THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The ceremonial mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the Grand Marshal, Anne Jedlicka. A gift of the Alumni Association, the mace was designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel and Dr. Seymour Blinderman, former chairman of the Art Department. It was first used at the inauguration of Edinboro State College President Chester T. McNerney, in 1967.

The mace, twenty-seven inches in length, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded with circular cabochon rubies, secured by bezels. The collar of the mace is inlaid with ebony, alternated with silver relief fleur-de-lis design elements. The cultured pearls mounted in cups encircle the bottom of the collar symbolizing the thirteen state colleges of Pennsylvania. The shaft of the mace is composed of Brazilian rosewood sections, separated by sterling silver rings. The mace is terminated by a cast sterling silver finial; the five cultured pearls represent the existing curricula. The rib-like cone form is terminated by a small silver sphere symbolizing the world.

The metal working processes incorporated in the ceremonial mace include turning, forging, inlaying, stone setting, and lost wax centrifugal casting.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The first presidential medallion was presented to former President Foster F. Diebold during the May, 1981 commencement ceremonies. Designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel, the sterling silver medallion consists of a three and one-half inch pectoral pendant featuring on its face the figure of a Gordon Highlander with pipes. To the right of the piper is the Cross of St. Andrew. To the left is the Cross of England. Flanking the figure is the date 1857, the opening year of the University, and garland thistles. In the background are the hills of Scotland, and beneath the piper is an open book, a symbol of knowledge. On the reverse side is the sunken crest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The pendant descends from a shield containing a triple-towered castle. The collar of the medallion is comprised of a series of two-inch shields, alternately bearing three different designs: the meigle, an interlacing knotwork peculiar to the Pictish school of Celtic art; the Tudor rose design; and "ESC" in interlocking letters on a background of tabby weaving. Connecting each of the collar shields is a Cross of St. George, representing the union of Scotland and England. The entire medallion was fabricated and cast in the cire perdue (lost wax) process.

Surrounding the silver medallion is a gold crafted circle which reads "Edinboro University of Pennsylvania." Professor Katzwinkel, now retired, added this piece to the medallion especially for the Inauguration of President Frank G. Pogue in 1997, and it is now a permanent fixture to the medallion representing the school's current status as a University.

ACADEMIC VESTMENTS

The gown, the cap, and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

GOWN

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The bachelor's and master's gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the bachelor's gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The master's gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the doctor's degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

HOOD

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the master's and the doctor's degrees. The doctor's hood is longer than the master's hood and has distinguished panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

CAP

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the baccalaureate and master's degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the president.

PRESIDENT FRANK G. POGUE

Frank G. Pogue was appointed the 15th president of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania on July 1, 1996.

A sociologist, Dr. Pogue holds a bachelor's degree from Alabama State University, a master's degree from Atlanta University, and a Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh.

Prior to his presidency at Edinboro University, Dr. Pogue was the vice chancellor for student affairs and special programs at the State University of New York (SUNY) Central Administration in Albany, serving in that position for 10 years. While vice chancellor, he also served for one year as interim president at the SUNY College at Cobleskill. Prior to his assignment in the SUNY Central Administration, President Pogue was vice president for student affairs, associate vice president for research and educational development, dean of undergraduate studies, and a department chairperson, all at SUNY Albany.

Dr. Pogue participates in national, regional and statewide leadership groups. He serves as a member of the American Council on Education Commission on Government and Public Affairs which advises the Division of Governmental Relations on the broad range of issues in which congressional and executive branch actions affect colleges and universities. He is a member of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) Task Force on Teacher Education and serves as chair of the AASCU Executive Committee for the Commission on the Rural/Regional Agenda. Since 1984, Dr. Pogue has served on the Commission on Higher Education Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools and is a former vice chair and member of the Commission's Executive Committee. He currently serves as Association Second Vice President for the Middle States Association Board of Trustees and is a member of its Executive Committee. He was appointed chairperson of the Middle States Advisory Committee on Institutional Financial Resources, which advised the Commission on the relationship of financial resources to institutional accreditation. Dr. Pogue is the vice chairperson of the State System of Higher Education (SSHE) Commission for the Universities and Commission of Presidents Executive Committee and is a member of the Executive Board of A Community of Agile Partners in Education (CAPE). In October 1996, Dr. Pogue was appointed by Pennsylvania

Governor Tom Ridge to the Governor's Commission on Academic Standards.

Locally, Dr. Pogue serves on the boards of directors for the Erie Conference on Community Development, the United Way of Erie County, the Presque Isle Partnership (chairperson of the Leadership Gifts Division of the 1998-1999 Endowment Campaign), and the Greater Erie County Chapter of the American Red Cross, for which he served as their 1997 capital campaign chairman. He also serves as a member of the Martin Luther King Center Scholarship Committee and the Board of Corporators for both the Hamot Health Foundation and the St. Vincent Health Center. Dr. Pogue was chairperson of the Commission for the Erie County Millennium initiative, "Together 2000."

Recently, Dr. Pogue was honored with the Louis J. Tullio Community Service Award which is administered by the Erie Area Chamber of Commerce. The Greater Erie Community Action Committee (GECAC) honored him with the Paul P. Martin Community Service Award in the year 2000, and in 1999, the Distinguished Service Award for Leadership and Vision was presented to him by the SUNY at Albany Council of Trustees.

Dr. Pogue has shared his experiences and expertise in the Edinboro University classroom setting via guest lecturer presentations. He has also taught the course titled Special Topics in Sociology for the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work. He continues to enjoy working in the classroom environment.

Since becoming president, Dr. Pogue has created the concept and philosophy of the Edinboro Family, a learner-centered environment where students come first and are an integral part of a caring and supportive campus community.

GRAND MARSHAL

Carrying the ceremonial mace and leading the academic procession at today's Commencement ceremony is Dr. Anne Jedlicka, professor of mathematics and computer science.

Dr. Jedlicka joined the faculty of Edinboro University (then Edinboro State College) in 1966 and was appointed to full professorship in 1988. She holds bachelor's (1961), master's (1963) and doctoral (1972) degrees from the University of Pittsburgh.

Dr. Jedlicka's professional memberships include the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, the Mathematical Association of America, the Association for Women in Mathematics, the American Cryptogram Association, the American Association of University Women, the State System of Higher Education Mathematics Association, the Pennsylvania Association of Computer and Information Science Educators, and the Pennsylvania Association of Mathematics Teachers of Two-Year Colleges.

Her committee work at the University has included membership on the Mathematics Curriculum, Computer Science Curriculum, Calculus, Department Chair Selection, Department Evaluation, Hiring, Promotions, Tenure, Emeriti, Sabbatical Leave, University-wide Honors, Independent Study, and the Science, Management and Technologies High School Conference committees. She was a member of the committee that developed the baccalaureate degree program in Computer Science, which is a two-tiered degree consisting of an application track and a theoretical track. She wrote the actuarial concentration program for the mathematics degree, which is now being adopted by her department. Courses she has developed include Automata, Actuarial Mathematics, and Partial Differential Equations.

In her 35 years of service to Edinboro University and its students, Dr. Jedlicka has prided herself on the teaching-learning relationship she has established with countless students. A sampling of comments from the letters and cards she continues to receive from former students have included words of thanks and appreciation, such as: "Thank you for teaching me to enjoy mathematics;" "I would not have made it through the class without your help . . . because of you I succeeded;" "Your class encouraged me to come to school each day and not drop out;" and "You really make the students feel like they're capable to do anything."

One of the more important research papers Dr. Jedlicka has published is entitled, "Why Students Fail in College." In it, she concludes that "students fail in college because they do not know algebra, which is crucial to understanding the sciences and mathematics. It is the language of problem solving, and it expands students' thinking and understanding skills. If a student does not know algebra, then it limits what a student can do."

Active in community service, Dr. Jedlicka for 20 years co-chaired the Edinboro High School Mathematics Conference and Contest in which high school upperclass students within a 100-mile radius were invited to the Edinboro University campus for mathematical presentations, games, puzzles and exams.

Dr. Jedlicka also wrote and edited the "Edinboro Community Cookbook" which benefited the Edinboro Food Bank. She planned and organized the community's initial First-Aid Awareness Week on behalf of the Edinboro Volunteer Fire Department.

EDUCATOR, ADVISOR AND STAFF MEMBER OF THE YEAR AWARDS

Dr. Cynthia Rebar, biology and health services, is the recipient of the 2001 Educator of the Year Award. Since joining the Edinboro Family in 1996, she has been actively engaged in teaching, research and service. Described by one of her students as "an exemplary teacher, citizen and role model who demonstrates effective teaching methods, shows good interpersonal skills, strives for scholarly growth, and contributes service to the University and the community," she holds a bachelor's degree in biology from Kent State University, a master's in wildlife science from New Mexico State University, and a Ph.D. in biology from Kansas State University. She serves as chair of the Legislations and Regulations, Honoraria and Membership committees of the American Society of Mammologists, and as a reviewer for the National Science Foundation, American Midland Naturalist, and the Journal of Mammalogy, among others. On campus, Dr. Rebar is the internship director for her department and served as a former co-advisor to Beta Beta Beta, the National Biological Honor Society.

The Advisor of the Year Award was initiated by President Pogue in 1999 to recognize faculty who, according to students, provide excellent assistance through academic advising. Dr. Michael Hannan, business administration and economics, is the 2001 Advisor of the Year. Joining the Edinboro Family in 1988 after receiving his doctorate in mineral resource economics from West Virginia University, he has since become widely known and respected as a scholar, economist, analyst and commentator in the Erie area's academic, governmental planning, media, and business and corporate communities. "As a resource and professional person, Dr. Hannan has demonstrated preparedness, willingness and commitment to assist, as well as genuine enthusiasm, interest, empathy and passion," wrote his student nominator. An active scholar and researcher who publishes and presents on a broad range of economic issues, he is a member of the American Economic Association and serves the University in a number of roles, including that of chairperson of the Middle States Self-Study Subcommittee on Finance. His vision and leadership helped his department's efforts to secure accreditation from the Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs.

Dr. Cheryl Lossie, coordinator of graduate studies, is the 2001 Staff Member of the Year. An Edinboro employee since 1991, she enjoys a wide range of responsibilities related to the management of graduate assistantship assignments, graduate school applications, and overall supervision and administration of the Graduate Studies Office. An active presenter, guest lecturer, panelist and facilitator, she is committed to helping individuals and teams find greater effectiveness and satisfaction in their professional and personal lives. Her nominator wrote: "She is tremendously committed and passionate about serving students, and is open to rethinking present practices to develop better ways of operating." She is Edinboro's representative to the Pennsylvania Partnerships for Children Initiative, and co-chairs a task group for the Edinboro Family Forum on the Quality of University and Community Life.

THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The ceremonial mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the Grand Marshal, Dr. Robert P. Rhodes. A gift of the Alumni Association, the mace was designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel and Dr. Seymour Blinderman, former chairman of the Art Department. It was first used at the inauguration of Edinboro State College President Chester T. McNerney, in 1967.

The mace, twenty-seven inches in length, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded with circular cabochon rubies, secured by bezels. The collar of the mace is inlaid with ebony, alternated with silver relief fleur-de-lis design elements. The cultured pearls mounted in cups encircle the bottom of the collar symbolizing the thirteen state colleges of Pennsylvania. The shaft of the mace is composed of Brazilian rosewood sections, separated by sterling silver rings. The mace is terminated by a cast sterling silver finial; the five cultured pearls represent the existing curricula. The rib-like cone form is terminated by a small silver sphere symbolizing the world.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The first presidential medallion was presented to former President Foster F. Diebold during the May, 1981 commencement ceremonies. Designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel, the sterling silver medallion consists of a three and one-half inch pectoral pendant featuring on its face the figure of a Gordon Highlander with pipes. To the right of the piper is the Cross of St. Andrew. To the left is the Cross of England. Flanking the figure is the date 1857, the opening year of the University, and garland thistles. In the background are the hills of Scotland, and beneath the piper is an open book, a symbol of knowledge. On the reverse side is the sunken crest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The pendant descends from a shield containing a triple-towered castle. The collar of the medallion is comprised of a series of two-inch shields, alternately bearing three different designs: the meigle, an interlacing knotwork peculiar to the Pictish school of Celtic art; the Tudor rose design; and "ESC" in interlocking letters on a background of tabby weaving. Connecting each of the collar shields is a Cross of St. George, representing the union of Scotland and England. The entire medallion was fabricated and cast in the cire perdue (lost wax) process.

Surrounding the silver medallion is a gold crafted circle which reads "Edinboro University of Pennsylvania." Professor Katzwinkel, now retired, added this piece to the medallion especially for the Inauguration of President Frank G. Pogue in 1997, and it is now a permanent fixture to the medallion representing the school's current status as a University.

ACADEMIC VESTMENTS

The gown, the cap, and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

GOWN

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The bachelor's and master's gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the bachelor's gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The master's gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the doctor's degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

HOOD

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the master's and the doctor's degrees. The doctor's hood is longer than the master's hood and has distinguished panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

CAP

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the baccalaureate and master's degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the president.

PRESIDENT FRANK G. POGUE

Frank G. Pogue was appointed the 15th president of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania on July 1, 1996.

A sociologist, Dr. Pogue holds a bachelor's degree from Alabama State University, a master's degree from Atlanta University, and a Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh.

Prior to his presidency at Edinboro University, Dr. Pogue was the vice chancellor for student affairs and special programs at the State University of New York (SUNY) Central Administration in Albany, serving in that position for 10 years. While vice chancellor, he also served for one year as interim president at the SUNY College at Cobleskill. Prior to his assignment in the SUNY Central Administration, President Pogue was vice president for student affairs, associate vice president for research and educational development, dean of undergraduate studies, and a department chairperson, all at SUNY Albany.

Dr. Pogue participates in national, regional and statewide leadership groups. He serves as a member of the American Council on Education Commission on Government and Public Affairs which advises the Division of Governmental Relations on the broad range of issues in which congressional and executive branch actions affect colleges and universities. He is a member of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) Task Force on Teacher Education and serves as co-chair of the AASCU Forum on Rural Services. Since 1984, Dr. Pogue has served on the Commission on Higher Education Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools and is a former vice chair and member of the Commission's Executive Committee. He currently serves as Association First Vice President for the Middle States Association Board of Trustees and is a member of its Executive Committee. He was appointed chairperson of the Middle States Advisory Committee on Institutional Financial Resources, which advised the Commission on the relationship of financial resources to institutional accreditation. Dr. Pogue is chairperson of the State System of Higher Education (SSHE) Commission for the Universities and Commission of Presidents Executive Committee and is a member of the Chancellor's Advisory Council of the State System of Higher Education. He is a member of the Executive Board of a Community of Agile Partners in Education (CAPE). In October 1996, Dr. Pogue was appointed by former Pennsylvania Governor

Tom Ridge to the Governor's Commission on Academic Standards.

Locally, Dr. Pogue serves on the boards of directors for the Erie Conference on Community Development, the United Way of Erie County, the Presque Isle Partnership (chairperson of the Leadership Gifts Division of the 1998-1999 Endowment Campaign), and the Greater Erie County Chapter of the American Red Cross, for which he served as their 1997 capital campaign chairman. He also serves as a member of the Martin Luther King Center Scholarship Committee and the Board of Corporators for both the Hamot Health Foundation and the St. Vincent Health Center. Dr. Pogue was chairperson of the Commission for the Erie County Millennium initiative, "Together 2000."

Recently, Dr. Pogue was honored with the Louis J. Tullio Community Service Award which is administered by the Erie Area Chamber of Commerce. The Greater Erie Community Action Committee (GECAC) honored him with the Paul P. Martin Community Service Award in the year 2000, and in 1999, the Distinguished Service Award for Leadership and Vision was presented to him by the SUNY at Albany Council of Trustees.

Dr. Pogue has shared his experiences and expertise in the Edinboro University classroom setting via guest lecturer presentations. He has also taught the course titled Special Topics in Sociology for the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work. He continues to enjoy working in the classroom environment.

Since becoming president, Dr. Pogue has created the concept and philosophy of the Edinboro Family, a learner-centered environment where students come first and are an integral part of a caring and supportive campus community.

GRAND MARSHAL

Carrying the ceremonial mace and leading the academic procession at today's Commencement ceremony is Dr. Robert P. Rhodes, professor of political science.

Dr. Rhodes joined the faculty of Edinboro University in 1969. He holds a Bachelor of Arts in American Studies from Syracuse University, a master's degree in government from The American University, and a Ph.D. in social science from the Maxwell School of Syracuse University.

Prior to his tenure at Edinboro, Dr. Rhodes served with the Peace Corps in Liberia, West Africa. He taught American history at Chittenango High School and the State University of New York at Cortland, and political science at Onondaga Community College.

Dr. Rhodes was named a Pennsylvania Commonwealth Fellow, a state-wide award for outstanding teaching and scholarship as well as a National Endowment for the Humanities Fellow in Bio-Ethics and Health Policy at Indiana University/Bloomington, and a National Endowment for the Humanities Fellow in Civil Liberties at the University of Wisconsin. He served numerous times as a Pennsylvania Humanities Council Commonwealth lecturer and seminar leader. In 1992, Dr. Rhodes was nominated for CASE Professor of the Year, and for the American Bar Association's Liberty Bell Award the following year.

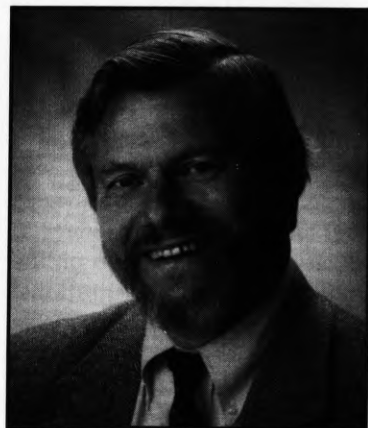

Dr. Rhodes is the author of "Health Care Politics, Policy and Distributive Justice: The Ironic Triumph," published by the State University of New York Press in 1992; "Organized Crime: Crime Control v. Civil Liberties," published by Random House in 1984; and "The Insoluble Problems of Crime," published in 1977 by John Wiley & Sons. He wrote "Variables Affecting Conflict/Cooperation in Historical Perspective in Community Police Relations" for the Governor's Task Force on Police Community Relations, as well as a variety of reports for the Pennsylvania Governor's Justice Commission.

In 1996, Dr. Rhodes chaired a plenary panel at Mercyhurst College's Conference on Juvenile Delinquency. He made presentations to the Indiana University/Bloomington Symposium on Fairness Doctrine, and the Northeastern Political Science Association.

In his 40-year professional career, Dr. Rhodes has prided himself on establishing a positive teaching-learning relationship with his students. Upon notifying the University of his retirement at the conclusion of the fall semester, Dr. Rhodes wrote, "I have been teaching in one capacity or another all of my life. I never entered a classroom without excitement. A vocation that centers on discussing ideas and values in an atmosphere of intellectual freedom is an enormous privilege. Edinboro students . . . are as appreciative of their opportunities as I was of teaching and writing here. It was a pleasure to teach in an environment that nurtures such students."

Dr. Rhodes and his wife, Caroline, have plans to work with the Peace Corps and various non-governmental organizations.

HONORARY DOCTORATE

The Honorable Joyce A. Savocchio, mayor of the City of Erie, has been selected to receive the degree Doctor of Public Service (Doctor Beneficiorum Publicorum, honoris causa) at today's Commencement ceremony.

A native of Erie, Ms. Savocchio earned a Bachelor of Arts in History from Mercyhurst College and a master's degree in education from the University of Pittsburgh. She earned secondary school administration certification from Edinboro University.

Mayor Savocchio began her professional career as a teacher of social studies in the Erie School District. She served as assistant principal of Strong Vincent High School in Erie for four years and as coordinator of curriculum development for middle school and high school projects. She was teacher coordinator of the High School Task Force and president of the Erie Education Association during the 1975-76 school year.

Active in politics for the past 20 years, Mayor Savocchio was a member of Erie City Council from 1981 to 1990, serving as president of that body in 1983. She was elected mayor of Erie in 1989 and served three terms in that position which she will leave at the end of December.

Mayor Savocchio served as president of the Pennsylvania League of Cities and Municipalities; founder and president of the Northwestern Pennsylvania Mayors' Roundtable, and a member of the Subcommittee on Transportation and Communications for the U.S. Conference of Mayors. She was appointed by President Clinton to serve as vice president of the Christopher Columbus Foundation and named to the Pennsylvania Housing Board by former Governor Tom Ridge. Savocchio also served as secretary of the Electoral College for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during the 1992 presidential election.

Mayor Savocchio was the first woman to serve as mayor of Erie, the first woman to be duly elected to serve on Erie's City Council, and the first woman to serve as the Council's president. Under her administration, Erie experienced extensive infrastructure rebuilding, including a reinvestment of some $100 million in the rebuilding of the city's aging sewer system.

As mayor, Savocchio also holds the position of Public Safety Director (Police and Fire) and in that capacity, she spearheaded the transformation of the Erie Bureau of Police to a modern, professional service operating under a Community Policing policy and program.

Other accomplishments during Savocchio's term of office include a Neighborhood Watch Program in the City of Erie resulting in a reduction of violent crime by 33 percent during 1999; the return of a summer recreation program for children and adults with safe, active playgrounds; an independent Water Authority; and development of the Erie bayfront and downtown business district.

The recipient of numerous honors and awards, Savocchio was named Democratic Woman of the Year in 1981, Italian-American Woman of the Year in 1987, and MECA Outstanding Citizen of the Year in 1991. She received honorary doctorates from Villa Maria College of Gannon University in 1990 and Mercyhurst College in 2001. Savocchio received the Distinguished Alumna Award from Mercyhurst College in 1990 and Edinboro University in 1993. She was inducted into Pennsylvania's Honor Roll of Women in 1996.

Alma Mater

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania

Hail to Thee our Alma Mater glo-ri-ous; fresh wreaths we bring to bind thy brow. Trials have passed and Thou hast stood vic-tor-i-ous, ne-ver fair-er, nev-er state-lier than now, O Ed-in-bo-ro, Ed-in-bo-ro, ev-er prais-ing Thee in song, While class speeds class, as swift years pass, to Thee our hearts be-long.
