

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Gina Rashay Pritchett, 15 Cloverwood Dr., Brockport, N.Y., was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Gina is the daughter of George and Grace Pritchett. She is a graduate of Brockport High School and is a music major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Opal E. Cintron, 1055-C Rt. 271S, Ligonier, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Opal is the daughter of April and Jaime Cintron. She is a graduate of Ligonier Valley High School and is an applied media arts major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Nicole L. White, 1521 Bidwell St., Pittsburgh, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Nicole is the daughter of Betty White. She is a graduate of Perry Traditional Academy and is a criminal justice major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bj

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that John V. Rodriguez, 26 Oakland St., Pittsburgh, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

John is the son of John Rodriguez and Mary Lou Rodriguez. He is a graduate of Shaler Area High School and is a political science major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Kayleen N. Smith of Beaver Falls was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Kayleen is the daughter of Jennifer Smith. She is a graduate of Beaver Falls Senior High School and is a criminal justice major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 22, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Brett Pegher, RD 7, Box 764, Mars, was recently named the recipient of a Russell M. Wood Accounting Scholarship renewal.

This scholarship provides an annual award to an incoming freshman accounting major who has exhibited high academic achievement in high school, who scored 1000 or greater on the SAT's and who graduated in the upper 2/5 of his/her graduating class. In addition, this award once given will be continued for a four year period if a QPA of 3.00 is maintained. It is in honor of Russell M. Wood. Financial need is a consideration.

Brett is the son of Jim and Pat Pegher. He is a graduate of Pine-Richland High School and an accounting major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Teonnie Mitchell, 2377 Unwin Rd., Cleveland, Ohio, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Teonnie is the daughter of Alfreida Mitchell and James Rucker Sr. She is a graduate of South High School and is an English literature major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Travis Duck, 2319 Pennsylvania Ave., Erie, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Travis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Duck. He is a graduate of East High School and is a business administration major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bj

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Shakira Ray, 1918 Meadville St., Pittsburgh, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Shakira is the daughter of Sheila Ray. She is a graduate of Schenley High School and is majoring in speech and communication studies at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Yvonne Rivera, 128 Main Entrance Drive, West Mifflin, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Yvonne is the daughter of David and Clara Rivera. She is a graduate of West Mifflin Area High School and is majoring in elementary education/early childhood at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 22, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES HONORS SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Tara Orcutt, 296 Beacon Rd., Renfrew, has been selected as the recipient of a First National Bank Freshman Honors Scholarship.

Tara, the daughter of William and Diane Kron and the late William Orcutt, has been accepted into the Edinboro University Honors Program for academically gifted students. She plans to major in nursing.

Annual awards are made available to incoming freshmen who have combined SAT scores of 1050 or greater, and evidence of academic achievement and involvement while in high school. Funds for this scholarship are made available through an endowment created by the First National Bank.

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Admissions Office
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2761
Fax (814) 732-2420

MEMO TO: Patti Loomis
Public Relations

FROM: Kerri L. Watson KW
Associate Director of Admissions

SUBJECT: Honors Program Acceptee

DATE: July 27, 1995

Patti, this is to inform you that the following student has been accepted to the Honors Program and received a scholarship. It would be appropriate to disseminate a press release on this student as she has confirmed her acceptance to Edinboro University.

Tara Orcutt
296 Beacon Road
Renfrew, PA 16053
Major: Nursing
Parents: William and Diane Kron and the late William Orcutt

KLW/sls

August 11, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Tricia M. DeSanti, 3921 Ellsworth Ave., Erie, was recently named the recipient of a Kevin J. Maloney Memorial Scholarship.

The family and friends of Kevin J. Maloney and the Alumni Association of Edinboro University have made available an annual scholarship. This award is presented to an upper-class student who has exhibited outstanding academic achievement and who has declared his/her intention of attending law school upon completion of studies at Edinboro University.

Tricia is the daughter of Theodore J. DeSanti and Donna J. DeSanti. She is a graduate of Academy High School and a political science major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 22, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Stephanie Seifert, 609 Lincoln Ave., Erie, was recently named the recipient of a Charles D. Buzzanco Scholarship.

This scholarship provides annual awards to currently enrolled undergraduate students who meet the requirements. It was created with funds from Laborers Local 603 and Associated General Contractors to provide for the continuing education of members. Due to the establishment of an educational program on a national basis, they decided to create a scholarship to enable themselves and their children to pursue an education at Edinboro University of Pennsylvania. The scholarship is named for Mr. Charles D. Buzzanco who was the union business manager and spearheaded this scholarship development along with Mr. Joe Ruscitto.

Stephanie is the daughter of Don and Michele Seifert. She is a graduate of Villa Maria Academy and an elementary education major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 22, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Matthew H. Johnson, 1041 Rankine Ave., Erie, was recently named the recipient of a Charles D. Buzzanco Scholarship.

This scholarship provides annual awards to currently enrolled undergraduate students who meet the requirements. It was created with funds from Laborers Local 603 and Associated General Contractors to provide for the continuing education of members. Due to the establishment of an educational program on a national basis, they decided to create a scholarship to enable themselves and their children to pursue an education at Edinboro University of Pennsylvania. The scholarship is named for Mr. Charles D. Buzzanco who was the union business manager and spearheaded this scholarship development along with Mr. Joe Ruscitto.

Matthew is the son of Donald and Mary Johnson. He is a graduate of Iroquois High School and an applied/media arts major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 22, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Elizabeth Evans, 506 Young Rd., Erie, was recently named the recipient of a Russell M. Wood Accounting Scholarship.

This scholarship provides an annual award to an incoming freshman accounting major who has exhibited high academic achievement in high school, who scored 1000 or greater on the SAT's and who graduated in the upper 2/5 of his/her graduating class. In addition, this award once given will be continued for a four year period if a QPA of 3.00 is maintained. It is in honor of Russell M. Wood. Financial need is a consideration.

Elizabeth is the daughter of David and Lorraine Evans. She is a graduate of Bethel Christian School and an accounting major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 22, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Windle R. Oberrath, RD 1, Guys Mills, was recently named the recipient of an Alumni Association Scholarship.

The Alumni Association of Edinboro University has made six annual scholarships available to outstanding high school seniors who are enrolled in a degree seeking program at Edinboro University. Selection criteria include 1000 or greater SAT and 1/5 high school rank. These scholarships are renewable for four consecutive years providing that the recipients maintain a 3.00 QPA and are enrolled full-time.

Windle is the daughter of David and Nancy Oberrath. She is a graduate of Maplewood High School, and a secondary education/Spanish major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 18, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Ellen Sass, 5594 Pin Oak Drive, Edinboro, was recently named the recipient of a Russell M. Wood Accounting Scholarship.

This scholarship provides an annual award to an incoming freshman accounting major who has exhibited high academic achievement in high school, who scored 1000 or greater on the SAT's and who graduated in the upper 2/5 of his/her graduating class. In addition, this award once given will be continued for a four year period if a QPA of 3.00 is maintained. It is in honor of Russell M. Wood. Financial need is a consideration.

Ellen is the daughter of Hans and Susan Sass. She is a graduate of General McLane High School and a business administration/accounting major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 18, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Shane E. McIntyre, 13173 Rt. 6, Corry, was recently named the recipient of the Leland W. VanLaningham Education Scholarship.

This annual scholarship is presented to an incoming freshman who has shown outstanding high school academic achievement. This award will be paid each year for four years provided the recipient maintains a 3.00 QPA. It is in honor of Professor L. W. VanLaningham who served Edinboro University from 1949 until 1967. Financial need is a factor.

Shane is the son of Jack McIntyre and Linda McIntyre. He is a graduate of Corry Area High School and a secondary education/physics major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 18, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Judith Stainbrook, R. D. 3, Linesville, was recently named the recipient of an Elva Elder Reither Memorial Scholarship.

This scholarship is offered annually to an Edinboro University student who is majoring in the arts or sciences and has completed a minimum of 32 credit hours, and whose quality point average is 3.00 or greater cumulative and 3.50 or greater in major courses. This award is renewable through the senior year as long as the recipient continues to meet the above listed academic requirements. Funds for this award have been made available through a bequest made to the Edinboro University Alumni Association by the late Mrs. Elva Elder Reither who attended Edinboro Normal School from 1920 to 1922.

Judith is an English/writing major and is a graduate of Conneaut Valley High School.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 18, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Cynthia Marzka, RD 3, Saegertown, was recently named the recipient of a Helen Sabin Reed Memorial Scholarship/Elementary Education.

This scholarship provides an annual award to a student who has demonstrated outstanding academic achievement in the field of elementary education with a concentration in reading. Helen Sabin Reed received both her undergraduate and graduate degrees from Edinboro University. This scholarship was established in her honor by the late Mrs. Theo S. Meyer, Erie, Pennsylvania. Financial need may be a factor.

Cynthia is the daughter of Rosemary Walk and the late Michael Walk. She is an elementary education/early childhood education major and a graduate of Meadville Senior High School.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 16, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Melinda Meyer, 6805 Melridge Dr., Painesville, Ohio, was recently named the recipient of a Frank Hawthorne Math Scholarship.

The scholarship fund provides three awards per semester to students majoring in mathematics who have a minimum earned QPA of 3.40. The fund has been established by Frank Hawthorne, class of 1936. Financial need is not a factor.

Melinda is the daughter of Lewis Meyer and Patricia Meyer. She is a secondary education/mathematics major and a graduate of Riverside High School.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 16, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Judith Stainbrook, R. D. 3, Linesville, was recently named the recipient of a Frank LaBounty Alumni Scholarship.

This scholarship is awarded annually to an English literature or English/writing major who has 32 earned semester hours with a minimum 3.20 QPA. It is renewable for two years if the recipient maintains a minimum 3.20 QPA. Financial need is a factor.

This award honors Mr. Frank LaBounty who taught English and history at Edinboro University before World War I and returned to teach from 1930 through 1946. He was appointed as a trustee of Edinboro University in 1939 and served in that position for one year. Funds for this scholarship have been made available through Mr. Keith Skelton and alumni.

Judith is an English/writing major and a graduate of Conneaut Valley High School.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 10, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Meg Eisenhower, RR 5, Bloomsburg, was recently named the recipient of an Alumni Association Scholarship.

The Alumni Association of Edinboro University has made six annual scholarships available to outstanding high school seniors who are enrolled in a degree seeking program at Edinboro University. Selection criteria include 1000 or greater SAT and 1/5 high school rank. These scholarships are renewable for four consecutive years providing that the recipients maintain a 3.00 QPA and are enrolled full-time.

Meg is the daughter of David and Marian Eisenhower. She is a graduate of Central Columbia High School, and an environmental science/biology major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 10, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Gretchen A. Brown, 343 Glenridge Road, Erie, was recently named the recipient of an Alumni Pre-Law Scholarship.

The Alumni Association of Edinboro University has made this annual scholarship available to an upperclass student who has exhibited outstanding academic achievement and who has declared his/her intention of attending law school upon completion of studies at Edinboro.

Gretchen is the daughter of David R. Brown and Marilyn B. Brown. She is a graduate of McDowell High School, and a political science major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 10, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Traci L. Harbula, RD 2, Cambridge Springs, was recently named the recipient of the Kevin F. "Rocky" Burkhardt Scholarship.

This scholarship is presented annually to a biology major who has a minimum 3.5 cumulative quality point average. The recipient may receive this scholarship for two consecutive years if selected initially as a junior and all other selection criteria are met. This scholarship was established by the late Mr. Richard Burkhardt and his wife, Colleen, in memory of their late son, Kevin, who was a 1985 Edinboro University honors graduate in biology.

Traci is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Harbula. She is a graduate of Cambridge Springs High School and a biology major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 8, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES HONORS SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Stacy Mertz, 117 Alpine Rd., St. Marys, has been selected as the recipient of a Student Government Association (SGA) Freshman Honors Scholarship.

Stacy, the daughter of Harold and Sandra Mertz, has been accepted into the Edinboro University Honors Program for academically gifted students. She is a graduate of St. Marys Area High School and plans to major in medical technology.

Annual awards are made available to incoming freshmen who have combined SAT scores of 1050 or greater, and evidence of academic achievement and involvement while in high school. Funds for this scholarship are made available through an endowment created by the SGA of Edinboro University.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 8, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES HONORS SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Carrie Synan, 1831 Sampson Dr., Apollo, has been selected as the recipient of a Mildred Forness Honors Scholarship.

Annual awards are made available to students who are participating in the University Honors Program and who have shown high academic achievement in high school. This scholarship is in honor of Mildred Forness who was a librarian at Edinboro State College from 1922 to 1969. The University library is named in her honor.

A graduate of Kiski Area High School, Carrie is the daughter of Jim and Laverne Synan and is majoring in computer science.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 8, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES HONORS SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Carrie Synan, 1831 Sampson Dr., Apollo, has been selected as the recipient of a Grace A. Crowe Freshman Honors Scholarship.

Carrie, the daughter of Jim and Laverne Synan, has been accepted into the Edinboro University Honors Program for academically gifted students. She is a graduate of Kiski Area High School and plans to major in computer science.

Annual awards are made available to incoming freshmen who have combined SAT scores of 1050 or greater, and evidence of academic achievement and involvement while in high school. Funds for this scholarship are made available by the Grace A. Crowe Memorial Fund.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 8, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES HONORS SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that John E. Egers Jr., 24 Laurel Ave., Washington, has been selected as the recipient of a Grace A. Crowe Freshman Honors Scholarship.

John, the son of John and Kathleen Egers, has been accepted into the Edinboro University Honors Program for academically gifted students. He is a graduate of Washington High School and plans to major in criminal justice.

Annual awards are made available to incoming freshmen who have combined SAT scores of 1050 or greater, and evidence of academic achievement and involvement while in high school. Funds for this scholarship are made available by the Grace A. Crowe Memorial Fund.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 8, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES HONORS SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Erin Brzezicki, 2521 East 32 St., Erie, has been selected as the recipient of a GTE Freshman Honors Scholarship.

Annual awards are made available to students who are participating in the University Honors Program and whose homes are in the GTE service area. Funds for the GTE Honors Scholarships are made available through contributions made by GTE for the purpose of fostering academic excellence at Edinboro University of Pennsylvania.

A graduate of Mercyhurst Preparatory School, Erin is the daughter of Stanley and Ellen Brzezicki and is majoring in general studies.

-30-

PSL:bjja

RECORD-ARGUS

GREENVILLE, PA
DAILY 5,500

TUESDAY
AUG 8 1995

BURRELLE'S

156
...ce..

ZG

On campus

P225Aq

Edinboro University

EDINBORO, Pa. — Lee McCracken of Greenville has been selected as the recipient of an Upperclass Honors Scholarship.

Annual awards are made available to upperclass honors students who have a cumulative quality point average of 3.5 or greater and have earned honors credits.

In addition, eligible applicants must have honors credits in progress and the overall quality of the applicant's work will be considered.

Funds for these scholarships are provided by the Dollars for Honors Scholarship fund.

McCracken, a philosophy major, is the son of Randy and Cynthia McCracken.

Indiana University of Pennsylvania

INDIANA, Pa. — Jonathan Boggs of Stoneboro, an IUP communications media major, is currently doing an internship with Creative Group in Youngstown, Ohio.

Clarion University

CLARION, Pa. — The following local students recently attended an orientation session at Clarion University and are planning to begin studies during the fall semester:

Fredonia: Kevin Smock. Greenville: Philip Curtin, Jonathan Holzshu, Brian Kelley, Louis Martsof, Janet Mentch, Brian Murphy, Carey Rhoades, Raina Smith, Rachel Wesolek. Jackson Center: Michael Donaldson, Rebecca Rodgers. Jamestown: Kristin Murphy, Troy Wiand. Mercer: Ron Dunlap, Chad Kiester, Michael Lee Lopuh, Barbara Shelhamer, Corrie Whetzel. Sandy Lake: William Doyle, Todd Martin. Stoneboro: Trevor Hensel.

TRIBUNE

MEADVILLE, PA
DAILY 17,000

MONDAY
AUG 14 1995

260 BURRELLE'S
ced.

ZF
.....

P225AQ ■

Denise N. Green, RD 2, Cambridge Springs, has been selected as the recipient of an Upperclass Honors Scholarship at Edinboro University of Pennsylvania. Annual awards are made available to upper class honors students who have a cumulative quality point average of 3.50 or greater and have earned honors credits. A graduate of Cambridge Springs High School, Green is a daughter of Wayne and Shirley Wilcox of Waterford and is majoring in nursing.

DERRICK

OIL CITY, PA
DAILY 24,000

THURSDAY
AUG 10 1995

BURRELLE'S

325 ced.

ZT

.....U

Wodzianski gets honors scholarship

P22540
Andrew K. Wodzianski of 1322 Elk St., Frankiin, has been selected as the recipient of an Upperclass Honors Scholarship at Edinboro University.

Wodzianski, a graduate of Bradford High School, is the son of Olgierd K. Wodzianski and Ruth A. Remington. He is majoring in art education at Edinboro.

Annual awards are made available to upperclass honors students who have a cumulative quality point average of 3.50 or greater and have earned honors credits. In addition, they must have honors credits in progress and the overall quality of the applicant's academic work will be considered. Financial need is not a factor.

in progress will be considered. Financial need

NEWS-HERALD

FRANKLIN, PA
DAILY 8,000

FRIDAY
AUG 11 1995

BURRELLE'S

145
..ce..

ZL
.....

Wodzianski gets scholarship

^{P 225 A0}
Andrew K. Wodzianski of 1322 Elk St., Franklin, has been selected as the recipient of an Upperclass Honors Scholarship at Edinboro University.

Wodzianski, a graduate of Bradford High School, is the son of Olgierd K. Wodzianski and Ruth A. Remington. He is majoring in art education at Edinboro.

Annual awards are made available to upperclass honors students who have a cumulative quality point average of 3.50 or greater and have earned honors credits. In addition, they must have honors credits in progress and the overall quality of the applicant's academic work will be considered. Financial need is not a factor.

August 3, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES HONORS SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Kevin Frazier, 206 W. Elm St., Titusville, has been selected as the recipient of an Upperclass Honors Scholarship.

Annual awards are made available to upperclass honors students who have a cumulative quality point average of 3.50 or greater and have earned honors credits. In addition, eligible applicants must have honors credits in progress and the overall quality of the applicant's academic work will be considered. Financial need is not a factor. Funds for these scholarships are provided by the Dollars for Honors Scholarship Fund.

A graduate of Titusville High School, Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Frazier and is majoring in elementary education.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Melanie Dobbs, 247 E. 17 St., Erie, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Melanie is the daughter of Rose M. Dobbs. She is a graduate of Villa Maria Academy and is a social work major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Cherrell Nicholson, 642 E. 8 St., Erie, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Cherrell is the daughter of Jeanette Thames. She is a graduate of Technical Memorial High School and a speech and communication studies major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Michelle DuShole, 343 Bonnie Brae, Erie, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Michelle is the daughter of Charles and Mary DuShole. She is a graduate of Harbor Creek High School and an elementary education major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 22, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that John M. Sivak, 3116 Broadlawn Dr., Erie, was recently named the recipient of an Alumni Departmental/Nursing Scholarship.

The Alumni Association of Edinboro University provides three annual departmental awards to students majoring in art, business administration/accounting, and nursing. The recipient must have completed a minimum of thirty-two credit hours and must have a quality point average of 3.20 or greater. This award is renewable for up to three years provided the recipient maintains a 3.20 or greater quality point average.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sivak. He is a graduate of Central High School, and a nursing major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 3, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES HONORS SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Laurent Couquiaud, 5 Mountainview Terrace, Rensselaer, N.Y., has been selected as the recipient of an Upperclass Honors Scholarship.

Annual awards are made available to upperclass honors students who have a cumulative quality point average of 3.50 or greater and have earned honors credits. In addition, eligible applicants must have honors credits in progress and the overall quality of the applicant's academic work will be considered. Financial need is not a factor. Funds for these scholarships are provided by the Dollars for Honors Scholarship Fund.

Laurent is a graduate of Lycee Polyvalent Miscte in Lagny, France. His American hosts are Mary and Newell Eaton. He is majoring in philosophy at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 24, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that J. LaVonne Miller, RD 4, Corry, was recently named the recipient of a Russell M. Wood Accounting Scholarship renewal.

This scholarship provides an annual award to an incoming freshman accounting major who has exhibited high academic achievement in high school, who scored 1000 or greater on the SAT's and who graduated in the upper 2/5 of his/her graduating class. In addition, this award once given will be continued for a four year period if a QPA of 3.00 is maintained. It is in honor of Russell M. Wood. Financial need is a consideration.

J. LaVonne is the son of Leonard and Mary Edwards. He is a graduate of Corry Area High School and an accounting major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 24, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Ryan VanDusen, 116 Cherry St., Edinboro, was recently named the recipient of the Dr. Chester T. McNerney Scholarship.

This scholarship is presented annually to an undergraduate student who has provided outstanding service to Edinboro University through his/her membership in the Student Government Association. It is named in honor of the late Chester T. McNerney who served as president of Edinboro University from 1966 until his retirement in 1979. Funds for this award have been made available through contributions from the family and friends of Dr. McNerney.

Ryan is the son of Carl VanDusen and Pam VanDusen. He is a graduate of Linesville High School and a history major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Talana Ford, 623 Princeton Blvd., Pittsburgh, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Talana is the daughter of Richard Ford and Sandra Ford. She is a graduate of the Wilkesburg Junior/Senior High School and is an accounting major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Monica E. Robinson, 361 Highland Rd., Pittsburgh, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Monica is the daughter of Audrey E. Robinson and Charles A. Robinson. She is a graduate of the School District of Penn Hills and is a nuclear technology major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that April Watkins, 1216 Belmont St., Pittsburgh, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

April is the daughter of Barbara Watkins. She is a graduate of Schenley High School and is a secondary education/English major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Mrryce J. Smith, 208 Todd St., Aliquippa, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Mrryce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther W. Smith. He is a graduate of Aliquippa High School and is an elementary education major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Kisha White, 605 N. Euclid Ave., Pittsburgh, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Kisha is the daughter of Debbie Jackson. She is a graduate of Schenley High School and is a nursing major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Imani L. Boyd, 122 West McIntyre Ave., Pittsburgh, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Imani is the daughter of Joyce M. Boyd. She is a graduate of Perry Traditional Academy and is a nursing major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Alynka-Shae Otey, 197 Orchard St., Sharon, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Alynka-Shae is the daughter of Vanessa D. Otey. She is a graduate of Sharon Senior High School and is a political science major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Stacey E. Alexander, 206 Princeton Dr., Aliquippa, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Stacey is the daughter of Malvis and Brenda Alexander. She is a graduate of Center High School and is an elementary education/early childhood major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Michele Lee Diaz, 65 Atlantic Ave., DuBois, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Michele is the daughter of Diana and Melvin L. Diaz. She is a graduate of DuBois Area High School and is a psychology major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Handrick Retamar, 1613 Eshelman Mill Rd., Willow Street, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Handrick is the daughter of Lourdes Padilla. She is a graduate of J. P. McCaskey High School and is an accounting major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Grady C. Ford, 1902 McClure St., Homestead, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Grady is the son of Barbara A. Ford. He is a graduate of Steel Valley High School and is a psychology major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Yvette L. Robinson, 7214 Lemington Ave., Pittsburgh, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Yvette is the daughter of Bonita Y. Robinson. She is a graduate of George Westinghouse High School and is an industrial biochemistry major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Anita DeBoe, 631 East 9th St., Erie, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Anita is the daughter of Ellis and JoAnn DeBoe. She is a graduate of Villa Maria High School and is a nursing major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Marlene Jones, 911 Fruit Ave., Farrell, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Marlene is the daughter of Doris Fryson. She is a graduate of Farrell Area High School and is an accounting major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Dana M. Washington, 324 Liberty St., McDonald, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Dana is the son of Robert A. Washington, Sr., and Sandra J. Washington. He is a graduate of Fort Cherry High School and is a business administration major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Carlos Rocha, 5680 Main St., Lakeville, N.Y., was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Carlos is the son of Ramon and Doris Rocha. He is a graduate of Livonia High School and is a criminal justice major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Valerie Macedo, 1052 Township Line Rd., Phoenixville, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Valerie is the daughter of Joyce and John Macedo. She is a graduate of Phoenixville Area High School and is an applied media arts major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Troy Brown, 430 Wheeler Blvd., Oxford, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Troy is the son of Debby Brown. He is a graduate of Oxford Area High School and is a health and physical education major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bj

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Kara Horn, 830 Park Place, Williamsport, was recently named the recipient of a Board of Governors Scholarship.

The Board of Governors Scholarship is offered annually to students who have exhibited academic promise and who plan to be enrolled full time (12 credits or greater) during the term of the award. It has a maximum value of the cost of tuition.

Kara is the daughter of Karen and Dennis Horn. She is a graduate of Williamsport Area High School and is a speech and communication studies major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjja

Tricia Hites, Julie Moran, Megan Zewe, Kayla Hites and Ross Grieshaber experiment with soap bubbles as part of the fun with chemistry class at Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's Kids Academy at Porreco (KAP). Children in grades kindergarten through 9th participated in the first-time program which offered mini courses in puppetry, manners, storytelling, acting, computers, creative movement and dance and others. KAP was held in two one-week sessions at Edinboro's Porreco Extension Center Campus in Millcreek. The highly successful program will be held again next year and may be expanded to three weeks to meet the demand. For information on next year's program, call Edinboro's Institute for Research and Community Services, 732-2671.

Tricia Hites, Julie Moran, Megan Zewe, Kayla Hites and Ross Grieshaber experiment with soap bubbles as part of the fun with chemistry class at Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's Kids Academy at Porreco (KAP). Children in grades kindergarten through 9th participated in the first-time program which offered mini courses in puppetry, manners, storytelling, acting, computers, creative movement and dance and others. KAP was held in two one-week sessions at Edinboro's Porreco Extension Center Campus in Millcreek. The highly successful program will be held again next year and may be expanded to three weeks to meet the demand. For information on next year's program, call Edinboro's Institute for Research and Community Services, 732-2671.

Cutline:

Creative Movement & Dance

Tricia Hites, Julie Moran, Megan Zewe, Kayla Hites and Ross Grieshaber experiment with soap bubbles as part of the fun with chemistry class at Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's Kids Academy at Porreco (KAP). Children in grades Kindergarten through 9th participated in the first-time program which offered mini courses in puppetry, manners, storytelling, acting, computers, ~~native American archaeology~~ and others. KAP was held in two one-week sessions at Edinboro's Porreco Extension Center Campus in Millcreek. The highly successful program will be held again next year and may be expanded to three weeks to meet the demand for ~~KAP~~. For information on next year's program, call Edinboro's Institute for Research and Community Services, 732-2671.

ROUTE SHEET

TITLE KAP CAPTION DATE AUG. 24, 1995

- | | |
|---|---|
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Erie Sunday Times-News
 Rogersby

 <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Morning News

 <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Daily Times

 <input type="checkbox"/> SHOWCASE
 <input type="checkbox"/> Jim Booth, West County Bureau

 <input type="checkbox"/> All Locals
 <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Meadville Tribune
 <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Meadville Edition - Erie Times
 <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Independent-Enterprise
 <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Albion News
 <input type="checkbox"/> Andover Breeze Herald
 <input type="checkbox"/> Butler Eagle
 <input type="checkbox"/> Butler County News
 <input type="checkbox"/> Clarion News
 <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Corry Journal
 <input type="checkbox"/> Lake Shore Visitor
 <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Millcreek Sun
 <input type="checkbox"/> Franklin News Herald
 <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Cosmopolite Herald, Girard
 <input type="checkbox"/> Greenville Record-Argus
 <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> North East Breeze
 <input type="checkbox"/> Oil City Derrick
 <input type="checkbox"/> Sharon Herald
 <input type="checkbox"/> Titusville Herald
 <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Union City Times Leader
 <input type="checkbox"/> Warren Times Observer
 <input type="checkbox"/> Youngstown Vindicator
 <input type="checkbox"/> Pittsburgh Post Gazette
 <input type="checkbox"/> Harrisburg Patriot News
 <input type="checkbox"/> Associated Press
 <input type="checkbox"/> Northeastern Ohio
 <input type="checkbox"/> Southwestern New York
 <input type="checkbox"/> Allegheny County | _____ WJET-TV _____
 _____ WICU-TV _____
 _____ WSEE-TV _____
 _____ WQLN-TV _____
 _____ CTV-13, Meadville
 _____ WLKK Radio, Erie
 _____ WFLP Radio, Erie
 _____ STAR 104, Erie
 _____ WQLN-FM, Erie
 _____ WMGW/WZPR, Meadville
 _____ WJET-FM, Erie
 _____ WXKC/WRIE, Erie
 _____ WXTA, Erie
 _____ WRKT/WEHN, Erie
 _____ WREO, Ashtabula
 _____ WFSE Radio
 _____ Bob Wallace, ENN
 <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Spectator
 _____ Thought You'd Like to Know
 _____ Erie Arts Council
 _____ Meadville Council on the Arts
 _____ Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section
 _____ Chancellor's Office
 _____ President and Cabinet
 _____ Bill Reed
 _____ Andy Lawlor |
|---|---|

_____ AASCU Memo _____ Alumni News _____ PACU Academic Scene _____ Pennsylvania Education _____ Chronicle of Higher Education _____ Chronicle of Philanthropy	_____ Higher Ed & National Affairs _____ Higher Education Daily _____ Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed. _____ Higher Education Reporter _____ Penn World News
---	--

Mailed 8/31/95

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 29, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY STUDENTS COMMISSIONED BY U.S. ARMY

Two Edinboro University of Pennsylvania students were recently commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Army.

Recognized in the commissioning ceremony were Chad E. Kalka, 633 Arbor Lane, Pleasant Hills, Pa., who was commissioned in the U.S. Army Quarter Master Corps, and David M. Sokol, 418 Roosevelt Avenue, Nemaocolin, Pa., who was commissioned in the U.S. Army Ordnance Corps. Both officers graduated from Edinboro with a bachelor's degree in criminal justice.

The primary purpose of Edinboro University's ROTC program is to prepare university men and women to serve as commissioned officers in the United States Army. Students enrolled in the program receive instruction in the fundamentals of leadership with emphasis on self-discipline, integrity, confidence and responsibility. This enables the student to evaluate situations, make decisions, and develop those attributes considered essential to a leader in either the civilian or military environment.

-30-

psl

August 29, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY STUDENTS COMMISSIONED BY U.S. ARMY

Two Edinboro University of Pennsylvania students were recently commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Army.

Recognized in the commissioning ceremony were Chad E. Kalka, 633 Arbor Lane, Pleasant Hills, Pa., who was commissioned in the U.S. Army Quarter Master Corps, and David M. Sokol, 418 Roosevelt Avenue, Nemaocolin, Pa., who was commissioned in the U.S. Army Ordnance Corps. Both officers graduated from Edinboro with a bachelor's degree in criminal justice.

The primary purpose of Edinboro University's ROTC program is to prepare university men and women to serve as commissioned officers in the United States Army. Students enrolled in the program receive instruction in the fundamentals of leadership with emphasis on self-discipline, integrity, confidence and responsibility. This enables the student to evaluate situations, make decisions, and develop those attributes considered essential to a leader in either the civilian or military environment.

-30-

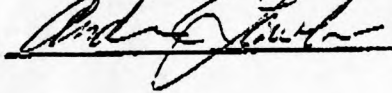

psl

PUBLIC RELATIONS REPORT

(This form implements Edinboro University policy #C014, "Publicity." For background, refer to that policy document.)

TO: Vice President for Administration and Institutional Advancement

SUBMITTED BY: CPT John K. Collison

APPROVED BY:  (signature of Vice President, Dean or Executive Assistant to the President)

DATE OF REPORT: August 4, 1995

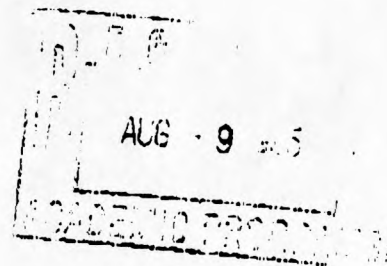

TITLE OF ACTIVITY, EVENT, ACHIEVEMENT: Commissioning

DATE (S) OF ACTIVITY, EVENT, ACHIEVEMENT: August 28, 1995

NARRATIVE DESCRIPTION: (Include information which answers the questions who, what, when, where, why and sometimes how.)

Chad E. Kalka, 197-66-0496
633 Arbor Lane
Pleasant Hills, PA 15236
Commissioned as 2LT in the U.S. Army Quarter Master Corps.
BA Criminal Justice

David M. Sokol, 302-64-9916
418 Roosevelt Avenue
Nemacolin, PA 15351
Commissioned as 2LT in the U.S. Army Ordnance Corps.
BA Criminal Justice

For More Information Contact: CPT John K. Collison (Phone) 2562

ROUTE SHEET

TITLE Students Commissioned by ROTC DATE 8-29-95

- | | |
|---|--|
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Erie Sunday Times-News
Thamblay _____ Erie Morning News _____ Erie Daily Times _____ SHOWCASE _____ Jim Booth, West County Bureau _____ All Locals <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Meadville Tribune _____ Meadville Edition - Erie Times <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Independent-Enterprise _____ Albion News _____ Andover Breeze Herald _____ Butler Eagle _____ Butler County News _____ Clarion News _____ Corry Journal _____ Lake Shore Visitor _____ Millcreek Sun _____ Franklin News Herald _____ Cosmopolite Herald, Girard _____ Greenville Record-Argus _____ North East Breeze _____ Oil City Derrick _____ Sharon Herald _____ Titusville Herald _____ Union City Times Leader _____ Warren Times Observer _____ Youngstown Vindicator _____ Pittsburgh Post Gazette _____ Harrisburg Patriot News _____ Associated Press _____ Northeastern Ohio _____ Southwestern New York _____ Allegheny County | _____ WJET-TV _____ WICU-TV _____ WSEE-TV _____ WQLN-TV _____ CTV-13, Meadville _____ WLKK Radio, Erie _____ WFLP Radio, Erie _____ STAR 104, Erie _____ WQLN-FM, Erie _____ WMGW/WZPR, Meadville _____ WJET-FM, Erie _____ WXKC/WRIE, Erie _____ WXTA, Erie _____ WRKT/WEHN, Erie _____ WREO, Ashtabula _____ WFSE Radio _____ Bob Wallace, ENN <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Spectator _____ Thought You'd Like to Know _____ Erie Arts Council _____ Meadville Council on the Arts _____ Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section _____ Chancellor's Office _____ President and Cabinet <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Bill Reed <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Andy Lawlor <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Hometowns |
|---|--|

_____ AASCU Memo	_____ Higher Ed & National Affairs
_____ Alumni News	_____ Higher Education Daily
_____ PACU Academic Scene	_____ Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed.
_____ Pennsylvania Education	_____ Higher Education Reporter
_____ Chronicle of Higher Education	_____ Penn World News
_____ Chronicle of Philanthropy

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 29, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY STUDENTS HONORED BY U.S. ARMY, ROTC

Four Edinboro University of Pennsylvania students were recently commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Army, while two students were awarded scholarships through the University's ROTC program.

Recognized in the commissioning ceremony were Danny M. Devereaux (Union City, Pa.) who was commissioned in the chemical corps division, Douglas W. Merritt (Venango, Pa.) who was commissioned in the infantry division, John C. Stich (Freedom, Pa.) who joined the army nurse corps division, and Douglas R. Watson (Evans City, Pa.) who was commissioned in the military intelligence division.

Two-year scholarships were awarded to Brooke L. Barton (Mill Village, Pa.), a sophomore nursing major, and Scott V. Mohnkern (Franklin, Pa.), a sophomore criminal justice major who must choose one of the two scholarships he was awarded through the ROTC program.

The primary purpose of Edinboro University's ROTC program is to prepare university men and women to serve as commissioned officers in the United States Army. Students enrolled in the program receive instruction in the fundamentals of leadership with emphasis on self-discipline, integrity, confidence and responsibility. This enables the student to evaluate situations, make decisions, and develop those attributes considered essential to a leader in either the civilian or military environment.

August 29, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY STUDENTS HONORED BY U.S. ARMY, ROTC

Four Edinboro University of Pennsylvania students were recently commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Army, while two students were awarded scholarships through the University's ROTC program.

Recognized in the commissioning ceremony were Danny M. Devereaux (Union City, Pa.) who was commissioned in the chemical corps division, Douglas W. Merritt (Venango, Pa.) who was commissioned in the infantry division, John C. Stich (Freedom, Pa.) who joined the army nurse corps division, and Douglas R. Watson (Evans City, Pa.) who was commissioned in the military intelligence division.

Two-year scholarships were awarded to Brooke L. Barton (Mill Village, Pa.), a sophomore nursing major, and Scott V. Mohnkern (Franklin, Pa.), a sophomore criminal justice major who must choose one of the two scholarships he was awarded through the ROTC program.

The primary purpose of Edinboro University's ROTC program is to prepare university men and women to serve as commissioned officers in the United States Army. Students enrolled in the program receive instruction in the fundamentals of leadership with emphasis on self-discipline, integrity, confidence and responsibility. This enables the student to evaluate situations, make decisions, and develop those attributes considered essential to a leader in either the civilian or military environment.

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Department of Military Science
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2562

MEMO TO: Patti Loomis,
Director of Publications

FROM: CPT John K. Collison, AKC
Officer in Charge

DATE: June 1, 1995

RE: Press Release

Lieutenant

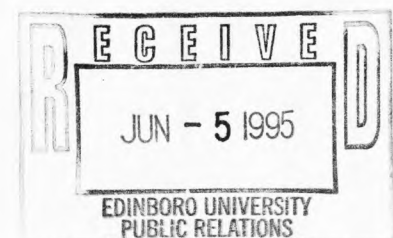

On May 14, 1995 four students graduated and were commissioned as 2LT's in the United States Army. Colonel (Ret) Jose Gonzales was the guest speaker. The ceremony was held in the University Center at 9:30 a.m. Their names and information are as follows:

X Danny M. Devereaux - BS Industrial BioChemistry
Commissioned as a 2LT in the Chemical Corps Division AKC
Hometown - Union City

X Douglas W. Merritt - BS Biology Pre-Vet
Commissioned as a 2LT in the Infantry Division
Hometown - ~~Cambridge Springs~~, Venango County

X John C. Stich - BS Nursing
X Commissioned as a 2LT in the Army Nurse Corps Division
X Hometown - Freedom, PA

X Douglas R. Watson - BS Criminal Justice
Commissioned as a 2LT in the Military Intelligence Division
Hometown - Evans City, PA Seneca Township

PAGE 2

Also we have two students who received scholarships with the ROTC program. One of the requirements of a student to receive a scholarship is a 2.5 Q.P.A. Their names and information are as follows:

27. Brooke L. Barton Soph. (YES) DUSTY # LLOYD BARTON
Major - Nursing
2 year - $2,000 Scholarship
Hometown - Mill Village
TIMES - LEADER

Soph. Scott V. Mohnkern n.p.
Major - Criminal Justice
2 year - $5,000 Scholarship
Hometown - Franklin, PA

We would like this information printed in their local newspapers and the Erie Times Newspaper.

If you have any questions contact me at 732-2562.

ROUTE SHEET

TITLE Students Honored/Commissioned DATE 8-29-95

- | | | | | | | | | | | | | | |
|--|---|-------------------------------------|---|--------------------------------------|---|--|--|---|--|--|--|--|--|
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Erie Sunday Times-News
Trambley <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Morning News <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Daily Times <input type="checkbox"/> SHOWCASE <input type="checkbox"/> Jim Booth, West County Bureau <input type="checkbox"/> All Locals <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Meadville Tribune <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Edition - Erie Times <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Independent-Enterprise <input type="checkbox"/> Albion News <input type="checkbox"/> Andover Breeze Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Butler Eagle <input type="checkbox"/> Butler County News <input type="checkbox"/> Clarion News <input type="checkbox"/> Corry Journal <input type="checkbox"/> Lake Shore Visitor <input type="checkbox"/> Millcreek Sun <input type="checkbox"/> Franklin News Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Cosmopolite Herald, Girard <input type="checkbox"/> Greenville Record-Argus <input type="checkbox"/> North East Breeze <input type="checkbox"/> Oil City Derrick <input type="checkbox"/> Sharon Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Titusville Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Union City Times Leader <input type="checkbox"/> Warren Times Observer <input type="checkbox"/> Youngstown Vindicator <input type="checkbox"/> Pittsburgh Post Gazette <input type="checkbox"/> Harrisburg Patriot News <input type="checkbox"/> Associated Press <input type="checkbox"/> Northeastern Ohio <input type="checkbox"/> Southwestern New York <input type="checkbox"/> Allegheny County | <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WICU-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WSEE-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-TV <input type="checkbox"/> CTV-13, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WLKK Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WFLP Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> STAR 104, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WMGW/WZPR, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXKC/WRIE, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXTA, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WRKT/WEHN, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WREO, Ashtabula <input type="checkbox"/> WFSE Radio <input type="checkbox"/> Bob Wallace, ENN <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Spectator <input type="checkbox"/> Thought You'd Like to Know <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Arts Council <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Council on the Arts <input type="checkbox"/> Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section <input type="checkbox"/> Chancellor's Office <input type="checkbox"/> President and Cabinet <input type="checkbox"/> Bill Reed <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Andy Lawlor Hometowns <table border="1" style="width: 100%; border-collapse: collapse;"> <tr> <td><input type="checkbox"/> AASCU Memo</td> <td><input type="checkbox"/> Higher Ed & National Affairs</td> </tr> <tr> <td><input type="checkbox"/> Alumni News</td> <td><input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Daily</td> </tr> <tr> <td><input type="checkbox"/> PACU Academic Scene</td> <td><input type="checkbox"/> Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed.</td> </tr> <tr> <td><input type="checkbox"/> Pennsylvania Education</td> <td><input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Reporter</td> </tr> <tr> <td><input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Higher Education</td> <td><input type="checkbox"/> Penn World News</td> </tr> <tr> <td><input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Philanthropy</td> <td></td> </tr> </table> | <input type="checkbox"/> AASCU Memo | <input type="checkbox"/> Higher Ed & National Affairs | <input type="checkbox"/> Alumni News | <input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Daily | <input type="checkbox"/> PACU Academic Scene | <input type="checkbox"/> Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed. | <input type="checkbox"/> Pennsylvania Education | <input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Reporter | <input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Higher Education | <input type="checkbox"/> Penn World News | <input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Philanthropy | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> AASCU Memo | <input type="checkbox"/> Higher Ed & National Affairs | | | | | | | | | | | | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Alumni News | <input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Daily | | | | | | | | | | | | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> PACU Academic Scene | <input type="checkbox"/> Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed. | | | | | | | | | | | | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Pennsylvania Education | <input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Reporter | | | | | | | | | | | | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Higher Education | <input type="checkbox"/> Penn World News | | | | | | | | | | | | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Philanthropy | | | | | | | | | | | | | |

August 29, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

8/31 NEWS CONFERENCE TO ANNOUNCE
NEW PROGRAM AT EDINBORO UNIVERSITY

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has joined forces with Preferred Insurance Educational Services (PIES) of Erie to provide training in the form of Continuing Education Units (CEUs) for insurance agents and brokers in northwestern Pennsylvania.

The arrangement will be announced during a joint news conference at Edinboro University's Porreco Extension Center in Erie (2951 West 38th St.), Thursday, August 31, 10:30 a.m., in Mary Porreco Hall, the Center's main building.

Senior Edinboro University officials will be joined by Robert Potalivo, president of PIES, and representatives from the state Insurance Dept., PNC Bank, Zurn Industries, and the Erie Area Chamber of Commerce to make the formal public announcement.

Trends emerging over the past several years are indicating that most professional occupations – doctors, nurses, attorneys, psychologists, pharmacists, accountants, and others – need additional training to stay current with changes in their fields. Many are getting that training through CEUs received from continuing education providers.

The insurance industry is no exception. Because of constant regulatory changes, insurance professionals have seen the need to stay abreast of developments through continuing education programs.

Edinboro University has seized the opportunity to work with PIES to provide the academic logistics leading to CEUs for the first two courses approved for presentation in the

-more-

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Both seminars will be offered at Edinboro's Porreco Extension Center through the University's Institute for Research and Community Services and Department of Continuing Education.

PIES, a non-profit organization for insurance agents, announced its formation at a news conference last week. The organization will help local insurance agents and brokers obtain the 24 hours of continuing education credits they need to retain their sales license. PIES operates in conjunction with the state Insurance Department and the Insurance Testing Corporation.

PIES estimates that as many as 3,000 individual insurance agents and brokers in northwestern Pennsylvania will need to receive the training, which is required by a new state law.

Media coverage of the news conference is invited.

-30-

WAR:bjja

DRAFT

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

MEDIA ADVISORY

8/31 NEWS CONFERENCE TO ANNOUNCE NEW PROGRAM AT EDINBORO UNIVERSITY

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has joined forces with Preferred Insurance Educational Services (PIES) of Erie to provide training in the form of Continuing Education Units (CEUs) for insurance agents and brokers in northwestern Pennsylvania.

The arrangement will be announced during a joint news conference at Edinboro University's Porreco Extension Center in Erie (2951 West 38th St.), Thursday, August 31, 10:30 a.m., in Mary Porreco Hall, the Center's main building.

Senior Edinboro University officials will be joined by Robert Potalivo, president of PIES, and representatives from the state Insurance Dept., PNC Bank, Zurn Industries, and the Erie Area Chamber of Commerce to make the formal public announcement.

Trends emerging over the past several years are indicating that most professional occupations -- doctors, nurses, attorneys, psychologists, pharmacists, accountants, and others -- need additional training to stay current with changes in their fields. Many are getting that training through CEUs received from continuing education providers.

The insurance industry is no exception. Because of constant regulatory changes, insurance professionals have seen the need to stay abreast of developments through continuing education programs.

Edinboro University has seized the opportunity to work with PIES to provide the academic logistics leading to CEUs for the first two courses approved for presentation in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Both seminars will be offered at Edinboro's Porreco Extension Center through the University's Institute for Research and Community Services and Department of Continuing Education.

-more-

DRAFT

-2-

PIES estimates that as many as 3,000 individual insurance agents and brokers in northwestern Pennsylvania will need to receive this training.

A release with additional details about the new program will be available at the news conference.

Media coverage is invited.

WAR/30

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

FAX to:

Provost (Elaine) 732-2449

Institute (Mary Lou) 732-2294

Porreco (Nancy) 833-0672

Done
8/23/95

FACSIMILE ROUTE SHEET

Title

Media Advisory - 8/31 PIES Event

Date

8/29/93

WICU-TV 12
FAX # 455-0703
Jim Roberts

WJET-TV 24 / WJET-FM 102
FAX # 864-1704
Marsha MacKinnon

WSEE-TV 35
FAX # 459-3500
Tom Lowell

WLKK Radio 1400
FAX # 456-0292

~~WJEL - Erie Times~~

____ WXKC
FAX # 868-1876
Dave Benson

____ WXTA
FAX # 864-4837
John Gallagher

____ STAR 104
FAX # 725-5401
Scott Stevens

____ WRKT
FAX # 725-5401

____ WFSE
FAX # 732-2427

____ President's Office
FAX # 732-2880

Dr. Fleischauer
FAX # 732-2449

Erie Times News
FAX # 870-1808

Pat Cuneo (Daily)
 Bill Welch (Morning)
 Bill Rogosky (Sunday Times)

____ Meadville Tribune
FAX # 724-8755
Ed Mailliard

____ Meadville Edition - Erie Times
FAX # 724-6397
Barb Burch

____ SSHE
FAX # (717) 720-4011
Scott Shewell

____ Harrisburg Patriot
FAX # (717) 255-8456
Kenn Marshall

Copies hand-carried to:

IRCS FAX # 732-2294
Mary Lou Adonizio

Porras Center FAX # 833-0672
Nancy Mihelovic

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 25, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

FORMER EDINBORO RESIDENTS VOLUNTEER OVERSEAS

Retirement for some people means having the freedom to travel when and where they want. For others, retirement means taking on little odd jobs to keep themselves busy. But for people like former Edinboro residents Pat and Elmer Barnes, retirement means travel and work – all in the name of helping other people in distant lands.

They are members of the International Executive Service Corps (IESC), a group of retired professionals employed by governments and industries outside the U.S. to help solve their economic problems.

Pat, a 1964 graduate of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania, is a former teacher and librarian in the General McLane School District. Elmer was a commercial artist for advertising agencies in Pittsburgh and Erie. In 1994 the IESC asked them to go to Poland twice to help companies make the adjustment from a closed, state-run economy to the international free-enterprise marketplace.

Their first assignment in April of 1994 was to Gliwice, Poland, where the company Bumar Labedy needed help in designing brochures and technical materials. The old heavy equipment factory that once had 10,000 workers making 10,000 tanks a year also produced cranes, backhoes and other construction equipment.

“They were making good products that could be sold on the world market,” said Elmer, “but their advertising was so poor. They wanted world-class brochures and advertising.”

In October of that year they were called to Poland again, this time to the town of Swidnik and an aircraft company called PZL Swidnik. In Poland, all aircraft plants were owned by the government and all had the same logo. There was no easy way to distinguish one from another. Barnes set out to change that.

-more-

"I had fun shaking things up," he said. "I asked them how does anybody know them from anyone else. They said that was the way government said to do it. I asked if they were bound by the government now, and they said no, they were on their own now. So I said we would design a new company logo and a new name. They were a little worried that the boss wouldn't like it, but I kept assuring them that he would, and he did."

In fact, the Poles had so much faith in Barnes that the president of the company told his people to "give Mr. Barnes whatever he needs. He is in charge."

Barnes said both companies made very good products, but they never had to promote themselves or advertise under the Communist government. All they had to do was build it and ship it out.

"They were totally engrossed in what I had to show them," said Elmer. "I would ask questions and try to get them involved. The one thing I tried to convince them is that advertising is basically selling the sizzle – not the steak. Because we had to use an interpreter to communicate, some things were lost in the translation. The interpreter turned and looked at me and asked, 'Elmer, what is sizzle?'"

While Elmer taught them advertising, Pat taught English. All of the students took American names for the English class, names such as Robert Redford and Murphy Brown.

PZL Swidnik sponsored a school for adults which had five levels of instruction. Their classes were from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. every day, and the students sat on cushions on the floor. Everyone was treated alike – from the controller to the lowest worker – everyone sat together, and they all were eager to learn.

"They were marvelous students and were very interested in how Americans live," said Pat. "On the last day of class they asked me questions such as how we would act if we were invited to someone else's house. I said we would probably ask if there was something we could bring. They said that is something they would never do. It would be insulting. When they invite someone to their homes the guest will get the very best that they can offer. If they have to sell something to give their guest a good dinner, they would do it."

Pat and Elmer praised IESC for its organization. When someone is assigned to a certain country, IESC does all the legwork to make sure everything goes well. It provides the passports, transportation and accommodations. The information packets are so complete that if one were to break a shoestring, one would know where to find a replacement.

They spent three months in Poland in 1994 and are looking forward to being asked by IESC to visit another country. Although they cannot request a particular destination, they can decline an invitation.

Anyone interested in volunteering for the IESC program may write the organization at International Executive Service Corps, P. O. Box 10005, Stamford, CT 06904-2005, or telephone (203) 967-2005.

-30-

BKP:bj

August 25, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

FORMER EDINBORO RESIDENTS VOLUNTEER OVERSEAS

Retirement for some people means having the freedom to travel when and where they want. For others, retirement means taking on little odd jobs to keep themselves busy. But for people like former Edinboro residents Pat and Elmer Barnes, retirement means travel and work – all in the name of helping other people in distant lands.

They are members of the International Executive Service Corps (IESC), a group of retired professionals employed by governments and industries outside the U.S. to help solve their economic problems.

Pat, a 1964 graduate of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania, is a former teacher and librarian in the General McLane School District. Elmer was a commercial artist for advertising agencies in Pittsburgh and Erie. In 1994 the IESC asked them to go to Poland twice to help companies make the adjustment from a closed, state-run economy to the international free-enterprise marketplace.

Their first assignment in April of 1994 was to Gliwice, Poland, where the company Bumar Labedy needed help in designing brochures and technical materials. The old heavy equipment factory that once had 10,000 workers making 10,000 tanks a year also produced cranes, backhoes and other construction equipment.

“They were making good products that could be sold on the world market,” said Elmer, “but their advertising was so poor. They wanted world-class brochures and advertising.”

In October of that year they were called to Poland again, this time to the town of Swidnik and an aircraft company called PZL Swidnik. In Poland, all aircraft plants were owned by the government and all had the same logo. There was no easy way to distinguish one from another. Barnes set out to change that.

-more-

“I had fun shaking things up,” he said. “I asked them how does anybody know them from anyone else. They said that was the way government said to do it. I asked if they were bound by the government now, and they said no, they were on their own now. So I said we would design a new company logo and a new name. They were a little worried that the boss wouldn’t like it, but I kept assuring them that he would, and he did.”

In fact, the Poles had so much faith in Barnes that the president of the company told his people to “give Mr. Barnes whatever he needs. He is in charge.”

Barnes said both companies made very good products, but they never had to promote themselves or advertise under the Communist government. All they had to do was build it and ship it out.

“They were totally engrossed in what I had to show them,” said Elmer. “I would ask questions and try to get them involved. The one thing I tried to convince them is that advertising is basically selling the sizzle – not the steak. Because we had to use an interpreter to communicate, some things were lost in the translation. The interpreter turned and looked at me and asked, ‘Elmer, what is sizzle?’”

While Elmer taught them advertising, Pat taught English. All of the students took American names for the English class, names such as Robert Redford and Murphy Brown.

PZL Swidnik sponsored a school for adults which had five levels of instruction. Their classes were from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. every day, and the students sat on cushions on the floor. Everyone was treated alike – from the controller to the lowest worker – everyone sat together, and they all were eager to learn.

“They were marvelous students and were very interested in how Americans live,” said Pat. “On the last day of class they asked me questions such as how we would act if we were invited to someone else’s house. I said we would probably ask if there was something we could bring. They said that is something they would never do. It would be insulting. When they invite someone to their homes the guest will get the very best that they can offer. If they have to sell something to give their guest a good dinner, they would do it.”

Pat and Elmer praised IESC for its organization. When someone is assigned to a certain country, IESC does all the legwork to make sure everything goes well. It provides the passports, transportation and accommodations. The information packets are so complete that if one were to break a shoestring, one would know where to find a replacement.

They spent three months in Poland in 1994 and are looking forward to being asked by IESC to visit another country. Although they cannot request a particular destination, they can decline an invitation.

Anyone interested in volunteering for the IESC program may write the organization at International Executive Service Corps, P. O. Box 10005, Stamford, CT 06904-2005, or telephone (203) 967-2005.

-30-

BKP:bjja

FORMER EDINBORO RESIDENTS VOLUNTEER OVERSEAS

Retirement for some people means having the freedom to travel when and where they want. For others, retirement means taking on little odd jobs to keep themselves busy. But for people like former Edinboro residents Pat and Elmer Barnes, retirement means travel and work – all in the name of helping other people in distant lands.

They are members of the International Executive Service Corps (IESC), a group of retired professionals employed by governments and industries outside the U.S. to help solve their economic problems.

Pat, a 1964 graduate of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania, is a former teacher and librarian in the General McLane School District. Elmer was a commercial artist for advertising agencies in Pittsburgh and Erie. In 1994 the IESC asked them to go to Poland twice to help companies make the adjustment from a closed, state-run economy to the international free-enterprise marketplace.

Their first assignment in April of 1994 was to Gliwice, Poland, where the company Bumar Labedy needed help in designing brochures and technical materials. The old heavy equipment factory that once had 10,000 workers making 10,000 tanks a year also produced cranes, backhoes and other construction equipment.

"They were making good products that could be sold on the world market," said Elmer, "but their advertising was so poor. They wanted world-class brochures and advertising."

In October of that year they were called to Poland again, this time to the town of Swidnik and an aircraft company called PZL Swidnik. In Poland, all aircraft plants were owned by the government and all had the same logo. There was no easy way to distinguish one from another. Barnes set out to change that.

"I had fun shaking things up," he said. "I asked them how does anybody know them from anyone else. They said that was the way government said to do it. I asked if they were bound by the government now, and they said no, they were on their own now. So I said we would design a new company logo and a new name. They were a little worried that the boss wouldn't like it, but I kept assuring them that he would, and he did."

In fact, the Poles had so much faith in Barnes that the president of the company told his people to "give Mr. Barnes whatever he needs, he is in charge."

Barnes said both companies made very good products, but they never had to promote themselves or advertise under the Communist government. All they had to do was build it and ship it out.

"They were totally engrossed in what I had to show them," said Elmer. "I would ask questions and try to get them involved. The one thing I tried to convince them is that advertising is basically selling the sizzle – not the steak. Because we had to use an interpreter to communicate, some things were lost in the translation. The interpreter turned and looked at me and asked, 'Elmer, what is sizzle?'"

While Elmer taught them advertising, Pat taught English. All of the students took American names for the English class, names such as Robert Redford and Murphy Brown.

PZL Swidnik sponsored a school for adults which had five levels of instruction. Their classes were ^{from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.} every day and the students sat on cushions on the floor. Everyone was treated alike – from the controller to the lowest worker – everyone sat together and they all were eager to learn.

"They were marvelous students and were very interested in how Americans live," said Pat. "On the last day of class they asked me questions such as how we would act if we were invited to someone else's house. I said we would probably ask if there was something we could bring. They said that is something they would never do. It would be insulting. When they invite someone to their homes the guest will get the very best that they can offer. If they have to sell something to give their guest a good dinner, they would do it."

Pat and Elmer praised IESC for its organization. When someone is assigned to a certain country, IESC does all the legwork to make sure everything goes well. It provides the passports, transportation and accommodations. The information packets are so complete that if one were to break a shoestring, one would know where to find a replacement.

They spent ~~some~~ three months in Poland in 1994 and are looking forward to being asked by IESC to visit another country. Although they cannot request a particular destination, they can decline an invitation.

Anyone interested in volunteering for the IESC program may write the organization at International Executive Service Corps, P.O. Box 10005, Stamford, CT 06904-2005, or telephone (203) 967-2005.

-30-

BKP

Cutline:

Former Edinboro residents Pat and Elmer Barnes are volunteers in the International Executive Service Corps, helping foreign governments and businesses solve their economic problems.

#63

18-MAY-1995 19:21:54.59

MAIL

(PARENTS OF SUE SANDERS)

FT. MEYERS, FL

I'LL GET MORE INFO IF YOU THINK IT'S A POSSIBLE STORY. I MET THEM BACK IN MARCH AND THEY MENTIONED THIS AS A POSSIBLE MAGAZINE ARTICLE. THEY BELONG TO A KIND OF RETIREE'S PEACE CORP AND HAVE BEEN TO POLAND TWICE WITH THAT PROGRAM. I ASKED THEM TO WRITE TO ME PROVIDING SOME OF THE DETAILS, BUT HAVEN'T HEARD FROM THEM. IT WOULD BE A DIFFERENT ANGLE AND OUR STORIES USUALLY FOCUS ON WHAT ALUMS ARE DOING CAREER-WISE, NOT RETIREE-WISE! LET ME KNOW, I'LL SEND THE ADDRESS/PHONE.

THAT'S IT FOR NOW!!!!

MAIL>

PATTI -

THIS HAS BEEN
READ AND APPROVED BY PAT & ELMER.

- B.P.

8-24-95

ROUTE SHEET

TITLE PAT & ELMER BARNES FEATURE DATE AUG 24, 1995

- | | |
|---|---|
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Erie Sunday Times-News
 Rogosky P <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Morning News <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Daily Times <input type="checkbox"/> SHOWCASE <input type="checkbox"/> Jim Booth, West County Bureau <input type="checkbox"/> All Locals <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Meadville Tribune P <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Edition - Erie Times <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Independent-Enterprise P <input type="checkbox"/> Albion News <input type="checkbox"/> Andover Breeze Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Butler Eagle <input type="checkbox"/> Butler County News <input type="checkbox"/> Clarion News <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Corry Journal <input type="checkbox"/> Lake Shore Visitor <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Millcreek Sun <input type="checkbox"/> Franklin News Herald <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Cosmopolite Herald, Girard ✓ <input type="checkbox"/> Greenville Record-Argus <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> North East Breeze t <input type="checkbox"/> Oil City Derrick <input type="checkbox"/> Sharon Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Titusville Herald <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Union City Times Leader P w <input type="checkbox"/> Warren Times Observer <input type="checkbox"/> Youngstown Vindicator <input type="checkbox"/> Pittsburgh Post Gazette <input type="checkbox"/> Harrisburg Patriot News <input type="checkbox"/> Associated Press <input type="checkbox"/> Northeastern Ohio <input type="checkbox"/> Southwestern New York <input type="checkbox"/> Allegheny County | <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WICU-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WSEE-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-TV <input type="checkbox"/> CTV-13, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WLKK Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WFLP Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> STAR 104, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WMGW/WZPR, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXKC/WRIE, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXTA, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WRKT/WEHN, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WREO, Ashtabula <input type="checkbox"/> WFSE Radio <input type="checkbox"/> Bob Wallace, ENN <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Spectator P <input type="checkbox"/> Thought You'd Like to Know <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Arts Council <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Council on the Arts <input type="checkbox"/> Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section <input type="checkbox"/> Chancellor's Office <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> President and Cabinet <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Bill Reed <input type="checkbox"/> Andy Lawlor |
|---|---|

- | | |
|--|---|
| <input type="checkbox"/> AASCU Memo | <input type="checkbox"/> Higher Ed & National Affairs |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Alumni News | <input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Daily |
| <input type="checkbox"/> PACU Academic Scene | <input type="checkbox"/> Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed. |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Pennsylvania Education | <input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Reporter |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Higher Education | <input type="checkbox"/> Penn World News |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Philanthropy | |

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY

O F P E N N S Y L V A N I A

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 25, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO HOSTS PENNSYLVANIA DAY OF PERCUSSION

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania played host to this year's celebration of the Pennsylvania Day of Percussion. The all-day event, sponsored by the Percussive Arts Society, attracted more than 75 percussionists from all over the state. Faculty from several colleges in Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York led an intensive program in all forms of the art including classical, rock, jazz and world percussion.

Edinboro percussion professor Dr. Cosmo (Gus) Barbaro said this is the third time Edinboro has hosted the event in 25 years.

Special guests included Buffalo's four-man percussion group Maelstrom; Larry Levine, who performed on a Latin drum set; the California group Bali and Beyond, which featured the gamelon, a bronze keyed instrument from Indonesia; Latin hand drummer Brian Malick; and Chester Thompson, the drummer for rock star Phil Collins.

Barbaro said the event included clinics, hands-on demonstrations, lectures on techniques, and group presentations. It was funded by a donation from Edinboro President Foster F. Diebold and a faculty professional development grant from the State System of Higher Education.

-30-

BKP:bj

August 25, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO HOSTS PENNSYLVANIA DAY OF PERCUSSION

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania played host to this year's celebration of the Pennsylvania Day of Percussion. The all-day event, sponsored by the Percussive Arts Society, attracted more than 75 percussionists from all over the state. Faculty from several colleges in Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York led an intensive program in all forms of the art including classical, rock, jazz and world percussion.

Edinboro percussion professor Dr. Cosmo (Gus) Barbaro said this is the third time Edinboro has hosted the event in 25 years.

Special guests included Buffalo's four-man percussion group Maelstrom; Larry Levine, who performed on a Latin drum set; the California group Bali and Beyond, which featured the gamelon, a bronze keyed instrument from Indonesia; Latin hand drummer Brian Malick; and Chester Thompson, the drummer for rock star Phil Collins.

Barbaro said the event included clinics, hands-on demonstrations, lectures on techniques, and group presentations. It was funded by a donation from Edinboro President Foster F. Diebold and a faculty professional development grant from the State System of Higher Education.

To: President Diebold

Sherri,

Please review the attached

Approved as is Approved with change

Not approved

Would you please get the president's approval on this.

Thanks!

Barb

*8/24/95
[Signature]*

Signature

Date

Please return to the Office of Public
Information and Publications.

HOSTS PENNSYLVANIA DAY OF PERCUSSION

Edinboro of Pennsylvania played host to this year's celebration of the Percussion. The all-day event, sponsored by the Percussive Arts Society, drew percussionists from all over the state. Faculty from several colleges in New York led an intensive program in all forms of the art including classical, rock, jazz and world percussion.

Edinboro percussion professor Dr. Cosmo (Gus) Barbaro said this is the third time Edinboro has hosted the event in 25 years.

Special guests included Buffalo's four-man percussion group Maelstrom; Larry Levine, who performed on a Latin drum set; the California group Bali and Beyond, which featured the gamelon, a bronze keyed instrument from Indonesia; Latin hand drummer Brian Malick; and Chester Thompson, the drummer for rock star Phil Collins.

Barbaro said the event included clinics, hands-on demonstrations, lectures on techniques, and group presentations. It was funded by a donation from Edinboro President Foster F. Diebold and a faculty professional development grant from the State System of Higher Education.

EDINBORO HOSTS PENNSYLVANIA DAY OF PERCUSSION

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania played host to this year's celebration of the Pennsylvania Day of Percussion. The all-day event, ~~which~~ sponsored by the Percussive Arts Society, attracted more than 75 percussionists from all over the state. Faculty from several colleges in Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York led an intensive program in all forms of the art including classical, rock, jazz and world percussion.

Edinboro percussion professor Dr. Cosmo (Gus) Barbaro said this is the third time Edinboro has hosted the event in 25 years.

Special guests included Buffalo's four-man percussion group Maelstrom; Larry Levine, who performed on a Latin drum set; the California group Bali and Beyond, which featured the gamelon, a bronze keyed instrument from Indonesia; Latin hand drummer Brian Malick; and Chester Thompson, the drummer for rock star Phil Collins.

Barbaro said the event included clinics, hands-on demonstrations, lectures on techniques, and group presentations. It was funded by a donation from Edinboro President Foster F. Diebold and a faculty professional development grant from the State System of Higher Education.

-30-

BKP

THIS HAS BEEN
READ & APPROVED
BY GUS BARBARO.
— BRIAN
8/17/95

ROUTE SHEET

TITLE PA DAY of PERCUSSION

DATE AUG 17 1995

- | | |
|---|---|
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Erie Sunday Times-News
Rogosky <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Morning News <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Daily Times <input type="checkbox"/> SHOWCASE <input type="checkbox"/> Jim Booth, West County Bureau <input type="checkbox"/> All Locals <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Meadville Tribune <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Edition - Erie Times <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Independent-Enterprise <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Albion News <input type="checkbox"/> Andover Breeze Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Butler Eagle <input type="checkbox"/> Butler County News <input type="checkbox"/> Clarion News <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Corry Journal <input type="checkbox"/> Lake Shore Visitor <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Millcreek Sun <input type="checkbox"/> Franklin News Herald <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Cosmopolite Herald, Girard <input type="checkbox"/> Greenville Record-Argus <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> North East Breeze <input type="checkbox"/> Oil City Derrick <input type="checkbox"/> Sharon Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Titusville Herald <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Union City Times Leader <input type="checkbox"/> Warren Times Observer <input type="checkbox"/> Youngstown Vindicator <input type="checkbox"/> Pittsburgh Post Gazette <input type="checkbox"/> Harrisburg Patriot News <input type="checkbox"/> Associated Press <input type="checkbox"/> Northeastern Ohio <input type="checkbox"/> Southwestern New York <input type="checkbox"/> Allegheny County | <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WICU-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WSEE-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-TV <input type="checkbox"/> CTV-13, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WLKK Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WFLP Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> STAR 104, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WMGW/WZPR, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXKC/WRIE, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXTA, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WRKT/WEHN, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WREO, Ashtabula <input type="checkbox"/> WFSE Radio <input type="checkbox"/> Bob Wallace, ENN <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Spectator <input type="checkbox"/> Thought You'd Like to Know <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Arts Council <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Council on the Arts <input type="checkbox"/> Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section <input type="checkbox"/> Chancellor's Office <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> President and Cabinet <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Bill Reed <input type="checkbox"/> Andy Lawlor |
|---|---|

<input type="checkbox"/> AASCU Memo	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Ed & National Affairs
<input type="checkbox"/> Alumni News	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Daily
<input type="checkbox"/> PACU Academic Scene	<input type="checkbox"/> Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed.
<input type="checkbox"/> Pennsylvania Education	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Reporter
<input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Higher Education	<input type="checkbox"/> Penn World News
<input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Philanthropy

August 24, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

POETRY READINGS HIGHLIGHT EDINBORO'S
NEW VISITING WRITERS SERIES

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania will present readings by four professional poets during the 1995-96 academic year for its new Visiting Writers Series.

Stanley Plumly, from the University of Maryland, will read Tuesday, October 10, at 7:30 p.m. University of California poet Heather McHugh will be at Edinboro on Wednesday, November 1, at 7:30 p.m. Joy Harjo, professor of English at the University of New Mexico, will speak Saturday, March 30, at 2 p.m. The inaugural series will conclude Sunday, April 21, at 3 p.m., with a presentation by Albert Goldbarth, a professor at Wichita State University. All four events will be held in the Reeder Lecture Hall.

The Series is funded by an Intra-system Project Grant from the State System of Higher Education. Edinboro English professor John Repp is co-directing the event with Dr. Philip Terman of Clarion University of Pennsylvania.

Repp said the poets are internationally recognized and all have won multiple awards for their writing. While on campus, they will read selections from their own work and will conduct writing workshops with Edinboro students.

The series is free and open to the public. For further information, contact professor John Repp at 732-2887.

-30-

BKP:bj

August 24, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

POETRY READINGS HIGHLIGHT EDINBORO'S
NEW VISITING WRITERS SERIES

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania will present readings by four professional poets during the 1995-96 academic year for its new Visiting Writers Series.

Stanley Plumly, from the University of Maryland, will read Tuesday, October 10, at 7:30 p.m. University of California poet Heather McHugh will be at Edinboro on Wednesday, November 1, at 7:30 p.m. Joy Harjo, professor of English at the University of New Mexico, will speak Saturday, March 30, at 2 p.m. The inaugural series will conclude Sunday, April 21, at 3 p.m., with a presentation by Albert Goldbarth, a professor at Wichita State University. All four events will be held in the Reeder Lecture Hall.

The Series is funded by an Intra-system Project Grant from the State System of Higher Education. Edinboro English professor John Repp is co-directing the event with Dr. Philip Terman of Clarion University of Pennsylvania.

Repp said the poets are internationally recognized and all have won multiple awards for their writing. While on campus, they will read selections from their own work and will conduct writing workshops with Edinboro students.

The series is free and open to the public. For further information, contact professor John Repp at 732-2887.

-30-

BKP:bjja

POETRY READINGS HIGHLIGHT EDINBORO'S NEW VISITING WRITERS SERIES

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania will present readings by four professional poets in during the academic year 1995-96 for its new Visiting Writers Series. Stanley Plumly, from the University of Maryland, will read Tuesday, October 10, at 7:30 p.m. University of California poet Heather McHugh will be at Edinboro Wednesday, November 1, at 7:30 p.m. Joy Harjo, professor of English at the the University of New Mexico, will speak Saturday, March 30 at 2 p.m. The inaugural series will conclude Sunday, April 21 at 3 p.m., with a presentation by Albert Goldbarth, a professor at Wichita State University. All four events will be held in the Reeder Lecture Hall.

The Series is funded by an ~~$8,000~~ Intra-system Project Grant from the State System of Higher Education. Edinboro English professor John Repp is co-directing the event with Dr. Philip Terman of Clarion University of Pennsylvania.

Repp said the poets are internationally recognized and all have won multiple awards for their writing. While on campus, they will read selections from their own work and will conduct writing workshops with Edinboro students.

The series is free and open to the public. For further information, contact professor John Repp at 732-2887.

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Department of English and Theatre Arts
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2736

8/17

Brian —

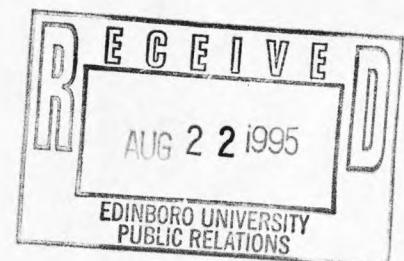

The release looks great. Thank you.

I have made a few editing suggestions
I hope you'll incorporate.

Thanks # again —

Yours,

John Repp

JOHN —
FOR YOUR APPROVAL
— BRIAN PITZER
X 2745

August 14, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

POETRY READINGS HIGHLIGHT EDINBORO'S
NEW VISITING WRITERS SERIES

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania will present readings by four professional poets in academic year 1995-96 for its new Visiting Writers Series. Stanley Plumly, from the University of Maryland, will read ~~his works~~ Tuesday, October 10, at 7:30 p.m. University of Washington poet Heather McHugh will be at Edinboro Wednesday, November 1, at 7:30 p.m. Joy Harjo, professor of English at ~~from~~ the University of New Mexico, will speak Saturday, March 30 at 2 p.m. The inaugural series will conclude Sunday, April 21 at 3 p.m., with a presentation by Albert Goldbarth, a professor at Wichita State University. All four events will be held in the Reeder Hall lecture hall.

The Series is funded by an $8,000 Intra^{system} Project Grant from the State System of Higher Education. Edinboro English professor John Repp is co-directing the event with Dr. Philip Terman of Clarion University of Pennsylvania.

Repp said the poets are internationally recognized and all have won multiple awards for their writings. While on campus, they will read selections from their own works and will conduct writing workshops with Edinboro students.

The series is free and open to the public. For further information, contact professor John Repp at 732-2887.

Tuesday, October 10, 1995, 7:30 p.m. : Stanley Plumly - UN. of Maryland, College Park.

Wednesday, November 1, 1995, 7:30 p.m. : Heather McHugh - U.C. BERKELEY.

Saturday, March 30, 1996, 2:00 p.m. : Joy Harjo - U of N.H.

Sunday, April 21, 1996, 3:00 p.m. : Albert Goldbarth - WITENIA STATE U.

PROF JOHN REAP - Ph.D.

REEDER LECTURE HALL

PROFESSIONAL POETS

THE VISITING WRITERS SERIES

DR. PHILIP TERMAN - ENG. CLERK

CO-WROTE GRANT

~~THE~~ INTRASYSTEM PROJ. GRANT. SSHE GRANT
$8,000

+ TRAVEL FUND

SELECTIONS FROM THEIR OWN POEMS.

BOOKS FOR SALE

RECEPTION TO FOLLOW.

READING SERIES HAS NEVER TAKEN PLACE LIKE THIS - FIRST READING SERIES

EACH WILL BE DOING WORKSHOPS W/ STUDENTS

45 MINUTES

FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

PUBLICISE TO COMMUNITY.

NEAREST READING SERIES IN ALLEGANY.

FAMILIAR WITH THEIR WORKS - IMPRESSED WITH.
ALL WON MULTIPLE AWARDS.

732-2887 - FOR FURTHER INFORMATION

MAIL TO WQED - RADIO

ROUTE SHEET

TITLE JOHN REPP/VISITING WRITERS SERIES DATE AUG 24, 1995

- | | |
|---|---|
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Erie Sunday Times-News
Rogosky <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Morning News <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Daily Times <input type="checkbox"/> SHOWCASE <input type="checkbox"/> Jim Booth, West County Bureau <input type="checkbox"/> All Locals <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Meadville Tribune <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Meadville Edition - Erie Times <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Independent-Enterprise <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Albion News <input type="checkbox"/> Andover Breeze Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Butler Eagle <input type="checkbox"/> Butler County News <input type="checkbox"/> Clarion News <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Corry Journal <input type="checkbox"/> Lake Shore Visitor <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Millcreek Sun <input type="checkbox"/> Franklin News Herald <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Cosmopolite Herald, Girard <input type="checkbox"/> Greenville Record-Argus <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> North East Breeze <input type="checkbox"/> Oil City Derrick <input type="checkbox"/> Sharon Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Titusville Herald <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Union City Times Leader <input type="checkbox"/> Warren Times Observer <input type="checkbox"/> Youngstown Vindicator <input type="checkbox"/> Pittsburgh Post Gazette <input type="checkbox"/> Harrisburg Patriot News <input type="checkbox"/> Associated Press <input type="checkbox"/> Northeastern Ohio <input type="checkbox"/> Southwestern New York <input type="checkbox"/> Allegheny County | <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WICU-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WSEE-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-TV <input type="checkbox"/> CTV-13, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WLKK Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WFLP Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> STAR 104, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WMGW/WZPR, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXKC/WRIE, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXTA, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WRKT/WEHN, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WREO, Ashtabula <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> WFSE Radio <input type="checkbox"/> Bob Wallace, ENN <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Spectator <input type="checkbox"/> Thought You'd Like to Know <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Arts Council <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Council on the Arts <input type="checkbox"/> Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section <input type="checkbox"/> Chancellor's Office <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> President and Cabinet <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Bill Reed <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Andy Lawlor |
|---|---|

<input type="checkbox"/> AASCU Memo	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Ed & National Affairs
<input type="checkbox"/> Alumni News	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Daily
<input type="checkbox"/> PACU Academic Scene	<input type="checkbox"/> Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed.
<input type="checkbox"/> Pennsylvania Education	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Reporter
<input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Higher Education	<input type="checkbox"/> Penn World News
<input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Philanthropy

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY'S ROGER SOLBERG
PRESENTS PAPER ON BABE RUTH MOVIES

Roger Solberg was among the dozens of baseball fans, writers, experts and former players who took part in a conference earlier this year dedicated to Babe Ruth. "Baseball and the Sultan of Swat," commemorating the 100th birthday of Babe Ruth, was held at Hofstra University. Solberg is an English professor at Edinboro University of Pennsylvania and an ardent film buff. He presented a paper on portrayals of Ruth in the 1948 movie, The Babe Ruth Story, starring William Bendix; and the 1992 movie, The Babe, starring John Goodman.

"I had no specific thesis in mind when I decided to attend the conference," said Solberg. "I just knew I wanted to write something on the two movies."

The conference was no dry academic exercise in baseball minutia. It was an all-out tribute to the Babe and the faded glory of the national pastime. It opened, appropriately, with the singing of the national anthem by opera great Robert Merrill and featured a greeting from Babe's daughter and grandson, Julia Ruth Stevens and Thomas A. Stevens. The long-time voice of the Yankees, Mel Allen, gave a keynote address, and the cast of the Broadway musical Damn Yankees sang Heart.

Nearly every topic imaginable related to the great Bambino was covered at the conference. Hall-of-famers Bob Feller, Harmon Killebrew and Robin Roberts led a general discussion on the Babe. Another panel featured Ron Blomberg, Ralph Branca, Ryne Duren, Clyde King, Enos "Country" Slaughter, and Roy White. Statistical experts explained Ruth's greatness. One session featured 30 poets reciting Babe Ruth poetry. Another discussed his influence on Canada, Japan and Latin America. Other topics included Babe Ruth and children, Babe Ruth in literature, and Babe Ruth and the Negro leagues.

-more-

Solberg's paper looked at how each movie presented three important moments in Ruth's life. "Neither movie did a good job," said Solberg. "The Babe Ruth Story was shamelessly maudlin. It portrayed Ruth as some sort of saint. I couldn't believe how bad it was. The movie was a complete disaster. The Goodman movie was the exact opposite. It tried to undo everything the previous movie had done. It showed Ruth as a carouser and a womanizer. It was a much better movie but had its share of inaccuracies."

Ironically, Solberg thinks the best movie about Ruth is the simply-titled Babe Ruth, a made for TV film broadcast by NBC in 1991. The conference screened the NBC movie as its concluding event. Its star, Stephen Lang, and producer and executive producer, Frank Pace and Lawrence A. Lyttle, were on hand for a discussion of the film. Lang also portrayed General George Pickett in the movie Gettysburg.

The conference attracted baseball writers and broadcasters like Dick Schaap, John Steadman, George Vecsey, Mel Allen, and former Yankee shortstop Phil Rizzuto, who is now a Yankee broadcaster. At the conference's banquet, Rizzuto presented the main address and received an honorary doctorate from Hofstra.

"It was a wonderful mix of baseball fans and serious scholars," Solberg said of the event. "It wasn't a stuffy conference. There were several hundred attendees."

The conference was slated to take place at about the same time Solberg was to become a father. "Someone said I would have to make a choice between the Babe and the baby," he said. Fortunately, David Solberg was born ten days early.

-30-

BKP:bj

August 23, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY'S ROGER SOLBERG
PRESENTS PAPER ON BABE RUTH MOVIES

Roger Solberg was among the dozens of baseball fans, writers, experts and former players who took part in a conference earlier this year dedicated to Babe Ruth. "Baseball and the Sultan of Swat," commemorating the 100th birthday of Babe Ruth, was held at Hofstra University. Solberg is an English professor at Edinboro University of Pennsylvania and an ardent film buff. He presented a paper on portrayals of Ruth in the 1948 movie, The Babe Ruth Story, starring William Bendix; and the 1992 movie, The Babe, starring John Goodman.

"I had no specific thesis in mind when I decided to attend the conference," said Solberg. "I just knew I wanted to write something on the two movies."

The conference was no dry academic exercise in baseball minutia. It was an all-out tribute to the Babe and the faded glory of the national pastime. It opened, appropriately, with the singing of the national anthem by opera great Robert Merrill and featured a greeting from Babe's daughter and grandson, Julia Ruth Stevens and Thomas A. Stevens. The long-time voice of the Yankees, Mel Allen, gave a keynote address, and the cast of the Broadway musical Damn Yankees sang Heart.

Nearly every topic imaginable related to the great Bambino was covered at the conference. Hall-of-famers Bob Feller, Harmon Killebrew and Robin Roberts led a general discussion on the Babe. Another panel featured Ron Blomberg, Ralph Branca, Ryne Duren, Clyde King, Enos "Country" Slaughter, and Roy White. Statistical experts explained Ruth's greatness. One session featured 30 poets reciting Babe Ruth poetry. Another discussed his influence on Canada, Japan and Latin America. Other topics included Babe Ruth and children, Babe Ruth in literature, and Babe Ruth and the Negro leagues.

-more-

Solberg's paper looked at how each movie presented three important moments in Ruth's life. "Neither movie did a good job," said Solberg. "The Babe Ruth Story was shamelessly maudlin. It portrayed Ruth as some sort of saint. I couldn't believe how bad it was. The movie was a complete disaster. The Goodman movie was the exact opposite. It tried to undo everything the previous movie had done. It showed Ruth as a carouser and a womanizer. It was a much better movie but had its share of inaccuracies."

Ironically, Solberg thinks the best movie about Ruth is the simply-titled Babe Ruth, a made for TV film broadcast by NBC in 1991. The conference screened the NBC movie as its concluding event. Its star, Stephen Lang, and producer and executive producer, Frank Pace and Lawrence A. Lyttle, were on hand for a discussion of the film. Lang also portrayed General George Pickett in the movie Gettysburg.

The conference attracted baseball writers and broadcasters like Dick Schaap, John Steadman, George Vecsey, Mel Allen, and former Yankee shortstop Phil Rizzuto, who is now a Yankee broadcaster. At the conference's banquet, Rizzuto presented the main address and received an honorary doctorate from Hofstra.

"It was a wonderful mix of baseball fans and serious scholars," Solberg said of the event. "It wasn't a stuffy conference. There were several hundred attendees."

The conference was slated to take place at about the same time Solberg was to become a father. "Someone said I would have to make a choice between the Babe and the baby," he said. Fortunately, David Solberg was born ten days early.

UNIVERSITY'S
EDINBORO ~~P~~ ROGER SOLBERG PRESENTS PAPER ^{on} AT BABE RUTH ^{Movies} CONFERENCE

Roger Solberg was among the dozens of baseball fans, writers, experts and former players who took part in a conference earlier this year dedicated to Babe Ruth. "Baseball and the Sultan of Swat," Commemorating the 100th Birthday of Babe Ruth, was held at Hofstra University. Solberg is an English professor at Edinboro University of Pennsylvania and an ardent film buff. He presented a paper on portrayals of Ruth in the 1948 movie, The Babe Ruth Story, starring William Bendix; and the 1992 movie, The Babe, starring John Goodman.

"I had no specific thesis in mind when I decided to attend the conference," said Solberg. "I just knew I wanted to write something on the two movies."

The conference was no dry academic exercise in baseball minutia. It was an all-out tribute to the Babe and the faded glory of the national pastime. It opened, appropriately, with the singing of the national anthem by opera great Robert Merrill and featured a greeting from Babe's daughter and grandson, Julia Ruth Stevens and Thomas A. Stevens. The long-time voice of the Yankees, Mel Allen, gave a keynote address, and the cast of the Broadway musical Damn Yankees sang Heart. - Ital.

Nearly every topic imaginable related to the great Bambino was covered at the conference. Hall-of-famers Bob Feller, Harmon Killebrew and Robin Roberts led a general discussion on the Babe. Another panel featured Ron Blomberg, Ralph Branca, Ryne Duren, Clyde King, Enos "Country" Slaughter, and Roy White. Statistical experts explained Ruth's greatness. One session featured 30 poets reciting Babe Ruth poetry. Another discussed his influence on Canada, Japan and Latin America. Other topics included Babe Ruth and Children, Babe Ruth in Literature, and Babe Ruth and the Negro Leagues.

Solberg found out about the conference while presenting a paper at another conference at Hofstra in November of 1993. He quickly drafted a one-page proposal and it was accepted.

Solberg's paper looked at how each movie presented three important moments in Ruth's life. "Neither movie did a good job," said Solberg. "The Babe Ruth Story was shamelessly maudlin. It portrayed Ruth as some sort of saint. I couldn't believe how bad it was. The movie was a complete disaster. The Goodman movie was the exact opposite. It tried to undo everything the previous movie had done. It showed Ruth as a carouser and a womanizer. It was a much better movie, but had its share of inaccuracies."

Ironically, Solberg thinks the best movie about Ruth is the simply-titled Babe Ruth, a made for TV film broadcast by NBC in 1991. The conference screened the NBC movie as its concluding event. Its star, Stephen Lang, and producer and executive producer, Frank Pace and Lawrence A Lyttle, were on hand for a discussion of the film. Lang also portrayed General George Pickett in the movie Gettysburg.

The conference attracted baseball writers and broadcasters like Dick Schaap, John Steadman, George Vecsey, Mel Allen, and former Yankee shortstop Phil Rizzuto, who is now a Yankee broadcaster. At the conference's banquet, Rizzuto presented the main address and received an honorary doctorate from Hofstra.

"It was a wonderful mix of baseball fans and serious scholars," Solberg said of the event. "It wasn't a stuffy conference. There were several hundred attendees."

The conference was slated to take place at about the same time Solberg was to become a father. "Someone said I would have to make a choice between the Babe and the baby," he said. Fortunately, David Solberg was born ten days early.

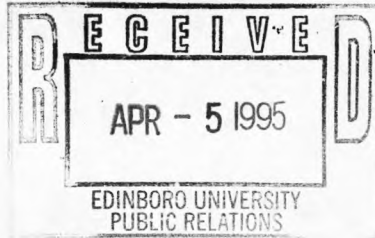

-30-

BKP

THIS HAS BEEN READ
& APPROVED BY ROGER SOLBERG.

BRIAN

8-17-95

Brian - Please pursue with Roger.
Good follow-up to his "Jeopardy!" appearance.

MAR 26 1995

may get start for Royals man's, raised $4,093. The popular winner of the 50-50 drawing was dedicated Team Erie member, Dr. Gertrude A. Barber. Dr. Barber was one of the first people to join the group of local baseball boosters when it formed in 1990.

Congratulations to Ron DiVecchio, Vic Rotunda, Betty Peebles, Ed Heinrich, and the rest of the membership for their excellent work.

■ ROGER SOLBERG, an Edinboro University faculty member in the English department, will get the thrill of a lifetime a month from now when he delivers a major address at "Baseball and the Sultan of Swat." It's a conference at Hofstra University in New York, celebrating Babe Ruth's 100th birthday.

Solberg joins an impressive gathering of baseball officials, former players, writers, broadcasters, and academic big shots, who'll also take part in the conference. A lifelong baseball fan, Roger will cover such subjects in his address as Ruth's called shot, Babe's swan song, and his ties to Hollywood.

Did I say this will be the thrill of his lifetime? That may be a slight exaggeration. Roger won a bundle of money on "Jeopardy" a couple years back.

His wife, the former Mary Benson, promises to hold off on delivering the couple's first child until Roger returns from the conference.

[Handwritten initials]
4/4

home#

ROUTE SHEET

TITLE ROGER SOUBERS DATE 8-17-95

- | | |
|--|--|
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Erie Sunday Times-News _____ Erie Morning News _____ Erie Daily Times _____ SHOWCASE _____ Jim Booth, West County Bureau _____ All Locals <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Meadville Tribune _____ Meadville Edition - Erie Times <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Independent-Enterprise <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Albion News _____ Andover Breeze Herald _____ Butler Eagle _____ Butler County News _____ Clarion News <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Corry Journal _____ Lake Shore Visitor <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Millcreek Sun _____ Franklin News Herald <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Cosmopolite Herald, Girard _____ Greenville Record-Argus <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> North East Breeze _____ Oil City Derrick _____ Sharon Herald _____ Titusville Herald <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Union City Times Leader _____ Warren Times Observer _____ Youngstown Vindicator _____ Pittsburgh Post Gazette _____ Harrisburg Patriot News _____ Associated Press _____ Northeastern Ohio _____ Southwestern New York _____ Allegheny County | _____ WJET-TV _____ WICU-TV _____ WSEE-TV _____ WQLN-TV _____ CTV-13, Meadville _____ WLKK Radio, Erie _____ WFLP Radio, Erie _____ STAR 104, Erie _____ WQLN-FM, Erie _____ WMGW/WZPR, Meadville _____ WJET-FM, Erie _____ WXKC/WRIE, Erie _____ WXTA, Erie _____ WRKT/WEHN, Erie _____ WREO, Ashtabula _____ WFSE Radio _____ Bob Wallace, ENN _____ Spectator _____ Thought You'd Like to Know _____ Erie Arts Council _____ Meadville Council on the Arts _____ Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section _____ Chancellor's Office <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> President and Cabinet <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Bill Reed <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Andy Lawlor |
|--|--|

- | | |
|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| _____ AASCU Memo | _____ Higher Ed & National Affairs |
| _____ Alumni News | _____ Higher Education Daily |
| _____ PACU Academic Scene | _____ Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed. |
| _____ Pennsylvania Education | _____ Higher Education Reporter |
| _____ Chronicle of Higher Education | _____ Penn World News |
| _____ Chronicle of Philanthropy | |

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY

O F P E N N S Y L V A N I A

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 22, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY TRUSTEES APPOINTED, REAPPOINTED

Governor Tom Ridge has appointed two new members to Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's Council of Trustees and reappointed four current trustees to additional terms, according to recent announcements by the Governor's office.

Named as Edinboro University's newest trustee was Benedict J. Miceli of Meadville, Pa. Miceli, who is co-owner of the John Miceli Produce Co. in Meadville, is also a charter member of Edinboro University's Board of Advisors, the group of community and regional leaders formed by President Foster F. Diebold during the 1980s as a forum for discussion and advice on matters of mutual interest to the University and the public. Miceli holds both bachelor's and master's degrees from Allegheny College and is active in volunteer and community service throughout Crawford County. Several years ago he established the John and Frances Miceli Scholarship Fund at Edinboro University in memory of his parents. Miceli's term as a trustee began in June and will extend until January 2001. He replaces retired state Sen. Robert J. Kusse of Warren, whose term had expired.

Also appointed to Edinboro's Council of Trustees was William C. Schulz of Edinboro and Cambridge Springs, Pa. Schulz is chairman of the House of Edinboro, a furniture manufacturer and interior design firm, and co-owner of the Riverside Golf Course in Cambridge Springs. Also a current member of the University President's Advisory Board, Schulz previously served as an Edinboro trustee from 1983 to 1991, including two terms as Council chairperson. A native of Buffalo, N.Y., Schulz serves as a director on several local and regional boards, including PNC Bank, the Edinboro PNC Bank Advisory Board, and the Hamot

-more-

A member of the State System of Higher Education

Foundation. He is a past chairman of the board of Hamot Health Systems and a past president of the General McLane School Board. He replaces Edith Benson, a Philadelphia area attorney, whose term on the Council expired.

Reappointed to another six-year term was Mrs. Susan Hirt Hagen. An Edinboro trustee since 1988, she chairs the trustee Committee on Administration and Institutional Advancement and has served as Council Secretary. Active in community and philanthropic affairs, she has served on the Executive Board of the United Way of Erie County, and on the boards of directors of the Erie Insurance Group Companies, the United Way of Pennsylvania, and the Pennsylvania Humanities Council. She has also served with the Erie Conference on Community Development, the Pa. Commission for Women, and the Women's Auxiliary of the Erie Philharmonic. In 1990, she was the recipient of the annual award of the Alexis de Tocqueville Society of Erie for her outstanding volunteer service. The award is the most prestigious honor awarded for volunteer service in the greater Erie area.

Also appointed to another term on the Council was C. Richard Johnston, chairman of the board of C & J Industries in Meadville. An Edinboro trustee since 1981, he was Council chairperson from 1991 to 1994, rising from the vice chair position he had held for one term. Johnston currently sits on two trustee committees, Academic Affairs and Financial Operations. His reappointment was effective May 2 and will continue until January 1999.

Harry K. Thomas, a 1963 Edinboro graduate and a trustee since 1990, was also reappointed to a continuing term. Thomas is a partner in the law firm of Knox Graham McLaughlin Gornall and Sennett, and is a past trustee representative to the Edinboro University Alumni Association Board of Directors. Graduated from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law with Juris Doctor degree in 1970, Thomas has served several terms as chair of the trustee Committee on Financial Operations, and is also a member of the Committee on Student Affairs.

Also appointed to an additional term was R. Benjamin Wiley, executive director of the Greater Erie Community Action Committee (GECAC). An Edinboro trustee since 1983 when Edinboro attained university status, Wiley was elected Council chairperson in 1994, having previously served as vice chair from 1991 to 1994. He also chairs the Committee on Academic Affairs and is a member of the Finance Committee. A civic leader in the Erie community for more than a quarter-century, awards and recognitions have been numerous for Wiley. He was one of 25 distinguished Pennsylvanians named to the Commission on African American Affairs by former Governor Robert Casey in 1992. Most recently, Wiley was nominated by Governor

Tom Ridge and confirmed by the state Senate to serve on the Board of Governors for the State System of Higher Education. The 20-member board oversees the planning and coordination of Pennsylvania's state-owned university system, setting broad fiscal, personnel and educational policies for the 14 State System universities, including Edinboro University of Pennsylvania.

Wiley also chairs the search committee for Edinboro University's next president. Foster F. Diebold, who has been president for the past 16 years, has announced that he will retire in the summer of 1996.

Trustees at Edinboro University and the 13 other public institutions in the State System of Higher Education are nominated and appointed to six-year terms of office by the Governor of the Commonwealth with the advice and consent of the state Senate. Officers of each university's Council of Trustees are elected by the local membership to terms of two years.

-30-

WAR:bj

INDEPENDENT-ENTERPRISE
NEWS

822
WFR

EDINBORO, PA
WEEKLY 6,350

OCT 1 1995

BURRELLE'S

105

ZK

ce

in high school, who scored 1,000 or greater on the SATs and who graduated in the upper 2/5 of his or her graduating class. The daughter of Hans and Susan Sass, Ellen is a graduate of General McLane High School.

TRUSTEES APPOINTED

Gov. Tom Ridge has appointed William C. Schulz of Edinboro and Cambridge Springs, and Benedict J. Miceli of Meadville to Edinboro University's Council of Trustees. Reappointed to additional terms on the council were Susan Hirt Hagen, C. Richard Johnston, Harry K. Thomas and R. Benjamin Wiley. 5

August 22, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY TRUSTEES APPOINTED, REAPPOINTED

Governor Tom Ridge has appointed two new members to Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's Council of Trustees and reappointed four current trustees to additional terms, according to recent announcements by the Governor's office.

Named as Edinboro University's newest trustee was Benedict J. Miceli of Meadville, Pa. Miceli, who is co-owner of the John Miceli Produce Co. in Meadville, is also a charter member of Edinboro University's Board of Advisors, the group of community and regional leaders formed by President Foster F. Diebold during the 1980s as a forum for discussion and advice on matters of mutual interest to the University and the public. Miceli holds both bachelor's and master's degrees from Allegheny College and is active in volunteer and community service throughout Crawford County. Several years ago he established the John and Frances Miceli Scholarship Fund at Edinboro University in memory of his parents. Miceli's term as a trustee began in June and will extend until January 2001. He replaces retired state Sen. Robert J. Kusse of Warren, whose term had expired.

Also appointed to Edinboro's Council of Trustees was William C. Schulz of Edinboro and Cambridge Springs, Pa. Schulz is chairman of the House of Edinboro, a furniture manufacturer and interior design firm, and co-owner of the Riverside Golf Course in Cambridge Springs. Also a current member of the University President's Advisory Board, Schulz previously served as an Edinboro trustee from 1983 to 1991, including two terms as Council chairperson. A native of Buffalo, N.Y., Schulz serves as a director on several local and regional boards, including PNC Bank, the Edinboro PNC Bank Advisory Board, and the Hamot

-more-

Foundation. He is a past chairman of the board of Hamot Health Systems and a past president of the General McLane School Board. He replaces Edith Benson, a Philadelphia area attorney, whose term on the Council expired.

Reappointed to another six-year term was Mrs. Susan Hirt Hagen. An Edinboro trustee since 1988, she chairs the trustee Committee on Administration and Institutional Advancement and has served as Council Secretary. Active in community and philanthropic affairs, she has served on the Executive Board of the United Way of Erie County, and on the boards of directors of the Erie Insurance Group Companies, the United Way of Pennsylvania, and the Pennsylvania Humanities Council. She has also served with the Erie Conference on Community Development, the Pa. Commission for Women, and the Women's Auxiliary of the Erie Philharmonic. In 1990, she was the recipient of the annual award of the Alexis de Tocqueville Society of Erie for her outstanding volunteer service. The award is the most prestigious honor awarded for volunteer service in the greater Erie area.

Also appointed to another term on the Council was C. Richard Johnston, chairman of the board of C & J Industries in Meadville. An Edinboro trustee since 1981, he was Council chairperson from 1991 to 1994, rising from the vice chair position he had held for one term. Johnston currently sits on two trustee committees, Academic Affairs and Financial Operations. His reappointment was effective May 2 and will continue until January 1999.

Harry K. Thomas, a 1963 Edinboro graduate and a trustee since 1990, was also reappointed to a continuing term. Thomas is a partner in the law firm of Knox Graham McLaughlin Gornall and Sennett, and is a past trustee representative to the Edinboro University Alumni Association Board of Directors. Graduated from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law with Juris Doctor degree in 1970, Thomas has served several terms as chair of the trustee Committee on Financial Operations, and is also a member of the Committee on Student Affairs.

Also appointed to an additional term was R. Benjamin Wiley, executive director of the Greater Erie Community Action Committee (GECAC). An Edinboro trustee since 1983 when Edinboro attained university status, Wiley was elected Council chairperson in 1994, having previously served as vice chair from 1991 to 1994. He also chairs the Committee on Academic Affairs and is a member of the Finance Committee. A civic leader in the Erie community for more than a quarter-century, awards and recognitions have been numerous for Wiley. He was one of 25 distinguished Pennsylvanians named to the Commission on African American Affairs by former Governor Robert Casey in 1992. Most recently, Wiley was nominated by Governor

Tom Ridge and confirmed by the state Senate to serve on the Board of Governors for the State System of Higher Education. The 20-member board oversees the planning and coordination of Pennsylvania's state-owned university system, setting broad fiscal, personnel and educational policies for the 14 State System universities, including Edinboro University of Pennsylvania.

Wiley also chairs the search committee for Edinboro University's next president. Foster F. Diebold, who has been president for the past 16 years, has announced that he will retire in the summer of 1996.

Trustees at Edinboro University and the 13 other public institutions in the State System of Higher Education are nominated and appointed to six-year terms of office by the Governor of the Commonwealth with the advice and consent of the state Senate. Officers of each university's Council of Trustees are elected by the local membership to terms of two years.

-30-

WAR:bj

DR

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY TRUSTEES APPOINT

Governor Tom Ridge has appointed of Pennsylvania's Council of Trustees to additional terms, according to office.

Named as Edinboro University's newest trustee was Benedict J. Miceli of Meadville, Pa. Miceli, who is co-owner of the John Miceli Produce Co. in Meadville, is also a charter member of Edinboro University's Board of Advisors, the group of community and regional leaders formed by President Foster F. Diebold during the 1980s as a forum for discussion and advice on matters of mutual interest to the University and the public. Miceli holds both bachelor's and master's degrees from Allegheny College and is active in volunteer and community service throughout Crawford County. Several years ago he established the John and Frances Miceli Scholarship Fund at Edinboro University in memory of his parents. Miceli's term as a trustee began in June and will extend until January 2001, He replaces retired state Sen. Robert J. Kusse of Warren, whose term had expired.

Also appointed to Edinboro's Council of Trustees was William C. Schulz of Edinboro and Cambridge Springs, Pa. Schulz is ~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ chairman of the House of Edinboro, a furniture manufacturer and interior design firm, and co-owner of the Riverside Golf Course in Cambridge Springs. Also a current member of the University President's Advisory Board, Schulz previously served as an Edinboro trustee from 1983 to 1991, including two terms as Council chairperson. A native of Buffalo, N.Y. Schulz serves as a director on several local and regional boards, including PNC Bank, the Edinboro PNC Bank Advisory Board, and the Hamot Foundation. He is a past chairman of the board of Hamot Health Systems and a past president of the General McLane School Board. He replaces Edith Benson, a

Sherri:

Since this news release concerns the Council of Trustees, I'd appreciate it if the President would look over the attached draft.

OK
JP
8/17/95

Philadelphia area attorney, whose term on the Council expired.

Reappointed to another six-year term was Mrs. Susan Hirt Hagen. An Edinboro trustee since 1988, she chairs the trustee Committee on Administration and Institutional Advancement and has served as Council Secretary. Active in community and philanthropic affairs, she has served on the Executive Board of the United Way of Erie County, and on the boards of directors of the Erie Insurance Group Companies, the United Way of Pennsylvania, and the Pennsylvania Humanities Council. She has also served with the Erie Conference on Community Development, the Pa. Commission for Women, and the Women's Auxiliary of the Erie Philharmonic. In 1990, she was the recipient of the annual award of the Alexis de Tocqueville Society of Erie for her outstanding volunteer service. The award is the most prestigious honor awarded for volunteer service in the greater Erie area.

Also appointed to another term on the Council was C. Richard Johnston, chairman of the board of C & J Industries in Meadville. An Edinboro trustee since 1981, he was Council chairperson from 1991 to 1994, rising from the vice chair position he had held for one term. Johnston currently sits on two trustee committees, Academic Affairs and Financial Operations. His reappointment was effective May 2 and will continue until January 1999.

Harry K. Thomas, a 1963 Edinboro graduate and a trustee since 1990, was also reappointed to a continuing term. Thomas is a partner in the law firm of Knox Graham McLaughlin Gornall and Sennett, and is a past trustee representative to the Edinboro University Alumni Association Board of Directors. Graduated from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law with Juris Doctor degree in 1970, Thomas has served several terms as chair of the trustee Committee on Financial Operations, and is also a member of the Committee on Student Affairs.

DRAFT

Also appointed to an additional term was R. Benjamin Wiley, executive director of the Greater Erie Community Action Committee (GECAC). An Edinboro trustee since 1983 when Edinboro attained university status, Wiley was elected Council chairperson in 1994, having previously served as vice chair from 1991 to 1994. He also chairs the Committee on Academic Affairs and is a member of the Finance Committee. A civic leader in the Erie community for more than a quarter-century, awards and recognitions have been numerous for Wiley. He was one of 25 distinguished Pennsylvanians named to the Commission on African American Affairs by former Governor Robert Casey in 1992. Most recently, Wiley was nominated by Governor Tom Ridge and confirmed by the state Senate to serve on the Board of Governors for the State System of Higher Education. The 20-member board oversees the planning and coordination of Pennsylvania's state-owned university system, setting broad fiscal, personnel and educational policies for the 14 State System universities, including Edinboro University of Pennsylvania.

Wiley also chairs the search committee for Edinboro University's next president. Foster F. Diebold, who has been president for the past 16 years, has announced that he will retire in the summer of 1996.

Trustees at Edinboro University and the 13 other public institutions in the State System of Higher Education are nominated and appointed to six-year terms of office by the Governor of the Commonwealth with the advice and consent of the state Senate. Officers of each university's Council of Trustees are elected by the local membership to terms of two years.

WAR/30

ROUTE SHEET

TITLE

Trustee Appointments, Reappointments

DATE

8/21/75

Rogersky

- Erie Sunday Times - News
- Erie Morning News
- Erie Daily Times
- SHOWCASE
- Jim Booth, West County Bureau
- All Locals
- Meadville Tribune
- Meadville Edition - Erie Times
- Independent-Enterprise
- Albion News
- Andover Breeze Herald
- Butler Eagle
- Butler County News
- Clarion News
- Corry Journal
- Lake Shore Visitor
- Millcreek Sun
- Franklin News Herald
- Cosmopolite Herald, Girard
- Greenville Record-Argus
- North East Breeze
- Oil City Derrick
- Sharon Herald
- Titusville Herald
- Union City Times Leader
- Warren Times Observer
- Youngstown Vindicator
- Pittsburgh Post Gazette
- Harrisburg Patriot News
- Associated Press
- Northeastern Ohio
- Southwestern New York
- Allegheny County
- WJET-TV
- WICU-TV
- WSEE-TV
- WQLN-TV
- CTV-13, Meadville
- WLKK Radio, Erie
- WFLP Radio, Erie
- STAR 104, Erie
- WQLN-FM, Erie
- WMGW/WZPR, Meadville
- WJET-FM, Erie
- WXKC/WRIE, Erie
- WXTA, Erie
- WRKT/WEHN, Erie
- WREO, Ashtabula
- WFSE Radio
- Bob Wallace, ENN
- Spectator
- Thought You'd Like to Know
- Erie Arts Council
- Meadville Council on the Arts
- Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section
- Chancellor's Office (Scott)
- President ~~_____~~
- Bill Reed x2
- Andy Lawlor
- Dr. Flinchauer*
- Emily Green*
- AASCU Memo
- Alumni News
- PACU Academic Scene
- Pennsylvania Education
- Chronicle of Higher Education
- Chronicle of Philanthropy
- Higher Ed & National Affairs
- Higher Education Daily
- Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed.
- Higher Education Reporter
- Penn World News

<input type="checkbox"/> AASCU Memo	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Ed & National Affairs
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Alumni News	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Daily
<input type="checkbox"/> PACU Academic Scene	<input type="checkbox"/> Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed.
<input type="checkbox"/> Pennsylvania Education	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Reporter
<input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Higher Education	<input type="checkbox"/> Penn World News
<input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Philanthropy

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 16, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY ANNOUNCES 1995-96 GALLERY EXHIBITS

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's Bruce Art Gallery will host seven art exhibitions during the 1995-96 academic year.

The first exhibition opens on Wednesday, September 6, at 7 p.m. "No Escaping Edges" presents the paintings and drawings of Eastern Illinois University artist-teacher Yu Ji. Prof. Ji is an exciting figurative painter who is deeply committed to the process of painting. His work centers on urban situations often located in places like New York City's Greenwich Village. His compositions are based on direct observations recorded in his sketch books. For Mr. Ji, figure/space relationships in his work become metaphors for human survival within confined places. His interest in his art is in the depiction of socially mixed figure groups, of street cultures and of social issues that exist in parallel with his aesthetic concerns. "No Escaping Edges" will be shown through Sept. 30.

"Contemporary Sculpture: Eight Points of View," which will be on display from Oct. 6 through Oct. 30, features the work of eight artists from the Philadelphia and New York areas of the east coast. The organizer of the show (and one of the exhibiting artists), Barry Parker, is the head of the sculpture department of the University of the Arts in Philadelphia and a former faculty member at Edinboro University. The show is designed to be very diverse in both style and sculptural process.

Bruce Gallery's third exhibition is a three-person show of prints and fabric paintings. "Texts and Textiles" opens on November 1 and concludes Dec. 2. The art of Kimberly Vito, Kristy Deetz, and Penny Sisto connects with work that is personal, intimate, autobiographical, and concerned with human experience.

-more-

Denise Burge's "Southern Landscapes of Memory," opening Dec. 6, is based on the artist's youthful Southern landscape – narrative art which uses space and light in a seductive way to suggest autobiographical meaning. A background in theater production adds to the content and composition of Burge's art.

"Earth and Landscape," a two-person show, is scheduled for Jan. 31 through Feb. 24, 1996. This exhibition combines photographic panoramic landscapes by artist Peter Taylor with the earthenware vessels and clay pieces of Kaname Takada whose work is meant to suggest the natural tension between order and chaos.

From Feb. 28 to March 30 Bruce Gallery will host "Selections," an exhibition of the best of area high school art.

The Gallery's last show is the Edinboro University Art Student Exhibition. This annual art show features both undergraduate and graduate student art in all media and styles. The exhibition dates are April 3 – May 4.

Bruce Gallery is located on the ground floor of Doucette Hall at Edinboro University. Hours are 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. on Wednesday evenings. For additional information, call 814-732-2513 or 2406.

-30-

PSL:bjja

August 16, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY ANNOUNCES 1995-96 GALLERY EXHIBITS

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's Bruce Art Gallery will host seven art exhibitions during the 1995-96 academic year.

The first exhibition opens on Wednesday, September 6, at 7 p.m. "No Escaping Edges" presents the paintings and drawings of Eastern Illinois University artist-teacher Yu Ji. Prof. Ji is an exciting figurative painter who is deeply committed to the process of painting. His work centers on urban situations often located in places like New York City's Greenwich Village. His compositions are based on direct observations recorded in his sketch books. For Mr. Ji, figure/space relationships in his work become metaphors for human survival within confined places. His interest in his art is in the depiction of socially mixed figure groups, of street cultures and of social issues that exist in parallel with his aesthetic concerns. "No Escaping Edges" will be shown through Sept. 30.

"Contemporary Sculpture: Eight Points of View," which will be on display from Oct. 6 through Oct. 30, features the work of eight artists from the Philadelphia and New York areas of the east coast. The organizer of the show (and one of the exhibiting artists), Barry Parker, is the head of the sculpture department of the University of the Arts in Philadelphia and a former faculty member at Edinboro University. The show is designed to be very diverse in both style and sculptural process.

Bruce Gallery's third exhibition is a three-person show of prints and fabric paintings. "Texts and Textiles" opens on November 1 and concludes Dec. 2. The art of Kimberly Vito, Kristy Deetz, and Penny Sisto connects with work that is personal, intimate, autobiographical, and concerned with human experience.

-more-

Denise Burge's "Southern Landscapes of Memory," opening Dec. 6, is based on the artist's youthful Southern landscape – narrative art which uses space and light in a seductive way to suggest autobiographical meaning. A background in theater production adds to the content and composition of Burge's art.

"Earth and Landscape," a two-person show, is scheduled for Jan. 31 through Feb. 24, 1996. This exhibition combines photographic panoramic landscapes by artist Peter Taylor with the earthenware vessels and clay pieces of Kaname Takada whose work is meant to suggest the natural tension between order and chaos.

From Feb. 28 to March 30 Bruce Gallery will host "Selections," an exhibition of the best of area high school art.

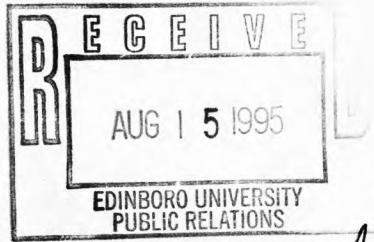

The Gallery's last show is the Edinboro University Art Student Exhibition. This annual art show features both undergraduate and graduate student art in all media and styles. The exhibition dates are April 3 – May 4.

Bruce Gallery is located on the ground floor of Doucette Hall at Edinboro University. Hours are 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. on Wednesday evenings. For additional information, call 814-732-2513 or 2406.

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Department of Art
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2406

August 15, 1995

For Immediate Press Release

Bruce Art Gallery 1995 - 1996 Exhibitions

*EU Announces
1995-96 Gallery Exhibitions*

Edinboro University ^{of Pennsylvania's} Bruce Art Gallery will host seven art exhibitions during the 1995-96 academic year.

The first exhibition opens on Wednesday ~~evening~~ on September 6, at 7 pm. "No Escaping Edges" presents the paintings and drawings of Eastern Illinois University artist-teacher Yu Ji. Prof. Ji is an exciting figurative painter who is deeply committed to the process of painting. His work centers on urban situations often located in places like New York City's Greenwich Village. His compositions are based on direct observations recorded in his sketch books. For Mr. Ji, figure/space relationships in his work become metaphors for human survival within confined places. His interest in his art is in the depiction of socially mixed figure groups, of street cultures and of social issues that exist in parallel with his aesthetic concerns. "No Escaping Edges" will be shown through Sept. 30.

"Contemporary Sculpture: Eight Points Of View", which will be on display from Oct. 6 through Oct. 30, features the work of eight artists ~~mostly~~ from the Philadelphia and New York areas of the east coast. The organizer of the show (and one of the exhibiting artists), Barry Parker, is the head of the sculpture department of the University of the Arts in Philadelphia and a former faculty member at Edinboro University. The show is designed to be very diverse in both style and sculptural process.

Bruce Gallery's third ~~fall~~ exhibition is a three ^{person} show of prints and fabric paintings. "Texts and Textiles" opens on November 1 and concludes Dec. 2. The art of Kimberly Vito, Kristy Deetz, and Penny Sisto connects with work that is personal, intimate, autobiographical, and concerned with human experience.

Denise Burge's "Southern Landscapes of Memory," opening Dec. 6, is based on the artist's youthful Southern landscape - narrative art which uses space and light in a seductive way to suggest autobiographical meaning. A background in theater production adds to the content and composition of Burge's art.

"Earth and Landscape," a two-person show, is scheduled for Jan. 31 through Feb. 24, 1996. This exhibition combines photographic panoramic landscapes by artist Peter Taylor with the earthenware vessels and clay pieces of Kaname Takada whose work is meant to suggest the natural tension between order and chaos.

From Feb. 28 to March 30 Bruce Gallery will host "Selections," an exhibition of the best of area High School art.

The Gallery's last show is the Edinboro University Art Student Exhibition. This annual art show features both undergraduate and graduate student art in all media and styles. The exhibition dates are April 3 - May 4.

Bruce Gallery is located on the ground floor of Doucette Hall at Edinboro University. ~~Exhibition~~ hours are 2:00 to 5:00 pm Monday through Saturday and ~~from~~ 7:00 to 9:00 pm on Wednesday evenings. For additional information, ~~please~~ call (814) 732-2513 or 2406.

Dr. William Cox
Director of Bruce Art Gallery

- 30 -

ROUTE SHEET

TITLE Bruce Galley DATE 8-16-95

- | | |
|---|--|
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Erie Sunday Times-News
Features <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Morning News <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Daily Times <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> SHOWCASE <input type="checkbox"/> Jim Booth, West County Bureau <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> All Locals <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Tribune <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Edition - Erie Times <input type="checkbox"/> Independent-Enterprise <input type="checkbox"/> Albion News <input type="checkbox"/> Andover Breeze Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Butler Eagle <input type="checkbox"/> Butler County News <input type="checkbox"/> Clarion News <input type="checkbox"/> Corry Journal <input type="checkbox"/> Lake Shore Visitor <input type="checkbox"/> Millcreek Sun <input type="checkbox"/> Franklin News Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Cosmopolite Herald, Girard <input type="checkbox"/> Greenville Record-Argus <input type="checkbox"/> North East Breeze <input type="checkbox"/> Oil City Derrick <input type="checkbox"/> Sharon Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Titusville Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Union City Times Leader <input type="checkbox"/> Warren Times Observer <input type="checkbox"/> Youngstown Vindicator <input type="checkbox"/> Pittsburgh Post Gazette <input type="checkbox"/> Harrisburg Patriot News <input type="checkbox"/> Associated Press <input type="checkbox"/> Northeastern Ohio <input type="checkbox"/> Southwestern New York <input type="checkbox"/> Allegheny County | <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WICU-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WSEE-TV <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> WQLN-TV <input type="checkbox"/> CTV-13, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WLKK Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WFLP Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> STAR 104, Erie <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> WQLN-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WMGW/WZPR, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXKC/WRIE, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXTA, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WRKT/WEHN, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WREO, Ashtabula <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> WFSE Radio <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Bob Wallace, ENN <input type="checkbox"/> Spectator <input type="checkbox"/> Thought You'd Like to Know <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Erie Arts Council <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Meadville Council on the Arts <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section <input type="checkbox"/> Chancellor's Office <input type="checkbox"/> President and Cabinet <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Bill Reed <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Andy Lawlor |
|---|--|

<input type="checkbox"/> AASCU Memo	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Ed & National Affairs
<input type="checkbox"/> Alumni News	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Daily
<input type="checkbox"/> PACU Academic Scene	<input type="checkbox"/> Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed.
<input type="checkbox"/> Pennsylvania Education	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Reporter
<input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Higher Education	<input type="checkbox"/> Penn World News
<input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Philanthropy

Remlee Draher, left, and Katie Rodak, both of Fairview, take part in a television production class during Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's Summer Academy. Nearly 400 students ages 9-16 took part in two one-week sessions at the University this summer. Classes included sculpture, drawing, photography, computers, archaeology, sailing, rocketry and many others.

Cutline:

Remlee Draher, left, and Katie Rodak, both of Fairview, take part in a television production class during Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's Summer Academy. Nearly 400 students ages 9-16 took part in two one-week sessions at the University this summer. Classes included sculpture, drawing, photography, computers, archaeology, sailing, rocketry and many others.

ROUTE SHEET

TITLE SUMMER ACADEMY OUTLINE DATE AUGUST 11, 1995

- | | |
|--|---|
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Erie Sunday Times-News / Rogosky (P) <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Morning News <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Daily Times <input type="checkbox"/> SHOWCASE <input type="checkbox"/> Jim Booth, West County Bureau <input type="checkbox"/> All Locals <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Tribune <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Edition - Erie Times <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Independent-Enterprise (P) a <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Albion News (P) j <input type="checkbox"/> Andover Breeze Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Butler Eagle <input type="checkbox"/> Butler County News <input type="checkbox"/> Clarion News <input type="checkbox"/> Corry Journal <input type="checkbox"/> Lake Shore Visitor <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Millcreek Sun (P) u <input type="checkbox"/> Franklin News Herald <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Cosmopolite Herald, Girard (P) v <input type="checkbox"/> Greenville Record-Argus <input type="checkbox"/> North East Breeze <input type="checkbox"/> Oil City Derrick <input type="checkbox"/> Sharon Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Titusville Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Union City Times Leader <input type="checkbox"/> Warren Times Observer <input type="checkbox"/> Youngstown Vindicator <input type="checkbox"/> Pittsburgh Post Gazette <input type="checkbox"/> Harrisburg Patriot News <input type="checkbox"/> Associated Press <input type="checkbox"/> Northeastern Ohio <input type="checkbox"/> Southwestern New York <input type="checkbox"/> Allegheny County | <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WICU-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WSEE-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-TV <input type="checkbox"/> CTV-13, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WLKK Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WFLP Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> STAR 104, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WMGW/WZPR, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXKC/WRIE, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXTA, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WRKT/WEHN, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WREO, Ashtabula <input type="checkbox"/> WFSE Radio <input type="checkbox"/> Bob Wallace, ENN <input type="checkbox"/> Spectator <input type="checkbox"/> Thought You'd Like to Know <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Arts Council <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Council on the Arts <input type="checkbox"/> Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section <input type="checkbox"/> Chancellor's Office <input type="checkbox"/> President and Cabinet <input type="checkbox"/> Bill Reed <input type="checkbox"/> Andy Lawlor |
|--|---|

<input type="checkbox"/> AASCU Memo	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Ed & National Affairs
<input type="checkbox"/> Alumni News	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Daily
<input type="checkbox"/> PACU Academic Scene	<input type="checkbox"/> Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed.
<input type="checkbox"/> Pennsylvania Education	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Reporter
<input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Higher Education	<input type="checkbox"/> Penn World News
<input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Philanthropy

Neg

0000000000

0000000000

0000000000

0000000000

Bob: Please do up a pretty caption and then send it to the Independent-Enterprise.

Progressive Enterprises, Inc.

"Your Incentive and Promotion Partner"

227 Hathaway St. E.

Girard, PA

814-774-5645

PEI

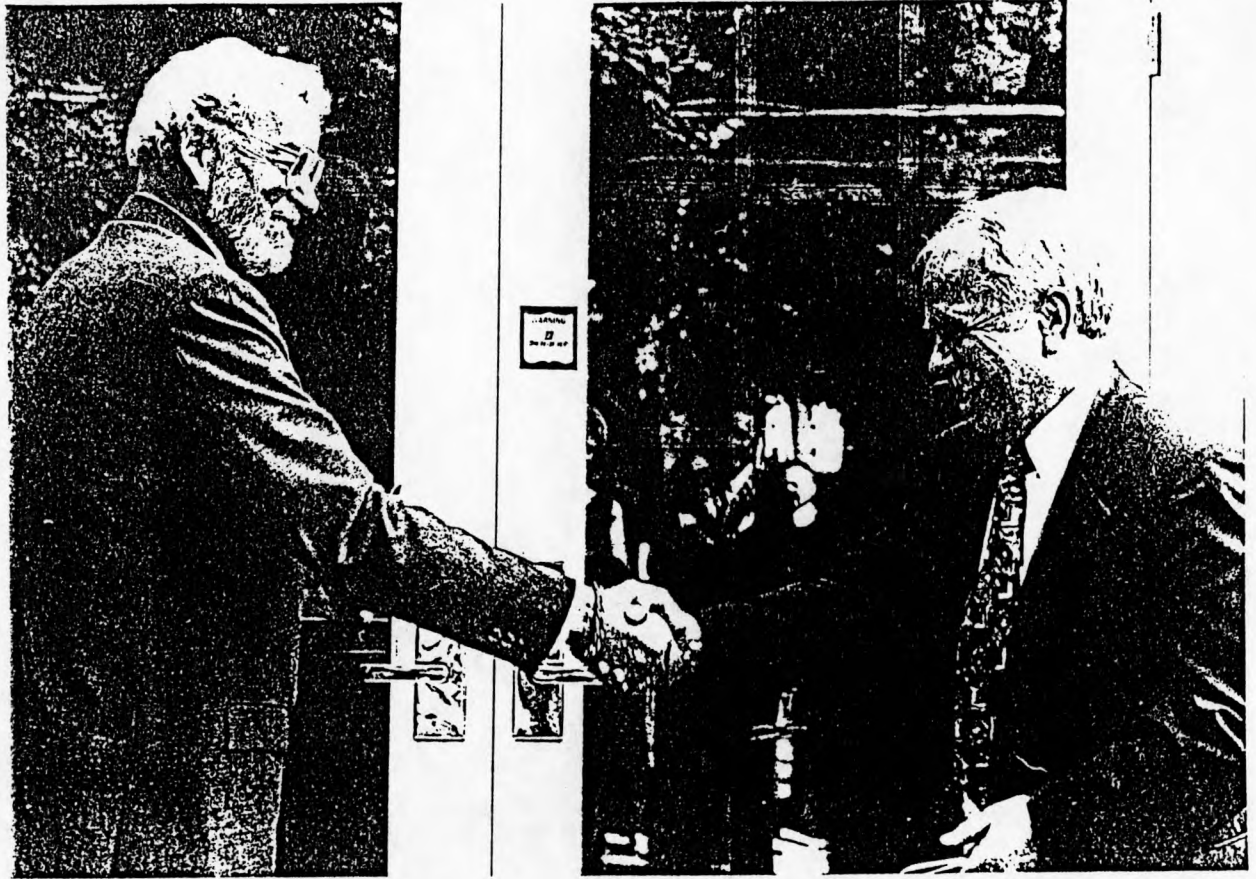

Thanks,

D.

Dore 8/10/95

Edinboro University President Foster F. Diebold (left) and outgoing Edinboro Alumni Association President David Sheneman officially dedicate and open the Edinboro University Alumni House – the new headquarters and home of the Alumni Association and the University’s Alumni Affairs Office – at the recent Alumni Reunion Weekend. The three-story, $350,000 structure was made possible by a gift of the land by Edinboro University Services, Inc. Located on Meadville Street in the Borough of Edinboro, the building holds office and work space for the Alumni Affairs Office, a board room for the Alumni Association, and a spacious multi-purpose sun room for meetings, receptions and other activities. “The role of our alumni is one of the most important at Edinboro University, and the new Alumni House will strengthen that role and enhance the visibility of the Alumni Association to the public,” said Diebold.

Edinboro University President Foster F. Diebold (left) and outgoing Edinboro Alumni Association President David Sheneman officially dedicate and open the Edinboro University Alumni House – the new headquarters and home of the Alumni Association and the University’s Alumni Affairs Office – at the recent Alumni Reunion Weekend. The three-story, $350,000 structure was made possible by a gift of the land by Edinboro University Services, Inc. Located on Meadville Street in the Borough of Edinboro, the building holds office and work space for the Alumni Affairs Office, a board room for the Alumni Association, and a spacious multi-purpose sun room for meetings, receptions and other activities. “The role of our alumni is one of the most important at Edinboro University, and the new Alumni House will strengthen that role and enhance the visibility of the Alumni Association to the public,” said Diebold.

(photo caption)

Edinboro University President Foster F. Diebold (left) and outgoing Edinboro Alumni Association President David Sheneman officially dedicate and open the Edinboro University Alumni House -- the new headquarters and home of the Alumni Association and the University's Alumni Affairs Office -- at the recent Alumni Reunion Weekend. The three-story, $350,000 structure was made possible by a gift of the land by Edinboro University Services, Inc. Located on Meadville Street in the Borough of Edinboro, the building holds office and work space for the Alumni Affairs Office, a board room for the Alumni Association, and a spacious multi-purpose sun room for meetings, receptions and other activities. "The role of our alumni is one of the most important at Edinboro University, and the new Alumni House will strengthen that role and enhance the visibility of the Alumni Association to the public," said Diebold.

WAR/30

Alumni House Dedication

GROUP SHEET

Noted ^{done} on 6/23/95
DATE 8/1/95

TITLE

(Re-issued as an extended caption)

- | | |
|--|--|
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Erie Sunday Times News | <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-TV |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Morning News | <input type="checkbox"/> WICU-TV |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Daily Times | <input type="checkbox"/> WSEE-TV |
| <input type="checkbox"/> SHOWCASE | <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-TV |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Jim Booth, West County Bureau | <input type="checkbox"/> CTV-13, Meadville |
| <input type="checkbox"/> All Locals | <input type="checkbox"/> WLKK Radio, Erie |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Tribune | <input type="checkbox"/> WFLP Radio, Erie |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Edition - Erie Times | <input type="checkbox"/> STAR 104, Erie |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Independent-Enterprise | <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-FM, Erie |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Albion News | <input type="checkbox"/> WMGW/WZPR, Meadville |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Andover Breeze Herald | <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-FM, Erie |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Butler Eagle | <input type="checkbox"/> WXKC/WRIE, Erie |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Butler County News | <input type="checkbox"/> WXTA, Erie |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Clarion News | <input type="checkbox"/> WRKT/WEHN, Erie |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Corry Journal | <input type="checkbox"/> WREO, Ashtabula |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Lake Shore Visitor | <input type="checkbox"/> WFSE Radio |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Millcreek Sun | <input type="checkbox"/> Bob Wallace, ENN |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Franklin News Herald | <input type="checkbox"/> Spectator |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Cosmopolite Herald, Girard | <input type="checkbox"/> Thought You'd Like to Know |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Greenville Record-Argus | <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Arts Council |
| <input type="checkbox"/> North East Breeze | <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Council on the Arts |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Oil City Derrick | <input type="checkbox"/> Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Sharon Herald | <input type="checkbox"/> Chancellor's Office |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Titusville Herald | <input type="checkbox"/> President and Cabinet |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Union City Times Leader | <input type="checkbox"/> Bill Reed |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Warren Times Observer | <input type="checkbox"/> Andy Lawlor |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Youngstown Vindicator | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Pittsburgh Post Gazette | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Harrisburg Patriot News | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Associated Press | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Northeastern Ohio | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Southwestern New York | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Allegheny County | |

Bill Raposky @

- | | |
|--|---|
| <input type="checkbox"/> AASCU Memo | <input type="checkbox"/> Higher Ed & National Affairs |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Alumni News | <input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Daily |
| <input type="checkbox"/> PACU Academic Scene | <input type="checkbox"/> Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed. |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Pennsylvania Education | <input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Reporter |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Higher Education | <input type="checkbox"/> Penn World News |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Philanthropy | |

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY

O F P E N N S Y L V A N I A

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 9, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY WINS ADVERTISING AWARD

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's current series of television advertisements was a winner of the Erie Advertising Club's 1995 Golden Rooster Award for "best TV campaign" in recent ceremonies marking the 25th anniversary of the Ad Club's awards program. Edinboro's Rooster was one of 37 first-place gold awards presented in various advertising, print publication, photography, graphic design, and other categories.

Edinboro's eight 30-second TV ads were produced by Drumheller Creative of Erie. Brad Drumheller, a 1977 Edinboro graduate and owner of Drumheller Creative, provided and coordinated pre- and post-production, graphics, production, music and narration. Drumheller's work garnered a second Golden Rooster for his agency.

"Our goal was to show a consistent, student-oriented image and message in each of the 30-second spots, an image and message both modern and upbeat, yet completely accurate in depicting campus life and student activities," said Bill Reed, Edinboro's assistant vice president for public information.

Reed said that each of the eight ads has a number and name – such as "soft," "mellow" and "happy" – which corresponds to the visual images and mood of the background music.

"Brad Drumheller had the music specially created for us," Reed said, "except for number four – named "pipes" – which features the Edinboro University marching band and bagpipes. Brad was able to capture that distinctive and symbolic sound from the 1994 Homecoming parade.

-more-

"The number and name system helps us place the ads with stations in Erie and across Pennsylvania. The softer music and images are a better fit with news and dramatic programming, while we save the hard rock spots for the Super Bowl and similar showcases," Reed said.

"The 1-800 Admissions Office phone number was added to four of the spots and run recently on network-affiliate stations in the Scranton/Wilkes-Barre market to interest and attract prospective students from that region in attending Edinboro University," said Reed.

Edinboro's previous series of TV commercials were recognized nationally in 1990 with a first-place gold medal award from a judging panel of advertising and marketing professionals convened by the publishers of Admissions Marketing Report newsletter.

-30-

WAR:bj

August 9, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY WINS ADVERTISING AWARD

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's current series of television advertisements was a winner of the Erie Advertising Club's 1995 Golden Rooster Award for "best TV campaign" in recent ceremonies marking the 25th anniversary of the Ad Club's awards program. Edinboro's Rooster was one of 37 first-place gold awards presented in various advertising, print publication, photography, graphic design, and other categories.

Edinboro's eight 30-second TV ads were produced by Drumheller Creative of Erie. Brad Drumheller, a 1977 Edinboro graduate and owner of Drumheller Creative, provided and coordinated pre- and post-production, graphics, production, music and narration. Drumheller's work garnered a second Golden Rooster for his agency.

"Our goal was to show a consistent, student-oriented image and message in each of the 30-second spots, an image and message both modern and upbeat, yet completely accurate in depicting campus life and student activities," said Bill Reed, Edinboro's assistant vice president for public information.

Reed said that each of the eight ads has a number and name – such as "soft," "mellow" and "happy" – which corresponds to the visual images and mood of the background music.

"Brad Drumheller had the music specially created for us," Reed said, "except for number four – named "pipes" – which features the Edinboro University marching band and bagpipes. Brad was able to capture that distinctive and symbolic sound from the 1994 Homecoming parade.

-more-

“The number and name system helps us place the ads with stations in Erie and across Pennsylvania. The softer music and images are a better fit with news and dramatic programming, while we save the hard rock spots for the Super Bowl and similar showcases,” Reed said.

“The 1-800 Admissions Office phone number was added to four of the spots and run recently on network-affiliate stations in the Scranton/Wilkes-Barre market to interest and attract prospective students from that region in attending Edinboro University,” said Reed.

Edinboro’s previous series of TV commercials were recognized nationally in 1990 with a first-place gold medal award from a judging panel of advertising and marketing professionals convened by the publishers of Admissions Marketing Report newsletter.

-30-

WAR:bja

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY WINS ADVERTISING AWARD

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's current series of television advertisements was a winner of the Erie Advertising Club's 1995 Golden Rooster Award for "best TV campaign" in recent ceremonies marking the 25th anniversary of the Ad Club's awards program. Edinboro's Rooster was one of 37 first-place gold awards presented in various advertising, print publication, photography, graphic design, and other categories.

Edinboro's eight 30-second TV ads were produced by Drumheller Creative of Erie. Brad Drumheller, a 1977 Edinboro graduate and owner of Drumheller Creative, provided and coordinated pre- and post-production, graphics, production, music and narration. Drumheller's work garnered a second Golden Rooster for his agency.

"Our goal was to show a consistent, student-oriented image and message in each of the 30-second spots, an image and message both modern and upbeat, yet completely accurate in depicting campus life and student activities," said Bill Reed, Edinboro's assistant vice president for public information.

Reed said that each of the eight ads has a number and name -- such as "soft," "mellow" and "happy" which correspond to the visual images and mood of the background music.

"Brad Drumheller had the music specially created for us," Reed said, "except for number four -- named "pipes" -- which features the Edinboro University marching band and bagpipes. Brad was able to capture that distinctive and symbolic sound from the 1994 Homecoming parade.

"The number and name system helps us place the ads with stations in Erie and across Pennsylvania. The softer music and images are a better fit with news and dramatic programming, while we save the hard rock spots for the Super Bowl and similar showcases," Reed said.

"The 1-800 Admissions Office phone number was added to four of the spots and run recently on network-affiliate stations in the Scranton/Wilkes-Barre market to interest and attract prospective students from that region in attending Edinboro University," said Reed.

Edinboro's previous series of TV commercials were recognized nationally in 1990 with a first-place gold medal award from a judging panel of advertising and marketing professionals convened by the publishers of Admissions Marketing Report newsletter.

WAR/30

ROUTE SHEET

TITLE Erie Ad Club Council DATE 8/8/95

- Erie Sunday Times News Logosky WJET-TV
- Erie Morning News WICU-TV
- Erie Daily Times Pat Cuneo WSEE-TV
- SHOWCASE WQLN-TV
- Jim Booth, West County Bureau CTV-13, Meadville
- ~~All Locals~~ WLKK Radio, Erie
- Meadville Tribune WFLP Radio, Erie
- Meadville Edition - Erie Times STAR 104, Erie
- Independent-Enterprise WQLN-FM, Erie
- Albion News WMGW/WZPR, Meadville
- Andover Breeze Herald WJET-FM, Erie
- Butler Eagle WXKC/WRIE, Erie
- Butler County News WXTA, Erie
- Clarion News WRKT/WEHN, Erie
- Corry Journal WREO, Ashtabula
- Lake Shore Visitor WFSE Radio
- Millcreek Sun Bob Wallace, ENN
- Franklin News Herald Spectator
- Cosmopolite Herald, Girard Thought You'd Like to Know
- Greenville Record-Argus Erie Arts Council
- North East Breeze Meadville Council on the Arts
- Oil City Derrick Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section
- Sharon Herald Chancellor's Office (Scott)
- Titusville Herald President ~~and Cabinet~~
- Union City Times Leader Bill Reed
- Warren Times Observer Andy Lawlor
- Youngstown Vindicator
- Pittsburgh Post Gazette
- Harrisburg Patriot News
- Associated Press
- Northeastern Ohio
- Southwestern New York
- Allegheny County

<input type="checkbox"/> AASCU Memo	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Ed & National Affairs
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Alumni News	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Daily
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> PACU Academic Scene	<input type="checkbox"/> Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed.
<input type="checkbox"/> Pennsylvania Education	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Reporter
<input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Higher Education	<input type="checkbox"/> Penn World News
<input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Philanthropy

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 7, 1995

MEDIA ADVISORY

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania is currently sponsoring "The World of Antiques and Collectibles," a week-long seminar required for Edinboro's Antiques Brokerage and Liquidation Certificate Program, from August 7-11, at the Edinboro Inn in Edinboro.

The program is the final segment of the University's three-part series designed to provide professional appraisers, advanced collectors, aspiring dealers, auctioneers and estate sale conductors with an intensive learning experience leading to professional certification.

Keynote speaker for the program is Dr. William Ketchum, author of more than 30 books on antiques and collectibles and considered by many to be America's top expert in the field. A widely-acclaimed lecturer, Ketchum is a consultant to Sotheby's and other leading auction houses, and a faculty member at New York University.

Ketchum will be available for interviews on Tuesday, August 8, from 1:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Edinboro Inn.

Media coverage is invited.

For more information, contact Beth Zewe at Edinboro University's Institute for Research and Community Services and Continuing Education, 732-2671 or 2672.

-30-

WAR:psl

August 7, 1995

MEDIA ADVISORY

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania is currently sponsoring "The World of Antiques and Collectibles," a week-long seminar required for Edinboro's Antiques Brokerage and Liquidation Certificate Program, from August 7-11, at the Edinboro Inn in Edinboro.

The program is the final segment of the University's three-part series designed to provide professional appraisers, advanced collectors, aspiring dealers, auctioneers and estate sale conductors with an intensive learning experience leading to professional certification.

Keynote speaker for the program is Dr. William Ketchum, author of more than 30 books on antiques and collectibles and considered by many to be America's top expert in the field. A widely-acclaimed lecturer, Ketchum is a consultant to Sotheby's and other leading auction houses, and a faculty member at New York University.

Ketchum will be available for interviews on Tuesday, August 8, from 1:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Edinboro Inn.

Media coverage is invited.

For more information, contact Beth Zewe at Edinboro University's Institute for Research and Community Services and Continuing Education, 732-2671 or 2672.

FACSIMILE ROUTE SHEET

Title Antigua Seminar - Top Sheet Date 2/7/95

WICJ-TV 12
FAX # 455-0703
Jim Roberts

WJET-TV 24 / WJET-FM 102
FAX # 864-1704
Marsha MacKinnon

WSEE-TV 35
FAX # 459-3500
Tom Lowell

WLKK Radio 1400
FAX # 456-0292
Vicki Snyder

WXKC
FAX # 868-1876
Dave Benson

WXTA
FAX # 864-4837
John Gallagher

STAR 104
FAX # 725-5401
Scott Stevens

WRKT
FAX # 725-5401

WFSE
FAX # 732-2427

President's Office
FAX # 732-2880

Dr. Fleischauer
FAX # 732-2449

Erie Times News
FAX # 870-1808
 ~~Pat Gurno~~ (Daily) FEATURES

Bill Welch (Morning)
 Bill Rogosky (Sunday Times)

Meadville Tribune
FAX # 724-8755
Ed Mailliard

Meadville Edition - Erie Times
FAX #724-6397
Barb Burch

SSHE
FAX # (717) 720-4011
Scott Shewell

Harrisburg Patriot
FAX # (717) 255-8456
Kenn Marshall

Copies ~~to~~ to:

Bill Reed (in box)

Institute
Beth Zure
732-2294

August 7, 1995

MEDIA ADVISORY

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania is currently sponsoring "The World of Antiques and Collectibles," a week-long seminar required for Edinboro's Antiques Brokerage and Liquidation Certificate Program, from August 7-11, at the Edinboro Inn, in Edinboro.

The program is the final segment of the University's three-part series designed to provide professional appraisers, advanced collectors, aspiring dealers, auctioneers and estate sale conductors with an intensive learning experience leading to professional certification.

Keynote speaker for the program is Dr. William Ketchum, author of more than 30 books on antiques and collectibles and considered by many to be the America's top expert in the field. A widely-acclaimed lecturer, Ketchum is a consultant to Sotheby's and other leading auction houses, and a faculty member at New York University.

Ketchum will be available for interviews on Tuesday, August 8, from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m., at the Edinboro Inn.

Media coverage is invited.

For more information, contact Beth Zewe at Edinboro University's Institute for Research and Community Services and Continuing Education, 732-2671 or 2672.

WAR/30

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY

O F P E N N S Y L V A N I A

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

TO: Mr. Jim Roberts
WICU-TV

FROM: Bill Reed
Assistant Vice President for Public Information

DATE: August 7, 1995

NO. OF PAGES: One

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

TO: Ms. Marsha MacKinnon
WJET-TV

FROM: Bill Reed
Assistant Vice President for Public Information

DATE: August 7, 1995

NO. OF PAGES: One

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

TO: Beth Zewe
Institute for Research and Community Services

FROM: Bill Reed
Assistant Vice President for Public Information

DATE: August 7, 1995

NO. OF PAGES: One

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY

O F P E N N S Y L V A N I A

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

TO: Mr. Tom Lowell
WSEE-TV

FROM: Bill Reed
Assistant Vice President for Public Information

DATE: August 7, 1995

NO. OF PAGES: One

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY

O F P E N N S Y L V A N I A

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

TO: Features Department
Times Publishing Co.

FROM: Bill Reed
Assistant Vice President for Public Information

DATE: August 7, 1995

NO. OF PAGES: One

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
O F P E N N S Y L V A N I A

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 7, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO SURVEY REVEALS HOT JOB PROSPECT AREAS

For some college graduates, obtaining a diploma is just one step in a sometimes long and frustrating process of finding a job in their chosen career field. But a survey by Edinboro University of Pennsylvania shows that for many of its graduates, the hardest part of landing a job is deciding which offer to take.

Edinboro conducted a survey of former students who graduated between August of 1992 and May of 1993 to determine which majors were most successful at finding a job or attending grad school. The top five categories – which had success rates of 90 percent or better – were for respondents who had majored in nutrition, nursing, special education, speech-language hearing disorders, and social work.

These careers are reflections of national trends reported by Money Magazine. In a listing of the 50 hottest careers in America – those expected to grow the most by the year 2005 – special education teachers were fourth, speech pathologists were eleventh, registered nurses were number 22, and social workers were number 25 on the list.

Dr. Denise Ohler, director of Edinboro's center for advising and career services, said the success of the Edinboro grads is due not only to choosing a career that is in demand, but also to their willingness to relocate, career or internship experience they may already have, and the amount of effort they put forth in their studies and in career research.

"One thing that these five majors have in common is that many of their professors bring their senior classes in here for counseling," said Ohler. "We maintain a career resource library which lists thousands of jobs. It's important for students to do their own research and discovery, because it is a skill most people will need to use all of their lives."

-more-

According to the survey, the highest placement rate at Edinboro belongs to the graduates of the nutrition program, which is actually a cooperative program among Edinboro, Gannon and Mercyhurst called the Pennsylvania Consortium. Professor Sally Lanz said the demand for nutritionists – especially those who are trained in more than one area – is very high. The U. S. Labor Bureau forecasts a 20-28 percent increase in the need for dietitians through the year 2005.

Employment opportunities for nutritionists fall into three categories: clinical dietetics, which involves medical and nutritional therapy; food services at such places as schools and universities, hospitals, restaurants, and food corporations; and community nutrition. Some jobs are available that combine expertise in two or all three of the categories.

Lanz said new graduates can find employment in a health-care setting in acute care, long-term care, rehabilitation, or mental health. Other opportunities are with government and community-based agencies such as the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program. Still other jobs are opening in food service for school districts, most of which do not have nutritionists. More and more businesses and health and recreation clubs are hiring them for wellness and physical fitness programs. Increasingly, dietitians are acting as consultants in private practice settings.

In addition to a very high placement rate, graduates of the Pennsylvania Consortium have a better than 90 percent passing rate for the national exam for becoming a licensed dietitian.

"Because the consortium involves three schools," said Lanz, "students have access to a lot of resources. This has helped earn national accreditation from the American Dietetic Association. Our program provides a good, broad comprehensive education that serves as a stepping stone to more specialized areas where our graduates can become board certified."

Two other Edinboro programs with high placement rates according to the survey are nursing (93 percent) and special education (92.5 percent). "There will be a terrible nursing shortage by the year 2000," said nursing department chairperson Mary Lou Keller. The aging of America will see increasing numbers of retirees, including nurses, who will require more medical care.

Currently, many hospitals are reducing their nursing staffs as part of cost cutting. However, with the changes brought on by increased managed health care, whatever jobs may be lost in hospitals will likely be more than made up for by community health care needs.

There is still an immediate need for nurses in the south and west in such states as Texas, Florida, Georgia, New Mexico and North Carolina. "Graduates who are willing to relocate will have no trouble finding a job," said Keller. "We have graduates working in Florida, Virginia and North Carolina."

One way Edinboro's nurses find these jobs is through the Pennsylvania Student Nurses Convention which is held in the fall, and the national convention held every spring. Recruiters from all over the nation come to the convention to make job offers to students once they graduate. In 1989 the nursing department did a survey of its recent graduates. Of those responding to the survey, 86 percent found jobs before graduation and another 9 percent were employed within a month of graduation.

Dr. Sondra Dastoli, chairperson of the department of special education and school psychology, said there has always been a demand for special education teachers, and an even greater demand is anticipated. She pointed to legislation and deteriorating social conditions as reasons for the continuing demand.

"In the 1960s, rubella led to medical and social problems," said Dastoli. "In the 1980s and 90s, the problems have been drug and alcohol addiction in mothers, unstructured homes, attention deficit disorder and hyperactivity. Also, the government has been recognizing more and more disabilities, which means serving more and more children."

Another trend is inclusion – the belief that every child has the right to education in the same classroom with his or her peers. This means special education services must be delivered to the child in the classroom, which is creating a need for qualified, trained individuals.

Dastoli said students who major in special education often have been inspired in some way – possibly by a family member, friend or neighbor with disabilities. By the time they graduate from Edinboro they have had months of in-person training through field experience and student teaching.

Hand-in-hand with the growth of demand for special education teachers has been the demand for trained speech language pathologists. Dr. Roy Shinn, coordinator of Edinboro's master's program said demand has expanded tremendously over the years.

The shortage of speech-language pathologists and audiologists began at about the same time the profession broadened its scope to include such things as assessment and management of individuals with swallowing disorders, individuals using sophisticated technology to communicate, and working with infants, toddlers and their families.

“Speech pathology affects all age groups,” said Shinn. “Eleven percent of the population has a communication disorder of some sort. Children may have a problem with language, speech, stuttering, voice, or temporary or permanent hearing loss. Adults may have a hearing loss, be recovering from a stroke or head injury, or rehabilitating following surgical removal of part or all of their ‘voice box’ due to cancer.”

Because the number of Americans over age 65 is expected to double in the next couple of decades, a dramatic increase in the number of adults with speech, hearing, language or other problems is also expected to increase.

The University’s master’s program was started by Dr. Richard Forcucci in the mid 1970s and was accredited by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association in 1992. Enrollment in the two-year master’s program is limited to only 30 graduate students.

“We have a 15-student per year limit in the graduate program,” said Shinn. “The number of students we can accept is tightly controlled because speech pathology is very one-on-one oriented.”

Graduates of the program score well above the national average on the national examination and are employed throughout the country. Every Edinboro graduate who responded to the survey is employed – virtually all had jobs before they graduated – and they can expect to make between $30,000 and $42,000 in their first job out of college. “Some employers specifically request Edinboro graduates because of their work ethic, knowledge base, and ability to put theory into practice,” said Shinn.

Trained speech-language pathologists are in such demand that some states are offering financial incentives to attract them. Delaware is going so far as to pay off tuition loan debt on a year-for-year basis up to $10,000. Virtually all 50 states have shortages in schools and hospitals.

The demand for Edinboro graduates with a bachelor’s degree in social work is also expected to be strong for some time. Edinboro graduates are especially sought after because of their extensive field experience prior to graduation. They have a 975-hour placement with a social service agency – twice the length of time of most other colleges – and they are expected to do volunteer work in their spare time. Many social service agencies have a preference for employees with a social work degree. A shortage of social workers with master's degrees is causing agencies to turn to those with bachelor's degrees. Regulations now require most nursing homes to have a social worker on staff.

Perhaps the greatest factor in increasing the demand for social workers is the trend toward deinstitutionalizing patients at agencies. An example of this is Warren State Hospital, which at one time had as many as 4,000 residents. Now it has only 400. The reason for downsizing is cost - approximately $85,000 a year per resident. States are taking the savings and giving patients intensive community services. That's where trained social workers come in. With some half-million social service agencies across the nation, the need for social workers is not likely to ease soon.

-30-

BKP:bj

August 7, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO SURVEY REVEALS HOT JOB PROSPECT AREAS

For some college graduates, obtaining a diploma is just one step in a sometimes long and frustrating process of finding a job in their chosen career field. But a survey by Edinboro University of Pennsylvania shows that for many of its graduates, the hardest part of landing a job is deciding which offer to take.

Edinboro conducted a survey of former students who graduated between August of 1992 and May of 1993 to determine which majors were most successful at finding a job or attending grad school. The top five categories – which had success rates of 90 percent or better – were for respondents who had majored in nutrition, nursing, special education, speech-language hearing disorders, and social work.

These careers are reflections of national trends reported by Money Magazine. In a listing of the 50 hottest careers in America – those expected to grow the most by the year 2005 – special education teachers were fourth, speech pathologists were eleventh, registered nurses were number 22, and social workers were number 25 on the list.

Dr. Denise Ohler, director of Edinboro's center for advising and career services, said the success of the Edinboro grads is due not only to choosing a career that is in demand, but also to their willingness to relocate, career or internship experience they may already have, and the amount of effort they put forth in their studies and in career research.

“One thing that these five majors have in common is that many of their professors bring their senior classes in here for counseling,” said Ohler. “We maintain a career resource library which lists thousands of jobs. It's important for students to do their own research and discovery, because it is a skill most people will need to use all of their lives."

-more-

According to the survey, the highest placement rate at Edinboro belongs to the graduates of the nutrition program, which is actually a cooperative program among Edinboro, Gannon and Mercyhurst called the Pennsylvania Consortium. Professor Sally Lanz said the demand for nutritionists – especially those who are trained in more than one area – is very high. The U. S. Labor Bureau forecasts a 20-28 percent increase in the need for dietitians through the year 2005.

Employment opportunities for nutritionists fall into three categories: clinical dietetics, which involves medical and nutritional therapy; food services at such places as schools and universities, hospitals, restaurants, and food corporations; and community nutrition. Some jobs are available that combine expertise in two or all three of the categories.

Lanz said new graduates can find employment in a health-care setting in acute care, long-term care, rehabilitation, or mental health. Other opportunities are with government and community-based agencies such as the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program. Still other jobs are opening in food service for school districts, most of which do not have nutritionists. More and more businesses and health and recreation clubs are hiring them for wellness and physical fitness programs. Increasingly, dietitians are acting as consultants in private practice settings.

In addition to a very high placement rate, graduates of the Pennsylvania Consortium have a better than 90 percent passing rate for the national exam for becoming a licensed dietitian.

"Because the consortium involves three schools," said Lanz, "students have access to a lot of resources. This has helped earn national accreditation from the American Dietetic Association. Our program provides a good, broad comprehensive education that serves as a stepping stone to more specialized areas where our graduates can become board certified."

Two other Edinboro programs with high placement rates according to the survey are nursing (93 percent) and special education (92.5 percent). "There will be a terrible nursing shortage by the year 2000," said nursing department chairperson Mary Lou Keller. The aging of America will see increasing numbers of retirees, including nurses, who will require more medical care.

Currently, many hospitals are reducing their nursing staffs as part of cost cutting. However, with the changes brought on by increased managed health care, whatever jobs may be lost in hospitals will likely be more than made up for by community health care needs.

There is still an immediate need for nurses in the south and west in such states as Texas, Florida, Georgia, New Mexico and North Carolina. "Graduates who are willing to relocate will have no trouble finding a job," said Keller. "We have graduates working in Florida, Virginia and North Carolina."

One way Edinboro's nurses find these jobs is through the Pennsylvania Student Nurses Convention which is held in the fall, and the national convention held every spring. Recruiters from all over the nation come to the convention to make job offers to students once they graduate. In 1989 the nursing department did a survey of its recent graduates. Of those responding to the survey, 86 percent found jobs before graduation and another 9 percent were employed within a month of graduation.

Dr. Sondra Dastoli, chairperson of the department of special education and school psychology, said there has always been a demand for special education teachers, and an even greater demand is anticipated. She pointed to legislation and deteriorating social conditions as reasons for the continuing demand.

"In the 1960s, rubella led to medical and social problems," said Dastoli. "In the 1980s and 90s, the problems have been drug and alcohol addiction in mothers, unstructured homes, attention deficit disorder and hyperactivity. Also, the government has been recognizing more and more disabilities, which means serving more and more children."

Another trend is inclusion – the belief that every child has the right to education in the same classroom with his or her peers. This means special education services must be delivered to the child in the classroom, which is creating a need for qualified, trained individuals.

Dastoli said students who major in special education often have been inspired in some way – possibly by a family member, friend or neighbor with disabilities. By the time they graduate from Edinboro they have had months of in-person training through field experience and student teaching.

Hand-in-hand with the growth of demand for special education teachers has been the demand for trained speech language pathologists. Dr. Roy Shinn, coordinator of Edinboro's master's program said demand has expanded tremendously over the years.

-more-

The shortage of speech-language pathologists and audiologists began at about the same time the profession broadened its scope to include such things as assessment and management of individuals with swallowing disorders, individuals using sophisticated technology to communicate, and working with infants, toddlers and their families.

“Speech pathology affects all age groups,” said Shinn. “Eleven percent of the population has a communication disorder of some sort. Children may have a problem with language, speech, stuttering, voice, or temporary or permanent hearing loss. Adults may have a hearing loss, be recovering from a stroke or head injury, or rehabilitating following surgical removal of part or all of their ‘voice box’ due to cancer.”

Because the number of Americans over age 65 is expected to double in the next couple of decades, a dramatic increase in the number of adults with speech, hearing, language or other problems is also expected to increase.

The University’s master’s program was started by Dr. Richard Forcucci in the mid 1970s and was accredited by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association in 1992. Enrollment in the two-year master’s program is limited to only 30 graduate students.

“We have a 15-student per year limit in the graduate program,” said Shinn. “The number of students we can accept is tightly controlled because speech pathology is very one-on-one oriented.”

Graduates of the program score well above the national average on the national examination and are employed throughout the country. Every Edinboro graduate who responded to the survey is employed – virtually all had jobs before they graduated – and they can expect to make between $30,000 and $42,000 in their first job out of college. “Some employers specifically request Edinboro graduates because of their work ethic, knowledge base, and ability to put theory into practice,” said Shinn.

Trained speech-language pathologists are in such demand that some states are offering financial incentives to attract them. Delaware is going so far as to pay off tuition loan debt on a year-for-year basis up to $10,000. Virtually all 50 states have shortages in schools and hospitals.

The demand for Edinboro graduates with a bachelor’s degree in social work is also expected to be strong for some time. Edinboro graduates are especially sought after because of their extensive field experience prior to graduation. They have a 975-hour placement with a social service agency – twice the length of time of most other colleges – and they are expected to do volunteer work in their spare time. Many social service agencies have a preference for employees with a social work degree. A shortage of social workers with master's degrees is causing agencies to turn to those with bachelor's degrees. Regulations now require most nursing homes to have a social worker on staff.

Perhaps the greatest factor in increasing the demand for social workers is the trend toward deinstitutionalizing patients at agencies. An example of this is Warren State Hospital, which at one time had as many as 4,000 residents. Now it has only 400. The reason for downsizing is cost – approximately $85,000 a year per resident. States are taking the savings and giving patients intensive community services. That's where trained social workers come in. With some half-million social service agencies across the nation, the need for social workers is not likely to ease soon.

-30-

BKP:bjja

The hottest jobs in America

Computer engineer and computer systems analyst top the list of the 50 fastest growing jobs with prestige

By LESLIE M. MARABLE
FROM MONEY MAGAZINE

Computer engineer Mark Haas, 35, senior software quality manager for Bell-Northern Research, the development arm of Northern Telecom, has the best career in America. Officially, a computer engineer develops and designs hardware and software, so the career's horizons figure to expand at something close to the speed of light.

Over the next 10 years, computer engineers' handiwork will be felt in every corner of the economy, from business software to video and computer games, from the microchips that trigger your car's air bags to the switching programs that will route old movies and fresh news down the information highway. Talk about marketable skills: U.S. corporations will need about 447,000 computer engineers by the year 2005, more than twice the number in the country today.

The pay is not bad, either: Engineers with 10 years' experience typically pull down $70,000 a year, placing them in the top 6 percent of all U.S. full-time wage earners.

Prestige? According to a 1992 national study by the Chicago-based National Opinion Research Center, computer engineers rank on a par with airline pilots, management consultants and psychologists.

To find the top contenders, we consulted Malcolm Cohen of the University of Minnesota, labor economist and author of the just-published "Labor Shortages: As America Approaches the Twenty-First Century" (University of Michigan, $37.50). Cohen started with the 13,000 jobs recognized by the Bureau of Labor Statistics and then chopped that mammoth figure down by weeding out low-skill occupations and screening for fast growth and stability.

Compared with our previous rankings, this year we put greater weight on a job's sheer growth prospects. That emphasis cast some career trends into sharp relief. Among them:

□ Careers hitched to computers are zizzing hot.

Considering that microchips are now found everywhere, it's not surprising that four of our 50 fastest-growing positions were computer-related. Indeed, the only job to give computer engineer a run for first place was computer systems analyst: Its 10-year growth projection came to 110 percent, just shy of computer engineer's 112 percent. Systems analysts, who customize and maintain corporate computer operations, have hogged the winning position in MONEY's past two surveys. But being No. 2 this year hasn't hurt: The average analyst pulls down $53,000, finishing in the top 10 percent of wage earners.

Computer repairer also made the top 50 (No. 18) as it did in 1992 and 1994, while computer programmer (No. 44) appears for the third consecutive year.

MONEY MATTERS

□ Health care gets competitive.

Medicine has provided opportunity for skilled workers from physical therapists (No. 3) to pharmacists (No. 50) since we began ranking careers in 1992. But while the field is still hot — accounting for an amazing 16 professions on our list of 50 — the shift toward managed care is creating a new set of winners. Boom occupations will be tied to advances in medical technology or to the aging population.

Radiologic technologists, for example, who administer radiation therapy to cancer patients, copped No. 6, with an expected job growth of 63 percent. Respiratory therapists, who treat the elderly and other patients with lung disease, ranked No. 13, with a growth of 49 percent.

□ Teachers and gunshoes are making a comeback.

This is the first year we ranked special-education teachers and private investigator. To our surprise, they placed fourth and fifth, with growth of 75 percent and 69 percent, respectively. Traditionally in short supply, special-ed teachers will also benefit from legislation encouraging the training of the disabled. Future Sam Spades will draw new business from companies battling insurance fraud, white-collar crime and information-highway robbery.

□ Some of the fastest-growing jobs will be the least secure.

Jobs with reputations for high-risk, shaky security and irregular work — but big possible payoffs — moved up the list this year. Among them are producer, director, actor and other entertainers (No. 9), bread and pastry bakers (No. 15) and restaurant cooks (No. 17). TM

Five jobs for the money

To get one of these five top-paying jobs, you need years of specialized education (salaries reflect roughly 10 years' experience).

1. Physician/surgeon ($156,000/$200,000)
2. Airline pilot ($85,794)
3. Computer engineer ($70,000)
4. Management consultant ($60,000)
5. Lawyer ($58,500)

Five jobs for independence

These careers have the greatest demand for high-quality hired guns.

1. Computer engineer
2. Systems analyst
3. Psychologist
4. Clinical social worker
5. Marketing, advertising, public relations manager

Money Ranks America's 50 Hottest Jobs

Rank	Occupation	Median annual earnings*	Growth through 2005	Prestige B-Average
1	Computer engineer	$70,000 ²³	112%	A
2	Computer systems analyst	$53,000 ²³	110	A
3	Physical therapist	$49,000 ²⁴	88	A-
4	Teacher, special education	$33,644	75	B+
5	Private detective and investigator	$36,050 ²³	69	B-
6	Radiologic technologist and technician	$29,276	63	B
7	Paralegal and legal assistant	$25,688	56	B
8	Teacher, preschool and kindergarten	$22,500 ²⁴	54	B
9	Entertainer (producer, director, actor)	Varies widely	53	A-
10	Secretary, legal/medical	$30,712 ²³ /18,334 ^{24,25}	51	C
11	Speech pathologist/audiologist	$39,000 ²³ /40,000 ²⁴	51	A-
12	Insurance adjuster, examiner, investigator	$23,712	49	B
13	Respiratory therapist	$30,524	49	B+
14	Psychologist; staff/private practice	$32,916/76,154 ²⁴	48	A
15	Baker; bread and pastry	$17,368	47	C-
16	Construction manager	$55,999 ²³	47	B+
17	Restaurant cook (sous-chef)	$25,000 ²³	46	C
18	Computer repairer	$30,212	46	B+
19	Food service and lodging; owner/manager	$62,000 ²³ /39,000 ²⁴	44	C
20	Management consultant	$60,000 ²³	43	A
21	Dental hygienist	$39,312 ²⁴	43	A-
22	Registered nurse	$35,620	42	A-
23	Bank loan officer and counselor	$32,916	40	B+
24	Licensed practical nurse	$23,504	40	B-
25	Social worker; medical/clinical	$31,500 ²³ /38,250 ²⁴	39	B+
26	Dental assistant	$20,592 ²⁴	39	C
27	Insulation worker/drywall installer	$24,627 ²³ /25,459 ²⁴	37	C
28	Teacher; secondary school	$35,880	37	A
29	Sports instructor and coach; high school/college	$28,000 ²³ /75,000 ^{24,25}	37	B
30	Employee and labor relations specialist	$43,700 ²³	36	B+
31	Marketing, advertising, public relations manager	$49,543 ²³	36	A-
32	Emergency medical technician and paramedic	$28,000 ²³	36	B
33	Airline pilot	$95,794 ²⁴	35	A
34	Physician/general surgeon	$156,000 ²³ /200,000 ^{24,25}	35	A+
35	Property manager; commercial/residential	$60,000 ²³ /45,000 ^{24,25}	35	B
36	Optician (on staff)	$26,274 ^{24,25}	35	B-
37	Hair stylist and cosmetologist	$29,000 ²³	35	C-
38	Physician assistant	$32,225 ²³	34	B
39	Commercial and institutional cleaning supervisor	$47,000 ²³	33	C
40	Vocational education teacher and counselor	$29,000 ²³	33	A
41	Stockbroker	$90,000 ²³	33	A
42	Accountant and auditor	$37,166 ^{23,24}	32	A-
43	Lawyer	$58,500	31	A+
44	Computer programmer	$38,272	30	A-
45	Construction and building inspector	$32,708	30	B
46	Auto body repairer	$23,920	30	C
47	Religious director/clergy	$4,350 ²³ /27,092	30	B+
48	Heating, air conditioning, refrigeration technician	$25,792	29	C
49	Painter, construction and maintenance	$24,044 ²³	29	C
50	Pharmacist	$49,608	29	A

Notes: *Unless noted, income is Bureau of Labor Statistics 1994 median earnings or industry data. †Trade association or industry earnings data. ‡Estimate 1992 data; §1993 data; ¶1991 data. ††Average. †††For medical assistants: Higher earnings. ††††Source: Joseph Boykin of GTE Laboratories; American Physical Therapy Assoc.; Albert Langer & Assoc.; National Center for Education Statistics; American Assoc. of Medical Assistants; American Speech-Language-Hearing Assoc.; American Psychological Assoc.; Registered Financial Institute, FPA Inc.; National Restaurant Assoc.; Assoc. of Management Consulting Firms; American Dental Assoc.; National Assoc. of Social Workers; COACH; William M. Horner Inc.; Advertising Age; Public Relations Society of America; National Assoc. of Emergency Medical Technicians; FAPA Center for Health Policy Research; National Apartment Assoc.; Opticians Assoc. of America; Modern Salon; American Academy of Physician Assistants; National Executive Housekeepers Assoc.; Securities Industry Assoc.; Robert Half International; National Assoc. of Church Business Administration.

Five jobs for fast tracks

For career builders in a hurry, these are the fastest-growing jobs over the next five years.

1. Computer engineer
2. Systems analyst
3. Physical therapist
4. Radiologic technologist or technician
5. Speech pathologist/audiologist

Five jobs best for security

These jobs ranked on every MONEY survey since '92 in the most satisfying pay or growth categories.

1. Systems analyst
2. Physical therapist
3. Psychologist
4. Management consultant
5. Registered nurse

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

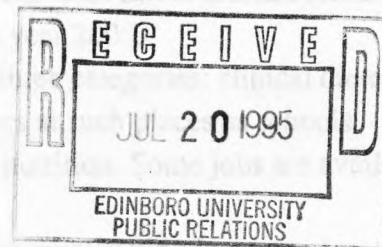

MEMO TO: Denise Ohler
FROM: Brian Pitzer B.P.
DATE: July 17, 1995
RE: Feature Story

Attached for your approval is the first draft of the feature story on the success of our graduates in finding jobs or going to grad school. Please feel free to make or suggest any changes, additions or corrections you wish.

Please do not hesitate to call me if you have any questions.

Thank you.

7/18/95 Here are my revisions. Thanks for the opportunity to edit. DPO

EDINBORO SURVEY REVEALS HOT JOB PROSPECT AREAS

For some college graduates, obtaining a diploma is just one step in a sometimes long and frustrating process of finding a job in their chosen career field. But a survey by Edinboro University of Pennsylvania shows that for many of its graduates, the hardest part of landing a job is deciding which offer to take.

Edinboro ~~recently~~ conducted a survey of former students who graduated between August of 1992 and May of 1993 to determine which majors were most successful at finding a job or attending grad school. The top five categories – which had success rates of 90 percent or better – were for students who had majored in nutrition, nursing, special education, speech-language hearing disorders, and social work.

These careers are reflections of national trends reported by Money Magazine. In a listing of the 50 hottest jobs in America – those expected to grow the most by the year 2005 – special education teachers were fourth, speech pathologists were eleventh, registered nurses were number 22, and social workers were number 25 on the list.

Denise Ohler, director of Edinboro's center for advising and career services, said the success of the Edinboro grads is due not only to choosing a career that is in demand, but also to their willingness to relocate, career ^{or internship} experience they may already have, and the amount of effort they put forth in their studies and in career research.

"One thing that these five majors have in common is that their professors bring their senior classes in here for ^{job search instruction} counseling," said Ohler. "We maintain a career ^{many of} source library which lists thousands of jobs. It's important for students to do their own research and discovery because it is ^{a skill that} something most people will ^{need to do} be doing all of their lives."

The highest placement rate ^{according to this survey} at Edinboro belongs to the graduates of the nutrition program, which is actually a cooperative program among Edinboro, Gannon and Mercyhurst called the Pennsylvania Consortium. Professor Sally Lanz said the demand for nutritionists – especially those who are trained in more than one area – is very high. The U.S. Labor Bureau forecasts a 20-28 percent increase in the need for dietitians through the year 2005.

Employment opportunities for nutritionists fall into three categories: clinical dietetics, which involves medical and nutritional therapy; food services at such places as schools hospitals, restaurants, and food processors; and community nutrition. Some jobs are available that combine expertise in two or all three of the categories.

Lanz said new graduates can find employment in a hospital setting in acute care, long-term care, rehabilitation, or mental health. Other opportunities are in a community-base setting such as the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program. Still other jobs are opening in food service for school districts, most of which do not have nutritionists. More and more businesses are hiring them for wellness and physical fitness programs.

In addition to a very high placement rate, graduates of the Pennsylvania consortium have a better than 90 percent passing rate for the national exam for becoming a licensed dietitian.

"Because the consortium involves three schools," said Lanz, "students have access to a lot of resources. This has helped earn national accreditation from the American Dietetic Association. Our program provides a good, broad comprehensive education that serves as a stepping stone to more specialized fields, where our graduates can become board certified."

Two other Edinboro programs with high placement rates according to the survey are nursing (93 percent) and special education (92.5 percent). Dr. Sondra Dastoli, chairperson of the department of special education and school psychology, said there has always been a demand for special education teachers. Graduates in the field are able to find jobs, even if it is only a temporary position.

She pointed to legislation and deteriorating social conditions as reasons why special education teachers will continue to be in demand.

"In the 1960s rubella led to medical and social problems," said Dastoli. "In the 1980s and 90s, the problems have been drug and alcohol addiction in mothers, unstructured homes, attention deficit disorder and hyperactivity. Also, the government has been recognizing more and more disabilities, which means serving more and more children."

Another trend is inclusion – the belief that every child has the right to education in the same classroom with his or her peers. This means special education services must be delivered to the child in the classroom, which is creating a need for qualified, trained individuals.

Dastoli said students who major in special education often have been inspired in some way – possibly by a family member, friend or neighbor with disabilities. By the time they graduate from Edinboro they have had months of in-person training through field experience and student teaching.

Hand-in-hand with the growth of demand for special education teachers has been the demand for trained speech language pathologists. Dr. Roy Shinn, head of Edinboro's program said the ^{DEMAND FOR} scope of speech-language pathology has expanded tremendously over the years.

"Speech pathology affects all age groups," said Shinn. "Eleven percent of the population has a communication disorder of some sort. There is now more required treatment for children, and as the population grows older, there is more stroke and more dementia. There are a tremendous variety of disorders."

Some of those disorders include children with delays in language development, speech problems, cleft palate, stuttering, inability to speak on one's own, hearing problems, attention problems and many others.

The university has offered a bachelor's degree in speech and hearing disorders since the early 1960s. The master's program in speech language pathology has been nationally accredited since 1992. The University limits enrollment in the two-year master's program to only 30 graduate students.

"We have a 15 student per year limit in the graduate program," said Shinn. "The numbers of students we can accept are tightly controlled because speech pathology is very one-on-one oriented."

For those fortunate few who do earn their master's degrees, the career opportunities are ^{more} extensive unlimited. Every Edinboro graduate ^{who responded to this survey} during the past three years is employed. Virtually all had jobs before they graduated. They can expect to make $30-$42,000 in their first job out of college.

Trained speech-language pathologists are in such demand that some states are offering financial incentives to attract them. Delaware is going so far as to pay off tuition loan debt on a year-for-year basis up to $10,000. Virtually all 50 states have shortages in schools and hospitals.

The demand for Edinboro graduates with a bachelor's degree in social work is also expected to be strong for some time. A number of factors are contributing to this. Edinboro graduates are especially sought after because of their extensive field experience prior to graduation. They have a 975-hour placement with a social service agency - twice the length of time of most other colleges. And they are expected to do volunteer work in their spare time. Many social service agencies have a preference for employees with a social work degree. A shortage of social workers with master's degrees is causing agencies to turn to those with bachelor's degrees. Regulations now require most nursing homes to have a social worker on staff.

Perhaps the greatest factor in increasing the demand for social workers is the trend toward deinstitutionalizing patients at agencies. An example of this is Warren State Hospital, which at one time had as many as 4,000 residents. Now it has only 400. The reason for downsizing is cost - approximately $85,000 a year per resident. States are taking the savings and giving patients intensive community services. That's where retrained social workers come in. With some half-million social service agencies across the nation, the need for social workers is not likely to ease soon.

MEMO TO: Brian Pitzer
FROM: Roy Shinn
RE: Story on graduates

Here is the story that I wrote after meeting with you. Feel free to use what you want.

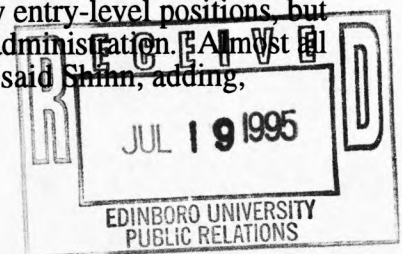

The demand for speech-language pathologists and audiologists has stimulated record high interest into the undergraduate and graduate programs at EUP. According to Dr. Roy Shinn, the coordinator of the M.A. program in speech-language pathology, the personnel shortage began at about the same time that the profession broadened its scope of practice to include such things as the assessment and management of individuals with swallowing disorders, individuals using sophisticated technology to communicate (who otherwise can't), and working with infants, toddlers, and their families. Audiology expanded to include balance assessment, programmable amplification, cochlear implants, and intraoperative monitoring of neurological function during surgery. This made the two professions even more attractive to interested individuals.

Speech-language pathologists and audiologists work with people of all ages, from newborns through geriatrics, in settings ranging from hospitals to schools to private clinics. Children they work with may have problems with language (vocabulary, grammar, and/or social skills), speech (perhaps due to hearing loss, poor modeling, or a cleft palate), swallowing (due to an underlying neurological problem), stuttering, voice, or temporary or permanent hearing loss. Adults they work with may have hearing loss, be recovering from a stroke or head injury, or rehabilitating following surgical removal of part or all of their "voice box" due to cancer. Demographic changes over the next couple of decades will more than double the number of Americans over age 65. Communication disabilities in the older age groups are more prevalent and therefore we expect a dramatic increase in the number of adults with speech, hearing, language, or swallowing problems. Although demographics shifts are less predictable for children, policies aimed at maximizing the potential of all students for the 21st century will re-emphasize the necessity of good communication skills in the formative years. "But today's clinicians don't just treat the disability," said Shinn. "Undergraduate students must learn about human development, linguistics, families, neurology, and speech and hearing science, as well as several other related areas. That stage of one's education lays the foundation for successfully developing professional knowledge and skills in graduate schools."

Despite the stiff competition to be admitted to graduate school in speech-language pathology or audiology, graduates of the B.A. program in Speech and Hearing Disorders at EUP have attended and graduated from universities throughout the United States, including Syracuse, Arizona State, Pittsburgh, Case Western, Penn State, West Virginia, as well as the excellent program right here at Edinboro. One former student, Dr. Frank Musiek, is Professor of Otolaryngology at Dartmouth University and an internationally recognized expert in central auditory processing disorders.

The M.A. program that was started by Dr. Richard Forcucci in the mid 1970s, received formal accreditation in 1992 from the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association. Graduates of the program score well above the national average on the national examination and are employed throughout the country. "Some employers specifically request Edinboro graduates for their work ethic, knowledge base, and ability to put theory into contemporary practice", said Shinn. The feedback that the program solicits from its alumni and their employers is used to maintain quality and remain up-to-date.

Beginning salaries for full time positions generally are in the range of $30 - $40K. There are personnel shortages in virtually every state, which creates not only many entry-level positions, but excellent opportunities for early career advancement in supervision and administration. "Almost all of our students have been offered positions before they even graduate", said Shinn, adding, "We're proud of their success."

MEMO TO: Brian Pitzer
FROM: Roy Shinn
RE: Story on graduates

Here is the story that I wrote after meeting with you. Feel free to use what you want.

The demand for speech-language pathologists and audiologists has stimulated record high interest into the undergraduate and graduate programs at EUP. According to Dr. Roy Shinn, the coordinator of the M.A. program in speech-language pathology, the personnel shortage began at about the same time that the profession broadened its scope of practice to include such things as the assessment and management of individuals with swallowing disorders, individuals using sophisticated technology to communicate (who otherwise can't), and working with infants, toddlers, and their families. Audiology expanded to include balance assessment, programmable amplification, cochlear implants, and intraoperative monitoring of neurological function during surgery. This made the two professions even more attractive to interested individuals.

Speech-language pathologists and audiologists work with people of all ages, from newborns through geriatrics, in settings ranging from hospitals to schools to private clinics. Children they work with may have problems with language (vocabulary, grammar, and/or social skills), speech (perhaps due to hearing loss, poor modeling, or a cleft palate), swallowing (due to an underlying neurological problem), stuttering, voice, or temporary or permanent hearing loss. Adults they work with may have hearing loss, be recovering from a stroke or head injury, or rehabilitating following surgical removal of part or all of their "voice box" due to cancer. Demographic changes over the next couple of decades will more than double the number of Americans over age 65. Communication disabilities in the older age groups are more prevalent and therefore we expect a dramatic increase in the number of adults with speech, hearing, language, or swallowing problems. Although demographic shifts are less predictable for children, policies aimed at maximizing the potential of all students for the 21st century will re-emphasize the necessity of good communication skills in the formative years. "But today's clinicians don't just treat the disability," said Shinn. "Undergraduate students must learn about human development, linguistics, families, neurology, and speech and hearing science, as well as several other related areas. That stage of one's education lays the foundation for successfully developing professional knowledge and skills in graduate schools."

Despite the stiff competition to be admitted to graduate school in speech-language pathology or audiology, graduates of the B.A. program in Speech and Hearing Disorders at EUP have attended and graduated from universities throughout the United States, including Syracuse, Arizona State, Pittsburgh, Case Western, Penn State, West Virginia, as well as the excellent program right here at Edinboro. One former student, Dr. Frank Musiek, is Professor of Otolaryngology at Dartmouth University and an internationally recognized expert in central auditory processing disorders.

The M.A. program that was started by Dr. Richard Forcucci in the mid 1970s, received formal accreditation in 1992 from the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association. Graduates of the program score well above the national average on the national examination and are employed throughout the country. "Some employers specifically request Edinboro graduates for their work ethic, knowledge base, and ability to put theory into contemporary practice", said Shinn. The feedback that the program solicits from its alumni and their employers is used to maintain quality and remain up-to-date.

Beginning salaries for full time positions generally are in the range of $30 - $40K. There are personnel shortages in virtually every state, which creates not only many entry-level positions, but excellent opportunities for early career advancement in supervision and administration. "Many of our students have been offered positions before they even graduate", said Shinn, adding, "We're proud of their success."

generated by growth in community- or ambulatory-based services. Growth in the future will occur as individual professionals continue to assume unique roles in community settings and redefine their contributions in a way that meets the demands of a changing health care system.

The employment outlook for dietitians is excellent. The US Labor Bureau forecasts a 20% to 28% increase in the need for dietitians through the year 2005. This projected demand can be attributed to the increased recognition of the role of nutrition in health and the greater need for medical nutrition therapy in the prevention and treatment of diseases.

Dozens of exciting new practice roles for dietitians are emerging in private practice, community programs, training and education, hospitality management, development of new food products, and home health care. In addition, new roles are envisioned in long-term care, government and political agencies, schools, and fitness and wellness programs.

Based on these projections and trends lines, the CCP should continue to attract sufficient numbers of students for the enrollment capacity of the program.

The enrollment history of the CCP does not point to any definite trend upward or downward. The following data record lists number of applicants and number of graduates between 1977 and 1994.

Year	CCP Applicants	CCP Graduates
1977-78	10
1978-79	10	10
1979-80	15	8
1980-81	6	14
1981-82	16	6
1982-83	18	13
1983-84	11	14
1984-85	15	6
1985-86	12	14
1986-87	12	10
1987-88	12	12
1988-89	11	9
1989-90	15	9
1990-91	10(9 admissions)	10
1991-92	15(12 admissions)	6
1992-93	18(16 admissions)	11
1993-94	7	13
1994-95	14(12 admissions)

A COMPARISON OF PLACEMENT RATES:
SSHE AND EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
1992-1993

Prepared by Brenda Bailey, Institutional Research, June 1995

INTRODUCTION

Lou Fabian, Director of Planning and Evaluation at Lock Haven University, recently collected placement data for the State System of Higher Education using data provided by SSHE Placement Offices. He prepared a table of placement rates by undergraduate major for 1992-1993 graduates which was distributed at the April 1995 SSHE Institutional Research meeting in Harrisburg and at the May 1995 SSHE Career Services meeting in Bloomsburg. Discussions system-wide between Institutional Research and Career Services are currently underway to standardize data collection and reporting procedures across the State System.

Presented here for your reference is a comparison between the State System and Edinboro University using the same methodology as was used in the original table prepared by Mr. Fabian

METHODOLOGY

Recognizing that any placement rate report relies on self-reported data which may be suspect and that data currently reported across the State System is not based on a standardized survey form, a standardized process, nor a standardized report format, the table included on the following pages attempts to show the placement rate by program. The number placed includes those employed full-time in field, those employed part-time in field, and those attending graduate school. At Edinboro University in field is interpreted as in a career of my choice. The placement rate is based on the number placed divided by the number of responses.

The source of Edinboro University data is the Placement Survey Results 1992-93 report prepared by the Center for Advising and Career Services. These data presented represent the placement rates for graduates from the August 1992, December 1992, and May 1993 classes. The survey was mailed to these graduates in October and December 1993 with follow-up calls made from December 1993 through February 1994.

Despite the problems inherent with both self-reported data and non-standardized processes, the table on the following pages give some indication of the placement rates in the State System of Higher Education and at Edinboro University. While recognizing that some problems may exist with the data collection, the reported table can serve as a catalyst for discussion and as a basis for further assessment.

RESPONSE RATE

The overall survey response rate is 68.8% for State System graduates and 41.3% for Edinboro University graduates. System response rates by program vary from 44.1% for Science-Other to 92.7% for Chemistry. At Edinboro University response rates by program vary from 0% for Chemistry, Anthropology, and Political Science to 90% for Health and Physical Education graduates. For the purpose of this discussion any Edinboro University programs with a response rate less than 20% are excluded from the Valid Placement Rate column of the table. These data are included in total figures.

PLACEMENT RATES

Beginning with totals, the placement rate calculated for the State System is 73.2%. Using the same methodology, the placement rate at Edinboro University is 74.6%. The highest placement rate in both the State System (81.7%) and at Edinboro University (94.0%) can be found in the Health fields. The lowest placement rate in the State System can be found in Liberal Arts (61.7%) while the lowest placement rate at Edinboro University occurs in the Sciences (38.5%).

When examining placement rates at the individual program level, the highest placement occurs in Nursing for both the State System (91.9%) and Edinboro University (93%). The lowest placement rate in the State System occurs in Liberal Arts-Other (40.7%). The lowest valid placement rate at Edinboro University, excluding those programs with low response rates, occurs in Computer Science (0%) and Sociology (0%).

Some valid placement rates (excluding those programs with low response rates) for those students responding to the survey at Edinboro University are over 90%. These include Education Other which is Speech Language Hearing Disorders (91.7%), Special Education (92.5%), Nursing (93%), Medical Technology (100%), and Health Other which is Nutrition (100%). Some programs at Edinboro show placement rates less than 50% for 1992-1993 graduates. These include Computer Science (0%), Sociology (0%), History (25%), and Biology (40%).

NATIONAL TRENDS

Recruiting Trends 1994-95: A Study of Businesses, Industries, and Governmental Agencies Employing New College Graduates prepared by Michigan State University reports that growing occupations and employment categories include computer related occupations, engineering, sales and marketing, accounting and finance, and medical and health care services. Valid placements rates for 1992-93 Edinboro graduates at the time of the survey vary considerably in these high placement areas: Computer Science (0%), Business Administration (71.9%), Nursing (93%), Medical Technology (100%), and Nutrition (100%).

CONCLUSION

Recognizing that any placement rate report relies on self-reported data which may be suspect and that data currently reported across the State System is not standardized, Institutional Research suggests that this report serves as a catalyst for discussion and as a basis for further assessment.

PLACEMENT RATES FOR SSHE GRADUATES AND EDINBORO GRADUATES BY UNDERGRADUATE MAJOR 1992-1993

	SSHE					EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
	Total Grads	Number of Responses	Response Rate	Number Placed*	Placement Rate	Total Grads	Number of Responses	Response Rate	Number Placed*	Placement Rate	Valid Rate
Accounting	513	396	77.2%	322	81.3%	40	7	17.5%	5	71.4%	**
Business Admin	216	126	58.3%	91	72.2%	103	32	31.1%	23	71.9%	71.9%
Finance	264	190	72.0%	142	74.7%
Management	800	571	71.4%	413	72.3%
Marketing	440	315	71.6%	249	79.0%
Business-Other	105	76	72.4%	48	63.2%
Business Total	2,338	1,674	71.6%	1,265	75.6%	143	39	27.3%	28	71.8%	71.8%
Early Childhood	319	219	68.7%	178	81.3%	83	31	37.3%	25	80.6%	80.6%
Elementary Educ	1401	1015	72.4%	776	76.5%	112	51	45.5%	43	84.3%	84.3%
Health & Phys Ed	175	143	81.7%	115	80.4%	30	27	90.0%	19	70.4%	70.4%
Secondary Ed	872	522	59.9%	374	71.6%	123	61	49.6%	39	63.9%	63.9%
Special Educ	394	274	69.5%	243	88.7%	68	40	58.8%	37	92.5%	92.5%
Education-Other	172	134	77.9%	122	91.0%	29	12	41.4%	11	91.7%	91.7%
Education Total	3,333	2,307	69.2%	1,808	78.4%	445	222	49.9%	174	78.4%	78.4%
Visual Arts	264	136	51.5%	94	69.1%	84	21	25.0%	17	81.0%	81.0%
Music	74	39	52.7%	28	71.8%	11	2	18.2%	1	50.0%	**
Theatre/Speech	151	78	51.7%	44	56.4%	73	22	30.1%	14	63.6%	63.6%
Art-Other	80	58	72.5%	43	74.1%
Art Total	569	311	54.7%	209	67.2%	168	45	26.8%	32	71.1%	71.1%
Health Science	154	118	76.6%	98	83.1%
Medical Tech	49	40	81.6%	36	90.0%	2	1	50.0%	1	100.0%	100.0%
Nursing	450	322	71.6%	296	91.9%	56	43	76.8%	40	93.0%	93.0%
Phys Ed & Sport	126	89	70.6%	66	74.2%
Recreation	201	143	71.1%	92	64.3%
Health-Other	407	240	59.0%	190	79.2%	8	6	75.0%	6	100.0%	100.0%
Health Total	1,387	952	68.6%	778	81.7%	66	50	75.8%	47	94.0%	94.0%

*Number Placed includes those employed full-time in field, employed part-time in field, or attending graduate school

Valid Placement Rate excludes those programs with a response rate less than 20%

PLACEMENT RATES FOR SSHE GRADUATES AND EDINBORO GRADUATES BY UNDERGRADUATE MAJOR 1992-1993

	SSHE					EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
	Total Grads	Number of Responses	Response Rate	Number Placed*	Placement Rate	Total Grads	Number of Responses	Response Rate	Number Placed*	Placement Rate	Valid Rate
Biology	197	158	80.2%	130	82.3%	21	5	23.8%	2	40.0%	40.0%
Chemistry	55	51	92.7%	40	78.4%	1	0	0.0%	0	N/A	**
Computer Science	171	92	53.8%	63	68.5%	26	9	34.6%	0	0.0%	0.0%
Earth Science	110	67	60.9%	42	62.7%	7	1	14.3%	1	100.0%	**
Mathematics	140	113	80.7%	81	71.7%	16	6	37.5%	4	66.7%	66.7%
Natural Science	62	47	75.8%	31	66.0%
Physics	24	19	79.2%	12	63.2%	8	5	62.5%	3	60.0%	60.0%
Science-Other	93	41	44.1%	26	63.4%
Science Total	852	588	69.0%	425	72.3%	79	26	32.9%	10	38.5%	38.5%
Anthropology	24	18	75.0%	14	77.8%	1	0	0.0%	0	N/A	**
Criminal Justice	416	239	57.5%	141	59.0%	82	46	56.1%	30	65.2%	65.2%
Economics	48	33	68.8%	26	78.8%	6	3	50.0%	2	66.7%	66.7%
English	193	129	66.8%	66	51.2%	14	2	14.3%	1	50.0%	**
Foreign Languages	62	46	74.2%	28	60.9%
Geography	111	99	89.2%	58	58.6%	17	8	47.1%	5	62.5%	62.5%
History	148	104	70.3%	45	43.3%	14	4	28.6%	1	25.0%	25.0%
International Studies	25	18	72.0%	11	61.1%
Journalism/Commun	427	277	64.9%	158	57.0%
Philosophy	7	6	85.7%	5	83.3%
Pol Sci/Public Admin	200	132	66.0%	57	43.2%	9	0	0.0%	0	N/A	**
Psychology	571	428	75.0%	302	70.6%	80	27	33.8%	21	77.8%	77.8%
Sociology	176	117	66.5%	72	61.5%	5	1	20.0%	0	0.0%	0.0%
Social Work	208	168	80.8%	148	88.1%	37	19	51.4%	17	89.5%	89.5%
Liberal Arts-Other	98	59	60.2%	24	40.7%	34	4	11.8%	2	50.0%	**
Liberal Arts Total	2,714	1,873	69.0%	1,155	61.7%	299	114	38.1%	79	69.3%	69.3%
Totals	11,193	7,705	68.8%	5,640	73.2%	1,200	496	41.3%	370	74.6%	74.6%

*Number Placed includes those employed full-time in field, employed part-time in field, or attending graduate school

Valid Placement Rate excludes those programs with a response rate less than 20%

Source: SSHE placement table prepared by Lou Fabian, Lock Haven, using data provided by SSHE Placement Offices.

REQUIRED OUTCOME CRITERIA 4: GRADUATION RATES

Students are considered nursing students when they are admitted as freshmen to the University. If they do not meet the criteria for regular admission, they can be admitted as Pre-nursing students. Statistics are calculated however, at the beginning of the sophomore level nursing classes as the number of sophomore nursing students can exceed the number of students admitted as freshmen the previous year. This occurs because internal transfers (EUP students, especially Pre-nursing students) are permitted to change their major if they have 32 EUP credits and a 2.5 QPA. Also, external transfers (Non-EUP students) may be admitted directly into the sophomore nursing classes if they meet the criteria for admission and progression. Students admitted into the Innovative Program are considered nursing majors at the beginning of their program (fall semester).

Students who progress as expected graduate in four years from the regular program. Students who do not meet progression criteria may remain nursing majors, but cannot progress to the next level until requirements are met. Pre-nursing students usually take five years to complete the degree requirements. Innovative students complete the program in one calendar year.

Table 20-4-A
Graduation Rates for Regular Four Year Program

Started Sophomore Nursing Classes	Number of Students	Year of Graduation	Number of Students	Attrition
1987	34	1990	29	14.7%
1988	28	1991	23	17.8%
1989	42	1992	36	14.3%
1990	52	1993	47*	9.6%

*May 1993 graduates only.

Table 20-4-B
Graduation Rates for Innovative Program for Second Baccalaureate Students

Started Classes	Number of Students	Year of Graduation	Number of Students	Attrition
1990	10	1991	10	None
1991	20*	1992	19	5.0%
1992	19	1993	17	5.3%

*Includes 3 RNs

An additional student is still in the program.

REQUIRED OUTCOME CRITERION 5: PATTERNS OF EMPLOYMENT

Post graduation employment data were obtained from the five-year Follow-up Study (1986-1991). This information is available in the following table.

Table 20-5-A
Positions of Employment by Year of Graduation

N= Number of Respondents	Staff Nurse	Unit Mgr.	Supervisor Administrator	Educator	Other
1986 N=30	23			2	Clinical Manager After Care Nurse Therapist Staff Psychologist School Nurse Director of Nursing
1987 N=9	5	1	1	1	Traveling Nurse
1988 N=17*	14				Coordinator Enterostomal Therapist QA Nurse Reviewer CRNA
1989 N=24	20	1	1	2
1990 N=15	14
1991 Innovative N=7	5		1		Teaching Assistant

*One respondent included 2 positions.

One respondent was not employed as a Registered Nurse.

Most of the graduates function as staff nurses upon graduation. Those graduates showing advanced positions may be RNs who have graduated from the program. Questionnaires do not show this difference.

Employment patterns after graduation show a moderate amount of stability. See the following Table.

Table 20-5-B
Patterns of Employment by Years of Graduation

N=Number of Respondents	Number of years worked in current position		Number of Agencies worked since graduation		Number of Positions held since graduation
	1-3	4 or more	1-3	4 or more	1-3	4 or more
1986 N=30	24	6	26	4	25	5
1987 N=9	7	2	5	4	7	2
1988 N=17	15	2	16	1	17	0
1989 N=24	23	1	23	1	23	1
1990 N=15*	14	0	14	0	14	0
1991 Innovative N=7	7		7	0	6	1

*One Respondent was not employed as a Registered Nurse.

The results of our Follow-up Study regarding employment reenforce the results of the Newly Licensed Nurse School Report. This report noted that:

1. 86% of [our] recent alumni found jobs before graduation and an additional 09% were employed within one month of completing their education.

2. 00% of [our] recent graduates are not employed.
3. 77% of [our] alumni are working at their first place of employment.
4. Among [our] program's respondents, 100% are employed full time, 95% hold staff positions, and 100% are working in hospitals.
5. 27% chose their current position because of prior experience there and 18% selected their job because of a desire to practice in their chosen specialty.
6. 70% of [our] recent graduates are satisfied with their current employment and 50% claim that their contentment is due to their ability to work in their desired specialty (Rosenfeld, 1992, Executive Summary).

The above data were collected on 22 of our registered nurses licensed in July 1989.

Year	Number of Graduates	Number of Staff Nurses	Number of Full-time Nurses	Percentage of Full-time Nurses
1987	24	19	12	63.16%
1988	26	19	11	57.89%
1989	26	19	12	63.16%
1990	22	19	14	73.68%

Sally Lantz Changes

EDINBORO SURVEY REVEALS HOT JOB PROSPECT AREAS

For some college graduates, obtaining a diploma is just one step in a sometimes long and frustrating process of finding a job in their chosen career field. But a survey by Edinboro University of Pennsylvania shows that for many of its graduates, the hardest part of landing a job is deciding which offer to take.

Edinboro conducted a survey of former students who graduated between August of 1992 and May of 1993 to determine which majors were most successful at finding a job or attending grad school. The top five categories – which had success rates of 90 percent or better – were for students who had majored in nutrition, nursing, special education, speech-language hearing disorders, and social work.

These careers are reflections of national trends reported by ^{ital.} Money Magazine. In a listing of the 50 hottest ^{Careers} jobs in America – those expected to grow the most by the year 2005 – special education teachers were fourth, speech pathologists were eleventh, registered nurses were number 22, and social workers were number 25 on the list.

Denise Ohler, director of Edinboro's center for advising and career services, said the success of the Edinboro grads is due not only to choosing a career that is in demand, but also to their willingness to relocate, career or internship experience they may already have, and the amount of effort they put forth in their studies and in career research.

"One thing that these five majors have in common is that many of their professors bring their senior classes in here for counseling," said Ohler. "We maintain a career resource library which lists thousands of jobs. It's important for students to do their own research and discovery, because it is a skill most people will need to use all of their lives."

According to the survey, the highest placement rate at Edinboro belongs to the graduates of the nutrition program, which is actually a cooperative program among Edinboro, Gannon and Mercyhurst called the Pennsylvania Consortium. Professor Sally Lantz said the demand for nutritionists – especially those who are trained in more than one area – is very high. The U.S. Labor Bureau forecasts a 20-28 percent increase in the need for dietitians through the year 2005.

Employment opportunities for nutritionists fall into three categories: clinical dietetics, which involves medical and nutritional therapy; food services at such places as schools ^{and universities,} hospitals, restaurants, and food ^{corporations} processors; and community nutrition. Some jobs are available that combine expertise in two or all three of the categories.

Lantz said new graduates can find employment in a ^{health-care} hospital setting in acute care, long-term care, rehabilitation, or mental health. Other opportunities are in a ~~community-base setting~~ such as the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program. Still other jobs are opening in food service for school districts, most of which do not have nutritionists. More and more businesses ^{and health and recreation and clubs} are hiring them for wellness and physical fitness programs.

→ Increasingly, dietitians are acting as consultants in their own private practice settings.

with government and community-based agencies

In addition to a very high placement rate, graduates of the Pennsylvania consortium have a better than 90 percent passing rate for the national exam for becoming a licensed dietitian.

"Because the consortium involves three schools," said Lanz, "students have access to a lot of resources. This has helped earn national accreditation from the American Dietetic Association. Our program provides a good, broad comprehensive education that serves as a stepping stone to more specialized ^{areas} ~~fields~~, where our graduates can become board certified."

Two other Edinboro programs with high placement rates according to the survey are nursing (93 percent) and special education (92.5 percent). "There will be a terrible nursing shortage by the year 2000," said nursing department chairperson Mary Lou Keller. The aging of America will see increasing numbers of retirees, including nurses, who will require more medical care.

Currently, many hospitals are reducing their nursing staffs as part of cost cutting. However, with the changes brought on by increased managed health care, whatever jobs may be lost in hospitals will likely be more than made up for by community health care needs.

There is still an immediate need for nurses in the south and west in such states as Texas, Florida, Georgia, New Mexico and North Carolina. "Graduates who are willing to relocate will have no trouble finding a job," said Keller. "We have graduates working in Florida, Virginia and North Carolina.

One way Edinboro's nurses find these jobs is through the Pennsylvania Student Nurses Convention which is held in the fall, and the national convention held every spring. Recruiters from all over the nation come to the convention to make job offers to students once they graduate. In 1989 the nursing department did a survey of its recent graduates. Of those responding to the survey, 86 percent found jobs before graduation and another 9 percent were employed within a month of graduation.

Dr. Sondra Dastoli, chairperson of the department of special education and school psychology, said there has always been a demand for special education teachers, and an even greater demand is anticipated. She pointed to legislation and deteriorating social conditions as reasons for the continuing demand.

"In the 1960s rubella led to medical and social problems," said Dastoli. "In the 1980s and 90s, the problems have been drug and alcohol addiction in mothers, unstructured homes, attention deficit disorder and hyperactivity. Also, the government has been recognizing more and more disabilities, which means serving more and more children."

Another trend is inclusion – the belief that every child has the right to education in the same classroom with his or her peers. This means special education services must be delivered to the child in the classroom, which is creating a need for qualified, trained individuals.

Dastoli said students who major in special education often have been inspired in some way – possibly by a family member, friend or neighbor with disabilities. By the time they graduate from Edinboro they have had months of in-person training through field experience and student teaching.

Hand-in-hand with the growth of demand for special education teachers has been the demand for trained speech language pathologists. Dr. Roy Shinn, coordinator of Edinboro's master's program said demand has expanded tremendously over the years.

The shortage of speech-language pathologists and audiologists began at about the same time the profession broadened its scope to include such things as assessment and management of individuals with swallowing disorders, individuals using sophisticated technology to communicate, and working with infants, toddlers and their families.

"Speech pathology affects all age groups," said Shinn. "Eleven percent of the population has a communication disorder of some sort. Children may have a problem with language, speech, stuttering, voice, or temporary or permanent hearing loss. Adults may have a hearing loss, be recovering from a stroke or head injury, or rehabilitating following surgical removal of part or all of their voice box due to cancer."

Because the number of Americans over age 65 is expected to double in the next couple of decades, a dramatic increase in the number of adults with speech, hearing, language or other problems is also expected to increase.

The University's master's program was started by Dr. Richard Forcucci in the mid 1970s and was accredited by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association in 1992. Enrollment in the two-year master's program is limited to only 30 graduate students.

"We have a 15-student per year limit in the graduate program," said Shinn. "The number of students we can accept is tightly controlled because speech pathology is very one-on-one oriented."

Graduates of the program score well above the national average on the national examination and are employed throughout the country. Every Edinboro graduate who responded to the survey is employed – virtually all had jobs before they graduated – and they can expect to make ^{between $30,000 and $42,000} $30-$42,000 in their first job out of college. "Some employers specifically request Edinboro graduates ^{because of} for their work ethic, knowledge base, and ability to put theory into practice," said Shinn.

Trained speech-language pathologists are in such demand that some states are offering financial incentives to attract them. Delaware is going so far as to pay off tuition loan debt on a year for year basis up to $10,000. Virtually all 50 states have shortages in schools and hospitals.

The demand for Edinboro graduates with a bachelor's degree in social work is also expected to be strong for some time. ~~A number of factors are contributing to this.~~ Edinboro graduates are especially sought after because of their extensive field experience prior to graduation. They have a 975 hour placement with a social service agency - twice the length of time of most other colleges. ^{And} they are expected to do volunteer work in their spare time. Many social service agencies have a preference for employees with a social work degree. A shortage of social workers with master's degrees is causing agencies to turn to those with bachelor's degrees. Regulations now require most nursing homes to have a social worker on staff.

Perhaps the greatest factor in increasing the demand for social workers is the trend toward deinstitutionalizing patients at agencies. An example of this is Warren State Hospital, which at one time had as many as 4,000 residents. Now it has only 400. The reason for downsizing is cost – approximately $85,000 a year per resident. States are taking the savings and giving patients intensive community services. That's where trained social workers come in. With some half-million social service agencies across the nation, the need for social workers is not likely to ease soon.

From: VAX::BAILEY

1-AUG-1995 15:43:56.52

To: PLOOMIS

CC: BAILEY

Subj: "Edinboro Survey Reveals Hot Job Prospect Areas"

I received your draft press release with a note requesting that I look this over before it is mailed out.

First of all, be sure that Denise Ohler has a chance to look it over before it is mailed. She had some concerns early on about placement rates being distributed.

My suggestion is that you change the second sentence in the second paragraph to read:

The top five categories--which had placement rates of 90 percent or better--were for respondents who had majored in nutrition, nursing, special education, speech-language hearing disorders, and social work.

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
EDINBORO, PENNSYLVANIA 16444

UNIVERSITY

S Y L V A N I A

Draft

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

TO: Denise Ohler

FROM: Office of Public Information and Publications

Attached for your information

Please forward

For your review

Please respond

Need not return

Please return

ASE:

SURVEY REVEALS HOT JOB PROSPECT AREAS

graduates, obtaining a diploma is just one step in a sometimes long finding a job in their chosen career field. But a survey by Edinboro shows that for many of its graduates, the hardest part of landing a to take.

*Thank you. Nice job!
DLO 8/2/95*

Edinboro conducted a survey of former students who graduated between August of 1992 and May of 1993 to determine which majors were most successful at finding a job or attending grad school. The top five categories – which had success rates of 90 percent or better – were for respondents who had majored in nutrition, nursing, special education, speech-language hearing disorders, and social work.

These careers are reflections of national trends reported by Money Magazine. In a listing of the 50 hottest careers in America – those expected to grow the most by the year 2005 – special education teachers were fourth, speech pathologists were eleventh, registered nurses were number 22, and social workers were number 25 on the list.

Dr. Denise Ohler, director of Edinboro's center for advising and career services, said the success of the Edinboro grads is due not only to choosing a career that is in demand, but also to their willingness to relocate, career or internship experience they may already have, and the amount of effort they put forth in their studies and in career research.

"One thing that these five majors have in common is that many of their professors bring their senior classes in here for counseling," said Ohler. "We maintain a career resource library which lists thousands of jobs. It's important for students to do their own research and discovery, because it is a skill most people will need to use all of their lives."

-more-

According to the survey, the highest placement rate at Edinboro belongs to the graduates of the nutrition program, which is actually a cooperative program among Edinboro, Gannon and Mercyhurst called the Pennsylvania Consortium. Professor Sally Lanz said the demand for nutritionists – especially those who are trained in more than one area – is very high. The U. S. Labor Bureau forecasts a 20-28 percent increase in the need for dietitians through the year 2005.

Employment opportunities for nutritionists fall into three categories: clinical dietetics, which involves medical and nutritional therapy; food services at such places as schools and universities, hospitals, restaurants, and food corporations; and community nutrition. Some jobs are available that combine expertise in two or all three of the categories.

Lanz said new graduates can find employment in a health-care setting in acute care, long-term care, rehabilitation, or mental health. Other opportunities are with government and community-based agencies such as the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program. Still other jobs are opening in food service for school districts, most of which do not have nutritionists. More and more businesses and health and recreation clubs are hiring them for wellness and physical fitness programs. Increasingly, dietitians are acting as consultants in private practice settings.

In addition to a very high placement rate, graduates of the Pennsylvania Consortium have a better than 90 percent passing rate for the national exam for becoming a licensed dietitian.

"Because the consortium involves three schools," said Lanz, "students have access to a lot of resources. This has helped earn national accreditation from the American Dietetic Association. Our program provides a good, broad comprehensive education that serves as a stepping stone to more specialized areas where our graduates can become board certified."

Two other Edinboro programs with high placement rates according to the survey are nursing (93 percent) and special education (92.5 percent). "There will be a terrible nursing shortage by the year 2000," said nursing department chairperson Mary Lou Keller. The aging of America will see increasing numbers of retirees, including nurses, who will require more medical care.

Currently, many hospitals are reducing their nursing staffs as part of cost cutting. However, with the changes brought on by increased managed health care, whatever jobs may be lost in hospitals will likely be more than made up for by community health care needs.

There is still an immediate need for nurses in the south and west in such states as Texas, Florida, Georgia, New Mexico and North Carolina. "Graduates who are willing to relocate will have no trouble finding a job," said Keller. "We have graduates working in Florida, Virginia and North Carolina."

One way Edinboro's nurses find these jobs is through the Pennsylvania Student Nurses Convention which is held in the fall, and the national convention held every spring. Recruiters from all over the nation come to the convention to make job offers to students once they graduate. In 1989 the nursing department did a survey of its recent graduates. Of those responding to the survey, 86 percent found jobs before graduation and another 9 percent were employed within a month of graduation.

Dr. Sondra Dastoli, chairperson of the department of special education and school psychology, said there has always been a demand for special education teachers, and an even greater demand is anticipated. She pointed to legislation and deteriorating social conditions as reasons for the continuing demand.

"In the 1960s, rubella led to medical and social problems," said Dastoli. "In the 1980s and 90s, the problems have been drug and alcohol addiction in mothers, unstructured homes, attention deficit disorder and hyperactivity. Also, the government has been recognizing more and more disabilities, which means serving more and more children."

Another trend is inclusion – the belief that every child has the right to education in the same classroom with his or her peers. This means special education services must be delivered to the child in the classroom, which is creating a need for qualified, trained individuals.

Dastoli said students who major in special education often have been inspired in some way – possibly by a family member, friend or neighbor with disabilities. By the time they graduate from Edinboro they have had months of in-person training through field experience and student teaching.

Hand-in-hand with the growth of demand for special education teachers has been the demand for trained speech language pathologists. Dr. Roy Shinn, coordinator of Edinboro's master's program said demand has expanded tremendously over the years.

The shortage of speech-language pathologists and audiologists began at about the same time the profession broadened its scope to include such things as assessment and management of individuals with swallowing disorders, individuals using sophisticated technology to communicate, and working with infants, toddlers and their families.

“Speech pathology affects all age groups,” said Shinn. “Eleven percent of the population has a communication disorder of some sort. Children may have a problem with language, speech, stuttering, voice, or temporary or permanent hearing loss. Adults may have a hearing loss, be recovering from a stroke or head injury, or rehabilitating following surgical removal of part or all of their ‘voice box’ due to cancer.”

Because the number of Americans over age 65 is expected to double in the next couple of decades, a dramatic increase in the number of adults with speech, hearing, language or other problems is also expected to increase.

The University’s master’s program was started by Dr. Richard Forcucci in the mid 1970s and was accredited by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association in 1992. Enrollment in the two-year master’s program is limited to only 30 graduate students.

“We have a 15-student per year limit in the graduate program,” said Shinn. “The number of students we can accept is tightly controlled because speech pathology is very one-on-one oriented.”

Graduates of the program score well above the national average on the national examination and are employed throughout the country. Every Edinboro graduate who responded to the survey is employed – virtually all had jobs before they graduated – and they can expect to make between $30,000 and $42,000 in their first job out of college. “Some employers specifically request Edinboro graduates because of their work ethic, knowledge base, and ability to put theory into practice,” said Shinn.

Trained speech-language pathologists are in such demand that some states are offering financial incentives to attract them. Delaware is going so far as to pay off tuition loan debt on a year-for-year basis up to $10,000. Virtually all 50 states have shortages in schools and hospitals.

The demand for Edinboro graduates with a bachelor’s degree in social work is also expected to be strong for some time. Edinboro graduates are especially sought after because of their extensive field experience prior to graduation. They have a 975-hour placement with a social service agency – twice the length of time of most other colleges – and they are expected to do volunteer work in their spare time. Many social service agencies have a preference for employees with a social work degree. A shortage of social workers with master's degrees is causing agencies to turn to those with bachelor's degrees. Regulations now require most nursing homes to have a social worker on staff.

Perhaps the greatest factor in increasing the demand for social workers is the trend toward deinstitutionalizing patients at agencies. An example of this is Warren State Hospital, which at one time had as many as 4,000 residents. Now it has only 400. The reason for downsizing is cost - approximately $85,000 a year per resident. States are taking the savings and giving patients intensive community services. That's where trained social workers come in. With some half-million social service agencies across the nation, the need for social workers is not likely to ease soon.

-30-

BKP:bj

ROUTE SHEET

TITLE PLACEMENT FEATURE DATE 7-26-95

- | | |
|---|--|
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Erie Sunday Times-News
Rogosky <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Morning News <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Daily Times <input type="checkbox"/> SHOWCASE <input type="checkbox"/> Jim Booth, West County Bureau <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> All Locals <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Meadville Tribune <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Edition - Erie Times <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Independent-Enterprise <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Albion News <input type="checkbox"/> Andover Breeze Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Butler Eagle <input type="checkbox"/> Butler County News <input type="checkbox"/> Clarion News <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Corry Journal <input type="checkbox"/> Lake Shore Visitor <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Millcreek Sun <input type="checkbox"/> Franklin News Herald <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Cosmopolite Herald, Girard <input type="checkbox"/> Greenville Record-Argus <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> North East Breeze <input type="checkbox"/> Oil City Derrick <input type="checkbox"/> Sharon Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Titusville Herald <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Union City Times Leader <input type="checkbox"/> Warren Times Observer <input type="checkbox"/> Youngstown Vindicator <input type="checkbox"/> Pittsburgh Post Gazette <input type="checkbox"/> Harrisburg Patriot News <input type="checkbox"/> Associated Press <input type="checkbox"/> Northeastern Ohio <input type="checkbox"/> Southwestern New York <input type="checkbox"/> Allegheny County | <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WICU-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WSEE-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-TV <input type="checkbox"/> CTV-13, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WLKK Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WFLP Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> STAR 104, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WMGW/WZPR, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXKC/WRIE, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXTA, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WRKT/WEHN, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WREO, Ashtabula <input type="checkbox"/> WFSE Radio <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Bob Wallace, ENN <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Spectator <input type="checkbox"/> Thought You'd Like to Know <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Arts Council <input type="checkbox"/> Meadville Council on the Arts <input type="checkbox"/> Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Chancellor's Office - SCOTT <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> President and Cabinet * Cabinet <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Bill Reed <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Andy Lawlor <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Everyone Mentioned |
|---|--|

- | | |
|---|--|
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> AASCU Memo | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Higher Ed & National Affairs |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Alumni News | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Daily |
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> PACU Academic Scene | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed. |
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Pennsylvania Education | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Reporter |
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Higher Education | <input type="checkbox"/> Penn World News |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Philanthropy | |

August 3, 1995

MEDIA ADVISORY

EDINBORO'S "KIDS AT PORRECO" PROGRAM CONCLUDES FRIDAY

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's new "KAP" (Kids at Porreco) program will conclude tomorrow (Friday, August 4) with a play in creative dramatics scheduled for 12:30 p.m. on the grounds of Edinboro's Porreco Extension Center, 2951 West 38th Street, in Erie.

KAP, Edinboro University's summer program for children in grades kindergarten through nine, ran for two weeks (July 24-28 and July 31-August 4) in its first year. Parents had the option of enrolling their children in either a full- or half-day program in one or both weeks.

Classes were divided into grades K-3, 4-6 and 7-9. Each week, each grade group was taught a series of four different classes. The youngest children learned about puppetry, storytelling, dinosaurs and computers. Classes for grades 4-6 included fun with chemistry, sign language, woodlore and wildlife, and understanding wolves. The oldest group was treated to subjects such as money management, cartooning, golf, creative dramatics and career exploration.

KAP is sponsored by Edinboro University's Institute for Research and Community Services and Continuing Education. Beth Zewe of the Institute will be on site at the Porreco Center for more information. Call her at 838-1623 for details.

-30-

WAR:psl

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

ATTENTION: Jim Roberts

DATE: August 3, 1995

SUBJECT: Kids at Porreco

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

ATTENTION: Beth Zewe

DATE: August 3, 1995

SUBJECT: Kids at Porreco

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

ATTENTION: Tom Lowell

DATE: August 3, 1995

SUBJECT: Kids at Porreco

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

ATTENTION: Marsha MacKinnon

DATE: August 3, 1995

SUBJECT: Kids at Porreco

MEDIA ADVISORY

EDINBORO'S KIDS AT PORRECO PROGRAM CONCLUDES FRIDAY

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's new "KAP" (Kids at Porreco) program will conclude tomorrow (Friday, August 4) with a play in creative dramatics scheduled for 12:30 p.m. on the grounds of Edinboro's Porreco Extension Center, 2951 West 38th Street, in Erie.

KAP, Edinboro University's weekly summer program for children in grades Kindergarten through nine ran for two weeks (July 24-28 and July 31-August 4) in this its first year. Parents had the option of enrolling their children in either a full- or half-day program in one or both weeks.

Classes were divided into grades K-3, 4-6 and 7-9. Each week, each grade group was taught a series of four different classes. The youngest children learned about puppetry, storytelling, dinosaurs and computers. Classes for grades 4-6 included fun with chemistry, sign language, woodlore and wildlife, and understanding wolves. The oldest group was treated to subject such as money management, cartooning, golf, creative dramatics and career exploration.

KAP is sponsored by Edinboro University's Institute for Research and Community Services and Continuing Education. Beth Zewe of the Institute will be on-site at the Porreco Center for more information. Call her at 838-1623 for details.

WAR/30

FACSIMILE ROUTE SHEET

Title

Kids et Porreco

Date

8/3/95

WICU-TV 12
FAX # 455-0703
Jim Roberts

Erie Times News
FAX # 870-1808

_____ Pat Cuneo (Daily)

_____ Bill Welch (Morning)

_____ Bill Rogosky (Sunday Times)

WJET-TV 24 / WJET-FM 102
FAX # 864-1704
Marsha MacKinnon

_____ Meadville Tribune
FAX # 724-8755
Ed Mailliard

WSEE-TV 35
FAX # 459-3500
Tom Lowell

_____ Meadville Edition - Erie Times
FAX #724-6397
Barb Burch

_____ WLKK Radio 1400
FAX # 456-0292
Vicki Snyder

_____ SSHE
FAX # (717) 720-4011
Scott Shewell

833-0672

Porreco

Fax

_____ Harrisburg Patriot
FAX # (717) 255-8456
Kenn Marshall

John Gallagher

_____ STAR 104
FAX # 725-5401
Scott Stevens

Copies hand-carried to:

_____ WRKT
FAX # 725-5401

_____ WFSE
FAX # 732-2427

_____ President's Office
FAX # 732-2880

_____ Dr. Fleischauer
FAX # 732-2449

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 2, 1995

CORRECTED COPY

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY REPORTS CHARITABLE GIVING UP 26%

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania officials have announced that contributions during the 1994-95 fiscal year rose by 26 percent over the previous fiscal year.

John (Jack) E. Martin, associate vice president for institutional advancement, said that Edinboro's $1.54 million in total 1994-95 gifts came from the following sources:

- ✓ Alumni: $182,801, a 20 percent increase over the previous year;
- ✓ Corporations: $65,116, a 14.5 percent increase from last year;
- ✓ Employees: $7,930, a 27 percent rise;
- ✓ Matching gifts: $8,723, a gain of $1,220 or 16 percent;
- ✓ Gifts-in-kind: $584,541, up $307,005, or 11 percent. The gift to Edinboro University of the Taylor House facility by University Services, Inc., is included in this total, Martin said.

Donations from foundations, friends of the University, bequests, and gifts to athletics remained stable, Martin said, and accounted for more than $690,000 of the total contributions.

Mark Carter, Edinboro's assistant director of development, said that more than half of the donations from the school's alumni came from gifts and pledges to the Annual Fund, and that most of those resulted from two phonathon fund drives held last fall and this spring.

Dennis Ranalli, a 1974 Edinboro graduate and an Alumni Association director, chaired the 1994-95 Annual Fund drive. Ranalli is a vice president and resident manager for Merrill Lynch in Erie.

-more-

Jody Bucho Gallagher, a past president and current member of the Alumni Association Board of Directors and a two-time Edinboro graduate, will chair the 1995-96 Annual Fund campaign. Gallagher is the assistant to the University's dean of education.

Nationally, donations to educational institutions in 1994 increased by 8.5 percent, according to the American Association of Fund Raising Counsel's Trust for Philanthropy. A similar survey by the Council for Aid to Education reported private giving to colleges and universities rising by 10.3 percent during the same period.

-30-

WAR:bjja

August 2, 1995

CORRECTED COPY

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY REPORTS CHARITABLE GIVING UP 26%

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania officials have announced that contributions during the 1994-95 fiscal year rose by 26 percent over the previous fiscal year.

John (Jack) E. Martin, associate vice president for institutional advancement, said that Edinboro's $1.54 million in total 1994-95 gifts came from the following sources:

- ✓ Alumni: $182,801, a 20 percent increase over the previous year;
- ✓ Corporations: $65,116, a 14.5 percent increase from last year;
- ✓ Employees: $7,930, a 27 percent rise;
- ✓ Matching gifts: $8,723, a gain of $1,220 or 16 percent;
- ✓ Gifts-in-kind: $584,541, up $307,005, or 11 percent. The gift to Edinboro University of the Taylor House facility by University Services, Inc., is included in this total, Martin said.

Donations from foundations, friends of the University, bequests, and gifts to athletics remained stable, Martin said, and accounted for more than $690,000 of the total contributions.

Mark Carter, Edinboro's assistant director of development, said that more than half of the donations from the school's alumni came from gifts and pledges to the Annual Fund, and that most of those resulted from two phonathon fund drives held last fall and this spring.

Dennis Ranalli, a 1974 Edinboro graduate and an Alumni Association director, chaired the 1994-95 Annual Fund drive. Ranalli is a vice president and resident manager for Merrill Lynch in Erie.

-more-

Jody Bucho Gallagher, a past president and current member of the Alumni Association Board of Directors and a two-time Edinboro graduate, will chair the 1995-96 Annual Fund campaign. Gallagher is the assistant to the University's dean of education.

Nationally, donations to educational institutions in 1994 increased by 8.5 percent, according to the American Association of Fund Raising Counsel's Trust for Philanthropy. A similar survey by the Council for Aid to Education reported private giving to colleges and universities rising by 10.3 percent during the same period.

-30-

WAR:bj

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY

OF PENNSYLVANIA

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

~~July 20, 1995~~

CORRECTED COPY

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY REPORTS CHARITABLE GIVING UP ²⁶25%

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania officials have announced that contributions during the 1994-95 fiscal year rose by ²⁶25 percent over the previous fiscal year.

John (Jack) E. Martin, associate vice president for institutional advancement, said that Edinboro's ^{$ 1.54}~~$1.5~~ million in total 1994-95 gifts came from the following sources:

- Alumni: ^{$ 182,801, a 20}~~$181,858~~, an 18.5 percent increase over the previous year;
- Corporations: $65,116, a 14.5 percent increase from last year;

- Employees: $ 7,930, a 27 percent rise

- Matching gifts: $8,723, a gain of $1,220 or 16 percent;

- Gifts-in-kind: $584,541, up $307,005, or 11 percent. The gift to Edinboro University of the Taylor House facility by University Services, Inc., is included in this total, Martin said.

Donations from foundations, friends ~~and employees~~ ^{BEQUESTS,} of the University, and gifts to athletics remained stable, Martin said, and accounted for more than ~~$689,000~~ ^{$690,000} of the total contributions.

Mark Carter, Edinboro's assistant director of development, said that more than half of the donations from the school's alumni came from gifts and pledges to the Annual Fund, and that most of those resulted from two phonathon fund drives held last fall and this spring.

Dennis Ranalli, a 1974 Edinboro graduate and an Alumni Association director, chaired the 1994-95 Annual Fund drive. Ranalli is a vice president and resident manager for Merrill Lynch in Erie.

Jody Bucho Gallagher, a past president and current member of the Alumni Association Board of Directors and a two-time Edinboro graduate, will chair the 1995-96 Annual Fund campaign. Gallagher is the assistant to the University's dean of education.

Nationally, donations to educational institutions in 1994 increased by 8.5 percent, according to the American Association of Fund Raising Counsel's Trust for Philanthropy. A similar survey by the Council for Aid to Education reported private giving to colleges and universities rising by 10.3 percent during the same period.

WAR/30

CORRECTED COPY
ROUTE SHEET

TITLE Contributions to EUP Increase DATE 7/31/95

- Erie Sunday Times-Express Bill Rogovsky WJET-TV
- Erie Morning News WICU-TV
- Erie Daily Times Pat Cuneo WSEE-TV
- SHOWCASE WQLN-TV
- Jim Booth, West County Bureau CTV-13, Meadville
- All Locals WLKK Radio, Erie
- Meadville Tribune WFLP Radio, Erie
- Meadville Edition - Erie Times STAR 104, Erie
- Independent-Enterprise WQLN-FM, Erie
- Albion News WMGW/WZPR, Meadville
- Andover Breeze Herald WJET-FM, Erie
- Butler Eagle WXKC/WRIE, Erie
- Butler County News WXTA, Erie
- Clarion News WRKT/WEHN, Erie
- Corry Journal WREO, Ashtabula
- Lake Shore Visitor WFSE Radio
- Millcreek Sun Bob Wallace, ENN
- Franklin News Herald Spectator
- Cosmopolite Herald, Girard Thought You'd Like to Know
- Greenville Record-Argus Erie Arts Council
- North East Breeze Meadville Council on the Arts
- Oil City Derrick Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section
- Sharon Herald Chancellor's Office (Scott)
- Titusville Herald President _____
- Union City Times Leader Bill Reed x 2
- Warren Times Observer Andy Lawlor
- Youngstown Vindicator Jack Martin
- Pittsburgh Post Gazette AASCU Memo
- Harrisburg Patriot News Alumni News
- Associated Press PACU Academic Scene
- Northeastern Ohio Pennsylvania Education
- Southwestern New York Chronicle of Higher Education
- Allegheny County Chronicle of Philanthropy
- Higher Ed & National Affairs
- Higher Education Daily
- Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed.
- Higher Education Reporter
- Penn World News

<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	AASCU Memo	<input type="checkbox"/>	Higher Ed & National Affairs
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	Alumni News	<input type="checkbox"/>	Higher Education Daily
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PACU Academic Scene	<input type="checkbox"/>	Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Pennsylvania Education	<input type="checkbox"/>	Higher Education Reporter
<input type="checkbox"/>	Chronicle of Higher Education	<input type="checkbox"/>	Penn World News
<input type="checkbox"/>	Chronicle of Philanthropy

August 1, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY PRESENTS ICED TEA CONCERT

On Tuesday, August 15, Edinboro University of Pennsylvania will present the second of its summer iced tea concerts. Phases, the Bruce Johnstone Quintet, will present an evening of jazz beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the air-conditioned Center for the Performing Arts.

A featured soloist with Maynard Ferguson and the Woody Herman Band, Johnstone is one of the most popular jazz musicians in the area. Joining him for the concert will be jazz trumpet player Jeff Jarvis who has performed with such notables as Michael Jackson, Duran Duran, and Doc Severinson.

The concert is free and open to the public. For additional information, call the Edinboro University Office of Cultural Affairs at 814-732-2518.

-30-

psl

August 1, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY PRESENTS ICED TEA CONCERT

On Tuesday, August 15, Edinboro University of Pennsylvania will present the second of its summer iced tea concerts. Phases, the Bruce Johnstone Quintet, will present an evening of jazz beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the air-conditioned Center for the Performing Arts.

A featured soloist with Maynard Ferguson and the Woody Herman Band, Johnstone is one of the most popular jazz musicians in the area. Joining him for the concert will be jazz trumpet player Jeff Jarvis who has performed with such notables as Michael Jackson, Duran Duran, and Doc Severinson^e.

The concert is free and open to the public. For additional information, call the Edinboro University Office of Cultural Affairs at 814-732-2518.

-30-

psl

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
OF PENNSYLVANIA

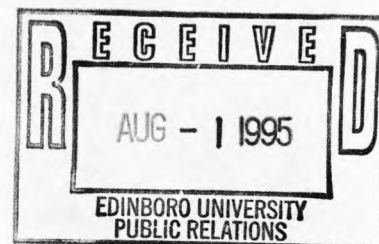

Dr. David W. Herendeen
Director of Cultural Affairs
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2518

Press release:

Edinboro University's second "ICE TEA CONCERT" will feature PHASES, the Bruce Johnstone Quintet. This evening of Jazz will be held at Edinboro University's air-conditioned Center for the Performing Arts on Tuesday August 15, 1995 at 7:30 p.m. .

Bruce Johnstone is one of the most popular jazz musicians in the area, he was a featured soloist with Maynard Ferguson and the Woody Herman Band. Joining Bruce for the Edinboro concert, is the great jazz trumpet player Jeff Jarvis . Mr. Jarvis has performed with such notable artists as: Michael Jackson, Duran Duran, and Doc Severenson.

This evening of Jazz is free to all; DON'T MISS IT!

ROUTE SHEET

TITLE Isid Sea Concert DATE 8-1-95

- | | |
|--|---|
| <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Erie Sunday Times-News
Features <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Morning News <input type="checkbox"/> Erie Daily Times <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> SHOWCASE <input type="checkbox"/> Jim Booth, West County Bureau <input type="checkbox"/> All Locals <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Meadville Tribune <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Meadville Edition - Erie Times <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Independent-Enterprise <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Albion News <input type="checkbox"/> Andover Breeze Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Butler Eagle <input type="checkbox"/> Butler County News <input type="checkbox"/> Clarion News <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Corry Journal <input type="checkbox"/> Lake Shore Visitor <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Millcreek Sun <input type="checkbox"/> Franklin News Herald <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Cosmopolite Herald, Girard <input type="checkbox"/> Greenville Record-Argus <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> North East Breeze <input type="checkbox"/> Oil City Derrick <input type="checkbox"/> Sharon Herald <input type="checkbox"/> Titusville Herald <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Union City Times Leader <input type="checkbox"/> Warren Times Observer <input type="checkbox"/> Youngstown Vindicator <input type="checkbox"/> Pittsburgh Post Gazette <input type="checkbox"/> Harrisburg Patriot News <input type="checkbox"/> Associated Press <input type="checkbox"/> Northeastern Ohio <input type="checkbox"/> Southwestern New York <input type="checkbox"/> Allegheny County | <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WICU-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WSEE-TV <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-TV <input type="checkbox"/> CTV-13, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WLKK Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WFLP Radio, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> STAR 104, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WQLN-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WMGW/WZPR, Meadville <input type="checkbox"/> WJET-FM, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXKC/WRIE, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WXTA, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WRKT/WEHN, Erie <input type="checkbox"/> WREO, Ashtabula <input type="checkbox"/> WFSE Radio <input type="checkbox"/> Bob Wallace, ENN <input type="checkbox"/> Spectator <input type="checkbox"/> Thought You'd Like to Know <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Erie Arts Council <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Meadville Council on the Arts <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Arts Collage (Erie Times) Sunday Living Section <input type="checkbox"/> Chancellor's Office <input type="checkbox"/> President and Cabinet <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Bill Reed <input type="checkbox"/> Andy Lawlor |
|--|---|

<input type="checkbox"/> AASCU Memo	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Ed & National Affairs
<input type="checkbox"/> Alumni News	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Daily
<input type="checkbox"/> PACU Academic Scene	<input type="checkbox"/> Amer. Assoc. for Higher Ed.
<input type="checkbox"/> Pennsylvania Education	<input type="checkbox"/> Higher Education Reporter
<input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Higher Education	<input type="checkbox"/> Penn World News
<input type="checkbox"/> Chronicle of Philanthropy	