Meadville, the seat of Crawford County, is approximately 20 miles south of Edinboro.

The University's Baron-Forness Library has more than 480,000 bound volumes and 1.3 million microform units, along with an online catalog, access to numerous online databases and electronic reserves. The building is equipped with a wireless network, computer labs and equipment to assist users with visual impairments.

The main campus also includes a modern University Center, planetarium, observatory, reading clinic, speech and hearing clinic, science and robotics labs, writing center, numerous computer labs with the latest hardware and software, three art galleries, an animation studio, campus radio and television stations, health center, counseling center, and much more – all accessible for people with disabilities. The recently renovated and expanded Crawford Center for Health and Physical Education and Disability Resources rivals any facility of its kind in the nation.

In addition to a five-acre lake and wooded areas, there are 43 buildings on the spacious Edinboro Campus, including six residence halls with private or shared rooms, co-ed housing, honors housing, and living-learned floors – all are wired for voice, video and data.

Head Coach

Chris Rhodes

Edinboro University President Dr. Frank G. Pogue announced the appointment of former Fighting Scot All-American Chris Rhodes as head swimming coach in October of 2002.

"I'd like to thank the search committee for its efforts," commented Dr. Pogue at the time of the announcement. "I think they did a fine job in the recommendation of Chris Rhodes as the University's new swimming coach. We consider swimming an integral part of the Athletic Department and the mission of the University. As a member of the Edinboro Family, we're pleased to welcome him back to campus."

Rhodes competed for Edinboro from 1991-95, earning All-American honors in 1993-94 and 1994-95 as a member of freestyle relay teams. He also earned All-PSAC honors and set a school record as a member of the 200 freestyle relay team. He graduated from Edinboro in December 1995 with a Bachelor's Degree in Elementary Education.

"I'm extremely excited and honored to be coming back to Edinboro," related Rhodes. "Edinboro has given me a lot. I'm pleased to be able to give back to the school."

Rhodes began his coaching career as an assistant swimming coach at Titusville High School in 1996-97, then moved on to Ashland University, one of the top programs on the Division II level, as an assistant swimming coach while completing work on his Master's Degree in Reading, which he received in August 1999. He returned to western Pennsylvania as the assistant swimming coach at Oil City Area High School for the 1999-2000 season. For the past year, he served as the head coach of the Stroke Development Camp at Westminster College. In addition, he has been a Reading Specialist in the Oil City Area School District.

"We are very pleased that Chris is going to take over our swimming program," added Director of Athletics Bruce Baumgartner. "He came highly-recommended and we feel is an up-and-coming young coach. We think he'll be a nice addition to our coaching staff, and as an Edinboro graduate, fully appreciates our goals. I think he'll be very well-received by the team members, and will bring out the best in our swim team members."
