PHI ETA SIGMA

National Honor Society

Phi Eta Sigma is a national honor society for college freshmen. A member of the Association of College Honor Societies, it was founded at the University of Illinois on March 22, 1923. Its goal is to encourage and reward high scholastic achievement among freshmen in institutions of higher learning.

There are more than 300 chapters throughout the United States and more than 700,000 members. National conventions are held every two years, with student delegates from each chapter attending at the national's expense.

The students who are being honored at this ceremony earned quality-point averages of at least 3.5 while freshmen at Clarion University of Pennsylvania.
