OPENING NIGHT

CARLA EATON

Where are all the people?
Didn't they see the posters or hear the ads?
Are the actors up?
ARE the cues ready?
It's a comedy. Students like comedies better.
It's good. Neil Simon is good. they've got to like it.
Perhaps if the posters were different..... where are the people? There has to be more.....
Maybe something is going on in town or somewhere.....
Are the props ready?
Are the actors all here?
Where are the people? The show is for the people.
Where...., Why....Perhaps....Maybe....Where....
Perhaps.....
Curtain.

Your head spins with second thoughts and new ideas, but it is too late. Eight p.m. is the judgment.
At last all the work and effort culminates. The question, whether the show succeeds or fails, is all

Tuesday, Mar. 7, 1978

that remains. With pounding heart and crossed fingers you await the verdict.

It is not ethical for me to review a show which I promoted. However, I do feel safe in stating that "The Good Doctor" was a success. Statistically it had the highest attendance of any such show this year. Comment-wise, the remarks were bountiful and sincerely enthusiastic.

It was good to hear the audience laugh. The applause made it all worth while. It's a good feeling to take part in a production that pleased those who took the time to come. Speaking for the crew and cast, may I say thank you for allowing us to entertain you.

On Thursday, March 9, three one-act plays will be presented in Sloan 321 by members of the directing class. The evening will begin on an absurd note with Aria da Capo, directed by Larry Harris, and will then move to comedy with Doing a Good One for the Red Man, presented by Rick Kline. The evening will close tragically with Maizie, a play directed by Cheryl Simpkiss.

Admission is free, and everyone is welcome, so stop on by for a final evening of theatre before spring break. Check posters around campus for play time.

OPENING NIGHT

by CARLA EATON

Casting has nearly been completed for the upcoming College Players' production of "The Good Doctor." New faces as well as old are included in the following cast list:

Yvonne Gunther
Kalyn Shaible
Robin Quinn
Larry Harris
Rick Kline
Nancy Stoy
Cheryl Simpkiss

Below is newly-cast actor Larry Harris as he appeared in last year's production of "A Servant of Two Masters." "The Good Doctor's" director, Cecilia Belmont was also part of "Servant's" cast.

2/3/78

Larry Harris, director for the Children's Theatre production of "Puss 'n Boots", will be holding auditions next week. Anyone interested in a part should report to Sloan 321 on Monday, Wednesday or Tuesday from 5 to 7.

Rehearsals for "Puss 'n Boots" will not begin until after break.

Taking part in the Children's show fulfills SH451 Theatre Workshop requirements. So for those who couldn't help out with "The Good Doctor" this is your last chance.

Harris will also hold auditions for a play entitled "Aria Da Capo" which he will direct for his directing class.

College Players' Major Production is Chosen

by RICHARD KLINE

This semester the College Players major production will be "The Good Doctor" by Neil Simon as adapted and inspired by the stories of Anton Chekhov. The play will be student directed by Cecilia Belmont.

Auditions will be held this Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 7:00 pm. in Sloan 321. The auditions will be private and all people auditioning are asked to have two readings.

one serious and one comic, for their auditions. These should each be between two and five minutes long, and need not be memorized. Belmont said that, if possible, she would like the women auditioning to take their serious reading from Chekhov's "The Three Sisters."

She also said that she hopes a lot of people audition, especially people who have not acted here before. There is one copy of "The Good Doctor" in the reserve room in the library.
