The 2008 Edinboro Fighting Scots

Welcome to Edinboro University

Dear Edinboro Friends and Fans of the Fighting Scots:

What an exciting time to be on our campus and a part of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania!

In athletics, our regional rivals – Gannon University and Mercyhurst College – are now members of the PSAC-West. As a result, we're all more than eager to compete against our City of Erie neighbours! And in the spring, for the first time we'll field our varsity women's lacrosse team.

But there's even more happening at Edinboro University. I invite you to take a look around and you'll see the progress of the past year, and the ongoing new construction projects in many areas on campus.

Sox Harrison Stadium's one million dollar renovation of a year ago – the artificial turf, lighting and new scoreboard – have been widely embraced throughout the region, making our stadium one of northwestern Pennsylvania's premier athletic field venues.

Directly across Scotland Road from the stadium, our new multipurpose sports and recreation dome will soon be ready for business, meaning our varsity and intramural athletic teams will share one of the area's finest (and certainly the largest!) indoor practice facilities. Imagine training indoors on an NCAA regulation track or field while the wind howls and the snow flies in sub-freezing temperatures outside. But we'll also use the dome for much more than athletics. In fact, any major indoor event such as commencement and perhaps other community activities, for example, antique car shows, can and will be held there.

Across Scot Road to the south, the first phase of our $115 million student housing project is on track for January occupancy, bringing the finest in student living amenities to northwestern Pennsylvania. Continuing to head south on Scotland Road, the recent $20 million renovation and expansion of the Frank G. Pogue Student Center has quickly become a shining centerpiece and hub of campus activities.

Heading west on Scot Road, you might have noticed the construction just west of the beautiful and serene five-acre Mallory Lake. Within the year, our new Human Services Building will be ready for occupancy there, housing our Nursing programme and our Speech, Language and Hearing Department.

Continuing west along Normal Street, the new $5 million Dr. William P. Alexander Music Center, our first campus structure built specifically to meet the Music Department's needs, stands next to Academy Hall, the first campus building constructed in 1857 and now listed on the National Register of Historic Places. One of the oldest former Normal School buildings in the nation still used for academic purposes, Academy Hall recently underwent a $5 million renovation and now houses our Undergraduate Admissions Office. Please stop by on this or your next campus visit.

And if all that isn't enough, a $23 million construction project will soon be launched on exterior and interior expansion and renovation of Cooper Hall, which houses Edinboro's many science programmes.

So, you can see why we're so excited! Whether in the classrooms, laboratories, libraries or athletic venues, Edinboro University goes far beyond the norm in creating a 21st century higher education experience for the complete college student.

Whether athletics or academics or more than 100 extracurricular activities, whether undergrad or graduate programmes, great things are happening here! And they're going to get even better! I encourage you to be part of our winning team.

Enjoy your visit, and please return often.

Go Fighting Scots!

Head Coach

Scott Browning

3rd Year
Ohio State '81

Scott Browning knows a thing or two about the Edinboro football tradition. With twenty years under his belt as an assistant coach, he was all too familiar with the glory days of Edinboro football. So it didn't take him long to restore some lost traditions when he took over as the 13th head football coach of the Fighting Scots on January 5, 2006.

Most prevalent was the return to the "Boro", the common name the football team was referred to during the 1980's and '90's, some of the most successful periods in Edinboro football history.

One thing Browning didn't mess with was the tradition of winning. In fact, in his first two seasons Browning has tied the record for most wins by a coach with 13 victories. Only Bill McDonald, who guided the 1969 and 1970 teams to 13 wins, and Tom Hollman, who also totaled 13 wins in 1988 and '89, can match Browning's start.

His first edition finished with a 6-5 record, the most wins ever under a first-year coach. But it didn't end just on the football field. The Fighting Scots excelled in the classroom, including a cumulative team GPA of over 2.8 for the spring semester.

Browning became the first coach at Edinboro since Sox Harrison to win his first two games as head coach. That happened in 1926, the first year of football at the Boro. Thanks to a 28-14 win at West Chester, he became the first coach since Bill McDonald in 1969 to win his first game as head coach.

That victory, on the road at West Chester between a pair of 2005 NCAA playoff teams, also displayed Browning's propensity as a riverboat gambler. The Fighting Scots went for it on fourth down four times, and made it three times.

A year ago the Fighting Scots finished with a 7-4 record while facing one of the most difficult schedules in recent memory. Edinboro faced four nationally-ranked teams, upsetting 25th-ranked Bloomsburg thanks to a memorable comeback, 42-41, while losing to eighth-ranked California(Pa.), 17th-ranked West Chester and 24th-ranked IUP. In fact, Edinboro's four losses came to teams which combined for a 40-9.

The Fighting Scots also continued the strong academic trend, with 15 players earning PSAC Scholar-Athlete honors.

"I am very pleased to announce the promotion of Scott Browning to the position of head football coach at Edinboro University," stated then-President Dr. Frank G. Pogue at the time.

"Scott has been a member of the Edinboro coaching staff for 20 years. He has demonstrated his ability to not only coach athletes on the playing field, but also to lead young men by the example of his character and by his dedication to them as students and as individuals. He will join our other highly successful coaches at Edinboro University."

After serving as the offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator in Lou Tepper's first season, Browning took over as the offensive coordinator in 2001.

He had previously served as the offensive coordinator for five seasons under Tom Hollman. In all, Browning had served as Edinboro's offensive line coach the previous 12 years.

Browning joined the Edinboro program in 1986 as the running backs coach under Steve Szabo. After two seasons on the offensive side of the ball, the graduate of The Ohio State University moved to the defensive side, serving as the defensive backfield coach under Hollman. In 1994 he moved back to offense as the offensive line coach. He had remained in charge of the line-men since that time, coaching such All-Americans as Jeremy O'Day, Joe Valvoda and Greg Bzorek. The last two years Browning's offensive line led the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference in fewest sacks allowed.

When Tepper came on board in 2000, Browning was appointed the recruiting coordinator in addition to his duties with the offensive line. A year later he was named the offensive coordinator, and the Fighting Scot offense made great strides over the last five years. Browning emphasized a balanced attack which showcased the combination of a strong ground game and dangerous aerial attack. Over his last three seasons Edinboro averaged 29.9 ppg. in 2003, 33.2 ppg. in '04, and 31.4 ppg. in '05.

All told, Browning has been an assistant coach on all seven of Edinboro's NCAA playoff teams, along with five of the nine PSAC champion squads. He took over a team which has been to the NCAA Division II Playoffs two of the last three years, and during that period has posted a 26-8 record. The 26 wins were the most in a three-year period in Edinboro history.

"It goes without saying that I am extremely excited to have this opportunity," noted an elated Browning. "I was proud to be a part of the teams in the 1990's that ranked among the best in Division II, and over the last few years we have once again elevated the program to one of the best in the country. The University and the community of Edinboro mean a great deal to me. Over the years we have tried to become an integral part of this community. I am thrilled that I can continue that association while taking over a group of players that represent the ideals I believe in.

"I'm sure you will see some changes in the future, but I can tell you this, the ideals remain in place for this program, and always have in the time I've been here. Without question we want to be successful on the field, and that means challenging for the PSAC West title. But we won't compromise integrity. We will continue to bring in young men who have the ability to be successful both in the classroom and on the football field. It is my sincere belief that when they take the field, they must wear the Edinboro jersey with pride, and when they are in the community, that they have earned the respect that comes with being a Fighting Scot."

Browning has served on the staffs at three NCAA Division I institutions. Prior to joining the Fighting Scot staff, he coached receivers and running backs at Ohio State for two years while serving as a graduate assistant. That group included Keith Byars. The Buckeyes went to the Rose Bowl in 1984, dropping a 20-17 decision to USC to finish with a 9-3 record. The following year Ohio State went bowling again, this time defeating Brigham Young, 10-7, in the Citrus Bowl, to once again finish at 9-3.

Browning served as a graduate assistant coach at New Mexico State in 1982, and the following year instructed the receivers at Idaho State. Idaho State reached the NCAA Division I-AA Playoffs before suffering a 27-20 defeat to Nevada.

A 1981 graduate of The Ohio State University with a bachelor's degree in Education, Browning began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Worthington High School and Dayton-Fairview High Schools in Ohio from 1979-81. Before transferring to Ohio State he attended Capital University where he played football for one season. Browning later earned a master's degree in Education Administration from New Mexico State in 1983.

Browning, 49 and a native of Loudonville, Ohio, and his wife, Lynn, reside in Edinboro and have two children, Andrew (14) and Katelyn (10). His brother Mitch has also enjoyed a successful career as a football coach. After several noteworthy seasons as the offensive coordinator at the University of Minnesota, he was hired this past winter as the offensive coordinator at Syracuse University.

Wayne Bradford is in his tenth year as a member of the Edinboro coaching staff. He enters his fourth season as the Fighting Scot defensive coordinator, and had previously held the same title in 1999 under former head coach Tom Hollman. After overseeing the defensive line for seven seasons, Bradford took over as the linebackers coach in 2006.

Bradford orchestrated the top defense in the country three years ago, as Edinboro paced Division II in scoring defense (9.3 ppg.), total defense (211.2 ypg.), and rushing defense (53.7 ypg.). In addition, Edinboro was third in pass efficiency defense and turnover margin. The Fighting Scots recorded three shutouts, the most since the 1975 team also shut out three opponents. A total of seven opponents were held to seven points or less. He coached four all-conference performers a year ago.

Two years ago his defensive unit recorded two more shutouts while leading the PSAC in rushing defense (70.6 ypg.), good for third in the country.

A year ago Bradford guided a young defense that ended up having five players earn All-PSAC honors.

Under Bradford's tutelage, Edinboro has had thirteen first team All-PSAC West defensive linemen. In fact, he has been responsible for three of the last four PSAC West Defensive Players of the Year, with Ben Stroup earning the honor in 2006, Chris Amico the 2005 recipient, and Seth Fragale the winner in 2004.

Bradford had previously been at Salisbury State since 1990, and was the Sea Gulls' defensive coordinator from 1994-98.

Edinboro '06

Edinboro head coach Scott Browning considers former Boro standout Anthony Peluso an up-and-coming talent in the coaching profession.

Peluso will once again work as an assistant coach in charge of the offensive line, a duty he assumed two years ago. He is also in charge of the strength and conditioning program. Three years ago Peluso assisted current head coach Scott Browning with the offensive line.

A native of Aliquippa, PA, Peluso was a three-year starter at right guard for the Fighting Scots. In all, he started his final 33 games at Edinboro, while playing in 43 career games.

As a senior, Peluso was a key reason Edinboro made its first appearance in the NCAA Division II Playoffs since 1995, finishing the year with a 9-3 record. He earned first team All-PSAC West honors and was an honorable mention D2Football.com All-American. He also earned second team Football Gazette All-Northeast Region recognition.

Peluso has played professionally the last three years for Erie's entry in the AIFA, an indoor football league. He has been a starter on the offensive line since joining the Erie Freeze midway through the 2006 season. This season the team was the Erie RiverRats. Peluso was accorded All-AIFA Northern Division honors.

Peluso completed work on his bachelor's degree in Social Science in May 2006. He is single and resides in Edinboro.

Sox Harrison Stadium

Sox Harrison Stadium serves as the home of the Fighting Scots. Dedicated in 1965, the stadium honors the memory of B. Regis "Sox" Harrison, the head football and basketball coach at Edinboro University for 34 years. Sox Harrison was the key figure in the building of Edinboro's athletic program, unselfishly devoting 34 years of service to the University as an athletic director, coach and physical education instructor. Appropriately, he was the first member inducted into the Edinboro Athletic Hall of Fame in 1982.

Harrison coached the Fighting Scot football team from its inception in 1926 to 1938, the returned to guide the gridders in 1941 and '42. In addition, he coached the men's basketball team for 23 seasons, from 1928-53, winning 175 games.

The stadium received a facelift last summer, giving it a spanking new look. Most noticeable is the installation of an artificial surface, Sportex, to replace the natural grass. And it is now illuminated, with lights being installed for the first time. Finally, a new scoreboard was installed.

Sox Harrison Stadium seats 6,000 people in its two grandstands, along with plenty of standing room. In addition to press boxes on both sides of the stadium, the facility has locker rooms, a training room and complete amenities for fans.

The stadium has undergone several renovations, including a new sound system and improved handicapped access areas in 1999. In 1997, a new grandstand was constructed on the visitor's side of the field, adding 2,500 permanent seats, along with a press box, locker rooms and a training room.

In addition to the football field, the facility contains complete track facilities.

MIDTERM QUIZ EDITION

Touchdown Illustrated presents our Mid-term Quiz edition. This is our first of what we hope to become an annual tradition of putting to the test the smartest minds in all of sports: college football fans.

So grab yourself a pencil or have somebody else read you the questions, take awhile and see how much you know about all levels of the game.

A warning: this is not a quiz to be taken lightly. There are some doozies in here. The person who does well on this quiz is someone with a well-rounded knowledge of all college football related material at all levels of the game. The kind of person who does not back down from any kind of question, saying, "Why should I know that?" but instead says, "Why shouldn't I know that?"

So read closely, do your best, take your time (unless you want to time yourself vs. your friends), and let us know how you did!

TDI Game Ball Goes To: Northern Arizona University Lumberjacks

BY STEPHANIE PLOTINO

Corey Slater

There's nothing more fulfilling than saving a life. Well, maybe except for saving eight lives, all the while improving the health of about 50 others.

That's exactly the potential that one organ donor possesses, and exactly the message the Northern Arizona University Lumberjacks football team is trying to spread.

"There are always people that need certain things that not everyone gives," says Corey Slater, an organ donor and junior quarterback at NAU. "We just want to build awareness [about organ donation] among the people around us. We are in a small town, and I think that the football team easily can influence the 60,000 people who live in this 10-mile radius. It's not like we're in a huge city like Phoenix that has one or two million people where it's harder to make a difference."

To get the word out, the NAU football team partnered with the Arizona Organ Donor Network and set up information booths for five days this spring in the campus' conference center and University Union. It was all part of a community service project, which the team hopes to turn into a long-term program.

Carl Franks, a Lumberjacks football assistant coach who oversaw the project, says he armed his players with all the information they needed and hoped they would reach out to about 30-50 people.

The project turned out to be a bigger success than Franks, or any of the players, ever could have imagined.

"It was intense," Slater says. "We were doing it for five days and we got quite a few people.

We got 350 people to sign up. You put those numbers together, and that's a lot of possible lives to save."

To be exact, that's 2,800 possible lives to save through organ donation alone, and about 17,500 potential others whose lives can be enhanced through tissue donation. To put it another way, those 350 donors have the ability to affect the lives of more people than can fit into NAU's 16,230-seat J. Lawrence Walkup Skydome, where the football team plays its home games.

While those numbers are impressive, it only takes one to make it all worthwhile.

The one who inspired the NAU football team to get involved in the cause is Barry Brennan, an NAU booster who lives near the Flagstaff, Ariz., campus. He was in dire need of a liver transplant and received a donation from a local high school football player who passed away.

Slater helps to pass on the message about organ donation.

"[Barry] was down to 90 pounds, and he's six feet tall," Slater says. "He was basically dead and he finally got a transplant, and he's still going strong. That was eight years ago now."

In addition to a liver, a donor can also give a heart, pancreas and small intestine, as well as both lungs and both kidneys. For recipients in need of tissues, a donor can give corneas, skin, bone marrow, heart valves, and connective tissue.

"There are people out there who need help," Slater says. "Donation or a blood drive, I'm all about it. Be a donor."

Senior K/P Robbie Dehaze, Barry Brennan, senior TE Shaun Fitzpatrick and head coach Jerome Souers.

Norm Dicks

Distinguished Representative and Homeland Security Committee Member Fêted at 2008 Lone Sailor Awards Dinner

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Congressman Norm Dicks (D-WA), currently serving his 16th term of office and a member of the Appropriations and Homeland Security Committee, was honored for his service to country and community at the United States Navy Memorial's 2008 "Lone Sailor" Awards Dinner on Tuesday, September 30. Joining Rep. Dicks were honorees A. G. Lafley, Chairman and CEO of Procter and Gamble and former Navy Supply Corps Officer and Arnold Palmer, sports legend and Coast Guard veteran. John McConnell, recently deceased founder of Worthington Industries, was also recognized posthumously. The black tie gala took place at The National Building Museum, 401 F. Street, NW, Washington, D.C.

The United States Navy Memorial Foundation presents a Naval Heritage Award to distinguished Americans who have significantly supported this nation's Sea Services, and whose lives and careers exemplify the core values of Honor, Courage and Commitment. In receiving the Naval Heritage Award, Congressman Dicks joined an impressive list of those who have made a difference to the men and women who have served, are serving and will serve in the sea services through their actions and support of the men and women in uniform.

"Our honorees are living examples of how service to country changes lives and helps develop leaders – whether it be in the world of sports, politics, government, the private sector or the arts," said Rear Adm. Richard A. Buchanan, USN (Ret.), President and CEO of the United States Navy Memorial. "The common theme they all express is that their public service has made them who they are today and motivates them to continue to give back to our society."

Congressman Norm Dicks (D-WA), was first elected to represent Washington State's 6th Congressional District in 1976, and he has been re-elected in every subsequent election. Having received a rare first-term appointment to the House Appropriations Committee, Dicks currently serves as the third ranking member of that Committee as well as three key Appropriations Subcommittees: Defense, Interior & Environment and Military Construction/Veteran's Affairs. Widely respected as an influential and moderate Member of Congress on defense and national security issues, Dicks works closely with the Navy community based at his native Bremerton, Washington. He graduated from the University of Washington in 1963 and received his Juris Doctor degree from the University of Washington School of Law in 1968.

Conveniently located on Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., the United States Navy Memorial honors the men and women of the United States Navy – past, present and future. The outdoor plaza features a "Granite Sea" map of the world, towering masts with signal flags, fountain pools and waterfalls and The Lone Sailor® statue. Adjacent to the outdoor plaza is the Naval Heritage Center, where visitors can find educational displays about the contributions of the men and women of the Sea Services (Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and Merchant Marine). Also housed in the Naval Heritage Center is The Navy Log, the National Registry of Sea Service, where members, veterans and their families can search for shipmates and register a permanent record of their service for free.

For a list of award recipients, go to the Navy Memorial's web site at www.navymemorial.org, or contact Taylor Kiland, Vice President of Marketing and Communications, at (202) 380-0718 or tkiland@navymemorial.org.

TDI PRESENTS, ORIGINAL FICTION “Center” BY MATT ROUGE

Part Three: Dale struggles to control his emotions and maintain focus on friendships and the game he loves — football.

In July, 1948, Dale’s arrival on campus has been bittersweet. Despite his scholarship to an excellent football school, the star center mourns his mother’s recent death and finds his best friend Vince—also his girlfriend’s older brother—growing more and more distant.

Dale Trump grabbed the receiver of the sole pay phone on floor three of Fanning Hall. He smiled, eager to talk to his best friend, Vince Graham.

“Hey there, fancy you shelling out the nickels,” he said.

“Heh heh, I figured it was time to catch up!” said Vince in a voice that was somewhat faint but still clear and audible.

“Thanks for the post card. I appreciate those words about me and Jenny,” said Dale.

“Right. Well, I figured we’d talk about important things like football before we talked about that, but—”

“Not much, really. I just thought that it was time for you to move on. You’re a college man now. You’ll have lots of options on campus and in town,” said Vince.

Dale’s heart was beating fast in surprise and rising anger. Still, he managed to continue the conversation with a cool, level tone of voice: “Are you saying so for my sake or Jenny’s?”

“It’s both,” said Vince. “Her grades haven’t been so great, and she really needs to concentrate on school. And you need to focus on the gridiron—we’ve got a big game coming up!”

Dale could not tell whether the levity in Vince’s tone was authentic, but his own manner remained calm: “I’ve got my priorities straight, I think.”

“Yeah, well, maybe you could consider it a personal favor,” said Vince.

“There’s no reason for this,” said Dale. “If you’ve got a problem with me, why don’t we deal with it on the field in September?”

“Why would I have a problem with you? We’re best friends,” said Vince.

“It hasn’t seemed so for a while,” said Dale.

“Maybe someone’s jealous,” said Vince in a sharp tone.

“If I was, I still wouldn’t try to take anything away from you because of it,” said Dale, starting to lose some of his composure.

“Listen, Dale. You’ve got a good school and a good team, but Nielsen is—well, we’re just a cut above. I feel for you. We’re still pals, okay? But I need you to break it off with Jenny.”

“You just told me in your post card to take care of her!” said Dale, at last raising his voice.

“I know. Practice up. I’ll see you in September.”

Dale heard a click; his hands were shaking with rage. He returned to his dorm room.

“Some best friend,” said Dale, sitting down on his bed. “I’m going steady with his sister, and he asked me to break it off.”

“Oh my. I don’t suppose he told you his reason?” said Tex.

“It sounds like he just doesn’t want her dating a college man,” said Dale.

“Or a football player?”

“No, he’s a football player too. Just starting JV, like us, at Nielsen.”

“A Texas-sized rivalry if there ever was one,” said Tex.

“You can say that again,” said Dale. “You and I’ve got to beat this guy and his team in September, you hear?”

“Loud and clear. You just snap it clean and block hard and let me do what I do good.”

“You’ve got a deal,” said Dale, shaking hands with Tex. “Well, let’s get my stuff up here and get my car over to my Aunt Judy’s. She lives right near campus, so I’m going to park it there. I can try to call my girlfriend while we’re there, too.”

“Sure,” said Tex. “I hope your aunt’s got some food.”

The two teenagers took little time or care in getting Dale’s things from the car to the room. Aunt Judy’s house was just a few minutes away. The sixty-two-year-old great aunt welcomed Dale with a hug and kiss and Tex with a friendly caress of the arm.

“Oh Dale, I just love your car. And your friend. I love your friend more, of course—he’s a person. And you’re both football players, too, aren’t you?”

“That’s right, ma’am,” said Tex, hesitating somewhat to take a seat on the crushed red velvet living room couch. Two old longhaired cats lounged on the back of the couch, and two old Labrador retrievers also appeared, showing their affection with wet tongues. Dog and cat hair covered the rug and the furniture and seemed to float like a vapor in the air.

“I see you’ve met my lovelies, Tex. They adore college men.—Dale, why the long face? You look horrible.”

“I’m not feeling so great, Aunt Judy,” said Dale. “Vince has been acting funny.”

“I love Vince—such a nice young man. Whatever could be wrong?” said Aunt Judy, bringing out a tray of lemonade and cookies.

“Certainly,” said Aunt Judy, waving him toward the phone. The operator connected Dale to Jenny’s house, but there was no answer. The football players visited with Aunt Judy a little longer, but Dale was not talkative.

“You are silent this evening, Dale,” said Aunt Judy. “You say you have R, O—what’s it called?”

“Reserve Officers’ Training Corps,” said Tex, “or ROTC for short. The school requires it. Tonight we have an orientation.”

“I think that’s good for young men; it builds character. Just like football. Wouldn’t you say so, Dale?”

Dale didn’t reply; he was staring off into space. He was just as quiet on the walk back to campus.

"I guess this romantic problem is really eating at you," said Tex.

"Good guess," said Dale.

"I bet our ROTC training will get your blood pumping and help you forget a bit."

"Yeah," said Dale.

"My brother's in Japan. He was there fighting, then went back to help build a base there. You got anybody in the service?"

"My brother Jim should be getting out soon. He never saw combat, though. Sounds like he's going to marry an Austrian girl."

"Is that so?"

The Army ROTC sergeant did indeed give the two men, along with many others, a workout. Nearly everyone in attendance was involved in sports, so the orientation also served to gather together the freshman members of the junior varsity football team for a post-training exchange of facts, rumors, and opinions.

"Looks like our two stars got here safely," said a chunky lineman. "Our big ol' scholarship boys." Dale was surprised to find himself named a "star" along with Tex.

"We're roommates, too," said Tex. "How do you like that?"

"Well, don't let it get to your head," said a tall and somewhat thin player in a dour tone. "The workout Coach is going to put us through will make this Army stuff look like a cakewalk."

"He's tough, I hear," said Dale.

"Tough?" said the lineman. "He eats freshmen for breakfast. No team in the conference has more washouts. And tomorrow some of us are going to start washing out."

Dale and Tex exchanged a quick, knowing glance. The others had already decided that they were different, and they had decided not to object. As roommates, as friends, and as a two-man team of quarterback and center within the football team, they would not let each other wash out.

In the Next Issue: The Confrontation.

All-Americans

Harlan Hill Trophy

Two Edinboro football players have been finalists for the Harlan Hill Trophy, presented annually to the top player in NCAA Division II football. Running back Elbert Cole was one of three finalists in 1989, while wide receiver Ernest Priester was a finalist a year later. Cole placed third in the '89 balloting. He earned All-American honors in 1989, receiving first team accolades from Kodak/American Football Coaches Association, second team recognition from Football Gazette, and third team status from Associated Press.

Cole rushed for 1,507 yards and set Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference records for touchdowns (24) and points (148). He led the Fighting Scots to the PSAC West title, a 8-3 record and a number seven ranking in the final Division II poll.

Priester was runnerup to North Dakota State quarterback Chris Simdorn in 1990 when the Bison claimed the Division II national title. Priester was the PSAC Western Division Co-Player of the Year in 1990. He was also recognized by Kodak/American Football Coaches Association, Associated Press and the Football Gazette as a first team All-American.

The wide receiver hauled in 47 passes for 1,102 yards and 15 TDs. Edinboro finished 9-3, reaching the Division II quarterfinals.

Last year sophomore quarterback Trevor Harris was a Northeast Region semifinalist.

Four years ago Andre Burke (below) made a run at the Harlan Hill Trophy, as the tailback was a Northeast Region semifinalist. Burke ended up with a school-record 1,713 yards and 19 TDs.

The Cactus Bowl

Kyle Witucki continued the tradition of Edinboro Fighting Scots playing in the Cactus Bowl in January 2008. (NOTE: The 2007 contest was suspended.) The tight end hauled in an eight-yard touchdown reception to help the East All-Stars beat the West All-Stars, 42-13. For a number of years Division II football teams had an all-star game named the Snow Bowl, which was played in Fargo, North Dakota. In 2000 the contest was moved to Kingsville, Texas and renamed the Cactus Bowl. The contest features the top small college seniors in the country. Edinboro has had at least one representative in every Cactus Bowl (aka Snow Bowl) but one, with a streak of eight straight years. Here's a complete list of the Fighting Scots who have performed in the Cactus Bowl Division II All-Star Game.

Cummings and Hansen Named Pete Nevins Scholar-Athletes of the Year

Chris Cummings

Jennifer Hansen

Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference Commissioner Steve Murray is proud to recognize 1,488 student-athletes from the league who will be known as "Scholar-Athletes" for the 2007-08 academic year. The total eclipses last year's figure of 1,420.

Atop the list are the 2007-08 PSAC Pete Nevins Scholar-Athletes of the Year: Mansfield's Chris Cummings and Slippery Rock's Jennifer Hansen.

The PSAC Pete Nevins Scholar-Athlete of the Year Awards are presented to the top student-athletes who have achieved at least a 3.25 cumulative grade point average while competing at an outstanding athletic level. Student-athletes must have been recognized as a Fall, Winter or Spring Top Ten Award winner to be eligible.

In its 18th year of existence, the awards were renamed in 2007 to honor East Stroudsburg's long-time sports information director Pete Nevins, who passed away earlier that year after a short battle with cancer. Nevins held his position at ESU for 33 years, and it is estimated that he wrote articles on more than 12,000 ESU events that covered more than 5,000 student-athletes.

Cummings, a graduate student at Mansfield, excelled in his final season of eligibility. He was the only PSAC male to garner All-America honors in cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field. His highest national showing came with a second-place finish in the mile during the indoor championships. At other NCAA Championships, he placed sixth in the 1,500m during the outdoor season, and was 26th at the cross country nationals. During the indoor season, Cummings won the mile and ran a leg of the winning distance medley relay at the PSAC Championships. He was crowned co-MVP of the meet and was later recognized as the 2008 PSAC Indoor Track Athlete of the Year.

Recently named an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship recipient, Cummings maintained a 4.0 GPA while pursuing his master's degree in education. As an undergraduate, Cummings carried a 3.86 GPA as a physics major. He finishes his storied career at Mansfield as a five-time All-American - twice each in indoor and outdoor track and field, and once in cross country. Between the two track seasons, the Mansfield native owns school records in nine individual and four relay events.

Hansen, a junior elementary education major, has established a 4.0 GPA. The Charleston, W. Va. product continues to set new standards in the pole vault, which includes All-America citations during this year's indoor and outdoor seasons, finishing third at both national events.

Her outdoor season included a vault of 13-3.75 at the league championships, establishing a new meet record. Coupled with her third-place effort in the long jump, Hansen was named the Most Valuable Field Athlete for the meet. Just a few weeks earlier Hansen established a new PSAC overall record in the pole vault, clearing 13-5.25 at Allegheny's Gator Invitational. It marked the fourth time in two weeks that she had broken the conference record. During the indoor season, Hansen registered a meet and overall record by vaulting 13-1.25 at the conference championship and was later honored as the PSAC Field Athlete of the Year.

Hansen was one of only three PSAC student-athlete to earn first-team Academic All-America status from ESPN The Magazine, and the only one to do so in the cross country/track and field category. She is a five-time PSAC Champion and four-time All-American.

This marks the 23rd season that I have been fortunate enough to be a member of the Edinboro football staff. During that time it has been very gratifying to see the response of local organizations in assisting Edinboro football. In recent years the service organizations has provided invaluable assistance, including running the 50/50 raffles. We look forward to working with these organizations again this year, and thank them for their support of Boro Football.

Today's Feature

Time to Give the "D" Some Love

by Bob Shreve, Sports Information Director

Much has been written all year about the Edinboro offense, and rightfully so. But in case you haven't noticed, the Fighting Scots defense has also done an outstanding job. For instance, Edinboro ranks second in the PSAC in scoring defense (12.1 ppg.) and rushing defense (97.3 ypg.) and third in total defense (270.8 ypg.) while holding the last four opponents under 85 yards in rushing. We thought we'd take a look at three of the defenders.

Mike Enoch (DE, 6-4, 242, Sr., Fredonia, NY)

By the Numbers: Has 20 tackles, with 6.5 for losses and team-high 4.5 sacks. He's in his third year as a starter and has now started 28 games in his career.

What's the difference in the defense this year?: "I think it's mainly chemistry and attitude. We have a group of guys here this year who have gelled together. They've led the defense and brought us back up to where we need to be."

Discuss your play against

IUP: "It was probably one of my better games. I don't think I did anything different. I just try to play as hard and as physical as I can."

Talk about the senior leadership: "The seniors have done a good job this year but it's a big credit to the young kids to be able to step up. You look at a team like Clemson. If you don't have good younger guys to step in it doesn't work."

DL coach Keith Braxton on Mike Enoch: "This year I would say he's making the plays he's supposed to make. In the past he didn't. He's matured as a player. He's the only senior on the line, and he's taken a leadership role. He's been mentoring the younger players, particularly Keir (Jeter). He has become a leader. In the past he was content to be one of the guys."

Hardin Moss (OLB, 6-1, 220, Sr., Erie, PA)

By the Numbers: Has tackles, with 3 for losses and 2.5 sacks. He has started a total of 17 games in his career and has been a regular at outside line-backer the last two years.

What's the difference in the defense this year?: "I don't know if we're playing any differently. You have to have the mentality, the drive. We want to be physical and dominate the opponent."

Talk about the senior leadership: "I think what happens is the younger players see how hard we work. They're talented, we just show them how to work hard. As seniors we want to lead. Hopefully we can lead us to the promised land."

What do games like Gannon and Mercyhurst mean to you as a local player: "It's like being back in high school. It's like playing a Central, a Strong Vincent, or a Prep. We definitely embrace playing the local teams."

Defensive coordinator/LB coach Wayne Bradford on Hardin Moss: "Hardin is a soft-spoken, quiet guy, but really intelligent. He really understands the game. He's similar to Y'hoshua Murray in that he has done well with his role. It's been a little bit different at times for him because he comes out in the nickel. Against IUP he made four or five big plays that switched the momentum."

Y'hoshua Murray (ILB, 5-11, 220, Sr., Braddock, PA)

By the Numbers: Leads Scots with 56 tackles, with 4.5 for losses, a sack and an interception. He transferred to Edinboro after playing at IUP in 2003 and '04. He has started 13 games as Fighting Scot.

What's the difference in the defense this year?: "We play together. We trust one another. We have that cohesiveness. We take for one another. That's the biggest difference from last year. We have a bond."

Talk about the senior leadership: "I think the seniors definitely bring leadership. Hardin, Mike Enoch, Ryan Greene. When a plays needs be made we need to step up. Like we did against IUP. The seniors kept everybody focused."

How good did the win against IUP feel: "It was definitely one we wanted. I still know a lot of the coaches and players there. When I was down there we lost twice to Edinboro. Then last year we lost to them. I wanted to get the win."

Defensive coordinator/LB coach Wayne Bradford on Y'hoshua Murray: "He really has been the glue. He keeps everybody else together with his maturity. He really knows the game. He makes up for maybe what he lacks in physical ability with his smarts. He has exceeded my expectations."

Head coach Scott Browning on Mike Enoch, Hardin Moss and Y'hoshua Murray: "You have three guys there who have done a tremendous job leading us for the last two years, and for a couple the last 4-5 years. They're the foundation of what we're doing. All have done a tremendous job in leading us. And you need to include Ryan Greene in that group. They've all led us to where we are right now."
