PRINCIPAL'S LETTER TO THE ALUMNI

Fellow Alumnus:

Our first semester is well under way and Miss Horton reports that our registration will approximate 650. It may be a few more or a few less when the roll is finally made up. I need not say that this is the largest fall term enrollment in our history. The significance will be all the more apparent when it is remembered that we do not offer any of the special courses such as Music, Health, Home Economics, Art or Commerce. All our students are enrolled in the two or in the four year (B. S.) courses.

While we still believe in the relatively small college as distinguished from the larger, we'll admit that we wished we had additional room accommodations so that we might have been able to enroll more than fifty students who applied for rooms that were not available. We were sorry to lose these young people. As it is, more than that number are rooming outside the campus dormitories, but boarding in the college dining hall.

It is interesting to note the growth of the four year student body. Two years ago we enrolled forty six in the freshman class, last year the first year collegiates numbered sixty six, but this year eighty five enrolled. It will be readily perceived that in a few years each incoming four year freshman class will number not less than one hundred. It is safe to assume that two hundred freshmen will enroll every year for the two year course. This will mean an attendance of approximately eight hundred. We shall try to meet this situation by providing more dormitory accommodations in the main building.

The State Council of Education has recently authorized the purchase of the "Myers property" adjoining the College campus, from the Pennsylvania Railroad. We expect to secure the allocation of sufficient funds during the next year to erect a new and thoroughly modern library on this property. We have outgrown our present library accommodations and students and faculty are looking forward to the erection of the library with pleasantest anticipations.

Home Coming Day, Saturday, November 3, will follow very closely upon the appearance of this number of the Herald. As stated elsewhere, it was found necessary because of the growth of the Alumni Association and the popularity of Home Coming Day to divide the Alumni into two groups made up of those who were graduated in the even and in the odd years. This year we will welcome the even year group, their wives and husbands. Next year it will be the turn of those who went forth in the odd years. We expect a big turnout to the football game with California State Teachers College, to the dinner at 6:30, and to the dance and reception.

With the renovation of the kitchen and the installation of new equipment the work on Old Main is complete. It is now a thoroughly modernized building with dormitories and class rooms unexcelled anywhere. It is true that time did not permit the repainting of the kitchen, but this will be attended to during the Thanksgiving holidays.

The future prospects of the College are exceedingly bright. We must continue to prepare young men and women for the elementary schools as well as for the junior and senior high schools and for supervisory positions. We shall continue to welcome students in the two year course. We realize however that the time is not far distant when the best positions, even in the elementary grades will require the services of a teacher who has completed a four year course. We are glad to note that many of you who have completed the two year course are planning to return next summer to take up the advanced two year course. We shall welcome all those who can arrange to be with us during that session.

Again we want to thank all of you for your continued assistance in helping us secure outstanding young men and women from your communities as students. Our present growth and prosperity attest your interest and help.

Faternally yours,
Ezra Lehman, '89

IT WAS FORTY YEARS AGO

(This is the fifth of a series of articles under the above caption that have appeared in the columns of the Herald. The January number will contain an account of "celebrities" well known to students during the seventies and eighties.)

When seniors had received their schedules for the fall term the question heard everywhere was "What did you get in Model?" This being literally interpreted meant "What class and what subject were assigned to you as a student teacher in the Model School?" We didn't have much to say about the selection, for it was generally understood that though we were invited "to indicate any preference in writing" we weren't likely to get the class or subject preferred. The theory seemed to be that since we were soon to become teachers in the public schools we ought to be able to teach any subject. The fact that we wanted to teach a subject was regarded as proof that we ought to be assigned another subject for which we were presumedly not so well prepared.

I remember that one of my classmates, as absolute a monotone as could be found, fearing that he might be assigned to teach a class in music asked for that subject, feeling sure that that was the surest way to avoid getting it. But it didn't work this time, and to his chagrin he was notified that he was assigned "to teach singing to the Seventh and Eighth grades." There were no victrolas to help out in those days, and even pitch pipes were in an embryotic stage. The young man was however, equal to the emergency. He secured a book that gave all the old time information about the technique of music. He dictated these directions to the pupils, made them commit them to memory, and when it was necessary for any of the pupils "to run the scales" he appointed the best musician in the class, critic. We weren't visited very often by the one lone critic teacher, but it happened that she dropped in to the music class one afternoon after the farce had been in progress for more than a month, and insisted that the student teacher sing certain exercises. The young man speedily developed one of the worst paroxysms of coughing that had been heard in that class room for many a day. It is a matter of record however, that the teacher was transferred to another class shortly afterward.

I remember my own assignment in "English and Spelling." We used Davison's Spelling Book. I was told to assign a list of words to the class to be studied and spelled. "Studying" the words meaning noting the spelling, pronunciation (with special attention to diacritical marking), and the meaning. I didn't know how many words to assign, but I remember that my early assignments consisted of fifty words, such as these: abraxas, abstinence, academician, accidence. Let it be remembered that cross word puzzles had not yet been invented. It is interesting to note that the constructive criticism I received from the critic teacher was: "You'll probably not have time to get over all the words and the pupils won't prepare their lessons when they know you won't be able to cover everything." Not a word about the type of words chosen, or the absurdity of assuming that pupils thirteen or fourteen years of age could possibly be interested in the spelling, pronunciation, and meaning of technical and seldom used words.

As I look back over the Model School of those days I cannot help remembering the definition of "model" in the story of the man who boasted that his wife had spoken of him as a model husband. His complacency suffered a shock when his friend called his attention to the fact that one of the definitions of "model" was "a small cheap imitation of the real thing." Such was the model school of forty years ago. The pupils got their revenge by making the life of the student teacher anything but a round of pleasure. They were quick to sense the weakness of the young instructor, they knew how to make undetectible noises, and to keep the teachers on the jump, literally.

When it is remembered that the only preparation that the student teachers had made for their work was comprehended in sixteen weeks study of Wickersham's "School Management," no one need be surprised that they were not more signally successful. It is little wonder, too, that these boys and girls of the model schools, now full grown men and women with children of their own, are not always enthusiastic supporters of the co-operative teaching plans now in operation in many towns, whereby the student teachers in Teachers Colleges do their teaching in the public schools of the town. But the student teacher is now better equipped for his work as a teacher, both by reason of the branches studied and because of the careful supervision his teaching receives than are most of the regular teachers who completed their teacher preparation ten years ago.

We have pointed out the humorous factors, the absurdities and the weaknesses of the old type model school, but it had some good points. It developed self-reliance on the part of the young teachers. The disciplinary problems made it necessary for them to prepare their work carefully and to be on the alert at all times. The writer is convinced that this training in the old model school enabled him to meet situations a few years later that might have been troublesome had it not been for confidence, poise, and judgment secured in the class rooms in what is now Miss McWilliams' Cafeteria. Somehow or other the pupils weathered the defective teaching and many of those in the old model school of the eighteen eighties now occupy honored places in business and professional life.

CHANGE IN COLLEGE CALENDAR

The attention of the Alumni is called to the change in the date of certain events in our College calendar. In order that these may be in harmony with those in other State Teachers Colleges we have made the following changes on our calendar.

College will close December 21 for the Christmas holidays instead of December 14 as listed in our catalogue. This will make possible the following additional changes.

Second Semester opens Monday, January 21.

Training School Commencement, Thursday, May 23.

Class Day, Saturday, May 25.

Alumni Meeting, Saturday, May 25.

Baccalaureate Sermon, Sunday, May 27.

Commencement Day, Monday, May 27.

The dates of the Philo Reunion, March 15; Easter vacation, March 22-April 2; and Normal Anniversary, May 3, remain unchanged. The date for the opening of the Summer Session has not been definitely fixed, but it will be either June 17 or 24.

The Alumni will be especially interested in noting the change of Alumni Day to Saturday, May 25. The earlier date should be borne in mind in arranging Class reunions.

SECOND SEMESTER OPENS JANUARY 21

The second semester opens January 21, one week earlier than the date given in the catalogue. At that time we shall rearrange our class schedule so as to make it possible for us to organize at least one new section for students who will be graduated from high school in January, and who wish to continue their work without interruption. It will be possible for students, who though ready to enter in September were not able to do so, to begin their work.

We shall graduate about twenty-five boarding students at the close of the first semester. This will enable us to admit a number of new students to our dormitories. But the rooms vacated will be very much in demand. For this reason we advise prompt registration on the part of all who may be interested in coming to us in January. We know that some students who wish to enter will not have completed their high school course at the opening of our second semester. If such students are able to enter not later than February 1 they will be admitted.

We shall be glad to have all our readers call the attention of young people of their neighborhood to this opportunity.

HOME COMING DAY, NOVEMBER 3

We had a splendid home coming day last year, but the pleasure of all of us was marred by one unfortunate condition—we couldn't accommodate all present even though we crowded six hundred into the dining room, filled the cafeteria, and had lines sitting in tablet arm chairs in the hall. We couldn't admit members of the faculty, nor members of the football squad and there wasn't room for even the orchestra.

The Alumni present frankly recognizing the situation voted in favor of the plan submitted by the College authorities of having every member of the Alumni present once in two years. This year we will invite the members of the classes that were graduated in the even-numbered years, and next year those who were graduated in the odd-numbered years will have their turn. This will make it possible for all to be comfortably seated in the dining room and to attend the reception and dance in the gymnasium. We know that all of the Alumni who are not included in this year's invitation will cooperate in making this home coming day a success. All Alumni are of course, invited to attend the football game on Eckels field, but attendance at the banquet and reception must be limited to the graduates of the even numbered years, their wives or husbands. Each graduate is invited to bring in a member of the Senior class in a four year high school.

Remember the program. Call at the office as soon as you arrive and secure tickets for the following:

2:00 Football game. Shippensburg vs. California State Teachers College.

4:30 Alumni Tea. Women's Dormitory.

6:30 Dinner in the Dining Hall

8:30-11:00 Reception and Dance in the gymnasium.

Finally don't forget to fill out your card and mail it promptly so that we may know whether you can be with us.

MEETINGS OF LOCAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATIONS

The Cumberland County Alumni Association will hold its annual banquet at the Molly Pitcher Hotel in Carlisle at 12 o'clock Wednesday, October 10. The Adams county graduates and former students will meet for a luncheon at the Gettysburg Methodist Church dining hall on Tuesday, November 13 from 12:00 to 2:30. The Franklin County Association will have a dinner in Chambersburg, Wednesday, November 21 from 12:00 to 2:00.

Though we have received no official notification we understand that York Alumni have selected 12 o'clock noon Wednesday, November 28, as the date of their meeting.

We have learned that the Dauphin Association will meet in Harrisburg, October 18, Mifflin in Lewistown, November 8 and Huntingdon at Mt. Union, October 11.

Let all the graduates and former students of Shippensburg in these counties arrange to be present at the coming annual meeting and banquet.

ALUMNI REUNION AT STATE COLLEGE

The Alumni of Shippensburg State Teachers College, in attendance at the Summer session of Penn State, held a reunion at Laird's Tea Room, West College Ave, State College, Tuesday evening, August 7, 1928. There were nineteen present.

A short business session, with H. Edwin Harbaugh '24 as chairman was held. At this time the Shippensburg—Penn State Alumni Association was organized. John Mountz '23 and Elma (Enyeart) Laird '23, were elected president and secretary, respectively, for the coming year.

Prof. J. K. Stewart, H. Edwin Harbaugh, '24 and Edith Oler '23 are a committee appointed to arrange for a reunion during the next Summer session.

During the program Mrs. J. K. Stewart spoke very fittingly on "Great Teachers." Each member then brought a short message to the group, telling where each was located and the type of work he or she was doing.

Miriam (Aurandt) Harbaugh '23 played very effectively two violin solos.

Prof. J. K. Stewart spoke in his usual jovial manner and also read a message from Dr. Lehman, after which we gave one of our school yells and one for Dr. Lehman.

After an informal social period we sang our Alma Mater and departed feeling that it was pleasant to have renewed friendships and recalled memories dear to each one.

Those present:

Prof. J. K. Stewart	Elma (Enyeart) Laird '23
Mrs. J. K. Stewart '93	John A. Mountz '23
Eva Robinson '88	Erma A. Fortna '24
Christine (Schoch) Cassler '16	D. Margaret Wetzel '24
Katharine Hoop '17	H. Edwin Harbaugh '24
Jane Seip '18	Miriam N. Jansen '26
Mary E. Fortna '20	Grace Shearer '27
Anna C. Webner '23	Mary (Wyant) Berkstresser '27
Edith Oler '23	Robert Berkstresser '28

ALUMNI PERSONALS

'75 Mrs. Bertha Angle Paxton has recently moved into her new home 23 South Penn street, Shippensburg, Pa.

'77 Mr. J. L. McCaskey of Pittsburgh, Pa., was the main speaker at the big jubilee of the Farmers Protective Association of Perry county, held on July 26, 1928, in the picnic grounds west of New Germantown. Mr. McCaskey's subject was "From The Covered Wagon to the Cushioned Car." He spoke in his usual happy vein and if you have ever heard Mr. McCaskey speak you know what I mean. We wish we had room to publish the whole speech, but we can only say that he was at his best on this occasion.

'86 Mr. J. P. Witherow and family have moved from Harberth, Pa., to San Diego, California. We have not learned in what Mr. Witherow expects to be engaged at that place.

'87 Miss Dorothy Eschenmann is teaching this year at Lester, Delaware.

'90 For quite a long time we had lost track of the whereabouts of Mrs. Ella Sibbett Bill. We are glad to learn that she is now living at 335 E. Monroe St., Jacksonville, Florida.

'94 Mr. H. A. Albert for whom a number of persons have inquired is located at 201 Hazelfern Place, Portland, Oregon.

'97 Mr. O. G. Myers, whose name we had published in the Herald among lost addresses, is located at 436 Rose Terrace, San Mateo, California.

'98 Mrs. Mae Anthony Fox lives at Connel, Washington, where her husband is a wheat rancher.

'98 Mr. G. A. Leopold, 7931 Susquehanna St., Pittsburgh, Pa., has charge of the Department of Mathematics in the Westinghouse High School.

'99 Mr. Denton J. Brown, 3700 F Lincoln, Nebraska, is teaching Chemistry in the University of Nebraska. He received his PhD degree from the University of Chicago in 1918 and has been Chemistry teacher in Nebraska University ever since that time.

'02 Mrs. Blain E. Walters (Grace Miller) with her husband and family have moved from Shippensburg, Pa., where Mr. Walters was engaged in the real estate business, to Brownsville, Texas. We learn that they are pleased with their new home.

'05 Mrs. J. R. White (Florence Arter) recently visited her mother in Shippensburg, Pa. She and her husband and son were on their way to her husband's new ministerial charge at Arlington, Virginia. They formerly lived at Mt. Vernon, New York.

'06 We notice that Mr. R. L. Hauer is one of the proprietors of the fine new Fisk Sales & Service Building at 241 S. Cameron St., Harrisburg, Pa. The Herald congratulates Mr. Hauer on being at the head of this large business.

'07 The following taken from the Shippensburg "News-Chronicle" we know will be of interest to the Herald readers.

An unusual honor was recently paid to George W. Guyer, who is a son of Mrs. B. F. Guyer, of Richard avenue, Shippensburg, and who has many friends and relatives here. Mr. Guyer is executive head of Fort Stanwix Council, Boy Scouts of America of Rome, N. Y.

On Thursday night of last week, Fort Stanwix council was presented the Marshall Field trophy at Camp Kingsley before 95 members of the Rome Rotary Club and their guests, the largest assemblage of its kind in the history of the camp. About 89 scouts were also present when the trophy was awarded.

This trophy, a beautiful silver loving cup was awarded the council for leadership among the councils of Region two which comprises New York, New Jersey and part of Pennsylvania. Mr. Guyer, who is also a Rotarian, was chairman of the meeting.

'09 Prof. and Mrs. H. Z. Goas of 34 Whittingham Place, W. Orange, N. J., were recent callers at the college. Mrs. Goas was Bertha Oiler of Fayetteville before her marriage and Prof. Goas was a former teacher at the college here. They were much pleased at the many improvements that have been made since they were at the school.

'10 Mr. Harry G. Doyle is teaching Ryders school in Fannett Twp, Franklin county.

'12 Mr. S. M. Stouffer who has been superintendent of the Hanover Schools for the past seven years was recently elected superintendent of the schools of Pottstown, Pa. The Herald extends congratulations to Supt. Stouffer on his election to this position.

'12 Mr. A. C. Stamy is head of the new Vocational High School at St. Thomas, Pa. The Herald extends best wishes for a successful year.

'13 Mr. Chester Albert who has been in Y. M. C. A. work in Conemaugh for a number of years has left that work and is now engaged in salesmanship.

'13 Mr. Jerry F. Trostle is teaching in the Junior High School in Johnstown, Pa.

'13 Mr. Irvin Bucher formerly of Dillsburg, Pa., is now located at Franklinville, New Jersey, where we believe he is engaged in the insurance business.

'16 Miss A. Nellie Ginter of Newville, Pa., is teaching English at Chester, Pa. Her address is 230 W. 7th St., Chester, Pa.

'16 Miss Josephine Allen is teaching a one room school at Dorn-sife, Northumberland county.

'16 Mr. D. B. Lytle who has been at Waverly for a number of years goes this year to the principalship of Mill Hall, Pa.

'16 Mr. Harry C. Stamy is a chemist in the Viscose Silk Mill Company of Lewistown, Pa.

'16 Mrs. V. deTilleman (Jean Johnston) writes us that she and her husband landed safely in England and are getting settled. Her husband Dr. Vladimir de Tillman has been appointed assistant to Dr. Harvey Foote, a prominent physician of London, England and Jean herself, who is also a physician will serve as assistant chief of a large city clinic in London.

'16 Mr. Walter Shank who was recently graduated in a business course at Beckley College, Harrisburg, Pa., has been elected to teach commercial subjects in the Bristol High School.

'17 Miss Helena Charlton, of Hancock, Md., is teaching this year at Port Norris, N. Y.

'18 Miss Mabel Plasterer is teaching intermediate grade at Scotland Orphan School.

'18 Mrs. Nellie Boyce Erxleben (We can't pronounce it but that is the way she spells it) writes us that she has enjoyed the Book of Views we sent her and she sends up some good pictures of her new home in Albuquerque, New Mexico, also a souvenir folder of the city. There are some wonderful buildings and parks and we wish you could all see these pictures. Her home is Spanish style and from the picture looks quite delightful to us. She says she and her husband are enjoying it. Her address is 808 W. Lead Ave., Albuquerque, New Mexico.

'18 Mr. J. Wilbur Thrush is a Presbyterian minister at Belvidere, New Jersey.

'19 Mrs. Mabel Ryder Dunkle is teaching the Grammar School at Concord this year.

'20 Mrs. Dorothy Drum Davis who has been living at Prince Frederick, Maryland, where her husband was principal of the schools has recently moved to Middletown, Md.

'21 Miss Mary McEnespey is teaching at Doylesburg, Pa.

'21 The Herald extends best wishes and congratulations to Paul S. Lehman on finishing his law course with honors and being admitted to the Mifflin county Bar. The following account of his admission we take from a Shippensburg paper.

Lewistown, Sept. 3—Paul S. Lehman, Shippensburg, was admitted to the Mifflin county bar to practice law over the week-end. Attorney Lehman is a son of Dr. Ezra Lehman, president of Shippensburg State Teachers College for the past fifteen years, and has been practicing law in the office of Frederick W. Culbertson, State Senator of the Thirty-first district. He is a graduate of Shippensburg Teachers College, class of '21, Lafayette College, Easton, class of '25 and the University of Pennsylvania Law School last June and was among the first honor group in both colleges.

'21 Mr. Gordon Charlton is teaching this year at Portage, Pa.

'21 Miss Blanche Eyler is teaching at Hop Bottom, Pa.

'21 Mrs. Nana Foulk Fiquerra is teaching at Webster Grove, Missouri. Her address is 623 Cornell Ave.

'22 We are sorry to learn from the following clipping that Helen Aughinbaugh was one of the sufferers from the Porto Rico hurricane.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey M. Aughinbaugh of East Catharine street, Chambersburg, have received word that their daughter, Mrs. Thomas Allen and children will sail this week from Porto Rico, and will arrive in New York City next week. Mrs. Allen's husband, Lieutenant T. H. Allen, has been stationed at Henry Barracks Cayey, Porto Rico. The Allens lost all their possessions in the recent hurricane. Lieut. Allen is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Allen of St. Thomas. Mrs. Allen was a member of the graduating class of the Shippensburg State Teachers College, class of 1922.

'22 Miss Margaret Rolar is teaching English in the Junior High School at Collingswood, New Jersey. Her address is 719 Park Ave.

OBITUARY

WALTER

Dr. John Walter '86 died August 25, 1928. We take the following from a Harrisburg paper.

Dr. John Walter, former mayor and prominent practicing physician of Lebanon, died Saturday night from diabetes, following a long illness. Dr. Walter suffered a very serious attack of illness during his term as mayor and recently he was advised to go to the seashore in the hope that the sea air would prove a benefit to him. Only last week he went to Atlantic City, where death occurred..

Dr. Walter was born at Lickdale, in Lebanon county in 1858 and was graduated from Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia in 1889. For years he was a Democratic leader in Lebanon county, serving a number of terms as county chairman.

HAIN

Mr. George C. Hain '92 died August 13, 1928.

Mr. Hain died in the Harrisburg hospital on the above date following an operation. He had been in failing health for more than a year, though his recent illness was of only three weeks duration.

NELL

Mr. Jacob E. Nell, '90 died September 15, 1928.

Mr. Nell who died on the above date was a teacher in the schools of Steelton for 15 years, but more recently a salesman for Ginn & Company, book publishers of New York City. He died at his home 434 Hummel St., Harrisburg, Pa., at the age of 62 years.

REBUCK

Dr. Charles S. Rebeck '91, died September 9, 1928. We clip the following from a Harrisburg paper:

Dr. Charles Stough Rebeck, aged fifty-four, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist and a member of the staff of the Harrisburg Hospital, died of kidney trouble Sunday afternoon at the Harrisburg Hospital after an illness of four days.

Dr. Rebeck became ill Wednesday and was taken to the Harrisburg Hospital Friday night.

He was born in Harrisburg October 18, 1873 and received his early education in the Harrisburg Public school. Later he attended the Cumberland Valley Normal School, Shippensburg, from which he was graduated with the class of 1891. Dr. Rebeck received his medical degree at the school of medicine, University of Maryland.

He was consulting surgeon at the Harrisburg State Hospital and at the Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, and eye specialist for the Pennsylvania Railroad.

He was a Fellow of the American college of Surgeons and a member of the Harrisburg Academy of Medicine and the Dauphin County Medical Society. Other organizations to which Dr. Rebeck belonged were the Perseverance Lodge, F. and A. M., the Harrisburg Club and the Harrisburg Country Club. He was a vestryman of St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal church.

During the World War Dr. Rebeck was a captain in the medical corps of the United States Army.

Selected List of Books

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

Shippensburg, Pennsylvania

FORWORD

The compilation of this list of books has filled the spare time of its sponsor for more than a year, and has brought with it the charm of ever-new discoveries, and the keen joy of learning more and more of children's books that can only come with careful handling day by day. It is offered, therefore, in the spirit in which it has been made, that of stimulating pride in the habit of reading, and developing a surer taste for the best in children's literature.

That the list is a complete one, the compiler would make no pretension. The collection as it stands now contains more than one thousand titles, and less than half of these are included here. It does, however, represent certain authors and certain kinds of books that have been read with pleasure and profit by the children of the school, some of them more than once—indeed many times.

The publisher is given to aid in establishing a choice, if the reader is considering purchase, and the price is also given with the understanding that it is tentative only, and is subject to change at any time, without notice.

It is hoped that the list may help to answer questions that often come to the teacher's mind when demands are made or needs felt in relation to school work or play, and that it may serve to knit closer the tie between teacher and pupils, as well as to remind the former student that his Alma Mater stands always ready to suggest and aid.

Clara W. Bragg, Librarian.

PART I

Remember that it is your own personality that you are trying to unlock. The poem or story or book, if it is the right one, should seem a sort of extension of yourself.
