

EDINBORO STATE COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT

May 17, 1981, 2:00 p.m. McComb Fieldhouse
Beginning our 125th year of educational service

THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The Ceremonial Mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the College Marshal, Dr. Francis R. Johnson. A gift of the Alumni Association, the Mace was designed and executed by Dr. Seymour Blinderman, formerly of the Art faculty, and Mr. Henry Katzwinkel. It was first used at the inauguration of President Chester T. McNerney.

The Mace, twenty-seven inches high, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded by coneshaped rubies. The neck of the Mace is inlaid with rosewood, alternated with silver fleur-de-lis. Cultured pearls mounted on cups encircle the top of the shaft. Discs of silver interspersed with rosewood compose the shaft which ends with tip-casted silver. Sunken cultured pearls encircle a rounded cone with textured silver to end in a small globe.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

A symbol of presidential authority, the Presidential Medallion will be presented to Foster F. Diebold, President of Edinboro State College, by Mrs. Eve Murphy, Chairperson of the College Board of Trustees. It will be permanently housed in the President's office and presented to successive presidents. Designed and executed by Mr. Henry Katzwinkel, Assistant Professor of Art, the sterling silver Medallion consists of a three and one-half inch pectoral pendant featuring on its face the sunken crest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. On the reverse side is the figure of a Gordon Highlander with pipes. To the right of the piper is the Cross of St. Andrew. To the left is the Cross of England. Flanking the figure is the date 1857, the opening year of the College, and garland thistles. In the background are the hills of Scotland, and beneath the piper is an open book, an image of knowledge.

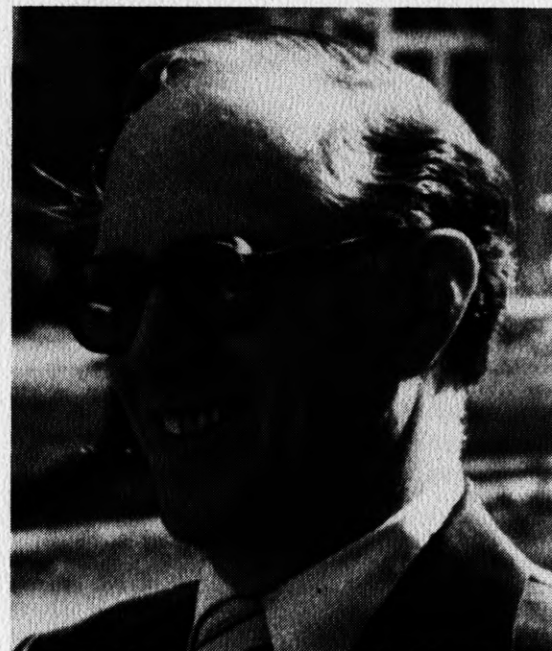

The pendant descends from a shield containing a triple-towered castle, the symbol of defense, protection, and strength. The collar of the medallion is comprised of a series of two-inch shields, alternately bearing three different designs: the meigle, an interlacing knotwork peculiar to the Pictish school of Celtic art; the Tudor rose design; and "ESC" in interlocking letters on a background of tabby weaving. Connecting each of the collar shields is a Cross of St. George, representing the union of Scotland and England. The entire medallion was fabricated and cast in the cire perdue (lost wax) process.

THE COLLEGE MARSHAL — DR. FRANCIS R. JOHNSON

Carrying the Ceremonial Mace and leading the academic procession as College Marshal is Dr. Francis R. Johnson, one of the most senior members of the Edinboro State College faculty. During his 23½ years on the Edinboro staff, he has served in both the ranks of the faculty and the administration.

Dr. Johnson joined the Edinboro State College faculty in 1958 and had a dual assignment in both the English and speech departments. It was at that time the College sought to expand the services of speech correction with special education, and in 1959, he was assigned to teach courses in speech correction and psychology and became a member of the psychology/special education department.

He has the distinction of writing all the original programs in speech and hearing at Edinboro, now recognized as one of the finest speech and hearing units in Pennsylvania. In addition, he was directly involved in the planning and equipping of Edinboro's initial speech and hearing lab, Leader Clinic. During his 7½ years of teaching in that particular facility, Dr. Johnson provided free diagnostic speech and hearing services for students, faculty, and townspeople. He is currently a member of the College's speech communications department.

In 1964, Dr. Johnson was appointed administrative director of Edinboro State College's Warren campus, located in Warren, Pa. Prior to the establishment of the on-site facility in Warren, Dr. Johnson assisted in coordinating Edinboro's extension courses there. After several years of negotiating, planning, and renovating, the campus was moved from its original in-town location to a site north of Warren that included 196 acres of land and several buildings. Enrollment increased from an initial figure of 51 students to 399 students. Johnson returned to the main campus in September of 1979 after the Warren Center had fulfilled its needs as a branch campus of the institution.

Upon completion of his undergraduate work at Bloomsburg State College, Dr. Johnson received his Master's of Education in Speech Pathology/Audiology and Clinical Psychology from Penn State in 1952 and followed in 1976 with his Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh. After receiving his B.S. degree, he was a speech therapist with the Warren Borough schools from 1951 through 1956 and then established and organized the speech and hearing program in Warren County schools, 1956 through 1958. In April of 1979, he received a citation of congratulations from the Senate of Pennsylvania for his efforts in various areas of education over a 33-year period.

Dr. Johnson and his wife, Jean, currently reside in Edinboro and have five children — Amy, Douglas, Judith, Barbara, and David.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER — CHARLES R. WEBBER
Alaska Commissioner of Commerce and Economic Development

Mr. Charles R. Webber, Alaska Department of Commerce and Economic Development Commissioner, will deliver the address at today's commencement exercises. During the exercises, Edinboro State College President Foster F. Diebold will present Mr. Webber with an honorary Doctorate of Science, the first degree of its kind ever awarded by the College.

Possessing more than 25 successful years of experience in the Alaska business community, Commissioner Webber began his success as an owner and manager of a construction equipment sales firm in Anchorage in 1951. Subsequently, he became involved in the construction and operation of Alaska's first industrial gas plants with locations in Anchorage, Fairbanks, and Kenai.

In 1979, Governor Jay Hammond appointed Mr. Webber to his cabinet as the Commissioner of the Alaska Department of Commerce and Economic Development. The department has wide-ranging responsibilities including regulatory programs for public protection and economic development programs for Alaska's financial future. The department regulates financial institutions, securities, the insurance industry, and the licensing of occupations and professions. Economic development programs include tourism, fisheries, minerals, and power and energy development.

As Commissioner of Commerce and Economic Development, Webber also serves on numerous boards and commissions. He is a chairman of the State Bond Committee and serves as a member of the Alaska Industrial Development Authority, the Alaska Housing Finance Corporation, the Alaska Power Authority, the Alaska State Housing Authority and the Board of Marine Pilots.

A University of Colorado graduate, where he received a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering in 1949, Mr. Webber has been a design engineer, the general manager of an industrial and liquid air products company, as well as a private consultant for property management in Anchorage, Alaska. Among his numerous major public activities, he has served as president of the Anchorage Chamber of Commerce Board, a University of Alaska regent, chairman of the Providence Hospital Board, and chairman of the American Welding Society.

Mr. Webber's tenure as Commissioner of Alaska's Department of Commerce and Economic Development has been particularly significant because of his policy-making role and managerial guidance during a time in Alaskan history when crucial decisions are being made with regard to resource development. The disposition of oil generated revenues, for example, involves decisions that inevitably contain economic, social, and ethical implications.

The faculty, students, and administrators of Edinboro State College are convinced that Mr. Webber clearly meets the criteria for the awarding of the honorary Doctorate of Science degree: the initiation of, and involvement in, significant activities that have had positive and profound effects upon the lives of individuals and that have contributed significantly to the development of government and/or society.

Foster F. Diebold was named Edinboro State College's 14th President on August 1, 1979. Since that time, he has brought a consistently bold vision to his guidance of the College's many-faceted services to northwestern Pennsylvania.

Noted for his extensive experience in the field of education management, President Diebold had previously served as President of the University of Alaska statewide system.

His innovative efforts at Edinboro have taken many shapes. Most recently, he initiated a total reorganization of the College's various academic schools and administrative offices with a watchful eye upon fiscal responsibility and increased institutional responsiveness. In keeping with his policy of making maximum use of existing campus resources during a period of restricted resources in higher education, he has imaginatively met the ever-changing needs brought about by new and emerging student interests and societal expectations.

Unique cooperative programs with area business and industry are also the result of President Diebold's revitalization of Edinboro State College. Among his favorite projects is the All-College Honors Program, which draws upon the contributions of College staff for its scholarship funds, and which recognizes the academic distinction of excellent students by offering specialized interdisciplinary coursework and advanced research work.

President Diebold's principal fields of professional interest include higher education management, governance, and planning; budget development and fiscal control; legislative liaison; and personnel management/collective bargaining. While at Rutgers University in 1963, he received a Wall Street Journal fellowship.

A native of Orange, New Jersey, he served as President of the University of Alaska from 1977-1979. Prior to that, he was executive secretary to the Board of Regents and Special Assistant to the President of the University of Alaska's statewide system. From 1969 to 1976, he was director of the Division of College Development at Kean College, New Jersey (formerly Newark State College), and from 1965 to 1969, he was Assistant Superintendent of Neptune Township Public Schools in New Jersey.

President Diebold was formerly a member of the graduate school of education at Kean College from 1969 to 1976; a teacher of English and psychology in the Neptune Township Public Schools from 1959 to 1965; and in 1957 and 1958, he was a supervisor at the Arthur Brisbane Child Treatment Center for the Emotionally Disturbed in Farmingdale, New Jersey.

Edinboro's President holds an associate degree in psychology from Monmouth Community College, West Long Branch, New Jersey; a bachelor of science degree in education from Monmouth College, a master of arts in educational administration from Seton Hall University; and he has met course requirements for his doctorate in education at Rutgers University.

President Diebold currently serves as Chairman of the Committee on Administration and Finance in the State College and University System of Pennsylvania and in July will begin a term as a member of the Commission of Presidents Executive Committee. He holds membership on the American Association of State Colleges and Universities Committee on State Relations, and on the Government Relations Committee of the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities.

President Diebold's community service includes membership on the Board of Corporators, Hamot Medical Center in Erie, and on Marine Bank's Local Advisory Board. Recently he was a panel participant at the First Global Conference on the Future in Toronto, Canada.

CERTIFICATE OF MERIT — NWRECA

The Northwest Rural Electric Cooperative Association will receive a Certificate of Merit during today's commencement proceedings. Receiving the award will be Mr. Harry Grube, General Manager of RECA. The certificate is being presented in recognition of the significant leadership the Cooperative has shown in providing outstanding human and community services to the people of Northwest Pennsylvania. In addition, the Cooperative will be honored for its sensitivity toward and support of student internships and community involvement in programs of higher education.

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNUS AWARD — WILL J. SCHAAF

Will J. Schaaf, a native of Erie, Pennsylvania, attended Erie East High School, graduated from Edinboro State College in 1942, and has received this year's Distinguished Alumnus Award. He was a U.S. Army Air Force pilot during World War II, and took his law degree from Cornell University in 1948. Since 1949, he has been associated with the law offices of Marsh, Spaeder, Baur, Spaeder and Schaaf. He is a member of the Pennsylvania and American Trial Lawyers associations and is certified by the National Board of Trial Advocacy as a Civil Trial Advocate. Attorney Schaaf is a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers.

PROGRAM OF HONORS STUDIES

The Edinboro State College Program of Honors Studies is designed to provide recognition and enriched learning opportunities for academically gifted students. Outstanding undergraduates are assisted in striving for academic excellence in their majors and in their related studies as well. The students pursue studies that are clearly greater in depth and scope than that required of other undergraduates. Those who successfully complete the program, which involves studies in a variety of areas, are graduated with all-college honors. Admission to the All-College Honors Program is limited to entering freshmen with high college board scores and to Edinboro students who maintain high quality point averages after enrollment at the College.

HONORS GROUP

This group includes those degree candidates who have earned at least sixty-four credits as undergraduate students of Edinboro State College and who have attained the following cumulative averages: Summa Cum Laude, 3.80 to 4.00; Magna Cum Laude, 3.60 to 3.79; and Cum Laude, 3.40 to 3.59.

HELEN SABIN REED SCHOLARSHIP

ACADEMIC VESTMENTS

The gown, the cap and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Gown

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The bachelor and master gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the bachelor gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The master gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the doctor degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

Hood

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the master's and the doctor's degrees. The doctor's hood is longer than the master's hood and has distinguished panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color or coloring of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

Cap

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the baccalaureate and master degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the president.

Because of the demand to meet a deadline to print this program and the short period of time between the end of classes, review of all academic programs, delays caused by such factors as illness of some students and evaluation by the Office of Academic Affairs, the College does not claim the list of degree candidates is absolutely accurate. Students are granted degrees only if they meet all academic and financial requirements.

ALMA MATER

*Hail to Thee, our Alma Mater Glorious,
Fresh Wreaths we bring to bind Thy brow
Trials have past and Thou has stood victorious
Never fairer never statelier than now,
O Edinboro, Edinboro
Ever praising Thee in song
While class speeds class as swift years pass to Thee our hearts belong.*

AND THE WORLD WILL BE BETTER FOR THIS:
THAT ONE MAN, SCORNED AND COVERED WITH SCARS
STILL STROVE, WITH HIS LAST OUNCE OF COURAGE, TO REACH THE UNREACHABLE STARS.
