THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The ceremonial mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the Grand Marshal, Richard Forcucci. A gift of the Alumni Association, the mace was designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel and Dr. Seymour Blinderman, former chairman of the Art Department. It was first used at the inauguration of Edinboro State College President Chester T. McNerney, in 1967.

The mace, twenty-seven inches in length, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded with circular cabochon rubies, secured by bezels. The collar of the mace is inlaid with ebony, alternated with silver relief fleur-de-lis design elements. The cultured pearls mounted in cups encircle the bottom of the collar symbolizing the thirteen state colleges of Pennsylvania. The shaft of the mace is composed of Brazilian rosewood sections, separated by sterling silver rings. The mace is terminated by a cast sterling silver finial; the five cultured pearls represent the existing curricula. The rib-like cone form is terminated by a small silver sphere symbolizing the world.

The metal working processes incorporated in the ceremonial mace include turning, forging, inlaying, stone setting, and lost wax centrifugal casting.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The first presidential medallion was presented to former President Foster F. Diebold during the May, 1981 commencement ceremonies. Designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel, the sterling silver medallion consists of a three and one-half inch pectoral pendant featuring on its face the figure of a Gordon Highlander with pipes. To the right of the piper is the Cross of St. Andrew. To the left is the Cross of England. Flanking the figure is the date 1857, the opening year of the University, and garland thistles. In the background are the hills of Scotland, and beneath the piper is an open book, a symbol of knowledge. On the reverse side is the sunken crest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The pendant descends from a shield containing a triple-towered castle. The collar of the medallion is comprised of a series of two-inch shields, alternately bearing three different designs: the meigle, an interlacing knotwork peculiar to the Pictish school of Celtic art; the Tudor rose design; and "ESC" in interlocking letters on a background of tabby weaving. Connecting each of the collar shields is a Cross of St. George, representing the union of Scotland and England. The entire medallion was fabricated and cast in the cire perdue (lost wax) process.

Surrounding the silver medallion is a gold crafted circle which reads "Edinboro University of Pennsylvania." Professor Katzwinkel, now retired, added this piece to the medallion especially for the Inauguration of President Frank G. Pogue, and it is now a permanent fixture to the medallion representing the school's current status as a University.

ACADEMIC VESTMENTS

The gown, the cap, and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The bachelor's and master's gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the bachelor's gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The master's gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the doctor's degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

HOOD

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the master's and the doctor's degrees. The doctor's hood is longer than the master's hood and has distinguished panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

CAP

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the baccalaureate and master's degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the president.

PRESIDENT FRANK G. POGUE

Frank G. Pogue was appointed the 15th president of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania on July 1, 1996.

A sociologist, Dr. Pogue holds a bachelor's degree from Alabama State University, a master's degree from Atlanta University, and a Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh.

Prior to his presidency at Edinboro University, Dr. Pogue was the vice chancellor for student affairs and special programs at the State University of New York (SUNY) Central Administration in Albany, serving in that position for 10 years. While vice chancellor, he also served for one year as interim president at the SUNY College at Cobleskill. Prior to his assignment in the SUNY Central Administration, President Pogue was vice president for student affairs, associate vice president for research and educational development, dean of undergraduate studies, and a department chairperson, all at SUNY Albany.

Dr. Pogue participates in national, regional and statewide leadership groups. Since 1984, he has served on the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools and is a former vice chair and member of its Executive Committee and currently chair of its Task Force on Equity and Diversity. He was appointed chairperson of their Advisory Committee on Institutional Financial Resources, which advised the Commission on the relationship of financial resources to institutional accreditation. In addition, Dr. Pogue serves as a member of the American Council on Education Commission on Government and Public Affairs which advises the Division of Governmental Relations on the broad range of issues in which congressional and executive branch actions affect colleges and universities. He was also a member of the 1998 College Board National Forum Committee. Dr. Pogue serves as a member of the Task Force on Teacher Education of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU), as well as a member of the AASCU Executive Committee of the Commission on the Rural Agenda.

Locally, Dr. Pogue serves on the boards of directors for the Erie Conference on Community Development, the United Way of Erie County, Congressman Phil English's High-Tech Advisory Task Force, the Erie County Fiscal Management Task Force, the City of Erie Y2K Task Force, the French Creek Council of the Boy Scouts of America, the Martin Luther King Center Scholarship Committee, and the Greater Erie County Chapter of the American Red Cross, for which he served as their 1997 capital campaign chairman. Currently, he is serving as a board member of the Presque Isle Partnership and chairperson of the Leadership Gifts Division of the 1998-99 Presque Isle Partnership Endowment Campaign. In October 1996, President Pogue was appointed by Pennsylvania Governor Tom Ridge to the Governor's Commission on Academic Standards. He has also been appointed to the Board of Corporators for both the Hamot Health Foundation and the St. Vincent Health Center.

Dr. Pogue was pleased to teach a course titled "Special Topics in Sociology" for the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work during the 1998 fall semester. He was excited to, once again, work in a classroom environment.

Since becoming president, Dr. Pogue has created the concept and philosophy of the Edinboro Family, a learner-centered environment where students come first and are an integral part of a caring and supportive campus community.

GRAND MARSHAL

Carrying the ceremonial mace and leading the academic procession at today's Commencement ceremony is Dr. Richard A. Forcucci, professor of speech and hearing disorders in the Department of Speech and Communication Studies. He has been a member of the Edinboro faculty for the past 27 years.

Dr. Forcucci earned a bachelor's degree from Edinboro in secondary English/public speaking and speech and hearing disorders in 1964. He received a master's and a doctorate in speech-language pathology from the University of Illinois in 1966 and 1972 respectively.

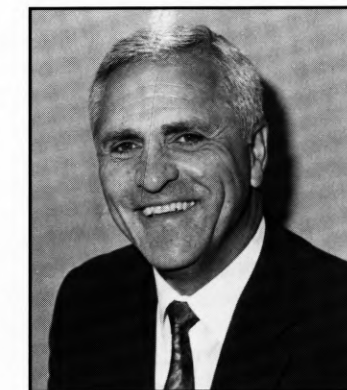

Following graduation, Dr. Forcucci served as a speech and hearing pathologist for the Clark County School District in Las Vegas for one year, before joining the staff of the University of Illinois as a speech and hearing consultant. During his tenure at Edinboro, he has served as coordinator of the graduate program in speech-language pathology (1974-1976 and 1979-1993), chairman of the Department of Special Education from 1974 to 1978, and chairman of the Department of Speech and Communication Studies from 1984 to 1993. Since 1993, Dr. Forcucci has served as clinical director of the Northwestern Pa. Cleft Palate Institute.

Among Dr. Forcucci's many honors are the "Brace for Ace" Award given by the Pa. Easter Seal Society for outstanding volunteer service to crippled children, Little League "Man of the Year," Distinguished Alumni Award from Edinboro University, induction into the Edinboro Athletic Hall of Fame, National CASE Professor of the Year, and a named scholarship funded by one of his former students in recognition of his devotion to students.

In 1995, Dr. Forcucci was selected to be the recipient of the Honors of the National Student Speech-Language-Hearing Association. The highest award bestowed by the NSSLHA, it was presented in recognition of his "consistent support, professional training, and leadership of students."

Active in the community, Dr. Forcucci is currently a councilman for the Borough of Edinboro, volunteer clinical consultant for the NW Pa. Cleft Palate Institute, and a reviewer for the U.S. Department of Education's Discretionary Grant Projects. He has been a member of the board of directors for the NW Pa. Cleft Palate Institute, the Pa. State Easter Seal Society, and the Erie County Crippled Children's Society; a consultant to the department of physical medicine, speech-language pathology at Hamot Medical Center; and a member of the Edinboro Planning and Zoning Committee and the Edinboro Lake Restoration Committee.

Dr. Forcucci is a member of the American Cleft Palate Craniofacial Association, the Pennsylvania Federation of Cleft Palate Clinics, the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association, the International Fluency Association, the National Stuttering Project, and the Pennsylvania Speech and Hearing Association. He has received numerous grants from the Malcolm Fraser Foundation, the Hamot 2nd Century Foundation, and the Erie Community Foundation. He produced video tapes for the NW Pa. Cleft Palate Institute and Edinboro University's Leader Clinic, established University Student Training Opportunities at the NW Pa. Cleft Palate Institute, and developed and implemented the Edinboro University/General McLane School District Cooperative SLP programs.

HONORARY DOCTORATE

Yvonne S. Thornton, M.D., M.P.H., has been selected to receive the degree Doctor of Public Service (doctor beneficiorum publicorum, honoris causa) at today's Commencement ceremony.

Dr. Thornton serves as director of the Perinatal Diagnostic Testing Center at Morristown Memorial Hospital in New Jersey. She holds a faculty appointment as clinical professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey. As senior perinatologist in the department of obstetrics and gynecology at the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center, Dr. Thornton established and developed the program for a new form of early prenatal diagnostic testing known as CVS. She was one of the original American investigators of the program whose results were relied upon by the FDA prior to its granting approval.

After graduating with honors from Monmouth College (New Jersey), Dr. Thornton received her M.D. degree with honors from Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons. She was the first American woman to be accepted into the OB/GYN residency program at The Roosevelt Hospital in New York City. She then completed a two-year post-doctoral fellowship in Maternal-Fetal Medicine at The Sloane Hospital for Women and The Babies Hospital at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center.

Dr. Thornton was the first woman in the 165-year history of the International Platform Association to win the prestigious Daniel Webster Oratorical Competition. For many years, she has been an outspoken advocate on women's health issues and a spokesperson for the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists and the March of Dimes. She has appeared on numerous popular television shows, and now has her own cable show, "Metro Women's Health," broadcast from New York City.

She is the bestselling author of her family biography, The Ditchdigger's Daughters, an award-winning, Pulitzer Prize-nominated tribute to her parents. The book was adapted into a World Premiere Movie (nominated for several awards), condensed in Reader's Digest, and named by the American Library Association as one of the 1996 Best Books for Young Adults. In 1997, Dr. Thornton authored two other books: a medical textbook titled Primary Care for the Obstetrician and Gynecologist, and a woman's health book, Woman to Woman.

A double Board-certified physician, Dr. Thornton is a member of the Society for Maternal-Fetal Medicine, Association of Women Surgeons, a life member of the New York Academy of Medicine, and a fellow of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists and the American College of Surgeons. Her biography is listed in Who's Who in America and Who's Who in the World. Dr. Thornton was the first black woman in the United States to be Board-certified in high-risk obstetrics and to be accepted into the New York Obstetrical Society.

Dr. Thornton and her husband, an orthopedic surgeon, have been married for 25 years. She is the mother of two children: a son who is a pre-med junior at Harvard, and a daughter who is a pre-med freshman at Stanford University.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The first presidential medallion was presented to former President Foster F. Diebold during the May, 1981 commencement ceremonies. Designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel, the sterling silver medallion consists of a three and one-half inch pectoral pendant featuring on its face the figure of a Gordon Highlander with pipes. To the right of the piper is the Cross of St. Andrew. To the left is the Cross of England. Flanking the figure is the date 1857, the opening year of the University, and garland thistles. In the background are the hills of Scotland, and beneath the piper is an open book, a symbol of knowledge. On the reverse side is the sunken crest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The pendant descends from a shield containing a triple-towered castle. The collar of the medallion is comprised of a series of two-inch shields, alternately bearing three different designs: the meigle, an interlacing knotwork peculiar to the Pictish school of Celtic art; the Tudor rose design; and "ESC" in interlocking letters on a background of tabby weaving. Connecting each of the collar shields is a Cross of St. George, representing the union of Scotland and England. The entire medallion was fabricated and cast in the cire perdue (lost wax) process.

Surrounding the silver medallion is a gold-crafted circle which reads "Edinboro University of Pennsylvania." Professor Katzwinkel, now retired, added this piece to the medallion especially for the Inauguration of President Frank G. Pogue in 1997, and it is now a permanent fixture to the medallion representing the school's current status as a University.

ACADEMIC VESTMENTS

The gown, the cap, and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic procession symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The bachelor's and master's gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the bachelor's gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The master's gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the doctor's degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

HOOD

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the master's and the doctor's degrees. The doctor's hood is longer than the master's hood and has distinguished panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

CAP

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the baccalaureate and master's degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the president.

PRESIDENT FRANK G. POGUE

Frank G. Pogue was appointed the 15th president of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania on July 1, 1996.

A sociologist, Dr. Pogue holds a bachelor's degree from Alabama State University, a master's degree from Atlanta University, and a Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh.

Prior to his presidency at Edinboro University, Dr. Pogue was the vice chancellor for student affairs and special programs at the State University of New York (SUNY) Central Administration in Albany, serving in that position for 10 years. While vice chancellor, he also served for one year as interim president at the SUNY College at Cobleskill. Prior to his assignment in the SUNY Central Administration, President Pogue was vice president for student affairs, associate vice president for research and educational development, dean of undergraduate studies, and a department chairperson, all at SUNY Albany.

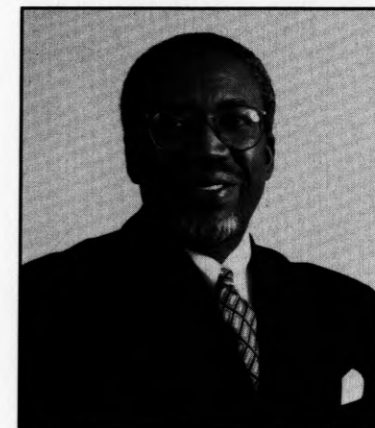

Dr. Pogue participates in national, regional and statewide leadership groups. Since 1984, he has served on the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, is a former vice chair and member of its Executive Committee, and currently chairs its Task Force on Equity and Diversity. He was appointed chairperson of the Middle States Advisory Committee on Institutional Financial Resources, which advised the Commission on the relationship of financial resources to institutional accreditation. In addition, Dr. Pogue serves as a member of the American Council on Education Commission on Government and Public Affairs which advises the Division of Governmental Relations on the broad range of issues in which congressional and executive branch actions affect colleges and universities. Dr. Pogue serves as a member of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) Task Force on Teacher Education, as vice chair of the AASCU Executive Committee for the Commission on the Rural Agenda, and as a member of the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities (PACU) Board of Directors.

Locally, Dr. Pogue serves on the boards of directors for the Erie Conference on Community Development, the United Way of Erie County, the French Creek Council Boy Scouts of America, the Presque Isle Partnership (chairperson of the Leadership Gifts Division of the 1998-1999 Endowment Campaign), and the Greater Erie County Chapter of the American Red Cross, for which he served as their 1997 capital campaign chairman. He also serves as a member of Congressman Phil English's High-Tech Advisory Task Force, the Erie County Fiscal Management Task Force, the City of Erie Y2K Task Force, and the Martin Luther King Center Scholarship Committee. In October 1996, President Pogue was appointed by Pennsylvania Governor Tom Ridge to the Governor's Commission on Academic Standards. He has also been appointed to the Board of Corporators for both the Hamot Health Foundation and the St. Vincent Health Center. Dr. Pogue was recently named chairperson of the Erie City and County Millennium Commission entitled "Together 2000."

Dr. Pogue has shared his experiences and expertise in the Edinboro University classroom setting via guest lecturer presentations. He has also taught the course titled Special Topics in Sociology for the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work. He continues to enjoy working in the classroom environment.

Since becoming president, Dr. Pogue has created the concept and philosophy of the Edinboro Family, a learner-centered environment where students come first and are an integral part of a caring and supportive campus community.

GRAND MARSHAL

Carrying the Ceremonial Mace and leading the academic procession at today's Commencement ceremony is Ruthanne S. Atkinson, professor of elementary education.

Ms. Atkinson joined the Edinboro faculty as instructor in the Department of Elementary Education in 1969. She was promoted to assistant professor in 1972, associate professor in 1988, and full professor in 1995. Prior to coming to Edinboro she taught third grade in the Kent City Schools, Kent, Ohio, and fourth grade in the Spring-Ford School District in Royersford, Pa.

A graduate of Grove City College, Ms. Atkinson earned her bachelor of arts in elementary education in 1966. She received her master's from Kent State University in 1969, and completed additional coursework at Allegheny College, Edinboro University of Pennsylvania, and Indiana University of Pennsylvania. In addition, she earned certification as an elementary principal in 1985 and elementary supervisor in 1987.

While teaching a variety of elementary education classes at Edinboro, Ms. Atkinson has also served in various roles, including co-director of the Center for Excellence in Teaching, director of the Miller Research Learning Center, and teacher in the Miller Laboratory School.

Since 1998, Ms. Atkinson has served as a Head Start Program Reviewer for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. She was co-director of the 11th Annual Early Childhood Education Conference, advisor to Kappa Delta Pi (Eta Iota chapter), and advisor to Edinboro's Elementary Education Club for eight years.

Ms. Atkinson has participated in numerous professional conferences, including the Children's Literature Conference held at Edinboro University, the Association for Childhood Education International, the National Association of Laboratory Schools, the Early Childhood Education Conference, and the International Reading Association's 25th Annual Convention. Within the northwestern Pennsylvania community, she has offered workshops and presentations at Edinboro University's Academic Festival; the School District of the City of Erie; Northwestern School District; Conneaut, Ohio, pre-school inservice; Harborcreek School District; and the Northwest Tri-County Intermediate Unit #5.

Ms. Atkinson served as co-director of the "Arts Infusion Service Learning Project," funded by a two-year grant from General Electric Company, and jointly sponsored by the Erie Area Fund for the Arts and Edinboro University. An American Heart Association volunteer and a member of the Arts in Education Committee of the Erie Area Fund for the Arts, she has participated in the Erie Summer Festival of the Arts and the Erie Philharmonic Chorus.

HONORARY DOCTORATE

Dr. James E. Barker has been selected to receive the degree Doctor of Public Service (doctor beneficiorum publicorum, honoris causa) at today's Commencement ceremony.

Dr. Barker has served as superintendent of schools for the School District of the City of Erie since 1993. During that time, he initiated a number of outstanding programs in the School District, including Redesigning for Success, a comprehensive revision of curriculum, professional development and programs within the Erie Public Schools; the Academic Sports League; in-class technology integration in 20 schools in the District; an elementary foreign language program in grades K-8; multicultural education and sensitivity training; and the Student-to-Student Mentoring Program which was recognized by President Bush as a "Point of Light."

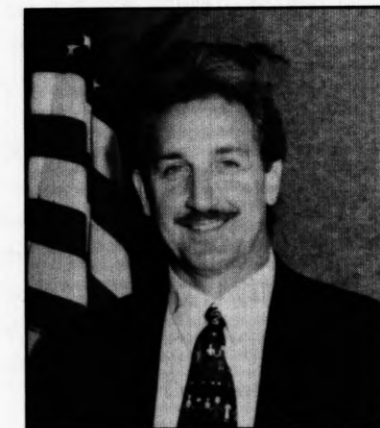

In 1992, Dr. Barker received the Community Service Award for dedicated service to the African American community by the Pennsylvania Conference on Basic Black Education, and a year later he was named Educator of the Year by the Erie Area Laymen's League. He is the first superintendent to receive a life membership to the Parent Teacher Association from the Erie City Council of PTAs. Chosen as one of the top 50 leaders in Pennsylvania and New York for Erie & Chautauqua magazine's 1998 Annual Best of the Region, Dr. Barker also received the Patrick R. Locco Memorial Leadership Award in recognition of his outstanding leadership and his boundless dedication to the Erie community and its children. In 1996, he was named an Edinboro University Distinguished Alumnus in the area of education.

Dr. Barker received a baccalaureate degree in biology and psychology and a master's degree in special education/school psychology from Kent State University. He earned an advanced degree in school psychology and completed several post-master's certification programs at Edinboro University. He earned a Superintendent's Letter of Eligibility from the University of Pittsburgh, and a doctorate in educational leadership and administration from Teachers College, Columbia University.

Prior to his appointment as superintendent, Dr. Barker served in a number of positions in the School District of the City of Erie, including assistant superintendent and director of pupil personnel services (1991-93), administrative assistant to the superintendent/director of pupil personnel services (1989-91), director of pupil personnel services (1987-89), and supervisor of special education/school psychologist (1982-87).

Superintendent Barker has spoken at many state and national conventions. Most recently, he was chosen as the keynote speaker at the International Conference on the Issues of Education Management in Kwidzyn, Poland, that involved 40 countries. He served as a panelist for the proceedings of the Pennsylvania Congress on Teacher Education which involved educators, legislators, business and community leaders collaborating on teaching for Pennsylvania's future. He was selected to present, along with First Lady Hillary Clinton, at the International Foreign Language Symposium in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Dr. Barker has attended the Pennsylvania Academy for the Profession of Teaching Urban Scholars, and was one of two individuals appointed by the Governor to participate in the Pioneering Partners Advisory Council, an eight-state consortium to infuse technology into schools. He was selected to participate in a White House ceremony honoring domestic service programs in recognition of the Erie School District's Student-to-Student Mentoring Program.

Alma Mater

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania

The musical score is written for piano and voice. It consists of five systems of music. Each system has a vocal line on a single staff and a piano accompaniment on two staves. The lyrics are: "Hail to Thee our Alma Mater glo-ri-ous; fresh wreaths we bring to bind thy brow. Trials have passed, and Thou hast stood vic-tor-i-ous, ne-ver fail-er, nev-er state-li-er than now. O Ed-in-bo-ro, Ed-in-bo-ro, ev-er prais-ing Thee in song. While class speaks class, as swift years pass, to Thee our hearts be-long." The score includes measure numbers 5, 10, 15, and 20.
