ADVANTAGES OFFERED BY THE CUMBERLAND VALLEY STATE NORMAL SCHOOL

In addition to the many advantages offered by all the State Normal Schools, the Cumberland Valley Normal offers the following distinctive opportunities:

1. Location.—All who have visited our school will frankly concede that in beauty of location it is unsurpassed by any school in Pennsylvania. The North and South Mountains are in plain view from the dormitories.

2. The Community.—The Cumberland Valley is the home of the Scotch-Irish, devoted to the cause of education, and the Pennsylvania Germans noted for their hospitality and thrift. The union of these two races has produced an admirable type of citizenship. A high tone of morality characterizes the community. There has not been a licensed saloon in Shippensburg or within a radius of six miles from the town for more than twenty years.

3. The Buildings.—Our buildings are equipped with all modern conveniences. The ladies' dormitory is a beautiful homelike building much admired by all who have inspected it, and the newly painted and refurnished rooms in the Administration Building are attractive and homelike. The chapel has recently been redecorated and equipped with electric lights. During the summer the rooms of the boys' dormitory will be painted and refurnished.

The gymnasium has been justly praised for its beautiful architectural design and its admirable equipment. The new model school building, recently completed, combines all the best features of modern school architecture. The other buildings are adapted to the needs of the students and present a fine appearance.

4. The Home Life of the School.—The authorities of the school recognize that school life should be a preparation for living and should reproduce as nearly as possible the social life of the home. Under the oversight and direction of the faculty our students associate with one another and are given that social training, so necessary in after life, that is expected of every lady and gentleman.

5. Size of the School.—The Principal and Faculty of the school believe that a school should not number more than six hundred pupils. Schools exceeding this number are apt to be unwieldy; it is not possible for the faculty to know the students personally in larger schools, nor for the students to know one another intimately. As a result many of the conditions that should prevail in a large Home School are absent in such schools. A school ranging from five to six hundred in number is large enough to combine the best features to be found in a student body but is not so large as to destroy the individuality of the students.

6. Small Classes.—We believe in small classes, not exceeding thirty-five or forty students. When the classes are larger than this it is impossible for the teacher to come into that close personal contact with the students so necessary to their progress. Very often the lecture method with its glaring faults is used by teachers in large classes. Experience shows that really good work is impossible in classes numbering more than thirty-five or forty students.

7. The Expense.—Tho the cost of living has risen at least 75 per cent. the school will charge but *$4.50 for board and furnished room with heat, light and laundry included. In the few cases where fees are charged they are made so low that they barely cover the cost of materials used.

8. Help to Graduates.—The school has a regularly organized system by means of which its graduates are helped, and help one another to secure good positions in the public schools.

THE SCHOOL YEAR

The school year of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School consists of forty weeks. There are three terms:—the fall term of * This rate applies to students who are in attendance the entire year. If conditions require such action a rate of $5.00 per week will be charged those present for a shorter time.

fifteen weeks, which begins Monday, September 10, 1917, and ends Thursday, December 20, 1917; the Winter term of twelve weeks, which begins Monday, December 31, 1917, and ends Thursday, March 21, 1918; the Spring term of thirteen weeks, which begins Monday, April 1, and ends Wednesday, June 26, 1918.

Students may enter at any time, but all who can do so are urged to enter at the beginning of the Fall term and remain throughout the year. Such students invariably make the most satisfactory progress as the work of the various terms is very closely co-ordinated.

During the Spring term special classes are organized to meet the needs of those students who have taught in or attended the public schools during the fall and winter, and who wish to prepare for a higher grade of certificate, or for advanced standing in the Normal School. These classes will also meet the needs of those who wish to prepare themselves for the County Superintendent's examination. Students who have been attending the public schools will be permitted to enter the teachers' training class in the Spring term without examination. Teachers of experience who wish to take the examination for professional or permanent certificate will also find that the work given during the Spring term is exactly suited to their needs.

LOCATION

The Cumberland Valley State Normal School is beautifully located on rising ground just outside of Shippensburg. All who have ever seen the school agree that its location is unsurpassed. To the west rise the beautiful North Mountains, while still nearer on the east rise the South Mountains, both part of the Blue Ridge System. The Cumberland Valley is widely famed for its beautiful water courses, its rich farming land and its hospitable and intelligent people. The town of Shippensburg is an ideal community for a school. It is a wide-awake, progressive borough with a population of about thirty-five hundred. There are twelve flourishing churches in the town, but not a single licensed saloon. Parents and prospective students will at once realize the advantages of an environment of this character.

Shippensburg is located along the line of the Cumberland Valley Railroad, a branch of the Pennsylvania system. It is forty-one miles south of Harrisburg, The Philadelphia and Reading and the Western Maryland Railroads also pass through the town, thus making it very easy of access.

THE FACULTY

The authorities of the school recognize that valuable and necessary as a material equipment is to a school, its faculty is of even greater importance. Special care has been exercised in selecting men and women of high standard intellectually and morally. The effective teacher must not only know the subject matter to be taught, but he must be thoroughly conversant with the best methods of instructing others. The teachers of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School are themselves products of the public schools. Practically all of them have taught for a considerable time in the public schools and have had experience in supervisory capacity. They are thus enabled to understand and appreciate the needs of the young men and women who form the student body of the school. One of the striking features of the school is the close relation that exists between teacher and pupil. Visitors have not failed to remark that this school resembles a very large family, in which the teachers act as counselors and advisors.

AIM OF THE SCHOOL

The aim of the school is to teach our pupils self control, for without this quality any scheme of education will be a failure. The great majority of our pupils come to us with a very definite purpose in view and wish to make the best possible use of their opportunities, hence the tone of the school is remarkably earnest.

It is a further aim and object of the school to prepare our pupils for social efficiency. We realize that young men and women must be able to take an active part in the affairs of the various communities into which they are expected to go after leaving the school; hence the school does not neglect the social side of the student's life, and opportunities for social intercourse under proper direction are afforded the students from time to time. The student who goes from a school lacking the ability to associate with cultured men and women is bound to be more or less of a failure in life. Our pupils are therefore trained in the conventions expected of them by society so that they may take their place in the affairs of their respective communities. The ideal of any school should be to reproduce as nearly as possible the family life. As young men and women associate in the family, so should they associate in a properly regulated school.

In carrying out this policy this Normal School allows the greatest possible freedom to the young men and women compatible with good taste and sound morality. In short everything is done by the faculty to co-operate with the students in maintaining a bright and refined home life and to help them to the cultivation of that grace and dignity that marks the real lady or gentleman.

EQUIPMENT

The school is well provided with chemical and physical apparatus necessary to effective class room work. The class rooms, library, chapel, gymnasium and studios are thoroughly good and well fitted for their respective purposes. The new biological laboratory is now in use. It is equipped with everything necessary to effective work. The new Domestic Science rooms include a large up-to-date kitchen and dining room. A moving picture machine and a balopticon have been purchased and are used in connection with the school work.

The school maintains a large and well equipped laundry in which the laundry work of the school including that of the students and faculty is done.

The gymnasium is a beautiful, well furnished building, equipped with suitable apparatus for the work of physical training.

The ladies' dormitory is one of the most beautiful and convenient buildings to be found anywhere in the State. It is well heated and lighted and presents a very homelike appearance. The men's dormitory is in the main building and is adequately provided with everything that is necessary for the comfort and welfare of our students.

A large stable is provided for the accommodation of day students who wish to secure accommodations for their horses used in driving to the school.

The infirmary is a bright and well equipped building, ready to be used at a moment's notice by students or teachers without additional charge. Good physicians and nurses are within easy reach.

CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION AND GRADUATION

1. Properly certified graduates of approved Pennsylvania high schools of the first grade and city high schools as listed by the Department of Public Instruction, shall be admitted to the third year of the Four Year Course of the State Normal Schools without examination, and be conditioned in the branches that have not been satisfactorily completed by such student.

2. Properly certified graduates of approved Pennsylvania high schools of the second grade shall be admitted to the second year of the Four Year Course of the State Normal Schools without examination, and be conditioned in the branches that have not been satisfactorily completed by such students.

3. Properly certified graduates of approved Pennsylvania high schools of the third grade shall be admitted to the first year of the Four Year Course of the State Normal Schools without examination, and be conditioned in the branches that have not been satisfactorily completed by such students.

4. A person who desires to be admitted to the second or the third year without having previously attended an accredited high school, must have a certificate from a commissioned Superintendent of Schools, showing that he has pursued the branches of the first year or the first first and second years, with his standing in those branches, or must pass a satisfactory examination by the Faculty in said branches, or be conditioned in them. But the studies in which any one is conditioned under this rule or any one of the rules above, shall not foot up more than 320 hours.

5. If the Faculty of any State Normal School or the State Board of Examiners decide that a person is not prepared to pass an examination by the State Board, he shall not be admitted to the same examination at any other State Normal School during the same school year.

6. If a person who has completed the State Board examinations required for admission to the classes of any year at any State Normal School desires to enter another Normal School, the Principal of the Normal School at which the examination was held, shall send the proper certificate to the Principal of the school which the person desires to attend. Except for the reason here stated, no certificate setting forth the passing of any studies at a State Normal School shall be issued.

7. Candidates for graduation shall have the opportunity of being examined in any higher branches, including vocal and instrumental music and double entry bookkeeping; and all studies completed by them shall be named in their certificate. ### COURSE OF STUDY FOR PENNSYLVANIA STATE NORMAL SCHOOLS

This course is based on the "unit" plan as proposed by The Carnegie Foundation.

A "unit" represents a year's study in any subject in a secondary school, constituting approximately a quarter of a full year's work.

(This statement is designed to afford a standard of measurement for the work done in a secondary school. It takes the four-year high school course as a basis and assumes that the length of the school year is from thirty-six to forty weeks, that a period is forty-five minutes in length and that the study is pursued for four of five periods a week; but, under ordinary circumstances, a satisfactory year's work in any subject cannot be accomplished in less than one hundred and sixty forty-five minute periods or their equivalent.)

Students admitted to the First Year shall have a fair knowledge of Arithmetic, Reading, Orthography, Penmanship, United States History, Geography, Grammar, Physiology, Civics and the Elements of Algebra to Quadratics. Test by Faculty.

CERTIFICATES AND DIPLOMAS

Graduates in the four years' course are awarded a certificate in which are named the branches in which the student has been found qualified. This certificate entitles the holder to teach two years in the public schools of Pennsylvania without examination.

A graduate in the Normal Course who has continued his studies for two years and has taught successfully for two full annual terms in the common schools of the State, will receive, upon presenting to the Faculty and the State Board of Examiners, a certificate of good moral character and skill in the Art of Teaching, endorsed by the Board, or Boards of Directors by whom he was employed, and countersigned by the proper Superintendent, or Superintendents of Schools, a permanent diploma, which will entitle the holder to teach in any of the public schools of the State without further examination. The proper blanks may be obtained from the principal at any time. They should be filled out and filed with the principal not later than June 1.

SUPPLEMENTARY COURSE

By a vote of the Principals of the Pennsylvania State Normal Schools it was determined that the degrees of Bachelor of Pedagogics and Master of Pedagogics shall not be conferred after June, 1916.

To encourage graduates of the regular Normal course to continue their professional reading and study, the Cumberland Valley

THESE UPHELD THE HONOR OF OLD NORMAL ON THE BASEBALL FIELD

Government and Discipline

All school government should have for its end the development of character in the individual student. Any method of government which does not secure this important end is wrong in principle.

In a Normal School, where the student is being trained to govern other students, there can be no excuse for loose government. No person is qualified to teach in the public schools until he has attained a complete mastery over himself. The individual who has been trained in schools to habits of self-control and a wise self-direction has received the best training which any school can give him.

We rely largely upon the honor and self-respect of our students in our efforts to control. A Normal School is not a reformatory. Students who enter this school are supposed to come for the purpose of preparing themselves for their life work, and to be capable of self control. The disciplinary regulations are therefore, few and simple. Students who cannot abide by these regulations will be required to leave the institution.

We notify the parents when we find their children are not attentive to their studies, and if this course does not remedy the matter, the parents will be asked to withdraw them from school. Students who are not making good use of their opportunities to receive an education, will not be retained in school.

Obedience on the part of the students to the following rules and regulations is necessary to the successful management and control of a Normal school, and is for the best interests of the students themselves. No regulations are made which we do not regard as important.

Time Regulations

1. Students will rise at 6:45 a.m. and retire at 10 p.m.
2. Recitation hours from 8:15 to 12:00 a.m. and from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m.
3. Breakfast at 7:15 a.m. Lunch at 12:10 p.m. and Dinner at 5:30 p.m.
4. Chapel service at 9:00 a.m.
5. Prayer meeting on Wednesday, 7:00 p.m. Attendance voluntary.
6. "Normal" and "Pilomathean" Literary Societies meet on Friday evenings at 7:00 o'clock.
7. Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. meetings on Sunday at 6:00 p. m. Sunday School at 8:45 a.m
8. Study hour from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m.

Class Regulations

1. No student will be allowed to take more studies than he can pursue profitably nor fewer than are necessary to keep him sufficiently employed.
2. Students must attend classes up to the time of their leaving school.
3. All students must be present at the daily chapel exercises, unless excused.
4. A costume suitable for use in gymnasium must be worn in the physical training classes. It is suggested that the gymnasium costume be secured after students have entered the school and have ascertained just what is needed. Girls are expected, when exercising in the gymnasium, to wear the adopted suit of two pieces, blouse and divided skirt of dark blue flannel.
5. Both men and women must wear the regular gymnasium shoes for gymnasium exercises.

Building and Room Regulations

1. Each student will be held responsible for the condition of his room and its furniture, and he will be charged with any loss or unnecessary damage.
2. No changes or alterations must be made in the permanent parts or fixtures of the room; nor nails driven into the walls without the permission of the preceptress or matron.
3. Students are requested to provide themselves with slippers for the building.
4. Students furnish their own towels, napkins, rings, soap and brushes. All articles of clothing sent to the laundry must be distinctly marked with the student's full name. Students should also bring with them or purchase for their own use in their rooms a knife, fork, spoon and glass tumbler, as these articles must not be taken from the school dining room.
5. Students may be required to change their rooms or to board out of the building if deemed best by the Principal of the school.

Social Regulations

1. Day students may not call at the rooms of boarders, nor stay in their rooms over night, unless by permission of the Principal. Boarding students will be held responsible to the Principal for the observance of this rule.
2. Boarding students will not be permitted to visit in town on Sunday, nor remain in town over night, excepting with near relatives.

3. Visitors to the building will be regarded as under the same regulations as the students.
4. Lady students will not be permitted to leave the campus unless by permission of the Principal or a member of the Faculty.
5. Visiting the buildings or grounds on Sunday will not be permitted, nor will students be allowed to make or receive calls during study or school hours.
6. Ladies and gentlemen will not be permitted to hold prolonged conversations with one another, either in the building or upon the grounds, unless in connection with school duties, and then only by permission of the Principal or member of the Faculty.
7. Students will receive visits from relatives or friends in the reception room only. An exception will be made in the case of parents, who will be permitted to visit in their children's rooms.
8. Students are under the regulations of the school going to and coming from their homes.
9. Students will select their own physician without recommendation from any member of the faculty.
10. Students wishing to visit their homes or other places during the term must present written permits from the parents to the Principal, or a member of the Faculty designated by him. Parents are urged not to ask that their children be absent from school except between the hours of 4 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. Monday. The students cannot make up the work missed through absence from class.
11. The authorities of the school will not, except in case of absolute necessity, call a student to the telephone during school or study hours. Such calls should be made before 8:15 a.m., between 12 noon and 1 o'clock p.m. and 3:15 and 7 p.m.
12. Parents sometimes complain that the expenses incurred by students are considerably in excess of those listed in the catalogue. There is no reason for such complaint, as every legitimate expense is plainly listed in the catalogue. Students, however, frequently persuade their parents to supply them with more money than should be given them. Bills for books, fees, and other legitimate expenses will always be furnished by the school when requested by parents.

Health Regulations

1. Students upon entering the school must present physician's certificate showing that they have been successfully vaccinated.
2. Students during vacation, or at any time when they are absent from school, must avoid exposure to contagious or infectious diseases.

3. Students will be expected to observe proper hygienic rules during the time they are enrolled as members of the school.

4. The school kitchen is in charge of a matron who is a skilled dietician. Food specially adapted to the needs of the student is provided and parents are requested not to send boxes of cooked eatables to students. Many cases of ill health are directly traceable to over-indulgence in food sent from home.

5. Students who are ill will be supplied with the proper food needed by them. For these meals a slight charge will be made to cover part of the cost of service and the special food required.

Sabbath Regulations

1. Students are required to be present at the Sunday morning services of one of the churches in the town, unless excused by the Principal. The selection of the church is left to the parent.

2. Students are required to attend the Sunday School held in the Normal Chapel every Sunday morning, unless properly excused.

3. 3:00 p. m. to 5 p. m. will be observed as a quiet period. During this time no singing, loud talking, or other unnecessary noise will be allowed in the building.

Damage done to furniture and other school property is charged against the students responsible for it. Male students, both boarding and day, must make a deposit of $2.50 to cover possible damages. This deposit will be returned when the student leaves school after deducting any charges against him.

It must not be understood that the foregoing regulations embrace all the duties and obligations devolving upon the individual student. No list of rules can be made which would cover every duty of the student under all the possible contingencies of Normal School life. And, on the other hand, there are many habits and forms of conduct so obviously out of harmony with the obligations of the person who is preparing to teach that it is not deemed necessary to prohibit them by formal rule.

Our standard of conduct for those who are preparing to teach under the tuition of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School is so high that it would preclude anyone from looking to the profession of teaching for a life calling whose habits and conduct are not worthy the imitation of the children who may be placed under his instruction.

DEPARTMENT OF INSTRUCTION

PSYCHOLOGY

DR. LEHMAN

Junior Class

A knowledge of Psychology is necessary to the successful teacher. Educators have come to recognize the child as the center around which the entire educational system revolves. The teacher must understand the child's physical nature with special reference to the structure of the brain and the entire nervous system; he must understand the close relation that the physical bears to the mental state. Hence considerable time is given to the study of the physiology of the brain and nervous system. The laws underlying the growth and development of the various mental activities are studied, not only from the text book, but by actual observation of children. Similarly laws of memory, habit, etc., are tested or derived by a course of experiments. Students are encouraged to work out problems for themselves. In short, the aim of the course is to make psychology of practical value to every student.

PEDAGOGY

MISS HARRIS    MRS. HERR    MISS SNIVELY    MISS MEYERS

Freshman Year

School Management

School management treats of the school as a definite agency of society, organized for the express purpose of training boys and girls for social efficiency.

Problems dealing with the organization and management of the school are considered; the principles underlying the selection and arrangement of the course of study are discussed, as are the questions relating to the location, structure, heating, lighting and ventilation of school buildings. During the spring term a text-book dealing with the ungraded country school is used. The course aims to present the practical problems in the multi-graded country school and to show how they may be solved so as to economize time and energy of both teacher and pupil and yet insure efficiency. Attention is given to method work. Model lessons are given in teaching classes in various common school branches. Texts: Seeley—School Management; Culter and Stone—The Rural School: it's Methods and Management.

General Methods

During the Sophomore year, General Methods are studied. The object here is to supplement the work of the Freshman year with a study of the best methods of securing good results in the school room; to lead the pupils to appreciate the fact that methods rest upon a scientific basis; to enlarge the vision of the pupils as to the scope of method work; to prepare the way for special methods.

Great stress is placed upon the general aim of education, its realization and its effect upon methods, plans and courses of study. Some of the important topics of which a detailed study is made are: the assigning of lessons, teaching how to study, moral training, the recitation, supervision. Finally different types of lessons are considered and students are required to construct lesson plans illustrating these types. Texts: Bagley—Classroom Management; Strayer—The Teaching Process.

Junior Year

Rural School Problems

During the spring term, the third year class takes up the study of Rural School Problems. Special attention is paid to the relation of the community to the rural school; its curriculum, organization, daily programme, etc. Consolidation and standardization are studied in the light of practical experience. Text: Betts and Hall—Better Rural Schools.

Methods in History and Geography

The successful teacher not only knows his subject, but he is thoroughly familiar with the best methods of teaching it. It is highly important that the aim and purpose of history and geography teaching should be clearly apprehended by every teacher. The course in methods aims to give the student a clear understanding of the relation that these subjects sustain to every day life. The use of apparatus, mechanical devices, maps, etc., is made the subject of careful study. Texts: McMurry—Methods in Geography; Wayland—Methods in History.

Senior Year

History of Education

History of Education as a professional subject must justify itself to the prospective teacher. It does this by making him conscious that he is governed largely by educational tradition and is complacently accepting present conditions; by impelling him to analyze his problems more completely and to throw light upon the school practices and principles with which he is at the present time vitally concerned; by enabling him to reconstruct his educational ideas, theories and plans in accordance with this light; by helping him to understand the origin and significance of current practices. In view of these facts this course includes an account of all educational endeavor from the day of primitive man to the present. The radical defects of ancient Oriental systems of education are presented. The educational ideals and practices of the Greek and the Roman people, in so far as they affect the later educational development are emphasized. This early part of the history of education, however, is curtailed as much as possible, so as to give more time to study the educational tendencies, problems and movements of modern education, especially those of the present day. Considerable effort is made to trace the influence of the various educational movements upon the content, method and organization of education in the United States. Reference to outside sources is frequently demanded and the work is clarified by the use of stereopticon slides.

Methods in Arithmetic and English

The History of Arithmetic, its place in the curriculum, the best methods of obtaining practical results, the questions of emphasis and elimination, are considered in this course. Attention is also paid to the various systems for determining the progress and efficiency of pupils.

The course in Methods in English covers a wide field. The place of technical grammar is discussed and the problems of methods in oral and written composition are stressed.

Training Department

MISS HARRIS      MRS. HERR      MISS SNIVELY

The school law of Pennsylvania requires as part of the equipment of a Normal school, a well organized training department where students may have an opportunity to teach under guidance, supervision and observation as a part of their necessary training before being graduated as teachers.

The Model School numbers two hundred pupils, divided into nine grades, corresponding to the grades in the public schools. The subjects taught are: reading, spelling, oral and written arithmetic, history, civil government, geography, (political and physical), language, grammar, composition and nature study, physiology and hygiene, Latin, algebra, and the reading of Classics.

The course of study in the Model School is planned with a view to prepare pupils to enter the Freshmen year of the Normal School. The work to be accomplished in the different subjects is carefully planned according to the needs and ability of the individual pupils. These printed plans which are put into the hands of each Senior teacher contain an outline of the work in every grade and subject. Seniors are assigned to teach according to scholarship, fitness, general ability and personal preference.

The Supervisors in the Model School correct the daily plans of the Seniors. These plans are written in time for suggestion and revision before being used in the classes of the day. During the teaching of lessons the supervisors visit the class-room to observe the poise, personality and method of the teacher, for helpful suggestions later, as well as to safeguard the development and education of the children.

The supervisors teach observation lessons, which show how to present a new subject, give an idea of the relation of one subject to others of the curriculum, as well as an insight into the tactful handling of children of different temperaments.

Persons preferring to do primary work are given opportunity to elect and secure practice in the following:

Primary reading, including spelling, story-telling, phonics, handwork suitable to the season, dramatization and penmanship.

Language and nature, including the study of plants and animals, life according to the season, related stories and poems, dramatization, oral and written reproduction.

Special emphasis is placed upon oral composition and literary work, beginning with oral reproduction and conversation exercises leading up through dramatization, memorization and recitation, to vitalized composition in all phases of every day English.

Number work, games, rhymes, and playing store.

History and geography, celebration of national and historical events in their proper geographical setting.

Kindergarten work, including paper cutting, sewing, pasting, weaving, modeling, raffia and handwork related to subjects taught.

FRANKLIN COUNTY SENT A BIG PARTY

In plays and games the aim is to supply opportunity for expression of activity and imagination through the medium of plays, stories, singing and dramatic games suggested by the season, holidays or other pleasures and interests of the children. Marches, drills and some apparatus work aid in developing grace, carriage and strength.

Students preferring higher grade work are encouraged to develop ability in handling adolescent boys and girls, in understanding proper light, heat, ventilation and sanitary conditions, in the use of correct methods for acquiring interest and achievement, and in creating an atmosphere of industry and self-confidence that will form character in the pupils as well as develop ability to teach Grammar and High School subjects.

The Normal School teachers of drawing, music, penmanship, manual training, and physical culture supervise the teaching of their subjects, and students having preference for these subjects are encouraged to specialize in their Model School work.

The Model School teaching gives opportunity for child study; it presents the school problems met in every day teaching; it provides discipline, experience and is a test which proves the necessary qualifications of a teacher and provides splendid opportunity for development in character and teaching ability.

ENGLISH

PROF. FANNING

MISS STROH

The aims of this department are two-fold: first, reasonably accurate and fluent expression; secondly, a sincere appreciation of some portion of the best literature of the English language. The formal and theoretical aspects of Grammar, Rhetoric, and Literature are treated as means to the end.

For Freshmen

1. Grammatical English—A course in correct English, based upon a thorough study of English Grammar. The first aim of the course is to counteract faulty habits of speech and to build up correct ones. At the beginning of the year the students are tested to discover their especial weaknesses, and the attention of the course in the form of continual drills, is concentrated upon the habitual errors of the pupils. Incorrect spelling, improper capitalization and punctuation, misuses of tense and number forms, wrong pronunciation, faulty enunciation, and scanty vocabulary—these are the common faults which the course attempts in part to remedy. Ownership and use of a dictionary is compulsory.

The work in technical grammar is confined to the parts of speech, sentence analysis, and the inflection of words. There is no diagramming or parsing.

The constructive work of the course consists of considerable oral and written composition, exemplifying without formal study most of the types of discourse. Students receive just as much individual correction and assistance as their number will permit.

As a partial preparation for later work in literature, the teacher gives occasional readings from standard authors.

Fall, Winter, and Spring Terms, daily.

2. Grammar.—A course in English Grammar, designed for those who have been teaching during the school year. This course is similar to course 1, but pays less attention to the drill for the correction of errors, and to composition.

Spring Term, daily.

For Sophomores

3. Rhetoric and Classics.—(a). A practical course in composition, which teaches narration, exposition, description, and argumentation. Rhetorical theory is studied, and applied in many oral and written compositions. The pupils are given individual attention in the construction and correction of their work.

(b). The student shall at the end of this course have completed at least the minimum requirement of reading and study for college entrance in English. This means that he must have read at least two standard dramas, two standard works of prose fiction, two biographies or groups of essays, two prominent groups of English or American poetry, and at least two other standard works in addition to class-room study of certain selected classics. Which classics will be chosen for study cannot be decided until the class has been formed, as the course is designed to meet the needs of those who enter it.

Fall, Winter, and Spring Terms, four periods a week.

4. Composition.—Equivalent to 3a. This course and course 5 are given in the spring terms of alternate years; together they are equivalent to course 3.

Offered in Spring Term, 1917, daily.

5. Classics.—Equivalent to 3b. This course, given in the Spring term of every other year, when combined with course 4, is equivalent to 3.

Offered in 1918, Spring Term, daily.

For Juniors

6. History of Literature.—A comprehensive view of English and American Literature, aiming to serve as a guide for further reading, to impart those facts necessary to appreciation concerning the authors, the centuries, and the racial forces by which our masterpieces have been produced, and to show the main currents of thought which have shaped English and American history and literature together.

Students study and recite from Halleck's English Literature and Halleck's American Literature. A great deal of illustrative reading is done in class, and composition is continued throughout the course.

Fall and Winter Terms, four periods weekly.

For Seniors

7. Grammar Review.—The purpose of this course is to fix the fundamentals of English Grammar in the minds of those who are soon to teach it, and as far as possible to remedy those English faults which have not been previously reached. The course includes some discussion of English methods.

READING AND PUBLIC SPEAKING

MISS STROH

It is the purpose of this department to cultivate the powers of thought and imagination as a basis of expression and to develop the voice as a fit medium of expression. Effort is made to train mind, body and voice so that the student may read intelligently and beautifully. Special attention is paid to

1. Correct Breathing.
2. Tone Production.
3. Articulation.
4. Phrasing.
5. Emphasis-placing.
6. Thought Analysis.
7. Inflection.
8. Defective habits of speech—their cause and cure.
9. Phonetics.
10. Pronunciation.

First Year Course

The Palmer and Sammis text-book is used and special attention is paid to the necessity of natural, fluent reading. We aim to correct, as far as possible, the many bad habits of speech usually noticeable in students of this age. An effort is made to teach the pupil to extract thought from the printed page quickly and easily, to cultivate correct vocalization and a keen literary appreciation.

Attention is directed more to the formation of good habits of reading and the correction of bad ones than to the technique of the art.

Interest is stimulated by means of the frequent opportunities given the student to speak extemporaneously to the class on some current event of interest or some other well chosen subject. He gradually acquires an ease and poise which is most desirable. Whenever possible we illustrate a lesson in breath-control, beautiful articulation, correct phrasing, pauses, rate, etc., by means of suitable Victrola records.

Fourth Year Course

Smith's "Oral English for Secondary Schools" is used. In this course the formal, technical and emotional elements are more emphasized than in the elementary course. The formal elements include good position, breath-control, enunciation and the principles of diacritical marking. The emotional elements include the emotional response to the author's thought, emotional sensitiveness which feels the pulse of the audience, an ability to impress the hearers with the author's thought and hold their attention and a keen perception of vocal effects. The emotional elements include vocal expression—a management of the voice by time, pitch, force and quality which make the vocal effects harmonize with the author's thought, physical response to the author's thought in facial expression, bearing, and gesture.

Specific instruction in the principles of argumentation is given—the essentials of teaching children how to read and the principles of dramatization are featured. Frequent opportunities to appear before the class in two-minute talks on various subjects, are given the student and the improvement in platform poise is remarkable.

SPECIAL FEATURES

Attention is directed to the work in defective speech and the interest taken in these cases. No two cases are alike and an effort is made to learn the physical cause and effect a cure if possible.

The programs given at intervals of two and three weeks by the Seniors are a very successful feature. These programs are varied and include readings, orations, debates, illustrative talks,

PART OF THE ADAMS GROUP

(frequently with the aid of the Victrola), sketches, one-act plays and scenes from well known dramas. An added interest is given the presentation of some of these plays for, when possible, amateur plays written by members of the classes in English, are produced. Each Senior is required to appear twice on these public programs.

Shurter—Public Speaking.

Huey—Psychology and Pedagogy of Reading.

Klapper—Teaching Children to Read.

Sherman & Reed—Essentials of Teaching Reading.

MATHEMATICS

DR. ELDON MR. SHEARER MISS QUIGLEY

Arithmetic

A teacher in the public schools should be a master of arithmetic. It will be his duty to qualify his pupils in a subject vital to their business interests.

In the preparation of the teacher we insist upon a thorough knowledge of numeration and notation and upon the relations which ordinary numbers bear to each other with respect to their magnitude.

We aim to make the student skillful and correct in the operations of fundamental rules, for these are the essential tools of all arithmetic. In the solving of the higher problems bungling work in the fundamentals distracts attention and makes the solution tedious and laborious.

In the same way, common and decimal fractions are involved in the majority of problems and for the same reason must be thoroughly understood.

After we have secured proper preparation in the essentials, problems in denominate numbers, ratio and proportion, percentage and mensuration, are made interesting and practical by relating them to trades and occupations and to the affairs of every day life.

ALGEBRA

Some one has defined Algebra as "Arithmetic generalized."

This definition gives in a few words a good reason for including Algebra in a course of study.

By means of Algebra we are enabled to derive formulas which may be used individually in solving all problems involving the same conditions.

These formulas are used in all sciences and are invaluable. But in addition to its use in the sciences, Algebra by its peculiar method of procedure often throws light on abstruse arithmetical problems and makes their solution easier.

In teaching Algebra, we proceed as in Arithmetic, mastering the first principles and such subjects as factoring, highest common factor, least common multiple, involution, evolution, theory of exponents and radicals.

But the crown of all Algebraic subjects is the equation.

We aim to make the student ready in the solution of the various kinds of equations and expert in constructing equations from conditions named in problems.

GEOMETRY

Some knowledge of the forms and the rules of Geometry is needed by everybody, and the teachers of public schools must be relied upon to give this necessary instruction to the people at large through the children who from time to time come under their tuition.

The principal elements of the study of Geometry are axioms, definitions, lines, angles, and triangles.

Great care is taken to have the student well grounded in a knowledge of these essentials.

The circle, parallelogram, polygon, polyhedron, cone, cylinder and sphere are considered in order and their characteristics and measurements are carefully and logically determined.

In these demonstrations the rules of mensuration are verified.

For this reason a teacher who has mastered Geometry will enter upon the subject of mensuration in arithmetic, and upon kindred topics in other branches, with greater confidence and will handle them more effectively than one who has never had instruction in Geometry, and who, like his pupils, merely follows the rules.

TRIGONOMETRY

In pursuing the study of Trigonometry care is taken to have the student thoroughly understand the nature and use of the functions of angles and of their application to the solution of problems; also, the nature and use of logarithms in performing the various arithmetical operations required.

HISTORY

MRS. STEWART

MR. KISSELL

The History course of our Normal School is complete. It extends through three years of the student's training. It embraces Ancient, Mediaeval, Modern, English, American and Pennsylvania History, Civil Government, including elementary and advanced work. History is taught to the student first, to impart a knowledge of events and the causes which have produced them. The relation of cause and effect is carefully traced. It is also taught that the students may be more broadly cultured men and women, that they have a deeper love for their country and appreciate the blessings of the republican form of government.

Freshman Year.—Lectures on Ireland, Scotland, England.

Sophomore—Julius Caesar, Alexander the Great. Beginning Rome and Athens, Charlemagne, Savonarola, Napoleon. Junior—Wm. Penn, George Washington, Booker T. Washington, Daniel Webster, History of the Cumberland Valley. A course prepared especially for teachers is given during the spring term. It embraces History of the U. S., Pennsylvania History and stories, and a series of lectures.

Freshman Year

A review of U. S. History is given the students during the fall term of their Freshman year. In the winter term they begin the study of English History and complete the work in the spring term. They also study Pennsylvania History in the spring term with supplementary stories from Pennsylvania history.

Text books—Thwaite and Kendall's History, Larned's English History, Shimmel's Pennsylvania History, Newton and Treat's Outline for review in English History.

Sophomore Year

During the Sophomore year the work is more advanced than that studied during the Freshman year; Ancient History with supplementary work, Mediaeval History, during the winter term, and Modern History in the spring term are included in the work of this year.

Text books—Myers' Ancient, Mediaeval and Modern Histories. Supplementary work from Daves' History of Greece, and West's Ancient and Modern World, Newton and Treat's Outlines in Roman and Greek History.

Junior Year

The advanced American History is taught during the Fall

Term. With this work, the students are given the history of the Cumberland Valley from its settlement up to the Civil War. Much of the Indian history is included in this course.

Text books—Gordy's Advanced U. S. History, McMurry's System of Map Drawing, Drawings of the Civil War Campaigns, Gettysburg and Chattanooga Battlefields.

CIVIL GOVERNMENT

In the Freshman year Shimmel's U. S. Civics and Constitution is taken. A clear exposition of the great principles of the Constitution, is laid down. Legislative, executive, and judicial, local and state government is discussed. Smull's Legislative Hand Book is used for reference, in connection with American Citizenship by Beard.

The purpose of this course is to give the student a clear idea of the machinery of government in its practical working.

The advanced work in the Sophomore year goes into the philosophy of government and traces the development of modern systems.

The nature of modern government, food, clothing, shelter, the family, civil liberty, property rights, political rights, and the work of political parties, government of cities, state and nation, are explained. A thesis or practical lesson in law, especially in our courts of common, criminal, law is required during this term's work.

Text book—Garner's Government in the U. S.

Reference—Beard's American Citizenship.

GEOGRAPHY

PROF. HARBISON

MRS. STEWART

During the Junior year the course in Political Geography comprises the study of Tarr and McMurry's Second Book as a text and includes Maury's system of map-drawing, travel talks, Stoddard's Lectures, Carpenter's Readers and considerable supplementary information.

This course covers a review of the leading facts of Geography and constitutes a preparation for teaching the subject in the public schools. The study of manufactures, commerce, farming, mining and the cultivation of rice, sugar, tobacco, coffee, etc., is emphasized.

Comparative Geography is made prominent in dealing with this important subject. By comparison the pupils get clearer ideas of geographical divisions and places, and they are able to retain their impression longer. The railways and commercial routes are definitely traced, and numerous imaginary trips are made to different parts of the globe. The geographical information of the pupils is often drawn upon to furnish material for composition writing.

The home geography of the pupil is carefully and accurately given as the first step in teaching the interesting subjects. The primary concepts of position, direction, distance, soil, climate and natural productions are learned by the pupil as part of his first geographical knowledge.

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCE

MISS MACY

PHYSIOLOGY

Freshman Year

This course deals with the anatomy, physiology and hygiene of the human body. Special attention is given to the circulatory, respiratory, excretory, osseous, digestive and nervous systems from the standpoint of structure and function so that students may be acquainted with the body. After the working of the body is mastered, students are taught how to care for the body in order to keep it in the best possible condition.

The course includes text book work supplemented by a few lectures, class room demonstrations and oral and written quizzes.

Text book—Davison.

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY

Freshman Year

Physical geography gives attention to the agencies acting at the surface of the earth, such as atmosphere, ground water, rivers and glaciers. Lakes, swamps, waterfalls, oceans, volcanoes and earthquakes are studied as to the formation and effect upon human life. The earth is considered as a planet in connection with other bodies in space, especially in regard to the occurrence of day and night, and the change of seasons.

Laboratory work includes the study of the drainage of the United States, winds, currents, distribution of temperature and vegetation. This is done by observation of work, the study and making of maps and the plotting of graphs.

Text: Elements of Physical Geography—Hopkins.

ZOOLOGY

Sophomore Year

This course introduces the students to animals and aims to interest them in the lives of the lower forms about them. A general survey of the animal kingdom is given and representative types from the more important phyla are studied.

Special attention is given to insects and their habit and economic importance such as relations to plants, trees, other animals and man. Some field work is done in the vicinity of the school and students are required to collect, mount and classify at least twenty animal forms.

Laboratory work consists of observations of the external structure of certain typical forms, with internal structure of one or two, the result of such observations being recorded in drawings and notes.

GEOLOGY

Elective in Junior Year

The work in Geology is divided into two main parts. Physical Geology deals with the composition of the earth, physical changes of the outer shell and the work of such agencies as atmosphere, ground water, streams, glaciers, oceans, lakes, diastropism and vulcanism.

Historical Geology gives the theories of the origin of the earth and traces the development through the various periods considering the appearance of the land above the water, the laying down of the sediments which formed the present rock systems, subsequent folding and faulting of such rocks forming mountains, and the development of plant and animal life.

Laboratory work consists of a study of the topographic maps published by the United States Geological Survey, plotting graphs, examination of the weather maps which are daily received at the school and the careful study of minerals and rocks.

Text book: Elements of Geology. Blackwelder and Barrows.

HYGIENE

Junior Year

The course in Hygiene aims to make students acquainted with the rules of health, and to instill in them the determination to enter the public health crusade which is at present taking such a prominent place in the world's affairs.

Such things as fresh air, pure water, clean milk, pure food and pure food laws, food values and the prevention of infection from both human and insect carriers are studied. The hygiene of work and play, and of the mind is considered. Sanitation is considered from the home, school, municipal, rural and industrial view points. Toward the end of the course a little time is spent on the structure and function of the body giving a brief review of the work of the Freshman year.

Laboratory work is done, which includes experiments on milk and food, and such practical work as pasteurizing milk, making a small refrigerator and constructing a fireless cooker.

Monthly bulletins from the State Departments of Health of both Pennsylvania and New York are regularly received and used in connection with the work.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL SCIENCE

Chemistry

The course in Chemistry has been revised so as to meet the needs and demands made upon the students in their later lives. We realize that technical Chemistry will not meet the needs of the average student and that comparatively few continue the study of chemistry after leaving school. In order to give the greatest good to the greatest number and also to meet the demands of those who may teach the subject or desire to continue work along this line two courses are offered—General Chemistry and Household Chemistry.

General Chemistry.—In this course the first part of the year is devoted to such subjects as,—purpose and province of Chemistry, elements, physical and chemical changes, mixture and compounds, oxygen, hydrogen, water, chlorine, air, properties of acids, bases and salts, the important chemical laws and theories together with a thorough acquaintance with the symbols, formula and their interpretation, equations and elementary calculations. In the latter part of the course the underlying principles of elementary analysis are applied in determining the acid strength of vinegar, lemons, etc., the basic strength of household ammonia, the qualitative analysis of soils, baking powders, etc., and the detection of adulterants in foods, candies, extracts, etc.

Graduates of high schools desiring credit for this course must submit a record of the laboratory work done by the student himself and approved by his instructor. The record shall consist of such exercises as are required by colleges for entrance.

4 periods per week. Text: Smith.

Household Chemistry.—For those students who desire a course more closely associated with every day occurrences and a more intimate knowledge concerning the things of the home rather than an extensive knowledge of chemical facts a less technical course is offered.

This course during the first part of the year aims to familiarize the students with the more common elements, chemical nomenclature and just enough theory to enable the student to work understandingly with the simpler forms of chemical operation as they are applied in daily life.

The following are some of the principal subjects treated in the course,—physical and chemical changes: an elementary study of the elements hydrogen, oxygen, chlorine, carbon, sodium, and a few of the most important industrial metals: water—its composition, contamination, hard and soft water: air,—composition, impurities in relation to life: fuels, combustion: oxides of carbon,—composition, occurrence, physiological effect, importance of the dioxide to life: baking powders,—alum and tartrate, recognition of each: soaps and soap making, their cleansing action, detection of fillers and impurities: Carbohydrates: foods, food preservation, detection of impurities, food values: chemistry of the laundry, blueing, dyeing, bleaching, etc.: and the preparing of a few important materials used about the home.

4 periods per week. Text—Weed.

Physics

The plan of work in this department is so arranged as to give the most complete training in interpreting the underlying principles in the natural phenomena of daily occurrence. This is done in part by class room demonstration by the instructor but to a greater degree by individual laboratory work by the student with simple apparatus under the direction of the teacher in charge.

Such topics as mechanics, including mechanics of fluids and gases, heat as a motive power, principles of heating and ventilating, the elementary principles of electricity and its simpler uses as embodied in electromagnets, telephone, telegraph, electric door bell, etc., the incandescent lamp, motor and dynamo are thoroughly treated. Supplementary reading along the lines of recent scientific investigations such as the nature of X-rays, radium, and the principles of wireless telegraphy are assigned.

The laboratory work meets the requirements for college entrance and at the same time teaches the students to make and assemble the apparatus necessary to reproduce the demonstrations in a high school not supplied with such material.

A complete record of all observations systematically arranged is made and by the aid of a standard text proper conclusions are drawn. Visits are made to the various industrial plants of the vicinity to see the actual application of the principles learned.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT

PROF. GRAHAM

Our course in Agriculture is designed to interest students in the life and work of the farm and to teach the fundamental, scientific and economic principles of agriculture—so that, when they—as teachers—are located in a rural school or rural community, a bond of sympathy will exist between teacher and pupil. By this training in agriculture they will be able to adapt themselves to their environment; will be able to make the work of the school serviceable to the pupils; will be better fitted to lead and direct not only the thoughts and ambitions of the children but to lead in the work of the community.

The agricultural work will be given throughout the Senior year, except Course I, which will be given in the Spring term of the Junior year.

Course I—Nature Study.

The course is designed to make the students lovers of nature, to acquaint them with some of the elementary facts of all the sciences in the phases that appeal to children and to discuss the spirit, aims and methods of Nature Study in the schools. The immediate aims are, to become familiar with the common farm crops and animals, the common wild flowers, weeds, birds and insects of the farm and to learn how plants grow and to help them to grow. This work will form a basis for the study of agriculture.

This work will be given in the form of lectures, field trips and laboratory work.

Course II—Agriculture.

A course in the elements of Agriculture as applied to the farming conditions in Pennsylvania. This course will embrace the following topics:

Soil—Dealing with its origin, types and properties, with particular reference to soil management so as to maintain its fertility; the building up of worn down soils by manure, cover-crops, legumes and fertilizers.

Plant Life and Seeds—The uses that the plant makes of the soil and the air; the identification, growth and propagation of seeds.

Farm Crops—A study and cultivation of the commoner types.

Weeds—Identification and methods of eradication.

Fruits—A study of the commoner ones with reference to the planting, care and marketing.

Farm Animals—A study of the more common breeds; the types, their characteristics and uses. Special attention will be given to the dairy industry dealing with the principles in breeding for building up a graded herd; the care and feeding of cows for milk production; producing and marketing sanitary milk and milk products; dairy records: Babcock Test, etc.

Farm Birds—Special attention will be paid to Farm Poultry as a bi-industry for the farm woman and girl; the essentials of a poultry house; the care, feeding and methods of incubation.

Home and School Garden—The selection of simple but useful garden seeds and plants and the sowing, planting and cultivating and harvesting of same.

Home and School Grounds' Decoration—The principles of making the home and school grounds truly attractive by simple trees, shrubs, vines and flowers will also be considered.

The above topics will be considered in the class room, theoretically and then the theories will be put into actual practice in the Agricultural laboratory, on the school farm and garden. Observation trips will also be taken to nearby farms.

Each student will have a garden in which he will plant and care for the commoner farm crops, vegetables and flowers.

A study will be made of the methods of study, organization and presentation of the subject matter. This will be adapted to the different grades with special emphasis on developing in the child an interest in plant and animal life.

Discussion of methods of correlating Nature Study and Elementary Agriculture with other school work.

A study of Literature on Nature Study and Elementary Agriculture.

A number of lectures will be given in connection with this work. Public and farmers' meetings will also be held.

Main Text Book—Warren.

Supplementary reference books in library will be used.

BOTANY

Sophomore Year

This course enables the student to gain an understanding of the plants of his neighborhood so that this knowledge may be made use of by the student as a teacher in elementary schools. The work consists of oral recitations, written quizzes, illustrated lectures, laboratory work and field trips. The laboratory work includes the study of representative plants as to form and function of parts. Field studies of the flowering plants, trees and weeds found in the vicinity are made. The use of a floral key is taught. A neat and accurate note book of laboratory and field work, and an herbarium including representatives from at least twenty plant families are required of each student.

RURAL SOCIOLOGY

DR. LEHMAN

MISS MEYERS

This course is specially recommended to students who expect to teach in the rural schools. It treats of the problems of rural life—economic, social and religious. The decline in influence of the rural community is considered, the cause of the rapid increase in population and wealth of the urban communities is investigated and constructive legislation looking to improvement in rural conditions is discussed.

LATIN

PROF. STEWART

MR. SHEARER

The Latin course is thorough and complete. It fits the student to teach the subject effectively and also furnishes him with sufficient preparation to enter the best colleges and universities.

From the very beginning a comprehensive outline of the grammar is required, as it is recognized that this is the rock foundation upon which to build in the study of the language. Particular attention is also given to the rendering of the Latin into good idiomatic English.

Throughout the entire course there is a careful drill in orthography, etymology, syntax and prosody. Roman history, literature, and mythology are also taught in connection with the regular required subjects and Latin prose composition is given in the Junior and Senior years. Individual instruction is given each student and every effort made to render the course practical and helpful.

Freshman Year

During this year there is a constant drill in the essentials of Latin. The declensions, conjugations, and the general rules of syntax are memorized and short sentences are translated from Latin into English and from English into Latin. Stories from Roman history and selected passages from Caesar are also read. The aim of the year is to prepare the student to read Caesar intelligently, "Pearson's Essentials of Latin" is the text book used.

Sophomore Year

In the Sophomore year the first four books of Caesar are read; the text being "Caesar's Gallic War" by Harkness and Forbes. The aim is to enable the pupil to follow the narrative understandingly as well as to give him a systematic drill in all the common syntactical principles. Every move in Caesar's plan is carefully explained by means of maps and charts and thus interest is secured in this fascinating history and it is not regarded simply as a dull elementary drill book in Latin. Twenty lessons in writing Latin by Barss are also given.

Junior Year

The four orations of Cicero against Cataline, The Defense of the Poet Archias, and the Manilian Law are read in the Junior year. The text is the New Cicero by Allen and Greenough. This course embraces not only the reading of the subjects assigned with a painstaking study of the Grammar; but also a study of Latin Oratory, Law, and Customs, without which an intelligent knowledge of Cicero cannot be secured. Twenty lessons in Writing Latin by Barss are also given.

Senior Year

The first six books of Virgil is the required work for this year. This is supplemented by a study of mythology and Prosody. The text is the Aeneid of Greenough and Kittridge.

FIFTH YEAR OF LATIN

Beginning September, 1917, a fifth year of Latin will be added to the course. The work of this year will include selections from the Odes of Horace and selected portions of Livy. This should be especially attractive to graduates of high schools who have completed four years of Latin and who desire to take a fifth year in the preparation for college or to hold a position as teacher of Latin in a high school. The normal school principals have decided that those who take this fifth year shall be exempt from examination before the state board in the work of the third and fourth years.

During this year special attention will be paid to the various meters of Horace, to the mythological allusions contained in his odes and also to the humane aspect of his poetry. In connection with the study of Livy great care will be exercised in following the history. Maps and charts will be used to gain a thorough knowledge of the subject.

GERMAN

MISS ALICE HUBER

The object of this department is to give the student an introduction to German. Special attention is given to the salient points in Grammar and the practical use of the spoken and written language.

In the first year, particular emphasis is laid on pronunciation, declension of nouns and conjugation of verbs in full sentences, and in the essential principles of syntax. The grammar is based directly upon the work of each lesson and is learned inductively. The pupil is always required to answer in German and to frame questions developed naturally from the subject matter of his daily lesson; he is led to reproduce the lesson, or some easy story, which has been read to him; he is encouraged to rewrite in prose, or to tell the poem learned so that German becomes more and more the language of the classroom, and the use of English is restricted to a minimum. Our aim is to teach German directly by a direct appeal to the pupil's ear, mind and heart.

The reading of the first year includes Beginner's German by Walter and Krause and Gluck Auf.

Poems by the best writers are committed, and some time is devoted to exercises in dictation.

The second year's work consists of composition, and the reading of the following texts: Storm's Immensee, Im Vaterland, Arnold's Fritz auf Ferien, Schiller's Wilhelm Tell.

In our selection of classics for the third year we include Das Edel Blut, Irrfahrten, Minna von Barnhelm, Hermann und Dorothea, or their equivalents. Reports are written in German on the texts read.

PHYSICAL TRAINING

PROF. HARBISON

The purpose of the Normal School is to prepare teachers. The Department of Physical Training aims in its field, to carry out this purpose, by offering a practical, systematic, graded course in corrective calisthenics, instruction in the use of apparatus, school room gymnastics and play ground games.

The school maintains a well equipped gymnasium with all the necessary apparatus. The work of the first year is elementary in character and consists of tactics, calisthenics and simple exercises with wand and dumb bells. The second and third year students are instructed in advanced tactics, fancy marching, general calisthenics, advanced work with wands and instruction in exercises with the bar, bells, Indian clubs and other apparatus.

The Seniors are given a course in graded games and school room gymnastics for use in the public schools. Note books are necessary for the work of this years.

Gymnasium costume for girls consists of a one-piece suit, black shoes and stockings. Boys' uniforms must be secured at the school and consist of jersey, long trousers and white shoes. The department controls also the various forms of athletics—tennis, baseball, basketball and track. A splendid athletic field and four tennis courts are at the disposal of the students and everyone is urged to take part in one or other of the different branches of sport.

Every effort is made to provide diversion and recreation exercises for the girls. With that purpose in mind, lawn hockey has been added to the list of sports and a portion of the campus set apart for the playing of the game.

MUSIC

Pianoforte

MISS MATTHEWS

MISS GATES

The aim of the Music Department is to cultivate the musical taste and the technical skill of the student.

The following course consisting of five grades may be followed or varied by the teacher as best suited to the individual pupil:

Elementary Grade.—Rudiments of music, major and minor scales, easy melody studies. Special attention is given to the acquirement of a good technical foundation.

Intermediate Grade.—Major and minor scales, arpeggios. Studies and compositions of moderate difficulty by good composers.

First Junior Grade.—Major and minor scales. Technical studies; Book of Velocity, Op. 299 Czerny; sonatinas by Clementi, Kuhlman Gurlitt, etc. Ability to play from memory.

Second Junior.—Czerny, Op. 740, Impromptus by Schubert; Sonatas by Mozart or Haydn; two-part Inventions, Bach and works of other classical composers.

Advanced Course.—Wohltemper, Clavier, Bach; Studies of Chopin; Beethoven Sonatas.

Scales and arpeggios in their various forms are taught in all grades.

Informal recitals are given during the year to enable students to acquire ease and self control and to play from memory in public.

Four and eight hand, 2 piano numbers, are used on public programmes with the view of teaching sight reading, confidence and adaptability.

THEORY OF MUSIC

Harmony

Students of the Music Department have in addition to their regular private lessons the advantage of attending the classes in Harmony for which no extra charge is made. A study is made of the rudiments of music generally, including clefs, time signatures, scales, intervals, the construction and progression of triads and inversions and practice in notation and ear drill. "First Year Harmony" by Thomas Tapper is used as a text book.

Important facts of musical history are discussed.

C. V. S. N. S. ORCHESTRA

MISS GATES

The orchestra was organized during the Fall Term 1915. Regular weekly practices are held to prepare for frequent public appearances. Playing for the daily chapel service gives excellent experience in ensemble playing.

Any student who is capable of playing an instrument, either wind or string, is eligible for membership in the orchestra. Students are urged to bring their instruments to school with them and make application for membership without further notice.

VOCAL MUSIC DEPARTMENT

MISS JONES

MISS BUTTS

Freshmen Music—Required.

This is an elementary course. The requirements for completion include the ability to read at sight (using the Latin syllables) music of ordinary hymn tune difficulty; a thorough knowledge of the major and minor scales, understanding of the bass staff, and of the most common problems in tone and rhythm.

In Musical History, the class is taught the origin of the Latin syllables, and something of the men who contributed very largely to the development of music. Added interest is given by means of the information regularly given concerning current musical events.

Special Course—Elective.

The object of this course is to prepare students to teach music in the public schools. It includes the following courses:

Advanced Sight Singing—

This course requires reading at sight (by syllable and words) music taught in the upper grades of the public schools. Knowledge of the suitability and use of material for the grades is also required.

Methods—

This course is devoted to the study of material and methods for the first five years in music. The work of each year is taken up in detail, and the problems which confront the public school teacher are carefully discussed.

Practice Teaching—

Students are required in the Methods class to demonstrate before the class their ability to teach. In addition opportunity will be given to do regular class room work in the Model School under the supervision of the Director of Music.

Melody and Harmony—

This course includes melody writing in both major and minor keys; connection of triads in four voice writing; resolution of the dominant seventh.

In addition to the regular courses, an opportunity is given to those of marked musical ability to become members of one of the two Glee Clubs. The song singing in the chapel twice a week also offers an opportunity to all for drill in sight singing and musical interpretation.

ART

MISS M. IRENE HUBER

The Art course aims to develop an appreciation for the beautiful; to cultivate habits of observation and neatness, good judgment and good taste in dress, in house furnishings, and in surroundings in general; to train the hand to delicacy, grace, and skill in execution.

Our main purpose, however, is to emphasize the professional side of this subject and to train teachers to teach drawing and art appreciation in the grades under the guidance of a supervisor of drawing.

DOMESTIC ART AND SCIENCE

MISS M. IRENE HUBER

We believe that every girl should be able to plan, cook and serve a simple meal; to carry on with intelligence the ordinary household processes at a saving of time and labor; that the work should be inspirational, giving to the girls, the potential housewives and homemakers, higher ideals regarding their duties and privileges.

It is the aim of the department to be practical.

The subject is begun with a study of The Home.

- (a) Making a Home.
- (b) What Constitutes a Home.
- (c) Atmosphere of the Home.
- (d) Life in the Home.
- (e) The Woman in the Home.

The House—(a) Selection of Site, Drainage, Surroundings; (b) Style, Plans, Materials; (c) Construction of Foundation, Cellar, Walls, Roof; (d) Heating, Lighting, Plumbing; (e) Furnishing and decorating (with regard to sanitation, artistic value and utility; (f) Care of the House.

Cooking

The aim is to teach the relation of food to the body; to give the principles of selection and preparation of food with a study of the composition of food, food values and combinations of kinds of food, including the making of menus with a view to attractive, wholesome and nourishing meals at moderate cost.

In the laboratory or kitchen of this department experience is given the students in ways of preparing food and in common processes of cookery, as well as in the serving of meals. Careful attention is given to personal habits in the kitchen.

Sewing

In this branch of the department the aim is to give a practical knowledge of the various stitches and seams used in articles made by hand, and includes at least one well made, nicely executed piece of hand work. Articles such as dainty aprons, combing jackets, and dainty waists are usually selected. These show plain hemming, hemstitching, rolled hems, and sewing on of lace as well as insertion of lace.

Following hand work the use of the machine is taught in the making of simple garments. Cutting and fitting of simple garments are taught in this connection and such articles as undergarments, shirt waists and skirts or a simple one-piece dress are made.

The department believes that every girl should be able to make, alter and repair simple dresses; to buy materials with judgment and make simple, yet artistic dresses with economy.

Lectures are given on dress as to economy, appropriate dressing, good taste and judgment in selection of materials, color and cut; on styles suited to figures and on the care of the wardrobe.

MANUAL TRAINING

MR LOW

Manual Training means, training the hand. Manual from the Latin word manus or hand.

A teacher in the public schools of to-day without some knowledge of manual training may be embarrassed by realizing the fact that he does not know how to manage hand work. This course offers a thorough drill in the different kinds of woods, a study of their structure and the necessity of applying their peculiarities of grain and texture to the advantage of the work in hand. It aims to make the student skillful and accurate in the work he performs.

Freshman or First Year

50 periods (one term)

1. Exercise in joinery. (a) Sawing, planing, gauging, chiseling, squaring, chamfering and finishing.
2. Corner or lap joint.
3. Center lap joint.
4. Mortise and tenon.
5. Relish mortise and tenon.
6. Dove tail lap or brace joint.
7. Dove tail.

8. Scarf joint.
9. Hopper joint.
10. Nail and screw joint.

The Senior year work is a complete course in wood work which may be used in teaching after the student has been graduated. When this work is completed the student is required to make a working drawing of an article, which will be of commercial value. He is also given practice on estimating the quantity of material necessary for a piece of work. This piece must be finished with stain, filler, shellac, varnish or paint. The work is so arranged that the Seniors get experience in teaching Manual Training under the supervision of the instructor. Students are taken to visit the manufacturing plants in the town so they may see the use of pattern-making and woodworking.

RELIGIOUS WORK

Our students are furnished excellent opportunities for spiritual growth and development. We have a prayer and lecture service every Wednesday evening, conducted by a member of the faculty, to which all the students are invited. The service is attended by a large number of students and is full of interest and profit.

We have a Sabbath School organized among the students. This service is held every Sabbath morning, and the exercises are highly appreciated and greatly enjoyed by the school. The school is divided into classes, each class being taught by a member of the Faculty. The International Lesson is used.

THESE LIVE IN JUNIATA COUNTY

DAUPHIN COUNTY SENT THESE

Students, unless excused by the Principal, are required to attend the church service of their choice every Sabbath morning. The church attendance in connection with the religious services at the school, offers them all the spiritual advantages that they would receive at their own homes. In all proper ways religious influences are thrown around the pupil, making his school life to conform as nearly as possible to the home life in a Christian family.

A Young Men's Christian Association and a Young Woman's Christian Association have been formed among the students. These societies have been doing a great work for the growth of religious sentiment in the school. These associations are non-denominational in character.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

Among the most valuable auxiliaries to a Normal School or College are its literary societies. The Normal and Philomathean societies are strong, vigorous associations, and in their growth are keeping equal pace with the growth of the school. They meet in separate halls every Friday evening for the rendering of carefully prepared programs. These programs are highly entertaining and instructive, and those taking part in rendering them bestow ample labor and care in their preparation.

The Clio Society is an organization for the Spring term students.

READING ROOM

The Reading Room of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School is one of the most important features. All the prominent magazines, periodicals and many newspapers, daily and weekly, are found upon the shelves and on the files in the handsome room fitted up for library and reading-room purposes.

The students are encouraged to make good use of the privileges of the reading room and the results are most gratifying. A librarian is always in charge of the room when it is open, in order that perfect quiet may reign, and that students may get the largest profit possible from their hours spent in the reading room. The student who has been graduated from a Normal School without having acquired a taste for good literature, and a knowledge of how to read with the greatest possible profit, is but poorly equipped for the work of teaching.
