Red Raiders Invade Clarion For 4th Game Of Present Campaign

Edinboro Is Seeking First Win Of Season On Foreign Gridiron

RAIDERS WON 40-0 IN 1936

Coach Harrison's Red Raiders will fight for the first win of the season when they invade Clarion State Teachers College today for the fourth game of the season.

Following are the probable lineups for today's fray:

Edinboro	Position	Clarion
Wolfe	LE	Kribbs
Shutro	LT	Ahericiable
Dilley	LG	Wideman
Wood	C	Brotkowitz
Witalis	RG	Myers
Erickson	RT	Jewell
Volitich	RE	Teats
Abrams	QB	Williams
Intrieri	LH	Shevdare
Burke	RH	Palond
Davies	FB	Persighetti

Last year, the Raiders staged a surprising upset with every form of attack clicking almost to perfection against luckless Clarion. Gaping holes opened for the ball carriers, passes somehow found waiting receivers, and

Walter Hampden Plays To Capacity Audience

Noted Actor Gives Great Performance

Mr. Walter Hampden, an American actor who has achieved the highest honors that the dramatic world can offer, played to an appreciative and capacity audience in Normal Hall Auditorium on last Wednesday evening.

This great actor, who was introduced by Miss Jane Ludgate—Head of Dramatics at Edinboro—as the greatest actor in the World, presented selected parts from three of his most important plays.

His first presentation was from the play, "Cyrano de Bergerac", in which during the season just closed he completed his hundredth performance. Following that he entertained the audience with selections from another of his notable performances "Caponsacchi".

To conclude his program, Mr. Hampden gave sketches from the Shakespearean play, "Hamlet".

SPECTATOR WELCOMES ALL STUDENT OPINION

The Spectator announced in the last issue that it would be responsive to the student opinion on this campus. This was not an idle gesture, but a statement of policy that is to be carried out. Though the editorial column will represent the official views of the newspaper, student opinion in the form of "Letters to the Editor" will be welcomed. Reasonable and serious views with signatures attached will be treated in a confidential manner and names will be withheld if requested.

Dramatic Club Play Is Scheduled For Thursday, Nov. 18

Joe Zahniser Assists Coach Miss Ludgate In Directing Play

With the announcement by the Dramatic Club of the players who will take the various parts, with the construction of the setting, and with rehearsals starting this week, the production of "Night of January 16th" scheduled for November 18, is now well underway according to Joe Zahniser, who is assisting Miss Ludgate in directing the play.

Miss Sarah Kratz is Heroine

Strictly speaking, this is a play without a heroine, but Sara Kratz has been chosen for the leading feminine part—that of Karen Andre—defendant in the murder trial. Nor, has it a hero, the principal male part being that of the prosecuting attorney which will be taken by Clarence Heft. Other parts will be played by Alex Crevar, Gardiner Criswell, Dick De Remer, Daniel Kusner, Leon Mead, Joseph Norder, Robert Scarpitti, Martin Shimko and Keith Skelton.

Jury Will Be Chosen Soon

Twelve important members of the cast remain to be chosen, but they, fortunately, need no rehearsing, and will not be selected until the night of the performance. They are the jury, who will listen to the evidence and will render the verdict on which will depend which of the two endings written for the play will be used.

Among the well known people who have served on the jury during the professional performances of the play are Jack Dempsey, James Roosevelt, Richardo Cortez, Babe Ruth and Helen Keller.

Edinboro Again Has Entertainment Course Of Exceptional Value

Eva Jessye Choir Substitutes For Ill Christopher Morley

SENATOR NYE HERE SOON

Edinboro College offers again this year a lecture-entertainment course of exceptional numbers that promises to be as entertaining and as educational as that of past seasons.

As a substitute for Christopher Morley, who could not appear because of illness, the next number on the program is that of the Eva Jessye Choir which will give a choral presentation on November 2.

Choir is Noted Negro Group

The Eva Jessye Choir under the personal direction of Miss Eva Jessye, well-known negro woman conductor, is an outstanding group of negro singers in the United States.

This musical organization furnished the background for the negro opera "Bess and Porgy", and are soon to travel to the Pacific Coast for its production in Los Angeles and other coast cities.

Miss Jessye, who is a noted author, wrote the theme songs for "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and was the first woman musical director in motion pictures.

Following this noted Choir comes

College Alumni Thank Faculty And Students

HOMECOMING IS SUCCESS

The vital living element of any school consists of Faculty and Student Body, supplemented by the Alumni, and, regardless of how important any one of these units may feel, it would find itself quite helpless without the others.

If Homecoming failed in any way, it certainly did not fail in Faculty and Student cooperation.

The Committee wishes to take this opportunity to thank the students for their support of the dance, their work in W. A. A. activities and Faculty Open House, and for the general good feeling throughout Homecoming, an impossibility without their help.

Dance In Gymnasium Is Outstanding Event Of Fall Social Season

Ghost Walk Features Novel Entertainment of Hallowe'en Program

BENNETT FURNISHES MUSIC

A Mask Ball, presented by the Sophomore Class in the Gymnasium on next Saturday night, October 30, will feature the annual celebration of Hallowe'en at Edinboro with a dance that promises to be the outstanding social event of the fall season.

The gymnasium, scene of many social triumphs at Edinboro, will be fitted out in its best Hallowe'en manner to receive its guests. Lon Watters, in charge of decorations, promises some new and unusual things in the way of ornamentation.

Ghost Walk Is Novel Feature

As a novel feature, all guests will enter the gym by the south first floor football door and pass through the ghostliest of Ghost Walks to the dance floor upstairs.

The dance, which will also consist of cards and games for those who do

Y. W. C. A. CONFERENCE IS SUCCESS

A fortnight ago the College Young Men's Christian Association was host to fifty young men and several prominent speakers who came to Edinboro to attend a Student-Faculty Conference of similar religious organizations from twelve colleges in three states.

During the three day conference, the visiting delegates lived in Edinboro, met with Edinboro students, and listened to several prominent religious leaders. Judging from their comments when the time drew near to depart, they had enjoyed their visit and had really obtained something worthwhile.

Certainly those responsible for the great success of the Student-Faculty Conference deserve a word of praise and commendation for their fine work. To entertain a group of students is one thing, but to provide entertainment that is enjoyable and worthwhile is another and highly commendable thing.

ACTIVITY FUND FINANCES EXTRA-CURRICULARS

This year, as in years past, each student at Edinboro pays a quarterly sum into a Student Activity fund that in turn supports all extra-curricular activities on the campus. This quarterly sum, which is determined by the Student-Faculty Council, is at present three dollars and seventy-five cents and upon payment, assures with only one exception—the movie—free participation in all the extra-curricular activities by every student.

This fund has enabled those in charge to give Edinboro students a fine extra-curricular program. A part of the fund, aided by the sale of tickets to the general public, has made possible the finest lecture-entertainment course in Northwestern Pennsylvania. Another part has enabled the Edinboro Players to become a widely known and well-equipped group. A third part has allowed our religious organizations to become leaders of their work in Pennsylvania. A fourth part has equipped our athletic teams and sent them on their way to compete with scholastic rivals of three states. A fifth part supports the annual Conneauttean and this newspaper. In every case the achievements of each extra-curricular organization revert back to the financial assistance of this fund.

However, there are few things that cannot be improved. And so it is with Edinboro's activity program—a program that could be greatly improved and enlarged by a more adequate activity fund. Many organizations, though doing great things with the funds available, are at the same time greatly hampered in expanding their activity. Too, many times only a few extra dollars would enable students to receive double the value from their activities.

Certainly no one would miss an extra dollar and a quarter at each quarterly payment time. Yet by this small addition to the activity fee, the activity program would benefit greatly, as would each student who participates. Surely this problem of a more adequate activity fee and increased value to the student in extra-curricular participation deserves special attention on the part of the Student-Faculty Council.

a bewildered Clarion team was downed by a score of 40-0.

Clarion is Unknown Quantity

Little is known of Clarion's strength this year. However, Edinboro has discovered a potential passing combination, Davies to Wolfe, which clicked for several long gains in the Indiana game last Saturday. Possibility this combination will make the Clarion team have a very interesting time when it clashes with the Raiders.

Some men grow with responsibility, but most of us just bloat.

With Our Faculty Outside the Campus

By Walter Nissen

With approximately two hundred students enrolled, the Edinboro extension courses for teachers in service have been causing many regular campus instructors to leave the College at odd times to meet these classes in surrounding towns.

Mr. Waldo F. Bates and Mr. Royce Mallory teach classes in their respective fields in Franklin on Monday of each week.

Miss Hazel Mae Ketcham, Dr. E. Leigh Mudge, and Dr. C. J. Christensen travel to Erie on Monday and Thursday for their classes. Dr. Mudge also has a class in Franklin on Wednesday.

On one day a week, Dr. C. C. Crawford teaches in Meadville, Dr. Christensen goes to Centerville, and to Warren, and Mr. Mallory has a class in Corry.

Many Attend Teacher's Institute

At the County Session of Teacher's Institute held in North East on last Friday and Saturday, the Edinboro faculty was well represented.

Besides the large number of instructors that attended the conference, Miss C. Frances Whitney, Instructor of Elementary Education; Dr. Christensen, Head of Rural Education; and Mr. Waldo F. Bates, Head of the Art Department, contributed to the conference with a talk relating to their respective fields.

Mr. Wheatley is to travel to Harrisburg on October 28 to attend a state-wide conference of Deans of the State Teachers Colleges in Pennsylvania. At a recent Dean's conference with Edinboro students, Mr. Wheatley gathered the campus opinion on many problems that will be discussed at this conference.

EDINBORO AGAIN OFFERS ENTERTAINMENT COURSE

Senator Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota. Mr. Nye, a member of the highest legislative body in the United States, will speak on the subject "Some Important American Problems".

The 1937 course closes with a concert by the Little Symphony Orchestra of Chicago on Monday, April 18.

The complete schedule follows: December 1—Senator Gerald P. Nye —"Some Important American Problems".

January 12—Lew Sarrett, the Woodman Poet—"Slow Smoke".

January 25—Concert by Mary McCormic.

February 15—Gillette Chamber Orchestra and James R. Gillette at the Hammond Organ.

March 21—Ludwig Lewishon—Lecture, "A Liberal Look at Capitalism".

April 18—Concert—Little Symphony Orchestra of Chicago.

Educational Comment

By John Clark

The vision, initiative, and perseverance of our oft unsung educational leaders has resulted in an outstanding educational system within these United States. Because of their effort there has grown up a great business which is indispensable to the continuity of many national virtues that we are too prone to take for granted.

Thirty-Five Million Are Engaged

Thirty-five million pupils, teachers, and administrators are engaged in it at present. It represents a capital investment of over ten billion dollars, and employs one and one-fourth million people annually. Of over seven hundred bills passed by the 1937 Pennsylvania Assembly, one hundred forty-one concerned educational matters. There was a grand total of $89,882,177 appropriated, of which $3,720,000 went to State Teachers Colleges.

We can quite readily perceive how our school system functions in the training of citizens for intelligent, effective community and social participation; in the enlightenment concerning and safeguarding individual welfare and health; and in the extensive and effective instruction afforded all youth at the most opportune time.

School Is Basis Of Government

Sometimes we may be slow in granting the school credit as being basically responsible for one of the most orderly and bloodless governments on earth; for a widespread common knowledge of natural laws, phenomena, and unadulterated truth; for a voting citizenry that forcefully and intelligently expresses its wishes; and most commendable of all, for a practically limitless opportunity for stimulation and cultivation of each person's talents as a splendid attempt to build a nation of properly adapted, contented, and profitable citizens.

Adaline Snyder Gives Aims Of Comstock Club

Outlines Work of Group In Nature Activity

We Comstock Club members have chosen a task never-ending but always inspiring, namely, to become accurately acquainted with birds, flowers, trees, animals, stars, weather, photography, camp lore, and campcraft. We are working in small groups or as individuals, nevertheless, our common aim is to be nature-leaders in camps and Scout groups. We have a practical ideal—field-trips where we shall combine learning and fun. We want to gain an appreciation of nature which will let us say with Wordsworth: "My heart leaps up when I behold A rainbow in the sky."

Red Raiders Travel To New Wilmington To Play Westminster

Annual Battle Sure To Provide Thrills In Traditional Game

1936 SCORE WAS 33-16

The Red Raiders will travel to New Wilmington this year to meet the gridiron combination of Westminster in the final contest of the season on Saturday, November 6.

This annual traditional battle between Edinboro and Westminster is certain to provide plenty of thrills. Anything can and does happen when these two teams meet.

Last Year's Game Was Thrill-Packed

Last year, this game—which was played on Edinboro's home field—proved to be thrill-packed. The thrill of the afternoon, regardless of personal feeling, took place when Jackie Laraway, Westminster back, intercepted an Edinboro pass and ran 85 yards for a touchdown. Edinboro, harrassed by pass interceptions though gaining plenty of ground with a running attack, was defeated 33-16.

So this year the Red Raiders will be out for revenge. With an open date next week, Coach Harrison is giving his men plenty of rest between games. At the expiration of this two week interlude, Edinboro ought to be well-primed for the Blue and White.

Former Red Raiders Will Play

An interesting angle to this game on the part of the players has developed by the transfer of two of last year's team mates to the New Wilmington school. Mike Barr, former Raider end, and Harry DePaulis, former tackle, will undoubtedly see action in the Westminster lineup. Both transferred to Westminster at the start of the present school year.

Mostly Girls' Sports

By Ruth Diehl

If the girls want outside sports this fall it looks as if they will either have to get rubber boots or else snow suits and skis.

The Color Rush which started at 6:30 Wednesday evening, October 13, and lasted till 6:30 a. m., Thursday October 19, showed the most spirit that we've had in years.

There was a mad scramble and fighting for colors Wednesday evening to see who could get the other side's colors. But, Margaret Hammond, a Phi, walked off with all the honors when she brought out yards and yards of the Delta colors, that she had found, stolen, or snatched from the Deltas. Altogether, the Phis got about 60 yards of Delta colors. The Deltas must have been asleep for they didn't produce much of the Phi colors.

Phi Score Complete Victory

The Phis carried off the honors of Color Day completely. We should

It seems to be a custom in some college fraternities for the initiated to donate useful articles for the benefit of the house. This usually led to raids on the local stores, restaurants, etc.

There was one college stoogent who, as he was leaving a cafe, dropped a sugar bowl. Immediately a hush fell upon the place; all eyes, including the proprietor's, turned to him.

Did this fluster him? Not a bit. Thinking quickly, he yelled out, "Who's the dirty rat that threw this at me?"

give them a big hand for this. It is the first time in years that they have beaten the Deltas in the Color Rush and in the Parade.

Color Day dawned far too early for most of the girls as they sleepily pulled themselves from their beds, so that they could be down to Haven Hall steps to watch the Freshman race for the Campus buildings and goal posts. At the dong of the 6:30 breakfast bell, shivering Freshman dashed in every direction for their goals. The Phis won the goal posts and every building except Music and Loveland Halls.

Miss Ruttle's dog didn't like this 6:30 a. m. rendezvous. In fact, her dog disliked being awakened so early that he wanted to start a fight with Sylvia who is among the "was beens" now.

Old Man Weather Plays Tricks

It looked as if old man weather was going to play a trick on us by having a blizzard on the day of our Color Parade, Thursday, October 14. But, he relented and melted the snow so that the paraders marched bravely down the football field, with the football boys gazing on in rapt wonder and astonishment at the clever ideas of the paraders.

Mostly Football

By Norman Dilley

Probably the greatest unsung hero is the common substitute. Saturday after Saturday he sits on the bench and views the Varsity Stars as they make the headlines. Yet for five days a week he is on the practice field offering his best physical and mental powers in order that the first team might derive the benefits of practice. It has been said that it takes eleven men to make a team. I say it takes twenty-two. The better the scrub team is, the better the Varsity men will have to be to hold their jobs. Even though he plays a very important part in the only practical method of training varsity men, the only glory that the sub gets is self-satisfaction of doing one's best and hoping that he will eventually break into the Saturday lineup.

Wolfe Snatches Passes at Indiana

At Indiana last week, our own left end, John "Elmo" Wolfe put on a display of forward pass snatching that would have made Larry Kelley of Yale look like a piker. He looked especially well on a couple of shoe-string snatches.

Alumnae Hockey Team Defeats the Varsity In Strenuous Game

Varsity Usually Wins The Games Between the Alumnae and Varsity

The Alumnae of the Edinboro College hockey team defeated the varsity in a strenuous game here Saturday at 10:30 a. m., October 9.

Usually the Varsity wins this hockey game but this year the Alumnae showed the Varsity what good material the College has really had, by walking off with a score of 4-0 in their favor.

Four of the forward line, backed up by their halfbacks and fullbacks, were able to score. There were Lindell, Dinges, Reno and Harned.

Alumnae Overshadow Varsity Players

The Varsity put all the pep and energy they could muster into the game, but the Alumnae were too good. Their long passes, quick acting, and good teamwork, completely downed the Varsity. It looks as if the future hockey teams will have to dig in if they ever want to beat this Alumnae group.

The lineups for the teams follow:

ALUMNAE		Varsity
Grimshaw	r.w.	Kruska
Adler	r.i.	K. Wilkins
Palfi	c.f.	Bemis
Covert	l.i.	K. Cochanides
Williams	l.w.	Bradford
Kafferlin	r.h.	Gleason
Lindell	c.h.	Andrews
Orton	l.h.	Hays
Turk	r.b.	Whiting
Griffen	l.b.	Hammond
Rhodes	g.k.	Kratz

Referee—Angela Ross.

Substitutions: Alumnae—Welker, Harned, Dinges, Fuller, Cochanides, Reno, Odell; Varsity—Diehl, Waterhouse, Rhodes, Sylvander, Lowery, Samkowski, Storer.

Good sportsmanship is a great asset to any team and is one of the principle purposes of athletics. Twice in our three games have Edinboro men shown noticeable sportsmanship. There probably were more occasions, but I especially noticed Captain Richard Intrieri who courteously permitted California to move the ball into a more favorable kicking position when they were forced back into the slight drop-off on the south end of our field.

Another act of sportsmanship was displayed at Indiana when Grant Abrams purposely missed tackling a downed opponent after the whistle had blown. Congratulations fellows!

We wish that somehow Captain Intrieri and Nick Demiankow would settle the question once and for all about who is the taller of the two.

The work of Lee Beck, who blocked an opponents punt, and Daniel Kusner, who broke into his first game of football, was noteworthy at the Indiana game last Saturday.

Door prizes, a Grand March, and an unusual Floor Show will further add to the program. Refreshments which are to be sweet (absolutely) cider and doughnuts (with holes) will be served at intermission.

As for music, this will be furnished by a real, live human band. Dick Peterson already has nine counts on Gordon Bennett. This should be of great interest to all dancers who like to see their orchestra.

Leon Mead is General Chairman in charge of the dance. He is being assisted by Lonel Watters, Decorations; Mary Green, Entertainment; Martin Shimko, Publicity; Dick Peterson, Orchestra, and Grace Waterhouse, Tickets (which you should secure now).

Not one word has been said about ticket prices (which, by the way, is advertising—not news), but that should not be considered for this is the Dance of the Year.
