FACULTY AT LAST BOWS IN DEFEAT

Kiwanis Club In Last Inning Rally

"Every good team meets its reverses." It was a wise man who made that statement and it was definitely proved when the renowned Bloomsburg Normal Faculty went down to defeat before the fierce eleventh hour rally put up by the Bloomsburg Kiwanis. The game was put off once and was awaited expectantly. No one will be surprised when I wager any money that there were at least twenty-five people on hand to see the game.

Three of the Faculties' runs came in the first inning when Jackson sent in two runs on a single and then scored at a fielder's choice. The other run came in the fourth inning on Mr. Keller's hit to left field.

It is the general consensus of opinion that the weakness of the team was the third baseman, Mr. Shortess, who hasn't caught a ball yet. It was his two errors in the last inning and Mr. Rorem's one that lost the game. Let's tighten up now.

Mr. Keller pitched a good game until he hurt his ankle and his arm weakened in the sixth inning, when Mr. Hall relieved him. Mr. Nelson played a stellar game behind the bat and with Mr. Reams, held stolen bases down to zero. Mr. Hausknecht played on his toes and made an out in left field and scored two hits.

Mr. Fisher, the Kiwanis' relief pitcher, pitched a steady game. He struck out a few of the Faculty invincibles. He had good support in the infield, especially in Mr. Wells and Mr. Ent.

It was a very interesting game and the Kiwanis were very much interested in winning. They almost mobbed the score keeper when he gave the Faculty credit for four runs. He took Mr. Jackson's word as an authority, however.

One of the best umpires yet to have officiated on our field was Jack Rowlands who ran this job. He had a most difficult job, too, because it's pretty tough to call them on the pros. At least we will now understand any flunks he may get.

ECHO OF B. S. N. S.

At the State Normal School of Bellingham, in the State of Washington, the students and teachers sing a song the first line of which runs as follows: "Far above the bay's blue waters." The principal of that normal school, Mr. Charles Fisher, was once principal of our School. It looks as though there were an echo of our "Alma Mater" in the song sung at Bellingham?

DICKINSON SEMINARY HERE TODAY

Rival Nine Clash Once More

Let's see everybody out today to see Bloomsburg Normal's last baseball game for the season of 1926. The season hasn't been unsuccessful and the team has been getting better every day. Don't miss this chance to see a real game.

There haven't been many home games this year and those we have had have been poorly attended. Let it not be said of Bloomsburg Normal students that they have no school spirit. It's a short walk and a good time may be had at the end of it. Everybody come.

The team has had opportunity to rest one day this week when our Faculty played the Kiwanis Club. They are all the more prepared for the game today. The coach has been working hard with the men what few days were allowed him and he is teaching them to swing harder. You should see some home runs today.

The team's hitting hasn't been over strong this year but it is coming up. The whole team has reached its climax in baseball ability now. They are expecting to send Dickinson home empty-handed. Let's get out and help.

The line-up will probably be as follows:

Kane, 2b.
Garrity, lf.
Bradshaw, c.
McGrath, 3b.
Austin, 1b.
Rushin, rf.
Stoker, p.

AUDITORIUM EXERCISES ON FRIDAY

What happened to the auditorium exercises scheduled for last Friday? According to the program the hour was set aside for an Ensemble by the musical organizations. There was to be a grand finale, a shout of joy, a diapason, as it were, of the musical activities of the entire school. The plan included selections by soloists, the quartets, the glee clubs, the orchestra, piano, the entire assembly, etc. The Music Department had appeared it is true at least three times. But these exercises had been for some specific purpose. They did not include the activities of the whole School in the field of music at one and the same time. Instead of such a grand and ambitious program the students were allowed to hear a selection or two on the new victrola. There was not even a reading of the Scriptures nor the singing of any hymns. It was a disappointment to those who knew the outlines of the entire assembly program for the year 1925-1926.

PICNIC LUNCH A SUCCESS

The picnic lunch on Tuesday was a great success. The students turned out beautifully. Many of the teachers also were there. Some brought their wives. The food was very palatable and there was plenty of it. In addition to the food there was much joy and hilarity. We hope that there may be a repetition of this festivity in the near future.

WYOMING DEFEATS BLOOMSBURG IN FAST GAME

Stoker, On The Mound, Receives Good Support

The Bloomsburg Normal nine is playing an improved brand of baseball. When they played at Wyoming on Saturday, Stoker did the hurling and his team played well behind him. But the Wyoming bunch is a heavy hitting crew and one can't reach everything.

Tommy Ayres pitched well for the Seminars holding Bloomsburg to two hits. He didn't strike many out but he was fortunate in having our men hit into his fielders hands. Such is luck.

In the first inning only three men batted for Bloomsburg and few more for the other side. The game looked as if the score would be pretty low. A little tough luck in the second inning allowed Wyoming two runs. They also scored two in the third. No more scoring was done in the whole game except when Wyoming got a run on two consecutive three base hits.

Bloomsburg Normal can well be proud of their outfield. They can catch anything that comes within sprinting distance and they do. Each outfield man had three outs, many of these nine were spectacular catches and were instrumental in holding down Wyoming's score.

Joe Kane has at last hit his stride and is playing a beautiful game at second base. Saturday he was airtight, having four outs and one assist. He captains the team in a very clever manner.

Arch Austin, the big first baseman, made the feature play of the day when he dove to the ground and caught a hot drive which seemed to be a sure hit. Our opponents will soon learn that it is not safe to play Austin's corner—he is invincible.

Bradshaw and McGrath deserve credit because they are the only two that hit. They did their valorous and praiseworthy deeds in the same inning. We came close to a score as a result of these hits—but not close enough.

The game was interesting from a spectators standpoint and Wyoming was never sure of victory until the game was over. You can't tell what the fighting Bloomsburg boys will do.

The team received excellent treatment while at Wyoming and they sure did appreciate it.

BLOOMSBURG PLAYERS PREPARE FOR PARTY

Annual Held At Country Club Tonight

A long looked for day by the members of "The Bloomsburg Players" has at last arrived and tonight they have their annual party. This year it is to be held at the Bloomsburg Country Club amidst the warm breezes, the moonlight and music. It sounds pretty good.

As Miss Johnston is a member of the Country Club she was able to reserve it for the school organization. With hot-dogs, marshmallows, pickles and ice cream for supper and dancing and fun afterwards a great time is predicted.

It is expected that the party will leave the school as soon after the ball game as possible and return to the school at ten o'clock. It will be an enviable day.

INTERSCHOLASTIC TRACK MEET HERE SATURDAY

Nine Schools Entered In First Meet

As a sign of its interest in high school athletics and its promotion of mass athletics in all schools the Bloomsburg State Normal School issued invitations to all surrounding high schools to a mammoth track meet to be held here on Saturday, May 29th. Those who accepted the invitation are Benton, Berwick, Bloomsburg, Nanticoke, Newport Township, Scranton Tech and Wilkes Barre.

It is a very illustrious and imposing list of schools. All of them are in the Bloomsburg Normal region and have friends at this school. As a result there will be keen rivalry on the side lines and no entry will lack encouragement.

There will be quite a bit of splendor attached to this great event including trophy cups, medals and honorable mention. Members of the student body and faculty will be called upon to officiate.

Only one entry has announced himself from Bloomsburg High School, Army Keller. He is quite well known by Normal students and they all join in wishing him success.

REORGANIZATION OF STAFF

Judging from the way the copies of the Maroon and Gold are distributed, or rather not distributed, the subscribers have a right to demand a reorganization of the staff. The papers are now placed in some out of the way corner of the Girls' Dormitory. Only a few of the students know where. About one thousand copies of the Maroon and Gold arrive every Friday. No more than half that number reach the subscribers. The names of the members of the staff appear each week. That's an honor. However, only one or two members do anything. The rest loaf and shirk their duty. That's a disgrace. Something should be done. The members should either resign or their names should be removed by order of the Faculty Committee. There are students here willing and anxious to be of service in the publication of our weekly.

NEW PLAN FOR MAROON AND GOLD

There is a plan under way whereby the Maroon and Gold will be published during the summer session. In fact, it may be published throughout the year, a copy each week for a period of fifty weeks. During vacation students would receive their paper through the mail. If this plan goes through copies of the Maroon and Gold will then also be sent to prospective students as soon as they register in order to inform them of various things required to become duly registered students at this School. Dean Sutliff will tell them in this way how to secure their medical certificates, their high school credentials and character certificates, how to take examinations to satisfy entrance requirements, etc.

NICK VANBUSKIRK CAPTAIN

By a vote of the nine letter men in basketball, Nick Vanbuskirk was elected captain for 1927. The "Maroon and Gold" wishes to congratulate the team on its choice; we feel that he will make a good captain.

Lyndic Sorber pulled the vote from the track team. He is some fast boy and deserves the job.

Many awards were made Wednesday in chapel to the athletes of the school. In presenting them to those who earned them, Dr. Riemer commended their work. He cautioned against over time work on athletics unless such is to be the life work. He also expressed pleasure at the emerging of women in athletics and expressed a wish for more of them to come.

BEGINNING OF THE END

Last Thursday, May 20th, the Seniors gathered in the dining-room to attend the annual Senior banquet. Arthur Jenkins acted as toast-master and continued to show his competence. Thelma Fuller led the singing with Jessie Zimmerman at the piano. In order that the group might fully appreciate the program the banquet was served first. After the meal which was prepared by Miss Ward, was thoroughly enjoyed, the program was given which was as follows:

Solo, Thalia Kitchen; Speeches by Dr. Riemer and Mr. Wilson; selections by Double Male Quartette; resume of the class by groups, Primary Group, Emily Davies; Intermediate Group, Mary Penman; and Junior High Group, Inez Wintersteen; Violin solo, Bill Jones accompanied by Marian Pickett; speeches, Miss Conway and Miss Mason; selections by the Double Mixed Quartette. TEACHERS ATTEND

B. S. N. S. SUMMER SESSION

There are many reasons why teachers in service attend the summer session of our Normal School, why they prefer residence to non-residence work. They have here an unusual opportunity for enjoyable and profitable study. They feel sure of doing their best work and of having a wholesome recreation at the same time. Everything is quiet and restful. The surroundings are pleasant and healthful.

The Library affords such teachers a fine chance to study. Its books are well chosen and arranged with care. The chairs and study tables are comfortable. The room is quiet. Our librarians are excellent. The same may be said of the facilities afforded by our Training School. There is a genuine teacher-training atmosphere everywhere. The work is all adapted to the needs of teachers. Our School is a teacher-training institution and it has long since ceased catering to students preparing for other vocations than that of a teacher.

The entertainments during the summer have always been very attractive. Musical recitals are scheduled. Lecturers of note appear frequently. There are receptions and parties enjoyed by faculty and students. One of the attractive features of the summer session has been the picnic lunches to which all are invited, regular students, day students and teachers.

One feature of the summer session that is worthy of note is the campus and school life. This is something which teachers in service cannot have while taking courses in extension. Such life means a great deal. It makes it possible for teachers to form lifelong friendships. Students associate, one with the other and exchange ideas in regard to their profession as well as to life in general. There is nothing like such an association with growing and progressive teachers.

The teaching staff of our School will be better than ever next summer. For teacher training purposes this school has superior teachers. They are well trained scholastically and professionally. Their experience has been long and wide. This makes it possible for them to be of real value to the teachers in service anxious to improve in their profession.

The summer session at our School affords the teachers in service a chance to improve their educational equipment. They can secure teaching certificates of all types. Some fulfill the requirements of the Normal Certificate. Others secure credits accepted by colleges toward the college degree since the work is all on a college basis.

The prestige of our School also plays a large part in influencing the teachers in service to enroll here. They know that this School has many strong and forceful graduates in the field. This has influenced many a student to turn toward our Alma Mater.

An item worthy of consideration is the small expense. There is no charge for tuition. The expenses for board, room and laundry are at a minimum. It costs more to study at home and do work in extension.

Some teachers draw attention to the fact that there is a great saving in time to register as a regular student. They then do not spend so much time on street cars, buses, or automobiles going back and forth between their homes and the places where courses of extension are held. This is a big item worthy of consideration. All commuters have had such experience.

Ideas like the above influence the teachers in service to attend the Summer Session of our Normal School.

SUGGESTION BOX

The Suggestion Box of which we spoke in our last issue may be found at the entrance to the former Staff Office. All students and teachers who are interested in the welfare and improvement of the School are invited to drop whatever suggestions they may have to make, into this box. The suggestions may be signed or unsigned. They will receive careful consideration and be executed if at all possible.

port High School, slipped in and out without disturbance last Saturday.

Mr. Nelson brought Patsie to the picnic lunch. She's a fine little girl.

The sermon to the graduating class will be preached by Reverend Bergstresser at 2:30 on Sunday afternoon.

The Certificates for the graduates of June 1926 have been signed by Dr. Riemer.

The proof of the catalog has been read.

Mr. John Davis, of the Williams-Miss Dorothy Skinner, teacher of Art in Pittsburgh, visited our School on Saturday.

The grounds look very beautiful. Much of this is do to the industry of Mr. McHenry.

The Seniors are winding up their work here. Tomorrow forenoon will be their last session.

Helen Sutliff, '23, spent the week end with her parents. She sang in the Presbyterian choir on Sunday.

Last Thursday evening was a free period for all. Miss Conway granted permission freely from the depth of her generous heart.

The trolley lines out of Bloomsburg will soon be a thing of the past. New buses have taken the place of the electric cars.

On Saturday Mr. D. T. Thomas, of the class of 1899, called at the Business Office with four prospective students.

The teachers have been disappointed about their gowns. The stores were all sold out before they came. Too bad! Try earlier next time.

On account of the circus the Training School had no session on Monday afternoon. However, not many children went to the circus.

On Wednesday a member of the Department will be here to examine the credentials of the graduates of June.

Mr. Rhodes held two extension classes last week. He is making up the times that he missed on account of his illness.

According to the reports in Mr. Rhodes' Office, the students of this year are being placed very well. Some of the students have secured excellent positions.

At an institution like ours it takes a lot of money to pay for the wages and salaries of those employed. It amounts here to more than $400,000 for a period of two years.

The Department of Public Instruction intends to distribute copies of the elementary courses of study among the graduates of the Normal Schools. The courses of study for the rural group have already arrived.

REPAIRS PROGRESS

The repairs are continuing to progress. The metal stairs are being erected in the fire tower of the annex to the dining hall. The second fire tower has been begun. In fact, the tiles are being laid. The work on the kitchen has advanced beyond all expectations. Steam fittings have arrived. It looks like the coming of a brand new school.

ADDRESSES DURING 1926-1927

Dr. West will be with us again next year to deliver four talks such as we enjoyed this year. There are to be other talks of like nature to be given one each by the local ministers on character building or the development of personality. This promises to be very helpful and inspiring.

SENIOR VAUDEVILLE MAKES BIG HIT

Large Audience For Varied Program

Last Friday night the Senior Class staged a vaudeville to raise money to pay for the large picture in colors to be found in the hall of the main building. The picture is "Pilgrims Going to Church" and is very beautiful in its portrayal of colonial customs and costumes.

At 8:15 the curtain rose on Milly Boyd and her Famous Four. And famous they made themselves, singing various popular songs in perfect harmony. Their clothes were fine only they should have worn suspenders. Marie Corcoran, Alice Carter, Jule Prisbeck, Doris Evans were the black hamony boys who did the singing.

"The Bloomsburg Players" members of which are always present and participating wherever talent is shown, presented "The Robbery" a one act comedy. It was quite good. The star of the play was Hope Schalles, who played the part of the timid, blushing, but yet designing maid. She won. Blake Stokes, Wm. Rushin ably supported her.

The renowned Double Quartette entertained well. A radio program was given including songs, weather reports, and a bed time story by Benny Lewis. They then gave a pleasing picture of themselves in twenty years trying out the old songs they used to sing. This part of the program was much enjoyed.

Daisy Alleman gave a very interesting reading on two little boys who were present at the end of the world. She shows some real talent and the school will be glad to have her back next year.

Milly Boyd and Mae Gable then entertained on guitars. They played some popular music very well. Their act was entitled "A Bit of Hawaii."

Thalia Kitchen gave us a delightful taste of "The Boulevards of Paris" in her song and dance act. In her song about flowers all the members of the audience almost got up to buy. If all Paris is like that we'll all move over there.

Jewel and George Waite, two of the training school children, danced for us. Jewel gave a Spanish Dance and George did the Charleston. Pretty clever!

"The Mysterious Quartette" presented a black face comedy act including banjo-uke and mandolin duets, songs, dances, stories, jokes. Besides these things the great secret of who they were was revealed. They are John Kanyuck, George Sack, Victor Anskis and Ben Lewis. They would go good on the vaudeville stages.

Wow! how that boy Kanyuck gave a dance, shuffle, Charleston and everything. Benny Lewis sang a beautiful solo. Kanyuck also told of the pathetic death of his hobo partner. "He died—and I took his hat and shoes and caught the east-bound train."

Sack and Anskis on the uke and mandolin are fast becoming the leading entertainers of the age. We expect to see their names blazed forth on Broadway next season.

The committee is to be congratulated on the success of their show.

MISS FLETCHER ENTERTAINS

Wednesday evening, Miss Fletcher delightfully entertained her student teachers at the Country Club. A good time was had by all.

NO SCHOOL MONDAY

There will be no session of the School on Monday, to afford all students and teachers an opportunity to observe Memorial Day.

BACH FESTIVAL AT BETHLEHEM, MAY 14-15

The nationally famous Bach Festival again drew its crowds of music lovers to the old Packer Church at Bethlehem. They came from all parts of our country in the spirit to get the most out of this yearly religious fete.

The Bach Choir, under Dr. J. Fred Wolfe, that master-director of Bach, sang with beautiful intonation and religious fervor, a magnificent program, including six cantatas, a motet for double choir and the great Mass. With the splendid co-operation of thirty members of the Philadelphia Symphony, the Choir sang on Friday the short Bach compositions with deep appeal. Whenever possible in the Bach Festivals, the chorales in their simplest setting are sung by the audience, and the several included in the Friday programs were welcomed by the audience.

The climax of the Festival came Saturday afternoon with the singing of the Mass. It is this wonderful choral triumph of Bach which has always a great appeal. On Saturday afternoon, thousands of people, who were unable to get seats in the church, sat under the trees, following their scores and listening to the grandeur of Bach's music.

Bethlehem has become known as the Bach City. What higher tribute could be paid to it?

MISS MASON SECURES POSITION AT EAST NORTHFIELD

Miss Mason has secured a position as librarian at a seminary located at East Northfield, Massachusetts. This affords her an opportunity to be nearer her father who is growing old. She has desired to live nearer her father for some years than she did here at Bloomsburg. The entire School regrets that Miss Mason must leave. She has won for herself a place in the hearts of all students and teachers of Bloomsburg. However, we commend her action in this case.

ACTIVITIES IN ATHLETICS

The activities in athletics during this year have been ideal. There have never been so many participants in football as we saw on the gridiron last fall. And this was true in spite of the wretched weather. Many of our students therefore, shared in the benefits of this Great American Game. Its blessings were not confined to a few well chosen performers.

The same may be said of hockey. This was a new activity here. There had never been a field set aside for this game but many girls took part in the fall and learned to play the game before the end of the season.

Our School has always taken great interest in basketball. This season was not an exception. Many teams were formed from among the boys as well as the girls and the tournament was a great success.

The season is always short for baseball. This year has been as bad as any as far as the weather was concerned. And yet great interest has been shown. The girls have played the game. There was the best of spirit in their games and their tournament proved very successful. And the faculty came out too. Their games added to the spirit and enthusiasm for the horse-hide sphere.

Tennis has been more popular than ever. In addition to the interest on the part of all a tennis team was developed which played Wyoming Seminary and made an excellent showing. In accordance with indications another three or four courts will have to be added to those which we already have.

Interest in field and track has also been keen. A relay team was sent to the Carnival at the University of Pennsylvania. The showing it made was highly commendable. Then there were meets with the freshmen of Bucknell University and with the teams from Dickinson and Wyoming. Many of our students participated in these meets.

BLOOMSBURG TIES WYOMING TENNIS TEAM

Saturday our newest varsity team journeyed to Wyoming Seminary to compete with that school in tennis.

Although our team was composed of inexperienced material they exhibited a fine brand of tennis. Not one match did our rival win without a hard and bitter struggle. Captain Sutliff was the outstanding performer for Old Normal. In singles he won his match 6-1, 6-1; and in the double match teamed with Ben Lewis they won a clean cut victory.

The other winner in the singles was "Jamie" Jamison. He defeated his opponent 6-0, 4-6, 6-2. In this match Jamie pulled a number of spectacular plays. He was pitted against a steady, experienced foe. We have been hearing rumors about a strawberry sundae. Will someone please clear up this mystery? Help us out Jimmie.

Ben Lewis, our southpaw rascal, wielder, lost to a genius. Ben battled through a heavy barrage of "hits and lobs" gloriously. The attack of his opponent took him by surprise but in a few minutes he had regained his old form. Although he was defeated in two straight sets, the scores 6-4 and 7-5 indicate how hard the play was fought.

Last but not least is "Sammy" Morgans. He also was at the small end of the score but just took what he was playing. The Captain of the Seminary quartette. This match was terrific throughout the twenty games comprising the match. The little giant from our school pulled one spectacular play after another but in the end was defeated by the unceasing line of chatter thrown out by his talkative opponent. He and Jamie were paired in the double match. They were determined to win their match. During the intermission which followed the singles matches they formed their plan of action. Altho the plan was carried out in every detail the experience of the one man team which opposed them brought results and the match ended.

As a whole our team did very well. To have tied the present Seminary team is indeed a feat worth recognition.

Next Saturday a return match will be played on our courts. Captain Sutliff and his mates promise us a victory. This is not mere bragging. It is a statement based on careful calculations gathered at the recent match.

SPECIALIZATION

This is an age of specialization. One can notice this fact in all phases of modern life. Some specialize in medicines, others in law, still others in teaching, etc. About the School in Spring many specialize in affection.

The Most Realistic Picture Ever Taken

We've a letter from a friend advising us that he has in constant use a rug, woven from strips of Hemingway suits that he'd worn out after years of service. And the rug is giving as much wear as the suits did.

The temptation to say something joacular about our "rugged clothing" is almost too great to resist, but as a matter of fact, there's no joke about the long-wear qualities of our suits and topcoats.

There are no better fabrics than those we use; no higher standards of workmanship than ours.

And if you're finicky about good style, you'll find plenty of that in 'em, too!
