The President's Message...

Dear APSCUF Colleagues,

Happy New Year! I hope the beginning of the Spring 2022 semester finds you healthy and rested.

I feel like a broken record when I give updates on the issues that APSCUF is currently working on. COVID and consolidation. Consolidation and COVID. Remember when we had time and energy to imagine and discuss creative ways to help our students learn and grow? To immerse ourselves in scholarly work? To have a long chat with a student or colleague? I hope that when the pandemic eases and the work of consolidation is finished, we can again find the joy that drew us to this profession.

With respect to COVID-19, I encourage everyone to refer to the two emails with revised guidelines that came out on ALL-L this week. If you have questions that aren't answered in those documents, please share them with your DRC rep or me. I already have a few questions to bring up at the next Meet & Discuss.

Developments with consolidation slowed over the winter break but are still moving along. All Penn West departments have now elected a department chair and are at various stages of establishing departmental committees and making decisions about how the department will function. The Penn West Interim Curriculum Committee (ICC) has begun meeting. As required by the side letter to Article 31, the ICC will first "develop interim processes and procedures for recommending curricular action." These processes and procedures must then be approved at Local and State Meet and Discuss before any curricular decisions can take place. Clarion's representatives on the ICC are Barry Sweet (Social Sciences), Marc Sanko (Social Sciences), David Lott (Biology & Geosciences), YooJin Ha (Library Science), Lacey Fulton (Communication) and Dan Shifflet (Chemistry, Mathematics, and Physics) and I have confidence that they will represent Clarion well.

The three Penn West Chapter Presidents, Sam Claster (Edinboro), Craig Smith (California) and I, met with President Pehrsson in late November and we have monthly meetings scheduled for this semester. At these meetings we share concerns and ask questions that we've been unable to get resolved through other routes.

As always, if you have questions or concerns that you think APSCUF can help with, please reach out to your rep on DRC, to our office manager, Jan Walters, or to me directly. Good luck next week!

In solidarity,
