also for its scope.

Harduppe—"Er—what was the denomination of that bill you gave me?"

Cutting—"Episcopalian, I think—it keeps Lent so well."

Exchange.

In the numerous exchanges received we notice many have donned new dresses. The Perkiomenite has an attractive business like cover and its contents are most excellent. Paul Myers, a former alumnus of this school, is its able editor.

"The Psalmist to His Pony," a parody on our beautiful 23rd Psalm, in the May issue of the Perkiomenite, may be funny, but is of decidedly questionable taste. Our "sacred literature" should be exempt from such trivial treatment.

We admire the Easter cover of the Indiana Herald.

"I am not much of a mathematician," said the cigarette, "but I add to a youth's nervous troubles. I can subtract from his physical energy. I can multiply his aches and pains, I can divide his mental powers. I can take interest from his chances for success."—Exchange.

"Turn failures into victory
Don't let your courage fade,
And if you get a lemon, why—
Just make the lemon-aid."—Ex.

Bard Luck.

LITTLE BOBBY—"Papa, did you ever see a cyclone carrying houses around up in the air, and cows and horses and wagons upside down?"

PAPA—"No, my son."

LITTLE BOBBY—"Did you ever see a sea-serpent?"

PAPA—"No, my son."

LITTLE BOBBY—"I should think it 'ud be tiresome to live so long and never see anything."—Christian Register.

Hopeless.

NELLE—"Is that fellow of yours ever going to get up the courage to propose?"

BELLE—"I guess not—he's like an hour-glass."

NELLE—"An hour-glass?"

BELLE—"Yes—the more time he gets, the less sand he has."—Cleveland Leader.

The most reliable Book Bindery in Harrisburg.

SCHEFFER

THE PRINTER

Prints Wedding Cards, Name Cards, Tags, Envelopes, Paper, Stock Certificates, School Reports, Statements, Billheads, etc., at short notice.

Book Binder and Stationer

Keep in stock and manufacture to order, Patent Flexible Flat Opening Blank Books, Ledgers, Day Books, Financial Secretary's Ledger, etc. Also binds and rebinds Magazines, Music, Newspapers, Old Books, Sunday School Libraries, Bibles and Hymn Books.

SCHEFFER

PRINTER, BOOK BINDER, STATIONER

21 South 2nd St.

HARRISBURG, PA.