EDINBORO UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Dr. Julie E. Wollman

Dr. Julie E. Wollman became the 17th President of Edinboro University in June 2012, bringing to Edinboro a successful background in teaching, research, and administration.

The first woman to be named president of Edinboro University, she came to Edinboro from Wheelock College in Boston, Massachusetts, where she served as Vice President for Academic Affairs. Prior to that position, she served as Vice President for Academic Affairs at Worcester State University, and Dean of Education and Human Development at Rhode Island College.

Immediately upon becoming President, Dr. Wollman initiated a university-wide planning process that produced updated Mission,

Values and Vision statements and new long-range goals for the University, all centered on a renewed commitment to uncompromising excellence and student success.

She also has become active in the community, accepting appointment to the Erie Regional Chamber and Growth Partnership Board of Directors, the Hamot Health Foundation Board of Corporators, the United Way Erie Board of Directors, and she chairs the United Way's Volunteer Engagement Cabinet, among other roles that represent the University's responsiveness to the evolving needs of the broader community.

Additionally she is a member of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities Committee on Policies and Purposes and actively seeks to influence policy to advance opportunities for all who wish to access higher education.

President Wollman is married to Dr. Dan L. King, Executive Director of the American Association of University Administrators, a national professional organization. She has two daughters: Sara Bonilla, 23, a graduate of Wesleyan University and currently a graduate student at Lesley University, and Rosa Bonilla, 18, a freshman at Harvard University.

MACE BEARER

Dr. Peter van den Honert

Leading the academic procession and representing his faculty colleagues by carrying the Ceremonial Mace at today's Undergraduate Commencement is Dr. Peter van den Honert of Edinboro University's Music Department.

Dr. van den Honert's distinction as Mace Bearer is symbolic of the central role that faculty play in the academic and personal development of Edinboro University students.

After earning a Bachelor of Arts in Music at Grinnell College in 1972, Professor van den Honert continued his education with a Master of Science in Choral Music Education from the University of Illinois in 1973 and a Doctor of Musical Arts in Choral Conducting from University of Missouri-Kansas City Conservatory of Music in 1985. He taught music at the middle school and high school levels in addition to his career in higher education, which began at Kansas Wesleyan University.

Professor van den Honert has been Director of Choral Activities at Edinboro University since his appointment in 1990 and is retiring this spring at the rank of tenured full professor. He conducts the University Singers and University Chorale and teaches choral conducting and choral arranging. He has a special interest in New England folk songs, and has published several choral arrangements of them.

A past member of the American Choral Directors Association-Pennsylvania board of directors, Dr. van den Honert is listed in Who's Who among American Educators, Who's Who in Collegiate Faculty, and received a Pennsylvania Music Educators Association Special Citation for Excellence in Teaching. His additional honors and awards include Special Citation of Excellence from the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association and two recognitions by the Dr. Robert C. Weber Honors Program for excellence in teaching.

He is active as an adjudicator and clinician, and has served as an honor festival guest conductor in several states. Since 1993, he has served as host of Music of Faith, a weekly radio show on regional NPR affiliate WQLN-FM.

Over the course of his career Professor van den Honert also has led several trips to Europe, including concert tours; conducted in Germany; organized choral events on campus, including a master class with the Netherlands Chamber Choir and a public concert by the Sea Chanters (the United States Navy choir); and published in The Choral Journal, the journal of the American Choral Directors Association. His choral students have been chosen to participate in three national honor choirs sponsored by the American Choral Directors Association (ACDA), and the University Singers and Chorale have released four CDs under his leadership.

He lives near Erie with his wife, musician Nancy van den Honert.

Professor van den Honert's 40-year career as an educator and his experiences as a conductor, and arranger have served his students, colleagues and the entire University community with distinction. He exemplifies the dedication and commitment of our faculty to educational excellence and to our students' success.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

The Honorable Thomas J. Ridge

Thomas J. Ridge was twice elected governor of Pennsylvania and served as the first Secretary of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security after being called to service by President George W. Bush following the tragic terrorist attacks on September 11, 2001. He also is a former six-term congressman and a Vietnam veteran.

Born to a family of modest means in Pittsburgh's Steel Valley, Secretary Ridge was raised in a working-class family in veterans' public housing in Erie, Pennsylvania. After attending Catholic grade school and high school, he earned an academic scholarship to Harvard University and graduated with honors with a bachelor's degree in government studies in 1967.

Following his first year of study at Dickinson School of Law, he was drafted into the U.S. Army and served as an infantry staff sergeant in Vietnam from 1968-70, earning the Bronze Star for Valor, the Combat Infantry Badge and the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry.

After returning from service, he completed his law degree in 1972 and went into private practice before becoming Assistant District Attorney in Erie County.

Tom Ridge began his call to public service by being elected to the U.S. House of Representatives in 1982. He earned overwhelming re-election five times. As a member of the House Veteran's Affairs Committee, Congressman Ridge traveled to Vietnam to conduct negotiations involving the full accounting of American prisoners of war and service members missing in action.

First elected Pennsylvania governor in 1994 and re-elected in 1998, he led the passage of 40 new anti-crime laws, created the Keystone Opportunity Zone to provide incentives for businesses to locate in distressed communities, and won passage of "Growing Greener" to make Pennsylvania's largest environmental investment ever, nearly $650 million.

As governor, he also was passionate about the role of education in securing a bright future for Pennsylvanians. His initiatives included CyberStart, a first-of-its-kind program to bring Internet-based learning to day-care centers in rural and urban areas; the award-winning Link to Learn initiative to bring K-12 classrooms into the 21st century; and SciTech Scholars, a program designed to support Pennsylvanians attain college degrees in emerging technology fields.

Following the 9/11 tragedy, Tom Ridge became the first Assistant to the President for the White House Office of Homeland Security and on January 24, 2003, assumed leadership of the new Department of Homeland Security. The creation of the country's 15th Cabinet Department marked the largest reorganization of government since the Truman administration and another call to service for the former soldier, congressman and governor.

After leaving government service in 2005, Secretary Ridge became president and CEO of Ridge Global, which helps businesses and governments address risk management, global trade security, emergency preparedness and response, crisis management and other needs. He also serves as a partner in the cyber-security firm Ridge Schmidt Cyber.

He and his wife, Michele, have two adult children.

Edinboro University is, indeed, fortunate to count Secretary Thomas J. Ridge as a friend.

THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The ceremonial mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the Mace Bearer. A gift of the Alumni Association, the mace was designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel and Dr. Seymour Blinderman, former chairman of the Art Department. It was first used at the inauguration of Edinboro State College by President Chester T. McNerney, in 1967.

The mace, twenty-seven inches in length, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded with circular cabochon rubies, secured by bezels. The collar of the mace is inlaid with ebony, alternated with silver relief fleur-de-lis design elements. Cultured pearls mounted in cups encircle the bottom of the collar. The shaft of the mace is composed of Brazilian rosewood sections, separated by sterling silver rings. The mace is terminated by a cast sterling silver finial; the five cultured pearls represent the existing curricula. The rib-like cone form is terminated by a small silver sphere symbolizing the world.

The metal working processes incorporated in the ceremonial mace include turning, forging, inlaying, stone setting, and lost wax centrifugal casting.

PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The first presidential medallion was presented to former President Foster F. Diebold during the May 1981 Commencement ceremonies. Designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel, the sterling silver medallion consists of a three and one-half inch pectoral pendant featuring on its face the figure of a Gordon Highlander with pipes. To the right of the piper is the Cross of St. Andrew. To the left is the Cross of England. Flanking the figure is the date 1857, the opening year of the University, and garland thistles. In the background are the hills of Scotland, and beneath the piper is an open book, a symbol of knowledge. On the reverse side is the sunken crest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The pendant descends from a shield containing a triple-towered castle. The collar of the medallion is comprised of a series of two-inch shields, alternately bearing three different designs: the meigle, an interlacing knotwork peculiar to the Pictish school of Celtic art; the Tudor rose design; and “ESC” in interlocking letters on a background of tabby weaving. Connecting each of the collar shields is a Cross of St. George, representing the union of Scotland and England. The entire medallion was fabricated and cast in the cire perdue (lost wax) process.

Surrounding the silver medallion is a gold crafted circle which reads “Edinboro University of Pennsylvania.” Professor Katzwinkel, now retired, added this piece to the medallion especially for the Inauguration of President Frank G. Pogue in 1997, and it is now a permanent fixture to the medallion representing the school’s status as a University.

ACADEMIC VESTMENTS

The gown, the cap, and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today’s academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Gown

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The bachelor’s and master’s gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the bachelor’s gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The master’s gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the doctor’s degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

Cap

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the baccalaureate and master’s degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the doctor’s mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the president.

Hood

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the master’s and the doctor’s degrees. The doctor’s hood is longer than the master’s hood and has distinguished panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

MACE BEARER

Dr. Douglas Puharic

Leading the academic procession and representing his faculty colleagues by carrying the Ceremonial Mace at today's Graduate Commencement is Dr. Douglas Puharic of Edinboro University's Mathematics and Computer Science Department.

As an Assistant Professor of Mathematics, Dr. Puharic's distinction as Mace Bearer is symbolic of the central role the faculty play in the academic and personal development of Edinboro students.

A graduate of DuBois Area High School, Dr. Puharic began his post-secondary academic career in Clarion, Pennsylvania, where he earned a Bachelor of Science in Mathematics from Clarion University in May 2000. He went on to earn a Master of Arts in Mathematics and Doctor of Philosophy in Mathematics, both from Bowling Green State University of Ohio.

Dr. Puharic began teaching in the Mathematics and Computer Science Department at Edinboro University in 2006. He has served as the President of the Edinboro University Senate, a body that focuses on updating and revising University-wide policies, since 2011. In addition, he has been a member of the University-Wide Curriculum Committee since 2010 and has served as the chair of the Courses and General Education Assessment subcommittees (UWCC). The UWCC serves a major role in the development process for courses and academic programs.

Professor Puharic has presented at a number of conferences, including the Allegheny Mountain Section of the Mathematical Association of America; the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education Mathematics Association; and Emerging and Innovative Teaching, Learning, and Assessment Practices to Ensure Student Success. His topics have included The Mathematics of Baseball, Using Yahtzee for Research, Course Redesign – Reimagining How We Teach, The Poincare Half-Plane of Geometer's Sketchpad, and Fullerenes (Carbon Molecules).

In addition to his own scholarly work, Dr. Puharic has been the advisor and worked with students who have presented their research in several ways to the Allegheny Mountain Section of the Mathematical Association of America, the Pennsylvania Association of Computer and Information Science Educators, and the Youngstown State University Pi Mu Epsilon Conference.

He is a member of the American Mathematical Society, National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, Pennsylvania Council of Teachers of Mathematics, Mathematical Association of America, Society for American Baseball Research, and the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education Mathematics Association. He serves as a peer reviewer for Mathematics Teacher, a journal published by the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Dr. Puharic's experience as an educator, advisor and scholar defines a professional career that serves his students, colleagues and the entire University community with distinction. He exemplifies the dedication and commitment of our faculty to educational excellence and to our students' success.

CORDS DISTINCTIVE OF GRADUATE HONORS

Red and Gray – Alpha Epsilon Lambda

Alpha Epsilon Lambda (AEL) recognizes the academic and leadership accomplishments of graduate and professional school students. The name is based upon the society's mission of recognizing Academic Excellence and Leadership.

Blue and White – Chi Sigma Iota - Epsilon Chi Chapter

Chi Sigma Iota (CSI), an international honor society, values and recognizes academic and professional excellence in counseling. The organization promotes a strong professional identity through professional counselors, counselor educators, and students who contribute to the realization of a healthy society by fostering wellness and human dignity.

Blue and Gold – Phi Alpha

Phi Alpha Honor Society provides a closer bond among students of social work and promotes humanitarian goals and ideals. The organization fosters high standards of education for social workers and invites into membership those who have attained excellence in scholarship and achievement in social work. The cord is the recognition of academic excellence.

Orchid and White – Sigma Theta Tau

Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society of Nursing (STTI) recognizes excellence in scholarship, leadership and exceptional achievement in nursing. The organization supports the learning, knowledge and professional development of nurses committed to making a difference in health worldwide.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

Presentation of diplomas takes time and yet has special significance for each individual and family. Members of the audience are asked to remain in their seats until the end of the ceremony so that they do not disrupt the program or interfere with the special moments of others. Commencement is our most important occasion, and we ask you to respect its significance to the University community and to those who are being honored.

Professional photographers have been employed to photograph each graduate receiving a diploma. To avoid congestion and to maintain decorum in the ceremony, we ask that family members refrain from approaching the platform to take pictures.

Out of respect for graduates and other participants, cell phones should not be used during the ceremony.

Thank you for your cooperation. We hope that you will enjoy the ceremony and celebrate the achievements of our students.

Students and their families are encouraged to share their best Commencement photos and shout out their best wishes on Twitter and Facebook using the hashtag #boroUgrad.

The Campus Bookstore, located on the lower level of the Frank G. Pogue Student Center, will be open today from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Commencement ceremony will be filmed and streamed via the Internet at edinboro.tv. Commencement DVDs can be purchased from Edinboro University Television following the ceremony or online at eupdvd.com.

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY ALMA MATER

The musical score is written for piano and voice. It consists of five systems of music, each with a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The key signature is one flat (B-flat) and the time signature is 4/4. The lyrics are: "Hail to Thee our Alma Mater glo-ri-ous; fresh wreaths we bring to bind thy brow. Trials have passed and Thou hast stood vic-tor-i-ous, ne-ver fair-er, nev-er state-li-er than now; O Ed-in-bo-ro, Ed-in-bo-ro, ev-er prais-ing Thee in song, While class speeds class, as swift years pass, to Thee our hearts be-long." The score includes measure numbers 1, 5, 10, 15, and 20.

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Dr. Julie E. Wollman

Dr. Julie E. Wollman became the 17th President of Edinboro University in June 2012, bringing to Edinboro a successful background in teaching, research and administration.

The first woman to be named president of Edinboro University, she came to Edinboro from Wheelock College in Boston, Massachusetts, where she served as Vice President for Academic Affairs. Prior to that position, she served as Vice President for Academic Affairs at Worcester State University, and Dean of Education and Human Development at Rhode Island College.

Immediately upon becoming President, Dr. Wollman initiated a University-wide planning process that produced updated Mission, Values and Vision statements and new long-range goals for the University, all centered on a renewed commitment to uncompromising excellence and student success.

She also has become active in the community, accepting appointment to the Erie Regional Chamber and Growth Partnership Board of Directors, the Hamot Health Foundation Board of Corporators and the United Way Erie Board of Directors. She also chairs the United Way’s Volunteer Engagement Cabinet, among other roles that represent the University’s responsiveness to the evolving needs of the broader community.

Additionally she is a member of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities Committee on Policies and Purposes and actively seeks to influence policy to advance opportunities for all who wish to access higher education.

President Wollman is married to Dr. Dan L. King, Executive Director of the American Association of University Administrators, a national professional organization. She has two daughters: Sara Bonilla, 23, a graduate of Wesleyan University and currently a graduate student at Lesley University, and Rosa Bonilla, 19, a student at Harvard University.

MACE BEARER

Dr. Jim Roberts

Leading the academic procession and representing his faculty colleagues by carrying the Ceremonial Mace at today's Undergraduate Commencement is Dr. Jim Roberts of Edinboro University's Health and Physical Education Department.

Dr. Roberts' distinction as Mace Bearer is symbolic of the central role that faculty play in the academic and personal development of Edinboro University students.

An Edinboro University graduate with a Bachelor of Science in Health and Physical Education in 1993, he continued his education with a Master of Business Administration degree from Gannon University in 1997 and a Doctor of Philosophy in Exercise Physiology from the University of Pittsburgh in 2004. Professor Roberts has earned and maintains certification in Collaborative Institutional Training Initiative (CITI) for Human Subjects, Protecting Human Research Participants, and Health Fitness Instructor/Specialist from the American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM). He was also named a Fellow of the ACSM earlier this year.

Dr. Roberts is an Associate Professor and former chairperson of Edinboro's Health and Physical Education Department. He is Coordinator of the Human Performance Track and formerly served as Director of the Human Performance Lab. He was named Faculty Member of the Year at the University's Honors Convocation this spring. Additional honors include recognition of his service by the Mid-Atlantic Regional Chapter of the ACSM and multiple recognitions by the Pennsylvania State Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance (PSAHPERD)

His teaching interests include health and wellness, exercise physiology, kinesiology and research in human performance. His research interests include ergogenic acids, sport performance predictors, and body composition. His publications include the forthcoming textbook Exercise Physiology: A Hybrid Approach and research abstracts presented at national and international conferences.

Dr. Roberts lives in Warren, Pa. with his twins, Alexis and Trenton. An additional daughter, Chalaine, lives in Pittsburgh.

Professor Roberts' career as an educator and his experiences as a researcher, instructor and consultant have served his students, colleagues and the entire University community with distinction. He exemplifies the dedication and commitment of our faculty to educational excellence and to our students' success.

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Betty Ferguson

Betty Ferguson has earned national recognition for her award-winning work as an advocate for forgiveness as a route to healing for victims of violent crime. She is a counselor, mediator, workshop presenter and inspirational speaker.

Mrs. Ferguson's advocacy grew out of her experience following the tragic death of her oldest daughter in 1975. Debbie Gama was 16 when she was murdered. Her high school English teacher was later convicted of the crime, and Mrs. Ferguson spent a decade consumed by grief and anger that damaged her life and relationships. It was only when she became convinced of the need to forgive the convicted killer and visited him in prison that she was able to find peace and restore purpose to her life.

That cathartic act led to volunteer service as a counselor and court advocate at the Erie County Rape Crisis Center (now the Crime Victim Center of Erie County) and eventually full-time work in the agency's Victim Witness Services. In addition, she has been the Erie contact person for the international Parents of Murdered Children organization for more than 20 years and is a long-time mediator for the Pennsylvania Office of the Victim Advocate's Mediation Program for Victims of Violent Crime.

Her story has been told numerous times in local and regional media as well as in Reader's Digest, Good Housekeeping and Hope Magazine. Mrs. Ferguson in 2005 was one of three finalists in "The Story of My Life" Contest sponsored by ABC-TV's "Good Morning America" and publisher Simon & Schuster, which gave further national exposure to her cause. She received the Governor's Victim Service Pathfinder Award presented by the Pennsylvania Commission on Crime and Delinquency and was honored as one of the "Dynamic Dozen" women leaders by the Mercy Center for Women in Erie.

Though now retired, Mrs. Ferguson continues to speak, volunteer and advocate forgiveness. She is the mother of four additional children and has five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The ceremonial mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the Mace Bearer. A gift of the Alumni Association, the mace was designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel and Dr. Seymour Blinderman, former chairman of the Art Department. It was first used at the inauguration of Edinboro State College President Chester T. McNeerney, in 1967.

The mace, twenty-seven inches in length, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded with circular cabochon rubies, secured by bezels. The collar of the mace is inlaid with ebony, alternated with silver relief fleur-de-lis design elements. Cultured pearls mounted in cups encircle the bottom of the collar, symbolizing the thirteen state colleges of Pennsylvania. The shaft of the mace is composed of Brazilian rosewood sections, separated by sterling silver rings. The mace is terminated by a cast sterling silver finial; the five cultured pearls represent the existing curricula. The rib-like cone form is terminated by a small silver sphere symbolizing the world.

The metal working processes incorporated in the ceremonial mace include turning, forging, inlaying, stone setting, and lost wax centrifugal casting.

PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The first presidential medallion was presented to former President Foster F. Diebold during the May 1981 Commencement ceremonies. Designed and executed by Professor Henry Katzwinkel, the sterling silver medallion consists of a three and one-half inch pectoral pendant featuring on its face the figure of a Gordon Highlander with pipes. To the right of the piper is the Cross of St. Andrew. To the left is the Cross of England. Flanking the figure is the date 1857, the opening year of the University, and garland thistles. In the background are the hills of Scotland, and beneath the piper is an open book, a symbol of knowledge. On the reverse side is the sunken crest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The pendant descends from a shield containing a triple-towered castle. The collar of the medallion is comprised of a series of two-inch shields, alternately bearing three different designs: the meigle, an interlacing knotwork peculiar to the Pictish school of Celtic art; the Tudor rose design; and “ESC” in interlocking letters on a background of tabby weaving. Connecting each of the collar shields is a Cross of St. George, representing the union of Scotland and England. The entire medallion was fabricated and cast in the cire perdue (lost wax) process.

Surrounding the silver medallion is a gold crafted circle which reads “Edinboro University of Pennsylvania.” Professor Katzwinkel, now retired, added this piece to the medallion especially for the Inauguration of President Frank G. Pogue in 1997, and it is now a permanent fixture to the medallion representing the school’s status as a University.

ACADEMIC VESTMENTS

The gown, the cap, and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today’s academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Gown

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The bachelor’s and master’s gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the bachelor’s gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The master’s gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the doctor’s degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

Cap

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the baccalaureate and master’s degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the doctor’s mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the president.

Hood

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the master’s and the doctor’s degrees. The doctor’s hood is longer than the master’s hood and has distinguished panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

MACE BEARER

Dr. Susan H. Packard

Leading the academic procession and representing her faculty colleagues by carrying the Ceremonial Mace at today's Graduate Commencement is Dr. Susan H. Packard of Edinboro University's Counseling, School Psychology, and Special Education Department.

As a Professor of Counseling, Dr. Packard's distinction as Mace Bearer is symbolic of the central role the faculty play in the academic and personal development of Edinboro students.

After earning a Bachelor of Arts in Social Science from Edinboro University in 1975, Professor Packard went on to earn a Master of Arts in Rehabilitation Counseling from Edinboro in 1977, and a Doctor of Philosophy in Counselor Education from the State University of New York at Buffalo in 1994. She completed additional graduate work at Edinboro University and Gwynedd-Mercy College, where she was an Associate Professor.

Dr. Packard began teaching at Edinboro University in 2001, and has been a full Professor since 2010. She is Coordinator of the Clinical Rehabilitation Counseling graduate program and serves on many University-wide and departmental committees. In addition, she serves as an officer of the Executive Council of the Edinboro University Chapter of the Association of Pennsylvania State College and University Faculties (APSCUF).

Among her credentials, Professor Packard is a licensed psychologist, Licensed Professional Counselor (LPC), Certified Rehabilitation Counselor (CRC), and Master Addictions Counselor (MAC). She has extensive work experience in the fields of addictions treatment, corrections, and community-based mental health.

Dr. Packard has presented at 9 separate conferences in the last 5 years and is the author or a co-author of numerous published works. Her research has appeared in the Rehabilitation Counseling Bulletin, The Journal of Criminal Justice Research, Journal of Criminal Justice Education, and The Prison Journal, among other refereed journals.

Professor Packard holds memberships in a wide variety of national and state-level professional organizations, including the American Counseling Association (ACA), American Psychological Association (APA), American Rehabilitation Counseling Association (ARCA), American School Counselor Association (ASCA), National Rehabilitation Association (NRA), Pennsylvania Counseling Association (PCA), and the Pennsylvania Psychological Association (PPA). Additionally, she is a member of Chi Sigma Iota, the international honor society for counselors-in-training, counselor educators, and professional counselors, and serves as Chapter Faculty Advisor for the Epsilon Chi Chapter at Edinboro.

Dr. Packard's experience as an educator, counselor and researcher defines a professional career that serves her students, colleagues and the entire University community with distinction. She exemplifies the dedication and commitment of our faculty to educational excellence and to our students' success.

CORDS DISTINCTIVE OF GRADUATE HONORS

Red and Gray – Alpha Epsilon Lambda

Alpha Epsilon Lambda (AEL) recognizes the academic and leadership accomplishments of graduate and professional school students. The name is based upon the society's mission of recognizing Academic Excellence and Leadership.

Blue and White – Chi Sigma Iota - Epsilon Chi Chapter

Chi Sigma Iota (CSI), an international honor society, values and recognizes academic and professional excellence in counseling. The organization promotes a strong professional identity through professional counselors, counselor educators, and students who contribute to the realization of a healthy society by fostering wellness and human dignity.

Blue and Gold – Phi Alpha

Phi Alpha Honor Society provides a closer bond among students of social work and promotes humanitarian goals and ideals. The organization fosters high standards of education for social workers and invites into membership those who have attained excellence in scholarship and achievement in social work. The cord is the recognition of academic excellence.

Orchid and White – Sigma Theta Tau

Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society of Nursing (STTI) recognizes excellence in scholarship, leadership and exceptional achievement in nursing. The organization supports the learning, knowledge and professional development of nurses committed to making a difference in health worldwide.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

Presentation of diplomas takes time and yet has special significance for each individual and family. Members of the audience are asked to remain in their seats until the end of the ceremony so that they do not disrupt the program or interfere with the special moments of others. Commencement is our most important occasion, and we ask you to respect its significance to the University community and to those who are being honored.

Professional photographers have been employed to photograph each graduate receiving a diploma. To avoid congestion and to maintain decorum in the ceremony, we ask that family members refrain from approaching the platform to take pictures.

Thank you for your cooperation. We hope that you will enjoy the ceremony and celebrate the achievements of our students.

Students and their families are encouraged to share their best Commencement photos and shout out their best wishes on Twitter and Facebook using the hashtag #boroUgrad.

The Campus Bookstore, located on the lower level of the Frank G. Pogue Student Center, will be open today from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Commencement ceremony will be filmed and streamed via the Internet at edinboro.tv. Commencement DVDs can be purchased from Edinboro University Television following the ceremony or online at www.eupdvd.com.
