SENIORS SET NEW STANDARD

In Chapel Services

From all indications the Seniors will, with little effort, pass all standards that might have been set for them by those who were the instigators of the plan for chapel exercises as they are now being conducted.

To set a good example, members of the committee have been taking charge, so far, but that cannot go on all the time. Seniors who have volunteered will be given a chance, either to take charge of the exercises, play the piano or conduct the singing. Last Monday Elgie Prutzman had charge of chapel, with Charlotte Morgan at the piano and Crevelling Strausser in charge of the baton.

Mr. Jenkins, president of the class told some of the impressions he had received while with the basketball team on various trips. The courtesy which is shown a visiting team is the determining factor in the opinion which the players will hold for that particular school. If they are received in a friendly manner, the visitors will naturally carry kind feelings away with them, but if they are greeted with jeers, they cannot help feeling some resentment. At one school, in particular, the spirit seemed to be to "win at any cost" with no thought for the visitors, but another school was not purely selfish, but gave cheers for the visitors. The team depends upon the student body for support at home. The team cannot play its best if only a handful of students are present, the players want to feel that the student body is with them. Mr. Jenkins compared the school spirit manifested at the games in other schools with that of our own and urged more display of school spirit here.

James Coursen, manager of the basketball team, spoke of school spirit in our own school. He spoke in a forceful manner, leaving no doubt as to whether or not he meant what he said. He warned the class that before he finished he would be very likely to say some things that would hurt, but there would be some consolation in the fact that the "truth always hurts". He, too, spoke of the school spirit in other schools, comparing it with that shown here—including both class and school spirit. He mentioned the school spirit shown last year and how it diminished in one short year. The change has been so sudden and marked that it cannot go unnoticed. It will be necessary to resurrect the school spirit and he wanted to know as Pillsbury says, "Eventually, why not now?"

Those at the last game no doubt remember that all the cheers that were given were led either by a Junior High School lad or by a Junior boy. This should not be for the Seniors should set the standards and be the leaders in the school. He placed the responsibility of arousing greater school spirit upon the Seniors. It will be necessary to show that we take this responsibility soon, for a great deal will depend upon the spirit shown tomorrow night at the Wyoming Seminary game. Shall we accept the responsibility or leave our school spirit lying by the wayside where it has fallen?

LOSING STREAK CONTINUES

Dickinson Sem. Wins

Last Friday, Bloomsburg Normal met Dickinson Seminary on the basketball court. In years gone by Normal defeated them at home and away. Things looked good for our boys but it seems that we lost. Dickinson must have been out for blood because they played a fast game.

Dickinson's style of playing is short, fast passes and expert dribbling. Ten long shots were tried but they were very successful under the basket. They made fifteen field goals to our eleven.

Jenkins gave those lads a thrill. Six field goals he made—dropped them in from close to the center of the floor. He sure can shoot. Austin played a good game, scoring four field goals and getting a broken nose. Garrity scored twice while Sack and Walsh were kept busy guarding.

Mansfield depended a great deal on long passes. They had many a lucky shot while our boys couldn't find the basket. Mansfield fouled our men every time a score seemed imminent. As it was Walsh scored only one field goal and we got thirteen points on fouls. Nick Vanbuskirk livened up the team a bit when he came in. Three of Mansfield's men went out on four personals. That is not such a good record. But they seemed to depend on that game. Our team has tough breaks when they go away. Let us hope our losing streak soon is over.

When the boys travel they acquire colds, broken noses, bad legs and all sorts of bumps and bruises. It sort of takes the fight out of a team. We can't let that happen.

The line up follows:

B. S. N. S.		Dickinson
Jenkins	R. F.	Griffiths
Garrity	L. F.	McKay
Austin	C.	Hayes
Sack	R. F.	Good
Walsh	L. F.	Nye

Score—B. S. N. S.—27; Dickinson—35.

Substitutions—B. S. N. S.—Vanbuskirk for Garrity; Swinehart for Walsh. Out on personals—McKay—Dickinson.

Referee—Thayer. Timekeeper—McCahay.

B. S. N. S.		M. S. N. S.
Jenkins	R. F.	Brace
Garrity	L. F.	Lloyd
Austin	C.	Lord
Sack	R. G.	Kellerman
Walsh	L. G.	Allis

Score—B. S. N. S.—15; M. S. N. S.—28.

Substitutions—Vanbuskirk for Austin, Swinehart for Walsh, Gamble for Lloyd, Kelley for Allis.

LIFE SAVER

AROUSES INTEREST

Captain Kieb of the American Red Cross, was in Bloomsburg from Monday to Wednesday. He was here for the purpose of initiating Bloomsburg people into the mysteries of life saving. His line is First Aid in water and on land. Monday morning eight of the men from the school went to the Magee Pool for instruction.

Tuesday and Wednesday he was in chapel giving talks and demonstrations of First Aid. His talk was interesting and he gave us some good dope. If the time ever comes when we are in an emergency let's hope that we will not all be lost.

WYOMING SEM. HERE SATURDAY

Hard Game Promised

The team is all ready to put the skids under Wyoming Seminary on Saturday. They beat us a few weeks ago—they gloated over the victory like a cat over a dead bird. But these birds aren't dead and our boys' fangs are gleaming from sharpening. We are all ready.

Jenkins' eye is narrowed down until the basket can't be missed. Sack is rarin' to go. Garrity is livening up. Austin knows his books and is jumping hard. Walsh is fighting mad. The substitutes feel that nothing could stop them when they get their chance.

One thing, the Wyoming game does, is to put fight into our team and spirit into the whole school. We need it. Let's wake up and sock them around.

There is a reorganized scrub team. They are going after the Wyoming reserves with blood in their eye. Let the best win and the devil take the hindmost. Hawkins and Yozviak are starring for the scrubs now. They ought to pile up the score.

Let's show the old fighting spirit. The whole school back of the team. Remember what Coursen said in chapel and show other schools that we have the stuff. Let's get 'em team.

Probable line-up:
Jenkins R. F. Hresko
Garrity L. F. Alper
Austin C. Donchess
Sack R. G. Bodle
Walsh L. G. Edwards

GIRL SCOUTS

Has anyone noticed some children around the Normal tying knots, reading stories, memorizing laws and many other extraordinary things? Perhaps you have wondered why they have been doing these things. Maybe you have even attributed it to be an effect of Dr. Pike's lecture. At least we will explain the mystery so that Miss Conway will permit "these children" to remain on dormitory floors. On Wednesday evening, February 3rd, a troop of Girl Scouts was organized under the leadership of Miss Ann Roos of New York City. As you of course know, Scouts are from ten to eighteen years of age. Each Scout has decided she is one of these ages so this will be an explanation of our sudden rejuvenation.

There were about thirty-two girls out to our first meeting. At this time we organized into four patrols namely "The Pathfinders", "The Rattlers", "The Mayflowers" and "The Tabbies". During the course of the evening, patrol leaders were elected, original songs and yells were composed. Many games were played, the most popular one being an automobile race. The funniest in the race was the Ford, which ran on all fours.

The personal of our troop is as follows: Miss Ann Roos, Captain; Miss Mary Stackhouse, lieutenant; and patrol leaders: Laura Mann, Helen Kellam, Hope Schallis and Laura Stevens.

SYMPATHY TO MARGARET EVANS

The Maroon and Gold would extend its sympathy to our schoolmate, Margaret Evans, who has just lost her father.

KATHRYN MEISLE HERE TONIGHT

A Great Contralto

Kathryn Meisle, whose voice has been pronounced "one of the great contralto voices of the present" will sing for us tonight. Miss Meisle has been singing ever since she was a child and has received all her musical education in America, of which she is very proud.

Miss Meisle (whost name is pronounced "Mys-lee") is of German parentage. She originally intended to become a pianist, but, when she was fifteen a choir director heard her sing and offered her a position in his choir as alto. This determined her on her present career. Several years ago she won first prize as a singer at the National Federation of Music Clubs held in California. She had several offers at that time to appear on the concert stage, but felt that she was not yet ready.

On October 21st, 1921, Kathryn Meisle made her real debut as a professional singer when she became soloist with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra under Emil Oberhoffer. The remarkable notices she received from the critics brought many subsequent engagements, including appearances with the Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis and Chicago Symphony Orchestras. During the 1926 season Miss Meisle is scheduled to appear with Dr. Walter Damrasch and the New York Symphony Orchestra.

In November 1923, Miss Meisle was engaged by the Chicago Civic Opera Co., to sing leading contralto roles. She made her debut as Erda in "Siegfried". The critics pronounced her work as "extraordinary."

We may consider ourselves most fortunate to have the opportunity to hear such a gifted artiste. There will be a large audience, judging from the interest shown.

COMMENCEMENT COMMITTEE

The committee from the Senior Class for which Dr. Riemer issued a call a few days ago, met with him on Tuesday afternoon. It consisted of Arthur Jenkins, Grace Robbins, Lucille Kaufman, Laura Mann, Margaret Isaacs and Laura Zielinski.

The committee discussed various features of the coming commencement. Names of possible ministers to preach the graduating sermon were mentioned. In addition, names of speakers were suggested to give the address to the graduating class. Among the latter were the names of Dr. Hanson, President of Gettysburg College, Dr. Fosdick, noted minister and speaker of New York City, and Dr. Brumbaugh, President of Juniata College.

They discussed also the type of music that the class might wish on both occasions. It was the consensus of opinion of all that the School orchestra and quartets should furnish the music.

The committee recommended that the procession pass from the memorial windows, over the main walk, and then into the main entrance of the Institute Building. This custom was instituted last year and was found very satisfactory.

After the commencement exercises on Friday, there will likely be a lawn or picnic luncheon for the members of the graduating class and their immediate relatives.

FAME OF SCHOOL RESTS ON STUDENTS

In Chapel on Monday Dr. Riemer again emphasized the fact that the reputation of a school rests on what its students and teachers do. The reputation of our School in the field of scholarship will be and is what we are now doing with our courses. And the sad part about it is, that a few who may not be doing their duty in this respect, may spoil matters for the large proportion doing their work well. Two or three students, for instance, cheating in examination or at their other work, may stamp the whole student body as a gang of cheaters.

In the matter of conduct the situation is just the same. A few students acting unseemly or unwisely in the buildings, on the grounds, or on the streets of the town, may tear down and spoil all that the large majority of students is building up.

He touched on what we have undertaken in Chapel. This experiment will be a success if we all continue to pull together. It may, however, be spoiled if a few fail to go along. But we are capable of doing what is right, what is best for the School, and what will help us to grow into worthy teachers. And we shall do so.

NEW FURNITURE AND LOCKS

Now study tables have been ordered for the Girl's Dormitory. The first lot of twenty-five will arrive soon. There will be one hundred here before the expiration of many weeks. The remaining double beds are to be replaced as soon as possible by single beds. They are now being ordered.

New Yale locks are to be placed on all the doors. This will assure greater privacy and security to all the students.

ON OTHER CAMPUSES

A hymn and scripture reading contest was held during the month of December at Dickinson Seminary. Much talent was shown by the contestants. Perhaps it would be a good idea if we did that in our chapel services.

The girls' basketball team of Slippery Rock defeated the girls of Indiana by the score 51-6. We wonder why the girls of B. S. N. S. cannot have a share in inter-scholastic sports.

The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. according to the Slippery Rocket presented a movie "So Big" featuring Colleen Moore, recently. This is a book that many of B. S. N. S. students read as a report for English Literature Class.

West Chester Normal have recently opened a swimming pool. The Y. W. one evening discussed "What is Popularity and is it worthwhile?" Much interest was shown according to the Green Stone.

"Who's Who on the Campus" is an interesting column for publicity in The Muhlenberg Weekly.

GIRL SCOUTS HIKE

Last Saturday the Girl Scouts led by Miss Roos, went on a hike in the direction of the Country Club. The path had to be broken, but that only contributed to the fun. Many faces received their winter bath but they had a good time in spite of that. After feasting on toasted buns and kabobs, the girls returned to school. Those attending were: Miss Roos, Miss Stackhouse, Miss Drummond, Miss Anderson, Misses Laura Mann, Hope Schalles, Laura Stevens, Jane Beishline, D. Baker, Mary Hartman, Helen Andrews, Linda Culver, Helen Kellem and Lucille Henry.

TEA PARTY

The Physical Education teachers, Miss Drummond and Miss Anderson, delightfully entertained the Athletic Leaders at a tea party given at their apartment at the school. The leaders present were: Miss Drummond, Miss Anderson, Jessie Zimmerman, Edith Morris, Marion Schelbert, Edna Brotherton, Helen Sanderson, Lucille Kauffman, Marie Grier, Helen Dickenson, Evelyn Harris. A very pleasant time was had by all. The Leaders proclaimed, the two teachers "Charming Hostesses."

STUDENT LOAN FUND

The School has generously urged the students to avail themselves of the student loan fund if any should feel embarrassed on account of the strike. The terms of the loan are as easy as possible. There are no interest payments. The time of settlement of the loan is fixed to meet the convenience of the student. In other words, the arrangement is such that no worthy student needs to interrupt his studies because of financial depression.

MISS CONWAY AT HAZLETON

On Thursday evening, February 18, Miss Conway will hold a conference in the High School building of Hazleton with the fathers and mothers of our students from that city. About twenty invitations have already been issued.

SAVING OF TEDDY DAWSON

Last Thursday evening at the regular meeting of the Dramatic Club, a very clever play was presented. In fact it was one of the best given this year.

Teddy seemed to be very much in love with Peggy. Of course, as usual, Peggy's Pa and Ma were very much opposed to this and tried to break the friendship between them. Ma invited Teddy to dine with her—and during the conversation told him what a wonderful wife Peggy would make him. Teddy soon began to feel that "Ma" was too anxious to marry Peggy off, so he took his leave. This was just what "Ma" had planned.

The cast included: Ma, Beatrice Englehart; Pa, Raymond Getz; Peggy, Margaret Caswell; Teddy, Louis Alimenti.

MUSIC CLUB PROGRAM

A delightful program was given at a recent meeting of the Music Club. The attendance was not so large as desired due to the inclement weather. The program was as follows: Comments on composers represented

Lucy Rood.
Song "I Know a Tiny Garden" Ellen Whitehouse
Piano "Impromptu Op. 90 No. 3" Virginia Eyerly
Violin "Love Song" Lewis Wolf
Piano "Tarantelle" Marian Pickett
Song "Pirate Dreams" Mary Bomboy
The soloists were assisted by Mrs. Miller and Miss Perner. Mrs. Miller then gave an interesting talk on music appreciation and what it is.

NEW EDITOR OF OBITER

Jimmy Coursen has been chosen editor in chief of the Obiter. Judging from what he is doing in his classes and with the management of the basket ball team, he will prove a success. The students are glad that such a choice has been made, for they are determined that the Obiter of 1926 shall be the best ever.

SENIORS IN LINE

At the suggestion of Dr. Riemer in a recent chapel period the Seniors have co-operated in working out a chapel program for this semester. Mr. Jenkins appointed the following committee to work up the program: James Coursen, chairman; Elgie Prutzman, Kathryn Munroe, Hugo Riemer and LaVerne Reese. The class is looking forward to interesting and helpful chapel periods this semester.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Brief Mention Of People
You Know

Many students spent the week-end at home, the first time since the vacation at Christmas time.

Miss Ohl, Miss Andrews, and Miss Eves have been working on the reports during the week.

Many students, having skis, have been using them during the last week, and hikes thru and over the snow have been in vogue.

Dr. C. Z. Robbins, an influential citizen of the town, called on Dr. Riemer on Monday. As members of the local Rotary Club, they discussed a program for a meeting of that club.

We no longer sit as we did in the Dining Hall. There are new faces at all the tables. But we shall soon be well acquainted again. In this way we learn to know a large number of our schoolmates more intimately.

On account of the size of the class in American History it was necessary to make two sections of it. One now meets at 8:00 and the other at 9:00 A. M. To make this change possible, Miss Maupin surrendered her class in sociology to Prof. Robbins.

SLOGANS FOR OUR SCHOOL

In the Report of the Dean of the Teachers College, Columbia University, there are two sentences which should serve as slogans for any school like ours:

"Exemplify the types of educational advance which now seem reasonably consistent with the best educational philosophy."

"Take advantage of every worthwhile and sane improvement in the fine art of directing human minds and character."

Y. W. MEETING

The recently organized choir of the Y. W. C. A. rendered several selections at their regular meeting on Wednesday night. The personnel is as follows:

Sopranos—Margaret Lambert, Ellen Whitehouse, Laura Mann and Helen Jones. Altos—Emily Davies, Edith Morris, Lucille Kaufman, and Blanche Herring. Accompanist—Pat Hilbert.

The topic for the evening was on Japan.

"Study of Japan" Eleanor Kresge.

"Home Life of Japan" Jessie Hastic

"Woman's Progress in Japan" Hope Schalles.

"Mme. Asa Hirovka" Margaret Rice

FACULTY ASSERTS AUTHORITY

Tuesday night the Senior Class of the Millersville State Normal School had their annual Valentine Hop. Principal Gordinier stopped the dance long before its natural close. He walked to the middle of the floor and announced that the fun was over on account of improper music and dancing. It was announced that much of the blame belongs to the outsiders who have small respect for school officials and school authority.

ECHO FROM JIMMY COURSEN'S SPEECH

It sounded good to hear Jimmy Coursen speak so well of the attitude toward work among the students here and of the co-operation between teachers and students. Let's keep it up.

FACULTY NOTES

Miss Rich will teach at Knoxville University during the summer.

Mr. Rorem will complete his work for the master's degree at the University of Chicago this summer.

Mr. Hausknecht went to the Kutztown State Normal School on Sunday and Monday to help its bursar interpret the budget which Mr. Hausknecht prepared for that institution before coming here.

Miss Nelle Moore is spending the day in Wilkes-Barre with Miss Heler Purcell of East Stroudsburg. They are making preparations for the Conference of the teachers of Northeastern Pennsylvania to be held on March 12 and 13.

MISS CONWAY AT WILKES-BARRE

Last night Miss Conway had a conference in the High School building of Wilkes-Barre with the fathers and mothers of the students who come to us from that city. Over forty invitations had been sent out by Dr. Riemer to the parents. In this way Miss Conway is offering the mothers and fathers of our students an excellent opportunity to learn to know the aims of our School. She will soon go to Mt. Carmel, Hazleton, Scranton, Kingston, etc.

ADDITION TO LIBRARY

The library has just received a set of new books. It is the Roosevelt Edition of the Chronicles of America. The series consists of twenty-five beautifully bound, well printed and illustrated volumes. The material is very interesting and readable. It should be in great demand by all interested in the history of our country.

SYMPATHY TO JAMES JONES

The Maroon and Gold would extend its sympathy to our schoolmate, Jimmy Jones, who has just lost his mother.

Miss Patterson had her pupils in chapel on Friday last. These were the little tots and those bigger. It was a real treat. Each group from the grades 1 to 6 took part. There was a mammoth cast of 170 people. It was a real Ensemble Concert.

A concert received as this one was speaks well for the Director. We would like to hear more. Miss Ruth Young was accompanist.

CENT WISDOM AND DOLLAR FOLLY

Economy can be carried so far that it results in a downright loss.

Poor, cheap leather and bad workmanship cannot produce good shoes, even though they look good and are advertised as such.

A raincoat that leaked the first time you wore it which you bought because it was cheap, was a costly investment, as you knew when you looked at your damaged and stained dress.

Milk is always white to the eye, but much of it has been skimmed and watered, so that your baby does not thrive upon it.

Save money by getting of a reliable store a good article at proper value rather than a paraded bargain.
