Comprehensive Ledgers, 1878-1890

3 volumes - Cover all income and expenditures

Each ledger starts with an index listing of who is charged what, or what they paid for, and the page number with the entry. These ledgers included students, supplies, books, professors, payments to businesses/companies, etc. Some pages indicate if the payment was done by cash or bill. Each entry has a corresponding date, and the amount they were paid, or amount received to the school (to cash and by cash, to bill by cash). Additionally, each entry indicates what each person owed to the school and why.
