COMMENCEMENT
SATURDAY, MAY 18, 2013

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Dr. Julie E. Wollman

Dr. Julie E. Wollman became the 17th President of Edinboro University in June 2012, bringing to Edinboro a successful background in teaching, research, and administration.

The first woman to be named president of Edinboro University, she came to Edinboro from Wheelock College in Boston, Mass., where she served as Vice President for Academic Affairs. Prior to that position, she served as Vice President for Academic Affairs at Worcester State University and Dean of Education and Human Development at Rhode Island College.

Immediately upon becoming President, Dr. Wollman initiated a university-wide planning process that produced updated Mission, Values and Vision statements and new long-range goals for the University, all centered on a renewed commitment to uncompromising excellence and student success.

She also has become active in the community, accepting appointment to the Erie Regional Chamber and Growth Partnership Board of Directors, the Hamot Health Foundation Board of Corporators, and the United Way Erie Board of Directors. She also chairs the United Way's Volunteer Engagement Cabinet, among other roles that represent the University's responsiveness to the evolving needs of the broader community. Most recently, she accepted an invitation from state Sen. Sean Wiley to join his Senatorial Advisory Committee on Post Secondary Education.

Additionally she is a member of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities Committee on Policies and Purposes and actively seeks to influence policy to advance opportunities for all who wish to access higher education.

President Wollman is married to Dan L. King, Executive Director of the American Association of University Administrators, a national professional organization. She has two daughters: Sara Bonilla, 22, a recent graduate of Wesleyan University, and Rosa Bonilla, 17, a senior in high school.

MACE BEARER

Donald J. Renn

Leading the academic procession and representing his faculty colleagues by carrying the Ceremonial Mace at today's Undergraduate Commencement is Mr. Donald J. Renn of Edinboro University's Department of Chemistry.

As a 48-year member of the faculty, including 18 years as department chairperson, Professor Renn's distinction as Mace Bearer is symbolic of the central role that faculty play in the academic and personal development of Edinboro's students.

Professor Renn earned his Bachelor of Science in Mathematics from Waynesburg College, now Waynesburg University, in 1957 and a Master of Science in Chemistry from Bucknell University in 1965. He completed additional graduate studies at the University of Pittsburgh and the University of Delaware.

After beginning his teaching career as a high school chemistry teacher in Pawling, N.Y., Professor Renn joined the faculty of what was then Edinboro State College in January 1965. He has enjoyed the opportunity to teach the children and grandchildren of former students. Among the memorable incidents in his long tenure at the University was the 1969 fire that destroyed Normal Hall, which he and his family witnessed from their home across Normal Street.

Though organic chemistry is his specialty, Professor Renn taught several other specialties in chemistry in the laboratory and classroom. For many years, he served as treasurer of the Erie chapter of the American Chemical Society.

His community memberships include Oasis Lodge, No. 416, of Free and Accepted Masons, which he served as secretary for most of his 20-year membership; the local chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, which he served as president for two years; and Northwest Presbyterian Camping Association, which he also served as president for two years.

He and his wife, Janet, are the parents of three adult daughters. They have four granddaughters and two grandsons.

Professor Renn's career as an educator, department chair, and mentor has served his students, colleagues and the entire University community with distinction. He exemplifies the dedication and commitment of our faculty to educational excellence and to our students' success.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Dr. Muriel A. Howard

Dr. Muriel A. Howard, president of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, has been selected to address the graduating class at today's Undergraduate Commencement ceremony.

Dr. Howard is being honored in this manner for her history of success and accomplishment in higher education, her characteristics of perseverance and using one's abilities to achieve success, and her advocacy for opportunity and diversity in public higher education.

Dr. Howard was named president of AASCU in April 2009. She is the first African-American to lead one of the six presidentially based higher education associations in Washington, D.C. She is also AASCU's first female president.

As AASCU president, Dr. Howard is an advocate for public higher education at the national level, working to influence federal policy and regulations on behalf of member colleges and universities; serving as a resource to presidents and chancellors as they address state policy and emerging campus issues; developing collaborative partnerships and initiatives that advance public higher education; directing a strategic agenda that focuses on public college and university leadership for the 21st century; and providing professional development opportunities for presidents, chancellors, and their spouses.

As the president of Buffalo State College, State University of New York, from 1996 to 2009, Dr. Howard led a campus of more than 11,000 students, approximately 1,700 faculty and staff, and a financial operation of more than $214 million. Prior to joining Buffalo State, she was the vice president for public service and urban affairs at the University at Buffalo, State University of New York, where she served in various leadership capacities over a 23-year period.

As a college president, Dr. Howard was an active member of AASCU for many years. Her volunteer involvement with AASCU includes serving as chair of the board of directors (2006-2007) and committee and commission memberships that include the Voluntary System of Accountability Presidential Advisory Committee, the Millennium Leadership Initiative, the Commission on Public University Renewal, and the Alliance for Regional Stewardship. Dr. Howard also served as a faculty member for AASCU's New Presidents' Academy.

Her professional and scholarly interests include educational leadership, women and minorities in the academy, and a long-standing personal commitment to public service. Dr. Howard serves on a number of boards including Air University, the Nonprofit Leadership Alliance, National Advisory Board of the National Survey of Student Engagement, Merchants Insurance Company, and Association Mutual Health Insurance Company.

A graduate of the City University of New York's Richmond College, Dr. Howard holds a master's degree in education and a doctor of philosophy in educational organization, administration, and policy from the University at Buffalo. She earned a certificate from the Institute for Educational Management at Harvard University. She has also received six honorary degrees and many awards for her contributions to public higher education, for service to the community, and for her commitment to diversity.

In recognition of her significant accomplishments and contributions to public higher education, Dr. Howard will receive the degree Doctor of Humane Letters (Litterarum Humaniorum Doctor, Honoris Causa) at today's Undergraduate Commencement ceremony.

Edinboro University is indeed fortunate to count Dr. Muriel A. Howard as an advocate and friend.

THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The ceremonial mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the Mace Bearer. A gift of the Alumni Association, the mace was designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel and Dr. Seymour Blinderman, former chairman of the Art Department. It was first used at the inauguration of Edinboro State College President Chester T. McNerney, in 1967.

The mace, twenty-seven inches in length, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded with circular cabochon rubies, secured by bezels. The collar of the mace is inlaid with ebony, alternated with silver relief fleur-de-lis design elements. Cultured pearls mounted in cups encircle the bottom of the collar, symbolizing the thirteen state colleges of Pennsylvania. The shaft of the mace is composed of Brazilian rosewood sections, separated by sterling silver rings. The mace is terminated by a cast sterling silver finial; the five cultured pearls represent the existing curricula. The rib-like cone form is terminated by a small silver sphere symbolizing the world.

The metal working processes incorporated in the ceremonial mace include turning, forging, inlaying, stone setting, and lost wax centrifugal casting.

PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The first presidential medallion was presented to former President Foster F. Diebold during the May 1981 Commencement ceremonies. Designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel, the sterling silver medallion consists of a three and one-half inch pectoral pendant featuring on its face the figure of a Gordon Highlander with pipes. To the right of the piper is the Cross of St. Andrew. To the left is the Cross of England. Flanking the figure is the date 1857, the opening year of the University, and garland thistles. In the background are the hills of Scotland, and beneath the piper is an open book, a symbol of knowledge. On the reverse side is the sunken crest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The pendant descends from a shield containing a triple-towered castle. The collar of the medallion is comprised of a series of two-inch shields, alternately bearing three different designs: the meigle, an interlacing knotwork peculiar to the Pictish school of Celtic art; the Tudor rose design; and "ESC" in interlocking letters on a background of tabby weaving. Connecting each of the collar shields is a Cross of St. George, representing the union of Scotland and England. The entire medallion was fabricated and cast in the cire perdue (lost wax) process.

Surrounding the silver medallion is a gold crafted circle which reads "Edinboro University of Pennsylvania." Professor Katzwinkel, now retired, added this piece to the medallion especially for the Inauguration of President Frank G. Pogue in 1997, and it is now a permanent fixture to the medallion representing the school's status as a University.

ACADEMIC VESTMENTS

The gown, the cap, and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Gown

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The bachelor's and master's gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the bachelor's gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The master's gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the doctor's degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

Cap

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the baccalaureate and master's degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the president.

Hood

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the master's and the doctor's degrees. The doctor's hood is longer than the master's hood and has distinguished panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

MACE BEARER

Dr. Dawn M. Snodgrass

Leading the academic procession and representing her faculty colleagues by carrying the Ceremonial Mace at today's Graduate Commencement is Dr. Dawn M. Snodgrass of Edinboro University's Department of Professional Studies.

As a Professor of Education in the Educational Leadership Program, Dr. Snodgrass's distinction as Mace Bearer for the Graduate Commencement is symbolic of the central role that faculty play in the academic and personal development of Edinboro students.

Dr. Snodgrass earned her Bachelor's Degree in Elementary Education and completed her Master of Education in Reading here at Edinboro University. She earned her Doctor of Philosophy degree in Education, with emphases on adolescents and qualitative research, at the University of Akron.

Prior to coming to Edinboro University in 1988, she worked as a classroom teacher in both elementary and middle schools and as a reading specialist. As a result, she most admires first-grade teachers!

Dr. Snodgrass's research interests include adolescent faith development, online instruction, and qualitative methodologies. She has presented in professional arenas both nationally and internationally and taught abroad by invitation. Dr. Snodgrass has co-authored three textbooks and has been published in numerous professional journals. She has also written a faith-based college success book for entering freshmen. She currently serves as a reviewer for the national online course certification program Quality Matters.

Working with Edinboro University administration, she established the Office of Student Teaching and the university's first Professional Development School agreement. Dr. Snodgrass was one of the first online instructors on our campus and has created a dozen online courses.

Dr. Snodgrass and her husband are the proud parents of a son.

Dr. Snodgrass's extensive experience as an educator, advisor, researcher and community servant defines a professional career that serves her students, colleagues and the entire University community with distinction. She exemplifies the dedication and commitment of our faculty to educational excellence and to our students' success.

The University does not claim the list of degree candidates or honors designations is absolutely accurate. Students are granted degrees only if they meet all academic and financial requirements.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

Presentation of diplomas takes time and yet has special significance for each individual and family. Members of the audience are asked to remain in their seats until the end of the ceremony so that they do not disrupt the program or interfere with the special moments of others. Commencement is our most important occasion, and we ask you to respect its significance to the University community and to those who are being honored.

Professional photographers have been employed to photograph each graduate receiving a diploma. To avoid congestion and to maintain decorum in the ceremony, we ask that family members refrain from approaching the platform to take pictures.

Out of respect for graduates and other participants, cell phones should not be used during the ceremony.

Thank you for your cooperation. We hope that you will enjoy the ceremony and celebrate the achievements of our students.

The Campus Bookstore, located on the lower level of the Frank G. Pogue Student Center, will be open today from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Commencement ceremony will be filmed and streamed via the Internet at edinboro.tv. Commencement DVDs can be purchased from Edinboro University Television following the ceremony or online at www.eupdvd.com.

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Dr. Julie E. Wollman

Dr. Julie E. Wollman became the 17th President of Edinboro University in June 2012, bringing to Edinboro a successful background in teaching, research, and administration.

The first woman to be named president of Edinboro University, she came to Edinboro from Wheelock College in Boston, Massachusetts, where she served as Vice President for Academic Affairs. Prior to that position, she served as Vice President for Academic Affairs at Worcester State University, and Dean of Education and Human Development at Rhode Island College.

Immediately upon becoming President, Dr. Wollman initiated a university-wide planning process that produced updated Mission, Values and Vision statements and new long-range goals for the University, all centered on a renewed commitment to uncompromising excellence and student success.

She also has become active in the community, accepting appointment to the Erie Regional Chamber and Growth Partnership Board of Directors, the Hamot Health Foundation Board of Corporators, the United Way of Erie Board of Directors, and chair of the United Way’s Volunteer Engagement Cabinet, among other roles that represent the University’s responsiveness to the evolving needs of the broader community. Most recently, she accepted an invitation from state Senator Sean Wiley to join his Senatorial Advisory Committee on Post Secondary Education.

Additionally she is a member of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities Committee on Policies and Purposes and actively seeks to influence policy to advance opportunities for all who wish to access higher education.

President Wollman is married to Dr. Dan L. King, Executive Director of the American Association of University Administrators, a national professional organization. She has two daughters: Sara Bonilla, 22, a graduate of Wesleyan University and currently a graduate student at Lesley University, and Rosa Bonilla, 18, a freshman at Harvard University.

MACE BEARER

Dr. Theodore E. Yeshion

Leading the academic procession and representing his faculty colleagues by carrying the Ceremonial Mace at today's Undergraduate Commencement is Dr. Theodore Yeshion of Edinboro University's Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice.

Dr. Yeshion's distinction as Mace Bearer is symbolic of the central role that faculty play in the academic and personal development of Edinboro University students.

Dr. Yeshion earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Pre-Medical Biology from York College of the City University of New York, a Master of Science degree in Forensic Science from George Washington University, and a Ph.D. in Science Education from the State University of New York at Buffalo.

Immediately after graduation from George Washington University, he began his career with the North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation as a Special Agent/Forensic Serologist, and he retired from the Florida Department of Law Enforcement in 1999. Upon retirement, he became a private forensic science consultant.

Dr. Yeshion has a combined total of 38 years of experience as a forensic scientist, crime laboratory director, special agent, and forensic consultant. He has testified in hundreds of criminal and civil litigation cases as an expert witness in the areas of Forensic Serology, DNA Analysis, and Crime Scene Reconstruction. One specialty area that has earned Dr. Yeshion an international reputation as a leading forensics expert is the application and interpretation of Luminol, a presumptive blood test. He has appeared on local and national news and radio stations including Court TV, Fox News and Investigation Discovery. His work was cited during "the trial of the century," People v. O.J. Simpson.

Professor Yeshion is a Fellow of the American Academy of Forensic Sciences and a member of numerous other professional associations. In 2007, he was appointed to the Pennsylvania Joint State Government Commission on Wrongful Convictions and has served since as the Chairperson of the Science Subcommittee. Dr. Yeshion is a noted author and has lectured internationally. He currently serves on the advisory board for Forensic Teacher magazine. In May 2013, Dr. Yeshion was awarded Faculty of the Year honors at Edinboro University.

Ted resides in Erie, Pennsylvania, with his wife, Stacy, and son, Jacob.

Professor Yeshion's career as an educator and his experiences as a forensic scientist have served his students, colleagues and the entire University community with distinction. He exemplifies the dedication and commitment of our faculty to educational excellence and to our students' success.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Major General Mari K. Eder, USA, Retired

Major General Mari K. Eder retired from the U.S. Army in May 2013 with 35 years of dedicated service to the nation. A Pennsylvania native, Maj. Gen. Eder grew up in Stoneboro, Pennsylvania, graduating from Lakeview High School. She earned a bachelor's degree (Cum Laude, with honors) and master's degree in English from Edinboro University and a Master of Strategic Studies from the U.S. Army War College in Carlisle, Pennsylvania. She is also a graduate of the advanced program in mass communication at the University of South Carolina and completed the Training with Industry Fellowship Program with Fleishman-Hilliard Public Relations in Washington, D.C. Additionally, she is a graduate of senior executive and leadership programs at the University of North Carolina's Kenan Flagler School of Business, the National Defense University, and the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University.

Maj. Gen. Eder credits her undergraduate and graduate years at Edinboro as the crucible experience that forged her career in public service and has continued her affiliation with the University as an alumna. She served on the Edinboro University of Pennsylvania Alumni Board of Directors from 1986-1990. On May 21, 2005, she received the Edinboro University Distinguished Alumni Award in Public Service and Volunteerism. In 2012 she was named to the inaugural class of the Edinboro Communication and Media Studies Wall of Fame. Maj. Gen. Eder also supports the University's ROTC program.

Maj. Gen. Eder commanded at every level in the Army, from platoon through division level. She was selected for progressively challenging positions culminating in several executive leadership assignments at the highest levels. Her last assignment was as the first Commanding General of the U.S. Army Reserve Joint and Special Troops Support Command, headquartered in Salt Lake City, Utah. She previously served as the first full-time Deputy Chief of the Army Reserve and developed the Reserve communications enterprise, including recruiting and marketing communications and legislative liaison; led the nationwide Army Reserve Ambassador Program; and guided public affairs, community relations, and family support programs. Prior to this assignment, she served on the Department of the Army Staff at the Pentagon as the first full-time Deputy Chief of Public Affairs. She has had additional joint experience, serving with the U.S. European Command in Stuttgart, Germany, where she was assigned as the Deputy Director of Public Affairs. There she directed theater media relations during Kosovo and at the inception of Operation Enduring Freedom.

As a civilian, she served as the Director of Public Affairs at the George C. Marshall European Center for Security Studies in Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany. There she built the Center's strategic plan for marketing communications and taught the role of a free press in democratic societies to government officials from over 36 nations.

In addition, she served as an adjunct professor and lecturer at the NATO School, Sweden's International Security Command and at Norway's military Command and Staff Centre. Today, Maj. Gen. Eder consults, advises and speaks frequently at colleges and universities on communications and leadership topics.

Maj. Gen. Eder has an established record of scholarship, research, and publishing. Her book, Leading the Narrative: The Case for Strategic Communication, is used in a number of university communications courses. She is the author of numerous case studies and articles on military ethics, leadership, and strategic communications as well as a book of children's stories. A novel is pending publication next year.

She is the recipient of numerous civilian and military awards and recognitions. Her military awards include the Distinguished Service Medal, the Legion of Merit (with Oak Leaf Cluster) and the Meritorious Service Medal (with 5 Oak Leaf Clusters). Maj. Gen. Eder was named an Honorary Member of the U.S. Army Judge Advocate General Corps in 2011, an honor only accorded to two other individuals previously.

Edinboro University is, indeed, fortunate to count Maj. Gen. Eder as an alumna and friend.

THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The ceremonial mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the Mace Bearer. A gift of the Alumni Association, the mace was designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel and Dr. Seymour Blinderman, former chairman of the Art Department. It was first used at the inauguration of Edinboro State College President Chester T. McNerney, in 1967.

The mace, twenty-seven inches in length, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded with circular cabochon rubies, secured by bezels. The collar of the mace is inlaid with ebony, alternated with silver relief fleur-de-lis design elements. Cultured pearls mounted in cups encircle the bottom of the collar, symbolizing the thirteen state colleges of Pennsylvania. The shaft of the mace is composed of Brazilian rosewood sections, separated by sterling silver rings. The mace is terminated by a cast sterling silver finial; the five cultured pearls represent the existing curricula. The rib-like cone form is terminated by a small silver sphere symbolizing the world.

PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The first presidential medallion was presented to former President Foster F. Diebold during the May 1981 Commencement ceremonies. Designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel, the sterling silver medallion consists of a three and one-half inch pectoral pendant featuring on its face the figure of a Gordon Highlander with pipes. To the right of the piper is the Cross of St. Andrew. To the left is the Cross of England. Flanking the figure is the date 1857, the opening year of the University, and garland thistles. In the background are the hills of Scotland, and beneath the piper is an open book, a symbol of knowledge. On the reverse side is the sunken crest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The pendant descends from a shield containing a triple-towered castle. The collar of the medallion is comprised of a series of two-inch shields, alternately bearing three different designs: the meigle, an interlacing knotwork peculiar to the Pictish school of Celtic art; the Tudor rose design; and "ESC" in interlocking letters on a background of tabby weaving. Connecting each of the collar shields is a Cross of St. George, representing the union of Scotland and England. The entire medallion was fabricated and cast in the cire perdue (lost wax) process.

Surrounding the silver medallion is a gold crafted circle which reads "Edinboro University of Pennsylvania." Professor Katzwinkel, now retired, added this piece to the medallion especially for the Inauguration of President Frank G. Pogue in 1997, and it is now a permanent fixture to the medallion representing the school's status as a University.

ACADEMIC VESTMENTS

The gown, the cap, and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Gown

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The bachelor's and master's gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the bachelor's gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The master's gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the doctor's degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

Cap

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the baccalaureate and master's degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the president.

Hood

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the master's and the doctor's degrees. The doctor's hood is longer than the master's hood and has distinguished panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

MACE BEARER

Mr. Lee Rexrode

Leading the academic procession and representing his faculty colleagues by carrying the Ceremonial Mace at today's Graduate Commencement is Mr. Lee Rexrode of Edinboro University's Department of Art.

As a Ceramics Professor and Head of the Graduate Program for Studio Arts, Mr. Rexrode's distinction as Mace Bearer is symbolic of the central role the faculty play in the academic and personal development of Edinboro students.

Professor Rexrode earned a Bachelor of Arts in Printmaking with a minor in Art History from Indiana University of Pennsylvania and a Master of Fine Arts in Ceramics with a minor in Painting from Rochester Institute of Technology. Prior to coming to Edinboro in 1990, he served as Head of the Ceramics Department at the Worcester Center for Crafts in Massachusetts from 1982 until 1990.

Mr. Rexrode has taught workshops throughout the country at locations such as the 92nd Street Y in New York City, Baltimore Clayworks, El Camino College in Los Angeles, and at the Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts in Tennessee. During the spring of 2001, he toured China, researching contemporary and historical ceramics, and lecturing at the Yixing International Symposium, Jingdezhen Ceramic Institute, and the Central Academy of Fine Arts in Shanghai. The research and experiences in China continue to influence his work.

Professor Rexrode, whose expertise is in wheel-thrown pottery, has published images of his work and written articles for Ceramics Monthly since 1989. In 2009, he served as Co-Juror for the 88th Annual Toledo Federation of Art Societies, Toledo (Ohio) Art Museum, and curated American Ceramics entries for the International Onggi Competition in Ulsan, Korea. He exhibited and won awards for his work in the International Onggi Competition in both 2009 and 2010.

He has served on the department's National Association of Schools of Art and Design and Middle States accreditation committees, as Advisor for the Graduate Art Club and as Interim Chairperson of the Art Department for one semester. Through his nine years on the University Senate, Mr. Rexrode became involved in master planning committees to improve and beautify the campus and has worked to acquire and display notable three-dimensional artwork on campus. He also regularly donates his artwork to fundraising activities, both on and off campus.

Professor Rexrode's experience as an educator, program head, and artist defines a professional career that serves his students, colleagues and the entire University community with distinction. He exemplifies the dedication and commitment of our faculty to educational excellence and to our students' success.

CORDS DISTINCTIVE OF GRADUATE HONORS

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

Presentation of diplomas takes time and yet has special significance for each individual and family. Members of the audience are asked to remain in their seats until the end of the ceremony so that they do not disrupt the program or interfere with the special moments of others. Commencement is our most important occasion, and we ask you to respect its significance to the University community and to those who are being honored.

Professional photographers have been employed to photograph each graduate receiving a diploma. To avoid congestion and to maintain decorum in the ceremony, we ask that family members refrain from approaching the platform to take pictures.

Out of respect for graduates and other participants, cell phones should not be used during the ceremony.

Thank you for your cooperation. We hope that you will enjoy the ceremony and celebrate the achievements of our students.

The Campus Bookstore, located on the lower level of the Frank G. Pogue Student Center, will be open today from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Commencement ceremony will be filmed and streamed via the Internet at www.edinboro.tv. Commencement DVDs can be purchased from Edinboro University Television following the ceremony or online at www.eupdvd.com.

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY ALMA MATER

The musical score is written for voice and piano in 4/4 time, with a key signature of one flat (B-flat). It consists of five systems of music, each with a vocal line and a piano accompaniment line. The lyrics are: "Hail to Thee our Alma Mater glo-ri-ous; fresh wreaths we bring to bind thy brow. Trials have passed and Thou hast stood vic-tor-i-ous, ne-ver fair-er, nev-er state-li-er than now; O Ed-in-bo-ro, Ed-in-bo-ro, ev-er prais-ing Thee in song, While class speeds class, as swift years pass, to Thee our hearts be-long." The score includes measure numbers 1, 5, 10, 15, and 20. The piano accompaniment features a steady bass line and chords that support the vocal melody.
