The Ceremonial Mace

The ceremonial mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the Grand Marshal, Richard Heasley. A gift of the Alumni Association, the mace was designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel and Dr. Seymour Blinderman, former chairman of the Art Department. It was first used at the inauguration of Edinboro State College President Chester T. McNerney, in 1967.

The mace, twenty-seven inches in length, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded with circular cabochon rubies, secured by bezels. The collar of the mace is inlaid with ebony, alternated with silver relief fleur-de-lis design elements. The cultured pearls mounted in cups encircle the bottom of the collar symbolizing the thirteen state colleges of Pennsylvania. The shaft of the mace is composed of Brazilian rosewood sections, separated by sterling silver rings. The mace is terminated by a cast sterling silver finial; the five cultured pearls represent the existing curricula. The rib-like cone form is terminated by a small silver sphere symbolizing the world.

The metal working processes incorporated in the ceremonial mace include turning, forging, inlaying, stone setting, and lost wax centrifugal casting.

The Presidential Medallion

The first presidential medallion was presented to former President Foster F. Diebold during the May, 1981 commencement ceremonies. Designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel, the sterling silver medallion consists of a three and one-half inch pectoral pendant featuring on its face the figure of a Gordon Highlander with pipes. To the right of the piper is the Cross of St. Andrew. To the left is the Cross of England. Flanking the figure is the date 1857, the opening year of the University, and garland thistles. In the background are the hills of Scotland, and beneath the piper is an open book, a symbol of knowledge. On the reverse side is the sunken crest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The pendant descends from a shield containing a triple-towered castle. The collar of the medallion is comprised of a series of two-inch shields, alternately bearing three different designs: the meigle, an interlacing knotwork peculiar to the Pictish school of Celtic art; the Tudor rose design; and "ESC" in interlocking letters on a background of tabby weaving. Connecting each of the collar shields is a Cross of St. George, representing the union of Scotland and England. The entire medallion was fabricated and cast in the cire perdue (lost wax) process.

Surrounding the silver medallion is a gold crafted circle which reads "Edinboro University of Pennsylvania." Professor Katzwinkel, now retired, added this piece to the medallion especially for the Inauguration of President Frank G. Pogue, and it is now a permanent fixture to the medallion representing the school's current status as a University.

Academic Vestments

The gown, the cap, and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Gown

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The bachelor's and master's gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the bachelor's gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The master's gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the doctor's degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

Hood

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the master's and the doctor's degrees. The doctor's hood is longer than the master's hood and has distinguished panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

Cap

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the baccalaureate and master's degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the president.

President Frank G. Pogue

Dr. Frank G. Pogue

Frank G. Pogue was appointed the 15th president of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania on July 1, 1996.

A sociologist, Dr. Pogue holds a bachelor's degree from Alabama State University, a master's degree from Atlanta University, and a Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh.

Prior to his presidency at Edinboro University, Dr. Pogue was the vice chancellor for student affairs and special programs at the State University of New York (SUNY) Central Administration in Albany, serving in that position for 10 years. While vice chancellor, he also served for one year as interim president at the SUNY College at Cobleskill. Prior to his assignment in the SUNY Central Administration, President Pogue was vice president for student affairs, associate vice president for research and educational development, dean of undergraduate studies, and a department chairperson, all at SUNY Albany.

Dr. Pogue participates in national, regional and statewide leadership groups. Since 1984, he has served on the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools and is a former vice chair and member of its Executive Committee and currently chair of its Task Force on Equity and Diversity. He was also recently appointed chairperson of their Advisory Committee on Institutional Financial Resources, which will advise the Commission on the relationship of financial resources to institutional accreditation. In addition, Dr. Pogue serves as a member of the American Council on Education Commission on Government and Public Affairs which advises the Division of Governmental Relations on the broad range of issues in which congressional and executive branch actions affect colleges and universities. He is also a member of the College Board National Forum Committee. Last year, Dr. Pogue was appointed to the Executive Committee of the Commission on the Rural Agenda of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

In October 1996, President Pogue was appointed by Pennsylvania Governor Tom Ridge to the Governor's Commission on Academic Standards. The bipartisan panel of legislators, business and corporate leaders and educators was given the task of gathering from citizens across the Commonwealth – particularly parents and community and business leaders – ideas and proposals for new academic standards and then recommending them to the Governor for approval.

Locally, Dr. Pogue serves on the boards of directors for the Erie Conference on Community Development, the United Way of Erie County, Congressman Phil English's High-Tech Advisory Task Force, State Representative Tracy Seyfert's Education Local Advisory Committee, the Erie County Fiscal Management Task Force, the French Creek Council of the Boy Scouts of America, the Martin Luther King Center Scholarship Committee, and the Greater Erie County Chapter of the American Red Cross, for which he served as their 1997 capital campaign chairman. He has also been appointed to the Board of Corporators for both the Hamot Health Foundation and the St. Vincent Health Center.

Since becoming president, Dr. Pogue has created the concept and philosophy of the Edinboro Family, a learner-centered environment where students come first and are an integral part of a caring and supportive campus community.

Grand Marshal

Richard Heasley

Carrying the ceremonial mace and leading the academic procession at today's Commencement ceremony is Richard Heasley, professor of sociology, anthropology and social work. He has been a member of the Edinboro University faculty for 32 years.

Professor Heasley is known by students and colleagues campus-wide as a dedicated, student-centered professional. According to former student Ms. Susan Walters Babbitt, "His classroom lectures were scholarly, organized and always current. He motivated students to become involved. Our society is highly impersonal, but Professor Heasley was determined to make life for his students, while in the classroom, warm and friendly." Dr. Renata Wolynec, a professor in the department of sociology, anthropology and social work, adds, "As a department chair and colleague, Richard has been a treasure! His fairness, dedication, discipline and humanity set the highest standard for all of us."

Mr. John Egers, a criminal justice major at Edinboro University, says that Professor Heasley's greatest strength is his desire to fully involve students in the teaching and learning process. "Through student involvement in semester research projects, Professor Heasley allows the entire class to learn outside of books and lectures and, in turn, bring their research to the conscience of the students . . . he is always open to the comments and experiences of his students and integrates them within his teachings."

Richard and his wife, Patricia, who is a 1962 Edinboro graduate and an Edinboro University Trustee, are the parents of Richard II, a 1991 Edinboro graduate, and Andrea Heasley Loeffler who earned her bachelor's degree from Edinboro in 1992 and will receive her master's at today's ceremony. They have one grandchild.

Honorary Doctorate

Fred McFeely Rogers

It's a beautiful day in the neighborhood at Edinboro University of Pennsylvania. Today, Edinboro will present an honorary doctorate to Fred McFeely Rogers – the creator and host of the PBS program "Mister Rogers' Neighborhood." For the past 30 years, Mr. Rogers has been bringing his 30-minute "visits" to children of all ages on PBS from his studio at Family Communications, Inc., located in the Oakland section of Pittsburgh.

In naming him "Pittsburgher of the Year," in its January issue, Pittsburgh magazine said his show is seen by six million people a week. "It is a favorite now of three generations, with parents, even grandparents, humming along with its trademark song. . . ."

"In a career spanning five decades, Fred Rogers has taught and unleashed the imaginations of his country's youth by bringing them to the safe haven that is his neighborhood . . . . To Fred Rogers, every person is special. No matter who you are, there is something that you have to offer to the world. It's a message he received in his youth and that is at the basis of everything he has worked a lifetime to achieve."

Within the past year TV Guide named him one of television's 50 all-time most important persons, and the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences presented Mr. Rogers with a Lifetime Achievement Award at the Daytime Emmys held at Radio City Music Hall.

Mr. Rogers was born on March 20, 1928, in Latrobe, Pennsylvania, the same town that brought us the banana split and Arnold Palmer. (Palmer's father taught both of them to play golf.) As a child, his somewhat over-protective mother seldom let him play outside. His world became his room where he played with puppets and created music – two things he is still doing decades later. After graduating from Latrobe High School, Mr. Rogers attended Dartmouth College for a couple of years before going to Rollins College in Florida where he graduated in 1951 with a degree in music composition. His intention was to go to the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary until he saw his first television. His religious career would have to wait – he answered the call of television instead.

He went to New York and landed a job with NBC where he worked on The Voice of Firestone, the Lucky Strike Hit Parade, The Kate Smith Hour, and the NBC Opera Theatre. A year later he married Joanne Byrd, a talented concert pianist and fellow Rollins graduate. In 1953 he returned to Pittsburgh at the request of WQED to work as producer, musician and puppeteer with host Josie Carey on a live daily program called The Children's Corner.

He eventually enrolled in the seminary and was ordained a Presbyterian minister in 1962. He studied child development at the University of Pittsburgh and then went to Toronto for one year where he created a 15-minute children's series called Misterogers for the CBC. He returned to Pittsburgh and WQED in 1966 to develop Mister Rogers' Neighborhood. In February of 1968, the show aired nationally on PBS and is the longest-running program on that network.

Mr. Rogers has received virtually every major award in television, and dozens of others from special-interest groups in education, communications and early childhood. He has two George Foster Peabody Awards and a lifetime achievement award from the TV Critics Association. One of his famous cardigan sweaters is on display in the Smithsonian, and in 1994 the Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania bestowed on him its History Maker Award.

Fred and Joanne have two sons: John, 35, and James, 38, and two grandchildren.

Mr. Rogers will be presented with the degree Doctor of Public Service (doctor beneficiorum publicorum, honoris causa) at today's Commencement ceremony.

The musical score is written for piano and voice. It consists of five systems of music. Each system has a vocal line on a single staff and a piano accompaniment on two staves. The lyrics are written below the vocal line. The score is in 4/4 time and the key signature has one flat (B-flat). The piece is titled 'Alma Mater' and is by Edinboro University of Pennsylvania. The lyrics are: 'Hail to Thee our Alma Mater glorious; fresh wreaths we bring to bind thy brow. Trials have passed, and Thou hast stood victorious, never fairer, never state-liner than now, O Edinboro, Edinboro, ever praising Thee in song, While class speeds class, as swift years pass, to Thee our hearts belong'.

Won't You Be My Neighbor?

It's a beautiful day in this neighborhood,

A beautiful day for a neighbor.

Would you be mine?

Could you be mine?...

It's a neighborly day in this beauty wood,

A neighborly day for a beauty.

Would you be mine?

Could you be mine?...

I've always wanted to have a neighbor just like you.

I've always wanted to live in a neighborhood with you.

So, let's make the most of this beautiful day.

Since we're together we might as well say:

Would you be mine?

Could you be mine?

Won't you be my neighbor?

Won't you please,

Won't you please?

Please won't you be my neighbor?

The Ceremonial Mace

The ceremonial mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the Grand Marshal, Andrew J. Rusnak. A gift of the Alumni Association, the mace was designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel and Dr. Seymour Blinderman, former chairman of the Art Department. It was first used at the inauguration of Edinboro State College President Chester T. McNerney, in 1967.

The mace, twenty-seven inches in length, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded with circular cabochon rubies, secured by bezels. The collar of the mace is inlaid with ebony, alternated with silver relief fleur-de-lis design elements. The cultured pearls mounted in cups encircle the bottom of the collar symbolizing the thirteen state colleges of Pennsylvania. The shaft of the mace is composed of Brazilian rosewood sections, separated by sterling silver rings. The mace is terminated by a cast sterling silver finial; the five cultured pearls represent the existing curricula. The rib-like cone form is terminated by a small silver sphere symbolizing the world.

The metal working processes incorporated in the ceremonial mace include turning, forging, inlaying, stone setting, and lost wax centrifugal casting.

The first presidential medallion was presented to former President Foster F. Diebold during the May, 1981 commencement ceremonies. Designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel, the sterling silver medallion consists of a three and one-half inch pectoral pendant featuring on its face the figure of a Gordon Highlander with pipes. To the right of the piper is the Cross of St. Andrew. To the left is the Cross of England. Flanking the figure is the date 1857, the opening year of the University, and garland thistles. In the background are the hills of Scotland, and beneath the piper is an open book, a symbol of knowledge. On the reverse side is the sunken crest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The pendant descends from a shield containing a triple-towered castle. The collar of the medallion is comprised of a series of two-inch shields, alternately bearing three different designs: the meigle, an interlacing knotwork peculiar to the Pictish school of Celtic art; the Tudor rose design; and "ESC" in interlocking letters on a background of tabby weaving. Connecting each of the collar shields is a Cross of St. George, representing the union of Scotland and England. The entire medallion was fabricated and cast in the cire perdue (lost wax) process.

Surrounding the silver medallion is a gold crafted circle which reads "Edinboro University of Pennsylvania." Professor Katzwinkel, now retired, added this piece to the medallion especially for the Inauguration of President Frank G. Pogue, and it is now a permanent fixture to the medallion representing the school's current status as a University.

The gown, the cap, and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Gown

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The bachelor's and master's gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the bachelor's gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The master's gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the doctor's degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

Hood

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the master's and the doctor's degrees. The doctor's hood is longer than the master's hood and has distinguished panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

Cap

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the baccalaureate and master's degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the president.

President Frank G. Pogue

Frank G. Pogue was appointed the 15th president of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania on July 1, 1996.

A sociologist, Dr. Pogue holds a bachelor's degree from Alabama State University, a master's degree from Atlanta University, and a Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh.

Prior to his presidency at Edinboro University, Dr. Pogue was the vice chancellor for student affairs and special programs at the State University of New York (SUNY) Central Administration in Albany, serving in that position for 10 years. While vice chancellor, he also served for one year as interim president at the SUNY College at Cobleskill. Prior to his assignment in the SUNY Central Administration, President Pogue was vice president for student affairs, associate vice president for research and educational development, dean of undergraduate studies, and a department chairperson, all at SUNY Albany.

Dr. Pogue participates in national, regional and statewide leadership groups. Since 1984, he has served on the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools and is a former vice chair and member of its Executive Committee and currently chair of its Task Force on Equity and Diversity. He was appointed chairperson of their Advisory Committee on Institutional Financial Resources, which advised the Commission on the relationship of financial resources to institutional accreditation. In addition, Dr. Pogue serves as a member of the American Council on Education Commission on Government and Public Affairs which advises the Division of Governmental Relations on the broad range of issues in which congressional and executive branch actions affect colleges and universities. He was also a member of the 1998 College Board National Forum Committee. Last year, Dr. Pogue was appointed to the Executive Committee of the Commission on the Rural Agenda of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

Locally, Dr. Pogue serves on the boards of directors for the Erie Conference on Community Development, the United Way of Erie County, Congressman Phil English's High-Tech Advisory Task Force, the Erie County Fiscal Management Task Force, the French Creek Council of the Boy Scouts of America, the Martin Luther King Center Scholarship Committee, and the Greater Erie County Chapter of the American Red Cross, for which he served as their 1997 capital campaign chairman. Currently, he is serving as the chairperson of the Leadership Gifts Division of the 1998-99 Presque Isle Partnership Endowment Campaign. In October 1996, President Pogue was appointed by Pennsylvania Governor Tom Ridge to the Governor's Commission on Academic Standards. He has also been appointed to the Board of Corporators for both the Hamot Health Foundation and the St. Vincent Health Center.

Dr. Pogue was pleased to teach a course titled "Special Topics in Sociology" for the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work during the 1998 fall semester. He was excited to, once again, work in a classroom environment.

Since becoming president, Dr. Pogue has created the concept and philosophy of the Edinboro Family, a learner-centered environment where students come first and are an integral part of a caring and supportive campus community.

Honorary Doctorate

Donald F. DiPlacido

Donald F. DiPlacido, former president of the Erie Area Chamber of Commerce, has been selected to receive the degree Doctor of Public Service (doctor beneficiorum publicorum, honoris causa) at today's Commencement ceremony.

From 1983 until 1998, doing business in Erie, Pennsylvania, also meant doing business with Don DiPlacido. During his 15 years with the Chamber, Mr. DiPlacido was a leader in northwestern Pennsylvania and the Commonwealth as a catalyst for private-public cooperation, the application of "Total Quality Management" principles for business and the community, the development of Canadian and other international trade, fostering the application of the current technology, business cooperation for education reform, business-community outreach, and the encouragement of economic development.

Among his many accomplishments are the development of the world's first regional Quality Awards based on the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Awards, the Erie Excellence Council, the annual North Coast Quality Conference, the Total Quality Management Institute, the annual Legislator Appreciation Dinner, the Creating Community program, the Adopt-a-School and Apple Corps business-education partnership programs, and a major Internet website, offering the world a wealth of easily accessible information about the Erie area.

Chamber membership tripled under Mr. DiPlacido, and several cost-saving programs were initiated, most notably the Chamber Concept Group through the Alliance Health Network, as well as the AT&T "Profit by Association" and other discount programs for member organizations.

A native of Erie, Mr. DiPlacido attended Sacred Heart Parochial School, Strong Vincent High School and Gannon University and serves actively on the boards of directors and advisory groups of more than 20 area organizations and companies, including those in business and industry, health care, education and training, arts and culture, and community service.

Prior to joining the Chamber, Mr. DiPlacido had a long career in retail management. He was merchandising vice president for Erie's downtown Boston Store from 1945 through 1978, and general manager of the Erie stores for the Joseph Horne Company from 1978 to 1983.

He was awarded the Leadership Erie Founders Award and an Erie Business Center honorary associate degree in 1997, Distinguished Sales & Marketing Career Award by the Sales & Marketing Executives Association in 1991, U.S. Chamber Founding Member Award in 1987, First Annual City of Erie Goodwill Ambassador Award in 1986, Ad Person of the Year Award in 1984 and 1985 by the Erie Ad Club, and Retailer of the Year Award in 1971 by the National Retail Merchant Association.
