INTRODUCTION

This is the tenth in a series of annual academic reports published by the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The purpose of these reports is to provide information about various facets of the college that would be of interest to those concerned with its development. In addition they contain up-to-date information that will be of value in preparing reports for various agencies and groups in the future.

Edinboro State College was established primarily to serve the Northwestern Pennsylvania region. However, students now come from all counties of the state as well as from other states. As of the Fall of 1978, the College enrolled 5698 students and employed 468 professional staff members. The College is a multi-purpose institution of higher learning serving the educational needs of Northwestern Pennsylvania, the Commonwealth, and the nation.

The College is organized into 4 branches: Academic Affairs, College Development, Student Personnel Services, and Support Services. Presently the College has six schools: The School of Arts and Humanities, the School of Behavioral and Social Sciences, the School of Education, the School of Nursing, the School of Science and Mathematics, and the School of Graduate Studies.

*Transfer students are included in the number graduating in various curricula. However, data on entering students does not include transfers. In addition, some students were graduated in curricula that were different from those in which they were originally enrolled due to internal transfer. Internal and external transfers, in some cases, would make it appear that a greater number was graduated from a program than was initially admitted.

A REPORT ON THE ORIENTATION AND SCHEDULING OF FRESHMEN ENTERING
EDINBORO STATE COLLEGE IN 1979

Conducted: October 26 and 27, 1978
May 1, 2, 3, 8, 9, and 10, 1979
June 19 and 20, 1979

INTRODUCTION

For several years Edinboro State College has conducted orientation activities for freshmen well in advance of their registration at the college. These activities are completed in a one-day program. The morning portion of the program is conducted by Student Personnel Services and responsibility for the afternoon is assumed by the Academic Affairs Branch. Planning for the total day has been coordinated in such a way that the experience is an integrated one for students and parents. The format and procedures followed for the orientations conducted in 1978 and 1979 followed those of previous years very closely, more detailed information is available in previous reports of this activity.

Orientations are conducted in October, May, and June. The major purpose in conducting these so far in advance of actual enrollment is to "clinch" the student or to obtain a commitment to Edinboro State College. It is believed that many students applying to this college are multiple-applicants who are in the process of deciding from among several colleges.

Over the years, there has been a continuing effort to improve upon the program and services rendered. Follow-up studies have been conducted of students and parents who have attended, and the evaluations have been highly positive.

A paper was prepared which explained the General Education requirements of the college in highly specific terms, and space was provided on this sheet for the student to make a copy of his course requests. Each student was asked to take this document home with him, so that he could study it at his leisure and obtain more background concerning college requirements.

In an attempt to provide for greater individualization, students were given an examination that would be useful in placement in the proper section of freshman English. Placement in the course Developmental Reading and Study Skills will be based upon student performance on the verbal part of the SAT.

Procedures were followed for the current orientation that has been established over the years. Students were sent a letter of invitation, a campus map, and information concerning the day they were to report to the College approximately two-three weeks in advance of their orientation reporting date. Thus, students and parents received notification in sufficient time to plan for this activity.

Students who had not attended previous orientations held in October, 1978 and May, 1979 were invited to attend the June orientation. In addition, students who had been accepted since invitations had been issued to the May orientation were invited to attend. Traditionally the number of students attending the June orientations has not been large. It is thought that those who did not attend previous orientations would not be likely to attend this one either. Other factors such as summer jobs, vacation plans, etc. make it less likely that students would attend this particular orientation. Thus, percentage of attendance was not computed.

SUMMARY

It appears that the format developed for freshman orientation and scheduling over the past several years is basically very sound. The program proceeds smoothly each day with few apparent problems developing. The one-day format necessitates that students and parents rise early in order to arrive at the College in time for the program. However, most of these individuals are on their way home by or shortly after 3:00 P.M. in spite of the early hour that many individuals had to rise, few appeared to be tired or drowsy during the program. Perhaps this speaks well for the interest the morning and afternoon sections of the program have for students and parents. It is noted that many parents, upon leaving the afternoon program, inquire as to where they may pay the $100 deposit or ask for the location of the Financial Aid Office. These are indicators of a positive nature concerning the program. An interesting trend was noted in that a number of students attended the orientations who has not yet made application for admission to Edinboro State College.

Over the years the only negative factor has been the general decline in the percentage of attendance. Many factors could have a bearing on this. Several follow-up studies have been conducted of non-attendees and such a variety of response has been obtained that no clear pattern emerges from those who have not attended these sessions. Many are aware that it is no longer as difficult to be admitted to the college of their choice as it was in the late 1960's and early 1970's. This has been brought forth in terms of the number of students attending Edinboro's orientations who have also been accepted at one, two, or more other higher educational institutions in the region. The latter may well be the most compelling reason for continuing the program. Follow-up studies have shown that, for the most part, students and parents attending Edinboro's orientations receive a most favorable impression of the College. This program could be a strong factor in the selection of Edinboro State College as their final choice. The trend of decreasing percentage of attendance might be showing signs of reversing itself. It is worth noting that the Spring attendance for 1977 was 53% as contrasted to that in 1978 of 65.3% and in 1979 it was 72%. This represents a significant and encouraging increase in the percentage of those attending.

Constant attempts are made to improve the program. Names, addresses, and telephone numbers of those students who did not attend the orientation sessions were given to appropriate school deans with a request that follow-up be conducted of these individuals. It is possible that non-attendance at orientation might be an indicator of lack of commitment to attend the College. Follow-up actions by deans and department chairpersons might help to persuade such individuals that Edinboro State College would be their best choice of a higher educational institution.

Department chairpersons were encouraged to conduct a part of the afternoon orientation at the physical location of their departments. It is believed that this provides prospective students and their parents with greater knowledge about the equipment and facilities available as well as to provide for more interaction with faculty and undergraduate students. Such interactions should help to increase the interest of prospective students in Edinboro State College.

THE ADVISORY PROGRAM

Undergraduate

The role of the adviser focuses primarily on academic planning. It also involves a relationship with the student that encompasses the full range of adjustment to the College. One should not underestimate the full importance of the adviser/advisee relationship in the integration of the student into the college scene. The higher the degree of integration of the individual into the college systems, the greater will be his/her commitment to the goal of college completion and to the specific institution. The interplay between the individual's commitment to the institution determines whether or not the student decides to drop out of college. The adviser should be a concerned and interested human being who provides a personal link with the College. The faculty adviser may, for some students, be the only college official who knows him/her by name and responds on a personal basis.

The student has a definite responsibility to be aware of credits needed for graduation. Because it is ultimately the student's responsibility to choose courses of study, the adviser should recognize the importance of his/her commitment when assisting the student in making appropriate choices.

Edinboro State College believes that faculty advisers are generally best qualified to provide academic advice for the student. The advisement program, coordinated and supervised by the Academic Affairs Office, provides each student with an academic adviser. The student is assigned an adviser according to guidelines established by the department chairperson.

The new student is notified of the adviser assignment by mail prior to registration day. The name of the faculty adviser is also printed on the class schedule. The adviser is expected to maintain a folder for each advisee. The faculty adviser retains a copy of each proposed schedule prepared during pre-registration. Likewise, periodic grade reports and cumulative academic histories, are filed in the student folder.

The adviser is expected to post a schedule of office hours. During pre-registration, the advisee must make an appointment with the adviser for the purpose of advisement and scheduling. The adviser will have a computerized copy of the student's cumulative academic record. The faculty adviser and advisee are encouraged to review academic progress and to select appropriate courses for the forthcoming semester. The faculty adviser, when providing academic and personal advisement, may occasionally encounter situations which are beyond his expertise. If assistance is needed, the adviser contacts the department chairperson, dean, or the Office of Academic Affairs.

FACULTY NON-INSTRUCTIONAL ACTIVITIES

In the Spring of 1979 each member of the administration and faculty was contacted with a questionnaire to be returned to the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. This instrument was designed to obtain information concerning: attendance at professional meetings and conferences; research activities; publications; lectures or talks delivered before various groups; consulting work or field services; committee memberships; and extra-class or non-teaching assignments.

Following is the number of persons from each area who responded to the above instrument:

It also developed a procedure for dealing with program proposals that are not either academic majors or minors. The Commission also approved the document "Planning Application for Academic Minors".

SELECTED MOTIONS PASSED BY THE ACADEMIC COUNCIL

September, 1978 - May, 1979

November 14, 1978

Bibliographies need not be part of course outlines, when presented to the Academic Council for approval.

November 28, 1978

The B.S. in Computer Science was approved.

January 30, 1979

The M.A. in Gerontology was approved.

March 13, 1979

The following was approved: The purpose of minor(s) programs is to allow students to follow a planned program in a discipline in addition to their own major. No minor may require under 15 semester hours or over 24 semester hours. The approval procedure for minor programs will follow the existing order being used in the approval of degree programs and other academic programs recommended for Edinboro State College.

March 20, 1979

The Council approved the Fire Protection Program only for the Fire Protection Associate Degree. The Council also voted that the Fire Protection courses offered in the Associate Degree Program do not count toward fulfilling requirements for graduation of any other degree program of the College. The proposed Institutional Philosophy was approved.

April 10, 1979

A proposal for philosophy and objectives of liberal arts and sciences was approved. A proposal was also approved for philosophy and objectives of teacher education. A proposal for philosophy and objectives of graduate study was approved.

May 8, 1979

All CS courses may be used as general education courses either under the School of Science and Mathematics or under General Education Electives. The Council approved the following: that the Curriculum Committee's approval of the Fire Protection Program together with the five (5) conditions for acceptance (including support memo for condition No.2) be sent to the Senate. Furthermore, that the alterations to the conditions as initiated by the Academic Council accompany the Curriculum Committee materials. A committee was constituted to attempt to make a determination of the difference(s) between associate degree and baccalaureate level courses. The following was approved: If a department wishes to change the title of a currently approved program to that of a minor, and this program qualifies as a minor as defined by the College Senate, this may be done by administrative action. Administrative action is defined as approval of the department(s) and school(s). The proposal for a B.S. in Life Management Services was approved.

In addition to the above, the Academic Council approved a significant number of new courses, changes in course numbers changes in semester hours of courses, changes in courses, and revisions in program requirements.

Title I, Public Education Act of 1965

A significant portion of the 1978-79 activities was devoted to carrying out the terms of the Title I, 1965, grants awarded the Institute by the Pennsylvania Department of Education. This year grant called for a number of seminars, workshops and conferences in the area of various issues relating to the implementation of the provisions of the Institute's Speakers Bureau and publication of the Institute's quarterly.

Twelve workshops were conducted during the year and the work place in areas of public education. The Institute also conducted a number of seminars and conferences in the area of various issues relating to the implementation of the provisions of the Institute's Speakers Bureau and publication of the Institute's quarterly.

ANNUAL REPORT

1978-1979

INSTITUTE FOR COMMUNITY SERVICES

EDINBORO STATE COLLEGE

EDINBORO, PENNSYLVANIA

ANNUAL REPORT

The Institute for Community Services, Edinboro State College, was founded in 1969 as an adjunct to the Department of Political Science and was originally known as the Bureau of Government Services. As such it assisted local government in Northwestern Pennsylvania in many of its needs and activities. In 1974, the name was changed to its present designation to reflect more appropriately the overall activities of the agency. The Institute is an integral part of the responsibilities and operations of Edinboro State College and its educational objectives in serving the residents of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Over the past five years, the Institute's programs and projects have significantly expanded. The work of the staff has been recognized by all government levels and industry to the extent that Edinboro State College is one of very few institutions of higher education in the nation to assume the responsibilities it is presently carrying out.

Activities for 1978-79 (July 1, 1978-June 30, 1979) fall into seven categories:

1. Programs conducted under terms of the Title I, Higher Education Act, grant for its Consumer Training and Information Program.
2. Programs conducted under terms of the Title I, HEA, grant for Local Government Assistance.
3. Publication of two newsletters, Regional Public Affairs and Northwest Consumer Forum.
4. Operation of two statewide-regional conferences and assistance in conducting two national conferences.
5. Operation of the Institute for Community Services Speakers Bureau.
6. Operation of the Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice Internship Programs.
7. Participation in state, regional and national consumer-industry joint panels and roundtables.

Title I, Higher Education Act Grant #1

A significant portion of the 1978-79 activities was devoted to carrying out the terms of the two Title I, HEA, grants awarded the Institute by the Pennsylvania Department of Education. This first grant called for a number of seminars, workshops and/or conferences in the area of consumer issues training and information, together with the operation of the Institute's Speakers Bureau and publication of the consumer newsletter.

Twelve workshops were conducted across the Commonwealth and took place in Erie, Oil City, Johnstown, New Stanton, Carlisle, Williamsport, Reading, Edinboro, and West Chester. These were principally directed to and conducted for community action agency staff personnel and other local institutional representatives in order to provide such persons with information and substantive materials in dealing with consumer problems when serving their clients and members. Topics included programs on the Pennsylvania Bureau of Consumer Protection: Its Mandate and Responsibilities; State and Local Consumer Offices and Organizations; Pennsylvania Small Claims Courts; Landlord-Tenant Problems; Credit and Money Management; Pennsylvania's Auto Repair and Purchasing Regulations; Property Taxation and Consumers; Public Utilities; Health Care Issues; and Food Purchasing and the Consumer. These twelve workshops serviced 561 persons from nineteen Pennsylvania counties.

In addition to the workshops, eighteen seminars were conducted for senior citizens and Head Start young people. These took place in Girard, Albion, North East, and on the Edinboro State College campus, and covered a wide variety of topics designed to enable these people to better cope with marketplace problems. These seminars served 1,065 people.

The third aspect of this project dealt with statewide and regional conferences conducted by the Institute. In October, 1978, the Institute, together with the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, conducted a Pre-Rate Filing Conference at Allenberry, Pennsylvania. This was the first such joint consumer-utility meeting of its kind ever held in the telecommunications industry and has provided new direction for many other companies across the nation. In addition, the Institute assumed responsibility for setting up the consumer portion of the National Measured Service Workshop held in Kansas City, Missouri, a conference of over 200 persons, established by the Bell System, General Telephone & Electronics, United Telephone, Continental Telephone, and other independent companies.

Finally, the Eastern Consumer Conference was again conducted by the Institute. The theme of the 1979 Conference was "Critical Consumer Issues in the Marketplace" and featured several outstanding national and regional speakers and participants. This Conference and the Allenberry meeting attracted almost 200 consumer, community, government, industry and educational leaders from Pennsylvania and fifteen other states.

One of the constantly requested services is the Institute Speakers Bureau. Although the 1978-79 requests fell from the 1977-78 high, staff members were again active speaking before various groups, agencies and organizations. It should also be noted that as the Institute's programs have broadened, the requests for other engagements by the Institute's staff--many of which have been out-of-state with major, national consumer-industry meetings--have increased. The Speakers Bureau staff members serviced 577 people in various parts of the Commonwealth.

Northwest Consumer Forum

During 1978-79 the distribution of the Institute's consumer newsletter, the Northwest Consumer Forum surpassed the 4,500 mark and continues to grow. It is one of very few publications of its kind in the country.

Title I, Higher Education Act Grant #2

One of the major activities of the Institute's local government assistance program was a series of nine workshops and seminars to help local government officials in Erie and Crawford counties understand and prepare for rapid development from the proposed U.S. Steel mill. The steel mill represents a major event for public officials in the small communities and rural townships in the two counties, and the sessions were designed to advance an understanding of growth and how to deal with it. The steel mill series was a timely and appropriate community service in Northwest Pennsylvania dealing with the following topics: "Problems in Preparing for U.S. Steel: What Can Local Governments Do?" "Preparing to Regulate Growth," "Sensible Growth," "How to Achieve Sensible Growth" (in three parts), "Who's in Control?" "The Impact of Growth on Human Services," and "Steel Mill Impacts: The Canadian Experience." The sessions presented both the problems of growth and alternatives for dealing with those problems. The objective was to reach 500 local government officials in both the Pennsylvania and Ohio impact areas. A total of 1,043 public officials attended the nine workshops, an average of 116 per session. The project required close cooperation with regional organizations including the Northwest Pennsylvania Futures Committee, Erie County Planning Department, Crawford County Planning Department, Northwest Regional Planning and Development Commission, Pennsylvania Department of Community Affairs, the Erie County Association of Township Supervisors, and the Geography Department on campus. The project was considered very successful, both in terms of service and working relationships with community organizations.

Regional Public Affairs

The publication of the newsletter, Regional Public Affairs, is another important service of the Institute. The newsletter goes out to approximately 700 public officials throughout Northwest Pennsylvania. The newsletter deals with topics of importance to local governments and regional organizations. Examples include: "The New Ethics Law, Act 170 of 1978," "Local and State Alternatives for Preserving Northwest Pennsylvania's Rural Life Style," "Local Government Growth," "Steel Mill Building and Population Growth in Gary, Indiana (1906) and Springfield Township, Pennsylvania (1980?)." The Institute solicits articles from the faculty of the College, and thus offers a valuable outlet to communities for our faculty members.

Internships

The public service internship program at Edinboro was established by the Bureau of Government Services in 1972 and the Institute staff has carried the program forward. This program is now seven years old and has the responsibility for the criminal justice internship program. At the present time the Institute is placing approximately 45 interns per year in various public and private, nonprofit agencies.

Other Activities

Over the course of the 1978-79 year Institute staff members addressed a number of major conferences, special meetings and symposia serving an additional 1,058 persons. These included:

1. Eastern Council of State Governments, Atlantic City, New Jersey
2. Natural Organic Farmers Association, Henniker, New Hampshire
3. Northeast Area Telephone Conference, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
4. American Telephone & Telegraph Corporate Executive Seminar, Buck Hill Falls, Pennsylvania
5. Fall Food Conference for Clergy and Concerned Laity, Valatie, New York
6. Society of Consumer Affairs Professionals Conference, Washington, D.C.
7. Conference of Consumer Organizations National Conference, Richmond, Virginia
8. National Conference on State and Local Public Policy Alternatives, Nashville, Tennessee
9. Blue Cross-Blue Shield, National Conference on Health Care Cost Containment, San Antonio, Texas
10. National Conference on Local Food Preservation, Valatie, New York
11. Northeast Agricultural Leadership Assembly, Cherry Hill, New Jersey
12. U.S. Department of Transportation Conference on Transportation and the Consumer, Washington, D.C.

In addition to the above meetings, Institute staff members have the distinction of serving on a number of national consumer-industry joint panels and roundtables--the objectives of which are to identify, discuss and hopefully resolve various mutual issues affecting the parties to the panels. During 1978-79 these activities involved the following national industries and companies:

1. Boston Gas Company, Boston, Massachusetts
2. American Telephone & Telegraph Company, New York, New York
3. National Pharmaceutical Council, Washington, D.C., and associated companies Ortho Pharmaceutical Corporation, Hoffmann-LaRoche and Burroughs-Wellcome
4. Westinghouse Corporation, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania
5. Tenneco Oil Company, Houston, Texas
6. Insurance Information Institute, New York, New York
7. Pennsylvania Power & Light Company, Allentown, Pennsylvania
8. Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
9. Direct Selling Association, Washington, D.C.

In addition, the Institute is represented on the Board of Directors of the National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence, a national organization established in 1972 for the purpose of testing and certifying automobile and truck mechanics.

At various times Institute staff members testify on proposed state and federal regulations and legislation. The past year found testimony being given on the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission's concern over the inability of consumers to pay the ever-increasing rates for utilities. The Institute also gave testimony before the U.S. Metric Board on the question of the metric conversion of gasoline pumps.

Finally, the Institute is working with General Telephone Company of Pennsylvania in attempting to resolve consumer problems with that company and is assisting General McLane School District on its Consumer Advisory Committee.

Financing

Financing for the Institute's programs came from a variety of sources. During 1978-79 the two Title I, HEA, grants provided the bulk of revenues for Institute operations. Aside from one and one-half salaries and office space, the Commonwealth, through the College, supplies a small additional budget for the Institute's operations.

Through its efforts in working with industry, business, community and government organizations and agencies and interested individuals, the Institute raised a total of $82,246 during 1978-79, of which $4,515 was for its consumer scholarship fund, to which 28 individuals, agencies and companies contributed. These included:

1. American Telephone & Telegraph Company, New York, New York
2. Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, Montvale, New Jersey
3. Heinz USA, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania
4. RCA Service Corporation, Camden, New Jersey
5. Tenneco Oil Company, Houston, Texas
6. Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
7. Pennsylvania Power & Light Company, Allentown, Pennsylvania
8. American Can Company, Greenwich, Connecticut
9. Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company, Washington, D.C.
10. The Upjohn Company, Kalamazoo, Michigan
11. Hoffmann-LaRoche, Nutley, New Jersey
12. Ortho Pharmaceutical Corporation, Raritan, New Jersey
13. CIBA-GEIGY Corporation, Summit, New Jersey
14. Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, Michigan
15. J. C. Penney Company, New York, New York
16. Sperry & Hutchinson Company, New York, New York
17. National Pharmaceutical Council, Washington, D.C.
18. National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence, Washington, D.C.
19. C. H. Stuart, Inc., Newark, New York
20. General Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, Erie, Pennsylvania
21. Pennsylvania Electric Company, Johnstown, Pennsylvania
22. American Gas Association, Washington, D.C.
23. West Penn Power Company, Greensburg, Pennsylvania
24. Atlantic Richfield Company, Los Angeles, California
25. Shell Oil Company, Houston, Texas
26. Ronald Errett, Johnstown, Pennsylvania
27. Gregory D. Lessig, Edinboro, Pennsylvania

28. Dr. and Mrs. Louis S. Meyer, Cambridge Springs, Pennsylvania

In addition to scholarship funds, the Institute receives a small amount of revenue as a result of its workshops and conferences as well as some administrative costs for assisting in conferences. These revenues have relieved the College considerably so far as various day-to-day expenses of the Institute are concerned. At the present time the Institute pays for most of its own travel, first-class postage and office supplies. It should be noted that a sizable amount of honoraria received by Institute personnel is donated back to the Institute for its programs. This applies to both speech presentations and consultant work carried out by the Institute staff.

Summary

Through its efforts in working with government agencies, business, industry, community organizations and interested individuals, the Institute raised a total of $82,246 during 1978-79, $4,515 of which was for its consumer scholarship fund, to which 28 individuals, agencies and companies contributed.

The staff of the Institute for Community Services--listed below--believes the past year has been a most productive one. Its programs have reached almost 10,000, not including radio and television programs, public testimony and other projects. The Institute's work is recognized nationally as a leading higher education institution involved in consumer affairs projects. Similarly, it is recognized by major businesses and industries as a responsible and productive agency as shown through contributions to the Institute Scholarship Fund.

Edinboro State College, through the Institute for Community Services and its efforts toward communities and their residents, has provided and continues to provide services to community organizations, community action agencies, voluntary consumer groups, businesses, industries, educational institutions, trade associations and countless thousands of Pennsylvania residents at a minimum of cost.
