

Cyrus Lee, B. A., M. Ed., Ph. D.
Professor of Psychology

1284 Conewango Avenue
Warren, Pennsylvania 16365
Phone 723-5955

Dr. Lee was born in China and educated in China, Canada and America. The author of seven books and many articles in both Chinese and English, he is also gaining recognition as a lecturer at various eastern colleges and universities. His areas of competence are philosophy, psychology, international education and comparative religion. He has also taught in these areas at several universities.

Title of Lecture (Each is 40 min.)

- I. "Influence of Eastern Philosophy on Western Psychology."
- II. "Everyday Philosophy of Life in the East and West."
- III. "What is Confucianism?"
- IV. "The Study of Mohism in Japan and Europe."
- V. "Dr. Coady and Dr. Sun Yat-sen on Socialism."
- VI. "Mao Tse-tung's Alienation as shown in his Poems."
- VII. "Chiang Kai-shek and Mao Tse-tung: A Graphological Analysis."
- VIII. "The Two First Ladies of Modern China."
- IX. "A Chinese Understanding of Woman."
- X. "'Gentleman' As Understood by Ancient and Modern Chinese."
- XI. "Malay and her Educational Problems."
- XII. "Mao Tse-tung's Poems and Their Impact on Chinese Education."
- XIII. "The Soci-educational Thoughts of Mo Tzu."
- XIV. "Chinese Education: Confucius versus Mao Tse-tung."
- XV. "Chinese Humanism and Christian Spirituality."
- XVI. "Mission Works in Buddhism and Christianity."
- XVII. "The Catholic Church in China: Its Past, Present, Future."
- XVIII. "Where Will China Go? A Religious Approach."
- XIX. "Thomas Merton and Zen Buddhism."
- XX. "Mysticism: Buddhist, Taoist and Christian."

Robert E. Polley, B. A., M. A.
Associate Professor in Soc/Anthropology

1284 Conewango Avenue
Warren, Pennsylvania 16365
Phone 723-7072

Complimented by a strong educational and anthropological studies and also thirteen years of teaching experience, Mr. Polley's classroom instruction in history, anthropology and sociology is well developed. His formal education is from Morehead State College, Ky., Montana State University, Northern Illinois University, the University of Colorado and Colorado State College. For the latter, he is presently writing his doctoral dissertation which deals with the local history of Warren County.

Title of Lecture

- I. "Proxemics: A Study of Culturally Defined Spatial Relationships." (30 min.)
This explains how intercultural communication is affected by various uses of space.
- II. "An Anthropological Analysis of Religion"(40 min.)
This identifies and explains the components of religion and uses Christianity as a reference.

Beulah M. Polley, B. A., M. A.
Assistant Professor in Education

1284 Conewango Avenue
Warren, Pennsylvania 16365
Phone 723-7072

Reading specialist and former public school teacher for levels 2-12, Mrs. Polley brings enriched professional experiences to her college courses in teaching of reading and language arts, early childhood education and education in American society. She has traveled throughout U. S., Mexico and Canada and in her travels in this country has taught in four other states, Colorado, Montana, Wyoming and Illinois. She holds degrees from Montana State University and the University of Northern Colorado and has completed additional graduate work at Gannon College, the Pennsylvania State University and the University of Wyoming.

Title of Lecture

- "The Emotional Development of the Elementary School Child." (25 min.)
This offers an explanation of the child's developing individuality and a self-concept.

FACULTY LECTURE SERVICE

COLLEGE ARCHIVES

Warren, Pennsylvania 16365

AN INVITATION

Representative faculty members of the Warren Campus of Edinboro State College, Warren, Pennsylvania, offer to interested community, business, or school groups a continuing educational service of program lecturers. Acting independently from the group and the Warren Campus itself, each educator will directly discuss and negotiate any terms about a speaking invitation with the inquiring interested party.

For further information please write or call:

Dr. Cyrus Lee, Chairman
Faculty Lecture Service,
Warren Campus
Edinboro State College,
Warren, Pa. 16365

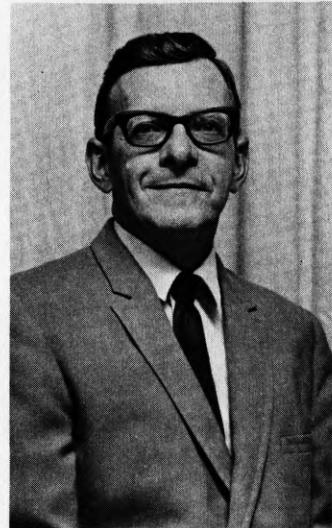

Tel. (814) 726-0291

The Warren Campus
of

Edinboro State College

The Warren Campus is a two-year accredited school of liberal arts and teacher education. From an initial enrollment of 51 students in 1961, its enrollment now is 400. Twenty resident faculty members offer personalized teaching situations which result in a more stimulating and intimate educational experience. In the school term 1971-72, the campus will relocate from East Street School to 196 acres of land in Conewango Township, Warren County. Present plans call for the renovation of two buildings formerly under the Pennsylvania Department of Public Welfare.

This brochure is prepared by Mrs. Thomas Walsh, director of Public Relations, Warren Campus, Edinboro State College.

Richard E. Andersen, B. A., M. A.
Associate Professor English/Speech

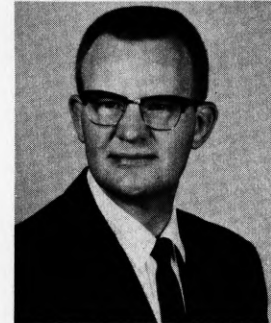

1284 Conewango Avenue
Warren, Pennsylvania 16365
Phone 723-3394

Actor, director, writer and teacher, Mr. Andersen is a most welcomed contributor to Warren community theatre groups and particularly to the Warren Campus which he also founded. He has eighteen years of teaching experience in the Warren County Schools and five years at the Warren Campus.

Mr. Andersen holds degrees from Allegheny College, Meadville, and the Pennsylvania State University. Presently enrolled in the doctoral program at Penn State, he is investigating creative dramatics as a teaching technique in high school English.

Title of Lecture

- I. "Production of a One-Act Play."
(40 min.)
This is a dramatic presentation.
- II. "William Shakespeare--Relevant Playwright. (30 min.)
"King Lear," Shakespeare's monumental tragedy is the core of this lecture.

Wallace F. Jewell, Jr., B. S., M. S.
Assistant Professor in Mathematics
110 North Parker Street
Warren, Pennsylvania 16365
Phone 723-3795

A graduate from Lock Haven State College and Syracuse University, Mr. Jewell also has graduate credits from the Pennsylvania State University, Lehigh University and the University of Pittsburgh. He taught mathematics at Warren Area High School for eleven years and attended four National Science Foundation Institutes.

Presently pursuing doctoral studies at the New York State University at Buffalo, he also avails himself readily to his church, community sports programs, P.T.A. and the Kiwanis Club.

Title of Lecture (Each is accompanied by overhead projection overlaps and takes 45 min. of program time.)

- I. "The History and Development of Computers."
Not a technical talk, this lecture describes various types of computers and presents elementary ideas of their operation.
- II. "Tractenberg Speed Arithmetic."
This information about addition and multiplication can be helpful to everyone, but particularly businessmen.
- III. "Integral Roots of Numbers by Calculation."
Post-algebra students can utilize this information.
- IV. "Modern? Mathematics."
Interested parents can learn some of the basic concepts of sets, logic and the structure of the number system.

Frank R. Johnson, B. S., M. Ed.
Director

410 - 4th Avenue
Warren, Pennsylvania 16365
Phone 726-0947

Speech Therapist in Warren Borough Schools -- 1951-56.

Speech Therapist in Warren County Schools -- 1956-58.

In 1958 went to Edinboro State College as Assistant Professor of Psychology and Speech and Hearing.

In 1964 returned to Warren as Administrative Director of Warren Campus, Edinboro State College.

Now a candidate for the Ph.D. in Education at State University of New York at Buffalo.

Married and has five children.