MAIN BUILDING AND LADIES' DORMITORY WITH PORTION OF CAMPUS

History of The School for 1905-1906.

The school year which closed in June, 1906, was a highly successful one. This is true whether we view the record of the school from the financial standpoint or from the attendance of students or the character and results of the instruction given. Last year the highest attendance of students was registered up to that date and this year the attendance has somewhat exceeded the attendance of last year. The number of students in the Senior class this year was 80.

With a successful school a point is always reached sooner or later where the present year brings but few changes from the past year. The Cumberland Valley State Normal School has reached a point in its growth and development which makes radical changes in its history unnecessary. The school has reached through years of progressive development a condition which removes all doubt as to its stability and high standard of usefulness in the coming years. As the years come and go each one adds its convincing testimony to prove the solid worth and high character of the State Normal School of the Seventh District.

The present high reputation of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School is not the result of any bold schemes of advertising nor is it the result of the adoption of any of the modern fads and fancies in education as a means of gaining notoriety. It is purely the result of the intelligent and skillful training of its graduates as teachers. The work of the Alumni of the school in their own school rooms has told the story of its just claim to recognition among the great normal schools of the country.

The Cumberland Valley State Normal School has never been content to simply hold its own. Its watchwords have always been onward and upward. Each year marks a step in advance of the previous year. Each Commencement reveals the evidence of higher achievement and loftier attainments than the preceding one. The history of the school shows a steady march forward in all that pertains to the real work of a Normal School. No essential feature of a true Normal School is neglected; no vital work is left without careful attention. Our graduates do not have everything a teacher needs for his work, but what they do have is the best that can be obtained.

The Cumberland Valley State Normal School has more teachers in proportion to the number of students in attendance than any other Normal School in the state. This insures more personal attention for the students and more individual work in the class room than any other school can give. All the members of the Senior class have taught thirty weeks and have observed class teaching during the remaining ten weeks of the school year. This experience is exceedingly valuable to the graduates of our school, enabling them to start in the work of teaching with a basis of practical knowledge and intelligent experience that almost, if not absolutely, guarantees their success.

Among the improvements made during the present school year the most important has been the erection of a grand stand in the new athletic field. This building is large enough to give seating capacity to almost three hundred persons. The new laundry will be completed in time for use at the opening of the coming Fall Term. A great many new books have been added to the library during the year. This feature of the school is coming more and more into prominence every year. Most of our graduates leave the school with a fine appreciation of good literature and a systematic method of consulting reference books.

Location of the School.

The Cumberland Valley State Normal School is located at Shippensburg, Cumberland county, Pa., and is recognized as the Normal School of the Seventh District. Shippensburg is an ideal school town, situated in the beautiful Cumberland Valley, about forty miles southwest of Harrisburg, and on the line of the Cumberland Valley railroad. Shippensburg is also the terminal of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, and of the Western Maryland railroad. The town is one of Christian homes, containing churches of nearly all the leading denominations.

The location is not only beautiful and attractive, but is likewise exceedingly healthful. Students are, as a rule, healthier in school than in their own homes. Diligent attention is given to the sanitary conditions of the institution, and as a result the health statistics of the school are very satisfactory. No epidemic has ever visited the school, and the students have been remarkably free from disease of any kind.

The School Buildings.

The Normal School Buildings comprise an Administration Building and Gentleman's Dormitory, a Ladies' Dormitory and a Gymnasium. The Administration Building is an elegant brick structure, four stories high, and contains over two hundred rooms. There is dormitory capacity in this building for two hundred and fifty students, and school room facilities and accommodations for six hundred. This building also contains the class-rooms, libraries, chapel, model school-room, parlors, dining-room and Principal's office.

The new gymnasium is a model of its kind. The building is ornamental in design, and well adapted to the purposes of a gymnasium. It is well equipped with a complete set of apparatus of the most improved make. This building, with its equipment, enables us to offer our students, free of cost to them, the very best advantages for physical culture.

The Ladies' Dormitory, the newest of the Normal School Buildings erected, is Romanesque in style, consisting of three wings projecting from the main structure in the center. This main structure is fifty by fifty feet, and each of the wings is seventy by forty-four feet. The whole interior of the building is exceedingly light and cheerful, and a very attractive home for students.

School Grounds.

The school campus contains over eighteen acres of ground, graded and laid out in beautiful lawns intersected with pleasant walks and drives. A large and handsome fountain, sending its beautiful sprays of water into the air above it to flow back again in crystal streams to the basin of the fountain beneath, stands directly in front of the main building. The campus is ornamented with beautiful shade trees, numerous plots of flowers and handsome shrubbery. The grounds fall into an even grade from the buildings to the Cumberland Valley Railroad track, giving a clear open view of the country and town in front of the buildings. No more ideal site for the placing of an educational institution could be found in the State than that upon which the buildings of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School are located.

Railroad Facilities.

The Cumberland Valley Railroad passes directly in front of the buildings. At the opening and closing of each term the trains are scheduled to stop at the school grounds. This prevents any confusion to new students, and saves them the expense of transferring their baggage from the station to the school. The Western Maryland and the Philadelphia and Reading Railroads have their stations convenient to the school, and the baggage is transferred from the station to the school free of charge to the students. It will thus be seen that the railroad accommodations are excellent, and that students have no difficulty in reaching the school safely and conveniently.

Growth of the School.

The Cumberland Valley State Normal School has had a marvelous growth in the later years of its history. Whether we view the school from the standpoint of its patronage, from the improvement of its plant, or from the enrichment of its course of instruction, its growth is equally creditable and worthy of our pride. Competing in almost every portion of its available territory with older normal schools for its students, it has steadily gained a foothold in the confidence of the public which has ripened into a large attendance from a wide field of territory. A great many of the counties of our State are represented on our roll of students, and our graduates are known throughout the entire Commonwealth as progressive and successful teachers.

We have increased and beautified our plant until it has become an attractive object for the visitor. Old students are charmed and thrilled with pleasure when they behold the transformations which have been made in the building and on the campus. The old chapel with its pleasant memories has yielded to the fascinations of the artist's brush, the walls and ceilings in their new dress appear to the beholder as a beautiful dream, and students linger under their spell as though their ears was touched with the melodies of sweetest music. The old campus with its huge bowlders of rock and cunning nooks, which served as hiding places for truant lovers, has melted away into beautiful slopes of green sward and winding drive ways.

The course of study in our Normal School has been broadened until it contains the equivalent of the course of study found in the leading Normal Schools of the country. Our diplomas are recognized in many of the most important States of the Union, and our graduates exempted from examination in the branches named in their certificates. Our Model School is conducted on practical lines. The schools into which our graduates go as teachers are kept constantly in mind in the training which they receive in our school of practice. Our Model School is conducted on sound pedagogical principles, and both pupils and teachers are given the best opportunities for learning. The one class being fitted to enter the higher field of Normal instruction, and the other class being fitted to become instructors to the youths of the Commonwealth.

3. They must be examined in all the branches in the course in which they desire a certificate by the faculty and Board of Examiners at the time of the annual examination at the school where application is made.
4. A thesis on some educational subject will be required as part of the examination.

The certificates gained in accordance with these conditions will enumerate the branches of study in which the holder was found proficient, and confer upon him the professional degree to which the extent of his knowledge may entitle him.

All diplomas and certificates are authorized and furnished by the State, and exempt those who hold them from any further examination by authorities acting under the provision of our common school laws.

For day students not entitled to State Aid, $15.00 on entrance, the remainder on October 25th; Winter Term, $15.00 at the beginning of the term (or $10.00 if in attendance the preceding term), and the remainder on February 12th; Spring Term, $15.00 at the beginning of the term (or $10.00 if in attendance the preceding term), and the remainder on May 16th.

The enrollment fee is included in the foregoing payments. For day students who are entitled to State Aid, the enrollment fee of $5.00 is to be paid on day of entrance. The State Aid cancels the remainder of the payments for the different terms. The enrollment fee is charged but once each year.

In case of a deficiency in the amount appropriated by the State for State Aid to students, each student will receive his proportionate share of the appropriation.

Students may have the privilege of rooming alone by paying 50 cents per week extra.

No incidental fees of any kind are charged. The only additional necessary expense to the student is for books and stationery, which are furnished in the building at reduced rates.

Teachers whose schools do not close until after the beginning of the Spring Term, are charged by the week at regular term rates, if they enter when their schools close and finish the term.

Students absent for one week or longer on account of personal sickness are entitled to full deduction for boarding for the time missed.

No deduction will be made for absence occurring during the first two or last two weeks of a term unless by special arrangement made beforehand. No deduction will be made for a part of a week.

RULES OF ADMISSION.

Students will be admitted at any time during the term, and classified according to their attainments.

When possible, students should enter at the beginning of a term and remain until its close.

Recitations begin on the first Tuesday of each term, and new students are classified promptly when they enter.

The first duty of the new student upon entering school is to call at the principal's office and register.

Students will not be allowed to board outside the building excepting with parents or near relatives.

SCHOOL TERMS OF 1906-1907.

The school year consists of forty weeks, and is divided into three terms. The Fall Term begins on the first Monday in September, and lasts fifteen weeks. The Winter Term begins the last Monday in December, and continues twelve weeks. The Spring Term begins the first Monday in April, and continues thirteen weeks. There will be a vacation of two weeks between the Fall and the Winter Term, and a vacation of one week between the Winter and Spring Term.

GOVERNMENT OF SCHOOL.

All school government should have for its end the development of character in the individual student. Any method of government which does not secure this important end is wrong in principle.

In a Normal school where the student is being trained to govern other students, there can be no excuse for loose government. No person is qualified to teach successfully in the public schools until he has attained a complete mastery over himself.
 The individual who has been trained in school to habits of self-control and a wise self direction has received the best training which any school can give him.

We rely largely upon the honor and self respect of our students in our efforts to control. A Normal school is not a reformatory, and parents and guardians are requested not to send vicious or immoral students to our institution to be educated.
 A few such students, if retained in a boarding school, vitiate the entire moral atmosphere of the school, and make it an unsafe place for even the well-behaved student to undertake his education.

We notify the parents when we find their children are not attentive to their studies, and if this course does not remedy the matter, the parents will be asked to withdraw them from the school. We have no desire to receive money for tuition from students who are not making good use of their opportunities to receive an education.

From a wide experience with students we have found obedience on their part to the following rules and regulations necessary to the successful management and control of a Normal School, and also for the best interests of the students themselves. No regulations are made which we do not regard as important :

TIME REGULATIONS.

1. Students will rise at 6.00 A. M. and retire at 10 P. M.
2. Recitation hours from 8.00 to 12.00 A. M. and 1.00 to 4.00 P. M.
3. Chapel services at 8.45 A. M.
4. Prayer meeting on Wednesday evening. Attendance voluntary.
5. "Normal" and "Philomathean" Literary societies meet Friday evenings at 7.30.
6. Breakfast at 7.00 A. M., dinner at 12.15 P. M., and supper at 6.00 P. M.
7. Principal's office hours for students immediately after meals.
8. Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. meetings on Sunday at 6.00 P. M.
9. Study hour from 7.00 to 10.00 P. M.

CLASS REGULATIONS.

1. Students must be regular and prompt in their attendance upon classes unless detained by sickness or absence from the school.
2. Music pupils will have regular hours assigned for practice, and during that time no visitors will be permitted to be present.
3. No student will be allowed to take more studies than he can pursue profitably, nor fewer than are necessary to keep him sufficiently employed.
4. Students must attend classes up to the time of their leaving school.
5. All students must be present at the daily chapel exercises, unless excused.

6. Ladies are expected, when exercising in the gymnasium, to wear the adopted suit of two pieces, blouse and divided skirt of dark blue flannel.

7. Both ladies and gentlemen must wear the regular gymnasium shoe—rubber sole shoes are not allowed.

Building and Room Regulations.

1. Each student will be held responsible for the condition of his room and its furniture, and he will be charged with any loss or unnecessary damage.

2. No changes or alterations must be made in the permanent parts of fixtures of the room; nor nails driven into the walls without permission of the steward.

3. No water, paper or other material shall be thrown from the windows or porticos of the buildings.

4. Standing in groups at the main entrance or in the corridors, loud talking, whistling or unnecessary noise is forbidden.

5. Students are requested to provide themselves with slippers for the building.

6. Students furnish their own towels, napkins, rings, soap and brushes. All articles of clothing sent to the laundry must be distinctly marked with the student's full name.

7. Students may be required to change their rooms or to board out of the building if deemed best by the Principal of the school.

Social Regulations.

1. Day students will not call at the rooms of boarders, nor stop in their rooms over night, unless by permission of the Principal. Boarding students will be held responsible to the Principal for the observance of this rule.

2. Boarding students will not be permitted to visit in town on Sunday, nor remain in town over night, excepting with near relatives.

3. Visitors to the building will be regarded as under the same regulations as the students.

4. Lady students will not be permitted to leave the campus unless by permission of the Principal or a member of the Faculty.

5. Visiting the buildings or grounds on Sunday will not be permitted, nor will students be allowed to make or receive calls during study or school hours.

6. Ladies and gentlemen will not be permitted to hold prolonged conversations with one another, either in the building or upon the grounds, unless in connection with school duties, and then only by permission of the Principal or member of the Faculty.

7. Students will receive visits from relatives or friends in the reception room only; an exception will be made in the case of parents, who will be permitted to visit in their children's rooms.

8. Students are under the regulations of the school going to and coming from their homes.

9. Students will select their own physician without recommendation from any member of the Faculty.

10. Students wishing to visit their homes or other places during the term must present written permits from the parents to the Principal.

Health Regulations.

1. Students upon entering school must present physicians' certificates showing that they have been successfully vaccinated.

2. Students during vacation, or at any time when they are absent from school, must avoid exposure to contagious or infectious diseases.

3. Students will be expected to observe proper hygienic rules during the time they are enrolled as members of the school.

4. Students will not be allowed to remain in the school if they are known to have any bodily ailments which would make their presence in the school a menace to the physical welfare of the other students of the institution.

5. Students will not be permitted to remain in school whose habits are deleterious to the physical comfort and welfare of the other students.

Sabbath Regulations.

1. Students are required to be present at the Sunday morning services of one of the churches in the town, unless excused by the Principal. The selection of the church is left to the parent for determination.

2. Students are required to attend the Sunday School held in the Normal chapel every Sunday morning, unless properly excused.

LIBRARY

3. From 2:00 P. M. to 5:00 P. M. will be observed as a quiet period. During this time no singing, loud talking, or other unnecessary noise will be allowed in the building.

It must not be understood that the forgoing regulations embrace all the duties and obligations devolving upon the individual student. No list of rules can be made which would cover every duty of the student under all the possible contingencies of Normal School life. And, on the other hand, there are many habits and forms of conduct so obviously out of harmony with the obligations of the person who is preparing to teach that it is not deemed necessary to prohibit them by formal rule. We have reference to the use of tobacco, the drinking of alcoholic liquors as a beverage, the utterance of profane or vulgar language, the reading of obscene literature, filthiness in personal habits and slovenliness or indecency in dress. These and other similar objectional habits can be best met by general counsel from the chapel desk, and incidentally by the instruction in the class room. Where this plan fails, a formal rule against the habit will be found a weak barrier in the way of its continuance.

Our standard of conduct for those who are preparing to teach under the tuition of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School is so high that it would preclude anyone from looking to the profession of teaching for a life calling, whose habits and conduct are not worthy the imitation of the children who may be placed under his instruction.

Department of Pedagogics.

PSYCHOLOGY.

The teacher must know the mind he proposes to develop—its laws and the principles governing its growth. In order that the subject may not become dry and uninteresting, the facts and principles involved in its study are very fully illustrated.

The student is made familiar with the facts gathered from physiological, as well as introspective, psychology. The subject is presented in such a way as to quicken interest in mind study, and especially in the study of the child mind. The application of the subject to the laws and principles of teaching is clearly and fully presented.

METHODS.

The latest improved methods of teaching the various subjects are given to the Senior class by specialists in the different departments of teaching. Both the science and art of teaching are most fully dealt with, and the student-teacher is made acquainted with the very best ideas upon the subject of instruction. The various methods given are fully exemplified before the Senior class, so that the members may fully understand how to apply them. In this department care is taken not to make the student-teacher a mere imitator, but he is left to a certain extent to work out his own special devices and methods, thus developing originality in his work.

SCHOOL MANAGEMENT.

The art of managing and conducting a school is made a prominent part of the teacher's professional training. He is given approved plans concerning the location, arrangement and ornamentation of school grounds, and the latest and best plans for the construction of school buildings. He is given the best experience in the heating, lighting, ventilating and furnishing of school-rooms. He is taught how to organize and govern successfully, how to conduct recitations, how to keep pupils profitably employed, how to classify an ungraded school, and how to arouse an interest among parents in school work.

The importance of making moral training the primary end in school government is fully emphasized. The value of a school requirement is measured by its effects upon the moral nature of the pupils. That school is best controlled where the pupils are gradually gaining increased power of self-control and a safer self-direction.

HISTORY OF EDUCATION.

In the History of Education the student is given the development of the educational ideal among the leading nations of history. The various theories of education practiced in different countries at different times are clearly presented, and the student is given the data necessary in order that he may arrive at a safe judgment as to the comparative value of the leading theories made use of by these countries.

The lives of the leading educational reformers are given in such a manner as to inspire the teacher with greater earnestness and zeal in his work.

The History of Education in the United States is given special attention, and the student is led to appreciate the power of education in the uplifting of the people. The relation of education to good citizenship is shown in the fact that the States having the best systems of education have had the widest influence in directing the governmental policy of the nation.

MODEL SCHOOL.

The Model School is the most distinctive feature of a Normal School course. Here the student teacher applies the methods he has learned, and his skill is tested by competent critics.

In a well directed Model School the experience of the individual teacher results in daily improvement in the application of scientific methods. For a young person to have the supervision and counsel of skilled teachers in the class-room must necessarily be of great advantage to him. We attach great importance to the work of the Model School. We employ as critic teachers in the Model School those who have had special training for this line of work.

We have in this department pupils in all the grades usually found in our public schools. The experience which our graduates are able to secure in their practice teaching is of inestimable value to them. The reason that such a large percentage of our graduates succeed as teachers is due as much to the agency of the training department as to the instruction given in any other department of the school. The Normal School that does not properly emphasize the work of the model department is denying to its graduates one of the most important advantages that can be secured in a well organized school for the preparation of teachers.

To have our faults corrected before they become habits, to learn how to prepare and present subjects to classes, and to know how to measure the daily progress of our pupils, are sources of power and influence which cannot help but tend toward our success in the class room.

Department of Languages.

LATIN.

In the Latin department the Junior work consists of a thorough drill in the common forms of the Declensions and Conjugation.

tions, and the simple rules of Syntax, with written translations of English to Latin. Then harder exercises, Roman fables and history are read. Upon the completion of this course the student is thoroughly prepared to study Caesar intelligently.

In the Middle year Caesar is studied. During this year the student is required to put into practice his knowledge of Syntax and inflectional endings. The greatest effort is made to secure an elegant rendering of the text into idiomatic English, and to furnish the student with a good vocabulary of words derived from the Latin.

Cicero and Virgil are read during the Senior year. It is the aim of the department in the study of these classics to introduce supplementary work on Mythology, Roman customs and history. During the entire course particular stress is laid upon pure English translations.

GREEK.

Greek may be elected in the Middle and Senior years. During the first year the student is well grounded in the elementary forms and common rules of Greek grammar. A good vocabulary and an introduction to the Anabasis is required.

During the second year the study of the Anabasis is continued. Also portions of the Iliad or the Odyssey are read.

GERMAN AND FRENCH.

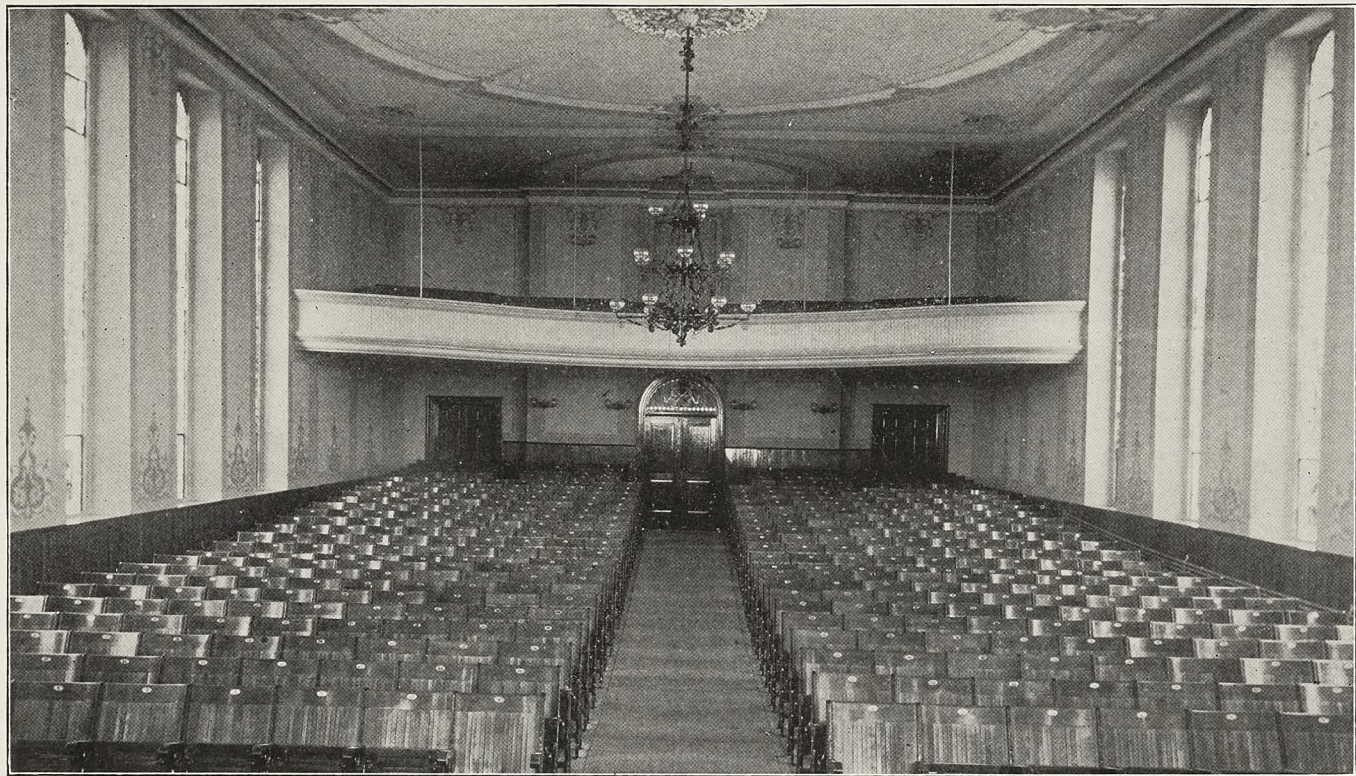

In this department great stress is laid upon the fact that the student is benefited more by learning how to translate easy texts at sight than in the acquisition of a slight ability to speak either language. Therefore easy works are selected in order to acquaint the student with the idioms and elements of grammar, and enable him to read rapidly.

Department of English.

ORTHOGRAPHY.

Considerable importance is attached to the subject of Orthography. The exercises in this branch are something more than mere memory lessons; they include a careful study of words. Enunciation, pronunciation, oral and written spelling, and the meaning and use of words are embraced in the study of this subject.

Through the instruction in this branch the pupil's vocabulary is enlarged, and his ability to express his ideas increased.

REAR VIEW OF CHAPEL

READING.

Reading lies at the foundation of all other branches of study; he who can rapidly and fully grasp a writer's meaning will find this power to be of great assistance to him in all the subjects belonging to a course of instruction.

Every effort will be made to develop the individuality of the pupil, and to give him a thorough knowledge of the natural laws of expression. The aim of this department is two-fold: first—to develop in the pupil the power to understand thoroughly the meaning of language, to cultivate his imagination, to awaken his sympathies, and to enable him to appreciate and love good literature: second—to develop in the pupil the power to express thought, whether it be his own or that of another, with ease, intelligence and power

GRAMMAR.

The study of the technical rules of grammar develops the powers of the mind; analysis helps the student to grasp the meaning of the expression clearly and quickly, and composition enables him to use the best form and style in the expression of thought.

Due attention will be paid to parsing, and analysis and structural forms of the language. Students are encouraged to select from standard authors examples illustrating the various forms of expression. They thus familiarize themselves with the best forms of classic English.

COMPOSITION.

Special attention will be paid to English composition during the coming year.

All classes will be divided into sections, and each section placed under the charge of a competent teacher. These sections will be made small enough to enable the teacher to examine carefully the work of the individual student.

The work, which will be given weekly, will involve the writing of compositions, analysis of subjects and the study of the rules of capitalization, punctuation and paragraphing.

RHETORIC.

Rhetoric treats of the various forms of language, their special meanings and applications.

A knowledge of the subject enables the student to understand the principles of the various kinds of composition, to appreciate beauty of expression and to acquire a good, clear style.

ENGLISH LITERATURE.

The primary aim in the teaching of literature should be to cultivate a love for the beautiful and the true through the study of the best thoughts of great authors.

The study of the masterpieces of literature will enable the pupil to discriminate between what is elevating and instructive and what is trivial or harmful.

During the coming year attention will be paid to the general outline of English and American Literature, but special stress will be laid upon certain classics. The list of classics that has been recommended by the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Middle States and Maryland for admission to college in 1907 will be used during the coming year.

Department of Mathematics.

ARITHMETIC.

In Arithmetic the aim is to make the subject thoroughly practical. Students are given to understand the importance of having pupils trained to rapid and accurate work in the fundamental rules. Considerable time is spent in teaching the subjects which have a direct bearing upon the every-day affairs of life. A great deal of time is given to the methods of treating common and decimal fractions and percentage, as these subjects enter into many of the business problems of daily life.

As far as possible, we adhere to the inductive method of teaching the subject. Suggestions for the construction of original problems are frequently given throughout the course.

ALGEBRA.

It is the aim in this subject to give the student a clear and complete knowledge of what is embraced in a standard work on Elementary Algebra. An effort is made to develop the subject gradually enough to make the pupil feel that he is mastering the subject as he proceeds.

In giving definitions, particular attention is paid to clearness and brevity of expression. Rules are deduced from processes given in order that the student may get the principles involved. Particular attention is paid to factoring, as a thorough knowledge of this subject is necessary to success in the solution of many algebraic problems.

GEOMETRY.

The purpose of teaching Geometry is first to discipline the mind in sound reasoning; the knowledge obtained must be regarded as of secondary importance. The following principles laid down by Pascal are closely followed: "To have no obscure terms undefined; to assume nothing not perfectly evident; to prove everything at all doubtful, by reference to admitted principles."

Great care is taken to have the definitions correctly given and accurately learned. That which is necessary rather than that which is novel and interesting, is selected for the student to learn.

The subject of Geometry is introduced by lessons in geometrical drawing in the Junior year. The familiarity thus gained with geometrical concepts will assist the student very much when he comes to make use of these concepts in his demonstrations, and will also help him to a fuller comprehension of the definitions of geometrical terms.

In order that the teacher may be certain that students do their own reasoning, a great deal of attention is given to the demonstrations of original theorems.

TRIGONOMETRY AND SURVEYING.

The subject of Trigonometry has increased in its scope until it has become a practical subject. The work of calculating has been made easier by the computation of the numerical values of the trigonometric functions and the creation of a serviceable system of logarithms. An effort is made to familiarize thoroughly the student with the principles of this subject as well as with a thorough use of the tables. Besides this interesting and practical problems are selected with a view to awaken a real love for study.

The subject of surveying is presented in a clear and intelligible way according to the methods in actual use at the present day.

Department of Natural Sciences.

PHYSIOLOGY.

The work in Physiology and Hygiene is designed to give the student such a knowledge of the structure and functions of the principal organs of the body as will enable him to understand the conditions under which these organs best perform their respective offices. The subject of Hygiene is presented with special fullness, embracing the subjects of ventilation and warming, exercise, clothing, the organs of special sense, the effects of alcohol and narcotics on the system, and the essential conditions for health in the school-room.

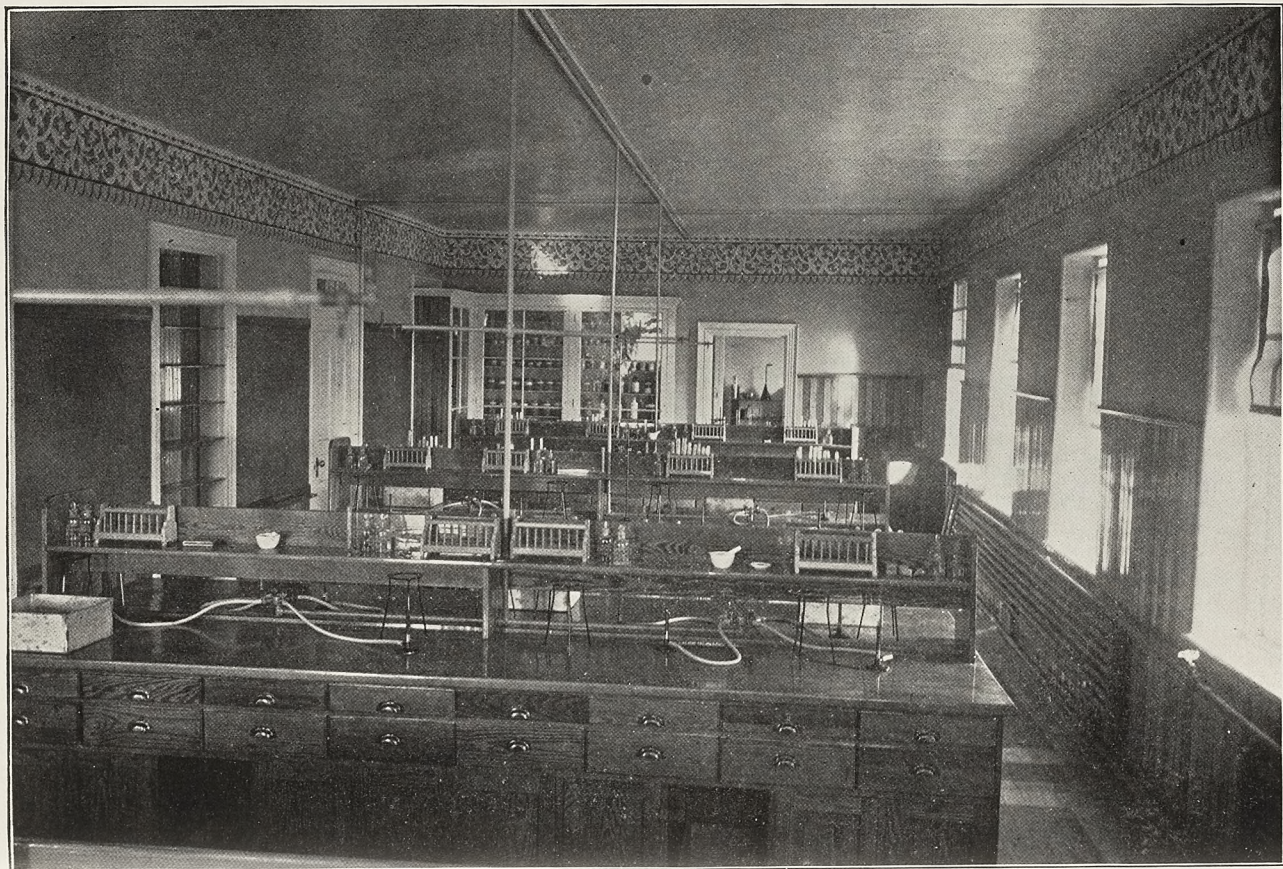

BOTANY.

This subject is taught with special reference to training the powers of observation. Our aim is not merely to train the pupil to identify plants, but to give him a thorough knowledge of the plant itself, which is far more important than its name, however desirable that may be. With this end in view, a knowledge of plant structure, physiology, growth and reproduction is first obtained. The student is then required to do daily work in analyzing, recording, classifying and preparing specimens.

Frequent botanical excursions are made, and, as far as possible, each student collects his own plants for work. A written analysis of at least forty plants and a carefully prepared herbarium of not less than the same number of specimens are required of each student.

NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.

During the past year our facilities for teaching this subject have been much improved. A number of valuable pieces of apparatus of the most improved pattern have been added to the laboratory. More attention is given to the construction and use of inexpensive home-made apparatus, thus enabling our students to become better equipped to teach the elements of this branch in schools not having apparatus. It is our aim to prepare teachers to develop in their pupils the desire and ability to be observers, experimenters and investigators. Mere mechanical study and recitation may serve to store the memory with facts, but requisite discipline is only secured when the pupil is trained to collect facts by his own observation and experiment, and made to reason upon them. What the student wants is such a knowledge of the subject as will enable him to work practically with the principles he has learned. This we aim to give him.

ZOOLOGY.

The students of the middle year study Zoology two terms. The method is, so far as practicable, on the laboratory plan. Animals representing different types are carefully studied, also their characteristics and classification. This branch is taught with a special view of enabling those who study it to make use of their knowledge in training the senses of children and giving them correct habits of observation and investigation.

GEOLOGY.

The students of the Senior year study Geology two terms. The method used is the laboratory and field method. The school is now in possession of a large collection of geological specimens which will be arranged and classified for the instruction of next year's class and the classes following. The country around Shipensburg is a very excellent one for geological excursions. The rock formations of the surrounding country afford a good field for the collection of geological specimens.

CHEMISTRY.

Chemistry may be pursued by the students for a whole year. To meet the demands of the new course of study, the school has recently fitted up a very fine chemical laboratory. Part of the time of the class is devoted to instruction in the theory of chemistry, but most of it is devoted to individual work, the students making their own experiments and tests and carefully recording the results of their labor.

Department of Historical Sciences.

GEOGRAPHY.

Physical, Mathematical and Political Geography are included in this course. Commercial Geography is given considerable prominence in this department. Less attention is given to insignificant natural and political divisions than they have received heretofore, and more time applied to the study of the manufactures, commerce and farming and mine products.

Comparative Geography is made prominent in dealing with this important subject. By comparison the pupils get clearer ideas of geographical divisions and places, and they are able to retain their impressions longer. The railways and commercial routes are definitely traced, and numerous imaginary trips are made to different parts of the globe. The geographical information of the pupils is often drawn upon to furnish material for composition writing.

The home geography of the pupil is carefully and accurately given as the first step in teaching this interesting subject. The primary concepts of position, direction, distance, soil, climate and natural productions are learned by the pupil as part of his first geographical knowledge.

HISTORY OF UNITED STATES.

History is taught primarily to impart to the student a knowledge of events and the causes which have produced them. The method of teaching History which results in giving the student simply a knowledge of the facts of the subject, although very commonly employed, cannot be too strongly condemned. Unless the relation of cause to effect is carefully traced, the student fails to get any real benefit from the study of the subject.

The proper teaching of United States History will develop a deeper love of country in the mind of the student, and lead him to appreciate more fully the blessings of the government under which he lives.

The study of the great lives in the history of our nation has a tendency to develop character in the pupil as well as devotion to liberty and union.

CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

The proper instruction of the student in Civil Government includes a clear exposition of the great principles underlying the Constitution, with a summary of the legislative provisions in which they have been embodied. As the details of a government are usually more interesting and more important to the average student than the theories of government that may be obtained from its written Constitution, the agencies of government and its machinery are very fully presented.

GENERAL HISTORY.

The work in this subject is limited to an intensive study of the history of Greece, Rome and England, and a brief consideration of the Protestant Reformation. The movement in history, and the "logically germinal facts" of history with their determining force, is the ideal of instruction.

Department of Arts.

BOOKKEEPING.

In earlier days only those who expected to become accountants and merchants thought it necessary to study bookkeeping; but public sentiment in this respect, in recent years, has been rapidly changing. It is now generally admitted that every person should be able to record properly common business transactions. The simpler forms of bookkeeping must, therefore, be taught in the public schools to meet the public demand for this kind of knowledge as a part of the education of every child who reaches the grammar school.

To prepare teachers to teach this subject is therefore an important part of the work of every Normal school.

PENMANSHIP.

A poor penman is at almost as great a disadvantage as he who speaks with a stammering or lisping tongue. The difficulty of recognizing the words of a poor writer interferes with the quick grasping of the thought. We aim to secure rapidity and legibility, and we use the Spencerian system as a guide in practice. The student is expected to understand the theory of an approved system, and to be able to explain it intelligently to a class of children.

DRAWING.

One of the good definitions of art describes it as a means of manifesting the Divine in material form for the apprehension of the senses and the reason. This definition makes art one of the three highest products of the soul.

Manu-Mental training being the object of art education today, our art course has a two-fold aim : to train the hand to delicacy, grace and speed of execution ; to instill ideas of beauty, and to cultivate habits of observation, good judgment and originality of thought.

The student who arrives at these ends will, as a teacher, have ability to illustrate lessons. As a practical man of affairs, he will possess a rapid and accurate means of thought expression. Socially, he will be known as a person of cultivated taste.

VOCAL MUSIC.

In the vocal department are given, free of charge, class lessons, in which the pupils are taught the rudiments of music and the theory of sight singing. Practice in singing the best part songs and choruses furnish not only the necessary drill in reading music, but also a knowledge of good music. Those taking the professional course receive instruction in the best method of teaching music, and thus are enabled to supply one of the greatest needs of the time, that of teachers of music in the public schools.

FRONT VIEW OF CHAPEL

PIANO FORTE COURSE OF STUDY.

FIRST YEAR.

From three to four years will be required to complete the course satisfactorily.

The course in Voice Culture has been arranged to cover three years, and comprises studies for voice placing, breath control, pronunciation and voice development.

"To save time is to lengthen life," says the author of one of the best systems of stenography.

The advantages of shorthand are so many and so manifest that only a few years will elapse until it will become the universal medium for correspondence. The principles of shorthand are so simple that any ordinary child can learn them. The time has come when every writer, teacher, lawyer and clergyman should acquire this art. It saves time. It saves space. It saves paper. It quickens the mind as well as the hand.

Stenography and typewriting when combined, offer fine business opportunities to young men and women, with fair compensation.

This department has made a good beginning, and we expect to accomplish still more the coming year.

Department of Physical Culture.

“A sound mind in a sound body” is an end worth working for. One of the objects of this department is to assist students in maintaining a sound body if they possess it, and to acquire it if it be lacking. Regular systematic exercise will produce an erect, graceful carriage, and will aid in overcoming such common physical defects as round shoulders, drooping head and flat chest.

The prescribed amount of exercise in the gymnasium under a competent instructor, is expected of all students. In the Junior year instruction is given in military drill, free movements and the use of light apparatus. In the Senior year a course in public school gymnastics is given, with notes on the subject. Practical work for the school room is emphasized.

RELIGIOUS SOCIETIES.

Our students are furnished excellent opportunities for spiritual growth and development. We have a prayer and lecture service every Wednesday evening conducted by a member of the Faculty, to which all the students are invited. The service is attended by a large number of students, and is full of interest and profit.

We have a Sabbath School organized among the students. This service is held every Sabbath morning, and the exercises are highly appreciated and greatly enjoyed by the school. The school is divided into classes, each class being taught by a member of the Faculty. The International Lesson is used.

Students, unless excused by the Principal, are required to attend the church of their choice every Sabbath morning. The church attendance in connection with the religious services at the school, offers to them all the spiritual advantages that they would receive at their own homes. In all proper ways Christian influences are thrown around the pupil, making his school life to conform as nearly as possible to home life in a Christian family.

A Young Men's Christian Association and a Young Women's Christian Association have been formed among the students. These societies have been doing a great work for the growth of religious sentiment in the school. These associations are non-denominational in character, and they are therefore well adapted to develop the kind of religious spirit which every State Normal School should nourish and cherish.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Among the most valuable auxiliaries to a Normal School or College are its literary societies. The Normal and Philomathean societies are strong, vigorous associations, and in their growth are keeping equal pace with the growth of the school. They meet in separate halls every Friday evening for the rendering of carefully prepared programs. These programs are highly entertaining and instructive, and those who take part in rendering them bestow ample labor and care on their preparation.

The libraries of the two societies have been donated to the school and now form part of the general school library. As the school library is in charge of a librarian, the books donated by the societies will be much more serviceable to the students since they have been classified and placed on the shelves of the school library. The societies are to be commended for their generosity in making a gift of their libraries to the school.

READING ROOM.

The Reading-Room of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School is one of its most important features. All the prominent magazines, periodicals, and many newspapers, daily and weekly, are found upon the shelves and on the files in the handsome room fitted up for library and reading-room purposes.

The students are encouraged to make good use of its privileges, and the results are most gratifying. A librarian is always in charge of the room when it is open, in order that perfect quiet may reign, and that the students may get the largest profit possible from their hours spent in the reading-room. The student who has graduated from a Normal School without having acquired a taste for good literature, and a knowledge of how to read with the greatest profit, is but poorly equipped for the work of teaching.

ADVANTAGES.

1. A lecture course of six numbers will be given by the Normal School during the coming year. These lectures will be free to all students in attendance at the time the lectures are given. None but high class lecturers will be selected.

2. The training our graduates get in the Model School is not surpassed and scarcely equalled by any of the other Normal Schools of the state. Our Seniors do actual teaching in the Model School under the direction of expert teachers throughout the entire Senior year.

3. Our students all come under the instruction of the heads of departments in all the subjects of the course. This is a great gain to the student as it guarantees to him high class teaching in all the subjects he is required to pursue.

4. The Cumberland Valley State Normal School is located within forty miles of Harrisburg, the Capital of the State, within twenty miles of the Indian Training School at Carlisle and within thirty miles of the famous battle field of Gettysburg.

5. The social culture of our students is made an important feature of our school life. Education should refine the tastes of students and fit them for good society. We endeavor to have our students become ladies and gentlemen as well as proficient scholars.

6. Shippensburg is an ideal school town. By a vote of the people there are no licensed hotels in the borough and consequently no temptations are offered to students in the direction of intemperate habits. The town is noted for its fine churches and for the excellent moral and religious spirit which pervades the citizenship of the place.

7. The school is not crowded beyond its capacity. The accommodations for the boarding students are ample and complete and the classes are restricted to a number that will insure the teacher the opportunity to do the necessary amount of individual work.

8. Our school is growing more and more in popular favor each year. Our popularity with directors and superintendents enables us to place our graduates in good positions as soon as they finish the course. We hold to-day our fair share of important positions in the state.

9. Our school is located in one of the most beautiful spots of the famous Cumberland Valley. The scenery which abounds in this vicinity is unsurpassed by any other section of our great Commonwealth. The wholesome influence of beautiful surroundings cannot be over estimated in their power to elevate the moral and spiritual tone of a student body.

10. Our school is organized in the interest of the individual student rather than for the purpose of economizing the teaching force. Where students have the irregular preparation which is found among the students who enter Normal Schools it is of great importance to the individual student that the classification for the Junior work should be flexible enough to enable him to even up his preparation so as to make his attainments harmonize with the standards of his class.

SUGGESTIONS.

1. Come at the opening of the term and remain until its close.
2. The Fall term is the best time to commence your Normal Course.
3. Take at least a year to the Junior Course.
4. Give each subject in the course its full amount of attention.
5. Take for your standard of politeness the most polished and courteous students of the school.
6. Establish a reputation for character as well as scholarship.
7. Make up your mind to be a close and diligent student.
8. Be prompt and regular in your attendance upon classes.
9. Do not be satisfied with anything less than the highest standing your ability will enable you to obtain.
10. Determine when you enter school to win the good-will and respect of the entire Faculty.
11. Read as many good books as possible during the time devoted to your Normal Course.
12. Regard all the regulations of the school as intended for your benefit.
