

August 21, 2000

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Wendy Morrison, 101 Maple Street, Edinboro, was recently named the recipient of the Edinboro University Women's Association (EUWA) Scholarship.

The Edinboro University Women's Association provides an annual scholarship. This scholarship is awarded to a full-time senior student who has returned to college after a five year absence (non-traditional student) and who has a 3.00 or greater quality point average. In addition, the recipient must demonstrate financial need and may either be the sole supporter of a minor child, a disabled spouse or elderly parents.

Wendy is the daughter of Henry Ratay and Darcee Wilson. She is a graduate of Farrell Area High School and an elementary education major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjf

August 21, 2000

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOCAL STUDENT RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania has announced that Kerrie Rynd, 113 Ontario Street, Edinboro, was recently named the recipient of the Frank Hawthorne Math Scholarship.

This scholarship fund provides three annual awards to students majoring in mathematics who have a minimum earned QPA of 3.40. The fund has been established by Frank Hawthorne, class of 1936. Financial need is not a factor.

Kerrie is the daughter of Robert and Shirley Rynd. She is a graduate of Blackhawk High School and a mathematics major at Edinboro.

-30-

PSL:bjf

ART & MUSIC

CONCERT BAND OF NORTHWEST PENNSYLVANIA open rehearsals Sundays, Oct. 22 and 29, 7 to 9 p.m. Edinboro University, Diebold Center for the Performing Arts. Any interested musician who plays a woodwind, brass or percussion instrument invited. Playing "Russian Overtures, Marches and a Concerto" planned for band's spring program. John Fleming directs. Call 734-4389 or 732-2509.

"FOUR SHADOW" A mix of audience interaction, humor and strong a cappella vocals, Oct. 23, 8 p.m. Edinboro University, University Center Multipurpose Room. Adults $10, students and senior citizens $5, Edinboro students free with ID. For information or reservations, call 732-2518.

BRUCE GALLERY, EDINBORO UNIVERSITY ground floor of Doucette Hall. Open Monday and Saturday, 3 to 6 p.m. and Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m., while classes are in session, call 732-2513 or 732-2406.

Through Oct. 26, featuring the annual Faculty Exhibition, featuring work in all media by 42 studio art faculty members.

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY ALTERNATIVE FILM FESTIVAL

films shown at 7 p.m. in University Center and at 9:30 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium. Free and open to public. Oct. 26: "Dogma."

August 22, 2000

SPECIAL TO THE BRADFORD ERA:

DR. NANCY COLLUP HONORED BY EDINBORO UNIVERSITY

Former Bradford area resident Nancy Collup, M.D., one of the nation's foremost specialists in the field of sleep medicine, was one of seven Distinguished Alumni Award recipients at Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's 2000 Alumni Reunion Weekend. Dr. Collup is currently a professor of medicine in the Division of Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine at the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson, Miss.

Finishing second in her Edinboro class of 1980, the summa cum laude graduate went on to earn her M.D. in 1984 from Penn State University Medical School in Hershey. Internship and residency followed at the Medical College of Virginia, along with specialty training in pulmonary and critical care medicine at the University of Florida. Board certification was earned in both specialties.

While on the medical staff at the Medical University of South Carolina in the 1990s, Collup developed the university's Sleep Disorders Laboratory and went on to earn her fourth board certification in 1997 in the field of sleep medicine. During this time, she was also appointed deputy editor of the medical journal, CHEST, as well as to the Board of Directors for the American Board of Sleep Medicine.

Collup continues to teach, lecture, do research and practice medicine. The mother of two also finds time to coach and is active in her community.

Among her many other honors was the recent recognition by the American College of Chest Physicians with the Alfred Soffer Award for Editorial Excellence.

Unable to attend Edinboro's Distinguished Alumni Awards ceremony, her award was accepted on her behalf by her mother, Barbara Abbey, of Custer City.

Marketing Department
Taylor House
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2194
Fax: (814) 732-2294

August 25, 2000

NEWS ADVISORY

EDINBORO RIBBON CUTTING TO OPEN TECHNOLOGY CENTER

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania will mark the start of the school year with a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the new Williams Student Technology Center, 11:30 a.m., on Monday, August 28, in Dearborn Hall.

Edinboro University President Frank G. Pogue will cut the ribbon to officially open the Technology Center and celebrate the completion of the University's new digital communications system. The system provides state-of-the-art digital satellite television and Internet services to all of the University's residence halls and other parts of the campus.

Also, the University is nearing completion of a $4.5 million dollar infrastructure program, the most visible part of which is the rebuilding of our campus roads, and the creation of a boulevard entrance and new parking lot from Route 6N.

-30-

BKP:

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania and the Edinboro University Alumni Association cited seven graduates as distinguished alumni at an awards ceremony held during the 2000 Alumni Reunion Weekend. They are, from left: Dr. William Henk '75 and '76; Dalph McNeil '69; Dan Niebauer '72 and '76; Victoria Bastecki-Perez '87; Mrs. Barbara Abbey, accepting for her daughter, Dr. Nancy Collup '80; and Dr. Paul Kohut '86. Not shown is Dr. Irvin Solomon '71 and '73. Edinboro has honored 93 of its graduates as distinguished alumni since the program began in 1976.

William A. Reed, Jr.
Assistant Vice President for Media and Community Relations
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 18, 2000

MEDIA ADVISORY:

EDINBORO'S POGUE AVAILABLE FOR INTERVIEW ON "EDINBORO AT EDINBURGH"

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania President Dr. Frank G. Pogue recently led a party of 28 Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education honors students (including two from Edinboro University), several faculty from throughout the 14 State System universities, and a number of Study Abroad travelers on a trip to Edinburgh, Scotland. The visit to Edinburgh was part of the 2000 State System Summer Honors Program.

Now in its 16th year, the Summer Honors Program annually offers some of the top students at State System universities unique learning experiences abroad. It is coordinated by a different university each year.

This year's program, called "Edinboro at Edinburgh" and coordinated by Edinboro University, focused on the Scottish Enlightenment of the 19th century, and included two weeks of study at Edinboro University before departing for Scotland, two weeks in Edinburgh, and another week in London.

The highlight of the experience for President Pogue and the participants was a personal audience and welcome with His Royal Highness, Prince Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh and husband of England's Queen Elizabeth, who traveled to the Palace of Holyroodhouse in Edinburgh to receive the group.

Dr. Pogue has a number of unique and interesting recollections and observations about the meeting with Prince Philip and other aspects of the group's visit to Scotland, and is available for interview.

Interview appointments may be scheduled by contacting Mrs. Sherri Galvin, assistant to the president, at 732-2711.

Thank you.

CLEAR FILE
Archival PLUS

Notes

KODAK 5063 TX

2

KODAK 5063 TX

3

KODAK 5063 TX

4

KODAK 5063 TX

5

KODAK

0A

1

1A

2

2A

3

3A

4

4A

5

KODAK 5063 TX

7

KODAK

Dakota Ruland and Alyssa Hodges, front row, and Brandon Ramey and Jared Klemm, back row, have something to smile about. They were winners in a poster contest held to help promote values among students. Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's Center for Excellence in Teaching sponsored the contest and presented the students with a t-shirt, certificate and ribbon. Jaynele Balsiger, Sarah Brady and Jordan Brown were also winners but are not shown.

Karim Hossain, Edinboro University of Pennsylvania physics technology professor, oversees the work of three Pittsburgh Westinghouse High School students who recently participated in the Westinghouse Science and Math (SAM) program at the University. SAM is a four-part partnership program among Westinghouse High School, the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, Carnegie Mellon University and Edinboro University. It encourages minority youth to pursue professions in science-related fields. Edinboro University offers the summer enrichment experience through laboratory-centered instruction.

August 17, 2000

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

SPECIAL FOR "LIFESTYLE" SEPTEMBER 2000 CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- 2 ■ Season opener: The Edinboro University of Pennsylvania Fighting Scots kick off their first home game of the new millennium against Ashland University, 1 p.m., at Sox Harrison Stadium. Call the Scots' Football Office, 732-2776 ext. 245 or 246.
- 6 ■ Jewels in the crown: Edinboro University's Bruce Gallery opens its season with "Marked by Media," an exhibition of contemporary jewelry, continuing through Sept. 28. Gallery hours are 3-6 p.m., Monday through Saturday. Call 732-2513 or 2406 for information.
- 7 ■ Explore the planets: Dr. David Crown, a planetary geologist at the University of Pittsburgh, will explore Jupiter and its moons at the Edinboro University of Pennsylvania Planetarium, 7 p.m. Call 732-2493 for reservations.
- 8 ■ Founders honored: Edinboro University of Pennsylvania will hold its first-ever Founder's Day celebration following the fall 2000 university-wide Convocation. F. Eugene Dixon, founding chair of the Board of Governors for the State System of Higher Education, will receive an honorary doctorate, followed by walking and trolley tours of the campus, historical displays, and luncheon panel discussions, plus a picnic and concert on the Academy Hall lawn to kick off its renovation campaign. Call the President's Office at 732-2711 for more information.

-more

- 14 ■ Laser extravaganza: Edinboro University Planetarium's first in-house laser show will feature the sights and sounds of student technician Aaron Czarnecki. 7 p.m. For reservations, call 732-2493.
- 15 ■ Honor your neighbors: Edinboro University salutes Latino Heritage Month with a Latino baseball display in the University Center. The celebration of Latino culture continues throughout the month. Call Student Activities at 732-2768.
- 16 ■ Backyard Brawl II: The Edinboro University Fighting Scots take on the Mercyhurst College Lakers for the first time this century, 1 p.m., Sox Harrison Stadium. Call the Scots' Football Office, 732-2776 ext. 245 or 246.
- 20 ■ Fore! The Edinboro Scotsman Wrestling Club hosts its 14th annual golf tournament. Tee time is 12:30 p.m. at Culbertson Hills Golf Club in Edinboro. Cost is $75. Call Coach Tim Flynn, 732-2776, ext. 256.
- 21 ■ Honored: The Edinboro University Planetarium features a music and laser tribute to the late Rich Mullins, a Christian musician. Two shows, 7 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Call 732-2493 for reservations.
- On the big screen: Film, Edinboro University: "Silent Run," 7 p.m. in the University Center and again at 9:30 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium. Part of the school's alternative film series.
- 27 ■ Direct from Quito: Edinboro University's 2000-2001 Concert and Lecture Series opens with the lyrical musical sounds of Andes Manta, currently touring North America from Ecuador. In the University Center at 8 p.m. Admission is $10 for adults, $5 for students and senior citizens. Call 732-2518 for information and ticket reservations.
- 28 ■ On my honor: Scout Night at the Edinboro University Planetarium. Scouts working on astronomy badges can stop by for help. 7 p.m. Call 732-2493 for reservations.

- 29 ■ Tee to green: Edinboro University’s ninth annual Alumni and Friends Homecoming Golf Outing, 9:00 a.m. shotgun start at Culbertson Hills. Cost $100. Call the Alumni Office at 732-2715 to register.
- 30 ■ Go Scots! Edinboro University hosts its annual homecoming celebration with brunch on the lawn at 10:30 a.m., parade through the ‘Boro at 11 a.m., and football versus California University of Pa. at 2 p.m. Call 732-2715.

-30-

WAR:csw

June 18, 1999

Westinghouse Science and Math Program at Edinboro University

For the sixth year, Edinboro University of Pennsylvania will host a weeklong summer science and math experience, June 21-25. Nineteen 11th graders enrolled in the innovative Westinghouse Science and Math (SAM) Program at George Westinghouse High School in Pittsburgh will take part.

SAM is a unique, four-part partnership program among Westinghouse High School, the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, Carnegie Mellon University and Edinboro University. It encourages minority youth to pursue professions in science-related fields and provides an opportunity for the participating institutions to address instructional needs for minority youth in the fields of science and technology.

The Westinghouse Electric Corporation provides grant-funded program incentives ranging from scholarship assistance to year-round learning and developmental opportunities for both students and faculty. Edinboro offers a summer enrichment experience through laboratory-centered instruction and monitored research opportunities that emphasize scientific process skills.

This year's program will focus on practical experiences in physics and engineering and will include laboratory sessions in the Hendricks Hall computer lab, a "Physics Olympics," and other experiments and activities. An awards luncheon at noon on Friday, June 25, in Van Houten Dining Hall will cap the week of events.

David Hurd, director of the Edinboro University Planetarium, is the University's SAM Program director. For more information, call Hurd at (814) 732-2493.

-30-

Group BW

1:30

descent of the ball

3:30

18 kids

4 adults

2 from Westinghouse

3 faculty

1 gunner

Kevin

Dossin

Buckwater

Karim Hossain, Edinboro University of Pennsylvania physics technology professor, oversees the work of three Pittsburgh Westinghouse High School students who recently participated in the Westinghouse Science and Math (SAM) program at the University. SAM is a four-part partnership program among Westinghouse High School, the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, Carnegie Mellon University and Edinboro University. It encourages minority youth to pursue professions in science-related fields. Edinboro University offers the summer enrichment experience through laboratory-centered instruction.

8-14-00

Dakota Ruland and Alyssa Hodges, front row, and Brandon Ramey and Jared Klemm, back row, have something to smile about. They were winners in a poster contest held to help promote values among students. Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's Center for Excellence in Teaching sponsored the contest and presented the students with a t-shirt, certificate and ribbon. Jaynele Balsiger, Sarah Brady and Jordan Brown were also winners but are not shown.

8-14-08

CLEAR FILE
Archival PLUS

Notes

0

KODAK 5063 TX

1

2

KODAK 5063 TX

3

KODAK 5063 TX

4

KODAK 5063 TX

0

1

2

3

4

Officials of the French Creek Council, Boy Scouts of America, recently presented Edinboro University of Pennsylvania President Frank Pogue (center) with the Good Scout Award at a breakfast meeting on the Edinboro campus. From left: Ed Bucci, Oliver Perry (Eric County) District director; Steve Osborne, Oliver Perry District chair; Pogue; Steve Charboneau, French Creek Council executive director; and Dan Brandes, Team Oliver Perry program director. Accepting the award, Pogue recalled his own time as a Boy Scout in Troop 357 in Prichard, Ala.: "When I put on that Boy Scout uniform, I was always someone special, and the values I learned as a Scout have stayed with me all of my life." Said Pogue, a former Life Scout who now serves on the French Creek Council's Board of Directors. "We need more..."

“Let Freedom Roll” was the theme of Rolling Justice 2000, the July 5 local celebration of our nation’s birth and the 10th anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act, the civil rights act for persons with disabilities. The celebratory rally, which began in Erie’s Perry Square and continued to the Edinboro University of Pennsylvania campus, was sponsored by Community Resources for Independence, Voices for Independence, and the Erie County Coalition of Persons with Disabilities, and organized by Edinboro University and the Benedictine Sisters of Erie. Shown at the University luncheon are several Edinboro graduates and sponsors who participated: (from left) Beverly Davis Migliaccio of CRI, Mel Perry ’95 and ’97, Joann Calabrese of CRI, Mike Adamus ’89 and ’97, Larry Matczak ’88 of EMTA/LIFT, and Rob Kocur ’85 and ’87. This year Edinboro’s Office for Students with Disabilities is celebrating its 25th anniversary of providing high quality support and services to those students.

5

KODAK 5063 TX

KODAK 5063 TX

7

KODAK 5063 TX

8

KODAK 5063 TX

9

KODAK 5063 TX

5

5A

6

6A

7

7A

8

8A

9

9A

The family of the late Pa. State Trooper Matthew Bond visited the Edinboro University of Pennsylvania campus recently to accept formal presentation of the Trooper Matthew R. Bond Memorial Scholarship. Accepting documentation of the scholarship award from Edinboro University President Frank Pogue (left) is Trooper Bond's wife, Michelle, as his parents, Dan and Judy Bond (to Pogue's left), look on. Trooper Bond, a 1994 Edinboro criminal justice graduate and decorated state trooper, was killed in the line of duty in January. The scholarship – which is endowed with gifts from fellow state troopers, law enforcement officers, criminal justice professionals, fraternity brothers, alumni and friends – was established at Edinboro not only to honor Bond's memory, but also to encourage in criminal justice students the same level of dedication and commitment that Bond displayed in his career and life. The first award of the Bond Scholarship will be made in September 2001. Donations to the scholarship fund continue to be received and may be made in Bond's name to the Edinboro University Foundation, Inc.

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania President Frank Pogue (2nd from right) thanks Philip Wood Pelton (2nd from left) for establishing an endowed scholarship in the University's School of Education. Pelton's gift of more than $225,000 in GE stock is the largest single cash donation made by a living donor in Edinboro's history. Established in honor of his daughter, Linda, the Pelton scholarship will be awarded to encourage and support students in the special education field. Joining Pogue and Pelton, an engineer at GE for 42 years until his retirement, are Bruce Whitehair (left), Edinboro's vice president for development and marketing, and Joseph Grisanti (right), director of development. The plaque being shown to Pelton reads, "In Appreciation to Philip Wood Pelton for his Commitment to Scholarship in Special Education," and will be displayed in the School of Education in Butterfield Hall.

7A

8

8A

9

9A

10

KODAK 5063 TX

16

KODAK 5063 TX

17

KODAK 5063 TX

18

KODAK 5063 TX

19

KODAK 5063 TX

15A

16

16A

17

17A

18

18A

19

William A. Reed, Jr.
Assistant Vice President for Media and Community Relations
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 2, 2000

MEDIA ADVISORY:

KIDS ACADEMY AT PORRECO (KAP)

Only two days left to do a great story on this summer's second offering of Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's Kids Academy at Porreco (KAP), which runs tomorrow (August 3) and Friday (August 4) with sessions for grades 1-3 and 4-6 daily from 8:30 a.m. to 3:45 p.m.

For best media coverage, Thursday's and Friday's more unique events are listed below:

Grades 1-3:

- 8:30 a.m. Pennsylvania Wildlife
- 10:15 a.m. Self-esteem through Physical Fitness
- 12:30 p.m. Plants & Tiny Creatures in Art
- 2:15 p.m. Puppetry

Grades 4-6:

- 8:30 a.m. Self-esteem through Physical Fitness
- 10:15 a.m. Pennsylvania Wildlife
- 12:30 p.m. Fun with Food
- 2:15 p.m. Math is Fun

All sessions are at Edinboro University in Erie – The Porreco Center, 2951 West 38th Street. For more information or to inform of coverage, call Edinboro University's Office of Extended Learning at 836-1955.

August 2, 2000

MEDIA ADVISORY:

KIDS ACADEMY AT PORRECO IS A BIG HIT WITH CHILDREN

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania is hosting "Kids Academy at Porreco" - currently running through Friday, August 4, at the Edinboro University in Erie - The Porreco Center located at 2951 West 38th Street. The following schedule is provided for media coverage.

July 31-August 4 - Grades 1-3

8:30-10 a.m.	Pennsylvania Wildlife
10-10:15	Snack
10:15-11:45	Self Esteem/Physical Fitness
11:45-12:30 p.m.	Lunch
12:30-2	Plants & Tiny Creatures in Art
2-2:15	Snack
2:15-3:45	Puppetry

July 31-August 4 - Grades 4-6

8:30-10 a.m.	Self-Esteem/Physical Fitness
10-10:15	Snack
10:15-11:45	Pennsylvania Wildlife
11:45-12:30 p.m.	Lunch
12:30-2	Fun with Food
2-2:15	Snack
2:15-3:45	Math is Fun

For additional information, contact Beth Zewe, coordinator of non-credit programs at 838-1623.

Bill Reed

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
O F P E N N S Y L V A N I A

FILE

Marketing Department
Taylor House
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2194
FAX (814) 732-2294

August 2, 2000

MEDIA ADVISORY:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY HOSTS
THE WORLD OF ANTIQUES AND COLLECTIBLES

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania is hosting a two-day program on the "World of Antiques and Collectibles," Wednesday and Thursday, August 2-3, at the new Arts and Sciences Center on campus. The following schedule is provided for media coverage.

Wednesday, August 2

- 9-10 a.m. How to Gain Your Fifteen Minutes of Fame in the World of Antiques and Collectibles
- 10:15-noon How to Build an Internet Antiques or Auction Business
- 1-3 p.m. Exploring the Resources of the Internet (hands-on training)

Thursday, August 3

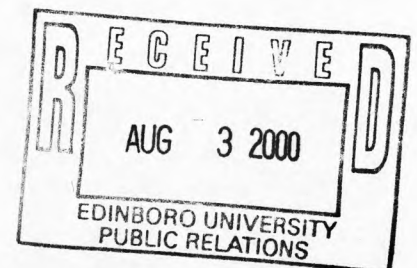

- 9 a.m.-noon *Antique and Collectible Jewelry, Identification and Valuation Clinic
- 1-2 p.m. *Antique and Collectible Glass, Identification and Valuation Clinic
- 2-4 p.m. *The Finer Things in Life: Silver and Crystal

Suggested events for best media coverage.*

For additional information, contact Edinboro University's marketing department at 814-732-2194.

- 30 -

CGH

August 1, 2000

TIP SHEET

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY OFFERS TIPS ON CREATING A SAFE HOME AWAY FROM HOME

Kim Kennedy, Edinboro University of Pennsylvania's director of residence life and housing, offers recommendations on what to bring to school and what not to bring to school.

What to bring to campus: telephone, bedding, desk lamp, television, stereo/cd player/radio, alarm clock, power strip, dishes, hangers, desk supplies, sewing kit, first aid kit, personal smoke detector, message board, calendar, laundry basket, wastebasket, wall decorations. Each residence hall room is furnished with a bed, hanging wardrobe, dresser, mirror, bookshelf and desk/chair for each student.

What not to bring to campus: waterbeds, lofts, bunk beds, pets of any kind, appliances with halogen bulbs, candles, appliances with exposed heating elements, space heaters, fireworks, firearms, weapons, martial arts paraphernalia and alcoholic beverages.

Kennedy said that it is also a good idea for the students to bring a copy of their parent's medical insurance card. Renter's insurance is recommended if they wish to insure their personal items.

The staff members of residence life and housing are ready to help make the residence halls at Edinboro University a pleasant and memorable part of the student's University experience. For additional information or to schedule an interview with Kennedy, call the marketing department at 814-732-2194.

- 30 -

CGH

August 2, 2000

MEDIA ADVISORY:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY HOSTS
THE WORLD OF ANTIQUES AND COLLECTIBLES

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania is hosting a two-day program on the "World of Antiques and Collectibles," Wednesday and Thursday, August 2-3, at the new Arts and Sciences Center on campus. The following schedule is provided for media coverage.

Wednesday, August 2

- 9-10 a.m. How to Gain Your Fifteen Minutes of Fame in the World of Antiques and Collectibles
- 10:15-noon How to Build an Internet Antiques or Auction Business
- 1-3 p.m. Exploring the Resources of the Internet (hands-on training)

Thursday, August 3

- 9 a.m.-noon *Antique and Collectible Jewelry, Identification and Valuation Clinic
- 1-2 p.m. *Antique and Collectible Glass, Identification and Valuation Clinic
- 2-4 p.m. *The Finer Things in Life: Silver and Crystal

Suggested events for best media coverage.*

For additional information, contact Edinboro University's marketing department at 814-732-2194.

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY

O F P E N N S Y L V A N I A

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

June 5, 1995

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY OFFERS ANTIQUES CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania will again offer its program, "The World of Antiques and Collectibles," August 6-11, at the Edinboro Inn. This five-day extended seminar emphasizes object identification and valuation and allows participants to immerse themselves in an intensive, object-oriented program to prepare for professional endeavors.

The program is part of the university's three-part antiques brokerage and liquidation certification series designed to provide professional appraisers, aspiring dealers, collectors, auctioneers and estate/tag sale conductors with an intensive learning experience and professional certification. Conducting the series will be Edinboro professor August Fetcko.

The first program, "How to Appraise and Conduct Estate and Residential Contents Sales," will be offered July 21-22 in Raleigh, North Carolina. This two-day seminar will focus on appraising and conducting estate and residential house sales. Proper appraisal format, legalities, the proper and professional way to conduct sales and other aspects of valuation and liquidation will be discussed.

The second program, "Overview of the World of Antiques and Collectibles," will be held July 29 in Buffalo. This introductory seminar covers the history of collecting, basic identification, valuation and ethical practices. No previous experience or knowledge is required for the seminar, and individuals not seeking certification may also attend.

Participants seeking certification must complete all three programs, write a paper on a collecting or professional interest, and take a written test. The test will be given August 11, following the third program.

-more-

For more information and to register for the seminar, write or call the Institute for Research and Community Services, Continuing Education, Edinboro University of Pennsylvania, Edinboro, PA 16444; 800-526-0121, or 814-732-2671.

-30-

BKP:bj

EDINBORO UNIVERSITY
O F P E N N S Y L V A N I A

Office of Public Information and Publications
Edinboro, PA 16444
(814) 732-2745 or 2929
Fax (814) 732-2621

August 7, 1995

MEDIA ADVISORY

Edinboro University of Pennsylvania is currently sponsoring "The World of Antiques and Collectibles," a week-long seminar required for Edinboro's Antiques Brokerage and Liquidation Certificate Program, from August 7-11, at the Edinboro Inn in Edinboro.

The program is the final segment of the University's three-part series designed to provide professional appraisers, advanced collectors, aspiring dealers, auctioneers and estate sale conductors with an intensive learning experience leading to professional certification.

Keynote speaker for the program is Dr. William Ketchum, author of more than 30 books on antiques and collectibles and considered by many to be America's top expert in the field. A widely-acclaimed lecturer, Ketchum is a consultant to Sotheby's and other leading auction houses, and a faculty member at New York University.

Ketchum will be available for interviews on Tuesday, August 8, from 1:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Edinboro Inn.

Media coverage is invited.

For more information, contact Beth Zewe at Edinboro University's Institute for Research and Community Services and Continuing Education, 732-2671 or 2672.

-30-

WAR:psl