PROGRAM NOTES

MRS. MILDRED D. BRUCE The College Marshal

Leading the ranks of the academic procession as College Marshal will be Mrs. Mildred D. Bruce of the Art department. For her, carrying the ceremonial mace is an honor that follows many years of serious dedication to Edinboro State College.

Mrs. Bruce came to the town of Edinboro in 1948 and joined the Art department at the College five years later. Her late husband, Ralph, served Edinboro 17 years during a period when both the Bruces were involved with the improvement of the Art program.

A recipient of a Fine Arts degree from Oberlin College and an Art Education degree from Eastern Michigan University, Mrs. Bruce obtained her Master of Education degree from Penn State University.

She put her training to work, teaching studio courses in Design, Crafts, Graphics and Jewelry. Other involvement was with the Drama department, where Mrs. Bruce taught Costume Design and Theatre Arts, designing costumes and sets for Shakespearian productions and musicals.

Prior to her Edinboro career, Mrs. Bruce taught at Eastern Michigan and supervised art student teachers and demonstrated teaching in a laboratory school. She also taught art in Port Huron, Michigan, public schools.

Sharing her skills with the public, she has helped with workshops and demonstrations in Erie and Crawford counties and has conducted private classes in the Warren Art League.

Among her college contributions are service as departmental bibliographer, service on a down-state evaluation team and on the Senate Library Committee. She has also supervised the ordering of art books for a 10-year period.

Currently, Mrs. Bruce is a member of the National Education Association and APSCUF-PAHE.

She resides in Edinboro and considers landscaping and the restoration of her historic home her hobbies.

THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The Ceremonial Mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the College Marshal, Mrs. Mildred D. Bruce. The Mace, a gift of the Alumni Association, was designed and executed by Dr. Seymour Blinderman, formerly of the Art faculty, and Mr. Henry Katzwinkel. The Mace was first used at the inauguration of President Chester T. McNerney.

The Mace, twenty-seven inches high, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded by cone-shaped rubies. The neck of the Mace is inlaid with rosewood, alternated with silver fleur-de-lis. Cultured pearls mounted on cups encircle the top of the staff. Discs of silver interspersed with rosewood compose the shaft which ends with tip-casted silver. Sunken cultured pearls encircle a rounded cone with textured silver to end in a small globe.

THE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

THE HONORABLE JOHN C. PITTENGER Secretary of Education Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

A laborer to bring flexibility to Higher Education in Pennsylvania is State Secretary of Education, The Honorable John C. Pittenger. Appointed to this important post in 1972, Mr. Pittenger has made many strides to improve the educational institutions of the Commonwealth, thus, he is being honored today by receiving a Certificate of Merit.

Through his efforts, the Department of Education has gained more control over school construction, and rigid teacher education requirements have been liberalized. He has reorganized the Department and tightened command and bureau structure within to improve efficiency in every department. He has also initiated educational programs for bilingual children and work-study programs in schools and colleges.

Because students are the consumers of the system, Secretary Pittenger has created student advisory boards representing high schools and colleges. He has directed schools and colleges to eliminate sex discrimination from curriculum and sports. He has opened to the public meetings of state college directors.

A 42-year-old bachelor, Secretary Pittenger was born in Philadelphia and educated in the public schools of Swarthmore. Following graduation from Phillips Exeter Academy, Harvard College and Harvard Law School, he served in the U. S. Army, then returned to practice law in Lancaster.

He was elected to the House of Representatives in 1964 and 1968. In between terms, he served as Director of Research for the House Minority Caucus.

In 1970, Governor Shapp named Mr. Pittenger as his Special Assistant for Legislation. He doubled as liaison with the Department of Education and as a member of the Commission on School Finance.

Mr. Pittenger has taught government courses at Harvard and Franklin and Marshall College. He co-authored with Henry W. Bragdon a book on the Constitution and civil liberties, "The Pursuit of Justice," published in 1969 by the MacMillan Company.

An advocate of participant sports, Secretary Pittenger plays volleyball, badminton and squash. On weekends he coaches the Franklin and Marshall varsity squash team and raises trees on a farm in southern Chester County.

CHARGE TO THE GRADUATES

MR. RAYMOND C. VANSLYKE
President, Alumni Association

First of all — Let me be one of the first to congratulate you — today's graduates of Edinboro State College.

And — I come to you today to briefly welcome you to full membership in the Edinboro Alumni Association. As the College has grown, so has our organization—in membership, in type of organization, in complexity of purpose—and we need you.

To you, who today are receiving your first (of perhaps several degrees) I am sure you realize that you, your family and your College share the credit for making this day possible. As you become familiar with the wide world of employment, you will appreciate even more your educational background.

And even though your future lives will be busy ones, we, of your Alumni organization, hope that you will become involved in our activities in the near future and continue to be active, participating members all your lives.

And to you, who today, are receiving that second or third degree, feel welcome to begin or renew your affiliation as Edinboro Alumni Association members.

So many of us have waited until our own sons and daughters have enrolled in colleges resulting in the reviving of pleasant memories to renew our own association with Edinboro. But we need your youth, your fresh approach to the problems at hand, and we like to think you will need us, too. The co-operation of the student representatives on our Executive Board has been a real boon to our thinking, and we even look forward to the time when a Young Graduates division of our Association could become a reality.

In several local areas, we have Edinboro Alumni Clubs, which meet occasionally during the year. These groups would like to have your support. Perhaps you could be influential in starting a club in your area of residence.

Edinboro will always be part of your life experience. Its traditions and your memories of your activities here will remain with you. To keep these memories alive, when you happen to be on campus, come to Academy Hall, the original building on campus and the Alumni Office headquarters.

You today automatically become a member of our Association; therefore, keep in touch by informing the Alumni Secretary of changes of address, news of your activities, etc. Come back, help keep the clan together!

We'll see you in the fall when we are all invited by the College to Homecoming. In the spring when the Alumni Association, hosted by the College, has its annual luncheon and get-together, plan to revisit your Alma Mater.

Good luck to each member of the Class of 73 as you seek guidance to make the necessary decisions along the way to that very special future.

PROGRAM NOTES

Academic Vestments

The gown, the cap and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Gown

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The Bachelor and Master gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the Bachelor gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The Master gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the Doctor degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

Hood

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the Master's and the Doctor's degrees. The Doctor's hood is longer than the Master's hood and has distinguishing panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color or coloring of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

Cap

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the Baccalaureate and Master degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the Doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the President.

MEMORIAL FOUNDATION GIFTS

"They received, each for his own memory, praise that grows not old, and with it the grandest of all sepulchres, not that in which their mortal bones are laid, but a home in the minds of men, where their glory remains fresh to stir to speech or action as the occasion comes by. For the whole earth is the sepulchre of famous men; and their story is not graven only on stone over the native earth, but lives on far away, without visible symbol, woven into the stuff of other men's lives." — Thucydides

Jack Finegan, April 9, 1969

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Finegan provide a $50 annual award to an outstanding male English student who shows a tendency to write prose or poetry that is intended to make mankind aware of the needs of his fellow-man and that places an emphasis on the desire to make the world a better place in which to live. This award was established in memory of their son Jack Finegan, a former student at Edinboro State College.

Lois Caldwell North, Class of 1886

A $100 annual scholarship has been endowed in memory of Mrs. Lois Caldwell North by her daughter, Eleanor North of State College, Pa. The award is made each year to a student who plans to enter the ministry upon completion of his or her education.

A $10,000 endowment was given to Edinboro State College in memory of Mrs. Helen Sabin Reed, a member of the Education faculty since 1961. Mrs. Theo Sabin Meyer of Erie; Mrs. Mildred Sabin Young, Los Angeles, California, sisters; and a brother, Robert W. Sabin, Long Beach, California, established the gift.

Vlahakis Award, January 15, 1972

Each year a $250 scholarship award is made available to a student at Edinboro State College who is majoring or planning to major in chemistry. The award has been established by Mrs. Thekla Vlahakis of Pittsburgh in memory of her late husband, George K. Vlahakis, and two sons, Walter and William.

THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The Ceremonial Mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the College Marshal, Professor Curtis L. Ickes. The Mace, a gift of the Alumni Association, was designed and executed by Dr. Seymour Blinderman, formerly of the Art faculty, and Mr. Henry Katzwinkel. The Mace was first used at the inauguration of President Chester T. McNerney.

The Mace, twenty-seven inches high, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded by cone-shaped rubies. The neck of the Mace is inlaid with rosewood, alternated with silver fleur-de-lis. Cultured pearls mounted on cups encircle the top of the staff. Discs of silver interspersed with rosewood compose the shaft which ends with tip-casted silver. Sunken cultured pearls encircle a rounded cone with textured silver to end in a small globe.

PROGRAM NOTES

PROFESSOR CURTIS L. ICKES

The College Marshal

Because of his many years of service to the college and assistance to student interests, Professor Curtis L. Ickes of the Mathematics department has been selected as College Marshal to lead the academic procession.

Mr. Ickes joined the staff of the Mathematics department in 1957. He served as acting chairman from 1963 to 1965 and as assistant department chairman from 1966 to 1968.

His service on major college committees and student-oriented organizations has entailed hours of personal dedication. For eight years he worked as treasurer with officers of the then named Student-Faculty Council to make up the yearly Student Activity budget. At the same time Professor Ickes served as adviser for nine years to Sigma Tau Gamma, men's social fraternity.

College committees consist of the Senate, where he has served for two terms on Membership and Election, and the Sabbatical Leave committees. He also has been chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee of the Executive Committee of the Senate. Other groups include the All-Campus Committee for Middle States Academic Consolidation Committee, and five years as a member of the Admissions committee.

For two years Professor Ickes has participated in the Visiting Lecture Program in mathematics to Secondary schools, sponsored jointly by the Pennsylvania Department of Education and the U.S. Department of Education.

Another major committee to which Professor Ickes devoted his time is the group which studies and makes recommendations to the Executive Committee dealing with requirements for the four professional ranks at Edinboro State College. The standards and ratings still remain in use.

Willing to contribute time and potential to the college, Professor Ickes was a member both college and departmentwise of the committee to study the curricula for the General Education and Professional Education programs of Teacher Preparation.

Professional affiliations include membership in the Association of Pennsylvania State Colleges and University Faculties and the Pennsylvania Association for Higher Education; life membership in the National Education Association; the Pennsylvania Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Mr. Ickes earned the BS degree from Indiana College (now Indiana University of Pennsylvania), the MEd from Pennsylvania State College, an MS degree from State University at Albany with concentrations in mathematics and mathematics education.

Mr. and Mrs. Ickes are the parents of two sons, both graduates of Edinboro State College and both teachers of mathematics.

PROGRAM NOTES

Academic Vestments

The gown, the cap and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Gown

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The Bachelor and Master gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the Bachelor gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The Master gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the Doctor degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

Hood

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the Master's and the Doctor's degrees. The Doctor's hood is longer than the Master's hood and has distinguishing panels. The College or the University granting the degree is indicated by the color or coloring of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

Cap

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the Baccalaureate and Master degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the Doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the President.

MEMORIAL FOUNDATION GIFTS

"They received, each for his own memory, praise that grows not old, and with it the grandest of all sepulchres, not that in which their mortal bones are laid, but a home in the minds of men, where their glory remains fresh to stir to speech or action as the occasion comes by. For the whole earth is the sepulchre of famous men; and their story is not graven only on stone over the native earth, but lives on far away, without visible symbol, woven into the stuff of other men's lives."—Thucydides

Jack Finegan, April 9, 1969

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Finegan provide a $50 annual award to an outstanding male English student who shows a tendency to write prose or poetry that is intended to make mankind aware of the needs of his fellow-man and that places an emphasis on the desire to make the world a better place in which to live. This award was established in memory of their son Jack Finegan, a former student at Edinboro State College.

Lois Caldwell North, Class of 1886

A $100 annual scholarship has been endowed in memory of Mrs. Lois Caldwell North by her daughter, Eleanor North of State College, Pa. The award is made each year to a student who plans to enter the ministry upon completion of his or her education.

Helen Sabin Reed, October 18, 1966

A $10,000 endowment was given to Edinboro State College in memory of Mrs. Helen Sabin Reed, a member of the Education faculty since 1961. Because Mrs. Reed was a specialist in the reading field, the yearly $500 scholarship will be awarded to an Elementary Education major. Mrs. Theo Sabin Meyer of Erie; Mrs. Mildred Sabin Young, Los Angeles, California, sisters; and a brother, Robert W. Sabin, Long Beach, California, established the gift.

Vlahakis Award, January 15, 1972

Each year a $250 scholarship award is made available to a student at Edinboro State College who is majoring or planning to major in chemistry. The award has been established by Mrs. Thekla Vlahakis of Pittsburgh in memory of her late husband, George K. Vlahakis, and two sons, Walter and William.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

Delta Kappa Gamma Scholarships

The Bruce Manville Morrison Fund

The fund was established by the estate of the late Bruce Manville Morrison to provide financial support for Edinboro State College graduate students. Dr. L. W. VanLaningham who served the College as Director of Student Teaching and Placement from 1949 until his death, December 2, 1967.

PROGRAM NOTES

THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The Ceremonial Mace, a symbol of presidential authority, is carried at the head of the academic procession by the College Marshal, Dr. Charles H. Glendinning. The Mace, a gift of the Alumni Association, was designed and executed by Dr. Seymour Blinderman, formerly of the Art faculty, and Mr. Henry Katzwinkel. The Mace was first used at the inauguration of President Chester T. McNerney.

The Mace, twenty-seven inches high, is topped by a sterling silver sphere studded by cone-shaped rubies. The neck of the Mace is inlaid with rosewood, alternated with silver fleur-de-lis. Cultured pearls mounted on cups encircle the top of the staff. Discs of silver interspersed with rosewood compose the shaft which ends with tip-casted silver. Sunken cultured pearls encircle a rounded cone with textured silver to end in a small globe.

PROGRAM NOTES

DR. CHARLES H. GLENDINNING
The College Marshal

Dr. Charles H. Glendinning of the English department leads the academic procession as College Marshal. For Dr. Glendinning, carrying the ceremonial mace is an honor which follows many years of serious dedication to the students and College.

Coming to Edinboro in 1958, Dr. Glendinning joined the English faculty as an instructor. In this position he taught English I, English literature and American literature. Later he collaborated with Dr. John Marsh in co-authoring two textbooks, A Television Approach to American Literature and A Television Approach to English Literature.

A recipient of a Bachelor of Arts with Distinction in English and a Masters of Arts degree in English from the University of Missouri, Dr. Glendinning was awarded his doctorate in Aesthetic Criticism from Case Western Reserve, Cleveland, Ohio. Through his dissertation, The Third Hero: A Re-evaluation, Dr. Glendinning presented a different set of abstract rules applicable to the tragic hero in drama, noting that the tragic hero has been evaluated by other scholars.

Prior to his Edinboro career, Dr. Glendinning taught for three years at the University of Missouri. In 1968 he was appointed assistant chairman of the Edinboro English department by Dr. Chester T. McNerney, president. At that time he served as an assistant to Dr. John Marsh, acting chairman.

During his 15 years of service to Edinboro State College, Dr. Glendinning has taught more than 36 different courses and served on numerous committees. A few of these committees include the concert lecture series, homecoming and curriculum development. Last May he was also named the director of the Honors Convocation program.

Dr. Glendinning resides with his wife, Alva, at 312 Meadville Street in Edinboro. They are the parents of a son, David. In his spare time, Dr. Glendinning enjoys gardening and reading.

PROGRAM NOTES

Academic Vestments

The gown, the cap and the hood, representing the major components of the academic dress, are a ceremonial inheritance from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility. The academic dress worn by those participating in today's academic processional symbolizes the level of their academic attainment and the institution they attended.

Gown

Although the gown is more frequently black, certain universities have authorized the use of colored gowns. The Bachelor and Master gowns are fashioned from black serge. The yoke for the Bachelor gown is designed to be worn closed and features long, flowing and pointed sleeves. The Master gown is designed to be worn open or closed. Its sleeves are very long with square ends, and the front part has an arc cut away. The arms protrude through a slit at the elbow. The gown for the Doctor degree is made of wool, serge, or silk with an open front faced with wide velvet panels. The sleeves are loose and bell-shaped with three bars of velvet in black or the color of the discipline in which the doctorate was obtained.

Hood

The most outstanding feature of the academic dress is the hood. It is usually worn only for the Master's and the Doctor's degrees. The Doctor's hood is longer than the Master's hood and has distinguishing panels. The college or the university granting the degree is indicated by the color or coloring of the hood lining. The velvet trim of the hood indicates the field in which the degree was granted.

Cap

The standard cap is the mortarboard, usually the color of the gown. The tassel is black for the Baccalaureate and Master degree and is worn over the left front quarter of the cap. The tassel for the Doctor's mortarboard is of gold thread. Undergraduates wear the tassel on the right side of the cap until the moment the degree is conferred by the President.

MEMORIAL FOUNDATION GIFTS

"They received, each for his own memory, praise that grows not old, and with it the grandest of all sepulchres, not that in which their mortal bones are laid, but a home in the minds of men, where their glory remains fresh to stir to speech or action as the occasion comes by. For the whole earth is the sepulchre of famous men; and their story is not graven only on stone over the native earth, but lives on far away, without visible symbol, woven into the stuff of other men's lives."—Thucydides

Jack Finegan, April 9, 1969

HISTORY

Edinboro State College lies in little Conneautee Valley in Northwestern Pennsylvania amid rolling wooded country 18 miles from Erie, 25 miles from Meadville and 125 miles from Pittsburgh. The rolling farm lands, the stately small town atmosphere and Edinboro Lake all enhance its beauty during the summer resort season and the picturesque winter months.

The town is easily accessible from the north and south by Route 19 and Interstate 79 and from the east and west by National Highway 6.

Edinboro State College is the oldest Pennsylvania teacher training school west of the Allegheny Mountains and the second oldest such school in the State. Edinboro Academy was chartered in 1856 and became a State Normal School by the Act of 1857.

Under the original charter the school was privately administered until 1861, when the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania chartered it as a State Normal School. The school was purchased by the Commonwealth in 1914.

In 1926 the State recognized Edinboro as a four-year college and granted it the right to offer undergraduate degrees in elementary, secondary and art education.

In 1957 the College was authorized to begin its graduate program of teacher education which leads to the Master of Education degree in elementary and secondary education with specialization in the areas of English, Science and Social Studies. In 1964 the program was extended to include a Master of Education degree in Guidance and Counseling.

Edinboro State Teachers College became Edinboro State College in 1960.

A Liberal Arts program leading to a Bachelor of Arts degree with concentration in the Natural Sciences, Social Sciences and the Humanities was approved in 1962.

A considerable number of undergraduate and graduate programs culminating in the bachelor's and master's degrees have been added to the curriculum.

CANTICLE TO PEACE

by John Greenleaf Whittier

Sound over all waters, reach out from all lands,
The chorus of voices, the clasping of hands;
Sing hymns that were sung by the stars of the morn,
Sing songs of the angels when Jesus was born.
Blow, bugles, blow! Blow, bugles, blow!
Blow, bugles of battle, the marches of peace,
East, west, north and south, let the long quarrel cease;
O sing ye the song that the angels began,
Sing glory to God, and good will unto man!
With glad jubinations, bring hope to each nation,
The dark night is ending, and dawn has begun;
Rise, hope of the ages, arise like the sun;
All speech flow to music, and all hearts beat as one!
Blow, bugles and sing,
Sing all ye nations, sing ye songs of peace.

ALMA MATER

Hail to Thee, our Alma Mater Glorious,
Fresh Wreaths we bring to bind Thy brow
Trials have past and Thou hast stood victorious
Never fairer never statelier than now,
O Edinboro, Edinboro
Ever praising Thee in song
While class speeds class as swift years pass
To Thee our hearts belong.
