SWINEHART ELECTED GRID CAPTAIN

Football Men Enjoy Banquet

Tuesday evening at six thirty all men connected with football at the Bloomsburg Normal in 1925 went to Lime Ridge Inn for the annual banquet. The banquet served was excellent. The menu was as follows:

Fruit Cocktail
Celery	Olives
Mashed Potatoes	Corn
Chicken and Waffles
Candied Sweet Potatoes
Pickled Cabbage
Orange Sherbet	Apple Pie
Coffee	Mints

Jollification was the order of the day. Mr. Nelson kept his table in an uproar by his antics. Gordon Johns astonished even those who knew him best by his capacity for eating. The waiters were popular as they bore the food. A guessing game was one of the features of the evening. A series of pictures of the lower extremities of the first eleven men was passed around and each man was given a chance to guess at the owners of the legs. Red Garrity won, guessing nine. He was presented with a Daily Reminder.

Dr. Riemer was toastmaster. As an introduction to the program he spoke of the letter, its value and the rules for winning it. Sixteen quarters are necessary to win the letter. Mr. Nelson then presented the letters to the earners. Those who received letters were: Swinehart, Riemer, McKelsky, Rowlands, Keen, Walsh, Sorber, Stoker, Vanbuskirk, Strahowsky, Carpenter, McGrath, Bradshaw, Rushin, Hawkins, Manager Harris.

The letter men then retired to the next room to elect a captain. Swinehart was elected and received the congratulations of his team mates. He seemed the popular choice.

Again in the banquet hall, Rowlands, the retired captain, was called upon to speak. He spoke of the past season and thanked the men for the support he had received and wished the team luck for next year. Swinehart, captain-elect, then congratulated Rowlands on his season and promised a remarkable season for next year. Coach Jackson spoke on the season, its handicaps, our success and future prospects. He expressed the hope that football teachings would be an asset to the men in later life, that its efforts reach beyond the field.

Dr. Riemer, in closing, paid tribute to Coach Jackson, remarking that despite most depressing weather, the team played a fighting game. The spirit of a team reflects on the coach. Bloomsburg is thankful that she has Mr. Jackson, a good man to have around. He made the administration easier and more pleasant. Swinehart was looked upon as star of the team and leader of men, the logical choice.

ALPHA DELTA NEWS

The members of the Alpha Delta Sorority will journey to Lime Ridge on Saturday where they will enjoy a chicken and waffle dinner.

CONTEST CAUSES HYSTERICIS

Costumes Show Much Originality

As an added attraction before the Westchester game, some Seniors and Freshmen came out on the floor. They demanded attention. They got it. They demanded applause and got it. From referee to player, the men were decked out in anything from pajamas to foot-ball suits.

Nay friends, it was not only a conglomeration of costumes, but also, each costume was a conglomeration of parts. Probably a Ford could have been built from the debris after the game.

The referee tooted his horn, the ball went up in the air as did the shouts of the crowd. A football! Good grief! Mutt Austin grabbed a lateral pass from the center and crossed two white lines ere he was tackled from the rear by Metcalf, Freshman guard. Where am I? This is no football game. It might as well have been. When neither team could gain another inch by runs and line bucks, a basketball was introduced and a color wheel changed to a kaleidoscope.

How skillful were these men! How deft at handling the ball! No! They were only deaf to the whistle. The referee could only keep order by the use of fire arms. At the end of the game players and suits were swept off the field.

Among the remains were found:

Seniors		Freshmen
Cooper	F.	Vitol
Kanyuck	F.	Burnozzi
Austin	C.	Bradshaw
Kiel	G.	Metcalf
Riemer	G.	Sorber

Score by periods:

Seniors—12. Freshmen—10.
High scorer—Cooper—12 Seniors
Low scorer—Riemer—0 Seniors
Referee—James Jones.

PARTICIPATION IN GRADUATION EXERCISES

At the beginning of the second semester Dean Sutliff will prepare a list of students eligible for participation in the graduation exercises in June. No one will appear on this list who is more than one semester short of graduation. In other words, students in Groups 1, 2, and 4 must have secured at least sixty credits; and students in Group 3, one hundred credits.

In case any student on the list should then fail in any subject during the spring semester, he will not be allowed to take part in the graduation exercises.

This represents a change in our practice of the past when students were admitted to the graduation exercises although they had not completed their work in its entirety. Such a practice is no longer in harmony with the present policy of the School. It seemed to encourage or, at least, condone careless and loose habits of work and procedure.

JUNIOR'S BUSY

The final tryouts for the Junior Class Play were given last week. The cast has been selected and rehearsals are already taking place.

WESTCHESTER BOWS LOW

Bloomsburg Wreaks Vengeance For Football Defeat

Friday night Westchester appeared in Bloomsburg for the first time in the history of our school. They came with a 13-0 victory over Bloomsburg in football and licking their chops for a repetition of their work. They were big boys—all of them. Each one had a reputation. Our boys feared nothing but played real basketball to gain a decisive 33-19 victory. Bloomsburg Normal's basket ball team is famed far and wide.

Bloomsburg took the lead in the opening minutes of the game and held it throughout. Excitement was intense. When a man went to the foul line for a free throw one might have heard a pin drop. What a triumph. Westchester had to bow down!

Coach Jackson has developed a fast team that works like well oiled machinery. They are like lightning on the offensive and impenetrable on the defensive. Westchester never had a chance.

We are lucky in our captain. Captain Jenkins showed a rare fighting spirit, the kind that overcomes all obstacles. He was always alert and overcame by speed the size of his opponents. He's a wise guy. His side kick, Red Garrity, played his first game for Normal. He never stops, he plays like a flash. No rest for his opponent.

The veteran Sack, foxy as ever, was incomparable. Those shots he slipped in were breath takers. He scored four from the field and held Westchester low. Walsh played like a whirlwind, now here, now there, fighting always. He was a devil turned loose. Between them, he and Sack scored 15 points. Who can stop them!

Our center, Austin, gets better every day. He played his man blue in the face. We expect great things from Austin.

The team is relentless in its attack, as a stonewall on defense; accurate in shooting and quick in passing. It's a great combination.

The line up follows:

B. S. N. S.		W. S. N. S.
Jenkins	R. F.	Nider
Garrity	L. F.	Troxel
Austin	C.	Rathey
Sack	R. G.	Griesing
Walsh	L. G.	Ellis

Score:-
B. S. N. S.—33 W. S. N. S.—19
Substitutions:- McGrath for Austin, Troxel for Nider, Esworthy for Troxel, Weidner for Rathey, Scott for Griesing, Griesing for Ellis.
Referee—Lerda. Timekeeper — Rushin.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN BOARD

The bulletin board for official notices functions like a magnet. There is always some one before it, reading announcements, worthwhile sayings, like the "Business Philosophy" of the Public Ledges, schedules, etc. The reading of this material forms a part of the education of the students.

JUNIOR GIRLS!

Stop! Look! Read!

Here is something to which you Juniors should give a little thought and consideration. The end of the first semester is very near, which means not only that our school programs will be changed but also that many other things will happen. Among these happenings is the election of some junior girls as members of the Athletic Leaders. Would you not like to be one of them?

There will be only a few girls selected to represent each section of your class, so of course you want to choose the best. Maybe you think almost everyone in your division is eligible, but with these questions in mind think again and see if you can really choose the best:

1. Are the girl's grades up to the standard (2 points)?
2. Is she dependable?
3. What interest does she take in gymnasium work?
4. Does she take an active part in athletics?
5. Does she stand out as distinctive from others?
6. Does she co-operate with her fellow students?

Think these questions over when you are resting and when the requirements are published see if your candidate measures up.

BLOOMSBURG GRADUATE

A POET

The following poem should be of interest to all friends of the School. Dr. Champlin, now Professor of Education at the California State Normal School, is a graduate of this School. Last June he took his Doctor's Degree at the University of Pittsburgh. He and Mrs. Champlin have been teaching at California a number of years.

Advance Pennsylvania
Advance, Pennsylvania!
Education is thy soul,
Better schools will lead thee nearer

To thy clearly visioned goal.
Construct mansions for the children:

Supply buildings with the best;
Provide teachers of sound training,
Then results will be the best.

More secure will be our future
If our youths are emphasized;
More substantial our foundation
With the school idealized.

May the new year be a true year;
Let us celebrate with growth
At the sesquicentennial
Education's solemn oath.

Advance, Pennsylvania!
Let the keystone be supreme.
May our leaders draw us forward
To fulfillment of our dream.

FACULTY MEETING

There will be a meeting of the faculty on Tuesday, January 19, at 4:30 P. M. Mr. Keller will discuss the way in which he uses the project method in his teaching. He will point to the selection of the right subject matter, to the part the teacher plays in the motivation of a project, to the general mode of procedure employed in its execution, and to the possible educational outcome.

SHAPERS WE

It is so easy to become accustomed to one's environment. Happy the man with a good environment; unhappy the man with an environment that is low, base and vile. Are we slaves to our environment or do we shape it for ourselves? We certainly can affect our surroundings to a marked degree. Each one of us has the power to react upon his environment as he chooses. Walls may be defaced or beautified. Waste paper and rubbish may be thrown on the floor or in the waste basket. Books may be read or allowed to remain on the shelves. Our ears may be closed to unseemly thoughts or they may be made to hunger for them. The beautiful Wyoming and Susquehanna valleys may be sources of pleasure and edification or they may be merely ditches for drainage. Habits of proper reaction can be learned at Bloomsburg State Normal School.

GOOD TURN AT GAME

It was a good move on the part of Mr. Jackson to have the members of the team change jerseys during the intermission. The jerseys of both teams looked so much alike that it was difficult for the players to distinguish one team from the other. The change made it easier for both sides.

CONTACT WITH ACTUAL CONDITIONS

Miss Nellie Moore and Miss Hayden spent Friday in the schools of Forty Fort. The purpose of their visit was to discover what teachers in the field actually meet and need to know to solve their problems. Such problems will be of great value to the students of our School in preparing for service in the field.

TWO NEW TEACHERS

Two new teachers will appear on the Faculty next semester. It has become necessary to secure an additional supervisor for Group 2 and a teacher of primary subjects for the 1st Group.

Miss Carrie E. M. Burks will join the primary group. She is a graduate of Columbia University. In fact, she has her master's degree from that institution. Miss Burks has also attended the university of Chicago and California. In addition she has traveled extensively in Canada and Europe, and has had several years of experience in the field of teacher training.

Miss Bertha Rich will teach the teaching of English to the student teachers of Group 2 and supervise the student teachers in the Fifth Street School. She is a graduate of Western State College of Colorado and has done graduate work at Columbia University. Miss Rich has had many excellent contacts in preparation for her work here.

A GOOD CAUSE

Let's all pay our fifty cents for the new orthophonic victrola. The Juniors will get more benefit from it so why not contribute at once. The sooner we get it the longer the Seniors can enjoy it.

ENROLLMENT OF STUDENTS FOR 1926

Students for next year are already enrolling. If any of you know of prospective students it will be advisable to urge them to apply for admission as soon as possible. There will likely be a big enrollment next year.

In advising such prospective students it will be necessary to remember that only graduates from four year high schools are now admitted here. Such a high school has to be accredited by the Department at Harrisburg.

ROOM FOR DAY STUDENTS

The girls among the day students are making excellent use of Room B. Here they assemble for study between classes and eat their lunch. This is a great convenience to the young women.

Next year there will probably be a room especially equipped for the non-resident students. It looks as though a portion of the space now used for Household Arts could be used for that purpose next year.

SECOND GAME

Shippensburg Downed In Fast Game

Where Westchester failed, there also failed Shippensburg. Bloomsburg played a different team on Saturday than they had met the night before. The Shippensburg team was made up of small, fast forwards and big guards and center. They could bring Teddy Roosevelt or President Coolidge without flustering Sack.

It was necessary for Bloomsburg to play their best to win. Shippensburg, with a fine defense, made it hard to score. But it was harder for them. Austin got the tap every time and Jinx and Red shot the basket. Shippensburg had a fast crowd, but Bloomsburg, a little the worse from the effects of the previous game, was too much for them.

The line up follows:

B. S. N. S.		C. S. U. N. S.
Jenkins	R. F.	Lorimer
Garrity	L. F.	White

Sack	R. G.	Miller

PETER PAN

In thru the window so softly he flew,
Light as the sweet southern wind
that blew,
Perched on the foot of Wendy's bed
Gazed at the curls on Wendy's head,
Whispered low in Wendy's ear—
"Wendy, I've come, do you hear? Do you hear?"

"I've come from the tree tops and clouds and sky,
From the place where the children
never die.

I am the spirit of Peter Pan
On grown-up things I've put a ban.
Come little Wendy, give me your hand

And sail with me to the Never Land."

"Over the tree-tops first we'll go
And see the houses dark below.
Then up thru the clouds past the Great Bear's Den,

No one can ever catch up then.
Over the milky way quite far,
Following the path of the Northern Star..

Across the bridge of moonbeams
bright
Up and thru the heart of the night.

Then thru a gate of Pearl and Rose,
Over a path that no one knows.
There all the fairies will build for you

A house of silver, gold, or blue.
And you shall be our mother sweet,
And keep our clothes and houses neat."

And then he stopped and watched
her eyes,
As bright they grew with pleased surprise.

He said again, "Oh come away!
Before the cock tells of the day.
Please come, dear Wendy, take my
hand,

And fly with me to the Never Land."

—D. S. R. 1927.

The newly married couple will be at home after the 4th of January at Denton, Texas, where Mr. Poage is a Professor at the Industrial Arts College located there.

The students and teachers all regret the departure of Miss Stone. She had proved herself an excellent teacher, a refined lady and a staunch friend. The School wishes her success in her new adventure.

Y. W. C. A. MEETINGS

The devotional meetings of the Y. W. C. A. have been very interesting lately. At a recent meeting a lively discussion took place in a very informal way. Matters of great importance and interest are taken up by the girls. Last Wednesday's meeting was led by Miss Anna Switch. Miss Drummond gave a short talk, which every one enjoyed.

Everyone is invited to the Y. W. meetings regardless of creed and whether teacher or student. Next Wednesday's meeting will be held in Room R. There will be a further discussion on the topic "Women." All the girls will profit by this.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

Dr. Riemer gave an illustrated talk on Berlin before the Junior High School Assembly last Friday morning. The pictures of the interiors of the one-time Royal Palace and those of the city park were very beautiful.

Y. W. NEWS

We all enjoyed the talk given to us on Wednesday night by Miss Drummonds on "The Place of Athletics in a Woman's Life."

TESTIMONIAL DINNER

The teachers of the Normal School gave a testimonial dinner for Dr. and Mrs. Riemer at Lime Ridge Inn on Monday evening, December 21. The matter had been so carefully and secretly prepared that the dinner was a complete surprise to both guests of honor. At their entrance to the dining hall both stood amazed when said teachers and friends arose and sang the Alma Mater.

The dinner was greatly enjoyed. There was much singing. A few speeches were made. A beautiful basket of roses was presented to Dr. and Mrs. Riemer.

SUMMER SESSION BULLETIN

The proof sheets of the summer session bulletin have already arrived. The bulletin will then soon be ready for distribution. 2,500 copies will then be sent out. If you know of any one to whom a copy should be sent, notify the Business Office.

TAX BILL FACES FIGHT

The tax reduction bill was started on its way in the Senate facing a three cornered fight. Secretary Mellon warned the Senate finance committee that the measure as passed by the House represented a total amount of tax reduction (about $330,000,000) which the condition of the treasury warranted.

MEETING OF BOYS' DORMITORY CLUB

The Boys' Dormitory Club met on Wednesday evening at ten o'clock. Dr. Riemer was present. There was much discussion of what had been done and what ought to be done in the conduct of the young men living in North Hall.

NOT GYM CLASS

As a symbol of good feeling the Senior and Freshman girls gave a co-operative party, where the conventional dress was gym clothes and the order of the day, a good time. All the girls were present and played various exciting games. There was no let-up until a quarter of eleven. All had a great time and a repetition of it is looked forward to.

Elizabeth Delaney and Kitty McHugh were the moving spirits—the shining lights. We want more.

EFFICIENT OFFICIAL

The referee of the West Chester game last Friday did a fine piece of work. He had a sharp eye for everything. No infraction of the rules escaped his attention. When one of the players lost his temper and used profane language, the official did his duty. That was highly commendable. With such action on the part of the referee the game will be kept clean.
