Edinboro State Teachers College

Edinboro, Pennsylvania

Winter 1948-1949

General Information

In 1948 Edinboro completed her eighty-seventh year of service to the young people of Pennsylvania. Like many other colleges, Edinboro has had a varied history. Beginning as a secondary school, an academy, in 1857, the school was chartered in 1861 as a State Normal School, being the second institution in Pennsylvania to be so recognized. In 1926 it became a State Teachers College, being authorized to offer four-year curricula and to give degrees. Edinboro's major field is Art Education, but it also offers certificates in Secondary and Elementary Education. It is a member of the American Association of Teachers Colleges. Edinboro is the first State Teacher training institution west of the Alleghenies, the second Normal School established in Pennsylvania, and the Twelfth Normal School established in the United States.

Basketball

A green team, built around the veteran Al Babcock, has high hopes for a good season. Johnny Peckham, a veteran from last year's squad, will aid the team; however, he came out late this year. Some of the Raiders from which Sox Harrison must build a squad are Mike Talko, who played some last year, and freshman Dick Reed and Bob McVeigh, who looked very good in Pre-season practice.

Swimming

With Art Warren, a two year letter winner, and four holdovers from last year, Edinboro looks forward to having the best swimming team in three years. With a green team last year the Raiders managed to win three meets. Freshman Joe Hildofer and Burt Bronk should add some spark to the team. Fred Abbott, a breast stroker two years ago, is back with us to round out the team.
