WHITING WILLIAMS CLOSES LECTURE COURSE

WHITING WILLIAMS

WHITING WILLIAMS is the man who left his job as vice-president of a big manufacturing concern in Cleveland, donned overalls and went out to try and find an answer to the question "What's on the Worker's Mind?" He will answer some of these questions from personal experience when he appears here in the near future.

It is true that he left an impression. The impression was favorable, deep, and lasting. His delightful sense of humor was appreciated by all those around. It is regrettable that more were not present to take advantage of his many years of study.

Leaving a high position in the realms of manufacturing and finance, Mr. Williams went among the laborers as a laborer. He gained his experience as a worker in America, France, Great Britain and Germany. His topic was "What is on the Worker's Mind."

He said: "The brain and brawn of the common laborer provide the foundations of our whole house of industry. In order to know whether the foundations of American and European industry and life are stable or unstable in these critical times we must know the mind and heart of the common laborer.

We live our way into our thinking infinitely more than we think our way into our living. But the conditions of our living are determined mainly by the conditions of our working. Therefore to know the foundations of modern industrial life we must know the laborer on the job."

Mr. Williams' opinions are a comfort to every right thinking citizen. He claims that prohibition is in the ascendancy and that it is only the very high class, moneyed man, and the extreme low-brow who indulge in the fiery liquid and that the former non-frequenters of saloons, have no right to judge prohibition by outward appearances. No one but a toper can know what a dangerous pal John Barleycorn can be in time of discouragement and slump.

During the course of the lecture Mr. Williams emphasized by means of a series of incidents drawn from his own experiences and from quotations from his fellows, that the workman wants more than financial satisfaction; he must have the feeling that he is important to the job. This feeling tends to give him that spiritual quality that goes for contentment.

"Irregularity of work causes more radicalism here and abroad than all other causes." Irregularity detracts from peace of mind and is an ally to the anti-prohibitionist. Regularity is being approached in all lines of work and will mean a greater nation of contented people.

Whiting Williams closed the lecture course as no other could have done. Having a few vital problems and their solutions in preparation he furnished some real food for thought. Such as he are always welcome.

JUNIOR HIGH DEPARTMENT

A very interesting program was offered by the members of the Junior High School Department and some Junior High School pupils. Mr. Rorem announced the topic for discussion in a few words and then introduced Frances Evans, a Junior High School pupil, as chairman. She then lead some of her classmates to the foreground and gave them an opportunity to speak for the Junior High School idea.

Mercedes Dean explained how to work seeds in basket making and Breda Edwards and Wm. Letterman explained the idea of creative art by example. They exhibited and talked about "imagination", painted pictures of the mind, which they had painted. The pictures were good and so were the talks. Isabel Riemer then gave an exhibition of speed addition. She added five rows of ten figures in the record time of thirty-eight seconds.

Members of the third year class of the Normal then gave a few short but interesting talks on different phases of Junior High School work. Margaret Emmitt has as a topic, "What is the Junior High School?" The title of Alice Yoder's talk has slipped my mind. Arthur Jenkins talked on "Citizenship in the Junior High School." Deborah Waters emphasized "Outside Activities" not of school life. Inez Wintersteen closed with "Why I Chose the Junior High School as a Teaching Field."

GETTYSBURG MALE QUARTET

The Gettysburg College Male Quartette, traveling with the Owl and Nightingale Club from the same school entertained our student body at various times on Tuesday with popular songs. They were very much enjoyed.

They sang in chapel, Tuesday at noon, to a large attendance and were well received. In speaking of them later it was opined that their voices were good.

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS SATURDAY

Newport Scholastics Play Here

It is expected by many and predicted by sport writers, country-wide that the Bloomsburg State Normal School student body will turn out "en masse" and cheer its boys to victory as they battle against heavy odds.

And heavy they seem today. The first team on the schedule is known far and wide as the Newport Scholastics and is largely made up of B. S. N. S. Alumni. They are fast and experienced players and here is where they learned their stuff.

But with the team and coach we have here we should knock the spots off of Newport even if they are leopards. Old Tiger Normal has chewed up many a cat.

Mr. A. K. Jackson, coach of athletics and physical director of the school on the hill, may be found any afternoon out there on Mt. Olympus showing the boys a few tricks in the trade. It would be a privilege to be under his tutelage for he certainly knows his groceries. When he says something the boys know it's good and try to carry out their instructions. It sure is an advantage to have such a coach.

Headed by Captain Kane the men are working their heads off to make this a winning season. Every baseball man is out on the field working for a varsity berth and Bloomsburg glory.

Each position on the team has several strong bidders. The veteran short-stop Kane, is rounding into his old form and is an inspiration to his men. Austin, on first base is already hooking some pretty tough ones. We are fortunate in him. His reach and ability make him a valuable player. He will be a great help to his father when he grows up. Yogowicz showed some ability last year and now is putting up a clever infield game. He looks mighty good on second base. The best man for third so far is a Freshman, Yarasefski. He hails from Newport and seems to have brought along some pretty good dope. Other bidders for infield positions are: Rowlands, Fortner, Coursen, Vitol and Biemer. All but Fortner played on the scrub team last season and are anxious to get a chance now. In the outfield we have several good men, chief among them we find Garrity, Rushin, Vanbuskirk and Keen. Johns and Towles are also pretty good at nabbing the high ones.

When the umpire calls out its batteries for the game, who will be announced as the hurler? There hasn't been much opportunity and no pitcher has as yet showed anything. The aspirants are Roan, Stoker, McGrath, Tydanowicz, Bradshaw, Swinehart, and Janell are trying for catcher. Bradshaw seems to have the upper hand.

It is a pretty good hitting club under Mr. Jackson's guidance and should bang a few around the field. That always looks good and promises a thrill for spectators. Everyone should be there to watch the nine open up.

QUARTETTES TO BROADCAST

The Bloomsburg State Normal School Double Mixed and Double Male Quartettes will broadcast a program from station WQAN, the Scranton Times Building, Scranton, this evening at eight o'clock. Last year the Double Mixed Quartette broadcasted from this station. This year both quartettes will be heard individually and in ensemble numbers.

The trip to Scranton will be made by automobile. The quartettes will be accompanied by Miss Antoinette Perner, Director; Miss Pearl Mason, Normal School Librarian and Dr. G. C. L. Riemer.

PROFESSOR STERNER IS RE-ELECTED

It was very gratifying news to hear of the re-election of Professor Sterner as superintendent of the schools of Bloomsburg. This re-election is an indication of the appreciation of the town of Bloomsburg of the service of Professor Sterner to the boys and girls of this district. It is well merited.

Observe!

In one of his classes, Mr. Rorem spoke of the relation a student in a teacher training school should have with a coach of athletics, dramatics, music, anything. We are here to learn how things are put across and to acquire the knack of putting them across. How then, shall we act?

In athletics the coach shows us how to do things. Let us observe and understand what he says but also find out the why of it all. That is a big thing and success of failure may depend on your knowing that why.

An observant man or woman is wise. Let us be wise, and, with an eye to the future, delve more earnestly into things with our eye and apply our valuable brain-power. Thinking further develops man's brain.

Work!

We are already well into the last lap of our school year. Many of us, I dare say, are lagging behind and will have some stepping to do to finish with any kind of a rating. Let's start stepping.

Compare the school year to a mile run. There are four quarters and you are running with your classmates and the teachers are coaching you from the sidelines. Those who secured grades are holding the watch.

There are those who cannot keep up with the leaders, who however, stay in the running. Consider yourself now, are you strong at the finish. If you are not, start filling up that gap now. In fact that is a good piece of advice for all to listen to—fast or slow. It is the exception who runs a hundred yards in ten flat and even then he is fresh as spring.

Let us go at our work now with a new vim and vigor born of a new reason and finish with flying colors ahead of everyone else.

ACTIVITIES OF NEW "Y" CABINET MEMBERS

The new Y. W. C. A. cabinet has already started to take over the duties and responsibilities of the old cabinet. The girls have made a good start, thanks to the help of the retiring members.

Kitty Gemmill, Eleanor Kresge, Ruth Davis and Hope Schalles have been chosen to go as delegates to the Annual Spring Conference. This conference is to be held at Shippensburg, Penna., the week-end of May 14, 15 and 16. Its purpose is to train the new cabinet members of the Normal Schools of Eastern Pennsylvania.

Lena Van Horn took charge of the meeting last Wednesday evening. It was a huge success. We all enjoyed the program.

Candy is now sold in the Library Magazine Room every evening from 9:30 to 10 by the new cabinet members.

PLANNING HIKES

The Athletic Leaders of our school are planning to elect a captain from their midst who will make out a schedule of hikes for the remaining Saturdays this year. Their plan is to have 35 or 50 girls go on these hikes and take as their guide someone who will tell them about the beauties of nature or the geography of our surrounding country. For instance, wouldn't you like to go on a hike some Saturday and have someone with you who will explain to you the "Stone Face" on the road to Catawissa?

BASEBALL FOR GIRLS

"Sports for Girls as well as Boys" is the motto of the Athletic Leaders who believe that the girls as well as the boys should put Bloomsburg on the map in athletics. So at a recent meeting plans were made for a baseball tournament. Our President, Miss Jessie Zimmerman, appointed ten captains for the teams and the tournament will begin next week. If you want to play, just hand your name to Misses McCammon and Miss Loose or any of the following captains: Misses Verna Medley, Lena Van-Horn, Marie Grier, Peg Healey, Edna Berkheiser, Stasia Zimolzack, Lucille Kaufman, Helen Kramer, Kathryn Phillips and Marion Shelbert.

ALUMNI AS SUPERINTENDENTS

So far reports have come in relative to the success of our graduates in the field of education. Mr. John E. Boyer was re-elected as assistant superintendent of the schools of Northumberland County. Mr. W. W. Evans was re-elected as superintendent of the schools of Columbia County. Mr. A. P. Cope was elected superintendent of the schools of Luzerne County. Mr. Thomas Francis was elected as superintendent of the Lackawanna County schools.

In city schools our alumni have fared very well too. Mr. H. H. Zeiser is superintendent of the schools of Wilkes-Barre. Mr. Herman Fritz is superintendent of the schools of Ashley. Mr. A. D. Thomas is superintendent of the schools of Hazleton, and Mr. M. E. Houck is superintendent of the schools of Berwick.

GETTYSBURG COLLEGE CLUB

The Dramatic Club of Gettysburg College, known as the Owl and Nightingale Club, appeared in Bloomsburg on Monday and Tuesday of this week under the auspices of the Bloomsburg Kiwanis Club. They presented to the people of Bloomsburg "Seven Keys to Baldpate" and delightfully entertained all those who came.

As the proceeds from this show are to be devoted to a playground and park for the children of Bloomsburg, the townpeople turned out in respectable numbers. The audience was almost as big as may be had for a movie show. But what can you expect when you charge a dollar.

There were parts in the play that would be considered unrepresentable by our director but on the whole the performance was all right.

This club won the intercollegiate prize in a dramatics contest at State College. The play presented was entitled "The Potboilers" and was put on very well. As we have a dramatic club of our own we all look with jealous eyes on any other shows. We presented "The Potboilers" ourselves here at one time.

ALPHA DELTA THETA BEFORE PUBLIC

After many days of earnest persuading and cajoling the above mentioned sorority, housed within the walls of the Girls' Dormitory, agreed to send some representatives onto the chapel platform. They were well represented.

Jessie Zimmerman read a selection from the Bible and Edith Morris lead the singing, and Arlene Sweet played the piano. It was an efficient trio and a good forerunner of what was to follow.

We were surprised to find another beautiful voice among us. But we were forced to admit that all its good singers were not in the double quartette when Marion Carpenter sang. She sang a beautiful song, beautifully. We would like to hear her again.

The next and closing number on the program was given by Helen Pursel, actress, elocutionist, reader. She read a scene from "Twelfth Night" and aroused so much interest in this one of Shakespeare's masterpieces that I'll wager every one who heard her reads "Twelfth Night" within a week. She did wonderfully well.

The Seniors then held a class meeting.

EUREKA!

Football men at Illinois will no longer be required to take courses in plowing, harrowing and swimming. The University authorities announce the purchase of a new $10,000 rainfall for the football gridiron at Memorial Field. This covering, said to be the first grid cover ever made, will be in four pieces.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Brief Mention Of People You Know

The hockey field has been raked and rolled. It is now ready for use.

Mr. Nelson and Mr. Hausknecht went to Williamsport on Friday last.

Superintendent L. P. Sterner, of the Bloomsburg School System, has been re-elected. He is an old town resident and well known.

At the Faculty Meeting on Tuesday, April 13 the list of graduates in June was discussed. This list is now quite complete.

Our musical organizations are to be broadcasted from Scranton tonight. They will leave this afternoon by automobile.

Mr. W. W. Evans has been re-elected Superintendent of the county schools of Columbia County. He has served competently for quite some time.

Dr. Riemer went to Worcester, Massachusetts, last Saturday to interview Mr. H. H. Russell, who is to take the place of Professor Albert in the field of Geography.

Miss Sturdevant, of Teachers College, Columbia University, spent Monday and Tuesday with Miss Conway. She is a Professor at Teachers College and her specialty is the office of Dean of Women.

The fire tower in the annex to the dining room is moving to the garret rapidly. Two rooms, one on third floor and the other on fourth floor, are being prepared for occupancy. They will be ready very soon.

Dr. and Mrs. Riemer took a flying trip to Norwood, Massachusetts and back. Combining business with pleasure they visited Dr. Riemer's relatives and he also had an interview with an applicant for a position here. They were away four days.

Senator Brookhart has been ousted from his seat in the U. S. Senate and Mr. Steck has been seated. They are from Iowa. Mr. Brookhart was an insurgent Republican and Mr. Steck is a Democrat. Mr. Brookhart plans to run against Senator Cummins at the next election.

There was some excitement and disturbance in town lately because of the language and behavior of the visiting players. We can well sympathize with Dr. Wolf. There is still language that is objectionable to sensitive ears. It is such language, if used at all, should be reserved for barnyards, coal mines and lumber yards. There is no place for it in the presence of a cultivated audience.

SUPERINTENDENT EVANS IS RE-ELECTED

We want to congratulate Superintendent W. W. Evans on his re-election as Superintendent of the Columbia County schools. There are very few superintendents in the state of Pennsylvania with such a long period of service as that of Superintendent Evans. It is a sign of efficient service during practically a quarter of a century to this county. We hope that Mr. Evans may continue to do what he has done and to carry to completion the plans that he has for Columbia County.

DISTINGUISHED NAMES ON LIST

William Archibald Austin, Lorenzo Augustus Coolbaugh, Reginald Victor Auskis, Philip Cyril Kiel, Gerald Chapman Fitzpatrick, Michael Joseph Bradshaw, Hugo Otto Riemer, Eleanor Lucretia Evans, Jessie Rosalind Zimmerman, Gertrude Sophia Bauder, Helen Letha Pursell, Lady Alicia Johnston.

It is not the roll call of the English house of Lords, nor are we reciting the Rogue's Gallery; rather do we here present to you a body of talented actors and actresses who have not yet been persuaded to go to Hollywood. In fact it is the cast of the latest production of "The Bloomsburg Players" which is to be given on April thirtieth.

Yes you must wait till then, even though the stage sets are all finished.

EXCHANGE NOTES

Miss Beatrice Kitchen, National Y. W. C. A. Student Secretary, visited West Chester recently.

Slippery Rocket—A clever Minstrel Show was given by the Varsity Club of Slippery Normal recently.

The Snapper—The girl's basketball team of the Millersville State Normal has played nine games and remains undefeated.

The Green Stone—A group of four boys, two banjo players and two soloists, broadcasted from WLIT, Philadelphia on March 12. West Chester is proud of their quartette.

In a recent issue of the "Maroon and Gold" attention was drawn to an article on "Would you marry a school teacher?" The answer to that question is given in The Green Stone issued March 10. Read it and see if you agree with it.

The Muhlenberg Weekly—Defending the affirmative side of the question that, "The United States government should control and operate the coal mines" Muhlenberg debating team defeated that of the University of Pittsburgh.

The Normal Times—Johnny Jones the world famous explorer, gave a stirring talk to the students and friends of Central State Normal at their Vesper Service. If you would like to know more about this man read the Normal Times for April 1.

The Keystone News—The Y. M. C. A. at Keystone Academy has been very active this year. Twelve delegates were sent to the Y. M. C. A. Conference held at Princeton University. Interesting weekly programs are given. Rev. Tilton, the Kentucky evangelist, and Rev. A. D. Rives, soloist, gave a message recently in the chapel exercises.

JOE KANE GOOD MAN FOR BASEBALL CAPTAINCY

The 1925 baseball lettermen made a wise choice when they chose Joe Kane, short-stop, as captain. He is one of the few men on the team who think in terms of baseball while they are on the diamond and he is always ready to help his team-mate.

This is Kane's second year on the Bloomsburg Normal Varsity and he has also played on several of our summer teams. He is in great demand in his home town region. For one more season, Kane will be a big factor in Bloomsburg's victories and a big factor in keeping defeat down.

We are fortunate in our captain and in our team. Let's get in back of them.

GOOD NEWS FOR B. S. N. S.

From letters received from Superintendents clippings like the following are very enjoyable reading:

"I have on my staff this year a teacher who has received much of her training under you, and who is one of the best that has ever come to us. She is the type of teacher that I like and will go a long way to get. I feel sure you will be pleased that she is such a success here.

"She has handled our situation in a very satisfactory manner and has been largely responsible for the splendid school spirit that exists here this year."

From another Superintendent the following was received:

"Last year I called at the Normal School and you recommended a certain teacher. She has done very well with us, indeed. The Board recently re-elected her and raised her salary. We shall be very glad if you send us a candidate for our first grade for next year who has had some experience or who shows unusual ability in this work."

JUNIOR CHAPEL

On Tuesday everyone was invited to attend Junior Chapel. Miss Sturdevant, a professor of education at Columbia University, gave a very interesting talk. The Male Quartette from Gettysburg College sang and the individual members gave amusing selections.

WHAT OTHERS THINK OF US

The Comet—West Pittston High School—Paper is well planned and "Local Happenings" is a very clever column.

WHEN DO YOU STUDY?

A new rule is now in vogue at the University of California. Instead of midnight study, the present system prescribes that the period of preparation shall be from 4 A. M. to 7 A. M.

LITTLE EXCURSIONS

Mr. Nelson's class in the Teaching of Health went down to Snyder's Dairy last Monday to give the place the once over and study the workings of a sanitary milk pasteurizing plant.

It was found that many of the machines are very clever and do honor to their inventor. The whole plant is an example of labor saving methods of the twentieth century. We can do much in little time today.

The class enjoyed itself altho no refreshments were served. They skipped over to the jail and looked thru the bars at the poor boys that are kept locked up all day long. One of them inquired how the weather was. It was dismaying to see how many young men are held.

ON THEIR OWN

Honor students, men who show leadership, good management, reliability and integrity are allowed to teach themselves at Swarthmore. At the end of the sophomore years those who wish to go it alone, who wish to submit to a minimum of class room limitation and supervision are allowed to do so. They pick their courses and meet once a week for discussion. After two years of experimental and research work they take the first and only test for the time, by writing short papers on the subjects which they have studied.

SPRING SCHEDULES

Both the baseball and track squad are working out in the gym, waiting for the ground to harden or dry out. As soon as conditions are favorable practice will begin on the outside and the teams will prepare to go thru the schedule with a bang. Fans are looking for the best season yet.

Coach Jackson is looking to the training of both squads and has already given them some good dope. The men themselves are feeling fit and are anxious for the outside air and real workouts.

There are nine men who have signed up for relay team tryouts. Among them we find last year men: Walsh and Kanyuck still running like blue streaks. With these two as a beginning the team should quickly develop.

Captain Kane of the baseball squad is going around smiling—seems to feel good about prospects. With such a captain we should enter the big league.

Following is the schedule:

Baseball

April 17--Newport High School. Here
April 24, Wyoming Seminary—Here
May 1—Shippensburg Normay—Away
May 8—Susquehanna University—Here.
May 12—Dickinson Seminary—Away
May 22—Wyoming Seminary—Away
May 26—Open—Here.

Track

April 24—Penn Relay Carnival.
May 5—Columbia County Track Meet for High Schools.
May 15—Wyoming Dickinson and Bloomsburg Meet at Bloomsburg.
May 22—Dual Meet.
May 29—Invitation Inter-scholastic Track Meet.

"BLOOMSBURG PLAYERS" PRESENT COMEDY

"The Bloomsburg Players" are pleased to announce that they will present the famous classic comedy, "The Rivals" to the eagerly awaiting public on April 30th. This play was written by and brought fame to Richard Brinsley Sheridan.

This play was written in 1775 as a protest against the current type of play. The then popular play was exceedingly sentimental and light. The allusions in "The Rivals" to honor and gentility are profoundly satirical to say the least, and did much to change the likes of the time.

Along with the best comedy yet produced, "The Rivals" presents to the audience a faithful picture of the social customs of that day and age, set in a perfect atmosphere. It is a delight to all audiences.

We regret to say that the first time "The Rivals" was presented it was quite a failure on account of the miserable acting of one man. This disaster occurred in Covent Garden, London, but did not cast down the author. When it was next taken to the town of which it tells, London, it was pronounced incomparable by those who saw it and many who didn't.

Thus its fame has spread and it is being produced very frequently now by both English and American schools and colleges, each time with greater zest and more successfully.

"The Bloomsburg Players" are planning a treat for the dramatic appetites of its patrons. Such a combination of literary perfection, irresistible comedy and superb presentation is seldom seen even among the best of families.

THE IDEAL ROOM MATE

She is quiet when you want to study;
She talks when you are loquacious.
She uses your favorite cosmetics
And keeps her candy box filled with choicest chocolates.
She is just your size;
She lends her best dresses for your dates.
She keeps the room in perfect order.
Her notes are your notes, and her books at your command.
Her fountain pen never leaks
Her stationery is smooth and white;
Her stamps unlimited.
She writes your themes and sings your praises.
She shares her love letters.
Her talents are varied.
She entertains your guests or launders your middies.
Your interests are hers and
The sleeper turned, yawning and sighed deeply. Only a snore broke the stillness of the early winter morning.

BLOOMSBURG NORMAL DRAWS ADVANTAGE

In the drawings for the Normal School Relay at the annual University of Pennsylvania Relay Carnival, the Bloomsburg Normal representatives drew third place. This is considered good position as the strongest contenders are all beyond—Indiana, fourth, Westchester, seventh; Stroudsburg last.

By those who are interested, track work is being eagerly watched up. The 1925 team made a creditable showing, but the 1926 team should be an improvement.

The last years team consisted of: G. Riemer, Walsh and Kanjuck with Jones substitute. Three of these men are left and in good condition. They are: Walsh, Kanyuck, and Jones. Davies and Sorber, freshmen, are showing some good speed and making strong bids for chances to win.

There are quite a few track enthusiasts in this school and this means a good number trying out for other events. We should put a good all around team in the field against Wyoming and Dickinson. We meet them on May 15. On May 8th, the Bucknell Freshmen are coming over bent on destruction. We should stop them.

LET'S START OVER AGAIN

A five year program on uniform standard tests for the members of the Junior class was adopted at the January meeting of the board of Normal school principals. The Thorndike Examination test will be used for this purpose. The test will be given on the second Friday of October in each year.

We've a letter from a friend advising us that he has in constant use a rug, woven from strips of Hemingway suits that he'd worn out after years of service. And the rug is giving as much wear as the suits did.

The temptation to say something jocular about our "rugged clothing" is almost too great to resist, but as a matter of fact, there's no joke about the long-wear qualities of our suits and topcoats.

There are no better fabrics than those we use; no higher standards of workmanship than ours.

And if you're finicky about good style, you'll find plenty of that in 'em, too!
