EDITORIAL

In assuming his duties as editor of the Normal School Herald the new editor, who regards his position as a kind of unwished-for legacy, would seek the co-operation of all who are interested in the paper. If any student or member of the faculty who happens to know of a good school joke or an interesting news item will write it out and hand it in, the editor will be glad of the favor. A school paper should reflect the life of the school and be a medium of exchange of personal information concerning its graduates and friends. The aid of all concerned is necessary for success in this direction.

The present editor may say that he will not feel that by virtue of his position he is called upon to give advice to all the world in general and to the school in particular. For he has long since found out that those who give advice usually either have nothing else to give or give nothing else; that advice is the one thing which every incompetent always has an over supply of; that as a gift it is something that nobody wants to receive; that the giver is apt to have a perverted idea about being his brother's keeper and that he must give what he has though of silver and gold he has none; that if a would-be brother's keeper were to see to it first that he keeps himself he would be doing something sensible; that a fool is not to be heard for his much speaking even though wise men seem to be listening; that those whose advice is worth having are not apt to give it for nothing.

An idiot or a genius, each representing an extreme, have, so to speak, no associates. These fail to recognize in those they come in contact with, a consciousness of kind which is the basis of all enjoyable association and of true friendship as well. It is but natural for one to choose the company of those of like intellectual qualities or attainments, disposition or occupation. Therefore, lawyers usually associate with lawyers, physicians with physicians, teachers with teachers, and students with students.

Among students, however, at least in the beginning of student life, the recognition of kind may be considered as being merely in an incipient stage. Nevertheless, the mere fact of their coming together for study shows the operation of impulses in common. The tendency of the training, in whatever institution, is to strengthen this idea or feeling of like-mindedness during this impressible period of life. Indeed, so well is this done usually, that at graduation each student is almost as if fashioned by a common mould. Of course, some have more power of resistance than others but in general the conditions under which one lives and the associates he has tell what he is or what he is becoming. Although the strong may not be greatly changed, the weak are transformed. Many a gambler or drunkard, who if at the parting of the ways, had had proper associates would have been respectable, if weak, members of society.

Hence the necessity that an institution of learning refuse to tolerate the presence of any student of doubtful or questionable character, or anything that may militate against the general well being, if it aims to be what it should be, a living expression of the higher things of the world.

For several years we have heard so much about Monkhonk Conferences, Hague Tribunals, Federation of the World, Brotherhood of Man, Universal Peace, that we would think the millenium was almost here. The likable, well meaning propogandists or exploiters of these ideals, dreams, illusions, have lately had a rude awakening. To the historian or the social philosopher these phantastic world-arrangers must appear amusing. The fact, however, that so many men of high position, or of great ability in some fields, seem to be carried away with these ideas causes such questions to be considered with respect by men in general. Nevertheless, it is hardly reasonable to expect human nature to be changed by a few peace treaties it matters not how impressive or inspiring the ceremonies of signing. What has been from the beginning of the world is not likely to be done away with in the twinkling life of a dreamer of dreams. When the sun fails to rise wars will cease.

A LETTER FROM THE PRINCIPAL

My dear Alumnus:

It is very gratifying to me to be able to report that Old Normal opened the first week of September with a registration fifty per cent. in advance of that of last fall. Everywhere there is evidence of the active aid and co-operation of the Alumni. Through the efforts of Supt. Reber, Waynesboro High School is represented by nine of its graduates. Our thanks are due to Supt. Wagner and Principal Briner for their active support—and we must not forget another loyal Alumnus, Mr. J. Clyde Zeigler. As a result of their efforts we have nine graduates of their High school at Normal. Prof. Ralph Jacoby sent us four of his graduates from Mechanicsburg and our Lykens Valley Alumni sent us five students from that thriving section. We want to thank those of our graduates who are far removed from the school for their interest. As a result we have students from the extreme western part of the State, from Maryland and from Virginia. The Franklin County Alumni gave a good account of itself by sending us so large a body of new students that Franklin county leads in the number of boarding students. Adams and Cumberland counties are closely grouped for second place, and York, Dauphin, and Fulton report increased representation. The Juniata Valley is represented by a number of new students.

Our local Alumni showed their interest by sending us the largest body of day students enrolled in the history of the school. In fact we are not only numerically strong, but we have a fine body of earnest, aggressive young men and women.

We are already planning for the spring term. We expect to have a banner enrollment at that time, as a large number of students have already engaged rooms. We shall organize new classes suited to the needs of those who wish to secure a better provisional certificate or who expect to teach for the first time. We shall also have special classes for those students who are looking forward to advanced classification. It will be possible for such students to complete all or a part of the work of the first or second year. These classes will be almost entirely in the hands of the regular members of the faculty.

A large number of students will enter at the beginning of the winter term. Where it is possible for a new student to do so, we would strongly urge entrance at this term rather than at a later one.

Our new model school is now an assured fact. The contract for completing the building has been let and carpenters, plumbers, steam fitters and plasterers will be busily at work by the time this letter is published, getting the building ready for occupancy on January 1. Not only will the Model School have splendid quarters but we will be able to use that part of the building now used by the Model School to great advantage. We shall move our Commercial Department to that part of the building and will have a finely equipped place for typewriting, stenography and banking.

I am especially glad to report that there has never been a time when our graduates have been so greatly in demand as they now are. I could have used more than fifty male graduates of our school during the months of June and July if they had been available for positions in high schools, and as high school principals. I am glad to report that a number of our women graduates have been elected to high school principalships. There is no reason why those women who are well equipped by scholarship and experience should not hold these positions. I hope during the coming year to come into still closer touch with all of our Alumni so that it will be possible for me to be of still more material assistance to you in the future. I hope to see many of you personally during the year as I shall aim to visit as many of the Alumni meetings as possible. Elsewhere I shall have a few words to say to the officers of these Associations about the meetings for the coming fall.

Again thanking you for your work for and unselfish interest in your Alma Mater, I am,

Fraternally yours,

Ezra Lehman.

A FEW THINGS THAT WE NEED AT NORMAL

We are anxious to encourage debating, public speaking, essay and short story writing at the Normal. To stimulate interest in these subjects we would like to be able to offer a series of small prizes either in money, medals or books. We take this method of appealing to our Alumni either as individuals or through the county or class organizations. We shall be glad to receive sums of money from five dollars up to be used as the donors indicate. A list of such prizes with the names of the donors will be published from time to time in the Herald and in the Catalogue. Who will be the first to start the ball rolling?

There is a fine place for a big clock in the tower of the administration building. We need a clock that can be seen at a considerable distance, and if possible one that strikes or rings the hours. We appeal to some public spirited Alumnus to give us a clock to be known by his or her name.

We have a fair collection of statuary but there are many pieces that we should like to possess. Unfortunately we find the funds at our command rather low. None of our Alumni need feel at all backward about offering a donation of this kind as we shall be only too glad to receive it.

FACULTY NOTES

The Herald regrets to announce that Prof. A. B. Wallize, for the past three years head of the English Department, tendered his resignation last July to accept the Head of the English Department in the Johnstown City High School. Prof. Wallize's resignation was deeply regretted by the faculty and students, but all congratulate him on his selection as the Head of a department in one of the largest high schools of the State. Not only was Prof. Wallize a very successful teacher but his influence for good was felt in all the departments of the school. He organized and directed the work of the Press Club last year, promoted the study of good literature by encouraging the pupils to commit a section of good poetry or prose every day, and was the editor of the Herald. He was also very active in the athletic department of the school and as Field Manager of the baseball association last year proved his business ability. Both Prof. and Mrs. Wallize will be missed in Shippensburg's educational and church organizations.. The best wishes of all go with them in their new home.

Dr. Winfield H. Collins has been elected as Prof. Wallize's successor. Dr. Collins is a man of wide experience as a teacher and has enjoyed excellent scholastic opportunities. He was graduated at Western Maryland College and later took a course in the graduate school of Yale University, specializing in English and History. His work there won the endorsement of Profs. Cross, Cook, Wheeler, Bourne and Sumner under whom he worked. He has taught as principal of the Frederica, Del., High School, also in the Southern Female College at LaGrange, Ga., at Liberty College, Glasgow, Ky., and at Kansas City University. His publication on Domestic Slavery in the South has been highly endorsed by students of that phase of history. Dr. Collins is unmarried and will reside in the dormitories.

Miss Ida Sitler resigned her position as Teacher of Biology to accept the Head of the Department of Biological Sciences in Lake Erie College, Painville, Ohio. Miss Sitler proved herself an earnest progressive teacher while at the Normal and her resignation was accepted with regret by the Board of Trustees. The best wishes of the faculty and students accompany her in her new field of labor.

The position vacated by Miss Sitler has been filled by the election of Miss Cora F. Macy, of Pulaski, N. Y. Miss Macy is a graduate of the Pulaski High School and of Syracuse University. Her major work was done in Biology and she is at the present time specializing in that department for the A. M. degree. So meritorious was her work while at college that she was awarded the Woods Holl Scholarship. She holds a first class training school and college graduate professional certificate issued by N. Y. State. She comes to us with the highest endorsements from those who have known of her work and has already made a very favorable impression upon the faculty and the students.

Miss Ellen P. Hubbell leaves Normal after completing successfully the unfinished term of Miss Wheeler. Miss Hubbell was an earnest teacher, always interested in the progress of her classes.

Miss Rachel Jones comes to us as Miss Hubbell's successor. Miss Jones resides at Scranton, Pa., and is of Welsh descent and she inherits all the musical ability of her race. She is the daughter of Prof. W. W. Jones, Supervisor of Music at Scranton and has thus enjoyed exceptional advantages in music. Miss Jones is a woman of pleasing personality and has already won the student body to her and to her work. She is an excellent vocalist herself and has aroused very much interest in her subject.

NORMAL NOTES

The expectations of the principal and the faculty as to the attendance have been more than realized. The registration of boarding boys is in excess of that expected and that of girls fully up to the advance enrollment. Especially gratifying was the increased enrollment of day students which is the largest for any fall term in the history of the school. Under the principalship of Dr. Ezra Lehman the school has certainly gained rapidly in every department.

The first reception of the new term was given by the faculty to the students Saturday evening, September 5. Games were provided in the parlor for those who did not care to dance. Flinder's orchestra from Chambersburg, furnished the music.

Miss Harris began the new term by doing institute work. She addressed the teachers of Adams county at Gettysburg, Pa., on the subject of Primary Arithmetic and the teachers of York county at York, Pa., on the subject of Reading and Phonics. At both places she was pleased to greet many former graduates and assure them of the Model School's continued interest in their work and welfare.

On August 22 Dr. Lehman addressed the Carlisle Teacher's Institute on the subject "The Mastery of English"; the Altoona City Institute, September 3; and the Greencastle Chautauqua on September 12, on the subject "Unused Material in Education." He also made an address at the Harvest Home service held in the Evangelical church at Jacksonville, September 20; and an address at the special services at the United Brethren church in Shippenburg, September 27.

One of the students to enroll this year was Miss Helen Ausherman, of Franklin county. Miss Ausherman is the ninth of her family to attend Normal. Six of her brothers and sisters are graduates of the school, and two others were students here. This is probably the best record for any one family in the annals of the Normal School.

Miss Elsie Beck, of Camp Hill, a member of the present Senior Class, was operated upon for appendicitis in the Harrisburg hospital, September 3. Her many friends at Normal are rejoiced to know that the operation was successful and that Miss Beck hopes to be able to continue her work at Normal in the not distant future.

Late in August Dr. Lehman received the following telegram from Superintendent Samuel Hamilton, Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, Pa.: "Allegheny county needs 45 more teachers at good salaries. If you have any graduates who want positions have them telegraph me at once." So great has been the demand for graduates of the school this season that the Principal has been unable to furnish anything like the number required. This record speaks well for the work done at Normal.

Mrs. Lehman gave an informal porch party to the faculty of the Normal, September 3.

Prof. Heiges gave two addresses at the local institute in his home town, Dillsburg, on Saturday, September 26.

Saturday evening, September 12, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. tendered a reception to the new students of the school. Everything passed off very pleasantly. The program was made up of acting charades representing book titles, and a guessing game in which Normal Celebrities appeared. Miss Jones charmed everybody with her singing. She was forced to respond to several encores. The most amusing feature of the entertainment was a skit entitled "Way Down South in Dixie", in which twelve of the girls appeared as genuine black faced negro mammies who sang plantation melodies to the gratification of everybody. The refreshments were of a very high type and were served in a most appetizing fashion.

Professor and Mrs. Levan spent Saturday and Sunday, September 19 and 20, with friends near Carlisle.

Dr. Charles Reed, of Towanda, spent Friday evening, September 25, with Prof. J. K. Stewart.

Eight graduates of the Carlisle High School entered the Junior Class this fall; and Waynesboro has nine in the Junior and Senior classes.

A FEW WORDS FROM THE PRINCIPAL

To the Officers and Members of the County Alumni Associations:

I want to congratulate the Alumni Associations on the success of their efforts for their Alma Mater. We have at present nine county or city organizations. I hope to be able to meet with nearly all of these organizations during the year, but it may be that because of conflicting dates I may not be able to meet with all of you. There are a few questions that are of practical importance to all of us that I am anxious to have considered by the Alumni Associations at their coming meetings.

The first of these is the question of the abolition of the State Board Examinations. The Normal School Principals' Association is considering the question of doing away with these examinations. What is your view in the matter? Do you believe that the State Board Examinations subserve any useful purpose? If they are abolished what do you believe would be a satisfactory substitute for them? Would inspection by a Board of Superintendents be satisfactory?

A second question that I wish you to consider is whether it is advisable for the Alumni body to adopt a school badge or pin, uniform for all classes so that it could be at once recognized whenever seen. We have more than 2500 Alumni scattered all over the country. Some of our Alumni believe that we ought to have a pin or badge that could be worn by all our graduates thus enabling them to recognize one another whenever they meet. Please consider this question and if possible recommend some badge or device that you deem suitable. It might be well to appoint a delegate to represent your Association at a meeting to be held at Normal next commencement.

A third proposition offered for your consideration is that of raising an Alumni fund, to be used in laying out a running track on the athletic field. A committee was appointed at the last commencement to take up this question. The committee is anxious to proceed but it awaits suggestions from the different Associations. If each Association should pledge a certain amount for this or any other purpose the committee would be able to go ahead during the year and have everything in readiness for the next Alumni Reunion.

These are three important questions on which the management of the school is desirous of having your opinion. We shall appreciate their action if the secretaries of the Associations will see to it that these matters are brought to the attention of the Associations at their meetings.

Finally, I hope that all the Associations may have very successful meetings and that in those counties where no such organization exists some of our Alumni will arrange for a meeting looking to such an organization. If I am unable to be with you at your banquets I want you to realize that I am there in spirit and wish you still greater success in all your labors.

Y. M. C. A.

We are very fortunate in having all the members of last year's cabinet with us this year. Pres. J. F. Slaybaugh, '16; Vice Pres. Gilbert Quickel, '16; Secretary Glenn A. Lehman, '16; Treas. J. Roy Hoke, '15; Assist. Sec. Harvey J. Becher, '16.

The annual informal party was held on the first Friday evening of the term. The evening was spent in playing games and hearing addresses by members of the faculty. After the speeches and games refreshments were served. The purpose of this reception is to extend a hand of welcome to all new students.

The first religious meeting on Sunday evening, Sept. 6, proved very successful. Our President, Mr. Slaybaugh, gave a very good talk on "Decision." Profs. J. S. Heiges and H. W. Snyder also made some very impressive remarks on the subject. The meeting was dismissed with prayer offered by Dr. Ezra Lehman.

The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. organizations met in joint session on Sept. 13. The meeting was addressed by Rev. A. B.

Van Ormer, of the Lutheran church of Shippensburg, who, as usual, gave one of his very interesting talks. The students all are sorry to learn that Dr. Van Ormer has accepted a call to one of the large churches in Altoona, Pa.

Messrs. Gilbert Quickel and J. Roy Hoke, the delegates to the Northfield Students' Conference, made their report at the third meeting, Sept. 20. It proved to be entertaining and instructive. By having the report made early in the year we believe greater interest will be taken in the work, as the inspiration is before the students for the ensuing year.

The two organizations have arranged for the annual play to be given on Thanksgiving evening. The proceeds as usual will be used to further the work of these Christian Societies.

Glenn A. Lehman, '16, Secretary.

Y. W. C. A.

The girls who were here last year, returned again this fall very enthusiastic over this year's work. They at once started to co-operate with the cabinet and with Him who leads us to make this year be successful and stand out from all the former years.

The attendance at our Sabbath evening devotional meetings has been very encouraging. The meetings have been led by members of the cabinet. We have not taken any particular course of study for the meetings but each leader selects her topic, and references, and thus individually enters into the meetings. This helps to make them more interesting.

We are planning to have the reports of the Eagles Mere conference given at the meetings during fall term, and to have one delegate report at a meeting.

We are very glad to say that the chairman of our Membership Committee has visited all the new girls, and that she has secured all the girls except four as members of our Association. We hope that the new members will be interested in the work, and will do all they can to make the year a success.

Before our Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. reception, the social committee went to each girl's room and invited her to attend the reception. This was done so that the new girls would be encouraged to go and enjoy the evening.

When we returned to school this fall we were very sorry to find that our advisory board had been changed. At the same time we were very glad to welcome Miss Wylie, Miss Jones and Miss Alice Huber on the board. We feel sure that they will give us many helpful suggestions.

Our Vice President, Miss Ada Lehman, and our Treasurer, Miss Maudleen Stevens, could not return to school this year, so at a meeting of the cabinet we elected Miss Florence Winterstein, '15, vice president, and Miss Elizabeth McNeal, '15, treasurer.

Now with the help and guidance of our Master, we expect to have a year's work that is overflowing with enthusiasm and interest.

Pres. Margaret A. Lerew, '15.

NORMAL LITERARY SOCIETY

The new school year has begun with renewed vigor and zeal by Normal Literary Society. One of the strongest points of the Society is, that every one prepares and renders his or her part cheerfully and willingly. The attendance is good and great interest is manifested in the work.

The constitution of the society is strictly enforced, especially the provision with reference to the one dollar initiation fee. As a consequence there is a sum of money in the treasury.

The society received a large number of new members this year. As some of them are very talented, an interesting and profitable year is indicated.

The Normal Literary Society is always glad to have former members visit it and give it the benefit of anything they have gathered from their experience and observation that they may think helpful.

Nannie Williams, '15, Secretary.

PHILOMATHEAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The school year of 1914-15 opened with the enrollment of many new members, thus increasing our membership roll to one hundred forty one members.

We were glad to welcome all the new members and hope they will find our society not only interesting but also instructive.

Our first meeting of the year was held Friday, September the fourth. It was well attended and the spirit was remarkably good. The work as a whole is comparatively the same as in former years.

The members of our society are putting forth every effort to make Philo Society a success. So let us all work together until we reach this goal of "Success" not only in society but in our every day lives.

Margaret E. Famous, '16, Secretary.

THE PRESS CLUB

Since we have returned to school, the Press Club has again resumed its work. With last year's outgoing Seniors, we lost several members from our Club. We miss very much those who were active with us but we hope that the work will be carried on just as enthusiastically this year as it was last year. In fact, already, a number of new members have been enrolled in the club.

We lost our Club President through graduation. At a meeting of the club, held September 11, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, J. Roy Mathias, '15; Vice President, J. Campbell Coons, '15; Secretary, Gertrude E. Brandt, '15; Assistant Secretary, Carrie M. Smith, '15; Curator, Margaret A. Lerew, '15; Assistant Curator, Verna M. Myers, '16; Reporter to the Principal, Harvey J. Becher, '16; and Reporter to the Herald, Walter E. Shank, '16.

Last year Prof. A. B. Wallize was the Club's advisor and we feel that although we shall miss him in our work, we have been very fortunate in having Dr. Lehman to take his place. Dr. Lehman has always been very much interested in our work and we are sure that we shall have a most successful year's work with him to guide us.

What are you, Alumni, thinking of us? Do you think we are self-sufficient? Well, we're not and we want your help. We are always glad to receive suggestions from the outside world and we must look to you for them. In considering us and your connection with us, do not forget our motto: "For the good of the School."

Carrie M. Smith, '15.

DEPARTMENT OF VOCAL MUSIC

A number of young ladies have registered to study voice, others have expressed their intentions of taking up this line of work later.

Before the final recital in June, these students will be given opportunity to appear in public, by taking part in the monthly musicales given in the parlors.

The Normal and Philo Glee Clubs are doing good work. In both clubs there are some very fine voices, also good music readers. May the interest in this work not only continue, but increase.

DEPT. OF INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

The increased number of students in the school this fall has affected this department most favorably.

Fifty music students have registered in this department at this early date.

The first meeting of the Music Club will be held the second week in October. We hope to have these musicales regularly throughout the year to afford the music pupils an opportunity of acquiring ease in playing in public.

ATHLETICS

The prime factor of life is physical condition and this factor nowhere plays a more prominent part than in the life of a student. Good health is essential to the scholar in order to counteract the strain of study and teaching. Active participation in outdoor athletics is a splendid means of improving the physique and condition of the body. No form of outdoor athletics offers as many opportunities and possibilities as track and field sports. C. V. S. N. S. today aims to be a progressive Normal School, consequently we note the effort now being made by those in charge of the athletic activities to arouse interest and enthusiasm in the track work. Prof. Snyder, the Physical Director, called a meeting of all the boys to discuss plans for the organization of a School Athletic Association and to also create interest in an inter-class meet to be held some time in October. Speeches were made by Dean Heiges and Prof. Snyder outlining the plans in mind toward greater athletic activity at Normal. A goodly number of the boys expressed their willingness to enter events for an inter-class meet. Practice was inaugurated the following day and the meet is assured. This is to be a preliminary to a more important meet in the Spring. Prof. Snyder was empowered to appoint a committee to draw up a constitution and by-laws for an athletic organization and appointed Grove, Frehn and Packer from the senior class, Mellinger and Slaybaugh, junior class, and Wolf, sophomore. This committee will consult with Professors Heiges and Snyder of the Faculty.

In the effort being made to foster track athletics the hearty and substantial co-operation of the Alumni is sought and needed. We appeal to all to get out your bellows and turn the draft on the embers of your old school spirit and arouse it into a flaming fire to burn ever brighter before the Penates of your old school. Everybody push and pull and we will arrive.

Basketball practice will begin as soon as the track meet is over. Prospects are exceedingly bright for a winning team. All of last year's Varsity are in school as well as all members of last year's Reserves. In addition there will be a number of new members trying for positions so there is every evidence of a very active and successful season, barring injuries and sickness. Prof. Snyder will again coach the team and is also arranging basketball songs and new yells. If you have any ability in that line send the words of your song or your yell to Prof. Snyder and it will be appreciated.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

The outlook for the commercial department at this writing is very encouraging. A number of new students enrolled for the course at the beginning of the Fall Term, September the first, and several students from the Normal Department took up Special Work, Typewriting especially, and are doing creditable work at the machine. Shorthand students who enrolled April the first have completed the twelfth lesson in the Gregg Manual, and are now capable of writing at a fair rate of speed, and of reading their notes readily. With the completion of the Model School building, January the first, giving us increased facilities, we hope for a larger enrollment, and will use all the means at our command for placing the department on a basis that will compare favorably with the best commercial schools in the country.

TO YOUNG MEN

"If young men could understand what it means to associate with tactful and resourceful business men, to take their dictation, to write their thoughts, to think, to work, to invent, to plan, to execute, in complete accord with that which is brightest and best in business life, they would not hesitate to prepare for a stenographic position.

Now for the opportunities. Everyone knows that the young man who understands shorthand and typewriting can start out at a salary double that of one who is ignorant of these branches. And this in only the smallest part of his advantages. The other one usually has to start as an office boy or in some other obscure position where he learns little or nothing of the business; the stenographer invariably does work which if he is ambitious and wide-awake, will make him familiar with the business in a very short time.

The young man who imagines that the opportunities of the present day are fewer than those of other years is deceiving himself. The opportunities are greater than they ever were. The conditions only are more exacting. The world today demands special training; for the untrained or the unready it has no use. To the young man, therefore, we say: be ready, learn stenography and typewriting and then you will be prepared to embrace the opportunity when it comes!

Our Special Course would make you proficient.

This school promises what it can do and no more, and then does what it promises. Ask any former student.

Our greatest satisfaction comes from the consciousness that our school is helping young persons help themselves.

ALUMNI PERSONALS

'79. Dr. J. P. Garber, assistant superintendent of the Philadelphia schools has been named as successor to Dr. Brumbaugh for the superintendency of the Philadelphia City schools. Dr. Garber is a native of Cumberland County.

'83. We are glad to come in touch with Mrs. Emma Walters Wingerd. For a number of years we did not have her address in our catalogue. She is living in Duluth, Minn., is housekeeper at the Hotel Holland. Mrs. Wingerd is talking of entering her son at Normal some time in the future.

'91. Prof. C. A. Deardorff, formerly of Gettysburg, now of Lyndon, Kansas, and Supt. of Osage County schools, was recently unanimously elected chairman of the Kansas State Conference of County Superintendents.

'86. Miss Laura Staley had charge of the Music Department at State College this summer during the summer school there. She was very successful in her work there and we have heard many complimentary things said of her and her work. In another "Personal" we have quoted from a letter received from State College in regard to her work|

'91. Miss Anne M. Hake, who taught for a number of years in Gettysburg, is now Supervisor of Art in the Tyrone schools and teaches the same subject in the High School there.

'92. Miss Nettie Dunahugh is teaching Middleburg Primary school, Franklin county.

'96. Mr. A. S. McDowell is teaching Hallowell school in Franklin county.

'96. On August 18, Prof. E. M. Balsbaugh, who has been Principal of the schools of Lebanon for the past seven years, was elected to the position of superintendent to succeed Prof. E. W. Robbins.

'96. Mr. W. C. Donnelly of 5230 Columbia Ave., Phila., is Inspector of U. S. Customs.

'97. Mrs. Drucie King Beaver, of 326 S. Church St., Waynesboro, Pa., was with us during the Commencement season and was very much pleased with the many improvements she saw around the Normal.

'97. We have an interesting letter from Dr. J. O. Brown, of East Lynn, Mo., and are pleased to give it in part to our readers. Dr. Brown says: "I am pleased to have the Bulletin and Herald but it caused me to feel sad in looking at the faculty picture to see so many strange faces and only two with whom I was acquainted. Since leaving Normal I have graduated from the Dental Dept. of the Barnes University of Missouri, and later from the Medical Department of the Barnes University of St. Louis. I practiced medicine and dentistry in St. Louis until my wife's health failed, when I was compelled to take her to the country. I was married in the fall of '97. I then resigned the school I was teaching to enter Baltimore Medical College where I received my D. D. S. degree. In St. Louis I have since taken special work on diseases of the eye and refraction. How I wish I could see you and take a look at the grounds and buildings. I would like to have my boy enter Normal some time. He will finish 9th grade work this year. I am in the field where the Ungers and James boys used to live and you would be surprised at the friends they have left behind. Wishing you much success in your work, I am,

Yours respectfully,
J. O. Brown, M. D., D. D. S."

'93. We have received the following letter from Mr. J. F. Hoch, of Nickerson, Kansas.

"I received a three year Kansas state certificate a few days ago. This will be merged into a life certificate at the end of that time if I fulfill the requirements. I am certainly very grateful to you and others who may have helped me to procure it. I shall be at Protection, Kans., next year. Protection is about one hundred and fifty miles southwest of Neckerson. They have a four year high school course. There are five teachers in the grades and four in the high school. I shall receive $120 per month for my work.

Ralph Koons, of your '05 class, will be principal at Part-ride, a small town twelve miles south of Nickerson. They also maintain a four year high school and will pay him $90 per month for his work. He has done well during the two years that he has been in this state.

Under separate cover I am sending you one of our County Superintendents Year Books. This may give you some idea of the schools in Kansas, or rather in this county. Of course we believe they are a little better than in most places in Kansas.

I shall teach in the County Normal Institute, which will be held in Hutchinson during June. This will be my fourth year in this institute.

Hoping this may find you and yours enjoying a season of prosperity, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
J. F. Hoch.

'13. Mr. Tom O. Bradley is in Cresswell, N. C., attending school.

'00. We were very sorry to learn that on September 26 the home of Mrs. A. B. Fuller (Miss Liberty Hayes) of Bantam, Conn., was completely destroyed by fire with nearly all the contents. Mrs. Fuller discovered the house next door was burning and gave the alarm. In less than ten minutes fire in their own home and the intense heat drove them out.

'98. Mrs. Leota Pittman was a Commencement visitor this year. She has not been at Normal for a number of years. Is living at Smithfield, Pa., R. D.

'98. Mrs. Bessie Phiel was with us over Commencement this year. She is living in Chambersburg.

'98. Prof. Raymond Gettel, who expected to teach this year in the University of Texas, has received an offer to teach Social and Political Science at Amherst College, which he has accepted, so he will not go to Texas. Prof. Gettel and family will live at 63 South Pleasant St., Amherst, Mass.

'99. The Personal Editor had a very delightful visit with Dr. and Mrs. Guy Zimmerman over a week end this summer. Dr. Zimmerman is practicing at Lehmaster, Pa.

'99. Miss Amanda Kerr, who has been a missionary in India for several years, is home on a furlough this year. She is living at present at 252 Franklin street, Carlisle.

'00. Miss Marietta Menear is teaching the Grammar school in Dillsburg this year.

'00. Mr. Herbert L. Creamer is teaching in the High School at Atlantic City, N. J. He spent part of the summer at his home near Shippensburg.

'00. Mrs. Belle Nickum Michener was so well pleased when she was here at Commencement time that she had her Herald marked up for four years. She lives at Duncannon, Pa.

'01. We have a note from Mr E. I. Cook, Orville, California, requesting a catalogue of the Normal. He does not state in what he is engaged. We would be glad to hear what he is doing.

'98. We clip the following letter from Miss Edith Strite from a Greencastle paper, the Echo-Pilot, as we think it will interest many of our readers.

CLIMBED MT. RAINIER

Miss Edith M. Strite Had Interesting Experience in Ascending Mountain Peak

Greencastle friends of Miss Edith M. Strite, formerly of town, who has been engaged in teaching in the State of Washintgon, the past two years, will be interested to learn that Miss Strite recently ascended Mt. Rainier, the highest peak in the United States, a feat which has been accomplished by few women; indeed, so difficult is the ascent that Miss Strite had difficulty in persuading the guides to accept her as a member of the party.

In writing to her sisters and brother here of her exploit Miss Strite tells an interesting story of the ascent from which this paper is privileged to publish the following excerpts:

"I just came back from Rainier; it is the most wonderful place in the world and every moment there was exciting. I really climbed to the summit, a stunt which very few women have accomplished. We left camp at 11 p.m., four men, a guide and myself; we climbed with a lantern until 3 o'clock in the morning when the sun began to rise, and we continued climbing until noon. As you probably know, Rainier is 14,408 feet high, the highest peak in the United States, excepting Alaska.

"For eight miles we climbed over glaciers, crevasses, moraines, and rocky pinnacles, every step of the way being extremely dangerous; a single mis-step or a rolling stone would have meant a sheer drop of several thousand feet, if you didn't drop into a crevasse the first slide. It was cold and windy so that one had to hold to rocks sometimes to keep from blowing off.

"At the very top is the old volcanic crater, which is still hot and the snow is melted off from it continuously. It was great fun to lie in the crater for an hour's rest and get warmed up. There are spots in the crater which are so hot that one can be scalded by steam.

"The guide fitted us out in togs all alike, heavy trousers, heavy woollen stockings so big I had to wear a No. 7 shoe to get it over them; the shoes come to my knees and the soles had calks an inch long to prevent slipping; then we wore lumberjack coats, heavy gloves and carried alpenstocks; our faces were all painted with white paint and we wore goggles on account of the effects of the sun on the ice, which is very hard on the eyes and blisters one's face if not painted.

"The altitude and looking down on the snow peaks below usually makes people very sick but I did not even feel dizzy, though the rest of the party, excepting the guide and one boy were made quite ill and dizzy.

"In all that hard climb all that the guide would let us eat was a hardtack or two, an orange and an occasional sip from a bottle of weak, cold tea which he carried; and we were mighty glad when drinking time came, to take turns drinking from the bottle, just one swallow, when I was thirsty enough to drink a gallon. He said, however, that food, at that altitude, would have made us ill, and, indeed, the little the men of the party ate came up.

"Taking it all through it was the most wonderful experience I ever had.

"By the way, the first day we were at "the Camp of the Clouds," in Paradise Valley, a party of men came down from the summit, dressed in the climbing togs and we were nearly watching them wash the paint from their faces when what was my surprise to recognize one of them as Dr. Barton."

'05. Dr. James B. Eldon, who graduated as an Osteopathic physician last June is practicing now at 2024 N. 12th St., Phila., Pa.

'05. Miss Ella M. Stuart is assistant principal of the schools at Glenwood, N. J.

'05. Miss Fannie Lefevre goes this year again to Bridgeton, N. J.

'06. Miss Hattie Myers is teaching at Hasbrouck Heights, N. J.

'06. Mr. R. G. Mowrey is again Principal of the Quincy High School.

'06. Miss Edith Myers is teaching at Enola, Pa., third and fourth grade.

'07. Mr. Geo. H. Richwine is at Salisbury, Md.

'07. Mrs. Lulu Brinkerhoff Judd, of Utica, N. Y., visited her relatives in Shippensburg during the summer. She was accompanied by her little daughters, Winifred and Doris May.

'07. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Geiss have gone west recently. They first went to Pendleton, Oregon, to teach, but later went to Weston, Oregon, at an increase of salary. Mr. Geiss is a graduate of the class of '06 and Mrs. Geiss was Miss Cora Eby, '07. We are glad to print a letter received recently by the Personal Editor in which Mrs. Geiss tells us about the schools in that section.

"Received the Normal Herald and Catalogue today and was very much pleased to receive them, so much so that we straightway took the catalogue to the County Supt., Mr J. E. Young, of Umatilla Co. He was so much pleased with it that he asked to keep it for a week, so I just told him to keep it for always. He was very much pleased with it. So would you kindly send me another one. You see Mr. Young was formerly from Penna. He came from the California State Normal Pa. We met a number of Pennsylvanians out here; they all seem to be on the top. Umatilla County is a very large as well as a very rich county; just plain country schools command the following wages: ranch schools with three to four pupils, $65; schools of six to eight pupils, $70; and twenty or so pupils, $100. Weston, the place where Mr. Geiss and I are going to teach has a population of 500; has a four-year high; employs 11 teachers. But will close.

Lovingly your friend,

Cora E. Geiss,
Weston, Ore."

Umatilla Co.,

'07. Miss Alice J. Walker will teach this winter in the schools of Newport, Pa.

'07. Mr. James E. Cook is in Evanston, Wyoming. We presume he is teaching but do not have definite information.

'07. Mr. John Harlacher is Principal of the Hamilton Building, Harrisburg.

'08. The following is a letter from Mr. D. C. Noonan to Prof. Heiges, the business manager of the Herald:

"I have just received the last issue of the Herald and am glad to note the successes at Normal of individuals and the school as a whole. The addition of a new Model School building to the equipment, a longer course and the new departments, especially Manual Training, show a decidedly progressive spirit.

The successes of this year's Basket Ball team show that the athletic spirit still predominates at C. V. S. N. S. To be personal I might state the knowledge I gained of that game stands me in good stead. Last year I turned out a championship team and to date this year we have won every game and are in line for the championship of the Big Bend country.

Last week I received a Life Certificate from the Supt. of Public Instruction, Henry B. Dewey, based on my Normal diploma, an examination and successful work done in this state. Since coming here the Board of Education has built a new high school building, introduced a science department, manual training and agriculture, bought new equipment, and lastly the state has accredited our high school.

Find enclosed twenty-five cents for a year's subscription to the Herald. Trusting that good luck and progress will be with Normal always, I am,

Very truly yours,

Denny C. Noonan, "1908."

'07. Miss Myrtle Mayberry is Assistant Principal at Dillsburg, Pa.

'07. Mr. P. J. Weibe received his A. B. degree at Lordsburg College, California, last June. This year he is taking a post-graduate course at Pomona College, Claremont, Cal. He sends a quarter for his Herald and best wishes to Normal, also a postal with picture of Lordsburg College, for which we say "Thank you."

'08. Miss June LeFevre, who is teaching in California, was home during the summer for a visit.

'08. Miss Elizabeth Huston is teaching at Carnegie, Pa.

'08. Prof. Roy D. Knouse is principal at Littlestown, Pa.

'08. Mr. Bruce Fahs has been re-elected as principal at South Fork at an increase of fifteen dollars per month.

'08. Mr. M. A. Hess who graduated last June at Ursinus College, goes to Tamaqua, Pa., in the high school.

'08. Dr. Raymond Pearson who has been practicing dentistry in Bloomsburg, for the past year has joined the medical corps of the U. S. Army. Dr. Pearson went to Fort Slocum about Easter and took the examination which covered a period of five days. Out of a class of eleven only two passed. Dr. Pearson will hold the rank of Second Lieutenant and will receive a salary of $1800 a year for three years and regular advancement from that date. His address at present is Dr. R. W. Pearson, Dental Surgeon U. S. Army, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

'08. Miss Janet Myers is taking work in Education and Chemistry at the University of Chicago. Her address is 5718 Dorchester Ave., Chicago, Ill.

'09. Miss Hulda Bender will teach the B Intermediate school in Dillsburg.

'10. Mr. J. A. Kell is Principal of the high school at Spruce Creek, Pa. Last spring he sent us two students who did good work.

'09. The Personal Editor received a letter a short time ago from Mr. Juan S. Igartua of Quebradillas, Porto Rico, in which he says he is still teacher of English in his own town school. School opened on the 21st of September and continues till June. John also sends another item of news which you will find in the Stork Column.

'09. We have received the following letter from Miss Blanche Benner. As our July issue was too full to publish it we take pleasure in doing so now.

Kindly place my name on your list of subscribers of the Herald. Please find enclosed stamps for the same.

Am very pleasantly located here in Crosswicks, N. J. Principal of schools in the district with a term of ten months. The Misses Emmert, Adams county, and C. V. S. N. S. girls, are in the same district. The past winter has been delightfully and successfully spent and trust the next will so continue. With all good wishes for Old Normal, I am,

Very sincerely,

L. Blanche Benner."

'09. Miss Marion E. Seabrook who attended the University of Valparaiso, Ind., last year, is now in N. Y. City. Her address is 123 E. 28th St.

'10. Miss Blanche Myers, of Dillsburg, entered the National School of Domestic Science, Washington, D. C., this fall.

'10. Miss Martha Robertson is teaching Cooking in the 8th grade and Sewing in the 7th and 6th grades at Weehauken, N. J. On Saturday she takes work at Columbia University.

'10. Mr. James W. White writes from Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y.:

"I am serving my third year as Principal of the school in this town. I like the work very much and many thanks to Old Normal for what it has done for me."

'10. Miss Ava Newman is teaching at New Brunswick, N. J. Her address is 3 Grant Ave., Livingston Manor.

'10. We are glad to publish the following letter from Mr. J. Clyde Zeigler:

"State College Pa., Aug. 4, 1914.

"Dr. Ezra Lehman,
Shippensburg, Pa.

Dear Dr. Lehman:—

The following is an account of a little reunion that we held here at State College several weeks ago.

On the second Friday evening of the session the graduates and former students of "Old Normal" assembled on the green in front of the beautiful Carnegie Library and spent a most delightful time together.

There were twenty-one present, and the time was spent in chatting over old school days, with now and then an impromptu speech, or a vocal solo thrown in. Singing the familiar school songs, and giving yells were also much in evidence.

The little crowd was honored by the presence of Miss Laura Staley, an Alumnus, and now Supervisor of Music in Lower Merion township. Miss Staley is a member of the Summer faculty here, and is very efficient and popular as an instructress. She is ever loyal to the "Red and Blue," and kept the meeting going from start to finish.

The shades of night began to fall rapidly, and the time came for the meeting to be closed. All joined in the singing of "Alma Mater" and in the giving of the school yell, when each went to his abode with many a kindly thought for the Old School.

With best wishes for yourself and the School, I remain,
Sincerely yours,
J. Clyde Zeigler, '10."

'09. Miss Ruth Morrow goes to Enhaut this year.

'10. Miss Mary Johnston writes us from Canonsburg where she is teaching: "I came to Canonsburg August 31 and began to teach the next day in East Canonsburg which is a foreign settlement. Of my thirty-eight pupils only two are Americans; the remainder are Italian, Slavish, Russian, Polish, German, and some half Indian. I have never taught an easier room. Have fourth and fifth grades. The children seem so eager to learn and they are much more easily controlled than Americans. They are very attractive to me and I am deeply interested in them. Our building is outside the town limits—but we have a very nice building. It is fitted up for teaching cooking and sewing and twice a week the girls from the fifth grade up are taught domestic science."

'11. Mr. Ira Mummert goes as Principal to the new High School just established at Biglerville, Pa.

'11. Miss Mabel E. Myers is teaching the 1st and 2nd grades at Enola, Pa.

OBITUARY

Emma Foltz '07, died August, 1914. We clip the following from a Chambersburg paper:

Miss Emma C. Foltz, Aged 26

Miss Emma C. Foltz, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Foltz, west of Waynesboro, died Sunday morning, in Big Timber, Montana, where she had made her residence for about a year. Her death was due to bronchitis. She was aged 26 years.

With her at the time of her death was her sister, Miss Lilly Foltz, who had gone to her bedside three weeks ago. Her illness dated from an attack of measles, while attending the Normal school, from which she never altogether recovered.

She attended the Waynesboro High School and afterward was graduated from the Shippensburg Normal school. She taught for a year in Dauphin county and for a like period in the Monterey school on the mountain. After that she went to Illinois for her health and apparently was much benefited; returned to Waynesboro but about a year ago left for Montana.

Miss Foltz was a young woman of brilliant mental parts and was a member of Trinity Reformed church. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Foltz, and these sisters and brother: Miss Lily Foltz, Mrs. Mary Sauder, Miss Georgia Foltz, and Beverly Foltz.

The Herald extends its sympathy to the bereaved family.

ACCESSIONS TO THE LIBRARY

An unusually valuable lot of books has been added to the library recently. These books include the latest writings of the ablest teachers and thinkers. They treat almost every phase of the teaching problem. The collection is especially strong in works on industrial and vocational education, on rural schools and on practical methods in teaching agriculture.

Dr. Lehman has been forcibly impressed with the necessity of securing better results in reading in the public schools. He invited the leading text book companies to send copies of the various readers and charts published by them. More than a hundred readers and books on reading have been received besides a number of charts. These have been placed in an alcove especially set apart where they can be consulted at all times by the students.
