Impressive Ceremonies Initiate Eighteen Into National Group

CALIFORNIA MEN INSTALL

Upsilon Chapter of Phi Sigma Pi was formally installed on the Edinboro Campus, Saturday, October 29, with eighteen former Chi Delta Sigma men being initiated at impressive ceremonies in Loveland Hall.

Previous to the installation ceremonies, National Counselor C. B. Wilson, a faculty member of California State Teachers College, Lee Hornbake, also a California instructor, William Frye, Samuel Paisley, Joe Bellasario, Joseph Zaffry and Marcelus Kinkleman, California members of Phi Sigma Pi, were honored guests at a dinner in Haven Hall dining room.

Is National Fraternity

Phi Sigma Pi is a national professional education fraternity and Edinboro's Upsilon Chapter is the twentieth unit of an organization that extends from Silver City, New Mexico, to Washington, D. C., as far north as Dickinson, North Dakota, and as far south as Nashville, Tennessee. Eight of the fourteen state teachers colleges of Pennsylvania have chapters.

Edinboro Welcomes New Faculty Member

Dr. Atkinson Has Extensive Education

Edinboro State Teachers College welcomes to its faculty a new member, Doctor Carroll Atkinson.

Dr. Atkinson is well-versed in many fields, having extensive education. He received his Ph. D. from George Peabody College for Teachers, his M. A. from the University of Southern California, and his B. A. degree from Lawrence College. Among other universities that he has attended is the University of Grenoble in France. Edinboro's new instructor is a member of the Phi Delta Kappa fraternity.

Having had much experience in the field of education, Dr. Atkinson was the Associate Professor of Education at North Texas State Teachers College. He served as the Principal at San Luis California, as a teacher in the Pasadena City Schools, and as the Superintendent of various schools in Oregon and Washington. He also coached athletics at the College of Idaho and Lawrence College.

Though having had a serious operation in a Cleveland hospital, Dr. Ross, who is reported to be recovering satisfactorily, expects to be home by Thanksgiving.

Educator Stresses Need For World Peace In Assembly Speech

Dr. Carson, Teacher in Chinese Schools, Outlines War Problems

OBSERVE ARMISTICE DAY

Armistice Day was recognized at Edinboro State Teachers College at 11 a. m., Friday, November 11, with a special assembly featuring Dr. Arthur L. Carson, director of the Rural Institute of Cheloo University, in Tsinanin, China.

Speaking before the body of college students and faculty members on "War and Peace", Dr. Carson remarked, "It's good to have a day set aside when we can look back and think about the tragedies of the world".

Teaches In China

Dr. Carson, who has been in China since 1921, is a graduate of Penn State, has a doctor's degree from Cornell, and is a recognized leader in the agricultural department of China.

The 'astronomical figures' concerning deaths in the war between Japan and China and the horrible conditions resulting from such have fixed in certain peoples' minds what war really means.

People Dislike War

As Dr. Carson stated, "When you see those things it is difficult to be optimistic. The peoples of those countries are very much the same as we and feel that they too do not like war."

Concerning our government for the type of people in the United States as very good, Dr. Carson said that our lack of government in international affairs is far below the average. The reason being that we of the United States are affected more internally than externally. We do not like to think too much about foreign statistics; but—"the time is still ripe for America to have some sort of foreign policy".

"In international affairs," Dr. Carson said, "we fail to understand that the other people are similar to us (Continued on Page Two)

Possible Occupation Is Seen By Contractors On January First

HAS EIGHTEEN ROOMS

The training school, a major unit in the college building program, will be completely finished by December 15 and ready for possible occupation by January 1, according to information given out by the local offices of the J. M. Bensinger Company, general contractors.

Before occupation by the Edinboro grade and high school pupils, the building must be approved and accepted by the General State Authority and the P. W. A.

Installation of the necessary furniture and equipment must be made after the building officially becomes the property of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. These may not be installed by January 1, though that is a possible date.

Contains Library

On the second floor, the west wing will contain a modern library. A science room, a biology laboratory and a commercial room and student teaching conference rooms will also be on this floor.

A combination auditorium-gymnasium, which will seat several hundred persons on portable chairs, will provide a playing floor for the high school's varsity teams, gym classes, and for the presentation of plays.

The main hallway of this building is over two hundred feet long. This gives some indication of the size of (Continued on Page Three)

FINAL SCORE IS 12-2

The Upper Classmen defeated the Freshmen 12-2 in an intramural six-man football game, the first of its kind to be played by members of the college, in a hard fought "tough" contest on a cold, muddy field Wednesday afternoon.

Taking advantage of the breaks and a series of short passes over the center of the line, the Upperclassmen went off the field victors though they (Continued on Page Four)

Miss Hillis To Speak On December First

Formerly Was Editor Of Vogue Magazine

Marjorie Hillis, author of "Live Alone and Like It", and former associate editor of Vogue Magazine, will lecture in the college auditorium on "The Art of Gracious Living".

Besides being a vivacious and entertaining speaker, Miss Hillis writes in a clever, witty and sparkling style much information helpful in matters of conduct and satisfactory living. "Orchids on Your Budget" and "Corned Beef and Caviar" are two of her more recent works. She is at present a regular contributor to the Good Housekeeping Magazine.

Miss Hillis is the daughter of Newell Dwight Hillis, famous New York preacher, author and lecturer.

Her writing reveals such picturesque wit as the following:

"Clear and honest thinking is one form of worship, and no one who does it sufficiently is permanently out of a job.

"There is something definitely wrong with people who don't mind needing to be helped.

"The more you enjoy yourself, the more of a person you are.

"Nothing is so damaging to self-esteem as waiting for a telephone or doorbell that doesn't ring.

Campus Lunch Becomes Dry-Cleaning Business On November Fifteenth

Mr. Calabrese Heads Well-Equipped Shop

After two years of being vacant the former Campus Tea Room will be converted into a dry cleaning, laundering, tailoring, and radio repairing establishment.

The work will be entirely on a retail basis and will include one day dry cleaning, laundering and radio repair service, cash and carry service, and motorcycle service to persons residing within Edinboro or its vicinity.

Mr. Calabrese Is Manager

Mr. Warren Calabrese, of Cleveland, who has been in business for the past fifteen years, formerly with the Buckeye and Summers Company at Cleveland, will have charge over the Edinboro concern.

The laundry, dry cleaning, and tailoring machines are such that immediate and efficient service and quality of work can be expected by every patron.

CLASSROOM OFFERS WHOLESOME DEVELOPMENT

Last year a number of students missed classes because they "did not feel like attending" or some other reason equally unjustifiable. The beginning of this semester witnessed the instituting of a compulsory attendance system whereby all students who have been absent from class must obtain, from the Dean of Instruction, permission to continue their class-work.

This new arrangement has been designed to awaken those students who have not fully realized just why they are in college—those students who do not seem to hold in view the fact that they are in training today to be the teachers of tomorrow, to go forth into a critical society as select material well-fitted to mold the characters of their pupils.

It is only natural that those who continually miss classes without a valid excuse lead others to believe that they have no interest in the opportunities extended to them here at Edinboro. Certainly they are not conscious of the financial sacrificing of their parents in order that they, the students, might be in school to learn and to be educated in the better ways of living. Are they a credit to themselves, to their parents, and to Edinboro? If they continue their slipshod, easy-come, easy-go tactics, can they render a worthwhile service later when they take their place in society? The answers are decidedly negative.

We are spending our best years in Edinboro. The college classroom offers the finest facilities for a wholesome development. Let us take advantage of them!

Frosh's Who's Who

By Mary Ruth Wasmuth

Will Schaaf, who is known by his close association with Mary Barber, is the president of the freshman class. Erie is well represented by him. Ellen Haiston is one of the few members of the class who comes from a great distance, Pottstown. Evidently our art course must have attracted her!

June Comes From York

June Howard must have also been attracted to our art course to have come all the way from York. She has another attraction now, Leon Mead. Bob Stephenson, another prominent member from Erie, has made quite a name for himself on the campus for his good work in football.

Demmy Speaks Well

Marian Demmy, our noted cheerleader, hails from quite a distance, Steelton. She is as well prepared to "knock 'em cold" in speech class as on the football field. Steve Lipchick from Erie, also is known for his excellent but impromptu speeches. He surely adds zest to the freshman class with that good sense of humor tho!

Vincent Plays Hockey

Betsy Vincent from Westchester, surely came a long distance to be hit in the head with a hockey stick. Experience is developing that hard hit of hers, too, so woe to the freshmen next year. Bill Volbers from Erie, is now the vice president of this class. He is also one of our most popular and handsome members.

Officers of the Upsilon Chapter are James Wood, president; Walter Nissen, secretary; Anthony Cutri, assistant secretary; Norman Dille, treasurer, and Martin Shimko, historian.

Faculty advisors are Waldo F. Bates, Royce R. Mallory, H. W. McNeese, Alfred J. Haller and C. E. Ellenberger

Emphasis of Phi Sigma Pi is placed on the furtherance of educational ideals and the advancement of teaching as a profession. Major activities center around the undergraduates interest in education as a life's occupation.

With Our Faculty

By Joe Norder

According to Dr. C. J. Christensen, supervisor of the Extension Division, Edinboro State Teachers College ranks first as having the largest extension program among the various state teachers colleges of Pennsylvania.

The courses, offered chiefly for teachers in service, are given in eleven centers of northwestern Pennsylvania, including Erie, Lawrence Park, Franklin, Titusville, Corry, Jamestown, Springboro, Linesville, Cochran, Wellsboro, and Centerville. At the present time ten regular instructors are engaged in administering the work, with courses of study including American Literature, Child Psychology, Comparative Government, Curriculum in Arithmetic, Diagnostic and Remedial Reading, English Literature, History of Civilization, Hygiene, School Law, U. S. Government, and U. S. History.

Extension classes of a similar nature are conducted each Saturday on the college campus, affording those teachers in service who reside in the vicinity of Edinboro the opportunity of furthering their education. An important part of this program consists of demonstration classes in the elementary grades of the campus training school.

A new feature of the extension program was inaugurated recently when Willis E. Pratt, Superintendent of Schools of Erie County, designated eighteen rural schools for the purpose of providing first-hand observation facilities for student teachers interested in rural education.

It is to be emphasized that the importance of the extension program lies not only in the sole purpose of instruction alone, but in the benefits rendered by the Edinboro group to these communities which our college serves. This can be best illustrated by enumerating several specific examples of faculty activity.

On Wednesday evening, November 16, Dr. Christensen addressed the Parent-Teachers Association of Albion, discussing the subject "Give Youth a Chance". Previous to this, at the occasion of the burning of the Edinboro Grange Hall mortgage, he spoke on "The Unique Place of the Grange in American Social Life". At the Warren County Pomona Grange, a joint meeting of all the Grange groups of Warren County, to be held December 2 at Youngsville, Dr. Christensen will present "The Great American Blunder".

Dr. L. H. Van Houten, head of the department of Education, has been administering tests to retarded school children in Oil City, Greenville, and Union City, for the purpose of determining their classification. He has recently lectured to Parent-Teachers Associations of Lincolnville, Cambridge Springs, Rockdale township, and the Erie County association.

By request of the superintendent of Erie City Schools, Miss Jane Ludgate, Instructor in Speech, is con-

Miss Skinner Designs Factory-made House As Perfect Home

Construction on Site Will Be Completed In Only Two Working Days

BILLINGS LAYS BASEMENT

Miss Skinner of the college Art Department hopes to eat her Thanksgiving dinner in her new 24-foot-square factory-made house. Miss Skinner herself drew up the plans for her midget house and the Lakeshore Company is taking care of the actual construction.

The house will occupy the small lot between the Snyder and Anderson homes on Meadville street. Mr. Wallace Snyder is to act as overseer for construction.

Moved Here in Sections

By being moved here in sections all ready for the foundation which Mr. Wilbur Billings is to lay, the house will not take more than two days for completion.

The Homesote Company of New Jersey is making the plaster-board material for the walls and these will be reinforced on the outside by siding.

From the basement to second floor it will be a perfect little model dream house. In the basement there will be a recreation room. On the ground floor will be a reception room and hall, a dining room, a modernly convenient kitchen, and a living room opening onto a garden terrace. Adjoining the house will be a garage. Upstairs, there will be a master bedroom, a bathroom and a studio opening onto two small guest rooms with built-in furniture. All in all, this red-topped tiny house will be one more attraction to Edinboro.

ducting a series of bi-weekly lectures at the Washington School in Erie. These lectures, which have been well attended by a purely voluntary group of elementary teachers, cover all phases of speech activities in the elementary school.

On Tuesday, November 15, Mr. Royce R. Mallory, Instructor in English, and Mr. Waldo F. Bates, head of the Art Department, addressed the Combined Women's Clubs of Cheswick and Springdale, Pennsylvania. Mr. Mallory spoke on "Some Functions of Poetry in Everyday Living", while Mr. Bates' subject dealt with "Art in the Home".

FROM ScaRAB:

The manner in which the Freshmen have enlarged our club is truly gratifying—we now have a larger membership than we have had for several years past. May our club expand until its size warrants the possession of a permanent clubroom. Then perhaps it will be given tenacy in an ideal location for up and coming artists. Does anyone have an inkling of what is to follow? No? Then here is the suggestion. What was at one time headquarters for the art department at Edinboro could be again as the headquarters for our ScaRAB club. By this, I mean, why not establish a permanent club room for ScaRAB members on the third floor of Normal Hall? It already has the atmosphere, all it needs is work and a few ingenious ideas to make it into a well nigh perfect studio. Or, as a member of the faculty has suggested, when as and if the high school vacates Room 13 in Loveland Hall, would it not be very professional and altogether modern and progressive for Room 13 to be used as a permanent club room studio for individual and ScaRAB activities—chance for extra-curricular art expression—portraits—still life—etchings—woodcarving—under individual “steam” and effort. The glove has been thrown down! Now let's hear the pros and cons from our members i. e. the benefactors.

Original Humor

By Nick Krivonak

CLASSROOM BONERS

In the naive blunders made in examination papers by school children and even college students some of the funniest comedy in the world crops up. We offer the following:

No is the adverb of negotiation.
William Tell invented the telephone.
A yokel is a part of an egg.
A swain is a female swan.

A monologue is a conversation between two people, such as man and wife.

Transparent means something you can look through, for instance, a keyhole.

Paradise Is Regained

Milton wrote “Paradise Lost”, then his wife died and he wrote “Paradise Regained”.

In mathematics Persia gave us the dismal system.

A woman's brain weighs almost as much as the human brain.

To keep milk from turning sour you should keep it in a cow.

A punch bowl is the place where prize fights are staged.

Illiteracy is one of the most common figures of speech.

An antique is something no one would be seen with if there were more of them, but which everyone wants when no one else has any.

A metaphor is a thing you shout through.

One of the main causes of dust is janitors.

Confucius was something like a loud noise.

He was arrested and held in custard until his trial.

A king who does everything he says he will is an absolute monkey.

Indians Are Protected

What has the government done to protect the Indians?

Put them in reservoirs.

Trigonometry is when a lady marries three men at the same time.

What is an heroic couplet?

When a hero and heroine are walking in the garden looking at the moon, they form a heroic couplet.

Artificial perspiration is what you make a person alive with when they are only just dead.

Disinfectant is a smell that is a great smell than the original smell.

A triangle is a circle with three corners to it.

To remove air from a flask, fill the flask with water, tip the water out, and put the cork in quick.

The male inhabitants of Paris are called Parasites.

A simple sentence is a sentence that means nothing.

Ned Whipple Works As College Carpenter For Sixteen Years

Interview Shows That Workshop Is Popular Place With Students

According to a recent interview with Mr. Whipple, the popular college carpenter, he first set foot in Edinboro sixteen years ago.

Known to all as simply, “Ned”, he is a friend of everyone not only when it comes to suggestions or help with reference to any problems of carpentry, but at all times.

So far as help to students is concerned, Ned remarked, “I'll be glad to help anybody at any convenient time concerning any problems in the line of my trade. There are, however, certain restrictions and help must be limited.”

Makes Everything

His “quarters”, or workshop, on the campus, is the little, square, brick building situated just east of the old power house. Here he does everything from making scenery for dramatic productions to fixing and repairing doors, locks, windows.

“The use of the machinery in the carpenter shop,” Ned stated, “is not permitted unless permission is asked of me, and operation of such only in my presence.”

His job, which is an artistic one, requires a sufficient amount of skill to get the desired effects. These abilities were the result of many years of carpenter experience, and many hours of constant practice.

Born in Crawford County

Ever since his boyhood days in Mosiertown, Crawford county, where he was born, he had “the knack to work with tools”. Although his father attempted to make a teacher out of him and put him through college, “Ned” still insisted that he become a carpenter because it was his outstanding goal or desire.

Mr. Whipple, having graduated from high school, began his apprenticeship with the Harper Lumber Company in Meadville, Pa. After serving two years there he went to Oil City, Albion, and then to Erie, where he made his home for ten years. Finally, in 1922, his trade directed him to his present surroundings, Edinboro.

Tournament Of Plays To Be Presented By Dramatic Club

Offer Six Productions Of Outstanding Plays On Two Evenings

MISS LUDGATE DIRECTS

The eighth annual tournament of plays will be given on November 30, and December 6. This college student project will be under the guidance of Miss Jane Ludgate, head of the speech department of the college.

Judges are Miss Gwendolyn Gleeten, of Edinboro, president of Alpha Psi Omega, Miss Laberta Mahoney and Miss Margaret Adler, of Erie, both members of Alpha Psi Omega.

Awards will be presented by Alpha Psi Omega to the director of the best performance, the designer of the most original, artistic and suitable scenery, and the student actor who shows the finest interpretation of his part.

The plays and their directors are “Highness”, a Russian play, directed by Lon Watters, November 30; “Wonder Hat”, a fantasy, directed by Maxine Teetsel, November 30; “Singapore Spider”, a murder mystery, directed by Richard DeRemer, November 30; “Bread”, a farm play, directed by Lee Jeffords, December 6; “The Dollar”, a Russian experience, directed by Leon Mead, December 6; and “The Barbarians”, a coal mine scene, directed by Elaine Ghering, December 6.

All college students will be admitted free. Admission for adults is 25c per night or two nights for 35c, whereas the admission for children and high school students is 15c per night or two nights for 25c. At these rates no one can afford to miss the fine program of plays which will be given.

Man Must Be Select To Wed Edinboro Girl

Must Have Well Paid Position at Marriage

Men, you must be more than an average husband if you wish to marry one of the Edinboro College women.

Numerous interviews reveal that the college bride of the future will follow her good judgement as well as her heart in the selection of a mate.

Here are some of the qualifications: You must have a good position, be able to provide a comfortable home, and some of the necessities of life. No longer do college women believe that love alone will be sufficient for lasting harmony in marriage.

You must not insist that your wife remain at home, but be willing for her to work if she so desires. The care of the children must be shared by both the husband and wife. These are the major qualifications.

Haven Hi-Lites

By Nancy Seay

After last week, Haven Hall has quieted down and is now back to the normal routine. We are sorry to hear that so many of the girls are on the sick list, and we hope they will soon be up and around. Was Ginny surprised when the team walked in the other day. It was quite unexpected.....wasn't it, Ginny? The freshmen and the sophomores are oh so busy attending "feeds" in the girls' rooms. Watch out girls.....those pounds!

Learn in Ten Lessons

Judging from the signs on the doors of the rooms, you can learn almost anything in ten easy lessons. Shirley Artman is singing the "Indian Love Call" once again. Take all of your love problems to Madmoiselle Karrlsooon. Advice by appointment only. Everyone enjoys a certain third floor lassie's Swedish accent and imitations. Hazel Dennison certainly loves "Ham". Who is the girl on second floor who can't stand on her feet? Louise Smith and Jean Butler seem to spend all their time in the library. We wonder why? Marjorie Welsh's pajamas attracted a lot of attention the other day in Haven Hall parlors. Warning to Kitty..... Ann's out to get your man! Helen Antico and Anne Krivonak are two of the "spark-plugs" of the girls' dorm. Roberta Phillips is still waiting for that certain letter.

Every day is moving day at Haven, since they have been putting in new floors. Because of the uproar, the girls spend most of their spare time at Jolley's.

So long, folksies, I have to start snooping for next week's news.

Time to go, but I'll be back; and if you know anything of interest, slip me a buzz on the lowdown and I'll print it.

Second floor Reederites have been living in terror for the past few weeks due to impromptu doublings at the hands of the merciless third deckers. The former, finding that the more exalted residents are somewhat aided by the gravity of the situation, find it necessary to keep under cover while watching out of the windows.

Grant "Water-wings" Abrams finds that Indians are not always nautical ones. Grant and friend went canoeing one Sunday but Abe slightly dampened the afternoon's fun by getting his genial companion a trifle upset.

Wanted: Automatic bow tie tier so that I can qualify as Joe College. Inquire: Honest Hank Kirshner.

The Frosh-Upper Classmen football games have received a record participation. This is the usual description of the game: "The Upperclassmen have the ball. They lineup with Hull in the Taylor back position. The ball comes back in a beautiful Spunelli, Hull takes it and Davies over the center of the line. On the second play the ball is fumbled because somebody Schaafed the center over. A Freshman comes in fast and Stoops to pick up the ball just as he is Wood-ed out and tackled. But wait, the ball is called back somebody used his Hahns on the play. The Frosh disagree and the game, as usual ends in an argument.

A short pass to Wood in the second quarter gave the Upperclassmen their first score after a short march down the field.

Midway in the third quarter the Freshmen marched almost the entire length of the field to the five yard line but failed to score when a short pass was dropped in the end zone. Crawford ended the scoring with only a minute and a half left when he caught a pass for the Upperclassmen's second score.
