GOLF

OUTLOOK

The Husky Golf program has developed to the point where BSC is now competitive with most of the best college golf teams in Eastern Pennsylvania.

With only one player lost through graduation from last year's squad, the improvement of play by returnees and newcomers should strengthen the 5, 6, and 7 positions. However, BSC faces its most difficult opponents on the road and duplication of last year's 12-2 record will be very difficult due to the enormous home course advantage in college golf play.

"There is clear evidence that some of the veterans have improved over last year's good performances to the point that the team potential is almost unlimited," states Coach Bob Reeder. "Our goals for the season are to equal or better last year's dual record, to do much better at the Pennsylvania Conference Tournament, and hopefully, successfully defend BSC's championship of the King's Invitational Tournament in the fall.

COACH

Robert Reeder, an associate professor in the Anthropology Department of Bloomsburg State College, is in his third year as head golf coach.

Reeder's golf experience is evident from his championship flight performances at nearby Frosty Valley Country Club. Prior to joining Frosty Valley, he was a low handicapper as a member of the Berwick Golf Club.

Before joining the BSC faculty in 1968, Reeder spent a year teaching at Lehigh University. He previously taught at Grove City College and Western Kentucky University. He earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees at the Pennsylvania State University. In addition, Reeder has earned a Master of Arts degree in anthropology from the University of Colorado.

Reeder is a member of the American Anthropology Association and the American Sociological Association. He is married to the former Florence Wynne of Canton, Pennsylvania and has three children---Cathy, age 19; Robbie, age 18; and Laurie, age 15.
