WYOMING EASILY WINS LOOSE GAME

Austin and Garrity Only Redeeming Features Of Game.

Saturday afternoon, our old time rivals, Wyoming Seminary came down here and beat the Bloomsburg Normal School to the tune of 17-4. We beat the team that beat them before but that didn't seem to mean a thing.

Look! The first ball Roan pitched, Palermo, the little third sacker for Wyoming, hit for two bases. That was all right but Roan lost courage and allowed five runs in the first inning.

But very little of the sad tale was the fault of the pitchers. Altho neither of the three pitchers who tried the job made a success of it, the support was rotten.

Yarshefski piled up errors, Yosviak got many. Kane got two, Keen missed grounders. One spectator said that one more would make a hundred. No doubt.

Austin and Garrity alone showed strong spots on the team. They alone showed what Bloomsburg could do when they were going good.

The weakest spots in the team were Yosviak and Yarshefski. They together made the most errors. They should improve with experience however.

The hitting wasn't bad; our men compiling a total of ten hits and four runs.

DOUBLE QUARTETTES

On Wednesday night the double quartettes sang in the Mount Zion church back of Catawissa. According to all reports this was one of the best performances given so far.

The most beautiful singer, Mary Bomboy, sang a beautiful solo. Herbert Ralston and Armand Keller made their debuts in solo land.

FACULTY NINE DEFEATS COCKY TEAM

Professor Keller Pitches Stellar Game

It came as a revelation to the sporting world. The Faculty grew eager for sport, they drew up a team; they challenged any team the Men's Dormitory could put on the field. A team, managed by Lanshe, accepted the challenge and the date was set for last Monday.

The game was well advertised and the whole school and part of the town turned out to see it. The bleachers were filled to capacity at four o'clock and lo and behold, the game didn't start till four-thirty. But everybody loosened up their cheering apparatus and got ready for the big moment.

Who could tell where the sentiments of the crowd lay. Each man, teacher or student was cheered to the very echo. Such enthusiasm would fit in well at a big school game but alas not even Wyoming pulled a crowd last week. No wonder we lose.

But, to continue, three men went to bat in the first inning against the redoubtable Prof. Keller. He used his support to the utmost and cleverly, thus showing some excellent thinking. But then the faculty batted. Mr. Hall was first. Hawkins, in the box for his team, had nothing with which to fan his opponents. They hit and ran, scoring in five innings five to their opponents three runs.

It is all a matter of opinion, but not everybody was satisfied with the faculty line-up. Altho Mr. Shortess was decked out in a suit we would have preferred to have seen Mr. Hartline hold down the hot curves. The way he scooped up the grounders and pegged them over to first during fielding practice was a wonder to behold. But we must remember that Mr. Shortess did not receive the benefit of that practice and was, therefore, a little deficient.

It was generally felt that the substitution, Hausknecht for Rorem, was well justified as Mr. Rorem used his feet rather than his head. Dr. Riemer looked good in right field as long as nothing was hit his way. But of course, he had his position on his ability as a hitter. Mr. Englehart watched for a fly to come his way but none came. Therefore he is an unknown quantity.

The infield was quite competent. The outfield was quite competent. It was a creation of another world. The art department is to be congratulated on the beauty of the gym. It was a creation of another world.

The art department is to be congratulated on the beauty of the gym. It was a creation of another world. The art department is to be congratulated on the beauty of the gym. It was a creation of another world.

The batteries for the day were: Keller and Nelson, Hawkins and Miller. The first named had it all over the others like a tent; Keller with his drop, Nelson, the incomparable backstop.

One who saw the game would wonder why a few of those who played against the faculty have not announced themselves as candidates for the school team. They showed some good stuff. They could do everything but hit Keller's drop.

As for the faculty—they all hit.

Another such game is forthcoming. Next time a crowd is expected. Next time a collection should be taken.

The line up follows:

Faculty	B. D. C.
Hall, ss	Miller c.
Englehart, l. f.	Lanshe, 2b.
Nelson, c.	Burnozzi, ss.
Jackson, 1b.	Thomas, 1b.
Reams, 2b.	Davis, l. f.
Rorem, c. f.	Dugan 3b.
Riemer, rf.	Shortess, 3b.
Keller, p.	Hawkins, p.

Substitution: Hausknecht for Rorem.

BEST DANCE OF THE YEAR

Art Department Decorations Were Beautiful.

There was quite a crowd at the dance the other night. All dressed up in filmy dresses and bright and beautiful colors, the girls looked pretty. The men fitted into the scene as they should and as they always will. Men are inevitable, indispensable.

Decked out in beautiful spring colors, the gym was changed from drab reality to gorgeous, resplendent fairy land. As the soft strains of the waltzes floated in and out among the rafters an irresistible atmosphere was created.

No matter what was going on, no matter if one danced or not, everyone was happy. How could it be helped? The stage was set. Step out!

The art department is to be congratulated on the beauty of the gym. It was a creation of another world.

JAMES COURSEN—ORATOR
The ability of James Coursen as an orator was readily recognized by the Ivy Day Committee which has conferred the honor of giving the Ivy Day Oration on him. His accomplished work during his Senior year has made him eligible for such honors. His ability as an orator was first recognized when he delivered a speech in Senior Chapel on "School Spirit at B. S. N. S.". It brought home many facts to the Senior Class which previously were never considered by them. The committee has made a wise selection in "Jimmie" as he is better known.

BLOOMSBURG PLAYERS PRESENT PLAY TONIGHT

The Greatest Dramatic Effort Of The Year Promised.

At last the day has come. The scenery is up and all the costumes have been pressed, in preparation for the big event. The cast is ready and not a bit nervous. "The Rivals" as it is here acted, is incomparable. To miss this tonight would be to miss half your life.

Something that has been held in secret for a long time is this: Mutt Auskis is one of the chief actors. He is the latest discovery in the line of comedy and sure is a headliner. To see him in his costume is to see George Washington just out of a history book.

Every time this play is given at different places certain characters stand out. Among them is a very difficult part, Mrs. Malaprop. She is a sophisticated "old weather beaten she-dragon" whose words "most ingeniously misapplied but never mispronounced" have amused audiences from pole to pole. In this role Gertrude Baucher is peerless. To hear her and see her is enough to change a funeral to a Charleston exhibition.

Besides these two the play has several more comedy parts that keep things in a constant uproar. There is a hick of the sticks; his servant appears both calm and in hysterics; the man and another servant also add. The comedy is real and most satiric. You had better come to find out what that word means.

Thru all this comedy and buffonery shines a beautiful light. A most beautiful love story that appeals both to the mind and heart makes the theme of the play. A beautiful story, a beautiful girl, a tempestuous lover, a near elopement! What romance, who can resist it!

"The Rivals" written by Richard Brinsley Sheridan, is a classic comedy, written in 1774 and first produced in 1775. Ever since its first success it has gone through performance after performance, given by amateurs and professionals, colleges and clubs like a comet, always beautiful, always bright, always cheered to the skys. Such another success as it had in London and New York is looked for here.

It is a true picture of the life and customs of the day and well sets off some of the sentimental swagger of the age. The satire is most profound. The allusions to honor and valour, the beginnings of duels, the peculiar attitude of the older people toward marriage are all attempts to strike at some wishy-washy ideas of the times.

At 8:15 in the Normal Auditorium the curtain will be rung up. Can you afford to be among the missing?

The cast includes: Arch Austin, Larry Coolbaugh, Eleanor Evans, Helen Pursel, Gertrude Baucher, Victor Auskis, Jack Rowlands, Jessie Zimmerman, Jack Fortner, Phil Keil, Hugo Riemer. The director is Miss Johnston.

REACTIONS ON OBITER

There are many attractive features about the new Obiter. Its dedication to Miss Mason is worthy of note. It is gratifying to note that the Librarians of the School play the role in student life that is being played by Miss Mason. The contribution to Professor Brill by Arthur Jenkins is well worded. It forms an excellent tribute to our late teacher and guide. The cuts and views of the buildings and grounds are very attractive. It is a clever idea to have them in the beginning of the book. The photographs of groups and individuals are clear and life like. The verses of Edgar Guest form an excellent tribute to Mr. Wilson, the class advisor. Throughout the writeups there runs a friendly spirit. They are an indication of the friendship of the members of the class one for the other. The snapshots are also worthy of note. Someone had an eye for scenes worthy of record. The views from Cinderella, the Junior High School production are a great credit to the Art Club of the Junior High School. The "Jokes" are well selected and really contain a point. Among them stand out "A Myth" and "For the Good of E. S. N. S."

DEBATERS OF JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL AT LIME RIDGE INN

The two debating teams of the Junior High School had a chicken and waffle dinner at Lime Ridge Inn on Wednesday evening. There were nine persons present at the stroke of six. Mr. Keller had invited Martha Gross, Frances Evans, Isabel Riemer and Francis Ickes. The three girls in his party formed the winning team. Francis Ickes was the alternate. Dr. Riemer had invited the losers if they would lose like good sports. They had done so. In his party were Jack Eble, Hans Riemer, and Preston Weiss. They made the trip by automobile, returning to Bloomsburg about 7:30.

OBITERS! OBITERS! OBITERS!

Wherever a group congregate thru out the halls you hear them discussing the Obiter of '26. Enter the Library and see the books flow freely about for autographs. The staff of the Obiter for this year consists of: J. Coursen—Editor; Dud Keen—Assistant Editor; Margaret Evans—Assistant Editor; J. Timko—Adv. Mgr.; Elgie Prutzman, Kay Munroe, Agnes Myler—Finance Committee; Kitty McHugh—Secretary; Gilbert Cooper—Artist; Art Jenkin—Athletics; John Kanyuck and George Sack—Humor. We congratulate the staff on their work in publishing the best Year Book ever sent out of this institution.

COUNTY TRACK MEET HERE

On next Wednesday over two hundred school children of Columbia County will take part in the Fourth Annual Track and Field Meet of the Columbia County Athletic Association. The meet will be held on Mt. Olympus. It will start at ten o'clock in the morning and will last through the afternoon. Superintendent Evans and Ray Cole, the Vocational Supervisor of the county, are sponsoring the affair. Members of our faculty and student body will officiate.

Carl Davis of Espy former Scott Township High School star, and now a member of the track team at State College, will run an exhibition quarter mile. It is reported that Romig, the long distance runner, will also be here. The plan is for him to be the starter of the races and to run an exhibition mile. Evidently this meet will be the leading event of the season.

END IN SIGHT FOR SENIORS

The work of the seniors will come to an end on Saturday noon, May 29. Action to this effect was taken by the faculty at its last meeting on Tuesday. On Sunday, May 30, will come the graduating sermon, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday will be free for the seniors to do as they wish. On Friday at ten o'clock will be the graduating exercises.

The courses of the juniors and middlers will close on Thursday, June 3 at 4:20 P. M.

The training school classes will also continue until Thursday afternoon at 4:20.

QUARTETTES IN CHAPEL

Last Wednesday the Seniors were entertained by the Male Octette and the mixed double quartette in chapel. The organization took charge of the entire exercises. Miss Evelyn Bomboy led the devotions and Mary Bomboy, the queen of song birds, led the singing.

The program was delightful. First the combined groups sang "Blue Danube"; next the Mixed quartette sang "My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose." The biggest hit of the program was the Male Octette when they sang "Little Annie Rooney."

We hope to have more programs like that one. Monday we have a different one. Sack and Auskis accompanied by the "Mysterious Quartette" will perform. Don't miss it.

THURSDAY CHAPEL

Junior Chapel was well attended on Thursday, there being both seniors and juniors present. Mr. J. M. Fitzgerald former president of the Western Maryland Railway Co., now a special agent of the Committee on Public Relations of Eastern Railways, spoke on the subject of "Railroads."

George Janell, accompanied by Miss Perner, delighted the students with his singing of "The Highwayman" by Woodman. An encore was called for but to the disappointment of the students, the soloist was not prepared for another selection.

LIBRARY NEWS

Through the courtesy of Mr. Ferdinand Seiler, of the Dodge Brothers Sales Company, the Normal School Library has just received a very valuable display of pictures representing the evolution of industry. This gift is greatly appreciated by the school and by the librarians.

The School Library has recently received an autographed copy of John Bakeless' new book "The Origin of the Next War" through the kindness of the author. Mr. Bakeless is a graduate of the Bloomsburg Normal School and is a son of Prof. Bakeless of our school. He has spoken to the student body on several occasions.

His present book describes the factors that are likely to result in an international conflict: the specific problems of dissatisfied races, of over-population of commercial expansion and of military strategy. The World says about this book: "You will be thrilled by Bakeless's information, charmed by his wit, fascinated by the clear and vigorous way he has presented the facts. When you have finished this book you will read your newspaper day by day with more interest and enjoyment, for there is no game as exciting or momentous as that of international politics."

MR. MCHENRY CELEBRATES

Yesterday, April 29, Mr. McHenry celebrated his 87th birthday. He reported for work at seven o'clock and was greeted by an absolutely new lawn mower. This present to him was a source of great joy. We want to congratulate Mr. McHenry on his birthday and assure him that he is a living example to all of us of diligence, promptness, perseverance and uprightness. We wish him many more birthdays.

CONCERT OF DANVILLE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The Danville Symphony Orchestra gave an excellent recital in the Victoria Theatre of Danville, on April 26. There were six different numbers on the program. Among the composers appeared the names of Rossini, Haydn, Bizet, Tschaiakowsky, Wagner, etc. The selections were all well rendered. Especially beautiful was the Lorely Paraphrase by Nesvada.

There was in addition a vocal soloist. Suzanne Keener, a coloratura soprano, sang very beautifully four selections. In addition she gave several encores, for she was very enthusiastically applauded. Her voice was sweet and charming.

The town of Danville is to be congratulated on its orchestra. There are few towns in this section of the State of the size of Danville capable and willing to support an organization of as high a type as the Symphony Orchestra of Danville. Its organization is businesslike and efficient. Much credit is due to Mr. E. Hart Bugbee, its conductor. Mr. George G. Keifer is the president of the association, Dr. H. L. Foss, of the Geisinger Hospital, is its treasurer. In addition to the executive committee there is a Board of Governors on which appear the names of the leading citizens of the town, such as Dr. Gearhart, Mrs. Foss, Superintendent Diehl, Mr. Hug, Mrs. Price, Mr. Applebaugh etc.

In the past this Orchestra gave recitals in our auditorium. Our students and local patrons always enjoyed them.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Brief Mention Of People You Know

Mr. Cramer the contractor, and Mr. Paul, the supervising architect, were here for inspection of repairs on Wednesday a week ago.

Mr. Hausknecht drove to Williamsport on Friday to interview Mr. Kiesling of the Grit Publishing Company concerning the new catalog.

Dr. West spoke before the Kiwanis Club on Thursday at noon of last week.

The Latin class is about to complete Cicero's De Senectute. They will then begin Pliny's Letters. They are taking a Latin test each week. This test is prepared by Professor Ballentine of Bucknell University.

There was a faculty meeting last Tuesday afternoon. The new curricula were discussed.

Mr. J. M. Fitzgerald, former President of the Western Maryland Railway Company, and now a special representative of the Committee on Public Relations of the Eastern Railroads, spoke in chapel on Thursday a week ago. In the evening he spoke before the local Rotary Club.

The repairs to the kitchen are well under way. The new door has been broken through the brick wall. The new stack is already above the roof. The fire tower is complete and the rooms along the inner wall are being prepared for occupancy. It will be only a few days when these will be ready. Then the second fire tower will be begun. This is to be located in the corner of the building where the athletic offices are.

The house on the corner of Third and Wood streets is being made ready to be occupied by the help. This will make excellent quarters for them. There will be a living room in each side of the double house.

The conference of high school principals will likely be made an annual affair.

We were sorry to hear that Mr. Keller, faculty pitcher, tore a ligament in his ankle in the game last Monday. May his ankle speedily recover.

In his costume for the play Jack Rowlands looks like Daniel Boone. Of such stuff was our country made.

Miss Ohl has been working on the report which Dr. Riemer will make to the Board of Trustees in the near future.

The conference for the high school principals of this area was a new departure. Professor Johnson made some real contributions for the betterment of high school administration.

Professor Hartline gave an excellent two minute speech on Arbor Day last Friday.

For two or three days Mr. Baldwin had a book display in the hall near the Gymnasium.

Dan Creveling is preparing the garden patches. In fact, onions have already been set out.

We are sorry that Professor Black is compelled to use crutches. We wish him speedy recovery.

Jack Rowlands is engineering the purchase of the caps and gowns. It is interesting to hear him announce the necessity of collars.

Yesterday a week ago Miss Conway drove her new car to Nanticoke.

Mr. John Davis Principal of the Nanticoke High School, attended the conference on Saturday. He is one of the most successful principals in the State.

On Saturday morning Dr. Riemer drove to Harrisburg to fetch Professor Johnson to the conference.

Dr. Miller and Mr. Townsend visited the School last week and examined the repair work. They are members of the Board of Trustees.

NORMAL PLACES THIRD IN NORMAL SCHOOL RACE

Indiana Again Takes The First Place.

What is generally considered one of the biggest spectacles of the year is the Penn Relay Carnival. Almost every school in the east and many in the west send teams to compete in the events. Teams are entered everywhere from Junior High School up.

This year the attending crowd was immense. There were over 3,000 entrants and more than 30 000 spectators. Many of the carnival records were lowered and a few world's seconds dropped.

One of the most closely contested races of the whole Carnival was the Normal school Relay Race for the championship of America. There were fifteen teams entered, about five of which were from Pennsylvania.

Bloomsburg Normal had a team entered of which they can justly be proud. Led by Kanyuck they went down there to give an exhibition of running. And they did. The team consisted of Kanyuck, Robinson, Davies and Walsh.

The first runner was Kanyuck. He jumped the gun and was penalized two yards. As a result he ran close to last all around except at the finish when he came home like a flash, passing the majority of his competitors and finishing sixth. Robinson had a little trouble getting the touch but when he did he tore past and finished fifth. Davies held on to that place like a bull dog and when Walsh started—man, what speed. If the 440 were a 450 Bloomsburg would have won but we made a good third.

So you see Bloomsburg is always in the running no matter what is to be done.

MISS CONWAY ENTERTAINS

Miss Conway had a dinner at Hotel Magee last Friday. About the beautifully decorated table sat besides Miss Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Sutliff, Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes, Miss Nelle Moore, Miss Hayden and Dr. and Mrs. Riemer.

pal of the West Pittston Schools, attended the conference on Saturday.

These are wonderful days for hiking and many students take advantage of them.

Progress is being made on the local high school building. It will be ready for occupancy in September.

Mr. Kanyuck Principal of Newport Township High School, attended the conference.

The decorations at the school party were the best ever. Thanks and congratulations to the Art Department.

Mr. Hausknecht, Mr. Rhodes Mr. Sutliff, Mr. Rorem, Mr. Shortess, Mr. Robbins, Miss Nelle Moore and Miss Maupin took in the conference.

The rain last Saturday added much to the beauty of the grounds and grove.

Mr. Noetling Supervising Principal of Watsontown, attended the conference.

Mr. Keller drove to Lewisburg on Saturday.

Mr. Harman, Principal of the Berwick High School, was seen at the conference.

Harold Baum is back. We are glad to see him again. He is rooming with Mr. Stoker.

Mr. W. W. Raker, Principal of the Bloomsburg High School, attended the conference.

OBITERS HERE

The eleventh volume of the Obitier was published on Wednesday of this week. The book arrived at 1:30 P. M. and by 4:30 P. M. over half of them were in the hands of the students. Students rushed into the book room all afternoon with big smiles on their faces in order to see the "pride of the Senior Class."

There were many changes made in publishing the book this year, all of which have made it the best book ever sent out of this school. The staff has allowed three pages in the back of the Obitier for autographs. This aids greatly in having our Junior friends write what they think about us. Another great change was made in the border. This is a practically new idea devised by Gilbert Cooper, the Artist of the Obitier. Each picture of the individuals are framed in a neat and attractive border. The idea carried out in the book is simplicity. It originates on the cover where a plain but very attractive border is used. This same border idea is carried out thru the whole book.

The book was dedicated to Miss Pearl Mason the Librarian, who has been a close friend, loved by every member of the Senior Class and in fact, every member of this institution.

The Obitier staff has been greeted on all sides with hearty congratulations for the good work which they have done in publishing such an Annual. Each Obitier for successive years has been a better one than the year before but since the 1926 publication it means plenty of work for any class that puts out a book which will excel this year's Obitier.

"Y. W." MEETING

Wednesday evening the "Y." had their regular devotional meeting in the auditorium. The meeting was in charge of Miss Kresge, who had an interesting program. Miss Pickett entertained at the piano; it was apparent that all enjoyed her selection.

RE-AWAKENED NINE TO SHIPPENSBURG TOMORROW

Coach Jackson Looks For Better Results.

Since the game last Saturday everyone on the baseball squad has been working hard to improve what seemed to be a team in a slump. Altho the team slipped, fans will excuse them if they do better this week.

Nothing is known of the Shhipensburg team or who is on it but the fact remains that we beat them twice last year and they are by no means beyond a same experience this year.

Several experiments have been tried in the infield. Red Garrity has had a tryout at second base and looks pretty good. Joe Kane is just rounding into form and he looks good.

Arch Austin is playing his old steady game at first. He scoops up low ones and has an awful reach when it comes to the high ones. He can hit too.

Bradshaw is working fine and we hope the pitchers are getting back where they were once. The team should go big this week.

About twelve men will leave tomorrow morning with the coach and manager. The men are ready to give a good account of themselves.

The probable line-up: Kase, ss. Bradshaw, c.; Austin, 1b; Yarshefski, 3b.; Garrity, 1f; Rushin, rf; Keen cf; Yozviak 2b; Roan, p.

DANCING IN CHAPEL

A great variety of dances were shown in Chapel last Friday by kids from the second grade to the ninth. It was really fine to see what the children can do to music. Miss McCammon has worked wonders with them.

Some of the dances were new to the audience and created a great interest. Dr. Riemer was right when he said "Dancing is the poetry of motion."

Miss Mary Kelley gave an interesting talk on the play spirit.

SPRING SCHEDULES

Both the baseball and track squad are working out in the gym, waiting for the ground to harden or dry out. As soon as conditions are favorable practice will begin on the outside and the teams will prepare to go thru the schedule with a bang. Fans are looking for the best season yet.

Coach Jackson is looking to the training of both squads and has already given them some good dope. The men themselves are feeling fit and are anxious for the outside air and real workouts.

There are nine men who have signed up for relay team tryouts. Among them we find last year men: Walsh and Kanyuck still running like blue streaks. With these two as a beginning the team should quickly develop.

Captain Kane of the base-ball squad is going around smiling—seems to feel good about prospects. With such a captain we should enter the big league.

Following is the schedule:

Baseball

May 1—Shippensburg Normay—Away
 May 8—Susquehanna University—Here.
 May 12—Dickinson Seminary—Away
 May 22—Wyoming Seminary—Away
 May 26—Open—Here.

Track

May 5—Columbia County Track Meet for High Schools.
 May 15—Wyoming Dickinson and Bloomsburg Meet at Bloomsburg.
 May 22—Dual Meet.
 May 29—Invitation Inter-scholastic Track Meet.

NEWS OF OTHER SCHOOLS

Slippery Rocket—Some of the students and faculty broadcasted from station WCAE Pittsburgh recently. They scored a big hit.

Green Stone—A beautiful pageant was given by the "Y" girls at West Chester entitled "Christ in America" recently. The installation of their new cabinet officers was in the form of a candle service with Dr. Schmucker as the speaker. It was very impressive.

The Senior Glee Club of West Chester are busily preparing for a concert to be given on Friday night.

Oshkosh Normal Advance—Oshkosh forfeited the state championship for Extemporaneous Speaking after holding it for two years.

A clever "vodvil" was put on at the Normal. Each organization of the school contributed to it and a prize was given for the best stunt.

Muhlenberg Weekly—Muhlenberg College was defeated by Gettysburg in a track meet last week.

Dr. Dodd, superintendent of Allentown schools, addressed the student body at Muhlenberg on "Teaching as a Vocation".

Virginia Message—Contrasts between the old and new way of teaching were given at State Teachers College. It was written up in the school paper with much other valuable information. Space does not afford reproducing it here but all industrious teachers will look it up in the "Virginia Message" for March. It will be found in the library.

TRACK

Every afternoon a group of track enthusiasts may be seen on the field. They are getting ready for our meets in the future. We should have a good team to oppose any comers.

EXCHANGE NOTES

Oshkosh Normal Advance, Oshkosh Wis.—A good paper full of interesting items and various types of articles but we think it is too large in size for a convenient weekly school paper.

The Orange and Black, Galeton High School—A very clever paper for a high school. We like the way your articles are written up.

The Keystone, Keystone State Normal School Kutztown, Pa.—Why not have more school news? The music articles were of much interest as well as informational.

COMMENCEMENT OF HOSPITAL NURSES

The commencement exercises for the graduating nurses of the Bloomsburg Hospital will be held in the Normal Auditorium on Tuesday evening, May 18th. These exercises have always been very attractive. They have been held in our auditorium from year to year.

 "Quality Is Remembered Long After Price is Forgotten."

JACK ROWLANDS STARS

The Bloomsburg Players' have real talent among them and it is just beginning to come out. Every week they stage a play for the club which is open for criticism.

Last week a play was presented called "Suppressed Desires." It is a story of the havoc psychoanalysis played in a home. The wife, Helen Mulligan, was a fanatic but as soon as her ideas hit her home she was ready to drop it. Millie Heusch found she had a few desires she knew not of.

Jack Rowlands was the star. Worried by his wife's nagging he had himself psychoanalyzed and found out that he wished to leave his wife. It's funny how that doctor twisted dreams.

AN INVITATION

The Junior Class extends its most cordial invitation to the members of the faculty and the students of the Senior and Middler Classes to attend their Prom on May 8th at the Normal School dining room.

We've a letter from a friend advising us that he has in constant use a rug, woven from strips of Hemingway suits that he'd worn out after years of service. And the rug is giving as much wear as the suits did.

The temptation to say something jocular about our "rugged clothing" is almost too great to resist, but as a matter of fact, there's no joke about the long-wear qualities of our suits and topcoats.

There are no better fabrics than those we use; no higher standards of workmanship than ours.

And if you're finicky about good style, you'll find plenty of that in 'em, too!
