History of the School.

By the law of 1857 the counties of Adams, Bedford, Blair, Cumberland, Franklin, Fulton and Huntingdon were constituted the Seventh Normal School District of Pennsylvania. Early in 1870 movements were set on foot for the establishing of a Normal School at Shippensburg. Dr. J. P. Wickersham was invited to make an address February 1st of the same year. The address was delivered in Ruby Hall and at its close a committee consisting of J. A. C. McCune, Esq., as chairman, Major James Kelso as secretary was appointed to solicit subscriptions of stock. At a meeting held in March the name of the school was agreed upon, and the charter for the school was obtained in April. Hon. S. M. Wherry, Hon. A. J. Miller, Dr. R. C. Hays, E. J. McCune, Esq., J. A. C. McCune, Esq., J. H. Hubley, John A. Craig, G. R. Dykeman, William Mell, R. C. Himes, C. L. Shade, T. P. Blair, and John Graybill were elected in May as the first Board of Trustees. The corner-stone for the Main Building was laid May 31, 1871. The exercises were conducted by the Grand Lodge of Free Masons of Pennsylvania. Grand Master Robert E. Lamberton laid the corner-stone in accordance with the usages of the Ancient Order A. Y. M.

On November 11, 1872, Prof. G. P. Beard was elected Principal of the School. Early in February, 1873, the school was officially recognized as a State Normal School by State Superintendent Wickersham. The school was formally opened April 15, 1874. Rev. I. N. Hays was elected Principal of the school in the summer of 1876, Prof. B. S. Potter was elected in the summer of 1880, Prof. S. B. Heiges was elected in the summer of 1882, and Prof. J. F. McCreary was elected June 23, 1886. Prof. McCreary resigned May 1, 1889, and the present principal was elected to fill the vacancy.

The Cumberland Valley State Normal School has always recognized the principle that the Normal Schools of Pennsylvania have been established for the preparation of young men and women to teach in the public schools, and in pursuance of this principle the school endeavors to do thorough academic work as a proper foundation for successful professional training and instruction.

RECEPTION ROOM.

The present school year has been a very successful one. The teachers composing the Faculty are enterprising, energetic and capable, and their influence, instruction and training have been manifest in the healthy growth and development of the students. The Board of Trustees have made large and important improvements during the year, and with these improvements there is but little lacking to make the Cumberland Valley State Normal School an ideal school home.

Location of the School.

The Cumberland Valley State Normal School is located at Shippensburg, Cumberland county, Pa., and is recognized as the Normal School of the Seventh District. Shippensburg is an ideal school town, situated in the beautiful Cumberland Valley, about forty miles south-west of Harrisburg, and on the line of the Cumberland Valley railroad. Shippensburg is also the terminal of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, and of the Western Maryland railroad. The town is one of Christian homes, containing churches of nearly all the leading denominations.

The location is not only beautiful and attractive, but is likewise exceedingly healthful. Students are, as a rule, healthier in school than in their own homes. Diligent attention is given to the sanitary conditions of the institution, and as a result the health statistics of the school are very satisfactory. No epidemic has ever visited the school, and the students have been remarkably free from disease of any kind.

The School Buildings.

The Normal School Buildings comprise an Administration Building and Gentlemen's Dormitory, a Ladies' Dormitory and a Gymnasium. The Administration Building is an elegant brick structure, four stories high and contains over two hundred rooms. There is dormitory capacity in this building for two hundred and fifty students, and school room facilities and accommodations for six hundred students. This building also contains the classrooms, libraries, chapel, model school room, parlors, dining room and Principal's office.

The new Gymnasium is a model of its kind. The building is ornamental in design, and well adapted for the purposes of a gymnasium. It is well equipped with a complete set of apparatus of the most approved make. This building, with its equipment, enables us to offer our students, free of cost to them, the very best advantages for physical culture.

The Ladies' Dormitory, the newest of the Normal School Buildings erected, is Romanesque in style, consisting of three wings projecting from the main structure in the center. This main structure is fifty by fifty feet, and each of the wings is seventy by forty-four feet. The whole interior of the building is exceedingly light and cheerful, and a very attractive home for students. This building is undoubtedly the finest ladies' dormitory building connected with the Normal schools of the State, and offers to lady students a most attractive and comfortable school home, an advantage which ought to be carefully weighed by parents who have daughters to educate.

The building has dormitory accommodations for all the lady students of the school. A separate building for ladies is desirable in many ways, and we know parents will be glad to have the opportunity to send their daughters to an institution offering this advantage.

School Grounds.

The Campus contains over twelve acres of ground, graded and laid out in beautiful lawns intersected with pleasant walks and drives. A large and beautiful fountain stands in front of the Main Building. The Class of '96 made a generous contribution to the fund necessary to erect it, and the Board of Trustees, appreciating the good will and generosity of the class, dedicated the fountain to it. A flag pole, ninety feet in height, has been erected on the grounds in front of the fountain, from the top of which floats a large and handsome U. S. flag.

Railroad Facilities.

The Cumberland Valley Railroad passes directly in front of the buildings. At the opening and closing of each term the trains are scheduled to stop at the school grounds to take on and leave off passengers. This prevents any confusion to new students and saves them the expense of transferring their baggage from the station to the school. The Western Maryland and the Philadelphia and Reading Railroads have their stations convenient to the school and the baggage is transferred from the station to the school free of charge to the student. It will thus be seen that the railroad accommodations are excellent and that students have no difficulty in reaching the school safely and conveniently.

Improvements.

During the year the Ladies' New Dormitory has been prepared for occupancy. Arrangements for heat, light, and water have been made and the rooms and halls have been most beautifully furnished.

A lot of ground containing about an acre was purchased upon which a new steam plant has been erected at a cost approximating twenty thousand dollars. This plant is large enough to heat all the Normal buildings without reaching the capacity of the boilers.

Growth of the School.

The growth of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School has been highly gratifying to all who are interested in its welfare. Within the last six years the number of students has more than doubled, and to meet the demands made upon the school by this large increase of students the membership of the Faculty has been correspondingly increased. Additional classrooms have been made, the libraries increased, and many improvements made in the interest of the students.

In the Normal Department the effort has been to keep the standard of scholarship up to a point which would secure the confidence of the schoolmen of the state in the scholastic attainments of our graduates, and also to place the school on an equality with the foremost Normal Schools of the state in the character of its Academic work. In the professional work we have kept pace with the best modern thought in regard to education, giving to the students the most advanced ideas in relation to the Philosophy of Teaching and the Art of School Management.

In the Model School or Training Department we have made continued progress and we can honestly lay claim to having one of the best training schools in the state. Our graduates, if they have any teaching power naturally, cannot fail to become strong teachers by virtue of the criticisms and instruction given in the Training Department. Our Model School is not looked upon as a legal necessity, nor are its duties performed in a perfunctory way, but on the contrary it is regarded as one of the most essential departments of the School.

1. Admission to the Senior and Junior classes shall be determined by the State Board of Examiners at the annual examination by the Board.

2. In order to be admitted to the Junior class of any State Normal School, persons must be examined in the six preparatory branches named and no others, and the examination in these branches shall be final. Those who for any reason were unable to complete the Preparatory examination may be admitted to both the Preparatory and the Junior examinations at the end of the Junior year. But they must be classed as preparatory students till the final examination in the preparatory branches has been completed. No substitutions or conditions shall be allowed for any of the studies required for admission to the Junior class.

3. In order to be admitted to the Senior class, persons must be examined in all the Junior studies, except Methods, and the examination in these branches shall be final. No substitutions or conditions shall be allowed for any of the studies required for admission to the Senior class.

5. If a person who has completed the Preparatory or the Junior studies at any State Normal School desires to enter another State Normal School, the Principal of the School at which the examination was held shall send the proper certificate to the Principal of the School which the person desires to attend. Except for the reason here stated, no certificate setting forth the fact of the passing of the Preparatory or the Junior studies shall be issued.

6. Candidates for graduation shall be examined in all the branches of the Senior year. They shall have the opportunity of being examined in any of the higher branches, including vocal and instrumental music and double entry book-keeping; and all studies completed by them shall be named in their certificate.

Each student must receive eight votes out of the nine in order to pass the examination. Students must be examined and recommended by the faculty before taking the State Board Examination.

A regular graduate who has continued his studies for two years, and has practiced his profession during two full annual terms in the Common Schools of the State, will receive, upon presenting to the Faculty and Board of Examiners a certificate of good moral character and skill in the Art of Teaching from the Board or Boards of Directors by whom he was employed, countersigned by the proper County Superintendent, a second diploma, constituting him a Master in the course in which he was graduated, and conferring one of the following degrees: Master of Elementary Didactics (M. Government of the School.

All school government should have for its end the development of character in the individual student. Any method of government which does not secure this important end is wrong in principle.

In a Normal School where the student is being trained to govern other students, there can be no excuse for loose government. No person is qualified to teach successfully in the public schools until he has attained a complete mastery over himself. The individual who has been trained in school to habits of self-control and a wise self-direction has received the best training which any school can give him.

We rely largely upon the honor and self-respect of our students in our efforts to control. A Normal School is not a reformatory, and parents and guardians are requested not to send vicious or immoral students to our institution to be educated. A few such students, if retained in a boarding school, vitiate the entire moral atmosphere of the school, and make it an unsafe place for even the well-behaved student to undertake his education.

We notify the parents when we find their children are not attentive to their studies, and if this course does not remedy the matter, the parents will be asked to withdraw them from the school. We have no desire to receive money for tuition from students who are not making good use of their opportunities to receive an education.

From a wide experience with students we have found obedience on their part to the following rules and regulations necessary to the successful management and control of a Normal School, and also for the best interests of the students themselves. No regulations are made which we do not regard as important.

TIME REGULATIONS

1. Students will rise at 6.00 A. M. and retire at 10.00 P. M.
2. Recitation hours from 8.00 to 12.00 A. M., and from 1.15 to 4.15 P. M.
3. Chapel services at 8.45 A. M. All students are required to be present at these services.

4. Prayer-meeting on Wednesday evenings. Attendance voluntary.
5. "Normal" and "Philomathean" Literary Societies meet Friday evenings at 7.30.
6. Breakfast at 7.00 A. M., dinner at 12.15 P. M., and supper at 6.00 P. M.
7. Principal's office hours for students immediately after meals.
8. Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. meetings on Sunday at 6.00 P. M.
9. Study hour from 7.00 to 10.00 P. M.

CLASS REGULATIONS.

1. Students must be regular and prompt in their attendance upon classes unless detained by sickness or absence from the school.
2. Day pupils will be required to bring a note from parent or guardian, giving the reason for the pupil's absence.
3. Music pupils will have regular hours assigned for practice, and during that time no visitors will be permitted to be present.
4. No student will be allowed to take more studies than he can pursue profitably, nor fewer than are necessary to keep him sufficiently employed.
5. Students must attend classes up to the time of their leaving school.
6. All students must be present at the daily chapel exercises, unless excused.
7. Ladies are expected, when exercising in the gymnasium, to wear the adopted suit of two pieces, blouse and divided skirt of dark blue flannel.
Both ladies and gentlemen must wear the regular gymnasium shoe—rubber-soled shoes are not allowed.

BUILDING AND ROOM REGULATIONS.

1. Each student will be held responsible for the condition of his room and its furniture, and he will be charged with any loss or unnecessary damage.
2. No changes or alterations must be made in the permanent parts or fixtures of the room, nor nails driven into the walls without permission of the steward.

3. No water, paper or other material shall be thrown from the windows or porticos of the building.
4. Standing in groups at the main entrance or in the corridors, loud talking, whistling or unnecessary noise is forbidden.
5. Students are requested to provide themselves with slippers for the building.
6. Students furnish their own towels, napkins, rings, soap and brushes. All articles of clothing sent to the laundry must be distinctly marked with the student's full name.

SOCIAL REGULATIONS.

1. Gentlemen students boarding in the building will occupy the northeast portion, and lady students the southwest portion of the building. The main building to be the dividing line.
2. Day students will not call at the rooms of boarders, nor stop in their rooms over night, unless by permission of the Principal. Boarding students will be held responsible to the Principal for the observance of this rule.
3. Boarding students will not be permitted to visit in town on Sunday, nor remain in town over night, excepting with near relatives.
4. Visitors to the building will be regarded as under the same regulations as the students.
5. Lady students will not be permitted to leave the campus unless by permission of the Principal or a member of the Faculty.
6. Visiting the buildings or grounds on Sunday will not be permitted, nor will students be allowed to make or receive calls during study or school hours.
7. Ladies and gentlemen will not be permitted to hold prolonged conversations with one another, either in the building or upon the grounds, unless in connection with school duties, and then only by permission of the Principal or a member of the Faculty.
8. Students will receive visits from relatives or friends in the reception room only; an exception will be made in the case of parents, who will be permitted to visit in their children's rooms.
9. Ladies wishing to visit their homes or other places during the term must present written permits from their parents to the Principal.

INTERIOR OF GYMNASIUM.

SABBATH REGULATIONS.

1. Students are required to be present at the Sunday morning services of one of the churches in the town, unless excused by the Principal. The selection of the church is left to the parent for determination.

2. Students are required to attend the Sunday-school held in the Normal chapel every Sunday morning, unless properly excused.

3. From 2.00 P. M. to 4.00 P. M. will be observed as a quiet period. During this time no singing, loud talking, or other unnecessary noise will be allowed in the building.

It must not be understood that the foregoing regulations embrace all the duties and obligations devolving upon the individual student. No list of rules could be made which would cover every duty of the student under all the possible contingencies of Normal School life. And on the other hand there are many habits and forms of conduct so obviously out of harmony with the obligations of the person who is preparing to teach that it is not deemed necessary to prohibit them by formal rule. We have reference to the use of tobacco, the drinking of alcoholic liquors as a beverage, the utterance of profane or vulgar language, the reading of obscene literature, filthiness in personal habits and slovenliness or indecency in dress. These and other similar objectionable habits can be best met by general counsel from the chapel desk, and incidentally by the instruction in the class-room. Where this plan fails a formal rule against the habit will be found a weak barrier in the way of its continuance.

Our standard of conduct for those who are preparing to teach under the tuition of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School is so high that it would preclude any one from looking to the profession of teaching for a life-calling, whose habits and conduct are not worthy the imitation of the children who may be placed under his instruction.

Academic Course.

The Academic Course includes a thorough knowledge of all the branches belonging to the Elementary, Regular Normal, and Scientific Courses, excepting the Pedagogical subjects.

ORTHOGRAPHY.

Considerable importance is attached to the subject of orthography. The exercises in this branch are something more than mere memory lessons, they include a careful study of words. Enunciation, pronunciation, oral and written spelling, and the meaning and use of words are embraced in the study of this subject.

Through the instruction in this branch the pupil's vocabulary is enlarged, and his ability to express his ideas increased.

READING.

Reading lies at the foundation of all other branches of study ; he who can rapidly and fully grasp a writer's meaning will find this power to be of great assistance to him in all the subjects belonging to a course of instruction.

Every effort will be made to develop the individuality of the pupil, and to give him a thorough knowledge of the natural laws of expression. The aim of this department is two-fold ; first—to develop in the pupil the power to thoroughly understand the meaning of language, to cultivate his imagination, to awaken his sympathies, and to enable him to appreciate and love good literature; second—to develop in the pupil the power to express thought, whether it be his own or that of another, with ease, intelligence, and power.

GRAMMAR.

The study of the technical rules of grammar develops the powers of the mind ; analysis helps the student to grasp the meaning of the expression clearly and quickly, and composition enables him to use the best form and style in the expression of thought.

Due attention will be paid to parsing, and analysis and structural forms of the language. Students are encouraged to select from standard authors examples illustrating the various forms of expression. They thus familiarize themselves with the best forms of classic English.

COMPOSITION.

Special attention will be paid to English composition during the coming year.

All classes will be divided into sections, and each section placed under the charge of a competent teacher. These sections will be made small enough to enable the teacher to examine carefully the work of the individual student.

The work, which will be given weekly, will involve the writing of compositions, analysis of subjects, and the study of the rules of capitalization, punctuation and paragraphing.

RHETORIC.

Rhetoric treats of the various forms of language, their special meanings and applications.

A knowledge of the subject enables the student to understand the principles of the various kinds of composition, to appreciate beauty of expression and to acquire a good clear style.

ENGLISH LITERATURE.

The primary aim in the teaching of literature should be to cultivate a love for the beautiful and the true through the study of the best thoughts of great authors.

The study of the masterpieces of literature will enable the pupil to discriminate between what is elevating and instructive and what is trivial or harmful.

During the coming year attention will be paid to the general outline of English and American Literature, but special stress will be laid upon certain classics. The list of classics that has been recommended by the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Middle States and Maryland for admission to college in 1900 will be used during the coming year.

LATIN.

In the Latin department the preparatory work consists of a thorough drill in Etymology and Syntax and the translation of easy sentences, from Latin to English and from English to Latin. This is followed by the application of the Rules of Syntax (upon the necessity of having an exact knowledge of which great stress is laid) to harder exercises, Latin fables and anecdotes, Roman and Grecian history. Upon the completion of this course the student is thoroughly prepared to study intelligently the Latin prose writers that are usually read by the beginner.

The most approved method of pronunciation is very carefully taught. The aim of the department is not only to give the student a correct knowledge of the structure of the Latin language, but also, through the translation of it into proper English and a study of the derivation of English words from the Latin, to furnish him with a good aid to the study of his mother tongue.

PHYSIOLOGY.

The work in physiology and hygiene is designed to give the student such a knowledge of the structure and functions of the principal organs of the body as will enable him to understand the conditions under which these organs best perform their respective offices. The subject of hygiene is presented with special fulness, embracing the subjects of ventilation and warming, exercise, clothing, the organs of special sense, the effects of alcohol and narcotics on the system, and the essential conditions for the health in the school room.

BOTANY.

This subject is taught with special reference to training the powers of observation. Our aim is not merely to train the pupil to identify plants, but to give him a thorough knowledge of the plant itself, which is far more important than its name, however desirable that may be. With this end in view a knowledge of plant structure, physiology, growth and reproduction is first obtained. The student is then required to do daily work in analyzing, recording, classifying and preparing specimens.

Frequent botanical excursions are made, and, as far as possible, each student collects his own plants for work. A written analysis of at least forty plants and a carefully prepared herbarium of not less than the same number of specimens are required of each student.

NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.

During the past year our facilities for teaching this subject have been much improved. A number of valuable pieces of apparatus of the most improved pattern have been added to the Laboratory. More attention is given to the construction and use of inexpensive home-made apparatus, thus enabling our students to become better equipped to teach the elements of this branch in schools not having apparatus. It is our aim to prepare teachers to develop in their pupils the desire and ability to be observers, experimenters and investigators. Mere mechanical study and recitation may serve to store the memory with facts, but requisite discipline is only secured when the pupil is trained to collect facts by his own observation and experiment and made to reason upon them. What the student wants is such a knowledge of the subject as will enable him to work practically with the principles he has learned. This we aim to give him.

GEOGRAPHY.

Physical, Mathematical and Political Geography are included in this course. Commercial Geography is given considerable prominence in this department. Less attention is given to insignificant natural and political divisions than they have received heretofore, and more time applied to the study of the manufactures, commerce and farming and mine products.

Comparative Geography is made prominent in dealing with this important subject. By comparison the pupils get clearer ideas of geographical divisions and places and they are able to retain their impressions longer. The railways and commercial routes are definitely traced, and numerous imaginary trips are made to different parts of the globe. The geographical information of the pupil is often drawn upon to furnish material for composition writing.

The home geography of the pupils is carefully and accurately given as the first step in teaching this interesting subject. The primary concepts of position, direction, distance, soil, climate and natural productions are learned by the pupil as part of his first geographical knowledge.

HISTORY.

History is taught primarily to impart to the student a knowledge of the events of history, and the causes which have produced them. The method of teaching history which results in giving the student simply a knowledge of the facts of the subject, although very commonly employed, cannot be too strongly condemned. Unless the relation of cause to effect is carefully traced, the student fails to get any real benefit from the study of the subject.

The proper teaching of United States History will develop a deeper love of country in the mind of the student, and lead him to appreciate more fully the blessings of the government under which he lives.

The study of the great lives in the history of our nation has a tendency to develop character in the pupil as well as devotion to liberty and Union.

CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

The proper instruction of the student in Civil Government includes a clear exposition of the great principles underlying the Constitution, with a summary of the legislative provisions in which they have been embodied. As the details of a government are usually more interesting and more important to the average student than the theories of government that may be obtained from its written Constitution, the agencies of government and its machinery are very fully presented.

ARITHMETIC.

In arithmetic the aim is to make the subject thoroughly practical. Students are given to understand the importance of having pupils trained to rapid and accurate work in the fundamental rules. Considerable time is spent in teaching the subjects which have a direct bearing upon the every-day affairs of life. A great deal of time is given to the methods of treating common and decimal fractions and percentage, as these subjects enter into many of the business problems of daily life.

As far as possible, we adhere to the inductive method of teaching the subject. Suggestions for the construction of original problems are frequently given throughout the course.

ALGEBRA.

It is the aim in this subject to give the student a clear and complete knowledge of what is embraced in a standard work on Elementary Algebra. An effort is made to develop the subject gradually enough to make the pupil feel that he is mastering the subject as he proceeds.

In giving definitions, particular attention is paid to clearness and brevity of expression. Rules are deduced from processes given in order that the student may get the principles involved. Particular attention is paid to factoring, as a thorough knowledge of this subject is necessary to success in the solution of many algebraic problems.

GEOMETRY.

The purpose of teaching Geometry is first to discipline the mind in sound reasoning; the knowledge obtained must be regarded as of secondary importance. The following principles laid down by Pascal are closely adhered to: "to have no obscure terms undefined; to assume nothing not perfectly evident; to prove everything at all doubtful, by reference to admitted principles."

Great care is taken to have the definitions correctly given and accurately learned. That which is necessary rather than that which is novel and interesting, is selected for the student to learn.

The subject of Geometry is introduced by lessons in geometrical drawing in the Junior year. The familiarity thus gained with geometrical concepts will assist the student very much when he comes to make use of these concepts in his demonstrations, and will also help him to a fuller comprehension of the definitions of geometrical terms.

In order that the teacher may be certain that students do their own reasoning, a great deal of attention is given to the demonstration of original theorems.

BOOKKEEPING.

In earlier days only those who expected to become accountants and merchants thought it necessary to study bookkeeping; but public sentiment in this respect, in recent years, has been rapidly changing. It is now generally admitted that every person should be able to record properly common business transactions. The simpler forms of bookkeeping must, therefore, be taught in the public schools to meet the public demand for this kind of knowledge as a part of the education of every child who reaches the grammar school.

To prepare teachers to teach this subject is therefore an important part of the work of every Normal School.

PENMANSHIP.

A poor penman is almost at as great a disadvantage as he who speaks with a stammering or lisping tongue. The difficulty of recognizing the words of a poor writer interferes with the quick grasping of the thought. We aim to secure rapidity and legibility, and we use the Spencerian system as a guide in practice. The student is expected to understand the theory of an approved system, and to be able to explain it intelligently to a class of children.

ART DEPARTMENT.

One of the good definitions of art describes it as a means of manifesting the Divine in material form for the apprehension of the senses and the reason. This definition makes art one of the three highest products of the soul.

Manu-Mental training being the object of art education to-day, our art course has a two fold aim: to train the hand to delicacy, grace and speed of execution; to instil ideas of beauty, and to cultivate habits of observation, good judgment and originality of thought.

The student who arrives at these ends will, as a teacher, have ability to illustrate lessons. As a practical man of affairs, he will possess a rapid and accurate means of thought expression. Socially, he will be known as a person of cultivated taste.

NORMAL ART COURSE OF THE JUNIOR YEAR.

CLAY MODELING.—From nature. From casts.

CHARCOAL DRAWING.—From casts. From still life.

HISTORY OF ART.—From talks relating to Architecture and Sculpture.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION.

“A sound mind in a sound body” is an end worth working for. One of the objects of this department is to assist students in maintaining a sound body if they possess it, and to acquire it if it be lacking. Regular, systematic exercise will produce an erect, graceful carriage, and will aid in overcoming such common physical defects as round shoulders, drooping head and flat chest.

The prescribed amount of exercise in the gymnasium, under a competent instructor, is expected of all students. In the Junior year instruction is given in military drill, free movements and the use of light apparatus. In the Senior year a course in public school gymnastics is given, with notes on the subject. Practical work for the school-room is emphasized.

STENOGRAPHY.

“To save time is to lengthen life” says the author of one of the best systems of stenography.

The advantages of shorthand are so many and so manifest that only a few years will elapse until it will become the universal medium for correspondence. The principles of shorthand are so simple that any ordinary child can learn them. The time has come when every writer, teacher, lawyer and clergyman should acquire this art. It saves time. It saves space. It saves paper. It quickens the mind as well as the hand.

Stenography and typewriting, when combined, offer fine business opportunities to young men and women, with fair compensation.

This department has made a good beginning and we expect to accomplish still more the coming year.

VOCAL MUSIC.

In the vocal department are given, free of charge, class lessons, in which the pupils are taught the rudiments of music and the theory of sight singing. Practice in singing the best part songs and choruses furnish not only the necessary drill in reading music, but also a knowledge of good music. Those taking the professional course receive instruction in the best methods of teaching music, and thus are enabled to supply one of the greatest needs of the times, that of teachers of music in the public schools.

PIANO FORTE—COURSE OF STUDY.FIRST YEAR.

From three to four years will be required to complete the course satisfactorily.

The course in Voice Culture has been arranged to cover three years, and comprises studies for voice placing, breath control, pronunciation and voice development.

PROFESSIONAL COURSE.

The Professional Course embraces the subjects included under the head of Pedagogics in the several courses.

PSYCHOLOGY.

The teacher must know the mind he proposes to develop—its laws and the principles governing its growth. In order that the subject may not become dry and uninteresting, the facts and principles involved in its study are very fully illustrated.

The student is made familiar with the facts gathered from physiological, as well as introspective, psychology. The subject is presented in such a way as to quicken interest in mind study, and especially in the study of the child mind. The application of the subject to the laws and principles of teaching is clearly and fully presented.

METHODS.

The latest approved methods of teaching the various subjects are given to the Senior class by specialists in the different departments of teaching. Both the science and art of teaching are most fully dealt with, and the student-teacher is made acquainted with the very best ideas upon the subject of instruction. The various methods given are fully exemplified before the Senior class, so that the members may fully understand how to apply them. In this department care is taken not to make the student-teacher a mere imitator, but he is left to a certain extent to work out his own special devices and methods, thus developing originality in his work.

SCHOOL MANAGEMENT.

The art of managing and conducting a school is made a prominent part of the teacher's professional training. He is given approved plans concerning the location, arrangement and ornamentation of school grounds, and the latest and best plans for the construction of school buildings. He is given the best experience in the heating, lighting, ventilating and furnishing of school-rooms. He is taught how to organize and govern successfully, how to conduct recitations, how to keep pupils profitably employed, how to classify an ungraded school, and how to arouse an interest among parents in school work.

The importance of making moral training the primary end in school government is fully emphasized. The value of a school requirement is measured by its effects upon the moral nature of the pupils. That school is best controlled where the pupils are gradually gaining increased power of self control and a safer self-direction.

HISTORY OF EDUCATION.

In the History of Education the student is given the development of the educational ideal among the leading nations of history. The various theories of education practiced in different countries at different times are clearly presented, and the student is given the data necessary in order that he may arrive at a safe judgment as to the comparative value of the leading theories made use of by these countries.

The lives of the leading educational reformers are given in such a manner as to inspire the teacher with greater earnestness and zeal in his work.

The History of Education in the United States is given special attention, and the student is led to appreciate the power of education in the uplifting of the people. The relation of education to good citizenship is shown in the fact that the States having the best systems of education have had the widest influence in directing the governmental policy of the nation.

MODEL SCHOOL.

The Model School is the most distinctive feature of a Normal School course. Here the student teacher applies the methods he has learned, and his skill is tested by competent critics.

In a well directed Model School the experience of the individual teacher results in daily improvement in the application of scientific methods. For a young person to have the supervision and counsel of skilled teachers in the class-room must necessarily be of great advantage to him. We attach great importance to the work of the Model School. We employ as critic teachers in the Model School those who have had special training for this line of work.

We have in this department pupils in all the grades usually found in our public schools below the high school. The experience which our graduates are able to secure in their practice teaching is of inestimable value to them. The reason that such a large percentage of our graduates succeed as teachers is due as much to the agency of the training department as to the instruction given in any other department of the school. The Normal school which does not properly emphasize the work of the model department is denying to its graduates one of the most important advantages that can be secured in a well organized school for the preparation of teachers.

To have our faults corrected before they become habits, to learn how to prepare and present subjects to classes, and to know how to measure the daily progress of our pupils are sources of power and influence which cannot help but tend toward our success in the class-room.

RELIGIOUS SOCIETIES.

Our students are furnished excellent opportunities for spiritual growth and development. We have a prayer and lecture service every Wednesday evening, conducted by a member of the Faculty to which all the students are invited. This service is attended by a large number of the students, and is full of interest and profit.

We have a Sabbath School organized among the students.

This service is held every Sabbath morning, and the exercises are highly appreciated and greatly enjoyed by the School. The school is divided into classes, each class being taught by a member of the Faculty. The International Lesson is used.

Students, unless excused by the Principal, are required to attend the church of their choice every Sabbath morning. The church attendance in connection with the religious services at the school, offers to them all the spiritual advantages that they would receive at their own homes. In all proper ways Christian influences are thrown around the pupil, making his school life to conform as nearly as possible to home life in a Christian family.

A Young Men's Christian Association and a Young Women's Christian Association have been formed among the students. These societies have been doing a great work for the growth of religious sentiment in the school. The spiritual life of many of the students has been quickened and many others have been led for the first time to walk in "Wisdom's Way" and to forsake "the counsel of the ungodly" through the influence of these societies.

The Chautauquan Normal Union is an organization established for the purpose of obtaining Normal methods for the teaching of the Bible. Quite a number of the young ladies and young gentlemen of the school have associated themselves with this society, and they have completed together the regular course of the Normal Union. The knowledge thus acquired will be of great benefit to them in Christian work.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Among the most valuable auxiliaries to a Normal School or College are its literary societies. The Normal and Philomathean societies are strong, vigorous associations, and in their growth are keeping equal pace with the growth of the school. They meet in separate halls every Friday evening for the rendering of carefully prepared programs. These programs are highly entertaining and instructive, and those who take part in rendering them bestow ample labor and care on their preparation.

The libraries of these societies form a valuable addition to that of the school, and include many of the most valuable works of English and American literature.

READING-ROOM.

The Reading-Room of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School is one of its most important features. All the prominent magazines, periodicals, and many newspapers, daily and weekly, are found upon the shelves and on the files in the handsome room fitted up for library and reading-room purposes.

The students are encouraged to make good use of its privileges, and the results are most gratifying. A teacher is always in charge of the room when it is open, in order that perfect quiet may reign, and that the students may get the largest profits possible from their hours spent in the reading-room. The student who has graduated from a Normal School without having acquired a taste for good literature and a knowledge of how to read with the greatest profit is but poorly equipped for the work of teaching.

ADVANTAGES.

1. We employ only high grade teachers.
2. Our school is thoroughly and properly disciplined.
3. Our school is organized in the interest of students, and not to save labor for the teachers.
4. We carefully preserve the individuality of our students.
5. Our school is not crowded beyond its capacity.
6. We have no difficulty in securing good positions for our graduates.
7. Our school is located in one of the most beautiful spots in the Cumberland Valley.
8. Shippensburg is an ideal school town.
9. The social culture of the students is made a prominent feature in our school life.
10. Our school is growing more in popular favor each year.
11. The Cumberland Valley State Normal School is located within forty miles of Harrisburg, the capital of the state, within twenty miles of the Indian Training School at Carlisle, and within thirty miles of the famous battlefield of Gettysburg.

SUGGESTIONS.

1. Come at the opening of the term and remain until its close.
2. The Fall Term is the best time to commence your Normal Course.
3. Take at least a year to the Junior Course.
4. Give each subject in the course its full amount of attention.

LIBRARY.

5. Take for your standard of politeness the most polished and courteous students of the school.
6. Establish a reputation for character as well as scholarship.
7. Make up your mind to be a close and diligent student.
8. Be prompt and regular in your attendance upon classes.
9. Do not be satisfied with anything less than the highest standing your ability will enable you to obtain.
10. Determine when you enter school to win the good-will and respect of the entire Faculty.
11. Read as many good books as possible during the time devoted to your Normal Course.
12. Regard all the regulations of the school as intended for your benefit.
