Greetings from the President

Dear Family, Friends and Fans of the Fighting Scots:

Welcome to Edinboro University and thank you for your interest in Fighting Scot Cross Country and Track & Field. We are proud of the spirit of excellence, teamwork and collegiality that is fostered by our men's and women's programs in basketball, cross country, football, soccer, softball, swimming, track, volleyball, wrestling, and wheelchair basketball. Our student-athletes are unique and dedicated individuals who excel both in and out of the classroom. They entertain and inspire us through competition in the PSAC, EWL and NWBA athletic conferences.

The University-wide theme that will guide us through our Sesquicentennial celebration in the year 2006-07 is, "Building a prosperous future through academic excellence and civility." This theme challenges the academic community to consider its role in enabling the success and vitality of our students and the region, state, nation, and world that we serve. Clearly, athletic events and programs enhance the quality of life for the northwestern Pennsylvania region while also providing student-athletes and others with learning experiences that will serve them for a lifetime.

I express appreciation to our coaches and Athletics administration and staff for the excellent leadership and guidance they provide for our student-athletes. It's great to be a Fighting Scot fan! Go Scots!

Sincerely,

Frank G. Pogue

Head Coach

Doug Watts

Excellence in coaching and a winning tradition are terms that have become synonymous with Edinboro University cross country and track and field coach Doug Watts. Since his arrival at Edinboro in 1969, the Running Scots have experienced nothing but success, producing numerous All-Americans and team championships, as well as four individual cross country champions and five individual track champions.

Watts' coaching credentials speak for themselves, including 30 consecutive undefeated cross country seasons and a string of 114 straight dual meet victories. Watts' squads have also produced a total of six national championships, including back-to-back-to-back NCAA Division II titles from 1986 through 1988 and back-to-back NAIA titles in 1975 and 1976. His teams can also boast five Division II runner-up trophies, plus finishes of third (twice), fourth (three times), fifth, sixth (twice), seventh (twice), eighth (three times) and ninth.

In total, the men's squads have 16 top ten finishes at the national meet in the last 22 years. His women's program, though yet to crown a national champion, has also established itself as one of the premier programs in the NCAA East Region and on the national stage. That includes four straight top five finishes at the national meet. An "uncountable" amount of conference, district, and regional "Coach of the Year" awards are scattered throughout his office, including Edinboro's 2001-02 Coach of the Year award. He was inducted into the Edinboro Hall of Fame this past spring.

The National Coach of the Year five times, Watts has published numerous distance-running articles for national publications. Twice an Olympic coach nominee, Watts annually conducts a summer pre-season endurance training camp, the Edinboro Distance Village, for young men and women. In addition, 16 of his Edinboro athletes have been U.S. Olympic Trial qualifiers.

Most recently, Watts has ventured into the administrative portion of his sport, as the past President of the NCAA Division II Track and Field Coaches Association and presently serving as the Vice President of the USTCA National Coaches Association. In addition, he is the head of the NCAA Division II Cross Country Hall of Fame Committee and is a member of the USATF Coaches Advisory Committee.

A 1964 graduate of the University of Akron with a degree in Health and Physical Education, Watts began his coaching career at Walsh Jesuit High School in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio. He introduced a running program at Walsh Jesuit that yielded a two-year record of 19-0 and a district championship. Watts and his wife Margaret have two adult children, Wendy and Christopher.

Edinboro's Cross Country Philosophy

"Generally, we attract the middle distance and distance athlete who is seeking a special environment for running," says head coach Doug Watts about his track and cross country programs at Edinboro University. "A student-athlete should consider Edinboro because of the following reasons":

1. A small school setting, academically oriented, that generally allows for a fuller personal development in the classroom, athletic and social activities; yet offers a large, diversified choice of educational majors and specialties.
2. A TEAM concept in training competition.
3. A distance-based training program integrating selected road races as a training supplement.
4. Division I schedule of intercollegiate competition.
5. A program that allows personal direction and individualism, a proper balance between academics and athletics... and fun.
6. A tradition of excellence and proven success in running within an environment supportive and respectful of distance runners.

After earning All-American honors three times in cross country and becoming the first person in the history of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference to capture the 1500, 5000, and 10,000 meter events at the same meet, Carl Leonard (above right) still had one accomplishment missing from his remarkable career at Edinboro University ... a national championship. The Morristown, Wales native waited until his last collegiate meet to rectify that. Competing at the 1996 NCAA Division II Outdoor Track National Championships, Leonard forever etched his name among the Fighting Scot running elite with a first place finish in the 5000 meters.

National Champions

Dave Antognoli

David Antognoli was head coach Doug Watts' first recruit back in 1969. Antognoli is, according to Watts, the reason Edinboro became creditable on the national level, and helped lay the foundation for the successful program that exists today. The recruiting classes of 1972-73 followed in the footsteps of Antognoli and led to Edinboro's six national team titles.

Antognoli won a multitude of individual titles, including three national titles, and many All-American certificates in cross country and track. He was awarded the Sox Harrison Award as the top male senior athlete in 1973 after winning the cross country championship in 1971, the NAIA 10,000 meters title in 1972, and the USTFF national championship in the six mile event. He also was the top collegiate finisher in the 1972 Olympic Trials.

Greg Beardsley

In 1982, in a brutal combination of calf-deep snow, 20-degree temperatures, and a chilling wind, the crowd at the finish line of the 1982 NCAA Division II championships in St. Cloud, Minnesota was barely able to make out the faint outline of Greg Beardsley, who crossed the finish line in a record 60.9 seconds before the rest of the field to win the national championship. Beardsley recalls his experiences as "great, but very cold!"

"You are what you train," shares Beardsley.

Beardsley won the Sox Harrison Award as the top male senior athlete in April 1983.

Martin Lyons

Martin Lyons was attracted to Edinboro due to the strength and reputation of the Running Scots program. The Melbourne, Australia native had no trouble adapting to his move across the globe, winning the NCAA Division II individual cross country title as a freshman in 1991.

Though he came to the United States with little cross country experience, coach Doug Watts expected All-American honors from the Aussie on the merit of his track credentials. Lyons would go on to claim cross country All-American honors in each of his four seasons at Edinboro. Only two other runners have accomplished this feat since.

An eight-time All-American in cross country and track, Lyons was the NCAA East Regional record-holder in cross country, and also holds the school record in the marathon with a time of 2:21:35, set back in 1995.

Yi Min Wu

Yi Min Wu became Edinboro's fourth national champion after he won the 1998 national meet by a 10 second margin with a time of 31:06.60. Wu began his collegiate career on a tear as he did not lose a race throughout his freshman season and won the first meet of 1999 for a streak of nine meets.

A six-time All-American in cross country and track, Wu was recognized as both the PSAC and NCAA East Regional 'Runner of the Year' in 1998 and '99. In addition, he was the 1999 national track and field runner-up in the 10,000 meters in addition to winning the PSAC 10,000 meter championship. Wu earned his second All-American certificate in track by also placing sixth in the 5,000 meter run as a freshman. Wu is one of three runners to earn All-American honors four times in cross country.

Finally, Wu was named the PSAC Rookie of the Year in track and field as a freshman.

Track Outlook

While only three Edinboro University athletes qualified for the NCAA Division II track & Field National Championships, two came away earning All-American honors. The Nationals were hosted by Southern Illinois-Edwardsville.

Thanks to an outstanding effort by Aaron Rowe, the men's team finished in 19th place with Rowe as the only competitor. He challenged for the individual title in the 10,000 meters before settling for second place with a time of 29:35.65, losing by just over a second to Josh Eberly of Western State.

Two days later, Rowe came back to place third in the 5,000 meters with a time of 14:22.06. It marked the second straight year that Rowe earned All-American honors in both events.

Rowe was later named the PSAC Outdoor Track Male Athlete of the Year.

Kelly Richards made her first trip to Nationals as a freshman a memorable one, earning All-American honors in the 3,000 meter steeplechase with a seventh place finish. Cassandra Leopold barely missed joining Richards on the stand, placing ninth in the javelin. She set a school record earlier in the year with a throw of 144'2".

Head coach Doug Watts has a host of other distance runners returning, and welcomes back Megan Zitner in the heptathlon. Zitner missed last season with an injury.

Nick Price and Ed Brown figure to push for postseason honors in the shot put and discus.
