THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The ceremonial mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the Grand Marshal, Dr. Salene Cowher. A gift of the Alumni Association, the mace was designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel and Dr. Seymour Blinderman, former chairman of the Art Department. It was first used at the inauguration of Edinboro State College President Chester T. McNerney, in 1967.

The mace, twenty-seven inches in length, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded with circular cabochon rubies, secured by bezels. The collar of the mace is inlaid with ebony, alternated with silver relief fleur-de-lis design elements. The cultured pearls mounted in cups encircle the bottom of the collar symbolizing the thirteen state colleges of Pennsylvania. The shaft of the mace is composed of Brazilian rosewood sections, separated by sterling silver rings. The mace is terminated by a cast sterling silver finial; the five cultured pearls represent the existing curricula. The rib-like cone form is terminated by a small silver sphere symbolizing the world.

The metal working processes incorporated in the ceremonial mace include turning, forging, inlaying, stone setting, and lost wax centrifugal casting.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The first presidential medallion was presented to former President Foster F. Diebold during the May, 1981 commencement ceremonies. Designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel, the sterling silver medallion consists of a three and one-half inch pectoral pendant featuring on its face the figure of a Gordon Highlander with pipes. To the right of the piper is the Cross of St. Andrew. To the left is the Cross of England. Flanking the figure is the date 1857, the opening year of the University, and garland thistles. In the background are the hills of Scotland, and beneath the piper is an open book, a symbol of knowledge. On the reverse side is the sunken crest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The pendant descends from a shield containing a triple-towered castle. The collar of the medallion is comprised of a series of two-inch shields, alternately bearing three different designs: the meigle, an interlacing knotwork peculiar to the Pictish school of Celtic art; the Tudor rose design; and "ESC" in interlocking letters on a background of tabby weaving. Connecting each of the collar shields is a Cross of St. George, representing the union of Scotland and England. The entire medallion was fabricated and cast in the cire perdue (lost wax) process.

Surrounding the silver medallion is a gold crafted circle which reads "Edinboro University of Pennsylvania." Professor Katzwinkel, now retired, added this piece to the medallion especially for the Inauguration of President Frank G. Pogue in 1997, and it is now a permanent fixture to the medallion representing the school's current status as a University.

ACADEMIC VESTMENTS

The gown, the cap, and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The bachelor's and master's gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the bachelor's gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The master's gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the doctor's degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

HOOD

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the master's and the doctor's degrees. The doctor's hood is longer than the master's hood and has distinguished panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

CAP

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the baccalaureate and master's degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the president.

PRESIDENT FRANK G. POGUE

Frank G. Pogue was appointed the 15th president of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania on July 1, 1996.

A sociologist, Dr. Pogue holds a bachelor's degree from Alabama State University, a master's degree from Atlanta University, and a Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh.

Prior to his presidency at Edinboro University, Dr. Pogue was the vice chancellor for student affairs and special programs at the State University of New York (SUNY) Central Administration in Albany, serving in that position for 10 years. While vice chancellor, he also served for one year as interim president at the SUNY College at Cobleskill. Prior to his assignment in the SUNY Central Administration, President Pogue was vice president for student affairs, associate vice president for research and educational development, dean of undergraduate studies, and a department chairperson, all at SUNY at Albany.

Dr. Pogue participates in national, regional and statewide leadership groups. He serves as a member of the American Council on Education (ACE) Commission on Women in Higher Education which provides counsel to ACE on policies related to women in higher education and advises on other concerns related to expanded roles and equal opportunity for women in higher education. He is a member of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) Committee on Professional Development, Millennium Leadership Initiative and Christa McAuliffe Selection Committee. He was appointed in 2003 to the International Association of University Presidents Commission on Disarmament Education, Conflict Resolution and Peace. Since 1984, Dr. Pogue has served on the Commission on Higher Education Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools (MSA). Most recently, he served as President for the MSA Board of Trustees and as a member of its Executive Committee, and he is a former vice chair and member of the Commission's Executive Committee. He chaired the MSA Advisory Committee on Institutional Financial Resources which advised the Commission on the relationship of financial resources to institutional accreditation. Dr. Pogue also serves on the Board of Trustees of The BACCHUS & GAMMA Peer Education Network. He served for two years as chairperson of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education (SSHE) Commission for the Universities and Commission of Presidents Executive Committee. He is a member of the Executive Board of A Community of Agile Partners in Education (CAPE). In October 1996, Dr. Pogue was appointed by then Pennsylvania Governor Tom Ridge to the Governor's Commission on Academic Standards. In November 2002, he was appointed co-chair of the Higher Education Committee of Pennsylvania Governor Ed Rendell's Transition Team.

Locally, Dr. Pogue serves on the Board of Directors for the Meadville Area Industrial Commission, the Erie Regional Chamber and Growth Partnership, the Erie Philharmonic Orchestra, and the Boards of Corporators for the Hamot Health Foundation, the St. Vincent Health Center, and the Meadville Medical Center. He is a member of the Martin Luther King Center Scholarship Committee and an Honorary Member of the Erie Wolves Club. Dr. Pogue was chairperson of the Erie County Millennium Commission, the Erie County State Employees Combined Appeal (SECA) campaign in 2001 and 2002, and of the Erie Day School's Adopt-A-Scholar scholarship program (2000-01 and 2002-03). He was also a member of the Erie Mayor's Task Force on Public Safety. Dr. Pogue has served on the boards of directors for the Erie Conference on Community Development, the United Way of Erie County, and the Greater Erie County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Dr. Pogue was honored by the Erie Area Chamber of Commerce with the Louis J. Tullio Community Service Award. The Greater Erie Community Action Committee (GECAC) honored him with the Paul P. Martin Community Service Award in 2000, and in 1999, the Distinguished Service Award for Leadership and Vision was presented to him by the SUNY at Albany Council of Trustees.

Dr. Pogue has shared his experiences and expertise in Edinboro University classrooms via guest lecturer presentations. He has also taught a course titled, "Special Topics in Sociology" for the Department of Sociology. He continues to enjoy working in the classroom environment.

Since becoming president, Dr. Pogue has created the concept and philosophy of the Edinboro Family, a learner-centered environment where students come first and are an integral part of a caring and supportive campus community.

GRAND MARSHAL

Leading the Academic Procession and carrying the ceremonial mace today is Dr. Salene Cowher, professor in the Professional Studies Department at Edinboro University.

Dr. Cowher earned a Bachelor of Science in Education and a Master of Arts in Guidance and Counseling from Slippery Rock University. She received a Ph.D. in Counselor Education with concentrations in individual counseling and program development from the University of Pittsburgh. She is a licensed professional counselor in Pennsylvania and North Carolina and holds numerous certificates in counseling and education.

Dr. Cowher began her career as a special needs teacher in the Commodore Perry School District. She served as an adult education counselor and career center coordinator at the Mercer County Vocational-Technical School and Penn State Shenango, and as a special needs counselor/coordinator at the Crawford County Area Vocational-Technical School. Her first position in higher education was at the Community College of Allegheny County, where she served as coordinator of the Single Parent and Homemaker Program and held several positions in the college's women's center. Dr. Cowher joined Queens College in North Carolina where she taught and served as director of the career placement center, and then became manager of the Learning Assistance Center and library at York Technical College in South Carolina. She joined the Edinboro University faculty in the fall of 1992 in the Counseling and Human Development Department, where she served as department chair from 1994 to 2002. Dr. Cowher has also practiced privately as a consultant and therapist since 1987, dealing primarily with clients who are exceedingly at-risk.

Since 1994, Dr. Cowher has been project director of On-Track, a program that encourages high school students in rural areas to continue their education. She has been extensively involved with the Community Charter School of the Greater Erie Community Action Committee:

she assisted in writing the 800-page funding proposal for the school, served on its board of directors and co-authored its curriculum. She is co-coordinator for the University's accreditation review process for the National Council on Accreditation of Teacher Education, and is actively involved in the International Alliance for Invitational Education Activities. She serves on the boards of directors of the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Education Programs and the Association for Humanistic Education and Development.

Dr. Cowher is involved with numerous boards and organizations, including state advisory boards in Pennsylvania on Education and Health and Human Services; the American Counseling Association; the American College Personnel Association; and the Pennsylvania Counseling Association.

She has made more than 100 local, national and international presentations on such topics as conflict management, confidentiality, communication skills, stress management, leadership, adolescent development and gender issues.

Dr. Cowher's many publications include three books, the most recent of which is Integration of Dream Work and Related Projective Techniques in Counseling and Psychotherapy. She has authored many grants, primarily related to rural adolescents, single parents and students with disabilities.

HONORARY DOCTORATE

William E. Strickland Jr., president and chief executive officer of the Manchester Craftsmen's Guild and the Bidwell Training Center, Inc., has been selected to receive the degree Doctor of Public Service (Doctor Beneficiorum Publicorum, Honoris Causa) at today's Commencement ceremony.

The Manchester Craftsmen's Guild is an inner-city, minority-directed arts organization that focuses on the advancement of inner-city youth through arts education. The Bidwell Training Center, Inc., is a nationally recognized, not-for-profit, accredited vocational and academic educational institution whose primary purpose is to serve economically disadvantaged individuals.

In this dual role, Mr. Strickland develops and implements major fund-raising plans, works with boards of directors and an industrial advisory board, and encourages collaboration with Pittsburgh corporations to produce plans of action. He recently completed a campaign to raise funds for the construction of a 62,000-square-foot facility that will include a 350-seat performing arts/lecture hall, library, art studios and labs, lunchroom facilities, an IBM Center and specially designed classrooms for vocational training.

In 1999, Mr. Strickland was presented with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Arts Leadership and Service Award. In 1998, he received the Kilby Award and the "Coming Up Taller" Award presented in a White House ceremony by first lady Hillary Rodham Clinton. In 1996, Mr. Strickland received the MacArthur "Genius" Award for leadership and ingenuity in the arts.

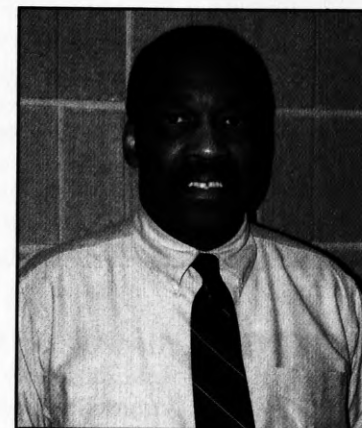

Mr. Strickland served as chairman of the Expansion Arts Panel of the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA) in Washington, D.C., and completed a six-year presidential appointment as a council member to the NEA. He is a board member of the Mattress Factory Museum, Americans for the Arts, Phipps Conservatory and the Institute for Social Enterprise at the Harvard Business School. He also serves on the boards of the Mellon Financial Corporation, President's Committee on the Arts and Humanities, the Nonprofit Finance Fund, the Allegheny Conference on Community Development, and the Pittsburgh Regional Alliance.

Mr. Strickland earned a baccalaureate degree in American history and foreign relations in 1969 from the University of Pittsburgh, where he is a master's degree candidate.

He received honorary degrees from Chatham College, the San Francisco Art Institute, the Maryland Art Institute, Rutgers University, Columbia College, University of Pittsburgh, and Carnegie Mellon University. He also received a Distinguished Alumni award from the University of Pittsburgh and serves on the university's Board of Trustees.

Mr. Strickland is the author of Across the Spectrum, a primer for developing arts programs.

EDUCATOR, ADVISOR, RESEARCHER AND STAFF MEMBER OF THE YEAR AWARDS

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania President Frank G. Pogue presented the Educator of the Year, Advisor of the Year, Researcher of the Year and Staff Member of the Year awards to four Edinboro employees at the 2004 Spring Convocation held on Friday, April 2. The annual event is part of the University-wide employee recognition program

Dr. Joseph Laythe of the History and Anthropology Department is the 2004 Educator of the Year. In addition to his teaching role in the classroom, Dr. Laythe serves as the co-chair of the Highlands Center for Faculty Initiatives where he helped to coordinate the community-wide volunteer initiative Random Acts of Kindness in Edinboro (RAKE). He also was the coordinator of the Conference on the Detection and Treatment of Child Sex Abuse held in December. Dr. Laythe is a co-chair of the Commission on Civility and a member of the American Democracy Project committee.

Professor Lisa Austin of the Art Department is the 2004 Advisor of the Year. Austin was instrumental in assisting the University in forging a unique partnership with Penn State Behrend to connect artists with engineers. She has also made an important contribution to the process of advising for the entire Art Department in her leadership of the Aloha movement. "Aloha" means both hello and goodbye in the native language of Hawaii. Austin has taken the lead in creating Aloha events that welcome freshmen to the Art Department and that prepare seniors for life after graduation

The winner of the 2004 Researcher of the Year Award is Dr. Richard Double of the Philosophy Department. With a record of research spanning 25 years, Double has more than 75 publications of books, articles and reviews. Oxford University Press has published three of Dr. Double's monographs: Non-Reality of Free Will, Metaphilosophy and Free Will, and Beginning Philosophy. His books on free will have been used in graduate courses at the University of Texas, Stanford University, the University of Pennsylvania Law School, Columbia University, and the University of Pittsburgh. His Beginning Philosophy text has been labeled the best introductory monograph in existence.

The 2004 Staff Member of the Year is Kahan Sablo. As Dean of Student Life, he supervises residence life and housing, student health services, counseling and psychological services, and is liaison to the Edinboro Campus Ministry. Sablo serves as advisor to United Voices of Edinboro, and he is minister of music at St. James AME Church in Erie and a member of the GECAC Charter School Board of Directors. Sablo is also a member of the Edinboro Volunteer Fire Department and is a certified and licensed paramedic.

Alma Mater

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania

Hail to Thee our Alma Mater glo-ri-ous; fresh wreaths we bring to bind thy brow. Trials have passed and Thou hast stood vic-tor-i-ous, ne-ver fair-er, nev-er state-lier than now, O Ed-in-bo-ro, Ed-in-bo-ro, ev-er prais-ing

Thee in song, While class speeds class, as swift years pass, to Thee our hearts be-long.

* Students who will complete degree requirements during Summer 2004.

The University does not claim the list of degree candidates or honors designations is absolutely accurate. Students are granted degrees only if they meet all academic and financial requirements.

THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The ceremonial mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the Grand Marshal, Dr. Roy Shinn. A gift of the Alumni Association, the mace was designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel and Dr. Seymour Blinderman, former chairman of the Art Department. It was first used at the inauguration of Edinboro State College President Chester T. McNerney, in 1967.

The mace, twenty-seven inches in length, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded with circular cabochon rubies, secured by bezels. The collar of the mace is inlaid with ebony, alternated with silver relief fleur-de-lis design elements. The cultured pearls mounted in cups encircle the bottom of the collar symbolizing the thirteen state colleges of Pennsylvania. The shaft of the mace is composed of Brazilian rosewood sections, separated by sterling silver rings. The mace is terminated by a cast sterling silver finial; the five cultured pearls represent the existing curricula. The rib-like cone form is terminated by a small silver sphere symbolizing the world.

The metal working processes incorporated in the ceremonial mace include turning, forging, inlaying, stone setting, and lost wax centrifugal casting.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The first presidential medallion was presented to former President Foster F. Diebold during the May, 1981 commencement ceremonies. Designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel, the sterling silver medallion consists of a three and one-half inch pectoral pendant featuring on its face the figure of a Gordon Highlander with pipes. To the right of the piper is the Cross of St. Andrew. To the left is the Cross of England. Flanking the figure is the date 1857, the opening year of the University, and garland thistles. In the background are the hills of Scotland, and beneath the piper is an open book, a symbol of knowledge. On the reverse side is the sunken crest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The pendant descends from a shield containing a triple-towered castle. The collar of the medallion is comprised of a series of two-inch shields, alternately bearing three different designs: the meigle, an interlacing knotwork peculiar to the Pictish school of Celtic art; the Tudor rose design; and "ESC" in interlocking letters on a background of tabby weaving. Connecting each of the collar shields is a Cross of St. George, representing the union of Scotland and England. The entire medallion was fabricated and cast in the cire perdue (lost wax) process.

Surrounding the silver medallion is a gold crafted circle which reads "Edinboro University of Pennsylvania." Professor Katzwinkel, now retired, added this piece to the medallion especially for the Inauguration of President Frank G. Pogue in 1997, and it is now a permanent fixture to the medallion representing the school's current status as a University.

ACADEMIC VESTMENTS

The gown, the cap, and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic procession symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The bachelor's and master's gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the bachelor's gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The master's gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the doctor's degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

HOOD

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the master's and the doctor's degrees. The doctor's hood is longer than the master's hood and has distinguished panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

CAP

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the baccalaureate and master's degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the president.

PRESIDENT FRANK G. POGUE

Frank G. Pogue was appointed the 15th president of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania on July 1, 1996.

A sociologist, Dr. Pogue holds a bachelor's degree from Alabama State University, a master's degree from Atlanta University, and a Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh.

Prior to his presidency at Edinboro University, Dr. Pogue was the vice chancellor for student affairs and special programs at the State University of New York (SUNY) Central Administration in Albany, serving in that position for 10 years. While vice chancellor, he also served for one year as interim president at the SUNY College at Cobleskill. Prior to his assignment in the SUNY Central Administration, President Pogue was vice president for student affairs, associate vice president for research and educational development, dean of undergraduate studies, and a department chairperson, all at SUNY at Albany.

Dr. Pogue participates in national, regional and statewide leadership groups. He serves as a member of the American Council on Education (ACE) Commission on Women in Higher Education which provides counsel to ACE on policies related to women in higher education and advises on other concerns related to expanded roles and equal opportunity for women in higher education. He is a member of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) Committee on Professional Development, Millennium Leadership Initiative and Christa McAuliffe Selection Committee. He was appointed in 2003 to the International Association of University Presidents Commission on Disarmament Education, Conflict Resolution and Peace. Since 1984, Dr. Pogue has served on the Commission on Higher Education Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools (MSA). Most recently, he served as President for the MSA Board of Trustees and as a member of its Executive Committee, and he is a former vice chair of the Commission's Executive Committee. Dr. Pogue also serves on the Board of Directors of Pennsylvania Campus Compact. He served for two years as chairperson of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education (PASSHE) Commission for the Universities and Commission of Presidents Executive Committee. He is a member of the Executive Board of A Community of Agile Partners in Education (CAPE). In October 1996, Dr. Pogue was appointed by then Pennsylvania Governor Tom Ridge to the Governor's Commission on Academic Standards. In November 2002, he was appointed co-chair of the Higher Education Committee of Pennsylvania Governor Ed Rendell's Transition Team. In May, 2004, he was appointed to the Pennsylvania Department of Education's Higher Education Advisory Board.

Locally, Dr. Pogue serves on the Boards of Directors for the Meadville Area Industrial Commission, the Erie Regional Chamber and Growth Partnership, and the Erie Philharmonic Orchestra. He serves on the Boards of Corporators for the Hamot Health Foundation, the Saint Vincent Health Center, and the Meadville Medical Center. He is a member of the Erie Martin Luther King Center Scholarship Committee and an Honorary Member of the Erie Wolves Club. Dr. Pogue was chairperson of the Erie County Millennium Commission, the Erie County State Employees Combined Appeal (SECA) campaign in 2001 and 2002, and of the Erie Day School's Adopt-A-Scholar scholarship program (2000-01 and 2002-03). He was also a member of the Erie Mayor's Task Force on Public Safety. Dr. Pogue has served on the boards of directors for the United Way of Erie County and the Greater Erie County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Dr. Pogue was honored by the Erie Area Chamber of Commerce with the Louis J. Tullio Community Service Award. The Greater Erie Community Action Committee (GECAC) honored him in 2004 with the Othello Myers Johnson Human Services Award and with the Paul P. Martin Community Service Award in 2000. In 1999, the Distinguished Service Award for Leadership and Vision was presented to him by the SUNY at Albany Council of Trustees.

Dr. Pogue has shared his experiences and expertise in Edinboro University classrooms via guest lecturer presentations. He has also taught a course titled, "Special Topics in Sociology" for the Department of Sociology. He continues to enjoy working in the classroom environment.

Since becoming president, Dr. Pogue has created the concept and philosophy of the Edinboro Family, a learner-centered environment where students come first and are an integral part of a caring and supportive campus community.

GRAND MARSHAL

Leading the academic procession and carrying the ceremonial mace at today's Commencement ceremony is Dr. Roy Shinn, Professor of Speech and Communication Studies.

Dr. Shinn earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Communication and Sensory Disorders from Edinboro University, and Master of Science and Ph.D. degrees in Audiology from the Oklahoma University Health Services Center.

He holds Certification in Audiology (CCC-A) from the American Speech-Language Hearing Association, and Certification in Speech Correction from the Pennsylvania Department of Education.

Dr. Shinn began his professional career as a clinical audiologist in Oklahoma City and, later, Bowling Green, Kentucky. In 1987, he was appointed assistant professor at Western Kentucky University and director of the Master's program in speech-language pathology. After joining the Edinboro faculty in 1990 as assistant professor, he was named director of the University's Governor George Leader Speech and Hearing Center in 1995. From 1993 to 2001, he served as director of the CCA-accredited Master's program in speech-language pathology and assistant chair of the Speech and Communication Studies Department. Currently, he is internship coordinator for the Master's program and coordinator for the Baccalaureate program in speech and hearing sciences.

Dr. Shinn served on the Legislative Council of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA), its Board of Ethics, and its

Council on Clinical Specialty Recognition. He also served on the Nominating Council for the Council on Academic Accreditation, and the Committee for the Study of Demographics of the Council of Academic Programs in Communication Sciences and Disorders.

Dr. Shinn's scholarly presentations at national ASHA conferences include A Matter of Ethics & Ethical Matters; Ethics: A Professional Odyssey Past, Present, and Future; and Update on Academic Assessment. He also presented Academic and Clinical Integration: The New Standards and Beyond at the 2003 Council of Academic Programs in Communication Sciences and Disorders Conference.

Recent publications include Ethics in Audiology in the ASHA Leader, and Assessment: Beyond the Standards, in the ASHA Special Interest Division on Higher Education Newsletter.

Dr. Shinn is a five-time recipient of ASHA's Award for Continuing Education, and in 2001, he received Edinboro University's Alumni on the Move Award.

HONORARY DOCTORATE

Dr. David William Steadman, Curator of Ornithology at the Florida Museum of Natural History, has been selected to receive the degree Doctor of Science (Scientia Doctor, Honoris Causa) at today's Commencement ceremony.

He graduated from Edinboro University with a Bachelor of Science degree in biology. He earned a Master of Science degree in zoology from the University of Florida, and a doctorate in geosciences from the University of Arizona.

Dr. Steadman served as associate and senior scientist in zoology and curator of vertebrates at the New York State Museum from 1985 to 1995. He then was appointed assistant curator of ornithology at the Florida Museum of Natural History, becoming associate curator in 1998 and curator in 2001. In addition, he has served as University of Florida Research Foundation Professor since 2000.

His primary research interests are biogeography, systematics, community ecology, zooarchaeology, and paleontology of birds, especially on tropical islands. His current focus is on comparative osteology, species-level systematics, species-area relationships, turnover, extinction, and habitat associations of landbirds from Pacific and Caribbean Islands.

For the last 30 years, Dr. Steadman has carried out field work in much of the continental United States, Mexico, South America, Central America, many of the islands of the Caribbean, and Hawaii, Australia, New Zealand, Africa and Polynesia. His current field projects are in Fiji, Tonga, Vanuatu, Cook Islands, Bahamas, Turks and Caicos, Trinidad and Tobago.

He has lectured at the American Museum of Natural History, the Smithsonian and its Tropical Research Institute, Chicago's Field Museum of Natural History, Rochester Museum and Science Center, University of the West Indies, University of the South Pacific, Charles Darwin Research Station, Galapagos Islands, Ecuador, and the University of Auckland.

Many of his lectures are on tropical birds with a focus on patterns and rates of extinction. One of his recent lectures compared the extinction of island birds in the Pacific and Caribbean. Dr. Steadman is the author of two books, four monographs and 164 peer-reviewed scientific articles.

Dr. Steadman and his wife, Anne Stokes, reside in Gainesville, Florida, with their children, William, 4, and Sarah, 2.

Alma Mater Edinboro University of Pennsylvania

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It consists of five systems of music. Each system has a vocal line on a single staff and a piano accompaniment on two staves. The lyrics are: "Hail to Thee our Alma Mater glo-ri-ous; fresh wreaths we bring to bind thy brow. Trials have passed, and Thou hast stood vic-tor-i-ous, ne-ver fair-er, nev-er state-li-er than now, O Ed-in-bo-ro, Ed-in-bo-ro, ev-er prais-ing Thee in song, While class speeds class, as swift years pass, to Thee our hearts be-long." The score includes measure numbers 1, 5, 10, 15, and 20. The piano accompaniment features arpeggiated chords and flowing sixteenth-note patterns.

* Students who completed degree requirements during Summer 2004.
