LOCK HAVEN DOES NOT BOW

They Prostrated Themselves Before B. S. N. S.

The line held and the lads gained. They crossed to goal line for a total of 76 points to the utter confusion of the Lock Haven warriors. When Jenks circled the line for a fifty yard gain and a score the crowd rose in the stands and yelled. When Sack scored from a kick-off a riot seemed to be forthcoming. But, take it all in all, such a count became monotonous.

A game with a close score is the kind that send the thrill up your spine. Why Bloomsburg could have won that game with three men on the floor. It was a case of tap—pass—goal.

The Lock Haven boys, in spite of the odds, tried hard for a score. After straining and sweating and stretching in desperation they acquired a total of 14 points.

The whole Bloomsburg squad appeared on the floor during this game. They all starred. No great honor to as many can score in a practice game. The game, however, showed the speed and precision of the B. S. N. S. team. It looks good for other games.

The line-up follows:

B. S. N. S. Lock Haven
Jenkins (C) R. F. Ward
Garrity L. F. Sherkel
Austin C. Vonada
Sack R. G. Almer
Walsh L. G. Pomeroy

Substitutions: Bloomsburg—Vanbuskirk for Garrity; Cooper for Sack Swinehart for Walsh; Stoker for Cooper. Lock Haven—Bohman for Almer; Bowser for Bohman; Hazen for Pomeroy.

Field Goals: Jenkins 6, Garrity 11, Vanbuskirk 7, Sack 1, Cooper 3, Walsh 4, Swinehart 1, Ward 1, Sherkel 2, Vonada 1, Hazen 1.

Foul Goals: Jenkins 4 out of 5; Garrity 1 out of 2; Walsh 1 out of 2; Ward 1 out of 3; Sherkel 2 out of 4; Vonada 1 out of 3.

Score—Bloomsburg—76. Lock Haven—14.

Referee—Bryant. Time keeper—Rushin.

OBITER ACTIVITIES

Most of the groups who desire to have their pictures in the Obiter have had them taken and the proofs have been approved by the editor.

Those who have individual write ups have not responded as well as is desired. The Seniors doing the write ups are not co-operating with the associate editors as they should. The editors do not seem to feel the responsibility that they assumed when they accepted the write ups. Each Senior should wish to make the Obiter "the best yet" and this can be possible only by the co-operation of those asked to help.

The editor has made several calls for snap shots. The response has been fair but he can still make use of more for variety. The offering of snapshots gives another opportunity for the Seniors to do their "bit" in making the Obiter better than ever before.

The collectors are waiting for the first payments from those who have not yet made them.

FOR WHAT DO WE EXCHANGE LIFE

Dr. West Brings Food For Thought

Friday noon, Dr. West, pastor of Bucknell University, spoke to us for the third time. His topic is always vital and practical. The students of the Bloomsburg Normal like him and look forward to his appearance. He makes us think.

His topic on this occasion was: "For What Do We Exchange Life?" His choice of illustrations is remarkable. He chooses those from things we know and in which we are interested.

Following are some of the outstanding points of his talk:

A man or woman to whom life is external, who reacts pleasantly to external features of the environment and call it life, is as a frog's leg which is dead but responds with a jerk to an electric current. For them are the frills, the froth of life. Nothing of value comes from them to the outside world.

The man who lives is the one who gives of himself to make the world a little better place because he has been in it. Inside of us is infinite worth and the great life is the letting out what is pent up within.

Dr. Ssenfell is almost worshipped on the great ice-bound coast of Labrador. He lives there for the people. He is always ready to make someone's life a little easier, a little more comfortable. He bears relief to the sick, comfort to the soul weary. He is a man of God. His life of service—he calls it life. He is a great man and is leading a great life. He is not a frog's leg but rather lives from the inside out.

The opportunity is given every young man and woman to make a choice of the kind of life we wish to lead. The path we like and the path of duty may go in opposite directions. The young people create cross roads and must choose.

It takes a big person to live a big life. We have the makings at our command. Let us use them as God intended we should. In our undertakings we may attempt to start something which is beyond the power of one person. Such a course is praiseworthy. Leave it to your successors to finish. You have made a start.

Such was the work of Jesus Christ, the greatest teacher of all times. He was the Son of God, the Son of Man. He is in each of us. Let us be of service. Frog's legs are out of place in our communities.

UNFORTUNATE INCIDENT AT BASKET-BALL GAME

The referee of the Indiana game saw all fouls. Nothing escaped him. In consequence five men were disqualified. This was, unfortunately, harder on Indiana than on the home team because the visitors ran out of substitutes. For a short time they had to play with only four men. Unfortunately our captain did not notice this until too late. Otherwise he would have taken out one of his own men for the purpose of evening things up. The outcome of the game would, however, not have been different. The game had progressed too far for that.

INDIANA TOPPLED BY LOCAL FIVE

Jenkins and Sack The Stars

For the second time Indiana invaded the Bloomsburg Normal. The first time they came they took home the bacon. This time their attack fell short. What they hoped to get we don't know, what they got, nothing, we don't begrudge them.

The visitor brought a well coached team, a strong defense and a snappy game. It was all of no avail. Although some of Bloomsburg's men were slightly below form, they staged such a rally in the second half that would pale the cheeks of "Eight Call."

The bulk of Indiana's scoring was done by Chrisman, their lanky forward. He was death on a shot under the basket. Led by him Indiana piled up a seven point lead in the first half. It looked bad for the local boys but the school had confidence in their warriors. The score at the end of the first half was 20-13, Indiana ahead.

When the team came back in the second half they seemed determined. They shook off a lethargy that seemed to hang over them in the first half and flashed out such an offense as none had seen before. It was dazzling. What had the coach told them?

Sack was playing all over the floor. Like a whistling dervish he was here then there, handling the ball perfectly. He piled up a total of seven field goals. Not even a jinx on the basket could have stopped him. He seems to get better every game.

And Captain Jenks, what an eye. He is a clever player. It is a pleasure to watch him as he cuts down the floor and pop, the ball passes through the net. His generalship and stellar playing are a great asset to the team. He has five field goals and three fouls to his credit.

Altho Austin was only in the fray for a short while he played his best game of the season so far. He was sent to the showers on four personals in the first half but his game was great. He scored one field goal, held his man down to one and got the tap every time. Go get them Archie.

Walsh knows his groceries. He played a great offensive game. When he plays he plays hard. For the greater part of the game his running mate was Swinehart. Many a time did Piggy break up Indiana's passes and make a Bloomsburg score possible.

Our red streak—Garrity—was as usual fast, furious and scoring many. He also stopped many of Indiana's plays. Cooper and Vanbuskirk, who came into the game close to the end, showed Indiana that what we have up our sleeve is as good as what we have in our hand. So far no Normal school has been able to beat us. Let them try. Let's go gang!

One feature of the game was the close refereeing by our old friend "Tip" Bryant. Gosh! he sees everything. Three Indiana men and two Bloomsburg were given the gate for personals. Altogether it was a fast game after the men got started. In the beginning of the second half when the score was tie a few times it was rather exciting.

VAN DOREN ON "CYCLES OF CONDUCT"

Literary Editor of Century Magazine

The speaker tonight is a man who has distinguished himself in four different fields. As a lecturer we will have the opportunity to judge for ourselves. Other audiences have given evidence of their appreciation and it is likely that we will find him more than interesting. As a teacher, he is prominent. At Columbia he was first instructor in English, then assistant professor and finally associate. He was headmaster of the Brearley School, New York from 1916 to 1919. He is perhaps, best known as an editor and author. He was literary editor of the Nation from 1919 to 1923. He is now literary editor of the Century. Mr. Van Doren has written a number of books of different types. Among these are: "The Life of Thomas Love Peacock", "The American Novel", "Contemporary American Novelists", "The Roving Critic," and "Many Minds." He is editor of a collection of stories by Washington Irving, "Franklin and Edward." Selections from their writings and a number of other collections of stories by famous writers.

ECHO FROM DR. WEST'S TALK

It is the consensus of opinion among the students that Dr. West's talks are becoming more and more effective. The one on Friday last was inspiring. It was evident from the looks on the faces of the students that all were determined to exchange their lives for service to others, for creative activity on the part of the individual upon his environment, upon the world, upon mankind. They want to be like a Lincoln, a Steinmetz and not a frog's leg, which has no life except under the stimulus of the electric current.

ART WORK OF JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

The mental pictures that the pupils of the Junior High School are now executing are very interesting. Some of them are copies of strange imaginings. They are all original creations and each holds the attention of its maker. Some of these "imaginings" are already completed and are attracting spectators to the display cases.

Sack R. G. Davis
Walsh L. G. Magill
Substitutions: Bloomsburg—Vanbuskirk for Garrity; Sack for Austin; Swinehart for Sack; Cooper for Walsh. Indiana—Shelley for Alexick; Davis for Bishop; Salsgiver for Davis.

TOWN AND GOWN

At a meeting of the local Ministerium it was the consensus of opinion of all the members present that the influence of the Normal School could be seen throughout the town. In the churches it appears in the choirs, in the congregations, in the Sunday Schools, in the Young People's Meetings, etc.

Besides the young people who are now attending the local churches, there are many members of the congregation who have attended Normal School at one time or other. This attendance has not been without its effect. Since their days at the Normal School these men and women have taken advantage of many good things offered on the Hill. There have been lectures, musical recitals, receptions, plays, etc. The effect of these is all for the better, and the results are to be seen in many phases of the town life. The town is on a higher plane intellectually and culturally in consequence of them.

The remark was made that it would be hard to find a town where such friendly and harmonious spirit between the School and the town existed as exists at Bloomsburg. This is very gratifying to everybody. No growing institution like ours can prosper and be of real service without such mutual co-operation as the Town and Gown of Bloomsburg enjoy.

Such a condition of things is not the work of any one person nor that of a short period of years. It takes time to establish reputation and prestige for an institution like ours. Careful planning and mutual understanding are also necessary. In this respect we owe much to those who have gone before. They have sown the seeds, of which we are now enjoying the harvest. Let us not forget to sow in return for coming generations.

KELLER BEATS DEMILLE

When a show comes to town directed by Cecil B. de Mille, a great fuss is made over it. He is advertised more than the show.

The Normal, however, has his superior. The Director of the Art Department, Professor George J. Keller, has turned movie man. He is directing the filming of the great super production "Cinderella." He is a master of the Art.

This mammoth show will include about one hundred and fifty training school children. All of them act like professionals. The principals conduct themselves like Betty Bronson and Ernest Torrence. They act naturally, absolutely unaffected. It will be a treat to see the completed production.

It will be completed in the middle of March and will consist of 6000 feet of film. It first will be shown in the Victoria Theatre for three successive days as a feature. Then the student body will be shown it free of charge as each member of this school has been in some way connected with its production. Its purpose is for indirect advertisement and it will be sent to the home towns of our students, educational centers of the state and various conferences which are to be held. It will make B. S. N. S. known from ocean to ocean.

More than one half of the job is finished. The work on filming has all been done outside of school hours. It is the biggest thing ever attempted in Bloomsburg.

The whole process is purely educational. No strain is put on the actors and actresses. All extra work is done by Normal students.

The finished product will show more than the play. It will show the processes of preparation, the printing of tickets, making of scenery, designing of costumes and all the other interesting projects.

As there is a difference between a scenario and a play the play was revised. Also many additions to it have been made. The horses used are the property of the Otis Smith Circus, which is wintering at the Fair Grounds.

Many scenes will be taken at the Normal and all the buildings are included. The $1,000 cost will be taken from the proceeds of the stage play.

"HAPPINESS"

Last Thursday evening the Dramatic Club was very delightfully entertained by several of its members who gave the play "Happiness."

The scene is laid in Mrs. Pole's living room. Her husband has died and her father is trying to persuade her to return home. Philip Chandos, a friend of the family, seems to be as unhappy and dissatisfied as Mrs. Pole. They talk things over and decide to hunt for happiness together. Jennie, the shop girl, brings a new gown for "the". Then her real happiness is found by all.

The cast: Mrs. Chrystal Pole, Ethel Fowler; Philip Chandos, Bill Walsh; Mr. Scowcraft, Bob Sutliff; Jennie, the shop girl, Lena Van Horn.

SCRUBS HAVE BIG WEEK END

Defeat Mainville and Bucknell Frat

By far the most exciting game on Saturday night was the scrub game. The fraternity team from Bucknell was fast and game. They led the scoring in the beginning of the game. They, however, were up against Bloomsburg Spirit.

In the second half Hawkins and Stoker kept the boys from Lewisburg down and slipped in a few on their own hook. They looked pretty good in that game. M'Grath usually got the tap but our opponents had alert and fast guards which took away a large part of our advantages.

When the score was tie the audience was tense and cheering lustily. The scrubs, however, began to show the effects of their coaching and began to pile up a presentable score. They won the game, 31-25. The score at the end of the first period was 19-10.

The game Friday night with some boys from Mainville was pretty sloppy. Passing was bad and shooting was off but the Reserves succeeded in coming up from behind to win. The only outstanding features of the game were the work of Yarshefskie and Hawkins. Both are playing well consistently.

TWO INTERESTING PICTURES

There is a great difference between the Then and Now of the School, when the two photographs on the bulletin board are compared one with the other. A faculty of twenty against one of over fifty. A small sprinkling of college training over against a college trained body. Teachers obliged to teach the largest variety of subjects compared with highly trained specialists. This is all due to changes that have come about during the last thirty years. What will the next thirty years bring?

THE LIFE OF A PROCTOR

"Why is it that proctors need walk the floors after the lights go out? Just as complex. Can the students be trusted to line up to school principles, without the automatic appearance of a backstop in the form of a proctor every time there is a misstep?"

As the belfry across the Campus peals forth its retiring signal, the light, as a matter of course usher in the dark, the usual buzz presides for at least three minutes after the lights go out, then slowly subsides and dies away, leaving only the screeching and cracking of the hall floor to announce the weary watch of the proctor.

On the first round, order seems quite as it should be. The proctor, satisfied, gets ready to turn in; when a screeching sound of a Yale lock, accompanied by a hushed whisper, issues from unknown quarters.

The proctor, humming "Take up thy quarrel with the foe" glides toward the annoyance. By the time she reaches the spot the door has already been adjusted. Evidence against her, the privilege alone remains of knocking three or four times on the door, or repeating, "Quiet girls" If the noise subsides she can make her retreat, if not, more strenuous measures are used. Such is the life of a proctor, when students refuse to be governed."

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Brief Mention Of People You Know

Joe Dugan reminds one of Mr. Taft. He is an ex-president.

Miss Ohl and Miss Andrews will take part in the Brite Bits of 1926.

Molly Brace led Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church last Sunday.

The Cinderella film is drawing to completion. Great interest is being aroused in it.

The final test is being held during the last period scheduled for any particular class.

On Monday Dr. Riemer addressed the local Ministerium on Education for Moral Growth.

Miss Nelle Moore met the teachers of Susquehanna County in conference on Saturday last.

Dr. West took luncheon at Miss Conway's table. Afterward Miss Conway drove him in her car to Danville.

Mrs. Paul E. Wirt, wife of one of our trustees, entertained at luncheon and bridge at the Hotel Magee on Friday last.

Several hundred copies of the State bulletin for Library Books for the Elementary Schools have just been received.

Dr. Barnard spent all day Saturday with Miss Maupin. The two discussed the social studies program for the schools of Pennsylvania.

Committees from the Junior, Senior and Middler Classes are busy working out programs for Auditorium exercises of next semester.

Dr. John Bakeless' new book on the Next War will appear soon. Dr. Bakeless gave a talk on this subject in our auditorium about a year ago.

Supt. W. W. Evans dropped in to hear Dr. West speak on Friday. Since he is now our close neighbor we hope that he may find time to drop in often.

The students are rapidly securing their schedule cards. In addition, they are buying their books. The work of the second semester will soon be under way.

Mr. Keller will live in North Hall during the second semester and will act as dean of men. He served in this capacity last summer and developed great interest in the young men.

A drinking fountain is being installed in Science Hall. This will be a great convenience and joy to all. In the past it was necessary to bother Mrs. Keller in her work in household arts.

Miss Carrie E. M. Burks, teacher of primary education, arrived in town on Tuesday. She comes to us from Oklahoma and will teach the courses in primary subjects to the Juniors next semester.

Miss Bertha Rich, the additional supervisor of the Intermediate Department, arrived in Bloomsburg on Tuesday morning. She will spend the remaining days of this semester to get settled and to find her bearings.

On Saturday, Dr. Riemer attended a meeting of the committee which is making arrangements for the conference of teachers of Northeastern Pennsylvania. Supt. Evans accompanied him. The meeting was held at Wilkes-Barre.

It is now the rage to be photographed for the Obiter. Many have fallen, the various teams, the musical organizations, the faculty etc. Pictures of the campus and buildings have also been taken. And some of us have been snapped unawares.

All the books of the local public library have been moved to the new library building. In accordance with the plans of the librarians the new quarters will be open to the public by the end of the week. This is good news to all normal school students because the local library has always been a source of great help to them. It contains many books that our library does not have on its shelves.

Mr. Hausknecht, our business manager, is organizing his department more and more fully. The mail is being dispatched promptly. His information and instructions to the students and teachers are definite and clear. There are bulletins and notices. The Supply Room does its work more easily and with greater satisfaction to the students. In the office there are only two instead of three assistants.

SENIOR GAMES

The seniors have not yet finished their section games and it is hoped they will conclude before the beginning of a new semester when the classes will be broken up.

Some victorious teams are:
Flying Squads who beat the Coolies in two games 12-9 and 17-10.

Two Two's who beat the Only Won's 18-0 and 12-8.

Eagles vs Black Ties 12-2 and 18-9.

Snappy Six vs T. T. T. 10-2 and 15-11.

B. B. B.'s vs Knockouts 19-6 and 14-6.

Amateurs vs Elves 24-5 and 6-7-finally 25-7.

Flying Squad vs Two Two's 24-19 and 18-16.

Snappy Six vs Eagles 17-1 and 37-4.

Amateurs vs B. B. B.'s 12-5.

Those to be finished are:
Pirates vs Sunbeams.

Good Losers vs Spiderwebs.

L. T. S. vs B. N. L.

Big Boobs vs All Stars.

Travellers vs Black Sox.

The Mac's have yet to finish a two out of three game with the P. D. Q's.

The first game the P. D. Q's won to the tune of 6-3. The next game the Mac's ran a high score against them allowing them only three points to their thirty three. Kellam, Roche, and McHugh brought on the goals and try for goal points.

EXCHANGES

The Indiana Penn—Indiana State Normal School—An interesting paper. We like your editorials, but why not have more student activities written up?

The Montanomal—State Normal College, Dillon, Montana—A good paper but we think it needs more school news.

The Arrow—Junior High School—Oskosh, Wisconsin—This is a most clever paper for a Junior High School. All departments are represented, news of every sort and interest is found.

Y. W. MEETING

Last Wednesday evening at Y. W. meeting we had several treats. Miss Marion Decker had charge of devotions. Several students took part in the meeting. Margare Evans gave a reading, and Ellen Whitehouse delightfully entertained with a vocal selection. A short story was read by Jessie Hastie entitled "The Way."

Every girl should attend these meetings which are both interesting and helpful. Next Wednesday night there will be a subject on missions at the devotional meeting.

According to the Green Stone, both the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. took an active part in discussions of the World Court. Representatives were sent to both the Harrisburg and Philadelphia conventions.

WRITE UPS! WRITE UPS!

The associate editor of the Obiter appeals to the Seniors who have individual write ups to get busy. This work is important and must be done, so Seniors, share a little of the responsibility which has been given you. Show that the class is interested in the Obiter and wishss it to be the best annual ever published at B. S. N. S.

FOLKS WE KNOW

NORMAL INVADES FOREIGN SHORES

To Play Shippensburg And Westchester

Our team left yesterday for Westchester where they will play this afternoon. They left in high spirits and the school expects great results. They are taking up the nomadic life for the week end. Friday they will show Westchester some stuff. Saturday they go to Shippensburg.

We are sailing serenely for the Normal School championship. We have the team. We have beaten the leading Normal schools of the state once each and today starts our second round. The stage is set—let's win.

The contest which appears to offer the most difficulty is the Saturday game. When Shippensburg played at this place they displayed a fast and flashy team. Our boys had to play most of their tricks. But the school is confident of success.

The men are all in good shape and their shooting eyes are becoming more accurate every day. They looked good in scrimmage the other day. Some remarkable plays are at their disposal. Several new combinations have been tried. Vanbuskirk has taken a trick at center and looks good. That leaves a fast combination of Jenks, Red, Sackie, Walsh and Nick. The starting combination however will probably have Austin at center. Those taking the trip are: Capt. Jenkins, Garrity, Vanbuskirk, Austin, Sack, Walsh, Cooper and Swinehart.

MUSIC CLUB ORGANIZED

Mrs. Miller, head of the Music Department, called together all music students on January 20th to discuss the organizing of a music club.

It was decided to organize this club which will be the first club of this type in our school. The club will make up different forms of music for study that will be very helpful and enjoyable.

Edison Harris was elected president and William Jones, vice president. It was decided to hold a meeting every two weeks on the first and third Wednesday of the month. The next meeting will be held on February 3rd at 7:30 o'clock in Science Hall. All music students are urged to attend.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

An interest in activities for outside of school hours is being induced in the Junior High School. Mr. Rorem has made up an ingenious device by which work done outside of school and outside of school subjects shall receive recognition.

Contests have been announced to come off at a certain date. Judges will be picked from among Normal School teachers and students. The competition shall be in Mental, Hand and Bodily Skills. Small awards are planned for the winner.

The devil finds work for idle hands so that a hobby is a great thing. Occupation for leisure hours is a problem confronting all educators. Thus a recognition of learned skill outside of class should be a step toward the goal. The method is a good example for prospective teachers.

Already an interest has been noticed. One kid already can beat his father in checkers. Keen competition has arisen in adding figures. Five rows of ten figures are the subject and the first record announced was 55 seconds. A girl demonstrated in Chapel and made the record of 47 seconds, another made 45 and the game went on. The present record is held by a girl—it being 37 seconds.

JUNIOR INTER-CLASS BASKET BALL

All the games between the different teams in each Junior section have been played and the following teams lead their divisions: Skippers, Comets, B. B. B. B. B.'s, Olivets, K. K. K.'s, and the Breezies.

So far there has been staged a tournament game between the Comets and the Skippers. This occurred on Monday afternoon, also one between the B. B. B. B. B.'s and the Olivets. Both these games were very snappy and the "win" spirit was evident on all sides. The Skippers won by one point, and the game was nip and tuck throughout, the score being 13-12. The B. B. B. B. B.'s won a speedy contest over the Olivets, 12-5. Another game between the K. K. K.'s and the Breezies will decide who will be in the final contest.

CENT WISDOM AND DOLLAR FOLLY

Economy can be carried so far that it results in a downright loss.

Poor, cheap leather and bad workmanship cannot produce good shoes, even though they look good and are advertised as such.

A raincoat that leaked the first time you wore it which you bought because it was cheap, was a costly investment, as you knew when you looked at your damaged and stained dress.

Milk is always white to the eye, but much of it has been skimmed and watered, so that your baby does not thrive upon it.

Save money by getting of a reliable store a good article at proper value rather than a paraded bargain.
