THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The Ceremonial Mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the College Marshal, Dr. Ralph Ackerman. A gift of the Alumni Association, the Mace was designed and executed by Dr. Seymour Blinderman, formerly of the art faculty, and Mr. Henry Katzwinkel. It was first used at the inauguration of Edinboro State College's thirteenth president, Chester T. McNerney in 1966.

The Mace, twenty-seven inches high, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded by coneshaped rubies. The neck of the Mace is inlaid with rosewood, alternated with silver fleur-de-lis. Cultured pearls mounted on cups encircle the top of the shaft. Discs of silver interspersed with rosewood compose the shaft which ends with tip-casted silver. Sunken cultured pearls encircle a rounded cone with textured silver to end in a small globe.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

A symbol of presidential authority, the first Presidential Medallion was presented to Foster F. Diebold, Edinboro's fourteenth president, during the May 1981 Commencement ceremonies. It is permanently housed in the President's Office and will be presented to successive presidents. Designed and executed by Mr. Henry Katzwinkel, assistant professor of art, the sterling silver Medallion consists of a three and one-half inch pectoral pendant featuring on its face the sunken crest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. On the reverse side is the figure of a Gordon Highlander with pipes. To the right of the piper is the Cross of St. Andrew. To the left is the Cross of England. Flanking the figure is the date 1857, the opening year of the College, and garland thistles. In the background are the hills of Scotland, and beneath the piper is an open book, an image of knowledge.

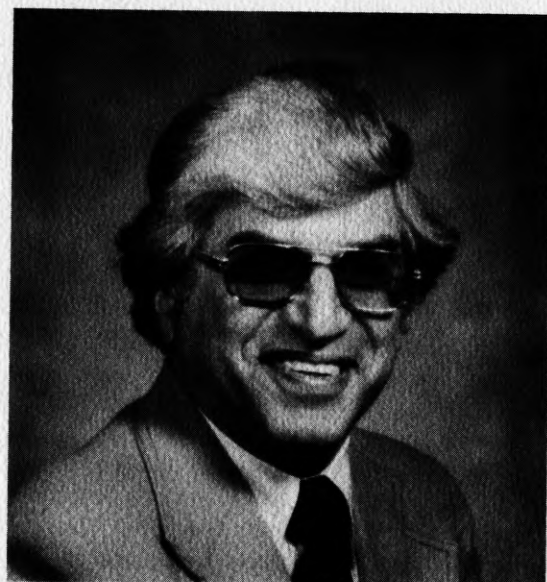

The pendant descends from a shield containing a triple-towered castle, the symbol of defense, protection, and strength. The collar of the medallion is comprised of a series of two-inch shields, alternately bearing three different designs: the meigle, an interlacing knotwork peculiar to the Pictish school of Celtic art; the TUDO rose design; and "ESC" in interlocking letters on a background of tabby weaving. Connecting each of the collar shields is a Cross of St. George, representing the union of Scotland and England. The entire medallion was fabricated and cast in the cire perdue (lost wax) process.

THE COLLEGE MARSHAL - RALPH E. ACKERMAN

Carrying the Ceremonial Mace and leading the academic procession as College Marshal is Dr. Ralph E. Ackerman, who will retire in October, 1983. Dr. Ackerman has served as professor of psychology at Edinboro for the past 22 years, originally in the department of Psychology and Special Education and currently in the reorganized department of Psychology and Counseling.

Dr. Ackerman received a Bachelor of Science in Education degree from Ohio University in 1948, a Master of Education from Ohio University in 1949, and a Ph.D. from the University of Connecticut in 1960.

Prior to his position at Edinboro, Dr. Ackerman served a summer assignment as a visiting lecturer for the graduate school of Marshall University. From 1954 through 1961, he was employed as a junior high school science and mathematics teacher at Glastonbury High School in Glastonbury, Connecticut.

In addition to teaching responsibilities, Dr. Ackerman has been involved in departmental administration. From 1968 to 1969, he served as Assistant Head of the Psychology and Special Education Department and was then elected Chairman of the Psychology Department. He held this position until 1972 when he was selected Chairman of the Division of Behavioral Science. In 1980 he returned to full-time teaching.

Among the numerous college committees on which Dr. Ackerman has served are Graduate Council, College Senate, Admissions Committee, Teacher Education Committee, Academic Council, and Sabbatical Leave Committee. He holds professional membership in the American Psychological Association, American Education Research Association, Pennsylvania Higher Education Association, American Higher Education Association, and National Education Association.

Dr. Ackerman has received numerous honors throughout his academic career including being named to the Directory of International Biography, Outstanding Educators of America, Who's Who in Community Service, Who's Who in the East, and Men in Government. In addition, he has contributed to and written several publications. Active in civic organizations, Dr. Ackerman is a member of the Rotary Club, the Masonic Lodge, and the Shriners.

Dr. Ackerman and his wife, Eileen, reside in Edinboro.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER - WILLIAM E. SCHAUFELE, JR.

Mr. William E. Schaufele, Jr., President of the Foreign Policy Association and former United States Ambassador to Poland, will serve as guest speaker for today's spring Commencement exercises. His address is entitled "Neat, Plausible, and Wrong."

Raised in Lakewood, Ohio, William Schaufele entered the United States Foreign Service in 1950 upon completion of his A.B. at Yale and master's degree in international affairs from Columbia University.

During a 30-year Foreign Service career Mr. Schaufele served in a wide variety of posts in Germany, Morocco, the Congo (now Zaire) and the State Department. In 1969 he became Ambassador to the West African Republic of Upper Volta, where he served for two years.

From 1971 to 1975 Ambassador Schaufele was assigned to the United States Mission to the United Nations in New York, where he served successively as Senior Adviser to the Permanent Representative and Deputy U. S. Representative in the Security Council. He had the primary responsibility for coordinating the work of the permanent U. S. Mission and of U. S. delegations to the annual sessions of the General Assembly. In November 1975, he attained the permanent rank of Career Minister in the Foreign Service.

In December 1975, after a brief tour of duty as Inspector General of the U. S. Foreign Service, Mr. Schaufele was appointed by President Ford as Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs, heading the State Department Bureau that coordinates and implements U. S. policy toward the 50 nations of the African region. He held that post until President Carter appointed him United States Ambassador to Poland. He served as Ambassador until the end of September 1980.

Ambassador Schaufele is one of the world's leading authorities on global politics and their relationship to United States diplomacy. "The conduct of diplomacy requires far more than expert knowledge of a single country or area. In fact, the first indispensable requirement for a diplomat is an extensive interest in and knowledge of his own country which he represents abroad."

Ambassador Schaufele's wide range of experience is reflected in his ability to speak on a variety of subjects.

Mr. Schaufele continues his involvement with the educational community through membership on the advisory council of the School of International and Public Affairs of Columbia University and is a director of the boards of Global Perspectives in Education and the Helsinki Watch Committee.

He holds the Wilbur Carr Award from the Department of State and the 1981 Distinguished Alumnus Award of the School of International and Public Affairs of Columbia University.

HONORARY DOCTORATE - LOUIS J. TULLIO

The Honorable Louis J. Tullio, Mayor of the City of Erie, will be awarded an honorary doctorate, Legum Doctor: Doctor of Laws Degree, in today's ceremony. This is only the second time in Edinboro's 125-year history that such an honor has been bestowed.

Born in Erie, Mayor Tullio is the son of Ersilia Nardone Tullio, who currently resides in Erie, and the late Anthony J. Tullio. He attended Holy Rosary Elementary and Cathedral Prep High School. The Mayor then received a B.S. degree in business administration from Holy Cross College in Worcester, Massachusetts and a master of education degree from Boston University. A member of the United States Navy for 30 months; Mayor Tullio was honorably discharged as Lieutenant J. G.

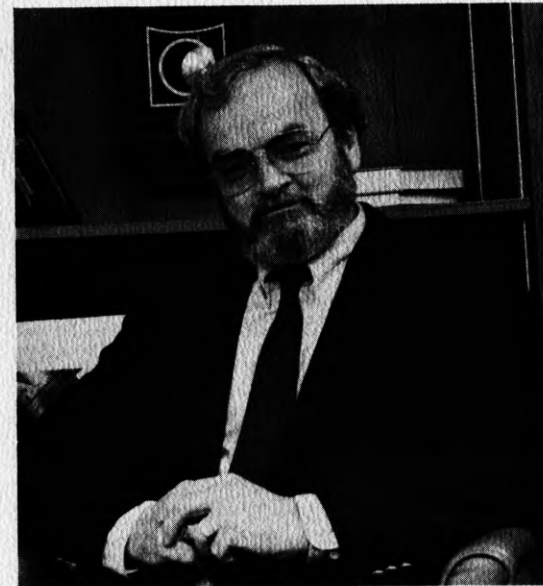

The high school and college football star taught and coached various athletics in school systems throughout New England and Erie. He received the "Little All-America Coach of the Year" award as Gannon College's first football coach. Mayor Tullio has served as administrative assistant to the President of Gannon College, as assistant director of health and education in the Erie School District, and as full-time business manager of the District until his election in November 1965. Since January of 1966, he has served as Erie's first Italian/American mayor and last year became the first Pennsylvania mayor to be elected to a fifth consecutive four-year term.

Married to the former Grace G. Gunster of Ridgwood, New Jersey, the Mayor is active in numerous civic, fraternal, and church organizations. He currently serves on the Board of Directors of several charitable organizations, past president of the Pa. League of Cities, and Advisory Board member of the U.S. Conference of Mayors. Among his many honors is the Fiorello LaGuardia Award from the Fraternal Order of Eagles which was presented to him in Kansas City, Missouri in 1970.

Among the many criteria considered by the College in awarding the honorary degree are Mayor Tullio's recognition throughout the Commonwealth and the nation for political leadership and effectiveness; his service as consultant and advisor to governors, senators, and presidents from both political parties; and his leadership in the City of Erie which transcends political considerations and enables him to work closely and effectively with representatives from both major political parties and with the many constituencies within the City of Erie.

"This honorary degree is being awarded to Mayor Tullio on the basis of criteria used in the long-standing tradition of honorary doctorates in American higher education," commented President Diebold, "and on the basis of his ongoing commitment and contributions to public service. There can be no doubt that Mayor Tullio's extensive political, economic, cultural, and social leadership in the greater Erie area would be difficult for anyone, anywhere, to equal."

EDINBORO STATE COLLEGE PRESIDENT - FOSTER F. DIEBOLD

Foster F. Diebold was named Edinboro State College's 14th President on August 1, 1979. Since that time, he has brought a consistently bold vision to his guidance of the College's many-faceted services to northwestern Pennsylvania.

Noted for his extensive experience in the field of education management, President Diebold had previously served as President of the University of Alaska statewide system.

His innovative efforts at Edinboro have taken many shapes. Most recently, he initiated a total reorganization of the College's various academic schools and administrative offices with a watchful eye upon fiscal responsibility and increased institutional responsiveness. In keeping with his policy of making maximum use of existing campus resources in higher education, he has imaginatively met the ever-changing needs brought about by new and emerging student interests and societal expectations. Unique cooperative programs with area business and industry are also the result of President Diebold's revitalization of Edinboro State College.

Among his favorite projects is the All-College Honors Program, which draws upon the contributions of college staff for its scholarship funds, and which recognizes the academic distinction of excellent students by offering specialized interdisciplinary coursework and advanced research work.

President Diebold's principal fields of professional interest include higher education management, governance, and planning; budget development and fiscal control; legislative liaison; and personnel management/collective bargaining. While at Rutgers University in 1963, he received a Wall Street Journal fellowship.

A native of Orange, New Jersey, he served as President of the University of Alaska from 1977-1979. Prior to that, he was executive secretary to the Board of Regents and Special Assistant to the President of the University of Alaska's statewide system. From 1969 to 1976, he was director of the Division of College Development at Kean College, New Jersey (formerly Newark State College), and from 1965 to 1969, he was Assistant Superintendent of Neptune Township Public Schools in New Jersey.

Edinboro's president holds an associate degree in psychology from Monmouth Community College, West Long Branch, New Jersey; a bachelor of science in education from Monmouth College, a master of arts in educational administration from Seton Hall University; and he has met course requirements for his doctorate in education at Rutgers University.

President Diebold has served as Chairman of the Committee on Administration and Finance in the State College and University System of Pa. He holds memberships on the Professional Development Committee, Planning and Research Committee, and Negotiations Planning Committee of the Commission of State Colleges and University; the American Association of State Colleges and Universities Committee on State Relations; and the Government Relations Committee of the Pa. Association of Colleges and Universities. He is also a charter member of the World Future Society.

President Diebold's community service includes membership on the Board of Corporators, Hamot Medical Center in Erie, and on Marine Bank's Local Advisory Board. He also serves as a member of The William J. McMannis and A. Haskell McMannis Educational Trust Fund Advisory Board, and Chairman of the Government, Education, and Social Agencies Division of the Erie County United Way Campaign.

The President and his wife, Patricia, have two daughters - Jessica, and Stacey.

EDINBORO STATE COLLEGE - A UNIVERSITY IN THE MAKING

"There is hereby established a body corporate and politic constituting a public corporation and government instrumentally which shall be known as the State System of Higher Education...Its purpose shall be to provide high quality education at the lowest possible cost to the students."

In November of 1982, Governor Thornburgh signed into law a bill which gave university status to each of the colleges in the state system and created a comprehensive university system.

From Edinboro Academy in 1857, to Edinboro University of Pennsylvania effective July 1, 1983, the College has continued to provide a quality program of higher education to the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The College now offers more than 100 associate, baccalaureate, and graduate degree programs, a diversity unmatched by any other college or university in northwestern Pennsylvania.

In its university-oriented role, Edinboro State College has continually strived to offer excellence not only in academic programming, but also in its special program and cultural offerings.

In addition to evening and weekend programs designed to meet the needs of working adults, Edinboro is also quite active in programs for the handicapped and the educationally disadvantaged. Noted as one of the few "wheelchair" campuses in the United States, Edinboro has been actively involved in opening doors for the handicapped since 1974.

Edinboro is the only institution in northwestern Pennsylvania to offer a full range of educational opportunities for the academically gifted student. Beginning with the Summer Academy, gifted, talented, and creative youth ages 9 through 16 have the opportunity to experience college life and pursue their interests in the relaxed summer atmosphere of a campus environment. In a continuing effort to fulfill a need for educational opportunities, Edinboro has established the Institute for Talent. College-bound students are given an opportunity to gain early college credit and to experience college life prior to high school graduation. Edinboro State College also offers an All-College Honors Program designed to encourage outstanding undergraduates to strive for academic excellence. The first Pennsylvania state college to develop such a program, Edinboro is the only institution in northwestern Pennsylvania to offer a general honors degree.

As part of the College's effort to provide a comprehensive service to the community, Edinboro offers a diversified cultural life program which includes theater, concerts, and lectures. Among the renowned guests have been the Suzuki Children of Japan, the Hartford Ballet, Buddy Rich, Maynard Ferguson, Buckminster Fuller, and Rocky Bleier.

In addition, Edinboro is the only college in the region to support an extensive visiting scholars program. Professors from mainland China, Pakistan, and India make their homes on the Edinboro campus to study, conduct research, and teach classes. The Visiting Scholars Program is part of the College's on-going efforts to broaden the educational offerings and cultural opportunities afforded students and to expand its international education programming.

Edinboro State College - committed to people and ideas.

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNUS AWARD - ROBERT CAROTHERS

Dr. Robert Carothers has served as Edinboro State College's Vice President for Administration and Student Personnel Services for the past two and a half years. Most recently he has been selected as President of Southwest State University in Marshall, Minnesota. Dr. Carothers was selected by a unanimous vote, and his appointment culminated a five-month nationwide search.

Prior to becoming vice president, Carothers held various positions at Edinboro. He was dean of the school of arts and humanities, chairman of the department of English, and also taught in the English department.

Carothers received the B.S. in education and English from Edinboro State, the M.A. and Ph.D. in English from Kent State University, and the J.D. from the University of Akron School of Law.

He has published poetry and critical essays on various literary subjects and presented numerous poetry readings and papers. The recipient of the Hart Crane-Alice Williams Award for Poetry and certificates of appreciation and exceptional academic service from Edinboro State College, Dr. Carothers is a member of the Bar in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania.

"During his vice presidency at Edinboro," commented President Diebold, "he has done an outstanding job in such vital areas as fiscal affairs, student life, and labor relations. He assumed his vice presidency during a time of serious institutional problems, and he has played a key role in helping us to overcome those problems and chart new directions."

ACADEMIC VESTMENTS

The gown, the cap and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Gown

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The bachelor and master gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the bachelor gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The master gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the doctor degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

Hood

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the master's and the doctor's degrees. The doctor's hood is longer than the master's hood and has distinguished panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color or coloring of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

Cap

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the baccalaureate and master degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the president.

Because of the demand to meet a deadline to print this program and the short period of time between the end of classes, review of all academic programs, delays caused by such factors as illness of some students and evaluation by the office of Academic Affairs, the College does not claim the list of degree candidates is absolutely accurate. Students are granted degrees only if they meet all academic and financial requirements.

ALMA MATER

*Hail to thee, our Alma Mater glorious,
Fresh wreaths we bring to bind thy brow
Trials have past and thou has stood victorious
Never fairer never statelier than now,
O Edinboro, Edinboro
Ever praising thee in song
While class speeds class as swift years pass
To thee our hearts belong.*

TURN BACK, O MAN

*Earth shall be fair,
and all her people one.
Nor till that hour
shall God's whole will be done
Now, even now,
once more from earth to sky
Peals forth in joy,
man's old undaunted cry:
"Earth shall be fair,
and all her folk be one."*
