NORMAL DEFEATS INDIANA FIVE

First Win Away From Home

A week ago the Bloomsburg Normal basketball team went to Indiana to try conclusions with Indiana there. This is the first Bloomsburg team that invaded the Indiana grounds and our school may well be proud of the invaders. The game was played in the afternoon before a large crowd of good sports.

In this game the Bloomsburg boys were at their best. It was the best exhibition of passing and shooting put across by our boys this year. It was great stuff. The defensive work of the team has improved greatly also. The winning of this game should keep Bloomsburg in the running for the championship of the State Normal Schools.

The big star of this game was Captain Jenkins. They could no more stop him than beat our team. He was going like a house afire. He was high scorer with six field goals to his credit.

During this year Swinehart has developed into one of the best defensive men among the Normal Schools. He doesn't score often but they have to do some tall stepping to get past him for a score. The newest man to step into the limelight is McGrath. In this game his floor work and shooting were outstanding. He had a big hand in winning the victory. He scored three goals from the field.

Garrity hit his usual fast pace. He is a valuable man to the team. He and Walsh are the boys with the fight. Walsh gets a share of the scoring. Austin and Hawkins didn't play long enough to allow us to judge of them. Hawkins is a new man and is beginning to show the varsity goods.

The Indiana team is a fast crew. Altho we have now beaten them twice they always play a riproaring game. They are a good passing team and know their stuff on the defense. Bishop, who jumped center for Indiana, was their high scorer and outstanding player. We remember the work of Chrisman at forward. He is a fast man.

It is a pleasure to play against Indiana as they are all good sports and clean, hard players. The football team will vouch for that. This year is our first of athletic relations with them and we hope they last long and continue happy.

The line up:

ELLY NEY PLAYS HERE TONIGHT

World Famous Pianist

Pronounced "one of the greatest of all pianists, and undoubtedly the greatest woman pianist" we are more than fortunate to have the opportunity of hearing Elly Ney tonight.

Miss Ney has studied under some of the best foreign and American instructors. It is said that she can make the piano speak, such is her mastery of the instrument. She has given concerts in all the large cities of this country and in many foreign capitals.

We may be assured of hearing a real artist and real artistry tonight.

Elly Ney has been in Bloomsburg before. She was here two years ago in a compensation concert. She missed her first engagement and came later gratis. She was received with flowers and applause. Let us hope she has not forgotten Bloomsburg as Bloomsburg has not forgotten her.

Her Ney's reputation is great and we are promised a treat. She comes here from the Metropolitan Opera House.

MANSFIELD PLAYS HERE SATURDAY

Won In Previous Game

We play Mansfield for the second time this season on Saturday on our home floor. We have been meeting Mansfield in all athletic events for many years. Our relations have always been of the most friendly sort.

When we met Mansfield earlier this year they defeated us for the first time in many a game. It brot us up short and warned us to look to our chores. We have looked to them and now we are ready to wreak the worst kind of vengeance on them. The team is in tip-top condition and going strong. The scrub team used to be able to give them a run for their money but now they are no longer in it. Those boys can score anytime and Mansfield will receive a surprise rather than the much coveted bacon.

The Captain tells us that nothing can stop his team this week. They are running wild and have the old Bloomsburg fight. Mansfield also looks good and they have blood in their eyes. Their big star is Brace, forward, who put in six field goals in the other game. He must and will be stopped.

The team has been playing for some time without Sack. Altho his absence has not completely demoralized the team, it is felt. He made a good record during the year, coming out as high scorer in several of the games. It would be great to have him back.

The lineup will probably be as follows:

B. S. N. S. M. S. N. S.
Jenkins R. F. Brace
Garrity L. F. Lloyd
McGrath C. Lord
Swinehart R. G. Kellerman
Walsh L. G. Allis

LOCK HAVEN DOWNED FOR SECOND TIME

Score 48 - 10

In the words of a Lock Haven rooter, Bloomsburg Normal basketball team played with the Lock Haven team last Saturday. "With" is the word. Incidentally, Lock Haven was held scoreless in the second half while our boys made 25 points. The game was rather uninteresting from the spectators viewpoint out of track season. It must have been fun for the players.

Our forwards had things pretty much their own way. Red Garrity rolled up a total of 20 points, scoring nine field goals. Jenks came next with six field goals. Everyone that made the trip played, except Manager Coursen. He hoped but his dreams were not realized.

In spite of the one sided score it is a common report that the Lock Haven boys have the fight that deserves to win. We were able to see that in the football game and, more recently in the basketball game. We can not help but admire their spirit and pluck. Athletic relations with Lock Haven are a pleasure.

The line up and summary:

B. S. N. S. L. H. S. N. S.
Jenkins R. F. Ward
Garrity L. F. Hauke
McGrath C. Hazen
Swinehart R. G. Pomeroy
Walsh L. G. Sherkel
Substitutions: Bloomsburg—Austin for McGrath; VanBuskirk for Austin; Hawkins for Walsh; Lock Haven—Uumer for Ward, Bowman for Ulmer, Ulmer for Bowman.

Score by periods:
1st half 2nd half Total
B. S. N. S. 23 25 48
L. H. S. N. S. 10 0 10

Scorers: Field Goals: Jenkins 6, Garrity 9, Vonbuskirk 2, McGrath 2, Austin 2, Hauke 3, Hazen.

Referee—Puberhangh. Scorer—Coursen.

Y. W. C. A. HAS ITS DAY

On Wednesday of this week the Y. W. C. A. put on a program in the Senior Chapel period that was very good. The regular chapel exercises were led by Edith Morris. The two songs sung were led by Fannie Hilbert. She led well but without the support of the crowd. It is deplorable that we can not carry our books to chapel to add our bit to the singing. Ellen Whitehouse accompanied Fannie Hilbert on the piano.

The feature of the program was a short pantomimic sketch entitled "The Spanish Cavalier." This original performance was directed by Emily Davies. She is to be complimented on the result. The acting was marvelous, done without the aid of the female essentials—words.

The characters were as follows:
Reader Margaret Evans
Curtains Pauline Vastine and Berneda Valentine.

Manuel de Papello, a Spanish cavalier of many properties, some of which are: a match, a pitcher, a salt shaker, some papers, a piece of chalk, and gold stamps.

Helen Pursel
Zingerella, the maid. Arlene Sweet
Maggie, the cook. Charlotte Deible
Pat, Maggie's lover. Ruth Davies
The son Marjorie Davey

JUNIOR PLAY HUGE SUCCESS

Pleases Large Crowd

Friday night at a quarter after eight the curtain rose on the first scene of the annual production of the Junior Class of this school. Every one of the members of the audience were gripped by the action from start to finish. It was a large and enthusiastic crowd. Beside being a financial success it laid a reputation for the Junior Class as a whole and the members of the cast and committees in particular. The entire production is a great tribute to Miss Alice Johnston, the director.

The name of the play is "Come Out of the Kitchen", written by A. E. Thomas. The scene is laid in the state of Virginia, in the part of the country where colored servants are greatly preferred while the Northerners look to the white race for servants as well as companions. This fact was the basis for the plot of the story.

Four young people, who are hard up for the wherewithal to buy food, have leased the house of their father for a six weeks period to a prosperous Yankee who is willing to pay $5000 for the house if he can get it during hunting season. In answer to his stipulation that no negroes be on the premises, the four young people have engaged servants from Washington. The servants fail to arrive and their places are taken by our four heroes and heroines. Their escapades in the new field of endeavor form the rollicking, touching, and real incidents on the stage. The audience sympathized with them in their troubles and laughed with them in their fun.

The part of Olivia Dangerfield, the beautiful, witty, single belle of the country was taken exceptionally well by Kathleen Somers. Her acting was so real that many had concern for her in her many love affairs. Some have advanced the opinion that she married the wrong man in the end. The man she married, the rich Yankee, the fluent lover, the kind employer, was the well known Hugh Van Aernam. His love making was real and he made a good rich man. He took the part to perfection.

Elizabeth Dangerfield had a rather hard lot. She had to serve the old dragon and finally was fired. After all that she quit—can you blame her? Molly Brace put that part over to perfection. Such acting—it was great! The old dragon was Mildred Rehm. She was haughty, ill-tempered, unreasonable and offensive in every way. Let's hope she isn't really that way.

Blake Stokes made a fine butler. It didn't seem to take him long to learn how to buttle. It would have been an honor to have been served by such a gentleman. The comedy was ably furnished by Robert Sutliff, the other brother. He wasn't polite enough to serve—he must needs be talking. He made a big hit.

The old dragon had a lovely daughter, Hope Schalles, who loved a poet, Walter Rohlands. She pined for him and he pined for her until they were united by a kind providence in the end. These two did their stuff well and we wish there had been more of them.

Olivia's disappointed lover had everybody's sympathy as he stuck to (continued on Third Page)

EDITORIAL

This year the administration has made a definite step forward in regard to several things. One of the outstanding changes in our daily program is the revision of chapel exercises.

The exercises have been turned over to the students and it is seldom that a member of the faculty does other than make an occasional announcement. The programs have been a great success.

More significant than that, however, is the introduction of the honor system in the matter of attendance. Chapel is compulsory but there is no big stick back of us to whip us into chapel.

Let us look well into the matter and take great pains not to abuse the privilege or let slip the opportunity of making better citizens of ourselves. It has been put up to us to report our own absences—let us not be found wanting.

Honor is the greatest quality of a gentleman or gentlewoman.

UNITY IN DIVERSITY

Things are going more nearly as they should about the School. Each individual, whether teacher or student, is acting, working, and living in accordance with his own peculiar traits. He is developing self-direction, self-control, and initiative as his talents, aptitudes and ambition dictate or permit. This results in as many units as there are individuals. Such a condition is wholesome. Who would want it otherwise in a democracy life ours?

And yet in this diversity there is unity. We are all working toward the same goal. In accordance with our powers we all hope to be of service in the schools of the Commonwealth. Here is the place to develop our powers. The School acts as a unifying agency and holds before us an ideal. Though differing one from the other in aptitudes, abilities and desires, we are all working together and in harmony for the achievement of that goal. A wholesome unity of endeavor therefore, results in a diversity of individual talents and abilities.

LECTURER CONCLUDED

On Saturday, all Seniors, who desired to go, made a trip to the Danville State Hospital, where Dr. Pike held a clinic as the conclusion of the series of lectures which he has been giving here for the past six weeks. The trip was not compulsory but it was very instructive and those who went should have learned much.

Dr. Pike, in his lectures, told us the various causes of insanity and mental diseases. He explained how we, as teachers, can help to prevent their complete development by looking for the early symptoms in the pupils whom we teach in school. He says that if taken in time there may be help for such cases.

On Saturday, one of the doctors, who is assistant superintendent at the hospital, gave us a report of the hospital, telling us how much it costs to maintain the hospital, where the money comes from and how it is used.

At the conclusion of his speech, Elizabeth Thomas presented Dr. Pike with a bouquet of roses, in behalf of the Senior class, to show our appreciation of his lectures. Dr. Pike did not expect any such token and was very much surprised. He told us that he had been shown more attention by this, the class of 1926, than by any other class in recent years. We should feel very proud of this fact. Dr. Pike then brought in some of the cases which he had described to us in his lectures and some additional ones.

The most touching plea made by Dr. Pike was for the old fathers and mothers, those old people who cannot remember as well as they once could and who cannot help themselves yet do not belong in a state hospital. They should be cared for by some son or daughter somewhere, someone upon whom they lavished love and care in the years past. We saw some of these fine looking old people and it makes one wonder how anyone could treat them in such a manner.

After he had showed us many examples of the things he had told us about we were conducted through the buildings. Conditions seemed to be ideal. The patients were very comfortably situated. Those who are able make baskets, weave cloth, do shoe-making and many other useful things.

Most of the students walked to Danville about a mile from the hospital, and returned by trolley, while others waited for the afternoon train.

All those who went surely have some things to think about.

IS THIS TRUE?

A new League of Nations is being discussed in Berlin by officials in the event that Germany's entry into the present League is nullified by the admission of Poland. The slogan of the new League is "Away from the domination of war powers." Should Germany withdraw her application from Geneva, what would other nations like Norway, Sweden, Holland, Austria and Hungary do? Would they bolt the Geneva League and join the one led by Germany which would include Soviet Russia, also?

COMPLIMENTS FROM LOCK HAVEN NORMAL

This week Miss Conway received a letter from Miss Roberts, dean of women at Lock Haven Normal, part of which follows:

"Mr. Armstrong (principal) asked me to inquire about chapel attendance in your school. How is chapel conducted? Is attendance compulsory? If so, how do you enforce attendance? Do you give credit for attendance or detract credit for non-attendance? May I trouble you for this information?"

"Your basketball team played with our team on Saturday night. 'Played with' is the correct expression. We danced after the game but only two or three of the Bloomsburg boys danced. They were well behaved while in the gymnasium and behaved in a gentlemanly fashion."

We can feel proud of our basketball team and that they are building up such a reputation. Let us all follow in their footsteps.

Miss Conway asks that any student who wishes to do so, answer these questions concerning our chapel and hand the answers to her. She will be glad to include a few student opinions in her own answer. It seems that we have taken a step forward in school administration. Let us not slip back.

FRIDAY CHAPEL

Last Friday the Social Studies Department, under the direction of Mr. Reams, gave a Washington's Birthday program. George Matthews was chairman. Ann Lebow spoke well on "Washington, the Man". Margaret Rice talked about "Washington, the Statesman." Due to the illness of Helen Mulligan, Althea Farley read her paper on "Martha Washington." Minnie Wolf spoke on "Customs and Times of Washington." To illustrate her point, the following girls danced the minuet, the popular dance of that time:

Nora Tucker, Elizabeth Delaney, Dorothy Reel, Catherine Dean, Dorothy Davies, Irene Benowitz, Marie Corcoran and Martha Showers.

JUNIOR CHAPEL

On Thursday, chapel was led by William Rushin. A very interesting reading, entitled "Bloomsburg Through the Looking Glass" was given by Helen Bunclick. It was Bob Sutliff's dream of the return basketball game between Mansfield and Bloomsburg.

EMILY DAVIES SHOWS ABILITY

On Monday in chapel a good set of leaders was unearthed. Emily Davies lead the singing in royal fashion. She led it as if it was a daily task for her. The Senior Class can well be proud that it has such women in their groups.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Bernard Roan. He read well and held the attention of his auditors. He sure was good.

Dorothy Troy played the piano, as we learned, on a moment's notice. It seemed as though she had practiced with the leader for days. The response given to the student leaders is good and the willingness of students to take part is very much appreciated by the committee.

Arch Austin gave a short talk on Indiana and Lock Haven. It was interesting to note that he and his team mates like our own school best. He brought compliments to our library, campus, student body, etc. Such things are pleasing to the ear.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Word has just been received that Dr. F. D. Slutz is willing to speak to our graduating class in June. That is good news. Dr. Slutz is an excellent speaker. During the Christmas vacation he spoke to the teachers of Pennsylvania who were assembled in convention at Scranton. Later he addressed the School Directors of the State while holding their annual meeting at Harrisburg. Dr. Slutz always has a forceful message. He knows the needs of modern education and the aspirations of the young men and women of today. He is now the head of the Moraine School at Dayton, Ohio.

EXCHANGE NOTES

Muhlenberg Weekly—Prof. Allen of Muhlenberg College will conduct a radio class this semester at that place. They are thoroughly up to date in their curriculum.

Muhlenberg Glee Club are busy making tours, the last one to Reading and Pottstown.

Green Stone—The West Chester Normalians held their annual Senior "Prom" on Feb. 17th.

Mr. Harry N. Holmes, Field Secretary of "World Alliance for International Friendship" was at West Chester after prolonged efforts of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

Slippery Rocket—The Slippery Rock girls defeated the girls of Edinboro in basket ball recently by a good score.

Vesper services are held weekly at Slippery Rock. Some very interesting talks are given.

The Boys Glee Club gave a very successful concert recently at Slippery Rock. The sale of tickets amounted to about $100. Some of the numbers were: "Kentucky Babe," "Rolling Down to Rio," "All Alone," "All Kinds of Women."

May Peterson, American prima donna soprano, scored a most brilliant triumph at Allegheny College, Meadville.

The Charleston menace is now stalking the American colleges, according to news reports from all parts of the country. If these stories are reliable, the present rage will leave in its path a swath of ruined buildings unequalled in extent in this country since Sherman's memorable march. In fact, Georgia may, if she wishes, claim the honor of the first collegiate catastrophe.

FACULTY NOTES

There was a meeting of the Faculty on Tuesday. Miss Nelle Moore gave talk on the problem method of teaching as it applied to her department. On account of illness her talk had been postponed from a previous meeting.

Mr. Fisher is conducting a course in Extension at Wilkes-Barre this semester.

Mr. Sutliff was confined to his home on account of illness during all of last week.

Mr. Rhodes was confined to his bed during the latter half of last week. The preceding four days he had spent at the convention in Washington and had contracted a cold.

Miss Campbell was unable to meet her seniors on Friday and Saturday.

Last week Mr. Jackson was confined to his room with tonsillitis. This prevented him from going with the team.

Mr. Hausknecht has been put on a committee to revise the accounting systems of the normal schools.

During the past week some of our teachers were deeply interested in the activities of the local Masons.

Mr. Fisher could not meet his classes at the beginning of the week. The epidemic practiced an inhibition on him too.

TALK ACROSS ATLANTIC

Two way radio phone conversations across the Atlantic with England reached a high point of perfection on Sunday. The exchanges were made between the engineers of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and those of the British Post Office. The officials declined to say when facilities for commercial trans-Atlantic conversation would be made available.

the end. We are glad it wasn't real life as Joseph Bradshaw looked so sad. Good stuff, Brad! Every one loved Olivia. Even the old attorney. He loved her so much he kissed—the stove. That was William Rushin. We will see him on the professional stage yet.

Poor Mandy was chased out to satisfy the whim of a white man. But thank our stars she never forgot anything. Gertrude Baucher was at her best in this part and we have seen her in others.

The stage sets were things to marvel at. Real wallpaper, doors that slammed, tables and chairs and food. The committees designated to this did excellent work and were highly complimented by the director. Everything complete to the smallest shoe string or piece of a plate.

The cast in order of their appearance:

The assistant stage managers were Ocie Williams, Elizabeth Delaney, Irene Benowitz, Bessie Gielcing. The Business Manager was George Matthews. His assistants were: Robert Barton, Margaret Healey, Margaret Lewis, Eleanor Evans, Charlotte Mears. The chairmen of the committees were: Theodore Davies, stage sets; Jack Fortner, properties; Ver-na Medley, costumes.

EFFICIENCY OF LIBRARY

We may well be proud of our Library. It is well equipped. Only recently an additional stand for the periodicals was installed. This has added greatly to the looks of the room as well as to our convenience. The revolving dictionary holders are a joy. They have enhanced the beauty of the Library. Because of them the dictionaries can be used to better advantage. The wear and tear on these books is less marked. It is excellent to find what one wants. And not less efficient than the equipment are our Librarians. They are always on hand and ready to be of assistance to the students. They are untiring in their efforts to guide us in our work. Their patience seems inexhaustible. And the longer one uses books, the more one appreciates the value of their course in Library Methods. Without such a course the students would stand in the presence of assignments, references and shelf upon shelf of books. But now there is system and methods in what once looked like madness.

SALE OF ABANDONED FORTS

The House and Senate have passed a bill authorizing the sale of 42 abandoned forts and military reservations. The proceeds from the sale, estimated at $20,000,000, will be used to construct permanent buildings at military posts throughout the country.

PERSING RETURNS

General John J. Persing has arrived in Washington from Arica, Chile, where he has been presiding over the Tacna-Arica Plebiscitary Commission. Ill health forced his return. He is at the Walter Reed Hospital and is reported as resting comfortably.

JUNIORS PRESENT 'WILD NELL'

On Tuesday, at the Chapel exercises, a group of Juniors presented the well-known pantomime "Wild Nell the Pet of the Plains." The players were arrayed in most appropriate costumes. There never was a more handsome "Hansome Harry" a wilder "Wild Nell" nor a more dainty "Lady Vere de Vere." The Indians, ferocious and ugly, almost frightened even the spectators.

The actions of the group kept the audience in a continuous state of laughter. Even the pathetic fate of "Wild Nell" failed to lessen the outburst. The characters were as follows:

Wild Nell. Gertrude Baucher
Lady Vere de Vere. Dorothy Reel
Handsome Harry. Elsie Bossert
Medicine Woman. Mildred Benson
Sitting Bull. Norine Amesbury
Bull Durham. Dorothy Benetto

The reading was done by Elizabeth Delaney.

It is a pleasure to hear the Girls' Glee Clubs sing. There are evidently many excellent voices in the clubs, and the singing is being done with much enthusiasm and life. TRUSTEES MET TUESDAY

On Tuesday afternoon our Board of Trustees met in Dr. Riemer's office. They discussed the building or repair program, outlined some time ago by the architect, Mr. Maurice Kressly, of Harrisburg, and assigned the execution of a large part of it to the contractor, Mr. W. H. Cramer, of Emporium.

In accordance with these plans there will be big changes in the bathing and toilet facilities of the Girls' Dormitory. At least two fire towers will be installed, one in the annex to the Dining Hall and another in the corner where the athletic offices are located. All the buildings will be re-wired according to modern requirements. The storeroom, dining hall, and kitchen will be completely changed. This is a big program for the remaining fifteen months of this biennium.

JOIN Y. W. C. A.

Every Wednesday night the Y. W. C. A. holds a devotional meeting immediately after dinner. The meetings do not last long and are a source of entertainment, enjoyment, and lasting worth to those who attend regularly. Be one of those who belong to this society. Every girl here should have as much pleasure as possible out of her school career. This is one of the best ways of doing it. At the same time you need not feel that you are not doing anything worthwhile, for everything done at these meetings is done for a purpose.

Join the Y. W. C. A. now, if you have not done so before. Come to the meetings, enter into everything, and the time spent here will form some of your pleasantest moments.

FIRST ANNUAL CONVENTION

The program for the First Annual Convention of the Northeast Convention District of the Pennsylvania State Education Association has just appeared. Several of our teachers are on. Miss Nelle Moore is president of the Grade School Department; Dr. Riemer is scheduled for an address before the General Session; Mr. Rorem is to speak to the Department of Junior High Schools; Mr. Wilson will discuss methods of teaching English before the same department; Miss Hayden will lead the discussion on the lessons taught in the primary field; Mr. Sutliff will consider extension courses; Mr. Robbins will treat some phase of rural work; Mrs. Duncan, Miss Alexander, Miss Edmunds, Miss Campbell, and Miss Fletcher will teach demonstration lessons in silent reading.

Supt. W. W. Evans and Ray Cole of this County are also on the program.

The convention will be held in the Wilkes-Barre High School on March 12th and 13th.

PENNA. SCHOOL JOURNAL

Copies of the Pennsylvania School Journal have been distributed among the students this week to acquaint us more fully of the excellence of this publication. The Journal is the official organ of the Pennsylvania State Education Association. We shall all want to join this Association as soon as we are in the field. It now has a membership of $57,000 teachers. Its annual dues are only $1.00. This brings the Journal to the teacher's door.

ANDREWS AND MELLON CLASH

General Lincoln C. Andrews, in charge of Federal prohibition enforcement, recommended a sweeping inquiry into liquor conditions in the United States. Secretary Mellon under whose supervision General Andrews works, made it known that he believed it would accomplish nothing constructive or helpful to stricter enforcement of the laws.

ECHO FROM FRIDAY EXERCISE

The Father of our Country evidently liked to dance. The type of dance then in vogue was pretty. However, we doubt whether it afforded the participants more pleasure than is to be found in the modern dance. Styles change. Our hats are different. So are our coats, skirts and breeches. But the heart of man is still much the same. It responds to the beautiful, aesthetic and good.

Long After Price is Forgotten."

JUNIORS, COME!

Miss Harriet M. Moore is giving instruction in directing to all Juniors who wish to join the class, every Monday and Wednesday between 12:00 and 12:30 o'clock in Room 22. Show your class spirit Juniors and come to this class. This is something you will probably need when you leave school. There is no better time than the present to seize every opportunity offered. A large number have already come out but the size of the room is the only barrier to having the whole Junior class.

We've a letter from a friend advising us that he has in constant use a rug, woven from strips of Hemingway suits that he'd worn out after years of service. And the rug is giving as much wear as the suits did.

The temptation to say something jocular about our "rugged clothing" is almost too great to resist, but as a matter of fact, there's no joke about the long-wear qualities of our suits and topcoats.

There are no better fabrics than those we use; no higher standards of workmanship than ours.

And if you're finicky about good style, you'll find plenty of that in 'em, too!
